Alfred business district getting major facelift

Businesses playing musical chairs

By DAVID L. SNYDER

Editor and Publisher

ALFRED--There are some who consider Main Street in a small town like a community's living room. If that's the case, Alfred is getting a major remodeling.

A October 29, 2009 fire that destroyed one of Alfred's oldest commercial buildings has resulted in a commercial game of musical chairs downtown.

A new Collegiate Restaurant, nearing completion at 31 N. Main Street is not the only thing that's new.

Westside Wine and Spirits now occupies the former home of Crandall's Jeweler's and will soon be joined next door by Alfred Sports Center.

Meanwhile, in the center of the Main Street business block, Uncle Alfred's Sub Shop has opened at 17 N.

And, a few doors down, the Rosebush Block has been fully renovated with the upstairs apartments now being advertised.

At street level, it is likely the Kampus Kave will reopen its doors to customers soon, while it is also likely that a tenant will be found to open a food business in the former Collegiate.

In other business related news, Dick Stuart and Cheryl Sirianni have purchased the Big Dipper from the Craig Mix family and did a robust business on opening day Saturday, May 1.

Stuart has completed major changes to the grounds surrounding the ice cream shop, removing trees, replacing the roof and "sprucing up."

At right, the "new" Collegiate is taking shape.

Group gathers ideas for community revitalization

ALFRED--Everyone who attended Alfred's annual Hot Dog Day on Saturday, April 24, had a chance to offer suggestions for improving the village at a booth sponsored by Alfred Alive, a new community revitalization initiative working to make Alfred more attractive to commumembers. businesses. students and visitors.

Alfred Alive members Kim Donius and Tim Cochran polled students, parents, community members and visitors for ideas on programs, venues, beautification projects, or sustainability efforts they would like to see implemented. Any ideas were welcome no matter how small or grandiose. Three by five cards were also available at the booth throughout the day so people could write down their suggestions and post them on a bulletin

All suggestions are to be considered by the members of Alfred Alive at their next general meeting on May 24 in the Village Hall theater. Meanwhile, the four sub-groups of the organization will be meeting separately to identify the top projects they would like to see implemented in the areas of economic development, programming, sustainability and communication/marketing.

Members of the sustainability sub-group were the ones who came up with the idea of having a tent at Hot Dog Day. Members of the group include Kim Donius, Tim Cochran, Ly Kesse, Sherman Clarke, Pam Jones, LisaJo Looney, Anna Cormack, Mary Stearns and Alan Littell.

The members of the sustainability group would like to thank the following people for their help in making the Alfred Alive booth a success: Keith Rogers for contributing the tent; the Alfred University and Alfred State College Hockey Clubs for putting up the tent and getting everything ready; Billy Ernest of Almond for assistance with the hand-painted signs; Tricia Debertolis for supporting Alfred Alive and providing an excellent spot for the booth; John Ninos, Sr. for helping with the tent and for his support of the Alfred Alive effort.

Thanks also go to David Kendall and Tim Cochran from Alfred State College, who shared their interest and expertise in energy conservation and helped to attract people to the booth with their demonstration of the efficiency of different types of light bulbs; Virginia Rasmussen for providing necessary booth equipment; and finally to Kim Donius for all of her hard work in contacting people, gathering supplies, and coordinating everything to make the booth project a reality.

Alfred Alive welcomes new members. Everything is very informal. Just drop by the next general meeting on May 24 and check it out, or talk with one of the people presently involved in the organization or with one of the members of the Alfred Alive steering committee: Acton, Dr. Karla Back, Amanda Burns, Justin Grigg, Peter Mc-Clain, Lana Meissner, Virginia Rasmussen and Peter von Stackelberg.

Bean soup at Hotel Hornell

In our travels this winter, we spent some time with an old AU classmate and friend and discovered he had grown up in Hornell. When he heard I write a recipe column, he said I should write about the famous bean soup served by the Hotel Hornell. He said people came from miles around to enjoy it.

I did some research at the Hornell Library and learned a lot about the Hotel Hornell. However, I could not find any mention of the food served there or, of course, no printed recipes. I think I need to find some old church printed recipe books but, so far, I'm coming

If you know of any sources I could investigate, please let me know. Until then, here is a recipe for a bean soup that Steve Clarke gave us to include in the Alfred Community Theatre's cook book printed a few years ago. Ham and Bean Soup

3 T. butter 1 med. onion, chopped 2 cloves garlic, chopped 3 carrots, shredded

4 stalks celery, chopped ½ green pepper, chopped ½ lb. thickly sliced ham, diced

2 cans white kidney beans

1 (20oz.) can chopped or pureed

½ bag spinach 1 lg. can chicken broth

1 T. dried parsley ½ T. dried chives 1/4 T. dried basil

1/4 T. dried oregano 1 packet ham broth concentrate salt and pepper to taste

1 can refried beans

Rinse spinach; remove stems and tear into smaller pieces. Set aside. Melt butter in skillet. Saute onion, garlic, celery, carrots, and peppers. When onion becomes translucent, add ham. Stir occasionally to blend flavors. Add broth and ham concentrate. Stir and cook on high heat until it boils. Add spices, beans and tomatoes. Reduce to medium heat. Add spinach and stir occasionally. When spinach is wilted, add refried beans. Bring to a simmer over medium-high heat; reduce heat and simmer, stirring occasionally, to blend flavors for about 20 min. Ladle soup into bowls and garnish with Parmesan

Alfred State alum establishes new art gallery

ALFRED—Thanks to the generosity of Alfred State alumnus Bret Llewellyn, Buffalo, marketing, class of 1980, there is a beautiful new art gallery on campus. The Bret Llewellyn Art Gallery, located on the third floor of the Engineering Technology Building on the Alfred campus, was dedicated recently during a ribbon-cutting ceremony. ASC President Dr. John M. Anderson introduced Llewellyn by saving that he is an "exemplar of the entrepreneurial spirit." As a soccer player while he was here at Alfred, Bret believed that his team should have tee-shirts. So he and his coach began silk screening tee-shirts in the coach's garage. Llewellyn went on to found the Underground, an embroidery, silk-screen, and print company that held contracts with major league sporting franchises to sell their licensed products. He has since sold that business and has moved into real estate development. "But," concluded Anderson, "his love for Alfred State has never waned." Llewellyn noted that Alfred State was a great place where he "spent some of the happiest times" of his life. "I love the art field and I love giving something back to a place that gave me so much, including a well-rounded education, before I entered the 'real world.'" The gallery, directed by Tammy Bracket, assistant professor, Computer Imaging and Architectural Engineering Technology Department, showcases visiting artists' and student works. Pictured, Anderson, Llewellyn, and Bracket, cut the ribbon.

Time for a change

To the Editor:

Like many of you, I have been very dissatisfied with the way our Legislature is operating (or, more accurately, not operating), and, like many of you, I think it is time for some major changes. I recently received a mailing from the office of Assemblyman Jim Bacalles asking his constituents to support a "People's Convention to Reform New York". The goals of such a convention would be to consider, among other things, real property tax relief, spending cap, debt reform, and term limits for legislators.

So far, I am in complete agreement with this idea. However, he is proposing that each of New York's 62 counties be represented by three delegates, and here is where the disagreement arises. New York City, consisting of the Bronx, Kings, Queens, Brooklyn and Staten Island would be represented by 15 delegates – the same numbers that would represent Chautauqua, Cattaraugus, Allegany, Steuben and Yates Counties. That means that five counties in western New York, with a population of 361,366 (1.9% of the state's population) would have the same representation as New York City, with a population of 8,214,426 (42.5% of the 's population).

I know that as much as many of us dislike the treatment accorded to New York City, it is undeniable that the 42.5% of the population in New York City should be represented by more delegates than the 1.8% of the population representing the 5 counties listed from Western New York. Let's move toward a more equitable distribution of representatives to ensure that everyone's interests are met.

Unreasonable times

Dear Editor:

Many letters to the editor these days present the idea that whatever the founders "intended" by what they wrote in the 1780s is what we should say the Constitution means today. That statement then is used to support whatever emotion the writer is feeling about U.S. politics at the moment.

I'd like to suggest several questions we might ask ourselves about this idea.

• Do "we know" what the founders "intended"?

• Do we believe that the founders wrote the best they could given their education and experience in the 1700s? (The writers were highly educated.)

• Do we believe that times have changed in the last 150 years? Do we believe that they would write now exactly what they wrote then?

• Do we believe that most lawmakers and citizens do their best to keep up with the times, changing laws and even occasionally the Constitution as they see necessary?

• Do we believe that in a democracy everyone is responsible to be educated so that he or she can try to understand actual local, national, and international issues and to vote as sensibly as possible?

• Are we proud of the fact that when our citizens disagree about an election, a debate, or a law, we don't take to the streets with weapons but rely on the next election, the next debate, or the next law to make a change?

I heard it said recently that the unrest today has much to do with the fact that we live in unreasonable times, and that one of the problems with our current President is that he is, on the whole, a reasonable man.

I hope so.

Sincerely, Sharon Hoover Lewes DE

Snyde remarks

By DAVID L. SNY DER Editor and Publisher, The Alfred Sun.

The times, they are a-changin'. I recently received word that the firm that weekly prints this newspaper is making some changes in their operations. The parent company of Greenhouse Newspapers has decided to print its jobs in its Canandaigua plant.

Now, along with a change in venue for printing the newspaper, there's also a reduced timeframe in which the newspaper is to be produced. To make a long story short, The Alfred Sun must now receive all items no later than noon Monday for Thursday's publication. This certainly will test this editor's mettle as there will be less grace in which to operate.

Since 1986, this newspaper has been produced in-house, then taken to the Evening Tribune, whose press crew has been most tolerant of my bad habit of procrastination. Many times I have said that when I'm six feet under, it will be the first deadline I've met.

In hindsight, making the switch to on-screen production didn't come any too soon. That same press crew had been after me for a few years to make the change as the Sun was the only paper still requiring use of their antiquated camera...and chemicals. Now that change will save me a trip to Canandaigua., if that plant were even equipped to handle a job such as mine.

Now it seems that the Canandaigua plant does not stock the size paper that this publication is customarily printed on, so there will be another change. Starting next week, the Alfred Sun will gain a few inches, giving me more space for, hopefully, more news....if I can keep up!

So, I will miss the press crew at the Evening Tribune. They have served me well, for which I am most grateful. But now it's time to move on to another chapter in The Alfred Sun's long history

In sum, please plan accordingly: as of May 10, 2010, absolute deadline for ALL submissions to this newspaper is 12 noon Monday for this Thursday publication. Any items received after that time will not be published.

Frank Crumb's Dream Subscription Campaign Update 65 down, 60 to go

Back in 1884, a simple item appeared in the Sun that said, "Wanted, one thousand subscribers to the Alfred Sun." It's been 125 years since legendary Sun Editor Frank A. Crumb, who was with the Sun from 1883 to 1951, set the millenary goal.

Not knowing of Frank Crumb's Dream, I, too, had set a goal of 1000 subscribers when I joined the paper in 1976. That goal was finally reached in January 1999. But we want to keep the dream alive.

The late Eugene T. Van Horn, who owned the newspaper from 1951 until 1973, told us one time that circulation peaked in the 1960s at 700. It's now over 900. We've added 65 new subscribers since Jan. 1, 2009.

We encourage our readers to give a subscription to the Alfred Sun as a gift--it keeps giving week after week, all through the year. During Frank Crumb's Dream Campaign, we offer 13 months for the price of $27 ($30 outside of Allegany County). That's $25 off the news stand price. And you'll read exclusive hometown news and interesting stories!

We think the Alfred Sun is like a weekly letter from home. If you would like to contribute to Frank Crumb's Dream, send your name and address or that of a loved one together with your check payable to "Alfred Sun" to: Frank Crumb's Dream, c/o Alfred Sun, P.O. Box 811, Alfred, NY 14802. Happy reading!

WELLSVILLE--Alfred State College students, faculty, and staff in Wellsville celebrated Earth Day by joining with their neighbors, the Atlantic Richfield (AR) project team, to plant flowers and shrubs around the campus. The College purchased plants using a $1,000 donation by BP (British Petroleum), which was made on behalf of AR, a BP-affiliated company. BP employees and consultants from the project joined the College in the planting effort. Project Manager Eric Larson gave a short presentation on the wetland treatment system that has been put in place on the site of a former Sinclair refinery, discussing the decision to select this more natural and sustainable technology for Wellsville. Larson said, "Our project in Wellsville is an excellent example of environmental stewardship. AR selected a more environmentally friendly and sustainable technology to clean residual groundwater contamination at this former refinery site and protect the Genesee River, an important natural and economic resource for this region. Earth Day gives us an opportunity to showcase our project and continue to give something back to this area's natural environment."

Allegany County Legislator

BOARD NEWS - APRIL 26, 2010

Each session of the Allegany County Board of Legislators has its own unique personality. The April 26th meeting started with a change for the first time in about 16 months as the veteran scheduled to lead the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" was unable to attend and perform that function. Legislator Norman Ungermann, an Army veteran, offered to fill in, and led us in the Pledge. Office For the Aging Director Kim Toot made a presentation regarding "Older Americans Month."Later in the meeting Chairman Crandall proclaimed May as "Older Americans Month" in Allegany County. Economic Development Director John Foels then introduced our new County Planner, Kier Dirlam, to the Board. He is no stranger to our County or Board, but is new in this new position. We have high hopes for the help that Kier can provide for the County.

The heart of the meeting involved consideration of 14 separate resolutions. Resolution 88-10 proposed naming the main ceremonial courtroom after retiring County Judge James E. Euken. Legislator Ungermann questioned why he deserved this more than other recent judges. I noted that Judge Euken has appeared in that courtroom as a private attorney, Public Defender, District Attorney and County Judge. I am unaware of any other attorney or judge who has performed in all those capacities. The resolution was ultimately adopted by a 13-1 vote, with Legislator Ungermann opposed. Resolution 89-10 set the rates for solid waste residential user fees for 2010. Resolution 90-10 opposed various proposed state legislation that would restrict the right of citizens to purchase and own guns. Most of the remaining resolutions were routine in nature, with only a few exceptions. Resolution 95-10 abolished a number of vacant positions in various county departments. This is the result of an initiative by Legislator Tim O'Grady, Chair of the Personnel Committee. Abolishing these vacant positions means those departments will have to come back to the Board to re-establish them, as well as fill them at some future date. This should limit the growth of county government and keep down costs.

The most controversial issue considered by the Board involved resolution 100-10. It involved a contract with LaBella Associates, PC., for preparation of a study of space needs and utilization within the County Office Building, at a maximum cost not to exceed $7,000. Various Legislators objected to spending money at this time. The Board has been criticized for not having professional plans in place. I supported this resolution as a way of preparing for the future. Most of my colleagues were not in agreement. A motion to table the resolution was offered by Legislator Cady and seconded by Legislator Ungermann. The motion to table was approved.

The final resolution considered was number 101-10, which sought approval for an "Inter-Municipal Mutual Aid Agreement Between the County of Allegany and the Allegany County Town Highway Superintendents Association." This Agreement ratifies the existing practice of various towns and the county providing mutual aid to one another. Legislator Ungermann objected on the grounds that it was too vague and did not contain specific rates for various pieces of equipment. Legislator Fanton countered that those issues are dealt with by current practice, and that everyone involved is comfortable with the way things are handled. The resolution was approved by a 13-1 vote, with Legislator Ungermann opposed.

During the Ways & Means Committee Meeting that preceded the Board meeting, County Treasurer Terri Ross provided an update on Sales Tax revenue. 2010 revenue had been trending higher than for 2009 until April. The second half of April saw a sharp drop that presumably reflects a slow-down in the economy. I question whether it reflects NYS holding back our money to help cover its own deficit. Currently we are down $22,594.24 for year-to-date collections compared to budgeted figures. Hopefully the economy will pick up in coming weeks. Time will tell.

the ongoing findings of a wind energy study group.

ALFRED--You are urged to attend the Alfred Town Board meeting on Thursday, May 13th at 7:00 pm at the Alfred Station Fire Hall.

- Here is information you should know.....

   The question of Industrial Wind Turbine Generators (WTGi) is not a simple question of being green or "being in my backyard". There are so many issues to be examined in a wind farm project of Mega watt size that you need to be informed. The right decisions must be made.
- A proposed wind turbine is 413 feet tall. It sits on 300 tons of concrete and weighs 265 tons. (Suzlon and Vestas)
- The 415 foot tall turbines will be sitting on ridgelines that are 2,000 to 2,500 feet high. The projected wind factory calls for 10 turbines for ASC and 10 other turbines leased to local landowners. ASC placed a test tower April 2009 and after one year of data will be able to give us their computer modeling of wind data in Alfred, NY. Data on ASC site currently begins with November 2009. http://www.alfredstate.edu/about-us/going-green Average wind speed of 14 mph is viable. 8.4mph is necessary or the turbine won't cut-in. (start up)
- The turbines will become a part of scenic views of Alfred and surrounding environs. Do we have a limit on the number we will accept? It is not uncommon for more wind turbines to follow once a farm is established.
- Cohocton announced a village tax increase of $7.85 for 2010/11 over their $7.56 for 2009. (Tribune 3/29/10)
- Howard announced construction plans are on hold for the Howard wind farm because tax credits were not forthcoming. The tax credit is invaluable to the wind company. Are wind profits alone insufficient to move the company forward?
- The resale value of your home is negatively impacted when you live within two miles of a wind turbine. (Studies from Wisconsin and other states show that properties decreased sales prices 30% on average. The negative impact zone includes the village of Alfred. While there an unequal impact on land owners, there is no mechanism for compensation.
- Power produced by Alfred's wind turbines will not be reversemetered into our local electricity nor will it reduce our local electric costs. It can, however, benefit upstate or adjoining states. Dedicated wind supporters can best support wind by donating $7.50 for 300kw or 20 and ½ cents /kW to help the federal and state government subsidies necessary to produce wind power. In 2007, $724 Million was spent to encourage wind turbines being built. Taxpayers paid in subsidies vs .25 for natural http://tonto.eia.doe.gov/energy_in_brief/energy_subsidies.cfm
- The town planning board has drafted a preliminary wind energy law to protect citizenry. The town board approved the preliminary wind energy law and it is now with the town's lawyer for review. Town board changes will be made and a public hearing will be held.
- Once the turbines are erected, they will stand for 10-20 years? We have been told the town has the option to purchase the turbines after ten years. Within these 10 years government subsidies run-out. Will new fuel technology update or supersede wind? To date, the government has committed $13.7 billion dollars in subsidies for wind production. Current subsidies run out in 2013
- Consider the cost to other species besides the human species... bats, birds and wildlife in areas with turbines will be adversely affected in some manner.
- Consider the health cost to our species.

The upcoming decision by the Planning Board and Town Board will have a significant impact on our way of life for years to come. You are urged to attend the Alfred Town Board meeting on Thursday, May 13th at 7:00 pm at the Alfred Station Fire Hall.

lison Craver's pottery rarely belongs in the kitchen

By ELAINE HARDMAN Alfred Sun Reporter

ALFŘED--There's pottery in our kitchen. Honestly, there's pottery all over our house but more is in the kitchen. Functional work, food-related stuff – that's what my hands do with clay and how my mind sees stoneware so when Allison Craver said that her pottery rarely belongs in a kitchen my brain hiccupped.

Allison came to Alfred for art with no intention of working with ceramics. She came for the solid and sensible reason that the School of Art and Design is a good deal.

When she began exploring what Alfred offered she found herself absorbed by clay - the challenges of clay's technical issues, the varied systems for construction and the chemistry that creates and solves problems all drew her in but then she realized the soft side of clay. The community.

She became entwined with the many layers of friendship and camaraderie that the ceramics have to work together to load and fire a kiln; to share the space inside the fire chambers; to move the massive weight of bricks and shelves and work. Clay students rely on each other because they have to and then because that's the way they

Allison is interested in personal spaces and sculptural forms. She makes bedroom boxes, forms that could be used to hold coins, jewelry, keep-sakes, special things but not food. Soap dishes are in her realm; oatmeal bowls are not. She works with a series of molds so her pieces are constructed in segments but are of varied size and texture. The detail in them caught my eye when I roamed the senior work area one day so I asked to talk with her.

Allison attributes her interest in art to her family. "I grew up in an artistic, creative household and didn't realize till later that parents don't make some things

She began actively drawing in a sketch book when she was six and she just carried it around drawing her cat and things in her house. For now, Allison seems interested in what she is trying to accomplish thought she seems not to like all her work - not an unusual situation when one is so immersed in a project and seeking some ideal. She looks at her outcomes and finds the next direction to continue her work

The work she will display at her Senior Thesis Show on Saturday will include a variety of her special boxes posed on pedestals decorated with terra cotta clay pressed into molds to create large plinth structures. The structures will be about stability; the boxes – fragility; the process - an evolving understanding of space.

For the summer Allison Craver will be at Watershed Center for Ceramic Arts in Newcastle, Maine. After that it's intense work for four or five years and then maybe grad school.

To see the work of clay, fabric, paint and ideas at the Senior Thesis shows be on the Alfred University Campus from about 4 till 7 p.m. on Saturday, May 7. For more photos see KeylessPiano.blogspot.com.

CHALLENGED to build a model of what they thought the deep sea might look like, the Snyder boys, with help from Timothy Corkey, created this four by three foot display of sea creatures.

Alfred boys win LEGO Deep Sea Building Challenge

ALFRED—The winter found three young men diligently creating sea creatures from Legos!

Isaac, Joseph and John Snyder, sons of Jerry and Dotty Snyder of Sunny Cove Farm in Alfred, were eagerly working on the Lego Club School Edition Building Challenge. The challenge was to build a model, solely composed of Legos, of what one thought the deep sea looked like. Legos provided a suggested book list, wihch the boys read. They also checked out other library books and an encyclopedia for references to create their underwater scene.

The scene started with a killer whale and fish and grew to include hammerhead sharks, tuna, coral reef, clams and crabs, covering an area four feet wide and three feet high! Timothy Corkey of Almond contributed his Lego shark and crafted a squid.

On Friday, April 23, a letter was received from Lego Education informing the boys that they were a First Prize winner in the Lego Building Contest, receiving a gift certificate for $200 of Lego Education Products! The contest winners will be available for viewing on LegoClub.com.

MARK TWAIN

Recently "The Evening Tribune," which is the Hornell, New York newspaper, gained my gratitude. It printed several Associated Press writers' articles observing the centenary of Mark Twain's death on April 21, 1910, in Redding, Connecticut. Chance circumstances have left me with a lifelong curiosity about Samuel L. Clemens, who adopted that pen name.

Both of us were born and raised in Missouri but on opposite car or bus in the St. Louis area, the city which was her birthplace. Once I detoured south from there along the river to visit Hanplace. Once I detoured south from there along the river to visit Hanwhere Twain was born. Its environs had provided him with

Growing up, however, I had reason to take an interest in the title character of one of his books which receives little notice today. I learned from my parents that when my older sister was born they had a problem naming her. Ultimately my father took his inspiration from a family copy of Twain's book, "Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc." It had been given to my father's older brother, and bears the flyleaf inscription, "To Harold from Grandma. Christmas, 1907."

The purported memoir was one of Twain's last books, copyright

1896, and it has an appreciative dedication. "To my wife, Olivia

Langdon Clemens, this book is tendered on our wedding anniversary in grateful recognition of her twenty-five years of valued service as my literary adviser and editor. The Author." The years are given,

City when another girl with the same two names enrolled there. At that point my mother's first name, Helen, was given to Jeanne as a middle name. Of course, my mother had a varn about how her own mother said that she had come up with "Helen" as a name for her. It was because she would be able to automatically shout out the first syllable quickly when otherwise speechlessly annoyed at the child. Upon moving to Alfred I found Elmira, Twain's summer home, conveniently nearby. Since living in this area I have seen his study and gravesite, plus related book exhibits, a play, and Hal Holbrook's reenactment of Twain. I welcomed the PBS four hour television documentary, "Mark Twain" by Ken Burns in 2003. It expanded on what I had learned viewing the film, "The Adventures of Mark Twain," in 1944. There I had first heard of his birth during an appearance of Halley's Comet, and his fulfilled prophecy that he would die upon this short-period comet's return. The movie's depiction of his poor investment in the Paige typesetting machine also made a lasting impression upon me.

Tarbox to play in Wellsville

WELLSVILLE-Michael Tarbox will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 15, at the Wellsville Creative Arts Center. Come early for dinner (served 5 pm-9 pm). Tickets are $12 advance purchase/$14 at door. Member tickets are $10 advance purchase/$12 at door. Tickets may be purchased online, in advance, at www.WellsvilleCreativeArts-Center.com or at the Art Center Coffee House. For more information visit the website or call 585-593-3000.

Taking listeners to a place where country blues, Appalachian string band music and gospel come together in powerful and unexpected combinations, Michael Tarbox is a smokey-voiced singer with a pure backwoods style.

He's also a killer slide guitarist, and possesses an uncanny ability to make any song he plays sound new, as if it were somehow being sung for the first time. His band, The Tarbox Ramblers, has released two CDs on the Rounder label, toured with Robert Plant, and made a name for itself with a roughhewn, direct sound that's been praised by Rolling Stone, The New Yorker and NPR's All Things Considered.

On May 15, in a special CD release show, Tarbox will play The Ramblers' music along with selections from his new solo album, "My Primitive Joy." The album's a gem, and we're eager to welcome Tarbox back to Wellsville for what promises to be a great show.

Andover Historic meeting set

ANDOVER--The Andover Historical Society will meet again during National Historic Preservation Week at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 12 in the Community Center on East Greenwood Street.

President Galen Brooks will give a talk on "The Value of Historic Preservation" from his experience in both small and large communities. There will be an important business meeting following the program at which the members will discuss whether to embark on a survey of historic resources in the Village. There is the possibility of a Preserve New York Grant to cover basic expenses for such a survey, but the deadline is very near. Any one interested in the history of Andover as reflected in its built environment is encouraged to attend.

The Dugout—Dear George Steinbrenner: You make it awful hard to remain a New York Yankee fan. Team starts out 6-10 so you fire another manager. It must have been Yogi's fault. His fielding is questionable of late and I'm not sure he will ever be the reliever most thought he would become. Somehow I don't think the slow start is Yogi's fault. After making one boneheaded move, you turn around and top that as only you can do. Billy Martin AGAIN!?.

What are the chances of an article published in The Alfred Sun winning a national award among entries from newspaper Goliaths USA Today and The Washington Times? Try one in a thousand. Timothy R. Bennett, a freelance writer studying at Elim Bible Institute in Lima, overcame those overwhelming odds. He authored the $10,000 first prize winning article for 1999 in the national Amy Writing Awards competition, acclaimed as the most popular journalism contest in the nation. Now a missionary with Youth With A Mission in France, Bennett penned "Saving Private Ryan, Saving Mankind" that appeared in the March 25, 1999 issue of The Alfred Sun in its Moonlighter entertainment section...The $10,000 first prize will be presented to Mr. Bennett at the 2000 annual Michigan Prayer Breakfast in Lansing, MI on Thursday, May 11, 2000.

Excitement and graphite filled the air as Tiger Cubs, Wolves, Bears, and Webelos gathered on March 25 for Alfred-Almond Pack 26's Annual Pinewood Derby. Each boy's entry was uniquely crafted from a simple block of pine, resulting in an impressive line up of colorful roadsters, dragsters, coupes, cars, trucks, and whimsical wheeled hot dogs, pickles, and penguins. Race Coordinator Bob Myers waved the first flag to start the heated competition that continued throughout the morning to the cheers and encouragement of scouts and supportive onlookers. # Alfred State woodsmen team a force to be reckoned with ALFRED--Alfred State College's recently established Pioneer Woodsmen team is rapidly being acknowledged as a force to be reckoned with by the other collegiate woodsmen teams in the Northeast.

Officially founded in Fall 2009, the Pioneer Woodsmen's Club is the brainchild of two Wanakena Ranger School transfer students, Ariane Tanski and Jason McCadden, who made a connection with retired professional lumberjack, Lt. Scott Bingham, from Alfred State's University Police Department. The three worked with Spencer Peavey, director, ASC Student Activities and Orientation, and officially established the Pioneer Woodsmen's Club last September. A successful membership drive allowed practices to begin in February. The team's debut competition in March where the Alfred State Jack and Jill team took first place.

In late April, the Alfred State College Pioneer Woodsmen's Club sent two teams, a Men's and a Jack and Jill, to their second competition, the 64th Annual Spring Meet Conclave at Paul Smith's College, in Adirondack State Park. The Spring Meet is the collegiate woodsmen's equivalent of the Super Bowl.

Addicted to His Love; John 13:31-35

By LINDA STAIGER

ALMOND--A junior high music teacher had just organized a band in her school. The principal was so proud of the music teacher's efforts that without consulting her he decided that the band should give a concert for the entire school. The music teacher wasn't so sure her young musicians were ready to give a concert, so she tried to talk the principal out of holding the concert, to no avail. Just before the concert was ready to begin, as the music teacher stood on the podium, she leaned forward and whispered to her nervous musicians, "If you're not sure of your part, just pretend to play." And with that, she stepped back, lifted her baton and with a great flourish brought it down.

Lo and behold, nothing happened! The band brought forth a resounding silence.

Sometimes we in the church are like that junior high band, unsure of our parts, tentative in our roles, not sure where God might be leading, or at least unsure how to get there. And to an extent that may be because we have trouble deciding what's most important.

Here's a story that might illustrate what I'm talking about. It was a hot, 99-degree August day when a ten-month-old baby girl was accidentally locked in a parked car by her aunt. Frantically the mother and the aunt ran around the car in hysterics, while a neighbor attempted to unlock the car with a clothes hanger. The infant was bawling at the top of its lungs, beginning to turn purple and foam from the mouth, a combination of anxiety and the intense heat inside the truck driver arrived on the scene. Understanding the situation inside the car was getting very serious, he grabbed a hammer from his truck and smashed the back side window to free the baby. Was he heralded a hero? No. The lady was mad because he broke the window. The towtruck driver just thought, "What's more important -- a baby or a window?

Most of the choices we make in life are not between what is important and what's not. Most of the choices we make are usually between what is important and what might be even more important.Our reading this morning is timely for us because it shows us what is most important. What is most important is love.

Jesus said, "As I have loved you, so you must love one another." It doesn't say anything about our love. It doesn't say, "if you love me, you must love one another." It says, "As I love you, you must love one another."It is based on Jesus' love for us. If Jesus loves you, you must love others.

Okay, so far this morning, we saw that Jesus gave us a new command – to love one another. The reason for that love, or the motivation for that love, is because Jesus loves us. We know that some things, especially being too busy, can keep us from loving others. But that doesn't change the command. Now I want us to understand that we are not alone. That Jesus has called us to love others as he loves us, and he will help us do just that. We have to make the effort, we have to start, but then he will help us.

If you put a piece of iron in the presence of an electrified field, that piece of iron will become electrified. And in the presence of that electrical field, it becomes a magnet. As long as it remains in contact with that field of power, it will continue to attract other pieces to itself. We are like that piece of iron. In the presence of Christ, we experience his love and take on his likeness. We are changed, electrified by the Holy Spirit, to attract others to the same love of God that we experience.

It's like that love will fill us to overflowing, and there will be so much that we can't keep it from others. It will pour out of us. Once we make the effort to love God that much, and to reach out to others with that kind of love also, God will provide the abundance of love. It may seem very difficult to love some people. But as we make an effort, God will lift up that effort, and we will succeed.

Against Fisher, Cary earned the win in Sunday's second game to improve to 16-1 on the season. She had four strikeouts, including one to end the game, giving her 123 for the year, a new AU single-season record. Alfred took a 1-0 lead in the top of the second when LeBarron singled, advanced to second on an error and scored on a one-out single by Netta. The Saxons added an insurance run in the sixth when Hedrick led off with a double, advanced to third on a single by Folts and scored on a fielder's choice by Passaro.

Fisher closed to within a run in the bottom of the seventh. Cary allowed one unearned run on seven hits. Hedrick went 2for-3 with a double and a run scored for Alfred.

In the opener, Hedrick outdueled Fisher starter Danielle Leone, shutting out the Cardinals on two hits, striking out eight and walking one. After a one-out error in the top of the seventh, Fisher had the tying run on third, but Hedrick struck the next batter out, then induced a game-ending groundout.

AU scored the winning run in the bottom of the fourth. Shepherd led off with a triple and, after a walk, scored on Passaro's sacrifice fly to center. Fenton Hedrick improved to 16-3 on the season with her fifth shutout.

HITS AND MISSES:

The Alfred University (32-4) softball squad continues to set school records galore as they demolish past stats and now find themselves hosting the E8 tournament for the first time ever! Guessing last season was the first time the Saxon ladies were actually in this four-school event. Usually held at Ithaca, Alfred will host three other programs this weekend at Alfred State in the double-elimination format. The winner receives an automatic bid to the NCAA Division III tournament. If Ithaca and Alfred were to collide in the championship contest the loser might very well be NCAA-bound as well with an at-large bid. The Bombers, who were co-E8 champs with AU, will tangle with SJ Fisher first and Alfred gets RIT. The Cardinals at SJF have emerged victorious the last two years from this outing. Games start Friday "across the street." Winners meet, losers meet (one gone!) and eventually Saturday a champ will be declared. At worst, a (32-6) Alfred team could very well still make the NCAA's.

In Empire Eight lacrosse action the men's tournament will be held this weekend in Rochester ... either at SJ Fisher, RIT or Nazareth. Fisher controlled their own (hosting) destiny as they were at Elmira Tuesday. A win and they host for sure. A loss and the three Rochester schools are all (6-2) in conference. The fourth school, with a late conference "surge," are Coach Jeff Long's Bombers from Ithaca! Despite an overall losing slate (7-9) the Bombers rallied to complete a 5-3 league mark, good for the #4 slot. This tourney has not been good to Long's troops, many times the #1 seed and often an opening round loser. Sometimes with records like 12-2, 11-3, etc. The four will tangle on Friday-Saturday ... somewhere in Rochester!

The Ithaca laxers are the #1 seed in the E8 women's field and the Bombers will host Stevens, RIT and 'Naz this weekend as well. Same format as the men and the winner goes to the D3 tourney.

In NYS Division III men's lacrosse last weekend it was: Cortland over Oneonta, Hartwick stopping AU, Ithaca earning an E8 berth by stopping Stevens, Plattsburgh drilling Oswego, Potsdam over Brockport, RIT over 'Naz in a mild upset, RPI getting by Union and Fisher drubbed Utica. The Red Dragons of Cortland are ranked #4 in the land and might have a SUNYAC finale date with Geneseo this weekend ... again. Cortland nipped the Blue Knights by one last year in the conference title game.

Have been watching some of the NBA playoffs on the tube of late, Celts-Cavs. Thoroughly enjoy college (Duke) b-ball more but the pro playoffs are something special. The aging Boston squad just might have enough left to stop LeBron James and Cleveland but can't see them getting by Orlando. Still root for Celts, but hardly like I did when the legendary Larry Bird was playing. Lakers over Magic and assistant coach, Bob W. Beyer (LeRoy/AU) in finals.

Wonder if Coach Beyer has ever informed Magic PG, Jameer Nelson that he went to school in same area that Robert H. Torrey grew up? "Hair" and Nelson good buddies! Would be quite the interesting conversation.

Jordan Gaisser of the Brockport High softball team was named Monroe County female Athlete of the Week last week with a nice article in the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

In the D&C high school baseball Coaches Poll last week, small schools, Wellsville was #1 and Hornell #2. Bolivar-Richburg was in the T7 slot. Bolivar, just not the powerhouse they used to be when Cody was there!

Tim Mead's (Andover) Walsh baseball team in Ohio stood at (21-25) after a couple of defeats to nationally ranked Madonna in the NAIA ranks. The Cavs will complete there regular season this weekend versus Malone at Munson Stadium.

Joe Q. French's UMBC softball squad continues to play roughly .500 ball as the Retrievers are (24-22) on the season and host Albany this weekend in league action. The former Alfred State-Mansfield-Geneseo coach must be moving in on 1,000 career wins in all his sports!

Aaron Codispoti recently completed his third marathon, on three different continents, as he ran in the Sao Paulo International in Brazil. The A-A grad previously competed in the Paris and Chicago marathons.

Special to the Alfred Sun

BOLIVAR--After spring break, one hopes that softball can be played in temperate weather conditions, but Tuesday brought temperatures in the high thirties and blowing snow for the Eagles' contest against perennial powerhouse Bolivar-Richburg.

Both the conditions and the strong pitching kept the offense to a minimum on both sides until the fifth inning when two perfectly placed line drives to the farthest corner of right field sandwiched a walk and a pair of Eagle errors to plate five runs for the hosts. The final score of 8-0 does not really tell the tale of a well played ball game and a fine pitching performance by Megan Murray, who held these former state champs to six hits on the day.

The Eagles did manage to generate base runners in five of the seven innings, but were unable to get them to the plate. Courtney Cook, Eva Shardlow, and Kali Muhleisen all connected for base hits.

The following day, in gale force winds at Jasper-Troupsburg, the Eagle bats were much hotter, pumping out fifteen base hits, including a pair of doubles and a single for Shardlow, a double and two singles by Cook, three singles by Murray, and a pair of singles by McKenzie Mills. Cassie Ingalls pitched the no-hitter, striking out fifteen J-T batters and the Eagles finished the day as the 22-2 victors. They paid a high price for the win, however, as Shardlow suffered a bad ankle sprain on a slide into third base and will be out of action until it heals.

The Eagles felt the loss of Shardlow on Thursday when they christened their new home field with a contest against Hammondsport. It appeared that the girls had used up all their offense at J-T, as they could not seem to get the ball out of the infield. To their credit, the Lakers did not make a defensive error in the game, and brought plenty of offense, smacking out ten base hits off Murray. who struck out seven and walked three. Ingalls and Cook registered the only Eagle base hits, with two apiece, but were only able to score one run, for a final of 8-1.

The Eagles now stand at 6-4 on the season, 6-2 in the Steuben County League, and will need to warm up their bats before facing league-leading Addison on Tuesday, and non-league Scio on Wednesday. Next week holds a four game slate, with Monday and Wednesday games on the road at Canisteo-Greenwood and Bradford, and Tuesday and Friday at home against Bolivar-Richburg and Prattsburgh.

Slugger Albert Pujols to the Boston Red Sox when he becomes a free agent from the Cards in St. Louis? With the still-stunning, 5-year/$125-million dollar deal that the Phillies bestowed upon Ryan Howard, can the Cards afford Pujols?

Some of the off-season moves by the Yanks, dumping youth for veterans, aren't exactly paying off that well. Prized OF prospect Austin Jackson was hitting .356 for Detroit as of Sunday past. Curtis Granderson (.225) was on the disabled list. And Javier Vazquez had a "nifty" 9.78 ERA on the hill in his second stint with NYY. Could Ian Kennedy (Arizona) been worse? Oh yes, Johnny Damon (Tigers) was hitting .344 and DH Nick Johnson of the Yanks about .104 in his spot. Tough catching the young, hot Rays with "dead spots" in lineup!

Speaking of the Tampa Bay Rays, who play in St. Pete's, A-A grads Jake Taft and Our Man Frank ... yes, Smooth!, attended a Royals-Rays game last week. Tix compliments of Brownie.

Other than painting at The Big Dipper in Almond, "The Traveling Sports Fan" has been quiet of late of the events front. Torrey recently took in the "Tailgate At The Dome" in Muncy (Pa.) for Penn State greats.

A batch of NYS vanity plates: DEFENSE, DONG 999, BIGSXY1 ... not Scummer, RSKINS81 ... Keg Belly in California, THEICEMN ... Gervin, METROS ... w/Mets logo, PIXEL 8 and DR 4U ... Ungawa needs one!

The Rochester RazorSharks fell in the finals of the Premier Basketball League to Lawton-Fort Sills.

Is there anyone at ESPN more annoying (other than Stuart Scott, of course) than Chris Bermen?

Former Rochester Red Wings manager Stan Cliburn is now the hitting coach with the Tucson Toros in the independent Golden Baseball League. Huh?

Tiger Woods and Freddie Couples each missed the cut in the Quail Hollow Championship on the PGA Tour last week. Why wasn't Couples out dominating the Champions Tour? Former Almond resident, Roland Gardner took in Saturday action at the course.

Received a very nice (and funny) "thank you" card from Audrey Torrey Connell last week. I had previously sent her a Geneseo calendar for 2010 knowing she had gone to school there. She remarked ... "All the buildings now have names of the teachers I had when I was at school!" 91-years young!

Alfred State College will host the NJCAA Regionals in base-ball this weekend with a field that includes Skip Sherman's (A-A) Genesee CC squad. Will be a busy place this weekend above Bob & Barb Baker's house!

Do not know hardly any of the details but how sad and stunning is it at the University of Virginia with the men's and women's lax teams? A lacrosse player (allegedly) from the men's squad apparently killed his girlfriend, a women's laxer! How does someone make that call to her parents? Both seniors, ready to graduate, on good teams, assuming both on scholarship. What the heck.

Hoping to see Ithaca lax game on Friday, really would like to take in AU softball at Alfred State, but doubt that will happen.

Mills-Tuttle-Smith and others ... A-A Alumni banquet ... July 24th! See you there and many more from Class of '70
