

ALFRED WINS OVER ST. LAWRENCE TEAM BY A LARGE MARGIN

FIRST PLACE TAKEN IN ALL BUT THREE EVENTS

Alfred University gained ground in the little conference, defeating St. Lawrence 77 to 49 in a dual meet on St. Lawrence's Field, Saturday. Taking first place in every event but the weights, the Saxons showed that they have strong possibilities in winning the conference again this year.

Ryskind started the scoring for Alfred by taking the century. Obourn running the 220 in fine style broke the tape and Merck with a fine finish was able to nose out the Larrie man for third place. In the 440, which was the most spectacular race of the day, Merck and Henning took first and second, respectively. Due to a terrible start the Larrie men were ten yards down the path before our boys got out of their holes. Then Merck and Henning started and broke down that lead and finally passed the others on the home stretch. Merck finished in the exceptional time of 52:4. In the half mile, running in his usual manner, Vance easily outdistanced the others and finished in 52:4. In the half mile, running in field he will probably threaten that record. In this event Wessels placed second. As usual Alfred's Cross Country men showed their stuff in the distance runs. Warde took first and Lyons took third. Captain Robinson showed his ability by taking first place in the high and low hurdles. Buckley was an easy second in the highs, and Stanton scored second in the lows.

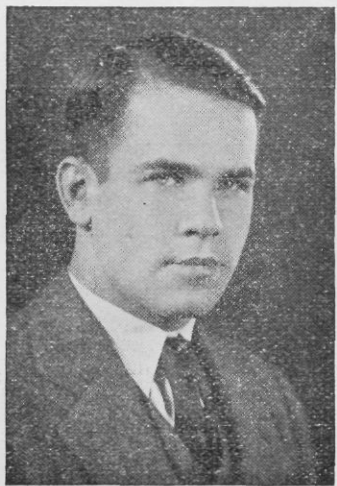

In the Jumps, Clark was able to take three first places for Alfred and was high scorer for the day. Handicapped by a strange and poor jumping pit his jumps were not as good as usual, but he still nosed out the home men. Obourn took a second place in the broad jump and was only a few inches behind Carrk.

In the weight events, the Larrie men took their only first places. Roberge, a sophomore, winning all three events. Monks and Robinson were the only Alfred men to score in these events. Monks placed second in the shot, and Robinson took a third in the discus.

The summary is as follows:

100 Yard Dash — Ryskind (A), Brooks (St. L.), Warren (St. L.). Time, 10:5.
220 Yard Dash—Obourn (A), Warren (St. L.), Merck (A). Time, 24:3.
440 Yard Run—Merck (A), Henning (A), Benjamin (St. L.). Time 52:4.
880 Yard Run—Vance (A), Wessels (A), Moore (St. L.). Time 2:01.4.
1 Mile Run—Warde (A), Loveys (St. L.), Roe (A). Time, 4:46.5.
2 Mile Run—Hughes (A), Rushman (St. L.), Lyons (A). Time, 10:28.
120 High Hurdles—Robinson (A), Buckley (A), Manning (St. L.). Time, 18.
220 Low Hurdles—Robinson (A), Stanton (A), Billington (St. L.). Time, 28.
High Jump—Clark (A), Robideau, Lomborg (St. L.). Height, 5 ft. 3 in.

THETA KAPPA NU HOLDS FORMAL

The New York Beta Chapter of Theta Kappa Nu held its annual spring formal in the ballroom of the Hotel Sherwood in Hornell last Saturday evening.

Dinner was served at 6:30, after which the couples danced to music provided by Ted VanOrder and his Merrimen.

Faculty guests were: Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Nease, Prof. and Mrs. H. Boraas and Coach and Mrs. John Galloway. Ten members of the Theta Kappa Nu Chapter of Cornell were also guests.

Alumni back for the occasion were: Norman Hubbard, William Tredennick, LaVerne Messimer, Harry Sackett, Paul Gardiner, Donald Fenner and guest, Gus Larson.

SIGMA CHI NU PLANS TO REBUILD

Plans are being formulated at the present time by the members of Sigma Chi Nu for the rebuilding of their house on Sayles street. The fire which swept through the house on the night of March 17th, practically demolished the interior and also ruined much of the furniture.

It is hoped that work on the building may be started by June first. An expenditure of about seven thousand dollars will be necessary to rebuild and refurnish the house for occupancy at the beginning of the fall term.

MRS. SEIDLIN AT ASSEMBLY

In observance of National Music Week, Mrs. Seidlín gave a very interesting recital in Assembly, Thursday morning. Although the nation is emphasizing American music, she included compositions of writers from various nations. Her program consisted of eight interesting numbers.

JUNIOR FOLLIES TO BE STAGED MONDAY

Next Monday evening at Alumni Hall brings the presentation of the annual Junior Follies. Dante Vezzoli, general chairman, states that the whole organization is now well complete and that with rehearsals this week everything points toward a fine show.

There will be this year an unusual and varied array of local talent, and the Follies will be unique in that a number of songs written by Varick Nevins, III, of the Senior class, are to be featured in the program. Most students have heard a number of his compositions, which have rapidly become popular.

Among the feature numbers there will be two snappy dancing choruses. The Glee Club, which has been well received by student bodies in other schools as well as at home, is scheduled to sing a group of chanteys, with sailor garb lending the atmosphere of the high seas. The Smathers sisters will present a duo, while Frank Valenti is planning to grab Cab Calloway's act with "Minnie the Moocher". A girls' quartet and a men's trio will contribute several selections. One of the outstanding crooners on the campus is also expected to outdo Rudy Vallee and Bob Berls with Phlavia Sheheen will give a novelty song number.

In the dance group will be included an acrobatic toe dance, a tap dance and a Spanish dance. By popular request Dante Vezzoli will reproduce his "Adaggio" of two years ago with Muller on the receiving end to take Bud Cohen's place.

Among other features are a skit written by Pat Hughes, a monologue in Swedish dialect by Carl Scott, Lester Henry and his violin playing and a trombone trio. The Saxon Sereaders have been engaged to play. They will present a number of novelties in connection with their music, starring Mickey Merck and Bob Berls. Members of the dancing ensemble include: Elsie Mae Hall, Adeo Nordenstadt, Marcia Colgrove, Doris Coates, Mary Mourhess, Marjorie Olmstead, Dorthea Dunton and Peggy Bedell.

The Chairman is assisted by Carl Meisel, business manager; Georgiana Kennedy, costume manager; Louis Palmieri, stage manager, and Anne Whitfield, chorus director.

STUDENT LIFE COMMITTEE PROPOSAL

In view of the current depression and seemingly difficult effort for students to meet expenses, the Student Life Committee is trying to formulate a simplified social program whereby expenses may be cut, without being detrimental to the social activities.

It is thought that matters could be elevated by setting a maximum cost for parties on the campus.

The committee desires the cooperation of the sororities, fraternities and other organizations on the campus, and will welcome any suggestions and plans concerning a solution to this problem.

The present personnel of the committee includes: Dean Degen, Dean Norwood, Mrs. Harris, Chaplain McLeod, Sidney DeLaney, Annette Clifford, and Frederick Morse, chairman.

PROF. POTTER SPEAKS AT MEETING

Professor Potter of the science department was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Alfred Peace League held in Social Hall last Tuesday evening. His topic was "The Ideals of the American Legion".

In his address Professor Potter pointed out the ideals for which the Legion stands, its work already accomplished and its plans for future accomplishments. His talk was a revelation to the members present who left the meeting convinced that the Legion is not a militaristic organization, but rather a strong influence in the peace movement of the country.

SIGMA CHI NU SPRING FORMAL

The Sigma Chi Nu sorority held its spring formal last Saturday evening, at the Hornell Country Club. Dinner was served at 6:30. Dancing was enjoyed between courses. Following this the guests danced until 12 to the music of Ted VanOrder and his Merrymen.

nearest of its five competitors, Buffalo East, by 14 points. In class B, Bradford High established a decisive win over a field of twenty teams when their entries netted 57 points for team cup and individual honors. Bradford accounted for eight first places with as many secondary and minor places.

In the A class, there soon developed a hot contest for individual honors when early returns showed that three men: Tasseltyne, Thompson and Oldfield were tied with ten points each. However, final returns in the weight events gave M. Connors of Buffalo Bennett eleven points for a surprise attainment as high scorer. The B class was a walk away for D. Walters of Bradford, who placed first twice and third once for a total of thirteen points.

Although no record times or distances were turned in, yet the meet was highly successful. Aided by amplifying horns and starting and refereeing, the meet was conducted and ran more smoothly than all past meets. The credit for this excellent management should go to Eugene Guinter, who planned the meet throughout and developed the organization that proved so successful.

Summary of the meet:

Class A—Buffalo Bennett 72; Buffalo East 58; Buffalo Seneca.25; Hornell 24; Olean 10.

Class B—Bradford 57; Buffalo McKinley 17; Wellsville 16½; East Aurora 15; Warsaw 14; Canisteo 12½; Andover 12; DePew 10; LeRoy 10; Dansville 9; Bolivar 7; Belmont 3; Portville 3; Albion 2; Cuba 2; Bel fast 1.

The speaking contests held in connection with the Interscholastics were well attended. The girls' contest was held in Alumni Hall on Thursday afternoon. There were six competitors, all from nearby high schools. In this contest first place was awarded to Helen Edwards of Cuba who had as her selection, "The Littlest Orphan And the Christ Baby". Second place was won by Helen Cushman of Norwich, while Thelma Gormley of Bel fast was awarded the third. President Davis acted as chairman of the event and was assisted by Professors Ellis, Harris and Tupper as judges.

Thursday evening at Alumni Hall witnessed the speaking contest for boys. Seven competitors spoke and the decision of the judges gave first place to Norman E. Begin of Bennett High School, Buffalo. His topic was entitled, "Washington the Man". Norwich High School again took second place with Maurice Breed's selection, "Ropes." Third place was awarded to John Ward, representing Hornell High School. Dean Norwood was the chairman in charge of this contest, while Professors Burditt and Rice and Miss Annette Clifford acted as judges.

Choice of selection, interpretation, poise, voice and manner of enunciation were the points used as a basis by the judges in determining the winners.

EDITORIALS

A Message To You

Each Tuesday evening of the school year brings to our student body a copy of its school paper. Many of the readers—we hope a great majority—welcome it. Others—a goodly number we know—pounce upon it enthusiastically with a sole purpose, figuratively speaking, of tearing it to pieces.

The Fiat Lux is the product of the combined efforts of approximately twenty people on the campus, who unfailingly, each week, endeavor to publish a chronicle of events as accurately and interestingly as possible. It ought not to be difficult to conceive how disheartening it is to these people to find a volley of misdirected ridicule hurled at the paper each week.

Not for a moment does the Fiat's staff mislead itself into thinking that its paper is a symbol of perfection. On the contrary, it is quite aware that there are many deficiencies in it which warrant the unfavorable comment of even the most timid souls on the campus. It hurts, however, when these ardent critics never offer any practical remedy for these defects. Quite often there is an especially interesting piece of news which does not come to the attention of the staff; again quite often the information given them is itself incorrect and results in an erroneous publication in the paper.

All members of the student body can help toward perfecting the paper. First, there might be a definite cessation of Tuesday evening criticism in the Collegiate or around the dinner table. Second, this criticism might be offered to the staff which will be more than grateful. This can be done by a note to the editor or attendance at the weekly meeting of the staff. Third, there might be a broadening of the viewpoint of the reader so that he would realize that news published is selected to please the majority of the student body rather than him as an individual.

YOUR GIFTS

You never gave me
Much
In the way of material things
That grow tiresome in time,
Or are destroyed.

The things you gave me
Will last much longer
A kiss
A song
A broken heart.

"C"

AND WE SHALL HAVE STARS WITH WHICH TO END OUR DAY PERFECT

At dawn we will climb the hill
And let the wind of the morning
Blow cool upon our brows.

At noon we will descend to the valley
And lie under a willow tree by the stream,
And let the dreamy waters reflect our two faces.

At sunset we will walk along the road
That leads to the west,
And swing clasped hand and kick at stones.

At night we shall have stars,
But I shall see them
Only as they are reflected in your eyes.

"C"

DECISION

If it has come to be that you are ready now—

To end all this—

I shall not try to make you stay
or even crave

Your one last kiss—

Just go—I'll not confront you with accusing pleas—

Good bye is hard enough without formalities.

"OH! BEAUTIFUL SPRING BE DAMNED!"

From my window I used to see
Through the boughs of a leafless tree,
A girl I love, but she not me,
Perched to muse on her balcony.
But now that pleasure is no more
To gaze at the one that I adore,
For leafy spring is here—damn her
Cloaking the boughs of that leafless tree,
Hiding 'till autumn my dearest from me.

Spring, no doubt, inspired the writers of the poetry above on a subject quite familiar. If you have had a reaction, either similar or quite different, we shall be more than pleased to receive it.

THE OBSERVER COMMENTS

Y. T. now makes his, or her's, or maybe it should be its, who knows debut.

Just a few blots from the sputtering pen.

Prexy's Bath Tub hasn't had any water in it this year. Tch-Tch, spring days and National Health week and everything.

And the fountain in the Park hasn't founted yet. Still has its winter muffler on.

To Mrs. Seidlin go the many thanks of Y. T. for her program last week.
Too bad the unusual has to stay that way, though one advantage is that is has a more noticeable appreciation.

THANKS

To those members of the administration and to those members of the student body who so splendidly cooperated with the management of the 24th Annual Alfred Interscholastics, I wish to extend to them my sincere appreciation for their work.

Also, I wish to thank Mr. Harry Green and his assistants for the fine work they did in making the track and field in the best condition that it has been for years.

The Interscholastics is a cooperative project. The meet can be well organized and planned, but, when the time comes for the test if there is a lack of cooperation the meet will be a failure. Therefore, I again thank all persons who contributed their time and work for this meet, because it really is due to them that the meet was successful.

OPINIONS

Now that the warm weather is here the shirtless collegian will become more prominent.

Certainly such practice should be above men of college breeding. I need not go into elementary detail as to why college men should present themselves in classes with shirts, no matter how little time they have to dress before a ten-thirty o'clock class.

Let's be gentlemen in our appearance as well as in our conduct.

D. V.

To the Editor:

A little more than two years ago there came into being in our campus an organization known as "The Newman Club of Alfred University". The club, a member of the Federation of College Catholic Clubs, was founded only after much hard work in the part of a few interested students, as well as on the part of the college administration.

For a few months the newly born unit flourished and much was accomplished toward building an organization which would be a benefit religiously and socially to the campus. It was not long, however, until enthusiasm waned and the monthly meetings found only the officers of the club and a handful of students present. With this condition it seems ridiculous to hope for anything more than a gradual sinking into oblivion of this unit.

Within the next few days another meeting of the club is to be held. At this time its purpose and possibilities will be again discussed. If you are interested in the survival of this worthy organization, will you not prove it by putting in an appearance at the meeting.

A Member.

YEAR OLD CLUB COMES TO LIGHT

Eight names, the roster of "The Club of Worms," decorate the exhaust hood in the sophomore chemistry laboratory of the Ceramic School. The club, which has no meetings and no dues, is very exclusive, limiting its membership to sophomores who have unwittingly tasted a chemical reagent and "lived to tell the tale".

The club was founded last year by "Red" Misel '33, who can also boast of the narrowest escape. "Red" accidentally proved that he is stronger than a horse when he touched his lips with a stirring rod that had been dipped in potassium cyanide, of which a freshman once wrote, "It is so poisonous that a drop of it on the tongue of a dog will kill a horse".

Most of the members seem to have joined by the "pipette route" (a pipette is a graduated glass tube into which liquids are drawn by sucking at one end). Crawford Hallett '33, and Seymour Holstein '34, tried some ammonia water in that manner, and, though it gained membership in the club for them, their advice to others is not to try it as the internal applications cause more tears than external. Dante Vezzoli '33, was initiated into the club when he involuntarily tasted some nitric acid in the same manner.

"Vince" Young '34, thought he was made of stuff so "pure" and "noble" that he could safely taste aqua regia, the only liquid that dissolves gold, but he succeeded only in becoming a worm. "Bill" Samuelson '33, crept in by the comparatively easy method of tasting some sodium dichromate.

As in all large organizations, some undesirables will sneak in so the sacred ranks of "The Club of Worms" have been invaded by two, who are suspected of ulterior motives. Thus "Ike" Rodman '34, has become a member although it is alleged that he was thirsty when he swallowed the denatured alcohol that initiated him. Owen Reynolds '33, is known to have had a sore throat when he swallowed the silver nitrate that made him a member, and, although his name is not a Scotch one, it is alleged that he was trying to save the doctor's fee by painting his throat with laboratory materials.

COOK ACADEMY TRIUMPHS OVER FROSH TRACK MEN

Contesting between intermittent showers and on a sloppy track, Cook Academy nosed out Alfred Frosh in the final field events to win by 62-46, at Montour Falls, Saturday. The Saxon strength in the track events, consisting of four first and second places was voided by the Blue and Gray prowess in the field events. The Academy field men took clean sweeps in the broad jump and the pole vault, with first and second places in the shot and discus. Reynolds, star track man and all round athlete for the home school, amassed 22 points to take individual honors. Whaley was the "iron man" for the Saxons with a total of eleven points.

Clearly outclassed in the track events, Cook concentrated on the field entries to give them the meet. Alfred's efforts in the field yielded them a bare 13 points, while the Academians garnered 41 points to give them a clean victory. In both the pole vault and the broad jump, the Purple failed to place after three Cook men in each event handed in superior performances. Whaley, Alfred's mainstay in the field, with perfect form at 58' in the high jump cleared the bar to outjump the versatile Reynolds. Spurred by this victory, he hurled the javelin better than a hundred and thirty to pass the best Cook mark set by Reynolds. Skinner took third in the high, while Spencer's throw in the javelin added a point to his score. Buell made a beautiful hurl of the discus to lower the home field record by several inches. A better throw was ruled out because he stepped over the line. Hanson disappointed the Alfred squad when two Cook heavy weights put the shot over forty feet for first honors.

HOBART HERE THIS WEEK IN TRACK AND TENNIS

During the ensuing week, Alfred will meet two Hobart athletic teams on their home field. On Wednesday the Hobart track squad will travel from Geneva to meet the home squad on Merrill Field, to be followed the next day by the tennis team which will meet the Purple and Gold on the local courts.

Prospects of victory in the track meet are excellent for the Saxons. Recently Rochester severely trounced the Geneva trackmen by a score of 79½ to 46½. A similar victory by Alfred over Rochester two weeks ago seems to stack the cards for Alfred. Hobart is reported to be strong in the field events and should give the local huskies something to worry about.

The tennis match does not seem so favorable. The two teams' recent encounter ended in a 4-2 win by Hobart. Hobart plays a game characterized by lobs while the Alfred racquet wielders employ smash and drive tactics. Alfred's success in the match depends on their ability to eat up the Hobart lobs, and the development of a better control over their drives.
