Vol. 127, No. 39      Alfred, Allegany County, New York State, U.S.A. 14802      Thursday, October 11, 2012

DEDICATED: New AU center expected to develop new materials

ALFRED—New products for energy, environmental, and medical applications depend on development of new materials, many of them ceramic-based. Alfred University, with its international reputation in ceramics, glass, and materials science, is helping to create those new materials.

And a new Center for High-Temperature Characterization of Materials, dedicated Friday (Oct. 5) afternoon, will help researchers analyze the new materials and their characteristics, an integral step in development of new products.

State Sen. Catharine Young joined Alfred University President Charles M. Edmondson and Doreen Edwards, dean of the Kazuo Inamori School of Engineering, to dedicate the Center for High-Temperature Characterization at Alfred University.

"We are here today to thank Sen. Young for her assistance in creating this unique facility; there is nothing else like it in the world," said Edmondson. "It took a person of vision to see the possibilities in what we were talking about when we first went to Albany to seek funding. Sen. Young was that person. She understood what we were trying to do."

"It's always a great day when we can cut a ribbon," said Young. "It's a special day when we can cut a ribbon for a facility that is so high-tech, so unique, and so crucial to the economy of New York State now, and in the future."

Facilities like the Center for High-Temperature Materials Characterization not only help to keep jobs in New York State, but "actually bring projects from companies outside the state to Alfred, NY," said Young.

She congratulated the students on hand for the ceremony "for choosing Alfred University, for

"Pioneer" of Alfred State sports
VIRGINIA BEACH, VA - Richard John Giedlin, 82, one of the Pioneers of the Alfred State athletic program who dedicated 30 years to Alfred State College, passed away Tuesday, Oct. 2, 2012 in Virginia Beach, VA. He was the son of the late Elva and Harry Giedlin. Besides his parents he was preceded in death by his son Timothy Richard Giedlin.

A 1951 graduate of the University of Notre Dame where he played varsity baseball. In 1950, he was the only returning infielder to the Fighting Irish squad and described as a "hard-hitting first baseman from Trenton, NJ considered a prospective major league talent." Unfortunately, he broke his ankle scoring the winning run in the season opener and was lost to the team for the remainder of the year. He batted .324 as a sophomore and .533 in the NCAA playoffs. He later earned a master's degree from Alfred University.

Giedlin began his career at Alfred State in 1957 as the director of student housing and men's basketball coach. He became the college's athletic director in 1966 and served in that role for 21 years. He was also the chairman of the physical education department for 20 years from 1967 to 1987.

On the basketball court, Giedlin led the Tech basketball team for 13 seasons. He is still the winningest coach in program history with a 198-103 record (.658 winning percentage). His 1959 basketball team won the college's first Region III championship and three of his teams won 20 or more games in a season.

As an athletic administrator, Giedlin served as the assistant Region III director, the Region III director, and was chosen to be a member the executive committee of the NJCAA. During his time, Giedlin helped with the integration of women's athletics into the national level and helped form the Penn-York Athletic Conference.

Giedlin was part of the inaugural class of the Alfred State Athletics Hall of Fame that was inducted in 1992. On his hall of fame plaque he is noted as "truly being a Pioneer in junior college sports, his dedication, loyalty, and commitment established Alfred State athletics as a regional and national leader."

having the initiative and the talent" to earn their degrees from AU. The Inamori School of Engineering offers undergraduate degrees in biomedical materials engineering science; ceramic engineering; and glass science, as well as in mechanical engineering and renewable energy engineering, a brand-new major just approved by the state.

"You will have endless opportunities in the future because of what you are doing here," Young told the students.

The Center contains five suites of highly specialized equipment for analyzing materials that are either processed or used at very high temperatures (1300-degrees C).

Sen. Young was instrumental in securing the original $4 million allocation from New York State. The Western New York Regional Economic Development Council awarded an additional $2.9 million for the equipment in the first round of funding through the state's new process of allocating funds for economic development projects.

In the past year, the Center for High-Temperature

Characterization has been critical in Alfred University researchers securing about $3 million in highly competitive grants from the National Science Foundation, the federal Department of Energy and the Defense Department.

Additionally, General Electric received $2 million in New York State Energy Research and Development Authority funding for NY-BEST, the state's battery initiative. GE, in turn, has contracted with Alfred University to undertake characterization and analytical work on the new battery materials at a cost of $1.2 million.

In addition to the research projects, the high-temperature materials characterization center is doing analytical work for New York State companies including Corning Inc., Corning; TAM Ceramics, Niagara Falls; Cummins Engine, Jamestown; Dal-Tile and Cooper Power, Olean; Free Form Fibers, Saratoga Springs; Air Flow Catalyst Systems, Rochester; and Ceragen, Alfred.

Tasty way to use some of the zucchini

This recipe, perhaps not as good at getting kids to eat zucchini as the chocolate zucchini cake recipe I wrote about before, is still a tasty way to include the vegetable and, if your kids like to dip things, perhaps they will enjoy it too. These taste similar to crab cakes because of the seafood seasoning.

Zucchini Patties with Dill Dip

- |                            |                           |
|----------------------------|---------------------------|
| ¾ c. sour cream            | ¼ tsp. garlic powder      |
| 2 T. minced fresh dill     | 1 egg, beaten             |
| 1 tsp. lemon juice         | 2 T. butter, melted       |
| 1/8 tsp. salt              | 1 lg. carrot, chopped     |
| 1/8 tsp. pepper            | ¼ c. finely chopped onion |
| 2½ c. shredded zucchini    | ¼ c. all-purpose flour    |
| 1 c. seasoned bread crumbs | ½ c. vegetable oil        |
| 1 tsp. seafood seasoning   |                           |

For dip: in a small bowl, combine the first five ingredients. Cover and refrigerate until serving. Place zucchini in a colander to drain; squeeze to remove excess liquid. Pat dry; set aside. In a large bowl, combine the bread crumbs, seafood seasoning and garlic powder. Stir in egg and butter until blended. Add the carrot, onion and zucchini; mix well. Place flour in a shallow bowl. Shape zucchini mixture into 24 small patties; coat with flour. Heat oil in a large skillet; fry patties, a few at a time, for 3-4 minutes on each side or until lightly browned. Drain on paper towels. Serve with dip. Yield: 2 doz. and ¾ c. dip.

Wake Up and Die Right

If ever you're dying of natural causes,
And soon to get flowers in beautiful vases,
The loved ones whose arms you should really avoid
Are those who are not in a health field employed,
Cuz apparently, now it's illegal to die
If you don't have a nurse or a doctor nearby,
Or at least are a resident under the auspice
Of hospital, nursing home, daycare, or hospice,
Or, failing that, if you have the good sense
To pass away quick in a fast ambulance,
Or be in a sane 'sylum or sanitarium,
(Where they usually save people, rather than bury 'em).

Your loving companion can be in hot water
If you don't behave right and die as you oughtter:
The police and the sheriff – and even the coroner –
Will grill her with questions as if she's a foreigner,
They'll make it all seem as though she's the offender
(Or "he" if your loved one subscribes to that gender)
With questions suggesting that she was at fault,
As if your demise she had power to halt,
Presenting scenarios wildly implausible,
Insisting that chronic diseases are causable
By keeping her restaurant choice always a riddle
Or squeezing the toothpaste tube right in the middle,
And terminal cancer can easily be cured
By letting the cat out and feeding the bird (Though you might find it works better this way than that:
Letting the bird out – and feeding the cat).

The police and the coroner – even the sheriff –
Will press her for answers; they don't even care if She's head of the company, chair of the board,
Or Pretender to Office of Lady or Lord.
Yes, your loving companion can be in hot water
If you don't behave right and die as you oughtter,
Not in the fond arms that care for and love you,
But those, as professionals, know how to shove you
Right into a body bag soon as you're dead,
And write out a tag for your toe or your head,
Explicit instructions that those in "hereafter"
Will be reading with wonder (or dying with laughter):
"Enclosed in this zippered-up bag you will find
A person who lived a life gentle and kind,
With never a harsh word, and nary a snit –
A genuine saint, who deserves every bit
Of whatever you have for him – that is his due:
Just treat him the way you'd want him to treat you.
And take no account that his dear, loving wife
Automatically's suspect in taking his life
(Never minding the fact that she's fought to preserve it
For forty long years when he didn't deserve it
For leaving his socks and his overalls there
On the couch or the dining room table or chair,
And tearing a motor completely apart
On the livingroom floor, just because it won't start,
And finally—this was the very last straw—
When he used the false teeth of his mother-in-law
For securing the rabbit ears so he could see
The Sabres lose anyway on the TV). . ."
So don't make the afterlife have to correct you,
Cuz all they can do is to just resurrect you
To your life filled with pill-taking, blood draws, and gauzes,
And once again dying of natural causes,
Hacking and coughing the whole sleepless night...
Till your loved one says sweetly, "Wake up and die right!"

Those tennis courts...

To the Editor:

I read with interest Donald Polan's recent "Alfred As It Was" piece concerning the village tennis courts that years ago had graced the south side of Ford Street, where the Saxon Inn now stands.

I wonder if Mr. Polan—or any of the older Sun subscribers—can confirm what I was once told about the origins of the courts by a Wellsville resident who had graduated from Alfred University in 1924.

Her name was Evelyn Tennyson Openhym (pronounced OPEN-heem). As related to me by Mrs. Openhym, a man she had met at the university, and whom she would later marry—a wealthy New Yorker named George Openhym—built the Ford Street courts for his and the village's use in the early 1920s, not long after he had enrolled as a special art student in the university's College of Ceramics. If the story indeed is true, it also has a curious twist.

The reason that George Openhym came to Alfred in the first place was that he had initially studied ceramic art at the famed Ethical Culture School in New York City, which was, and remains, part of a worldwide philosophical and educational organization dating back to the late 19th century. George Openhym's instructor at the society's New York branch was Elsie Binns, daughter of Charles Fergus Binns, founding director, in 1900, of what then was known as The New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics at Alfred University.

According to Evelyn Openhym, it was Miss Binns who pointed the young George Openhym in the direction of Alfred. Thus his marriage to the graduating senior, Evelyn Tennyson, who eventually would become a noted literary scholar and bibliophile as well as an Alfred University benefactor and life trustee. And thus, perhaps, the onetime tennis courts on Ford Street.

Keep your car forever?

Dear Editor,

There are many car owners across the country who simply love the way their car looks, drives and feels, and they want to keep it forever. When serious engine trouble strikes, installing a remanufactured/rebuilt engine is an ideal way to economically extend your vehicle's life so you can keep the "coolest" car around.

For the cost of an average down payment on a new car or truck, a vehicle's engine can be repowered with a remanufactured/rebuilt engine, gaining years of reliable service without monthly car payments and higher insurance rates. With repowering, a vehicle's engine or an identical one from another like-vehicle is completely disassembled, cleaned, machined and remanufactured/rebuilt.

Unlike used or junk yard engines with an unknown performance and maintenance history, remanufactured/rebuilt engines are dependable, reliable and backed by excellent warranty programs.

To learn more about the "cool" benefits of remanufactured/rebuilt engines, visit the Engine Rebuilders Council at www.enginebuilder.org

A ROADMAP TO MANDATE RELIEF

The New York State Association of Counties ("NYSAC") recently released a document entitled "A Roadmap to Mandate Relief," with the subtitle of "How the State can reduce property taxes." This position paper has been provided to State officials and Legislators who promised that they would provide mandate relief in exchange for the recently enacted "Real Property Tax Cap" legislation. We now have the tax cap, but haven't yet seen any mandate relief. Hopefully the State will deliver on its promised mandate relief.

The NYSAC "Roadmap" identifies 13 different areas where counties are required to provide major funding for State programs. This article will summarize the NYSAC proposals for 5 of those programs. They are:

MEDICAID: Counties currently contribute more than $7.5 billion annually towards the cost of Medicaid. In 2012 the State enacted a cap on county contributions that will be fully implemented by 2015. That is a start, but is not enough. NYSAC proposes that the State take over full responsibility for this state program, and should include reforms regarding eligibility and benefits. Various federal and State reforms should generate sufficient savings to make this an achievable goal. Allegany County would save more than $11 million per year. That is more than one-third of our total real property tax levy.

PRE-SCHOOL SPECIAL EDUCATION: When this program was created in 1989 its total cost was $96 million, and the counties share was to decrease to 25% by 1994. Today the program costs $1.5 billion annually, and the counties share has increased to $637 million, or 40.5%. A major problem is that this is basically an educational program that is administered by schools. County participation is limited to paying the bills charged by the schools. NYSAC proposals would reduce county contributions to 25%, and increase county control over decision-making.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE: This involves two separate programs. The first is "Temporary Assistance for Needy Families ("TANF"). This program is supposedly fully funded by the federal government, with annual expenditures of more than $2.44 billion. While the County doesn't contribute towards the cost of benefits paid under this program, it expends millions annually administering TANF and numerous other State and federal programs. NYSAC proposes numerous reforms that would limit benefits to recipients who cohabit with a fully employed individual, have a drug or alcohol abuse problem but refuse counseling or treatment, or refuse employment. Counties are currently forbidden from taking these reasonable steps. The NYSAC Roadmap also proposes restoring State or federal administrative support for this federal program.

The second Public Assistance program is called "Safety Net." This is a program unique to New York State and covers individuals who do not qualify for TANF because of the federal Welfare Reform restrictions. The State share of this program costs $410 million, while the total local (county) share amounts to $997 million annually. NYSAC proposes imposition of sanctions on individuals and head of households who fail to satisfy work requirements, reduced recipient benefits, and restoration of the historic 50-50 split in cost. This would save counties millions annually.

CHILD WELFARE: Counties administer multiple programs designed to protect children including interventions, investigations and preventive services. Over recent years the State has cut its contribution towards costs, while increasing required services. Counties now contribute more than 38% of the cost for child welfare. NYSAC proposes granting counties flexibility in staffing as long as performance objectives are met. It also recommends simplification of investigations of alleged child abuse.

EARLY INTERVENTION PROGRAM: This program for children from birth to three years of age costs more than $650 million annually. Counties contribute more than $330 million annually. NYSAC recommends that insurance companies be required to fund covered services. It also proposes that "evaluators" be prohibited from becoming "service providers," thereby eliminating a clear conflict of interest.

I will cover additional areas where NYSAC has identified potential mandate relief in coming weeks. Hopefully the State Legislature will make mandate reform a top priority in the coming session.

OP-ED: Newspapers connect communities

By U.S. Rep. Mike Rogers

We can get our national news on cable television, catch the weather on local broadcast stations, listen to talk radio on the AM or FM dial and follow our favorite blogs on the Internet, but where do we turn for local information that directly impacts our daily lives? More often than not it is community newspapers.

Technology has transformed how we gather information in the 21st Century. Newscycles run 24/7, tablets and laptops are becoming smaller and smart phones keep getting smarter.

As a result most traditional large newspapers are struggling to stay alive — they are more and more frequently printing only two to three times a week, personnel and content are shrinking like never before, and more information is shifted to online editions.

Yet local community newspapers are thriving because they have persistently weathered the storm year in and year out to remain a fixture in our everyday lives. As our societies become more complex and diverse with growing numbers of ways to obtain information, the role of local newspapers in informing our communities becomes even more significant.

We count on them to regularly check in with the courts and police stations. They print announcements on births, deaths, engagements, marriages, anniversaries, church news, job openings, school information and service club endeavors.

They publish notices of local municipal meetings. They print tax increases, millage initiatives, notices of changes in laws and property rezoning — all issues that most directly affect our pocketbooks by determining how our hard-earned tax dollars are spent at the local level and how are local officials are representing us.

They help run the local economic engine and provide a marketplace for the community. They offer local small businesses with an effective and affordable means of connecting with local consumers. They print sales at the supermarket, coupons for discounts at local stores, real estate listings, and classifieds for everything from a used car to a neighbor's garage sale.

It's also personal. Communities feel a sense of ownership in their local newspaper, and the people that report the news are often our friends and neighbors down the street.

News aggregating websites such as Drudge Report and the major news blogs are great at offering up major national and international news and analysis, but they simply do not provide the information on issues that impact us at the local level. It is especially true for the elderly and those with low incomes who often have less access to computers and transportation.

They normally only publish once a week, but community newspapers remain the one constant source of local information. In good times and in bad, they stay focused on us as a community.

Now more than ever, community newspapers are an important binding thread of our cities and towns.

Toward Community Chest goal of $37,210

Drive raises $10,910

Dear Editor:

The Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest has completed its first and a half week of the 2012 Drive and, thus far, has received pledges of $10,910 or about 29% of our 2012 goal of $37,210. Hopefully, you will consider pledging today. As Wes Bentz has always pointed out, our local organizations benefit immensely from your loyal contributions. This week I am selecting the Senior Nutrition Site as our 'poster' organization.

The Senior Nutrition Site is an important organization that receives support from your Community Chest. Each week, lunch is served for our senior citizens at the Union University Church Center. Not only does this luncheon provide a nutritious meal for the seniors, it is also an opportunity for them to meet old and new friends and neighbors. Many of those who live alone enjoy the companionship that this gathering provides. In fact, seniors often come early to participate, and to assist others.

The Nutrition Site is sponsored by the Allegany County Office for the Aging and is regularly attended by our 'elderly' community people. Volunteer drivers are available to pick up those who need transportation. Diners are asked to make a payment for their meal, but this does not cover incidentals such as decorations and other items for festive meals and for birthday celebrations. Sugar substitutes are needed for those on low sugar diets, as well as other required modifications for specialized diets.

A gift to the Community Chest is an opportunity to provide the extras to our senior citizens who have given so much to us and our community over the years. Many of these individuals, although they are on relatively low, fixed incomes, continue to make generous contributions to our campaign.

We hope that you will agree that support for the Senior Nutrition Site, as well as our other campaign organizations, provides services that are essential to our community. We ask those of you who have not yet made a donation or pledge to join your friends and neighbors who have made our drive a success again this year. Many thanks to those who have been so generous in this pledge year, as well as in past years.

If, for some reason, you did not receive a pledge card, your donation may still be left at the Alfred Pharmacy in Alfred, the Canacadea Country Store in Alfred Station, or may be mailed to Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest, Box 603, Alfred, NY, 14802. We always look forward to any community support you can provide.

Sincerely,

For the Community Chest Board

Blood drive slated in Almond Oct. 20

ALMOND—When you see that your community is having a blood drive, take a few steps to make sure you can make a successful blood donation.

First, try to make an appointment. It always helps the Red Cross volunteers and staff members know in advance when you are coming to make a donation.

Before you donate, be sure to drink plenty of fluids during throughout the day and eat. This will help blood flow through the donation process. Dress to donate by wearing something comfortable that can have the sleeves rolled up above the elbow.

If you would like to make an appointment to donate, please visit www.redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-REDCROSS.

Next area blood drive is Saturday, Oct. 20 at the Almond Municipal Building, 2-7 p.m. designed by the New York Library Association's Digital Literacy Advisory Committee.

The new curriculum covers the basics of computers and the Internet, communicating on the Internet, and using a word processing program. The courses are introductory, and are intended to demystify the technologies that we see all around us on a daily basis. You can take this opportunity to learn more about computers and the Internet either for fun, to enable you to communicate with friends and family (like through email or Facebook), or even to help you at work; once you finish the training you'll receive a Certificate of Completion, which you can add to your resume.

The ePLACE Trainers have found that many people learn best when they receive one on one instruction, so we are offering the Digital Literacy lessons on a individual basis, though if you have a group of friends with whom you'd like to learn, we can do that too. There are four lessons, each of which takes about two hours to complete. It is possible to "test out" of a lesson by taking a quiz.

If you wish to learn more about the program and its curriculum, or to set up a time to begin your lessons, call the Alfred Box of Books Library at 607-587-9290, or stop by while the library is open. If you are somewhat comfortable using the internet, you can go to www.digitny.org for more information; the "Public" page is especially helpful. Our email address is burnsa@stls.org, and the Library's web address is www.alfredboxofbookslibrary.org. If those last two sentences were gobbledygook to you, we're here to help you change that! Give us a call!

Transforming lives, providing clean water in Indonesia

By BRAD BOWDEN
of the Alfred Lions Club
 At the Sept. 27th Alfred Lions Club meeting, Nadine Hoover and Nicholas Rozard described their work to help people in Indonesia rebuild their lives and communities following the ravages of war and natural disaster. Nadine has a Doctorate in International Development and is Coordinator of Friends Peace Teams in Asia West Pacific with over 30 years of experience in Indonesia. She is one of only a few people trained to work in war zones.

Nick's Bachelor's degree in Ceramic Engineering and Materials Sciences from Alfred University has provided important technical and problem-solving skills to respond to needs identified by the 'person to person' contact between members of the Friends Peace Teams and inhabitants of the affected areas. Nick recently returned from a year in Indonesia where he established a lab to develop ceramic water filters and a microbiology lab to evaluate their effectiveness in removing and killing bacteria. During their presentation, they focused primarily on the devastation produced by a prolonged war and a tsunami in Aceh in northern Sumatra to illustrate how the Friends Peace Teams effectively work with people to rebound from such traumatic events. An unfortunate irony of the situation in Aceh was that to escape the ravages of the war in the highlands, people had migrated to the coastline, only to be subsequently further devastated by a tsunami! War and natural disasters can cause the loss of community organization, infrastructure, local resources with no communication systems to obtain resources from elsewhere and especially the loss of people contributing to society through death and psychological problems. Not only did Aceh lose a generation of people (the average age is now 38) but there was no community structure, no schools, no teachers nor trained people, and even trained people had lost their ability to perform their former skills. Acknowledging that other countries and international agencies provide supplies, Nadine felt that what was missing was a continued presence of people to identify and respond to both long-term psychological needs of people and health issues such as the need for clean water. This is where the members of the Friends Peace Teams play a significant role. At several points in their presentation Nadine emphasized that people of all ages, from children to adults either lose various developmental abilities or do not have the opportunity to develop them. The non-violence and trauma healing workshops that she conducts assist people to regain positive and meaningful observation, listening, and work skills, all important for effective communication between people to begin restructuring society. The Peace Team's approach of learning the language, talking with people, identifying needs and allowing time for people to understand what is going to happen to resolve problems is very important. For example, developmental play is not typical in Indonesia but once identified as a need, conversations led to an art student who had the talents and with 'seed money' has begun developing both children's development books and toys such as sets of blocks to foster basic visual and math skills. Another example of bridging the gap between the need and the resource was the Friends Peace Team becoming aware that Alfred University was discussing making ceramic water filters that could meet the critical need for providing clean water in Indonesia. As a result, Nick has been working in Dr. William Carty's lab at Alfred and spent the past year in Yogyakarta, Jakarta establishing both a ceramic lab for making gravity-fed ceramic filters and a microbiology lab for assessing the effectiveness of removing and killing bacteria to produce clean water. Silver is fired onto the ceramic material and is responsible for killing the bacteria. Conversations with people about the project in Jakarta attracted the attention of a non-profit organization – SHEP (Society for Helping the Environment and Peace) - that has provided a woman to work on making the filters. Nick emphasized that once a filter prototype is developed it could be modified to make filters of different sizes for different purposes, and filters could be produced and stock-piled for immediate use in future disasters. In response to a question about the use of commercial filters, Nick noted that commercial filters would be expensive for people there and that ceramic filters are made with local clay and don't need chemicals or replacement parts.

Alfred State moves up in rankings

ALFRED—Alfred State ranks no. 7 among top public schools/regional colleges (north) according to the most recent U.S. News and World Report's 2013 Best Colleges report for the second year in a row. Additionally, Alfred State ranked no. 23 on the list of top regional colleges in the North, up from the no. 25 spot last year. Alfred State was also included in the rankings of those colleges with the highest average freshman retention rate, coming in at 74 percent. These figures represent a gain over previous year's rankings. U.S. News and World Report's annual ranking studies more than 1,600 schools nationwide and is the most trusted and comprehensive research tool students and parents look to when considering higher education choices. Dr. John M. Anderson, Alfred State president, attributes the top ranking and Alfred State's increased ranking on the list to the compelling relevancy Alfred's project-based learning has on students and employers alike. "The way we approach project-based learning is unique to us in many ways which is why it has become a cornerstone of our culture," said Anderson. "Our focus is on teaching students how to think – not what to think – and that is something that resonates extremely well with employers. In fact, it is the reason why we are able to boast a 99% employment and transfer rate." The category of 'top public schools' refers to public colleges and universities from small liberal arts colleges to large research institutions. The 'regional colleges' category on the report encompasses schools that focus almost exclusively on the undergraduate experience while offering a broad range of programs in the liberal arts and in fields such as business, nursing, and education. Alfred State is a member of the technology college sector within the State University of New York (SUNY) system. The College offers 52 associate degree programs, 20 baccalaureate degree programs, and three certificate programs in addition to an array of online programs.

Ceramic art museum gives reason to PAUSE

ALFRED--The Schein-Joseph International Museum of Ceramic Art in Alfred University's (AU) College of Ceramics is hosting a new exhibition titled "PAUSE" through Dec. 7, 2012. The exhibit includes 18 pieces from the museum's permanent collection, all containing a visual softness intended to give the viewer a sense of pause; each piece has a unique complexity and warrants a closer look.

There will be a closing reception for the show on Thursday, Nov. 29 from 4:30-6 p.m.

Included in the exhibition are works by J. David Broudo (AU Class of 1943); the late Christine Federighi (AU Class of 1974); Wayne Higby, professor and Robert C. Turner Chair of Ceramic Art at the University; Ken Little; David Shaner (AU Class of 1959); the late Robert Sperry; the late Toshiko Takaezu; and Robert Winokur (AU Class of 1958).

The exhibition also features work by Alfred University MFA "Gloryhole" degree holders Giselle Hicks '10; Jae Won Lee '95; Jeffrey Kaller '99; Sinisa Kukec '01; and Katharine West. In addition, there are pieces from the visiting artists collection by Anton Reijnders and Elsa Sahal along with historic Chinese pieces.

Broudo is a Distinguished Professor emeritus in art education at Endicott College, Beverly, MA, where he started the art program. His artwork has received international attention, with his pieces having been on display in Faenza, Italy; New Delhi, India; and Belgium. From 1974 until her death in 2006, Federighi served as a professor of art at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, FL. She received five State of Florida Individual Artist Fellowship Awards and a National Endowment for the Arts Individual Artist Grant (1985).

Higby earned a bachelor of fine arts degree from the University of Colorado and a master of fine arts degree from the University of Michigan. One of his most enormous pieces, "Earth-Cloud," currently adorns the wall of the Alfred University Miller Performing Arts Center.

Higby is the recipient of numerous awards, including the Master of the Media and the Distinguished Educator awards from the National Museum of American Art. His work is internationally known; his pieces are included in collections in London, Geneva, Switzerland, and Tokyo.

Little earned a bachelor of fine arts degree in painting from Texas Tech University and a master of fine arts degree from the University of Utah. He maintains a studio in a warehouse in San Antonio, TX. His works are currently on display in Honolulu; Seattle; and at the University of California-Davis.

Shaner is a lifelong ceramist, collector, and philanthropist. He has donated numerous works to the Schein-Joseph International Museum of Art and the Archie Bray Foundation.

Sperry, who died in 1998, received a master of fine arts degree from the University of Washington, Seattle. He taught full-time at the University until 1983 and became the division head of the School of Art. He is known for strengthening the ceramics department at the University of Washington and for creating numerous pieces of pottery, digital art, sculpture, photography, and painting.

Takaezu (1922-2011) studied at the Honolulu Museum of Art, the University of Hawaii, and Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills, MI. Her work was often influenced by traditional Japanese pottery; her most recent works are abstract sculptures with poured and painted glazes. Takaezu's work is on display in many galleries across the United States, including the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Hawaii State Art Museum, and the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

Winokur has received numerous awards and fellowships including the National Endowment for the Arts Visual Artists Fellowship. He has also served as professor emeritus at Temple and was inducted into the American Crafts Council College of Fellows.

Hicks' focus has been on domestic spaces which are frequently inhabited, such as the bedroom and dining room. To Hicks, these places symbolize and personify human relationships. Her works are physical manifestations of emotional experiences that take place in these spaces.

Lee has served as an artist in residence in China, Korea, Denmark, India, London, and the Netherlands. Her works have also been featured at Louisiana State University, the Kentucky Museum of Art and Craft in Louisville, and the Clay Studio in Philadelphia.

Kaller's work has been featured across the United States and internationally; his pieces have been exhibited in Philadelphia, New York City, Sweden, Japan, and Norway. His most recent works draw inspiration from the funnel or cone shape; the artist uses the shape to draw upon both natural and human-created information.

Kukec has shown his art at the Hollywood Arts and Culture Center, taught at numerous colleges, and served multiple residencies. He currently resides in Miami.

West, who works primarily with clay, has exhibited across the world and she has served as an artist-in-residence in the United States, New Zealand, Hungary, Korea, Italy, and The Netherlands.

Also on display will be the works of Anton Reijnders, an artist from the Netherlands. Reijnders, who currently teaches at the Gerrit Rietveld Academy in Amsterdam, draws inspiration from questions of meaning and how we make sense of what is around us. His work has been represented in exhibitions in Europe, Asia, Australia, and the United States. He combines clay with wood, cloth, and newspaper to arrange and construct sculptures which undermine the perceptions of the fragility of fired clay.

International artist Elsa Sehal's work will also be featured in the exhibition. Her pieces have also been on display at galleries in Paris; Faenza, Italy; Bangkok, Thailand; and Monaco. She served a residency at Alfred University from 2009-10.

Sean Lounsberry's signature piece "Understanding Temptation: A Restraint on the Conscience" is the focal point of his exhibit "Discoveries" at The Fountain Arts Center in Belmont.

Sean Lounsberry from 'doodles to drawings'

BELMONT--"I have developed from doodles to drawings," says Sean Lounsberry, an extraordinarily talented art graduate of Nazareth College. "Although I did not know it, art has been an integral part of my life, both physically and spiritually.....It has been an uncertain, yet always exciting, adventure."

This sums up the exhibit by Lounsberry currently on display at The Fountain Arts Center in Belmont. The exhibit, titled "Discoveries," follows Lounsberry's explorations of different media and subject matter. The common thread tying the show together is the expert draftsmanship and modeling of the figure and still life groupings. Remarkable lighting and use of vibrant color set off the subject matter, and, additionally, Lounsberry demonstrates his excellent eye for composition and seeing beyond the obvious.

Lounsberry's paintings, drawings, and photographs are interpretations of his surroundings, and are highly reflective of the steps in his personal and spiritual journeys. His thoughtful and provocative titles guide the viewer in interpreting the pieces, but also leave the door open for them to experience their own inner revelation.

The exhibit will be on display now through Oct. 18 at The Fountain Arts Center Gallery in Belmont. Viewing hours are 9a.m.- 3 p.m. Monday through Friday; and 10a.m.-2 p.m. Saturday, or by chance or appointment. Call 585-268-5951 for more information.

AU's Lefkowitz Lecture features talk on Grant's expelling of Jews

ALFRED--Professor Jonathan Sarna, the Joseph H. and Belle R. Braun Professor of American Jewish History at Brandeis University, Waltham, MA, will deliver the annual Leonard and Saradona Lefkowitz Lecture in Jewish Studies at Alfred University on Monday, Oct. 22, at 5:15 p.m. in Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center. The lecture is free and open to the public; a reception and book-signing will follow.

"When General Grant Expelled the Jews" is the title of Sarna's lecture as well as his newest book, published by Random House (2012). Janet Maslin's review in The New York Times describes the book as "provocative," providing a "startling American story that will surely stimulate conversation."

The Alfred University Lefkowitz Lecture in Jewish Studies aims to do just this: develop awareness and provoke discussion and learning about Jewish cultural and historical experiences. The 150th anniversary of the Civil War is being marked by publications, lectures, and exhibits across the United States. Sarna's lecture and book shed light on a little known event in American Civil War history, while delving into questions about what it meant and means to be an American Jew.

Sarna is uniquely qualified to pursue this question as the chief historian of the new National Museum of American Jewish History in Philadelphia as well as the author of the critically acclaimed "American Judaism: A History" (Yale University Press, 2004) and editor of "Jews and the Civil War: A Reader" (New York University Press: 2010).

A regular contributor to "On Faith," The Washington Post's online forum on religion and politics, Sarna directs the Gralla Program for Religion Journalists at Brandeis University as well as the Hornstein Program in Jewish Professional Leadership. A sought after commentator on American Jewish life, Sarna received the 2011 American Academy of Religion Martin Marty Award for the Public Understanding of Religion.

Recognized for his outstanding work as an educator, Sarna's scholarship and giftedness as a teacher have engaged audiences around the world, not only through his many and diverse publications, but through documentary films and radio programs. Forward newspaper named him one of America's most influential American Jews in 2004.

Sarna's lecture is the third annual Alfred University Lefkowitz Lecture in Jewish Studies, which brings to campus renowned scholars to speak on topics that will capture the interests of students and the broader Southern Tier community. Dr. Leonard (AU '57) and Mrs. Saradona Lefkowitz endowed this lectureship within the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences to help cultivate knowledge and understanding about Jewish culture and history.

Dr. Mary McGee, dean of the College, notes that "Dr. and Mrs. Lefkowitz have had a lifelong devotion to Jewish heritage, culture and study, and this annual lectureship allows the Lefkowitzes to share their passion with Alfred University on an ongoing and long-term basis. We are especially fortunate to have Dr. Sarna for this distinguished lecture, as he is in particular demand during the Civil War sesquicentennial due to his expertise and his new book."

Mueller Mullings

By MATT MUELLER
Alfred Sun Columnist

FAR AWAY AND CLOSE TO HOME

For months I could see and hear it coming. "It" was a steady blast from the media concerning the November 2012 elections in the U.S.A. I had already put up with this year's abnormally high temperatures, whether I happened to be spending three weeks driving to the midwest and back, or was at home in Alfred, New York.

Of course, I cannot control the weather. However, I did know a nifty way to escape suffocation from the verbal hot air surrounding a U.S., or for that matter, a Venezuelan, Presidential campaign. I could resort to an intellectual climate zone where people would deal coolly in hard facts. The distance from Alfred would be a two hour drive west.

So, from September 30 - October 5, 2012, I found respite in Chautauqua, New York. Joining a group of approximately one hundred sixty people, I attended a program entitled, "U.S. Foreign Policy for the 21st Century." It was presented by "Road Scholar, AFSA and the Chautauqua Institution." On the grounds of the latter by Lake Chautauqua in southwestern New York, we were housed and fed at the Athenaeum Hotel.

AFSA stands for American Foreign Service Association. By Googling the initials I came up with a brief description of its mission for use here. It is an "Organization dedicated specifically to preserving and enhancing the integrity of the U.S. Foreign Service."

Each of our six lecturers, two men and four women, were obviously committed to doing just that. They had gladly taken their assignments to provide information for the Elderhostel Road Scholar program attendees, including me. In turn, we were eager to meet experienced diplomats.

We were given one page of information about each of our speakers. Among other things listed were their jobs within and outside the Foreign Service, the places and positions in which they had served, educational background, and awards received. The lists were long, and I shall quote but a sentence from one of them here. "She has worked in more than 100 countries on six continents."

I had been to a similar program at Chautauqua a few years ago. Now I was delighted to find that another woman diplomat, Molly Williamson, was among the teachers again. She has a remarkably lively presentation style. Probably she would have met success whether she had become either a comedian or a diplomat.

The two lectures which Molly delivered on this occasion were "The Arab Spring: How Things Stand" and "Energy and the Global Economy." Her biographical information mentions that "She has been trained in both Hebrew and Arabic." Among other things, to qualify for a Foreign Service position one must agree to learn two foreign languages.

The presenters as well as their spouses, if any, joined the Road Scholars at all of the meals in the enormous dining room. There we mixed personally with one another. No seating assignments were made, most service was buffet style, and the large round tables accommodated eight chairs each.

In addition to having mealtime conversations, not all of our formal sessions involved information on high level foreign relations. One evening the spouses of the diplomats, and also the unmarried diplomats, spoke and answered questions regarding, "The Personal Side of Living in the Foreign Service."

The number of Road Scholars in attendance astounded me, as it was far greater than on my previous Chautauqua venture. Also surprising, the overall population was older on average than I have encountered at past Elderhostel programs. With the majority of these very savvy people being in their eighties, most of the women sported enviable hairdos of gray or white. People with walkers and canes mingled and coped quite well.

The speakers gave each of their talks three times. This was because the Road Scholar organizers placed us in three groups of about fifty people each, designated by orange, green, or lavender name-tags. I detected diplomacy at work in the choice of those three colors. It could be risky to arbitrarily designate a stranger as "Blue" or "Red" during election season in the U.S.A.

Some true colors of attentive Road Scholars did show up on Wednesday evening, October 3, however. Most of us assembled in the giant "Parlor" in the Athenaeum Hotel. On a large screen there, we watched the televised debate between President Barack Obama and Mitt Romney.

Upon entering the room we were each given a blank slip of paper. On it we wrote the name of the candidate whom we expected to vote for on November 6. We dropped these straw poll ballots in a basket as we left the room. The tally was Obama - 98; Romney - 34; Undecided - 1; Neither - 1.

of the Alfred Lions Club

ALFRED--The Alfred Lions Club will initiate a LIBRARY LIONS Story Time and related craft activity program for children 4 to 8 years of age at the Box Of Books Library on Saturday, Oct. 20 from 11am to noon. The LIBRARY LIONS Story Time will be held once or twice a month as indicated in the Library notices in the Alfred Sun and at the Library.

The first week a story titled The Library Lion will be read by a member of the Alfred Lions Club. Children will then make a craft item related to the story assisted by students from Alfred University's "Fall into Service" program that day.

Subsequent Lions story time Saturdays will follow the same format with the reader a member of the Lions Club or from different community organizations or businesses, each reading a children's story related to their community activity, such as the fire and ambulance company, post office, a trucking company, professional practice (dentist, doctor).

Craft assistants will be recruited from students at the two colleges, Alfred Almond Central School or other community members.

The purposes of the reading program is to excite youngsters about reading, provide craft opportunities and connect children with stories about people and activities that make up their community. The Story Time program has been developed as a Lions Service Project in response to the year-long literacy Project of the International President of Lions Clubs, Wayne Madden.

Almond 20th Century Club Library

ALMOND--The Twentieth Century Club Library of Almond will be celebrating 100 years in our building on Saturday, Oct. 20, 2012.

Our founder, "Mrs. Carrie Stillman," Allegany County Board of Legislators Chairman Curtis Crandall, County Historian Craig Braack, and Senator Catharine Young will be speaking starting at 11a.m. Refreshments, activities and photo opportunities will follow downstairs.

Michael Snowden will be available to discuss his collection of political posters, which are now on display at the library. At 1 p.m. a local children's choir under the direction of Mrs. Randi Corkey will perform. Speeches by various local home school children will be followed by a storytime with some period books. Winners for our coloring and essay contests will be announced also.

The community is cordially invited to join us for any or of all of these events. For more information, please call the Library at 276-6311 during our business hours.

AU Music Department to present concert to benefit organ at Alfred SDB Church

ALFRED--The Music Department in the Performing Arts Division, College of Liberal Arts & Sciences at Alfred University will present Organ Spectacular III on Sunday, Oct. 21 at 3 p.m. at the Alfred Seventh Day Baptist Church, 5 Church St.

The event is free to the public, although free-will donations will be received to benefit the church's organ fund.

The ensemble concert will feature organ, brass, and vocal performances. University Carillon Lauree Buckwalter will perform one of the greatest organ compositions of all time, "J.S. Bach's Toccata and Fugue in F Major."

She will also perform Charles Widor's "Salvum fac populum tuum" accompanied by the Saxon Brass Ensemble, directed by Chris Foster, AU assistant professor of music and director of bands.

The AU Chamber Singers and the Alfred Volunteer Choir Company will also accompany Buckwalter in a performance of selected pieces from Tolstoy's drama "Czar Teodor Iovanovich."

A graduate of Houghton College with a major in music, Buckwalter earned a master of science degree in education from Alfred University. In addition to her carillon and music specialist duties, Buckwalter is often the piano accompanist for recitalists and choral groups on campus and throughout the area.

Foster holds bachelor of music education and master of music degrees from the University of Nevada-Reno, and a doctor of musical arts degree in trumpet performance and wind conducting from the University of North Texas (UNT)-Denton.

Organ Spectacular III will benefit the Alfred Seventh Day Baptist Organ Fund, an ongoing campaign for the continued restoration and maintenance of the 23-rank, 1930 Moller organ housed in the church. The church completed a successful three-year Organ Restoration Campaign in 2010 to make the most critical repairs to the instrument, but continued maintenance is needed to keep the organ in working condition.

Jean W. Moses, 77, of 7005 Whitney Valley Rd., Almond, died Monday evening, Oct. 7, 2002 at Jones Memorial Hospital in Wellsville, following a long illness. Born in Hornell on May 29, 1925, she was the daughter of Edward and Pearl (Martin) Whitiker. Jean was a graduate of Alfred-Almond Central School and later graduated from Ryder College in Trenton, N.J. Jean resided in the Panama Canal Zone from 1945-1953, where she worked for the U.S. Government. After returning to Almond in 1953, she was employed at Citizens National Bank of Alfred, retiring as a loan officer. She had been a member of the Almond Union of Churches and was a five-year member of the Alfred-Almond School Board. Jean had many hobbies including gardening, coin collecting and she enjoyed drawing floor plans for new homes. On Sept. 11, 1944, she married Carl Moses, who survives. In addition to her husband, survivors include two sons, Marty (Kathy) Moses of Almond and Roger (Donna) Moses of Holliston, Mass.; five grandchildren...

Dick Lang's home and studio lie near the top of the valley in which he was born within a mile of his parents' home. Amazing in this time of far-flung families, his sister and both brothers have also built their homes here in the hills between Alfred and Andover. Dick has a strong affection for the area, and he can't imagine living anywhere else. As you enter the pottery studio, you are immediately aware of the simplicity, elegance and perfection to be found in Dick's work. An unassuming man, always willing to question his work, he strives always for improvement, seeking to express in the clay new ideas, his own ideas...

Mae McMahon came to Alfred in 1936. She had married her husband John in Canada in 1928. John was a professor and eventual Dean of Engineering in the College of Ceramics at Alfred University. They raised three boys, all AU graduates. Mae and John made many friends throughout the world on behalf of Alfred University. Mae's wonderful sense of humor made her a joy to be around. She was active in her church and village organizations and was a long time financial advisor to Theta Theta Chi. Not really enjoying cooking, (she'd much rather go to the Collegiate), Mae favored quick and easy dishes. This is not really one of her recipes, but I think she would approve of it because it is so tasty and truly easy to do... Spinach Cheese Soup.

The AU football team (2-4, 0-3 Empire 8), lost to Hartwick College, 38-27, as a 24-point fourth quarter deficit proved to be too much to overcome. The two teams combined for 877 yards of offense, but the difference in the game was turnovers. Hartwick capitalized on four AU turnovers, turning two of the miscues into touchdowns. Alfred opened the scoring when junior wide receiver Nick Coleman (Waverly) caught a 34-yard touchdown pass from sophomore quarterback Ron Duliba (Forestville) with 5:48 left in the opening quarter...

'Blessings of the Obedient Heart'

By LINDA STAIGER
 ALMOND--As part of our 200th Anniversary here at Almond Union of Churches, we had Pastor Jim Horton, interim pastor, return to share a message with us. Personally, it was very nice to see Pastor Jim and Grace again. His sermon was titled "The Blessings of the Obedient Heart," based on Deuteronomy 30:11-20.

Deuteronomy 30: "Surely, this commandment that I am giving today is not too hard for you, nor is it too far away. It is not in heaven so you do not need someone to get it for you. It's not on the other side of the sea. No, the word is very near to you; it is in your mouth and in your heart for you to observe. If you obey the commandments of the Lord your God and, by loving the Lord, walk in His ways observing His commandments, then you shall live and become numerous. The Lord will bless you in the land that you are entering. BUT, if your heart turns away and you do not hear, but are led astray to bow down to other gods to serve them, you shall perish....Choose life..."

Choose Life--choose that path--that which is the Lord's way. We can choose to bow down to the idols of our land: the stuff of materialism, etc. The idols of love which commercials show us how to get it. You know--you'll get love if you drive the right car, drink the right beer, wear the right clothes...take your pick. Or, you can ask what is going to get you to where you want to be?

This is where the Lord comes in: He offers us a path. We will be blessed in the here and now as well as into eternity. The Lord knows that we have many other options to follow, but He still is in there ready to guide us once we make the choice to follow Him.

Is it really possible to live the Christian life? Seems nearly impossible, but it isn't IF the gospel dwells within you. The answers to your questions are in front of us. Look at God's word and act on it. We stand at the edge of the promised land. We cannot just sit and wait for it to be 'phwomped on us!' We must go in and take the land---step in and take God's word. Love the Lord your God with all your heart and soul and might. Love your neighbor as yourself. Ask yourself how you can bless others.

This is the question we in the Almond Union of Churches ask of ourselves--how can we bless each other in this church? How can we bless others in the village of Almond, in Allegany County, and so on. Difficult questions? Consider this: the power of God is ALWAYS greater than any challenge we may face. Tap into the love of God.

Almond Union of Churches, the building itself was Presbyterian at first and it is now 200 years old. The American Baptists joined the Presbyterians 'back in the day' in the year 1814. Remember that year? There was a war, right? ("In 1814 we took a little trip, along with Colonel Jackson down the mighty Mississippi!....) The American Baptists took hold in the same year--in spite of the war going on all around. It was built around the grace of God. That is what Almond Union of Churches must do: bring in new people and teach them about the love of God. This is what the church is all about. Love of God motivates us and the Grace of God sees us through. Choose His ways. The Lord is in your life. Amen.

Come join us next week when Pastor Steve Dygert begins the new series titled: "Forgiveness: the new f-word!" A new take on the concept of an 'f-word'!

DAR chapter meeting Oct. 18

FRIENDSHIP--The next meeting of the Catherine Schuyler Chapter of the NSDAR will be held on Thursday, Oct. 18 at the Friendship Legion, with arrival time set for 12:30 so we can begin promptly at 1:00 p.m.

Hostesses are Joyce Stuckey and Ronna Jordan, and we will be joined by a few of the Friendship Legion members for lunch and the program following, which will be presented by Michael Hennessy, our County Veterans' Director, speaking on "Veterans' Services". This program is considered a National Defense program.

In addition to the regular business meeting, we will also be welcoming new members, voting on officers, hearing reports from State Conference, the District VIII meeting, and the Valley Forge Memorial service.

We will be drawing for the winning "voice" on the quilt Darlene Boyce Wells has made in memory of her mother, too. Please be sure that you bring all voices to this meeting--if you can't attend, they can be sent ahead of time to Ona Reynolds or our Treasurer, Suzanne Thomas.

If you have ink cartridges, soup labels, newspaper clippings or other donations, please bring them to this meeting. Also, if you have a list of commemorative events, conservation efforts etc. that you have attended or participated in this year, please bring it to this meeting. This helps your Regent when she is filling out the end of year "Master Questionnaire". If you have something that you'd like to have addressed as a program for next year, mention it to one of the Board members (Officers and Past Regents).

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, October 11

On this day in 1492, Christopher Columbus scanned the western horizon in vain. Until now, his faith in this voyage had never faltered, though kings and courtiers had scoffed, and wise men had called him a fool. Finally, Isabella of Spain had caught his vision, informing the Pope of his intent "to bear the light of Christ west to heathen in undiscovered lands." In his journal, Columbus had written:

"It was the Lord who put into my mind--I coul'd feel His hand upon me--the fact that it would be possible to sail from here to the Indies. All who heard of my project rejected it with laughter, ridiculing me."

JANE, COLUMBUS, 146.

Mark Dion to talk here

“Neukom Vivarium” by Mark Dion.

ALFRED— The School of Art and Design at Alfred University will welcome visiting artist Mark Dion on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at 7:15 p.m., in Holmes Auditorium, Harder Hall, when he will present a multi-media lecture, “An Illuminating Explication of Recent World-Wide Experiments in Thinking in Three Dimensions.” The program is open to the public free of charge.

Dion’s work represents how dominant ideologies and public institutions shape our understanding of history, knowledge, and the natural world.

For more than two decades he has worked in the public realm on a wide range of scales, from architecture projects to print projects in newspapers. He is currently working with an architectural firm on the visual art programming and redesign of the Seattle Waterfront. This will include developing a long-term visual art strategy as well as establishing large-scale, permanent ecological interventions.

Dion has earned numerous honors including the ninth annual Larry Aldrich Foundation Award (2001) and the Smithsonian American Art Museum’s Lucida Art Award (2008). He has had major exhibitions at the Miami Art Museum and the Museum of Modern Art, New York.

Dion’s “Neukom Vivarium” (2006), a permanent outdoor installation and learning lab for the Olympic Sculpture Park, was commissioned by the Seattle Art Museum. He has recently completed a major commission, “OCEANOMANIA: Souvenirs of Mysterious Seas” for the Oceanographic Museum in Monaco. He is the co-director of Mildred’s Land, an innovative visual art education and residency program in Beach Lake, PA.

Dion earned a bachelor fine arts degree and an honorary doctorate from the University of Hartford (CT) School of Art.

The program is sponsored by the School of Art and Design Dean’s Office and the Visiting Artist Committee.

Alfred State College Sports Round-up

Football team tops Fisher JV

Football Team Defeats Fisher JV in Home Opener

ALFRED--The Alfred State football team opened up the home portion of the season with a 22-7 victory over St. John Fisher JV on Sunday. The Pioneers improve to 3-1 on the year while the JV Cardinals fall to 2-1.

The 1st half featured very little offense but a trick play in the closing seconds gave the Pioneers a halftime lead. Punter Keegan Phalen (East Aurora) lined up to punt but instead threw a 58-yard pass to Collin Frazer (Woodbridge, VA) to get the blue & gold on the board with just 12 seconds left in the half.

St. John Fisher marched down the field in their first possession of the 2nd half and tied the game up on a five-yard run by Steve Strumolo.

Alfred answered right back with a two-yard run by Will Westbrook (Edmeston) to cap a four-play 57-yard drive to give the Pioneers the lead for good. Alfred State added to their lead early in the 4th quarter when Sammy Diaz (Dansville) rushed in from eight-yards out after Alonzo Joyner (Queens/Info Tech) intercepted a pass and returned it to the Fisher eight-yard line.

Phalen capped the scoring with 8:38 remaining when he hit a 26-yard field goal.

Alfred's offense gained 337 yards on the day (221 passing and 116 rushing) while Fisher accumulated 257 (150 passing and 107 rushing).

Colton Caldwell (Dublin, OH) was 6 for 18 for 86 yards while Joey Frendo (Fremont, MI) was 4 for 9 for 77 yards. Diaz finished with two catches for 63 yards while Erik Simmons (Elmira Free) had five catches for 59 yards. Dileel Bartley (Rochester/Edison) led the rushing attack with 53 yards on 12 carries.

Matt Naton was 8 for 19 for 117 yards for Fisher while Strumolo rushed for 56 yards on eight carries. Pete Luizzi caught three passes for 52 yards and Bobby Campese caught four passes for 39.

Michael Gibson (Capital Heights, MD) led the Pioneers with nine tackles, a sack, and a forced fumble. Robert Howard (Syracuse/Nottingham) had seven tackles and a sack, David Howell (Rochester/Greece Athena) had six tackles and a sack, and Thomas Daniels (Bronx/ICE) and Phalen each had five tackles and a sack. Phalen also had a forced fumble and a fumble recovery on the day.

Trevor Haut led Fisher with 12 tackles and a sack while Zach Zaloga had eight tackles.

The blue & gold return to action on Saturday when they host Globe Tech for Homecoming 2012. Kickoff is slated for 1 p.m. at Pioneer Stadium.

Lady Split Opening Pair at OCC Tourney

The Alfred State volleyball team split their opening two matches at the Cara Bryant Memorial Tournament at Onondaga CC on Friday evening. The Pioneers defeated SUNY Delhi 25-16, 25-17 but fell to Jamestown CC 25-18, 25-16. The Lady Pioneers have two more preliminary games slated for Saturday before tournament playoffs.

Kay Pflughardt (Tioga) led the way with 13 kills, 13 digs, and two aces while Lera Braun (Waterloo) had 31 assists, eight digs, and five kills. Rebecca Hanrahan (Greene) finished with 10 kills, nine digs, Brittany Hill (Corning West) had eight kills, Mallory Eberhardt (Lyons) had 13 digs, and Mercedes Bossard (Hornell) chipped in 15 digs and three aces.

Alfred is now 19-8 on the year and are one win away from reaching the 20-win plateau for the seventh straight season.

Muhleisen and Frazer Named September Athletes of Month

Women's soccer player Kali Muhleisen (Alfred Almond) and football player Colin Frazer (Woodbridge, VA) have been named the Alfred State athletes of the month for September.

Muhleisen has netted four hat tricks as the Lady Pioneer soccer team has raced out to a 10-1 record. She leads the team with 44 points on 19 goals and six assists. She has recorded points in nine of the blue & gold's eleven games. Currently she is 4th in NJCAA in both goals and points on the year for the #4 ranked Pioneers.

Frazer's special teams play has been a big reason for the Pioneers 2-1 start to the season. Frazer has two punt returns (89 and 87 yards) for scores and has 246 total yards of punt returns in nine attempts. He also has accumulated 102 yards on kickoff returns in four attempts. Defensively, he has recorded 19 tackles, a sack, and recovered a fumble.

Alfred As It Was

Remembering Alfred of Years Gone By

By DONALD POLAN

It is no wonder that they did not play baseball in Alfred—no flat area for a field!

As a child, my father bought me Sears best baseball glove and we would play catch in the front yard at our home on Park Street, he with his old college glove when he played baseball at Milton College, and me with my new one. I was nine or ten at the time when we started this routine and continued until I was playing baseball at Alfred-Almond Central School as a sophomore.

I played regularly at center or left field on the high school team. We played at the ball diamond in Almond the first two years. The field was fine, but had no outfield fence and no spectator stands. It was not until my senior year that we had a baseball field at Alfred-Almond Central School and it was at the north end of the soccer field with a backstop—again, no outfield fence nor spectator stands.

Alfred actually had a town baseball team—the field was on the McHenry Valley Road about half way between Five Corners and Almond. It was in a cow pasture—again no outfield fence nor spectator stands. The Baker boys were big guys. Jerry Baker was the catcher, Don Baker was the first baseman and I played centerfield. I think that Bill Evans was on the team as well as a few college students and three or four Almond kids. There were no other Alfred kids who played baseball. We probably did not play more than five or six games the summer after my sophomore year. World War II made gas rationing a problem for traveling anywhere for games.

As a young teenager before World War II, the family traveled to visit relatives in Michigan near Detroit and one of my cousins took me to a Detroit Tigers baseball game. Going on, we went to Milton, Wisconsin to visit other relatives where two of my cousins were on the town team—Roger pitched and Russell was the catcher. We saw them play two games while we were there. My father played baseball and tennis while in college there at Milton.

As a senior in high school, we finally had a baseball diamond, but we had no interscholastic games that year due to gas rationing. Earlier in the school year we had continued the interscholastic soccer in the fall and basketball in the winter—those were the two most interesting team sports at the time.

HITS AND MISSES:

It was a big win for the Alfred Saxons (3-1) football program on Saturday past as they thumped the Ithaca Bombers, 31-7 in front of a Homecoming Weekend crowd at Merrill Field. The visitors entered the game with an overall perfect slate at (4-0) in one of two, key E8 collisions on Saturday. Defending conference champion Salisbury was visiting SJ Fisher in Rochester. After a season-opening loss at RPI, Coach Dave Murray's troops have now gathered in three wins running as they gear-up for their two toughest tests of the entire season. The Cardinals of SJ Fisher head to Merrill Field this Saturday and then the Saxons travel to Maryland on the following Saturday to tangle with Salisbury. A split would be understandable. Two wins amazing. Two losses and there would probably be no post-season action for AU.

In other Division III football news of note it was Salisbury scoring late to topple Fisher, Utica nipping Buffalo State in a high-scoring contest, RPI blasting St. Lawrence, Cortland over CNJ, Brockport beating William Paterson and undefeated Hobart blitzing Springfield. Listened to the Salisbury-Fisher game on the radio, off and on, as the Sea Gulls scored 14-points in the last stanza, off two SJF turnovers, to secure a win. Both teams were ranked in the top 10-15 in the nation. Salisbury has a lone loss on the year and that is to #6-ranked Wesley. Also, Mount Union and Wisconsin-Whitewater are perhaps gearing up for round #8 in the Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl as they blanked their respective opponents on Saturday. MU drilled Wilmington, 66-0 and W-W blasted W-River Falls, 35-0.

The Hornell Red Raiders continue to steamroll opponents on the high school gridiron as they demolished Dansville, 59-0. The three-time defending "B" state champs are now (6-0) on the year as the "C" sectionals loom.

In soccer news the high-flying Alfred State College women's team (12-1) zips along as they have now won 12-straight and outscored opponents 51-3 over that stretch. Coach Anne Holmok's (A-A) squad was ranked #4 in the NJCAA Diviison III poll last week and is paced in scoring by Kali Muhleisen (A-A) who is coming off a week where she was named Female Athlete at ASC. The Pioneers have 9-shutouts on the season and after topping Herkimer CC this past week they run into Finger Lakes CC this week.

Stephen Baker and his UPenn teammates continue to struggle in men's soccer as the Quakers are now (2-9-0) to date after a recent loss to Columbia, 1-0. Next up is a game versus Dartmouth.

Jess Herbst (Webster Schroeder) and her Vermont Catamounts women's soccer squad split a pair of games last week to "improve" to (2-11-0) on the year. UVM beat Stony Brook, 2-1 in 2 OT's and fell to New Hampshire, 2-1. Herbst tallied the Vermont goal in the NH contest, her first of the season, on an assist from Ellie Mills ... Virginia!

Christy Kaznowski and her Western Carolina Catamounts women's soccer team continues on their ".500 pace" as they beat Chattanooga last week, 1-0. The program sits at 6-7-1 on the season.

The Buffalo/Toronto Bills ... ouch. They are blasted in San Francisco.

AU grad and NFL official Bill Schuster of Livonia worked the Denver-New England game Sunday that featured Peyton Manning and Tom Brady.

A batch of vanity plates spotted of late: BIGEZY2, LINDA H ... Howland, MUZICGAL, CLEANRR2, ROCHSTR, STLZBEST, IRISH XO ... ND rolling in football and HVY HRSE.

Is Jim Furyk still looking over that putt on the 18th-hole at Medinah?

Did "Mr. 195" ... Scummer, take in any Ryder Cup action live? Will Scummer top McDrip on the links in the Sumo Tour South 2013 outing?

Robert H. Torrey ... "The Traveling Sports Fan" ... took in the ChiSox-Indians game the last week of the MLB season.

Yo Kaz ... at the SAS Champions Tour event at Prestonwood CC in Cary, NC over the weekend?

Double "Small World Time" on my recent journey from Oneonta to Ithaca. Stopped in small town off route 88 called Sydney, which I later found out was where the "Tristan's Trot" race was earlier in the day, to grab a sub at a Subway. Just as I was departing, the SUNY Geneseo women's soccer team pulls into the same spot! Gave me a chance to chat with Coach Wiley some more before heading to the UPenn-Cornell men's soccer game that nite.

With the MLB playoffs now underway on TBS, TNT, the MLB Network, ESPN and seemingly every channel but the Food Network, how about using one of the "regular" announcers of a participating team for that particular game? Use one of the local guys in their home park. And how about "leaving off" Tim McCarver down-the-road?

And with those MLB playoffs underway, was looking over the Yanks lineup prior to the rain-delayed game they had Sunday versus the Orioles and was wondering, "why on earth" is A-Rod batting third? Managers usually put their best stick in that slot, not their most inept one! Robinson Cano should be there and A-Rod 8th! The third-sacker is getting worse by the week.

Looking like: Reds ... for sure, going with Cards despite loss in opener, the Tigers will wrap early and not picking against NY! A

A-A boys 9-2 heading into final week

ALMOND--The Alfred-Almond boys soccer team is rolling along with a 9-2 record, 3-1 in Steuben County League play.

The Eagles, coached this year by Bill Ernest, have outscored their opponents 46-14, suffering losses only to Prattsburgh, 3-2 and to Jasper-Troupsburg, 2-1.

A-A defeated Wellsville, 5-1 on Oct. 3. John Mormino had two goals for A-A, while Markus Ernest, Carlos McInnes and Chris Cook each scored a goal and an assist.

On Monday, Oct. 1, Chris Cook had four goals, Markus Ernest had a goal and three assists, Colin Johnson had a goal and Anup Jonchhe had two assists as the Eagles defeated Avoca, 6-0.

Thus far this season, Cook leads the team in scoring with 15 goals and 8 assists, Ernest has 13 goals and 7 assists, Pramod Rao has 5 goals and an assist, John Mormino and Carlos McInnes each have 3 goals and 2 assists, while Connor Calkins has 3 goals and an assist. Others scoring for A-A include Kieth Vosburg with 2 goals, ANup Jonchhe with 1 goal and 2 assists, and Colin Johnson with one goal.

A-A hosted Canisteo-Greenwood at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday night at the A-A Sports Complex, then travels to Campbell-Savona for a 6:30 p.m. game tonight (Thursday, Oct. 11). A-A will be at home Saturday night at 6:30 p.m., hosting league rival Addison, then will host non-league foe Andover at 5:45 p.m. Monday, Oct. 15 at the A-A Sports Complex. The final regular season game will be at J-T at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 17.

Cincy-Detroit World Series?

Daughter Lauren's team in the Ragnar Adirondack's 193-Mile Race took 158th out of 227-teams. Six-person teams that ran from Saratoga Springs to Lake Placid. Each runner going three different times. Team completed run in 30:42:38 ... as in 30+ hours!

Backing up to the Cooperstown Diner, on my recent stop in the 'Hall of Fame town, they have the biggest burgers this side of The Bucket in Lakewood. A "classic" place with Gladys, Morey ... and Jan running the joint!

Received a text from Milko (SUNY Geneseo) last week as the former field hockey All-American has landed a job at the University of Maryland. She sent me text/photos from Notre Dame and Wrigley Field. Yes, Maryland ... Duke tix!

Two days after receiving the news about Mike Coyle of Oneonta last week, my brother Scott called me from Virginia Beach to tell me about the passing of Dick Giedlin. The former Athletic Director at Alfred State College. Good man! Got to know him over the years at ASC, of course and saw him a few times at Virginia Beach when visiting Scott and his family. Dinner at their place once when Lauren and I in town. Golf over at Hell's Point where he worked ... "decent" rates. He and I sat together at a baseball game at Harbor Park once, just chatting the entire time. An "enjoyable" game that I have no idea who won! My thoughts go out to the entire Giedlin family at this time, especially Gids in Arizona.

Did not take in the Ithaca-Alfred football game last week as work got in the way. Off to Saratoga Springs-Lake George-Union College this weekend. Would like to stop in Oswego on Friday afternoon to see the Geneseo-Oswego women's soccer game but don't think I can swing that. Meeting 3L in Saratoga Springs as she arrives via bus from NYC on Saturday. Heading to Lake George for some hiking. Down to Union College on Sunday to see Herbst, Haley Marks (Penfield) and Vermont take on UAlbany in Division I soccer action. Was going to be a surprise for Herbst but with game moved to Union time is cut short. Dani Britt (Webster Schroeder) is the GK for the Great Danes so will actually know three players in the game ... plus Virginia! Might be my second or third soccer game of week as plans were to take in the Brockport-Webster girls high school game on Tuesday at Schroeder. Only third full high school game I have seen since Herbst graduated. All Brockport-Webster games with Coach Sherman, Coach Brown on the sidelines. Hopefully Skip Sherman (A-A) there!
