

BOARD OF TRUSTEES PRESENT STATUE

Bust of President Davis Moulded By Dante Vezzoli Is Placed In Carnegie Library

Dr. Boothe C. Davis, for 37 years president of Alfred University, was honored in Assembly, Thursday, April 7th, when a large bronze bust was presented to the university in behalf of the Board of Trustees.

The event was especially significant, since the bust was moulded during the past year by a student of Alfred University, Dante Vezzoli, who is a member of the Junior class.

The presentation was made by Chaplain James C. McLeod in behalf of the trustees, who had the clay bust cast in bronze because of the excellent workmanship and fine likeness to President Davis. The bust was mounted upon a large five foot oak pedestal which was designed and made by George Pierce in the advanced wood-working department. The statue will be placed in the Carnegie Library.

In presenting the bust, Chaplain McLeod said in part: "Over a year ago one of the students of our university whose background of life and culture preeminently fitted him for the task, began to mould from clay the bust of our president. Dante Vezzoli has revealed himself as an artist in his own right, a sculptor of more than average ability. The finished product so pleased members of the Board of Trustees, that they decided it should be cast in more permanent form."

The statue was unveiled by Frank Early Lobaugh, grandson of President Davis.

BACKWARDS DANCE

Phi Sigma Gamma, the women's honorary fraternity sponsored a "backwards dance" in keeping with leap year at the Davis gymnasium on Thursday, April 7th.

Keeping the spirit of the event complete, the girls called for their escorts at their respective fraternity houses or residences, besides assuming care of the material requirements of the evening. The stag line was distinguished by gay gowns rather than by dark suits.

Music was furnished by Ted Van Order's Merry-men from Hornell.

The chaperones were: Chaplain and Mrs. McLeod, Professor and Mrs. Seidlin, Professor and Mrs. Harder, Professor and Mrs. Burditt and Coach and Mrs. Galloway.

BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY

The Biological Society will meet Wednesday, April 13th.

There will be a discussion of possible members as a result of the January grades.

At that time Philip Benza and Louis Palmieri will read papers.

INTERSCHOLASTIC

With actual field repairs started and more than 300 invitations mailed, Manager Eugene R. Guintier and his staff are preparing for the 24th Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, which will be held on Merrill Field on Friday, May 6th.

Indications point to the games as being the most successful ever staged. The bright prospect is due partially to two drastic changes made for the first time this year, as well as several minor improvements in the meet itself.

Entering schools will be classified according to their respective registrations into Class A and B sections, while prep school competition has been eliminated. This is expected to bring about more stringent competition and yet create a more fair chance for athletes to place for awards.

In conjunction with the athletic games, the 19th annual stock judging contest will be held on the afternoon of the meet at the barns of the Agricultural School, while on the night preceding, speaking contests will be held in Alumni Hall.

One of the largest lists of entering schools in history is anticipated, bringing perhaps 300 athletes into competition. Likewise, one of the largest crowds ever to witness these annual competitions is expected. Prizes totaling close to $2,000 will be awarded, it is said.

Although it has not as yet been definitely decided, it is thought that large amplifying horns will be installed at intervals around the field. This will eliminate difficulty in calling athletes for the various events and undoubtedly will prove a great convenience to fans in keeping accurate scores.

George Duke is supervising the speaking contests. He has mailed out his invitations and expects to receive one of the largest lists of entries in years, because of the several new features being introduced into this competition for the first time.

Manager Guintier stated today that the complete list of officials for the meet will not be ready for several days. Some of the best officials in this section of the country will be employed, while student assistants who are veterans at their respective tasks insure efficient handling of the meet.

With the division of entering schools into Class A and B sections, it has necessitated the doubling of awards as in the past. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to winners in the events of each of the sections.

ASSEMBLY

Dr. A. J. C. Bond, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church in Plainfield, N. J., spoke in assembly Thursday. Dr. Bond is an alumnus of Alfred, who graduated in the class of 1906.

The theme of his talk was, "Think—Think on These Things"—which he introduced by telling a legend of a slave girl who made her life beautiful by making herself like a statue standing in the public square. After illuminating the theme, he concluded by conjuring his audience in these words, "Think the biggest things over, sift those that will benefit you most and then decide on your philosophies."

KAPPA PSI PARTY

Kappa Psi Upsilon gave a dance in the Social Hall, Saturday night, April 9th, honoring the members of the house who are being graduated this June. The couples dressed in sport clothes danced to the music furnished by the Saxon Serenaders.

The chaperones were, Prof. and Mrs. Ross, Prof. and Mrs. Wingate, Prof. and Mrs. Burditt, Prof. Bond and Mrs. Degen.

The committee in charge was Harlan Reiter, chairman, Maurice Patterson and Alva Arwine.

CONFERENCE OPENS FRIDAY IN ALUMNI HALL

Chaplain James Currie McLeod Announces Eminent Discussion Leaders

JUNIOR PROM APRIL 14

A mythical "battle of music" between two rival and campus-appreciated orchestras in Hornell and Olean with one of the most unique and original decorative schemes in the history of the dance almost complete are only two major reasons why the Junior Class Promenade in Davis Track and Field Gymnasium, Thursday night, should be one of the most successful ever.

Committees under Miss Phylbia Shehen have been preparing for the event for several weeks. During the past few days they have been working on decorations to the huge drill shed of the gymnasium and already their efforts are beginning to transform it into a beautiful garden.

An April shower effect is being created in the class colors of blue and silver. Thousands of crepe streamers have been cut and fashioned and suspended from wires some fifteen feet from the floor to hide the ceiling. Air drafts will be allowed to breeze through this mass to magnify the beauty of the decorations and achieve the shower effect.

Two large stands have been erected at the ends of the gymnasium for the two nine-piece orchestras, which have vied for favoritism of the student body at numerous fraternity, sorority and all-college dances this year. These bands, except for a short intermission, will present a continuous program of music from 9 until 1 o'clock.

Both bands—one under the leadership of Johnny Fitzgerald of Olean, and the other directed by Ted Van Order of Hornell—are perhaps the most prominent music organizations in Western New York. Even on Alfred's campus intense argument has prevailed and still does as to which is the better of the two.

Leaders of both orchestras have rivaled each other for the past for two years in soliciting engagements. Both have promised novelty programs and singing. One is expected to be accompanied by a special solo vocalist. The addition of two instruments to both bands is expected to increase the harmony greatly over their regular seven-piece units.

Many responses to invitations sent out several days to alumni and friends have been received. It is estimated that one of the largest representations of former graduates in years will be present, as well as several parties of friends of students, who are planning to attend.

Admission to the party is the lowest price ever affixed, according to a committee.

The Christian Associations Conference opens informally in Assembly, Friday at Alumni Hall, 11:30.

The theme of the conference is, "What should be the significance of the college experience?" Special reference is being given to the building of a life philosophy and becoming a world-citizen.

Two eminent men have been secured to lead various discussion groups. Paul Harris, Jr., consultant to the National Council for the Prevention of War, of Washington, D. C., is returning to the Alfred Campus to lead the discussions concerning world-citizenship. Professor John Bennett of Auburn, N. Y., a former Rhodes Scholar and faculty member of Union Seminary, New York, N. Y., will speak on "Building One's Philosophy of Life."

Not only members of the Alfred student body are planning to attend but reservations have been made by students from Hobart College, University of Buffalo and the State Teachers College.

Outline of Conference Program:

Friday:

11:20 A. M. Special Assembly in Alumni Hall, Paul Harris, Jr., speaker.

6:30 P. M. Banquet in Social Hall. Introductions of visiting speaker and students from other colleges.

QUESTIONAIRES RECEIVED

Alfred is not the only school where the question of women's privileges is a problem much discussed. At Bucknell it has become such a "bone of contention" that the dean has sent out an "S. O. S." in the form of a questionnaire, to other deans. Dean Degen is now busy answering her copy in which the big issues seem to be the familiar ones of late permission, hours for social events, and chaperones.

Another questionnaire received by Dean Degen is from the University of Pittsburgh on the subject of the orientation of freshmen women. The purpose of the inquiry seems to be to determine the part played by seniors in the work and their preparation for the responsibility.

ALPHA TAU THETA

Alpha Tau Theta met Wednesday, April 6th, in the Brick at 7:30.

Plans were discussed for future athletic events. The girls have been conducting sales of sandwiches and ice cream in the Brick to raise money for the sorority.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY'S CHORUS OF THE PAST

One of the organizations that the Music Department looks longingly back on, as a thing of the past, is the Alfred Chorus. For a number of years it was an active organization made up of about thirty students, professors, and townspeople, with Professor Wingate directing. For fifteen years the chorus presented each year at least one of the works of the great masters of music, charging a small admission fee to cover costs of music and production. They gave oratorios, operettas, or cantatas, according to the ability and tastes of the club members.

Some of the works presented were: "Holy City," Gaul (1913); "Wreck of the Hesperus," Anderton (1914); "Queen Esther," Bradbury (1914); "Prodigal Son," Sullivan (1915); "Bo'son's Bride," Inch and Rhyse Herbert (1918); "Creation," Hadyn (1920); "Pinafore," Gilbert and Sullivan (1921); "Elijah," Mendelssohn (1923); "Little Almond Eyes," Mac Farlane (1924); and "The Micado," (1927).

Since 1927, when "The Micado" was presented there has been no chorus. Recently Professor Wingate attempted to organize a mixed chorus, but his attempts and those of enthusiastic students met with little success. It has been the same since 1927. The students themselves have not shown enough interest to start another chorus. This lack of interest is not strange, nor is it peculiar to Alfred according to Professor Wingate. He says that, "This is an age of radio, auto, jazz—and chorus demands are not great in any college. Only in large schools of Music where it is required for graduation, is there any real chorus work accomplished."

UNIVERSITY FOOTLIGHT CLUB HISTORY

Last year the silver anniversary of the Footlight Club passed unnoticed in the general hum of campus activities. The club was founded in the fall of 1905, by twenty-two upper classmen under the direction of Miss Edith C. Putnam, an instructor in the English department. The club was founded for the avowed intention of giving the student body the best plays available for amateur production. Its plan was to produce two plays each year and that first year, "Under Two Flags" and "The Second in Command" were given. John Nelson Norwood '06, played Hartopp, a servant, in the cast of "The Second in Command".

The next year Archibald Champlin '08, now director of the New York State School of Agriculture on the campus, became a member. During his two years in the organization Mr. Champlin earned quite a reputation as a lover appearing in both of the 1907 productions, "Esmeralda", and "The Colonel's Secret," and in "The Cricket on the Hearth" and "The Co-eds of All Hours" in 1908.

Two plays were produced every year until the term of 1911 to 1912, when a particularly ambitious membership produced three: "She Stoops to Conquer," "A Nautical Knot," and "The Climbers". Sometime previous to this the club had decided to limit its membership to fifteen upper classmen interested in dramatics. At various times the Footlight Club has had members of the faculty as patrons, Dr. and Mrs. Boothe C. Davis, and Dr. Charles F. Binns, proving to be their frequent choices.

Between 1914 and 1920, the economic and social changes brought about by the war and world conditions

Paul Harris, Jr., will open the Christian Associations Conference in Assembly, Friday at 11:30.

Christian Associations Conference

For some time we have had notifications of student conferences which are being held at the various colleges and universities, but this is the first time that an Alfred group has planned such a conference.

To have a successful conference, there must be participants, not only from other colleges, but Alfred students as well. Primarily this conference has been designed for the students in Alfred. Much thought and work has gone into the planning and arranging of the conference. Such eminent leaders of discussion groups as Paul Harris, Jr., and Professor John Bennett have been prevailed upon to come and conduct discussions of topics of interest to students. A regular program of activity has been provided.

If the students of Alfred realize what is worth while and if they know what they need to further a college education, they will avail themselves of this opportunity and attend the conference. It has been said that Alfred is isolated from and indifferent to world interests—disprove that statement by giving your attendance to such a worthy enterprise.

Conduct?

When men and women have attained the age to be admitted to a college or university it seems probable that they should know how to conduct themselves properly. Recently in assembly during the singing of the Alma Mater there was a facetious attitude which was not in keeping with the mood of the moment and showed a decided lack of taste on the part of those singing. There should be a strong sentiment against any misbehavior such as this. Doesn't your sense of loyalty to your Alma Mater appeal to you sufficiently to avert such misbehavior as this?

LITTLE TEN CONFER-

ENCE CHAMPS

By Pat Hughes

Bernie McWhoggle, Clarkson, drank forty-eight beers without stopping and could have drunk more if somebody would have bought them.

Oscar Zilch, Hobart, went thirteen years without a shave and doesn't need one yet.

Mamie Flumpflump, St. Lawrence, held the record for the girl's javelin throw. The record breaking heave lodged itself between the ribs of a bull in a next door pasture and for all we know may be going yet.

Johnny Whichway, Alfred Freshman, is Marathon champ. He left town via North Main St., last fall at the apex of a V-shaped phalanx of Sophomores and was last seen at Igloo, Alaska; still pursuing a northerly course. The enterprising sophs

Gaspar Bedhead, Rochester, is long-distance hypnotist champ. "Gasp" has been "under" since birth and enthusiastic classmates are confident his record "run" will last as long as he breathes.

Bull Mulcahey, Niagara, is recognized as the best ape imitator in existence. His speciality is catching a basketball on his nose (what matter if the ball is rubbed with herring, nobody wants a loser). Nice work, Bull!

Paul Fotzsnag, Hamilton, is experimenting to find "how sure" it is that God made little green apples. Paul obtained little green apples by crossing an umbrella tree with red peppers. Fotzsnag is the only man in the field and thus is the holder of the record.

The Elmira group of Alfred Alumni held its annual dinner Saturday night, April ninth, in Elmira.

On Friday night, April fifteenth, the Syracuse alumni met in the Hotel Syracuse for their annual dianer.

Chicago Alumni expect to hold a banquet on Saturday night, April 30th.

The Washington, D. C., group newly organized this year held its spring banquet at the Dodge Hotel in Washington, Saturday, March 19. President and Mrs. Davis and Dr. Miller, Director of Finance, were among those attending from Alfred.

The alumni of New York and vicinity met March 26 for their annual dinner with eighty-five attending. The program also included moving pictures of the campus life at Alfred—produced and exhibited by Varick Nevins, III, of New York, who is a member of the Senior class of Alfred University.

Boothe Colwell Davis, Jr., of Plainfield, N. J., was elected president of the group for the coming year.

Ray Witter '21, who has been principal of the high school at Little Valley, N. Y., for a number of years, is to be principal next year at Silver Creek, N. Y.

The announcement of the marriage of Doris Henshaw '29, to E. Gerald Rosemond of Dallas, Texas, has been made. They were married January 31, 1932, in Orchard Park, New York.

Mr. D. C. Dungan '75, died in Buffalo, N. Y., March 7th.

a window in the Dean's office with an old lemon and got away with it.

Bennie Osterboogle, Buffalo, tore a deck of cards in two bare handed. Fifty-two cards is a lot to tear one by one.

Matt Layer, unlimited "wrassling" champ, of Nertycrest, says he would turn pro if he was a good tumbler.

Sigma Chi Nu

We're glad to say we are about all settled in our new quarters and find them very comfortable. We are becoming well acquainted with the Main Streeters!

Mrs. Santee has recovered from her illness.

Avis Stortz spent last Monday and Tuesday with us.

Thanks for the tables Delta Sig! We aren't very good lap eaters.

One of the girls has become light-headed—minus about a foot of hair.

To Klan—We will soon have curtains.

Everybody is invited to call any time and look over the house.

Theta Theta Chi

Spring house cleaning has been undertaken in earnest in Morgan Hall. Further rejuvenation is to be carried on next week-end. Our pledges deserve much praise for their efforts.

One of our alumni of the class of '31, Louisa Hurf Ripley, visited the house Sunday afternoon.

Leap year does have its advantages—we had a grand time at the Backward dance.

Great party, Kappa Psi.

Thursday night, Helen and Virginia were up for dinner.

Guests over-night this week-end were, Virginia Smathers and Dot Ravit.

Pi Alpha Pi

Miss Fosdick and Miss Nelson were guests for dinner Wednesday night.

Catherine Greening was our guest for dinner Tuesday night.

Several of the girls were away for the week-end. Among them were: Dorothy B. Eaton, Saxone Ward, Miriam VanDyne, Arolene Albee and Kathryn Lathrop.

Dorothea Dunton and Marjorie Armant spent the week-end at the house.

Agnes and Elsie Mae spent a few days in the Infirmary this week, with the grip.

We enjoyed having Ruth Harrington with us Saturday night.

Thelma Redmond had lunch at the house, Friday.

And Ned was here!

Everyone enjoyed your party, Phi Sigma Gamma.

The boys are all set to go to work having recuperated from their strenuous vacation.

Raymond (Swede) Olsen '30, was back for the party Saturday night.

Arwine and Misel have finally finished redecorating their room.

We are wondering whether they were painting the walls or the windows.

Where is Murray? "What do you think?"

Nice dance, girls.

Delta Sigma Phi

Delta Sig takes pleasure in announcing the formal initiation of Francis Gagliano, Dee Goodrich, James Perrone.

District Deputy Thompson made the chapter an official visit this week-end. Some of the boys took the well known saddle upon their broad shoulders, as they always do when "Tommie" shows up.

Early Saturday morning a bunch of (workmen) were seen unloading shale from a truck, in back of Delta Sig's barn. Inquiry proved that they were laying the foundation for a tennis court. The work went on all day, and at night many a shoulder and arm was sore. Wait until the surveying class goes to work on it?

Everyone seems to welcome the peace and quiet of our village, after a strenuous vacation.

Did you get the job Dick?

Thanks for the dance gals.

Infirmary News

There have been decidedly fewer cases this last week; a few students have suffered severe colds or from the grippe.

Monday and Tuesday, Agnes Rutherford and Elsie Mae Hall were confined to the Infirmary; both girls had the grippe.

Lucille Parente was a patient for a few days later in the week.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

Last Wednesday and Thursday three of the Seniors, Frances Wells, Miriam VanDuyne and Lewis Beyea, were in Belmont practice-teaching. Thursday, Dr. Campbell was present to supervise and observe.

Many of the Seniors have been going for personal interviews and are leaving no stones unturned in which to obtain positions in this year when it is so difficult to find them open.

Another member of the present faculty, who was a member of the club was Frank E. Lobaugh '20, now an assistant professor of ceramic engineering.

In 1920, the club instituted the Frosh-Soph plays as a means of selecting members for the organization. That same year they produced "The Great Divide," and "The Yellow Jacket," a beautiful work in Oriental scenery and costumes.

During the last few years the club has been offering its patrons a well balanced program, interspersing such works as "The Servant in The House" and "Candida," among its lighter hits.

This year the club has entered into its second quarter century of service here on the campus. There is every promise of this coming twenty-five year's being as successful as the past.

OPINIONS

It seems to me that for the past school year we have undergone a very great change in our assembly programs. May be it would appear that we need such a series of intellectual lectures as we have been continually presented with in assemblies this year, but if my personal reaction can be taken as being similar to that of other students I believe that we have been seriously neglected by those whose privilege it is to prepare our college assemblies.

Surely each of us is well aware of the fact that there is in existence such a law as the eighteenth amendment and I can see no benefit to be gained from continually addressing students on this topic and warning them of the disastrous results of associating themselves with drink and its companions. Being a student in this college and able to hear discussions about assembly programs, I am very sure that the continued repetition of prohibition lectures has been of a dissatisfactory nature to all students in general.

Being also at one time a member of the class of '31 I am more easily able to form comparisons and conclusions with regard to assembly programs.

During my freshman year at Alfred, the students were given the pleasure of hearing and enjoying two of the most delightful assemblies I have ever attended. Both of these programs were a presentation of one of our most gifted faculty members, namely, Mrs. Seidlin.

It has been my hope all year that we might again enjoy such a pleasing assembly, but as yet we have not been able to do this.

The aforesaid case is only an example of what at one time we were able to enjoy and it is my greatest wish that we might again have the pleasure of hearing such a delightful assembly.

TAG DAY FOR INTER-COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE A SUCCESS

Thursday morning saw a group of students stepping forth from the various fraternity and sorority houses and dormitories with yellow cards in hand and paper containers tucked under their arms. "Buy a tag to support the inter-collegiate conference" was a much heard phrase that day.

The results of "tag day" proved to be very successful from a pecuniary standpoint. The money collected from the students will be a great aid toward making the conference a reality. Tag day is over now, but the spirit in which it was accepted is an item not to be overlooked.

A few months ago, Coach Galloway made an announcement in Assembly to the effect that Alfred College students lacked school spirit and the urge to cooperate. In the brief speech made by the coach, he was either accusing Alfred students falsely, or else he awakened that dormant spirit into activity. If the latter be the case, the coach has succeeded admirably. The attitude and the spirit in which the students took "Tag Day" is full evidence of their spirit of interest and cooperation. They were determined to see Alfred have an inter-collegiate conference—they were determined to have Paul Harris back—determination is a great thing—for due to this state of determination with which the students were so obsessed, both are to materialize.

SENIORS WIN MEET

Taking six first places, the Senior class scored a total of 45 points for first place in the annual Interclass Track Meet at the Davis Track and Field House, the Thursday before vacation. The Junior class winners of last year's event, garnered only 8 points for last place. The Frosh and Soph contestants secured a second and third place for their respective classes. Their tally showed 33 and 13.

Jay Ryskind, star dash man for the purple and gold varsity, broke the 35 yard indoor dash record of 4 1-5 sec., held jointly by Ryskind and Bud

Egger. Ryskind, starting fast, sped 35 yards to break the tape in 4 sec. flat. In the medley relay of 9-5-2-15 laps, the Senior relay team composed of Vance, Robinson, Graham and Warde, lowered the previous record of 10 min. 44.4 sec. by 21.3 sec. Vance, running the 9-laps, started the team off on their new record in the fast time of 2:55. Receiving the baton, Robinson quickly covered the 5-lap span in 1 min. and 30 sec. After Graham ran two laps in excellent time, Warde finished the race to set the new record of 10 min. 23.1 sec.

JUNIOR PROM APRIL 14

parison made. In past years a nationally-known orchestra has generally been secured to furnish the music. This year because of economic conditions it was even feared that the party could not be held.

The host class felt that they should not be the first to break this established custom of honoring the seniors, however, and yet were confronted with the economic difficulties. Then the present arrangement was suggested and met with the approval of most everyone.

Through the present arrangement the admission price has been cut in half, while an excess of more than 20 percent over the past for decorations could be allowed. With two bands, both of which have proven their ability to provide an exceptional program, this was made possible.

Rather than drop the matter altogether the prom committee has chosen this alternative and far from a reluctant attitude. They have put all of their resources and effort together in an effort to make this, one of the best proms in many years, and from all aspects it is marked for that success.

To the following committee much credit should be given including, Miss Sheheen, chairman; Miss Vivian Parmalee, Eugene Crandall, Ralfe Klinger, Louis Palmerie and Miss Marcia Colegrove. The party is formal and will start at 9 o'clock, continuing through 1 o'clock.

EXCHANGES

The Campus of Allegheny College: Washington, Pa., Jan. 14—Holding the balance of power and refusing to support either fraternity clique, non-fraternity students at Washington and Jefferson College, in a revolutionary gesture today at the undergraduate elections, upset the two Greek letter slates and swept into office many students who had been refused fraternity support. The result came as a complete surprise and produced the biggest sensation in years at the institution.

The Springfield Student: A revised plan of instruction is now being tried in many schools, according to Prof. W. L. Carr of Teacher's College, Columbia University, in which less emphasis is being placed on grammar and more on bringing back to life, through the medium of the language, the dead days of the Romans. "Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers."

Colgate Maroon: Temple University offers courses in "Social Studies," and "Etiquette". "Waiting on Table," is in the curriculum at Ohio University.

Purple and Gray—St. Thomas University: The expenditures for education in the United State in 1931, as estimated by the Federal Office of Education, were $3,200,000,000.

The Springfield Student: A new club at the University of California is known as the "50-50" club. The insignia will be plain white buttons with the "50-50" in red. It is understood that the girl will pay her share of the expenses.—Wonder if they smoke half and half?

The Poly Technic Reporter: At Case Tech students due at a lecture in another building, stood in the chemistry building waiting for a pouring rain to stop. The period was about to begin when one of the seniors conceived a brilliant plan. He called the professor on the phone and asked him to come to the chemistry building. He explained that it was better to have one person get wet rather than the entire class. The professor agreed.

REPORT OF HONOR COMMITTEE

At the faculty meeting last Thursday a preliminary report on methods of controlling cheating in examinations was presented.

It will be remembered that last spring when the Honor System was abolished a joint committee of students and faculty members was appointed to study this problem.

The faculty was pleased with the preliminary report but it will be necessary for the committee to work out a number of details before the plans can be made public.

The members of the committee are: W. P. Cortelyou, chairman; James C. McLeod, Harold O. Boraas, Annette Clifford, George Monks, Fred Morse, Claire Greene, Phlavia Sheheen and Dante Vezzoli.

KANAKADEA GOES TO PRESS

According to the announcement made by Van Ostrander, business manager of the Kanakadea staff, the complete order was sent in Monday.

Samuelsen, circulation manager has had his staff working for several weeks securing subscriptions. Lucile Bailey secured the largest number of sales for the freshmen class numbering 31, and Ernestine Barry was high sales man for the sophomore class, selling 28 copies. Two hundred and seventy-five books were ordered.

It was interesting to note that the faculty subscribed 78%.

The publication is expected out about May 15th.

Helen: "I don't see why he dates her—she's a terrible dancer."

Mary: "No, she can't dance, but she sure can intermission."
