

Rose Concurs With CLSD Charges - Continues To Support King's Decision

In interviews with the Fiat Lux, Alfred University President Dr. M. Richard Rose has indicated concurrence with at least some of the charges of the Committee for a Legitimate Student Democracy (CLSD). Nevertheless, Rose supports Dean for Student Affairs Donald H. King's decision to continue the student government elections as planned.

Dr. Rose said he felt that there were "irregularities" in last spring's student government referendum, although he did not go into detail. But he did state that it was apparent that the formation of the election committee, organized by Dean King, did violate students' rights according to the University's "Statement on Student Rights and Responsibilities." Dr. Rose felt that the Two Branch system of government, the type that is being put into use, also conflicts with the "Student Rights" statement.

But Rose is concerned that unless the elections go through as planned, there will be no "body for change" available to students. He indicated concern over the seeming vacuum in student government.

"We are being a little expedient" he conceded, in referring to the student rights question. "But once the students have a body for change, they can bring about the necessary reform themselves."

In describing the CLSD, Rose said that he was "pleased" and "encouraged" that there were students who "care enough and have the initiative" to challenge the election if they have questions about it.

CLSD is an ad hoc committee, formed by students who oppose the current student government elections on the grounds that last spring's election violated student rights, as well as principles of democratic government. The group's spokesman, Robert Rothfeld, has informed the Fiat Lux that CLSD "in a limited campaign" gathered "about 440 signatures" on a petition calling for the halt of currently planned elections, formation of a new election committee elected by students, and a new referendum election. Rothfeld claims that "at least 85 per cent of students who read the petition signed it."

The "Statement on Student Rights and Responsibilities" is the official University statement on that subject. The most recent (third) revision, was initiated by the Student Affairs Office on February 2, 1976, reviewed and approved by the University Council on March 11, 1976, and authorized by the University President on April 12, 1976.

The sections of the statement in question require the "designation of student... committees... should be by student vote..." Also, "While membership of a student government may be defined in terms of 'undergraduate', 'graduate', 'full-time', or 'part-time', it should not be defined in terms of membership in clubs or organizations." The committee which proposed new forms of government and supervised last spring's referendum was not elected. The Two Branch system of government provides for senators to be elected from fraternities and sororities.

Overseas Services May Mislead Students

A number of organizations with very questionable financial stability and ethical standards regularly prey upon gullible American students interested in work, travel, or study in Europe. Their claims are always attractive, and they always require that money be sent in advance, often in substantial amounts, to pay for transportation, "services", etc. A recent case in point is "Student Overseas Services" giving a Luxembourg address, which placed an ad in a SUNY campus newspaper in the spring of 1975. We have recently received a complaint from a student who answered the ad, and sent them $445 for fees and transportation on their promise to get her a job in an Austrian resort. They have not produced the job, and she can get no answer to her request for refund of her money. On investigation we learn from the Department of State that the organization has been closed by the Luxembourg Government because of the many similar complaints they received. At the same time there are many legitimate organizations working in this field and performing valuable services at fair prices and with

AAUP Investigates Tech. And Other SUNY Campuses

The American Association of University Professors has notified the Chancellor of the State University of New York (SUNY) and several of the SUNY presidents that the General Secretary has authorized a full investigation by an ad hoc committee of the termination of numerous faculty appointments at SUNY institutions. The committee will investigate the specific terminations and the present condition of academic freedom and tenure in SUNY.

The Director of AAUP's Northeastern Regional Office, Martin Lapidus, writing to the Chancellor of SUNY, Dr. Ernest L. Boyer, advised that "the General Secretary has reviewed the information at our disposal concerning the termination of faculty appointments at several campuses within the State University. Particular review was given to unresolved cases at the University centers at Albany and Binghamton, the State University Colleges at Brockport and Oneonta, and the Agricultural and Technical College at Alfred. After conferring with members of the Association staff, he has concluded that the cases present significant issues relating to key principles of academic freedom, tenure and due process as they have been developed by the community of higher education and professional organizations."

A formal investigation is authorized by AAUP only in instances of fundamental challenge to the principles of academic freedom and tenure which have not been resolved through normal academic channels. The investigating committee will be comprised of individuals of recognized standing from the academic profession who have had no previous relationship with the SUNY situation and who have made no previous judgment of it. The committee will be chaired by a leading national authority on academic freedom and tenure, Dr. Bertram H. Davis, Professor of English at Florida State University and former AAUP General Secretary.

Petition Late Alfred Continues Alcohol Sales

by Randy Spivack

A petition initiated by Sheryl B. Volk of Waterwells Road, designed to reduce the status of alcohol and wine consumption in the Town of Alfred was not received by the September 15 deadline. According to Mayor Gary S. Horowitz, there is no chance that the late petition or any similar one can be considered before the General Elections to be held in the town on November 2.

The petition, initially reported on in the Alfred Sun sought 400 signatures. If the petition received more than 200 signatures (representing one fourth the votes cast in the last gubernatorial election), four questions would have been placed on the ballot in the November 2 general election. Since the petition was not received by the town prior to the deadline there is no chance that it will be considered in this November election.

A.U. Receives $195,000 Gift From Alumnus For Scholarships

University News Bureau

Alfred University announced on Sept. 14 receipt of a $195,000 gift from William T. Tredennick of Bryn Mawr, Pa., a ceramic engineering graduate and longtime trustee of the western New York institution.

A University spokesman said Tredennick, president of Resco Products, Inc., of Norristown, Pa., had stipulated that $150,000 of the gift be used to endow undergraduate scholarships in memory of his parents, Elizabeth C. and Charles T. Tredennick.

The remaining $45,000 will be allocated toward campus construction and acquisition projects.

Commenting on the gift, Dr. M. Richard Rose, the University president, said it would provide "the vehicle to enable hundreds of young men and women to profit from a quality education that in turn will enable them to lead more productive and satisfying lives."

"I can think of no investment that will pay dividends of this lasting nature and will have such an impact on society."

Individual scholarship awards under terms of the gift will be approximately $1,000, renewable annually.

Tredennick is a 1929 graduate of the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University with a bachelor of science degree in ceramic engineering. An Alfred University trustee for the past 17 years, he was cited by the institution last May for his contributions to the field of high-temperature ceramic materials and was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of science.

Fundraising Goal Set at $2 Million Library Addition Planned

Candidates Reject Apathy

President Rose's statements concerning the validity of last spring's referendum election make it strikingly clear that we must have a student body President and Vice-President who are absolutely dedicated to investigating last spring's election, publicizing the facts, and taking whatever steps are necessary to rectify violations of student rights and other "irregularities" which have been exposed.

One Presidential candidate has been insisting for some time, that there were no irregularities in last spring's election. Another candidate is more concerned with student rights.

Stephen Paige, candidate to student body President, and David Spalten, candidate for Vice-President, have a plan that will solve the entire dilemma once and for all. If they are elected, Paige and Spalten will canvass all students using the Senate body of the newly elected Two-Branch System. Their purpose will be to find out the truth: Do most students favor the Two-Branch System of government? If they find that most students lack confidence in the Two-Branch System, another referendum, including proposals for other forms of student governance, will be held.

Ultimately, students will get what they deserve: a type of government favored by the voting majority, capable executives who will strive to be the voice of the student body, and ones who will do their best to represent it. Most importantly, Stephen Paige and David Spalten want to work to make Alfred University the kind of school its students want it to be.

Paige and Spalten will rid our campus of the confusion over student government that has plagued us since last spring.

As a sophomore, Steve Paige has been on campus long enough to know how students feel on various issues. He will also be a student here at Alfred for two more years, giving him the chance to serve a long term and acquire an accurate sense of what students' needs are. Paige is also a political science major, one who can put his knowledge to work for the school and one who is interested in making his term as President a true learning experience. His internship with a District Attorney in Rochester last summer is valid proof of his commitment to his field of interest.

David Spalten, a junior, has had one more year than Paige on the Alfred campus. His involvement with the "Save Allentown" committee last fall proves his dedication to the rights of student and his willingness to stand up for them. Spalten has spent two full years on the Alfred campus and has a strong sense of what direction the students of this school want to go in and motion in that direction is attained.

One of the important functions of the Vice-President in the Two Branch form of government is to act as a liaison between the executive and legislative branches. Dave's reputation on campus is one of honesty and fairness. There is no doubt that he will be able to work constructively and effectively with all members of the new government.

We members of the Fiat Lux staff who have followed the election process closely since last spring, cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of electing officers who are sensitive to the concern that students have shown both about their government and the University. Stephen Paige and David Spalten reject the excuse that students are apathetic. Students who agree with them NOW have someone to vote for.

Confusion Is Over

The confusion that has resulted from opposing views on the future of a student government at Alfred has become so stupefying that few students have the patience to understand what is going on.

Understandably so. The accusations of Robert Rothfeld and the explanations of Dean King have become so contradictory that it is impossible for any student to determine who is telling the truth, or at least, whose facts are the most concrete (unless one person's view is chosen arbitrarily). Still, both Rothfeld and King claim to have the interest of the entire student body in mind while they challenge each other on allegation after allegation. Unfortunately, their skirmish has only confused or angered most students and little progress has been made. For proof, see article, page one and letter, page three.

The refusal of the Student Affairs office to recognize Mr. Rothfeld's petition (and its 440 signatures calling for another referendum vote to decide what form of student government students really want) and numerous other examples of why another vote should be held means that for the time being, we may as well accept what we've got. Though there are many students who strongly feel that an injustice has been done and many have signed Mr. Rothfeld's petition, there are more effective ways of attaining a truly representative student government. On the whole, the issue of inaccuracies now seems considerable less popular.

Letters

To The Editor:

In the September 20th issue of the Fiat Lux, student Rob Rothfeld wrote a letter to the editor alleging "irregularities" in the Student Government referendum which took place last Spring (1976). I find Mr. Rothfeld's discreditation of my position, as well as the series of events surrounding the formation of a new student government very divisive and unproductive.

Further, I also wish to indicate my viewpoint that it is in the best interest of the student body not to halt the election for representatives to student government.

Rob accuses me of "hand-picking" a group of students to decide on the direction of student government at Alfred. The students initially met with were suggested to me by students and staff in Student Affairs. Included in this list of students were the officers of the Student Assembly. They also advised me on other students who should be invited. All these students were further advised to bring other students who wanted to attend; the purpose being to explore possible alternatives for a viable student government. I had to start somewhere. If someone wants to consider the students hand-picked, I regret it. The attendance was sparse; out of the meeting came another with approximately ten students in my office. Even at that time, it was difficult to get much of a commitment to begin re-evaluating the present student government. It resulted in only a handful of students willing to give some time to gearing up for the election. However, it was decided by the students present that various student government options should be proposed to the entire student body through a referendum.

The point that students didn't know when the election on the referendum was taking place is not totally accurate. Although the Fiat edition was late in coming out, (two days before the election) through posters in the dining halls and Campus Center, as well as WALF (radio station) it was announced prior to the time of the election. Also, the voting booths were located (Ade, Brick, Campus Center) for three days whereby students who were interested could vote.

In the petition and in his article, Mr. Rothfeld exclaims that I put "severe pressure" on the student election committee into ratifying the election results. I hope never to be justly accused of pressuring any individual. Yes, I did ask the students present at a post-referendum meeting how we should proceed. All these students except for Mr. Rothfeld felt (as I did) it would be best to go on and implement the new student government in the Fall.

Another serious allegation and false statement made by Mr. Rothfeld was "the clearly expressed attitude of the Dean was that it was more important to have a new student government quickly, than to have one that the students truly wanted." My position in taking the initiative to create some enthusiasm among the student body to consider revamping student government was purely unselfish. Since there was not a viable representative student government in operation at the University, I felt responsibility for trying to provide a responsive vehicle for student input.

It should be pointed out that throughout the inception of the first meeting with students to discuss this matter until after referendum election, Mr. Rothfeld was actively involved in the development of designing the format of the election, as well as one of the proposals for government on the ballot.

It is also ironic that those who are most active in reputing the process which took place preparing the referendum election were also very active in deciding how the referendum should be developed.

In my opinion, it is not in the best interest of the student body to delay the upcoming election. There are a number of students who have committed themselves to candidacy for a government position and to lose whatever enthusiasm and momentum there is now on campus for an organized government would be taking a step backward. It also would result in not having a student government in operation for some time if we were to discount the results of the referendum held last Spring.

Because of my concern with the validity of the petition developed by the Committee for a Legitimate Student Democracy and after carefully assessing the present situation, it is my feeling that the election for officers should take place. I agree that there is confusion among the student body about the makeup and jurisdiction of the new student government. However, if students wish to change the direction of the government there are opportunities to do so. At least there will be a group of students who have the responsibility for such action and to also develop a workable government. That is more than students have at the present time.

Don King

Dean for Student Affairs

(There are two factual errors in Dean King's letter. One is that the edition of the Fiat Lux which announced the dates of the election came out on a Friday afternoon, after the election was over. Also, at the meeting in which five members of the election committee voted on whether "it would be best to go on and implement the new student government in the Fall," Mr. Rothfeld was not the only member of the committee who dissented. The vote was 3-2, in favor of ratifying the Two-Branch System of government. Additionally, approximately 35 students were notified of the original meeting at which Dean King claims there was a "sparse" attendance.--- Ed.)

To the Editor,

In his article on retrenchment, Dr. Odle remarked that "because of American Association of University Professors' guidelines, it is unlikely that any instruction will be offered in these areas (French and Russian) for at least three years."

The intent of the AAUP guideline referred to is to constrain a university from terminating tenured faculty, ostensibly for financial rea-

Tanner Completes PhD. Requirements

Donna Tanner, instructor in sociology at Alfred University, has completed all requirements leading to the Ph.D. degree in sociology at the University of Illinois, Chicago.

The announcement was made at Alfred following formal notification by officials of the University of Chicago.

Miss Tanner earned her bachelor's degree in secondary education and master's degree in sociology at Pennsylvania State University. She has taught at Alfred University for the past year.

Financial Aid Available To Applicants of Local Counties

Alfred University announced on September 22 a far reaching program of scholarship aid for top-ranked high school graduates from five counties on New York's Southern Tier: Chautauqua, Cattaraugus, Allegany, Steuben and Chemung.

According to Scott F. Healy, the University's director of admissions, residents of these counties who graduate in the top tenth of their high school class with a minimum scholastic average of 90 per cent will receive $2,000 scholarships on enrolling in Alfred's College of Liberal Arts, College of Nursing and Health Care, and School of Business and Administration.

Those entering the University's sole tax-supported branch, the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University, will receive $1,000 awards.

In addition, Healy said, scholarship recipients must have demonstrated "good citizenship," a record of participation in high-school extracurricular activities, and "proficiency" on standard college entrance examinations.

Healy added that the scholarships are renewable annually for four years so long as a student maintains a "B" average. To qualify for the awards, prospective students must apply for admission to Alfred by Feb. 1, he said.

Healy said the program was designed to give superior students from the Southern Tier an "academic-not economic-choice" when deciding on whether to attend Alfred University; we're trying to lower college costs as a barrier to entry here.

Healy asserted that the new aid program was part of a "concerted effort" by the University to continue to improve the academic quality of its student body.

More stringent admissions standards, designed to weed out students clearly unprepared for college-level study, went into effect two years ago. Since that time, scholastic credentials of matriculants have "significantly improved," Healy said.

Eighty three per cent of this fall's entering freshmen at Alfred had graduated in the top half of their high school class, as against a figure of 63 per cent in 1974, Healy said.

Regulations Books Are Available To Students

The Alfred University "Rules and Regulations" notebooks are located in the following offices: Student Affairs Office, Campus Center, Herrick Library, Kenyon Hall, Tefft Hall, the Ford Street Commons Building.

The University regulations and policies covered in this notebook are:

- a. Academic Dishonesty
- b. Alcoholic Beverages
- c. Animal Policy
- d. Beverage Regulations--Athletic Events
- e. Emergency Situations
- f. Ombudsman--Student Grievance Committee
- g. Policy on Demonstrations
- h. Statement on Drug Use
- i. Statement on Student Rights and Responsibilities
- j. Student and the Law
- k. Student and the University Judicial System
- l. Vehicle Regulations
- m. Weapons on Campus

All students should stop by one of these locations to review the above university policies.

Off-campus students can obtain a copy of the "Student Rights and Responsibilities" and a copy of the Student Services Pamphlet at the Campus Center desk.

One mile south of Alfred on County Road 12 lives a little, old, retired Alfred Tech. professor. When the professor retired he thought it would be nice to start a quiet little hi fi business to while away the lonely hours. Well, students, this story does, or doesn't have a happy ending because this quiet little hi fi business turned into a terrible monster.

The business is not quiet - it is not little because at Jericho Audio (that's what he named his castle on the hill) one can find everything in hi fi to sooth the heart of any audiophile. You may even have trouble squeezing in the door at certain hours. You can come for Pioneer, Sansui, Harman-Kardon, JBL speakers, KLH speakers, Yamaha, Bic, Garrard, Technics, Phase Linear, Bang & Olufson, Phillips and more. Prices will be hard to beat.

You will find car decks - Craig, Pioneer, Sony, Hitachi, Lear Jet, Motorola-Jensen speakers. CB's - Cobra, Motorola, Courier, Royce, Craig, etc., and all kinds of antennas.

All kinds of calculators including the famous Texas Instruments and Hewlett-Packard at a few dollars off the going price.

All kinds of blank tape - TDK, Maxell, Memorex, Scotch, BASF and last but not least, Albums - a great stock. And to spoil you rotten - the first week and ONLY THE FIRST WEEK - you can buy $6.98 albums at a low $3.98.

So up we go to Jericho to visit the little, old professor. Open from 1 to 8 p.m.

AAUP Investigation, con't.

University of New York came after the Association had, on numerous occasions, expressed its strong objections to the manner in which faculty members were dismissed under a provision for retrenchment in SUNY's faculty collective bargaining agreement. In April of this year Associate General Secretary Jordan E. Kurland informed Chancellor Boyer that the Association had received complaints from "a large and increasing number of faculty members... on continuous appointment with termination sought prior to the appointment's expiration." In discussion with SUNY officials and letters to presidents of particular SUNY institutions, Mr. Kurland also emphasized the severe inadequacy of notice of termination, sometimes only a few weeks or months, to faculty members of long standing.

The investigating committee will be asked to examine developments at SUNY in the light of recognized standards of academic freedom and tenure as set forth in AAUP's 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure and derivative documents. Under these standards a faculty member's appointment can be terminated only (1) upon establishment of cause or (2) because of bona fide financial exigency which cannot be alleviated by less drastic means, or (3) because of program discontinuance for educational purposes as determined by the institution's faculty. Detailed procedural standards governing such situations, including provision for a year of notice, have been developed by AAUP and are recognized as applicable in most colleges and universities.

At SUNY, however, the faculty collective bargaining agreement between the administration and the UUP includes a "retrenchment" provision which requires no demonstration of cause, financial exigency, or proper program discontinuance. Instead, once a decision to "retrench" is asserted by the administration, these matters are left essentially to the administration's pleasure, with no obligation to provide adequate notice or to consult with the faculty to determine whether or where the retrenchment should occur.

Under AAUP's procedures, the ad hoc investigating committee's report on its findings will be prepared for the consideration of the Association's prestigious Committee A on Academic Freedom and Tenure. Committee A may then authorize publication of the report in the AAUP Bulletin for the information of the profession as a whole. The published reports of investigating committees frequently serve as a foundation for censure of the institution's administration by AAUP. The Association's well-known censure list informs the academic profession and the general public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at those institutions. Censures are imposed or removed by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

For those reading the Fiat Lux for the first time let me say it has some of everything (almost) for anyone. This column is written for anyone from the not-so sane student to the perhaps crazy student.

Now is a good time to discuss some of the things that the freshman and transfers didn't read in the Fall '76 Alfred University Catalogs. (I really don't know where to start). As you noticed Alfred is spontaneous (What the hell is this guy talking about?) What is meant by spontaneous is... when there is a change from summer to fall, the temperature goes down into the 30's the next night. You may then realize that your sweatshirt must be accompanied by a ski jacket, gloves and a hat (some wear thermal underwear... all the time!) Anyway, the next out-door barf-a-cue, don't forget to bring your meal card and nice shovel (preferably with a handle).

Other spontaneous activities include the exodus from the dining halls to the major eating facilities in town (MacDonalds is only a 25 mile round trip). Seriously, try some of the restaurants like the collegiate and the uh... the uh well, then there is the collegiate and many other places (within a 100 mile radius).

The last spontaneous act is wiping the sweat. What sweat? The sweat from the 9 million people in the Pub in a disco night and upon leaving you find your feet are stuck to the floor (I think it's from the beer). It does however get better, really! (That's what they told me since I was a frosh).

Surely Alfred is now classified as spontaneous (so, not the girls, dummy) and there is always something worth going to.

You basic WALF Disc-jockey,

Greetings From WALF

This year, WALF has completed its move to the Steinheim which was started a year and a half ago. As of this past week, the last piece of equipment was moved from the old radio station (at 6 Sayles Street) to the Steinheim. The transmitter and antenna structure are now a permanent fixture with our station. With the antenna mounted on top of the Steinheim, WALF's broadcasting range and reception will be greatly improved.

WALF is anticipating another excellent year and we hope your response to what we do will be as enthusiastic as it was last year. If you are interested in working at the radio station as either a D.J. or a Newscaster, call us at 871-2200 or stop up to the Steinheim anytime.

We hope you have a good year and stay in tune with WALF-FM, 89.7.

by the end of the 1976-77 fiscal year, next June 30.

"Right now we have $650,000 of that amount actually committed," he said. "We think the goal we've set for the institution is sound and I'm confident that we will be able to achieve or even exceed it."

Clinger said the $2-million would be broken down into $620,000 for endowment, $425,000 for direct support of the operating budget, $225,000 for projects related to campus energy conservation, $130,000 for a new ventilation system in a campus classroom building, $400,000 for the library addition and $200,000 toward long-term debt reduction.

He noted that outstanding debt at Alfred totals $12-million. The payment of interest and principal on this figure comes to $950,000 annually--or 11 per cent of the University's $9-million operating budget.

Clinger also said the institution's endowment, now nearly $5-million, lags behind its peak capitalization of $7-million, recorded in December 1972.

"We'll probably operate at a deficit this year of from $200,000 to $300,000," said Clinger. But, he added, "for next year--fiscal 1977-78--we're counting on a cost-stabilization program of economy measures and new funding to bring the budget back into balance."

According to Clinger, the success of the cost-stabilization plan will hinge on the outcome of the $2-million campaign.

integrity. The problem is knowing the difference.

Recommendations: It is strongly recommended

1. That student newspapers not accept advertising or use news releases from any non-SUNY organization offering overseas employment, study opportunities, or travel without first checking the credibility of the would-be advertiser.

2. That bulletin boards be watched for advertising of such non-SUNY enterprises, and that such material be removed until credibility of the advertiser is established.

3. That any non-SUNY organization recruiting local students as agents for its programs be checked out before the agents are permitted to operate on the campus.

The Central Office of International Programs has some information about both good and questionable organizations, and will undertake to check out any organization upon request--phone 518-474-4291. We use such resources as the Better Business Bureau, the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the Department of State, the Council on International Educational Exchange, the Institute of International Education, the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs, etc. Please call on us.

Curriculum Committee Minutes

1. The Minutes of the May 6 meeting were approved.

2. Rob Williams was elected Chairperson.

3. Several members of the Committee said they thought that it could become very helpful if the Dean or Assistant Dean attended Committee meetings whenever possible. A motion that the Dean be given voting status on the Committee was defeated, 3 in favor, 7 opposed.

4. The Chair appointed G. Rough as representative to the Nursing College's C.C., and himself to the Ceramics C.C. He postponed appointments of Committee secretary and the Course Subcommittee.

5. October 15 was named as the last day for acceptance by the Course Subcommittee of course proposals for Spring semester.

6. A list of topics for discussion for this year was presented. Included were:

a. increasing the College's graduation requirement for total hours from 120 to 124 or 128.

b. modifying the general education requirements in view of the fact that the recent retrenchment has probably lessened the number of available courses; e.g. in the Arts category.

c. introducing a more structured freshman year through required courses (includes consideration of a required Civilization course(s)).

d. setting guidelines for minor programs.

sons, and then hiring replacements a year or so later. A university acting in bad faith might use this procedure to circumvent tenure regulations.

When a university decides to terminate faculty for financial reasons--especially tenured faculty who have usually served for at least seven years and often longer--that university must be convinced of the seriousness of its economic situation. Faculty and administration alike should be so certain of the long-term economic peril, so persuaded that they have no other recourse, that reopening these positions in the near future is viewed as impossible.

If, in fact, massive retrenchment is required at Alfred, I would have preferred to have read, "Because we are convinced that our present financial situation will persist for some time, we do not see how instruction in these areas can be offered for at least three years."

Not reopening positions closed for financial reasons should reflect the extent of our economic plight, and not be blamed on our adherence to some organization's guidelines.

Dr. R.C. Martin

Dear Editor:

First, this activity does not represent an arbitrary action on the part of Don King or the infamous "administration." Any student who has been here longer than six months knows that there has been no practical student collective voice on campus for years, and consequently students have forfeited valuable input and the entire institution has thereby suffered. That is what motivated the move for some new--functional--student government, and the fact that it took an administrator to get the ball moving doesn't lessen the need or the worthiness of the undertaking.

Most students are not political animals, the same as most citizens are not political creatures sensitive to every issue. Freshman political science teaches that "If everyone were to participate actively in a democracy, there would be chaos;" so it is naive to assume that the masses are going to be knowledgeable and stirred to action on each and every issue where students should have a share in the formulation of policy. That is why direct democracy died, for the most part, before Christ did, and why present governments function "successfully" through representative means. Direct referendum is a fantasy that is hard to conceive of in theory and most certainly has not--and will not--service our community well in practice.

Second, students have their own priorities: academics, jobs, self knowledge and development, social contacts and interactions, fraternities and sororities, and ConCEP. A few wish to devote their energies to student government to serve themselves and their peers, and an opportunity to do so is important in any educational environment, particularly Alfred. However, participants in this process will need to dedicate time and talents to learning the issues and recommending wisely on numerous important items, and to do a good job at this means other things will need to be given up.

Finally, a Dean of Students has many responsibilities.

One is to see that students have proper opportunities and channels for viable input into the University's process. Student Assembly did not serve its ends and deserved to die. It would be far easier--and some feel even wiser--to let students continue to blunder about, playing their political games, and having absolutely no true impact on the institution. This referendum movement accomplishes this, and nothing more. However, Don is too professional and has far too much personal dedication to students, both in the abstract and in the specific, to endorse this type of (in)activity. It is sometimes the function of a Dean to protect students from students, being understood and

Speaking on Sports

Warriors Tied 0-0 In Opening Game - Soccer Losses

by Gary Esterow

Locally....Both the football and soccer teams failed to score in their opening games. At Merrill Field, the football Warriors tied Brockport 0-0... Prior to the game, Alfred was 24-2-1 against Brockport, not losing to them in the last 16 years. The team will go on the road for the next 3 weeks, and then return home for a game against Hobart on October 16th.

Over at R.P.I. the soccer team was on the short side of a 3-0 game. On September 24th at 3:00, the team will try to even their record at home, against Clarkson. . . Why not go out and cheer them on?

Women's tennis will open on the road this week with a match against Wells College and will open at home on the 28th against Mansfield.

Professionally Speaking...

Two baseball pennant races are still close as the regular season dwindles to a close. In the Eastern Division of the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates trail the Philadelphia Phillies by 4 1/2 games. The Phils are trying not to remember 1964 when they blew a six game lead with about 10 games left.

Over in the American League West, the Oakland A's trail the Kansas City Royals by 6 games. Within the next 10 days the A's and Royals will meet six times. You still might see Charlie Finley's boys in their familiar green and gold uniforms come playoff time.

Quickie Quiz: Can you name the only two members of the Yankee's last pennant team who are still playing in the major leagues? Answer appears later in column.

New York Jet cornerback Roscoe Word was placed on waivers after a terrible showing in the game against Denver, which the Jets lost 46-3. . . The expansion Tampa Bay Buccaneers have yet to put a point up on the scoreboard.

Answer to Quickie Quiz: The players are Mike Hegan (now with Milwaukee) and Al Downing (now with the L.A. Dodgers).

Julius Erving is not happy with his contract and has notified the New York Nets that he will not report to training camp, which opens this Friday. Erving claims that his contract problems began long before the Nets had obtained super-star Nate Archibald from Kansas City. Without Erving, considered the most exciting player in pro-basketball, Net ticket sales will surely go down.

The Division of Human Studies would like to announce that the weekly Forum, sponsored by the division will henceforth be known as the Richard Bergren Forum. As the late Professor Bergren conceived of and developed the idea of a weekly campus gathering devoted to discussing questions of general interest, it seems only proper that the Forum be formally associated with his name.

This semester's Forum will again be meeting at twelve noon on Wednesday in the Parents' Lounge of the Campus Center. The general theme will be the same as last year: New Directions in the Disciplines.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Tutors are presently needed for the A.U. Student Tutorial Program in all academic areas. The program involves tutoring students who seek out of class assistance on a one to one basis or in groups. Over 100 students sought assistance from the program during the Spring Semester last year.

Tutors must have a B grade or better in the course or be majoring in the subject area with a B or better average in their area of specialization. It is also necessary that the professor teaching the course or the division chairperson approve the application.

Tutors receive from $2 to $3 an hour for their efforts, dependent upon the number of students they assist at a time. There is no charge to students making use of the program. Applications are available at the Campus Center Desk or Student Affairs.

appreciated by neither side. Students will have a successful, "student-controlled" governance body on this campus. They will again take their rightful place in the administering of this educational institution after too long an absence. Students should recall that one administrator stood by his principles--stood by what is right and proper--when it would have been easier to sit back and watch chaos develop once again. If the aims of the well-meaning CLSD are achieved, I can guarantee from experience that students will again forfeit their collective impact on Alfred University for at least the first semester.

Classic Hollywood movies of the 1930's and 1940's will be screened Wednesday nights at 8 o'clock in the Science Center lecture hall at Alfred University. The films are free to all students and area public.

Starting with the MGM musical "Best Foot Forward" (1943) on Sept. 29, the series will include: Oct. 6, "The Fleet's In" (1942--Dorothy Lamour, William Holden); Oct. 13, "The Thin Man" (1934--William Powell, Myrna Loy); Oct. 20, "This Gun for Hire" (1942--Alan Ladd, Veronica Lake).

Also, Nov. 3, "Murder, He Says" (1945--Fred MacMurray, Marjorie Main); Nov. 10, "Little Women" (1933--Katherine Hepburn); Nov. 17, "Imitation of Life" (1934--Claudette Colbert); Dec. 1, "Dance, Girl, Dance" (1940--Maureen O'Hara, Lucille Ball); Jan. 5, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" (1932--Fredric March, Miriam Hopkins); and Jan. 12, "The Picture of Dorian Gray" (1945--George Sanders, Angela Lansbury).

An exhibition of modern and ancient American Indian pottery will be on view Sept. 18 through Oct. 8 in the Fosdick-Nelson gallery, Harder Hall, at the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University.

The show is open to the public, without charge, weekdays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

In conjunction with the exhibition, Lewis Krevolin, a research associate with the Museum of the American Indian, will give a slide lecture in Harder Hall Sept. 18 at 8 p.m. on "Traditional Pottery Techniques of Mexican Indians." Admission is free.

Thanks to some extremely cooperative weather, the Underwater Breathers' Club has gotten a terrific start this season. Our annual fall picnic will be held as scheduled, Saturday, October 2nd at noon, the bottom of Tech Lake. Refreshments will be served and officials elected for the upcoming year. Bring a friend!

Michael Grossman, M.D. and his wife Barbara will be speaking on "Meditation vs. Aggravation" on Thursday, September 30 at 7:30 p.m. in Seidlin Hall, Rm. 114 and also in Dr. Grossman's office at 23 Jefferson St. in Wellsville at 7:30 p.m. on October 5th, Tuesday.

Dr. Grossman is a general practitioner in Wellsville, N.Y. and has been researching and studying Transcendental Meditation for three years. Barbara Grossman is a Doctoral candidate in Bible Studies at Columbia University in N.Y.C. Both have been teachers of T.M. for three years.

80 per cent of patients seen in a general medical practice have diseases primarily caused by accumulated stress and anxiety. Modern research has shown that the major cause of death in the U.S. is heart disease, which is primarily due to stress and stressful lifestyle. Many other illnesses, such as ulcers, insomnia, asthma, alcoholism and drug abuse, allergies and skin disorders as well as headaches are also caused by stress.

T.M. allows people to experience a deeply relaxed and restful state, twice a day. 20 minutes allows for the dissolution of tension and anxiety. Belief, hypnosis and religion have no part in the effects of T.M., which Dr. Grossman claims are due to physiological changes. Being relaxed and happy are essential to maintaining good health and that's what T.M. can do.

"We're talking not only about physical health," says Barbara Grossman, "but also about being fulfilled, creative and self-actualizing. Many studies show that T.M.'ers are less depressed, less hostile, less inhibited and utilize more of their inner potential to be loving, creative human beings and that's what life's about."

Dean Barker, Dean of the Alfred University School of Nursing, will hold a picnic on October 2nd for all nursing students. The picnic will be held at her home, located at 28 Willets Ave. Belmont, NY, at 4:00 p.m. Students should find their own transportation or call Nan Gulnac (3257) for a ride. Carpools will be formed. Parking is available at a garage next door to the Dean's home and girls are invited to bring "dates". A Victrola will also be provided for those who are interested in bringing their own phonograph disques.

Jobs with Steuben Co. Assoc. of Retarded Children is looking for a couple to serve as weekday house managers in Hornell; another couple to serve as weekend relief house managers in Hornell or Bath; and a person for 1 or 2 nights a week as a relief person in Hornell. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Nancy Cox 792-4162 or 776-2371 or stop at Career Planning & Counseling Services in Bartlett Hall.
