ALFRED TAKES FIFTH IN MIDDLE ATLANTICS

JUNIOR PROM A TRIUMPH

Last Thursday night the Junior class achieved a triumph to which much tribute was paid by the atmosphere of enthusiasm created by the number in attendance. Academy Hall was miraculously transformed into a wonderland of blue and grey softness, and it is safe to surmise that never, in its long years of active service as a scene of social functions, had the old gym had its every identity so successfully and artistically concealed.

The dance, including music, decorations and program, was novel. Taylor's Rochester orchestra was as large as any that had ever played for an Alfred dance, and it was a great SILCCESS.

The decorations cannot be praised too highly. The predominant effect was softness. The low ceiling of blue and grey was a source of innumerable rows of hanging streamers of the same colors, and the effect was carried to the minutest detail. But close observance was forgotten in the general atmosphere of quiet harmony, which seemed to impress the guests and augment the dignity of the annual occasion. The programs, a novelty in themselves, were clever and loomed an air of correct legality to the affair.

Perhaps the last word of novelty of the dance, was the prolonging of the final "That's All" till 12:30. That rounded to completeness the fullness of the success of the Junior Prom.

NOTE OF THANKS

I would like to extend my most sincere appreciation to the committee, the Junior Prom such a successful function.

Allegheny Track Team to Meet Alfred, May 29

After three week's strenuous training, the Blue and Gold track team will have a twelve-day rest before Alfred is met at Montgomery Field on Friday, May 29, in the final meet of the year This week's program calls for light workcuts, with intensive training being resumed next Monday.

Alfred University, victor over Allegheny last year, is represented by a well-balanced combination, of which McConnell is the outstanding star. This man usually competes in eight or give strong competition.

Allegheny's overwhelming defeat of be worn. Rochester last week would seem to Page 45, Article IV (entire article re give the Blue and Gold a decided edge against Alfred, but that team, too, holds a decision over Rochester, the Alfred trackers winning by practically the same score as did Allegheny. RESULT OF COUNTY MEET

GARDNER VOTED LOYALTY MEDAL.

The student body again chose wisely last Wednesday morning when Donald M. Gardner was unanimously voted worthy of receiving the highest honor which an Alfred man may receive from his Alma Mater. In conferring the loyalty medal upon Gardner, the College has recognized him as the man from the class of '25, who has done the most for Alfred during his four years in school.

Gardner is an all round man. He has developed the mental, the physical and the spiritual sides of his personality. At the same time he has never wittingly pushed himself forward. He has been a servant of all.

Don made the Varsity football in his freshman year and won his letter. In the same year he won his letter with the basketball team and was elected captain of basketball for the next season. His membership on he athletic council, the Y. M. C. A., and his participation in class athletics rounded out the first year.

During his second year in college, Gardner began his work on the staff of the Fiat Lux, was elected to the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, and became a member of the Varsity "A" Club, also played football, guided the basketball five through an exceptionally hard season and made the Varsity track

As a Junior, Don captained the footfall team, served as associate editor on the Fiat Lux, was athletic editor on the Kanakadea and became vice president of the Y. M. C. A. This demonstrates the well balanced nature of his

With his senior year Gardner be came editor-in-chief of the Fiat and devoted a large amount of time to the sheet. His work in putting the paper on a higher standard, and the constitution which he drew up to guide the editors of the future, show his effort in this field. His football playing was of the same stellar quality as in former years. As president of Phi Psi Omega, he has helped make of that fraternity a real honorary body.

Gardner is a true man and unquestionably deseres the high honor which he has earned. It is such men as he who make old Alfred better. He will be missed by faculty, students and townspeople alike, when the new year rolls around and the class of '25 has passed out into the waiting world.

NEW FRATERNITY ON CAMPUS

Feeling the need, on the Alfred campus, for an organization which to clear the bar. shall recognize those women who have Phi Sigma Gamma.

The purpose of this organization is: 1. To be positive factors in Alfred's growth.

2. To maintain and extend a spirit of co-operation and good will between fraternity and non-fraternity groups. 3. To maintain and exend true Alfred ideals and to express those ideals in service toward Alfred. Phi Sigma Gamma strives to create an incentive toward achievement for

Alfred. The roll now holds the following names:

Ruth Whitford, Alma Wise, Elizabeth Richardson, Ildra Harris, Esther Seamans, Charlotte Rose, Louise Gratz, Helen Pound, Katherine Dienemann.

It certainly is ridiculous that so much time can be wasted by 300 students as to "What will the young men wear this Fall?"

HERRICK BRINGS MORE HONOR TO COLLEGE

Coach Ferguson's protegees rung the bell once more for Alfred. Six picked men from the track squad, under In- 220 yard dashstructor Begel's espinage succeeded in winning fifth place for Alfred, gaining 8½ points more than her next nearest rival, Union College, in the recent Middle Atlantic held at Haverford, Pa. Such a showing is remarkable in view of the keen competition offered in every event. Eighteen teams comprising 800 entries, were entered.

The team reached Philadelphia, Thursday evening. Friday they arrived at Haverford to qualify for the finals. Every man of the six qualified, Navin and Herrick in the half mile; McConnell and Gibbs in the hurdles; and Nellis and Lyons in the pol evault. The very fact that all men qualified is a good tribute to Doc's selection.

Saturday, the day of the finals, was the day destined to show up the merits of the respective competitors. Alfred's sternest opposition was offered by the powerful teams of Rutgers, Swalthmore, Lehigh, Haverford, Union, Lafayette, John Hokpins, Muhlenburg, and a host of others of like caliber. Amidst whom Alfred's six lone entries appeared indeed insignificant.

Captain Navin was unable to place in the half mile although he easily qualified on the day previous by a wide margin. The outstanding feature of this event was the fact that it was taken by a runner whom Bill had defeated in Friday's trials.

McConnell qualified in Friday's trials but was nosed out of a place in Saturday's finals. A glance at the records of the weight and field events will show that each contest was won at a distance placing them far out of Alfred's class of competition. In every event in which Mac entered he was opposed by specialists in their particular line. Consequently this is no reflection on Mac's prowess in that he was unable to run up his usual

Gibbs added to the total score by taking third in both the low and high hurdles running the low in 26.2 and the high in 16.2.

Lyons shared honors with Haskings of Haverford by tying for first in the pole vault. Nellis was eliminated at 11' 3". Lyons, however, continued on to 11' 9". Later attempting to break the record at 12' 1" but barely failed

The Philadelphia Record devoted rendered positive service to Alfred, several paragraphs in praising Hollis there has been organized, under fac- Herrick. The field was surprised to ulty sanction, the honorary fraternity see Herrick in the two mile after just winning the mile. Owing to this fact the Alfred man was watched closely. He seemed tired during the first five laps, but from then on it was a race indeed, between he and Bayley of Dickinson. They sprinted the last lap and Bayley only won out in the last 50 yards. Hollis placed first in the mile and third in the two mile.

OUR ATHLETIC MANAGEMENT

Now that Alfred is a member of the newly-formed state conference and our January 6 - University of West Vir- athletics will become more stabilized than ever before, it is certainly time we began to pick up the loose ends within the school. And when you come to think it over there are entirely too many of these loose ends.

> One of these is the Jump Fund manager's recognition, another is the athletic council and a third is the interscholastic management

Without reflecting at all against the last year's management of the Jump Fund we question considerably the propriety in awarding the manager a Varsity A. A gold watch, a hope-chest February 13-Rochester Mechanics at or a Ford car would be all right but an athletic A. Ye gods!

Nor can we quite accept the present athletic council method of selections. Under present rules it is necessary to have two of the four upper class epresentatives, women. And none of the upperclassmen are of necessity athletes. The remainder of February 27-Brooklyn Law School at | twelve councilors are picked from the underclasses and from the Agricultural School.

> We are, then, entrusting the most responsible part of our athletics, their direction and regulation to a council, only two of which are in a position to know what it is all about. Why ot make the council one of upperclassmen primarily, or better yet, entrust regulate athletics.

Our third point of contention is the interscholastic management. Here is the biggest and farthest reaching means of advertising our school has got. Yet we have allowed it, in our supreme indifference, to become the property of a social group who run it and sometimes not so efficient. There is but one organization in the school which can do justice to the task of sponsoring an athletic meet, which requires the co-operation of the entire male group. That organization is the Varsity A Club.

In order to make this annual gather-If thou hast two loaves of bread, go ing a financial asset and an efficient sell one quickly, and buy a flower; means of bringing new talent to Alto play their respective matches as for the soul, too, must be fed.—Hindoo fred we must take some steps toward insuring its success.

For a long time the students have been clamoring for a room in Academy Hall to check their wraps, during dances. At the last two dances several topcoats were stolen. This is too much, something must be done.

Would it not be possible for various dance committees to get in touch with the right party to obtain permission to use the room at the foot of the stairs? A small fee of one dime could be charged and the proceeds turned over to some worthy charity as the "Jump Fund " or the Christian organizations.

Did you ever stop to think that even though "Frosh" are "Frosh" they are nevertheless college students and should be treated as the same. After thinking over the recent amendments made by the senate committee it seems that perhaps the windsortie proposition or cross country team representing the is a little 'udicrous, to say the least.

Quite a number of institutions require all freshmen to wear black socks with ties to match, but feel that the windsor tie is certainly somewhat extreme. Besides it would become rather boorish to have to see them worn for a whole school year. Frosh certainly can't take college seriously when they are so attired. Again, it is just such things as these that are causing the profane to wonder whether the "American College" is really an institution for learning.

Frosh classes as a rule look foolish enough without such corrections in upon the co-ed who accepts such use-There certainly are less arms. enough commonsense students in this college to put a stop to such amend- tions so negatively could be of real ments as this. Ralph Smith has accepted a position teaching Mathematics in Palmyra High School for next year.

"Mike" Kenyon brought home the "bull heads" again last Saturday.

The Culture Club held its first informal outing at the "Ledges" Friday, all night. Back-to-naturing was indulged in quite vigorously. Brother Curley Saunders injured his foot in a vain attempt at throwing a cow. We advise him to stick closer to his natural gift of "bull-throwing."

Judson Acker of Starkey Seminary was a visitor at the house during the past week, and attended the Junior Prom Thursday night.

PI ALPHI PI

Dinner guests at the house Sunday were President and Mrs. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Boyce.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

Delta Sigma Phi joins in congratulating Doc and the boys on their wonderful showing at the M. A. S. T. meet. Hollis Herrick surely gets our hand and we are only sorry that we could not have been there to see him. Chet Lyons sure went "over the top" in real battle formation.

"Eddy" Tate may lose his temper again, bite a chunk out of the pill and throw it for a new mark. Then he will be open for dates, g-u-r-l-s.

Coots and Shultes went on a little tour and Coots claims that Shultes saw a cow for the first time. Shultes remarked that Coots had the bull.

Rice is now using his chauffeur's license to a good advantage for the first time this year. He hopes to locate a job in this neighborhood so that he can break that car in right. Yes the boy takes a lot of pride in his work.

Also-anyone finding Shultes shoe strings forget about it.

Nichols spent the week-end in.. Lobaugh is convalescing very nicely. He got so excited in going to the movies that the nurse decided it was better for him to stay "at home" (Morgan Hall), where he could enjoy the pleasing new decoration and quiet.

Alva Wilber may be found povring over his books at any time now. (We wonder what he lost).

Motorists please take care not to upset Joe Kokomo-he's not Jay-walking he's just thinking up another poem.
