64 awarded master's in AU Downstate Program

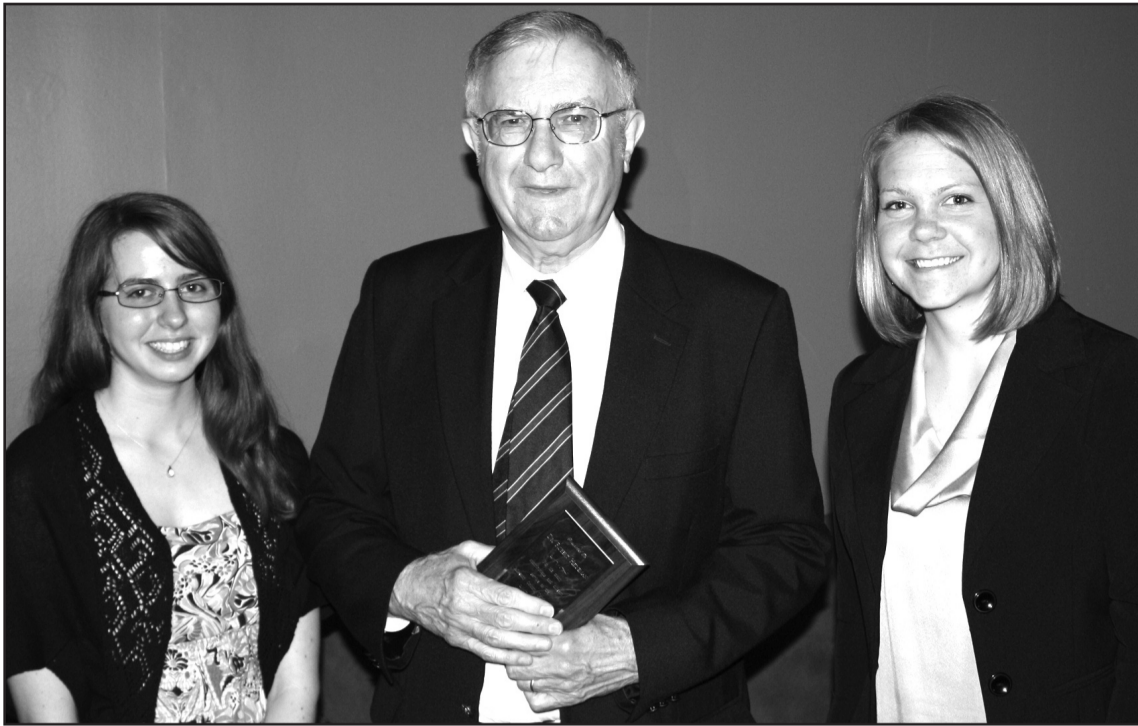

BROOKLYN—The 64 graduates of Alfred University's Downstate Program who received their master's degrees in counseling or literacy education during the sixth annual commencement ceremonies at Kingsborough Community College Saturday, June 15 each know what it is to be hero, said AU Provost William M. Hall.

Among the characteristics of a hero, said Hall, who is retiring at the end of the month after a 33-year career at Alfred University, are "courage, determination and independence."

The graduates of AU's Downstate Programs who attend classes week-ends and during the summers while working full-time and taking care of family responsibilities needed those same characteristics to make it through the program to earn their degrees.

Earning their master's degrees is "more than just learning the facts in the curriculum," Hall said, telling the graduates, "You have taken the challenge, and you have met the challenge."

Co. Youth Court holds annual dinner

ALFRED—The Allegany County Youth Court Board met Monday, June, 3 for its annual dinner at the Terra Cotta Coffeehouse in Alfred. The Board recognized former Board Chairman Dr. Robert Heineman and graduating student member Elissa Carls.

The evening began with Jessica Jennings, Youth Court Director, recognizing Elissa Carls for her service to the Court. Elissa contributed more than 97 hours, participated in additional fundraisers and programming, and assisted with training new members each year.

Jennings noted that Elissa would take on any role necessary, and never with a poor attitude. "She always worked hard to see both sides of every case, even when it was hard to do so. She has been a great role model for her peers...a significant part of our Youth Court for the past five years."

Elissa, the daughter of Ed and

Amy Carls of Angelica, will attend Houghton College in the fall to study Communications.

The dinner continued with Keith Slep, Allegany County District Attorney, presenting a plaque to Dr. Robert Heineman in recognition of his contributions and diligent service to the Youth Court. Dr. Heineman, a Professor of Political Science at Alfred University and former County Legislator, recently resigned after 12 years with the Youth Court Board. Mr. Slep shared that the Youth Court has had a rocky road, but Dr. Heineman kept it moving forward.

"Bob is the single biggest reason why Youth Court is still here," Slep said.

Thanking the Board for the honor, Dr. Heineman also recognized several key influences for the Court including the Youth Court Board, Ms. Jennings, Genesee Valley School (where the Youth Court Office is located), Dr. William Hall from Alfred University, and Bill Penman and Kim Strauser from the Allegany Council on Alcoholism & Substance Abuse, Inc. (provides organizational overhead for youth court).

The evening concluded with Dr. Heineman sharing his belief that peer groups are the biggest influence in keeping kids headed in the right direction.

"That's what Youth Court does; it supplies role models for kids who need them," he said.

For more information on Youth Court or how to become a student member, e-mail Jennings at jjennings@gvcs.wnyric.org or call (585) 268-7900 x2142.

THE CALL SHEET

A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Co.
Village Volunteer Fire and Ambulance Service

Gone the Extra Mile

Each spring the A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Fire Company, the Village of Alfred's volunteer fire department, recognizes members who have gone the extra mile.

At this year's Annual Dinner, the A. E. Hook and Ladder Company honored the following eight individuals. They all responded to 100+ calls. If you see any of these people, express your appreciation for the service that they gave to the Alfred community.

Chris Swart -- 100 calls
Walter Schulze -- 101 calls
Tim Cox -- 118 calls
Zach Hamm -- 183 calls
Zach Majeka -- 233 calls
Paul Weaver -- 261 calls
Bob Pipal -- 293 calls

Nancy Furlong -- 575 calls

The Company responded to 975 calls during the past year, according to Wendell Peters, outgoing Fire Chief. Of those calls, 407 were responses to automatic alarms. The company hopes the serious problem of false alarms will be resolved in the future. Many of Furlong's calls were to ascertain whether the automatic alarm was false. Last year there were 469 Emergency Medical Services calls, which averages out to 1.3 calls per DAY, a large number for an all-volunteer company like Alfred's.

The Member of the Year was Lawrence "Mac" McCormick, Captain of Alfred 9, the ladder truck. Mac spends a great deal of time doing maintenance work and cleaning up and clearing out in the fire hall. He is very committed to the smooth functioning of the fire hall and making sure that the company is ready "for the next big one."

Many hands make light work. The Fire Company needs many hands to help with the work of saving lives and property in our community. If you have an interest in being part of this service-minded group of people, talk to Zach Hamm, current Fire Chief; Bob Pipal, President; or Paul Weaver, EMS Captain, or show up at the Fire Hall on a Sunday evening at 6:30 when members will be there for a practice.

A recipe with fresh garden peas...

We had garden peas this week, not raised by us, and they were so good, I remembered this recipe that Alice Heineman submitted several years ago to be included in the Alfred Community Cookbook, compiled by the Alfred Community Theatre, and still available at Hair Care, by the way.

Give it a try-fresh or frozen peas, it is delicious!

Gurkebraten Mit Erbsen Braised Cucumbers and Peas

8 cucumbers	½ c. stock
3 T. butter	1 tsp. chopped parsley
salt, pepper	1 tsp. chopped chives
3 c. peas

Peel cucumbers and cut in chunks 1½ inches long. In a heavy skillet, over high heat, melt butter. Add cucumbers, season with pepper and salt, and sauté for 5 minutes. Reduce heat to medium, then add shelled peas and stock and continue cooking another 5 minutes for frozen peas or 8 minutes for fresh. When cucumbers have a glassy look, remove from heat; sprinkle with chopped chives and parsley and transfer to a heated serving dish. Serves 8.

64 earn master's degrees Downstate

Jay Cerio, director of the Downstate Program that the University offers through the Center for Integrated Teacher Education, and Robert Bitting, associate director, presented a framed print of the Brooklyn Bridge to Hall for "building bridges between Brooklyn and Manhattan and Alfred."

While Cerio and Bitting have led the program since it began during the 2006-07 school year, it took the "visionary support" of Hall to make it happen, said AU President Charles M. Edmondson.

Kiia Mack, chosen by the literacy faculty to be the student speaker for its program, said her "purpose and passion since I was a child" have been to be an educator.

Her grandmother wrote on every birthday card she gave her: "Always try. Never say 'I can't.'" That's the mantra she's lived by and that's the mantra she tries to instill in the children she teaches, Mack said.

Stefan Phillips, speaking on behalf of the counseling students, described his journey through the program through the metaphor of four quarters of a basketball game, likening the final year of the program in which the students are pushed to complete their practicum and their professional portfolios to the pressure of the fourth quarter of a hard-fought game, one in which the members of the cohort bonded as a team.

David Robinson, who received his master's in counseling from AU in 2008 as a member of the first cohort to go through the Downstate Program, was recognized as the supervisor of the year by Bitting. Robinson, a guidance counselor at Manhattan Comprehensive Night and Day School, oversaw the practicum experiences of three students in counseling this year.

Recipients of the James Dougherty Award for Counseling, chosen by the faculty based on academic excellence, and recommendations from the faculty for their individual growth while enrolled, sometimes in spite of the circumstances, were: Jamal Horsley, Joanna Ventura, Amira Rehawi, Yvonne Sternemann and Candice Walker.

Recipient of the Dougherty Award for Literacy was Grace Curatolo.

Outstanding students who earned 4.0 grade-point averages, the highest possible, for 16 courses in counseling were: Althea Aarons-Ferguson, Theresa Amelio, Paul Bonney, Beth Cheikes, Florencio Diaz, Rita Himmelstein, Jamal Horsley, Robin Medina, Amira Rehawi, Heather Roldan, Sari Schoenfeld, Yvonne Sternemann, Sathya Stewart, Salvatore Tinervia and Jocelyn Vargas.

Literacy graduates who earned 4.0 grade-point averages were: Samantha Bisbal, Grace Curatolo and Erin Foley.

Scott Brenner, a 1984 alumnus of Alfred University and a member of the Alumni Council, inducted the new graduates into the Alfred University Alumni Association.

Alfred University's motto is Fiat Lux, Latin for "Let there be light," Brenner said, but that's a "grossly simplistic" interpretation of the phrase. He said a deeper meaning alludes to the creation of the universe, when darkness was "the natural state. Light, or knowledge, is an acquired state."

Alfred University, he told the graduates, "is the place I acquired the light" of learning.

Sun Spots

After The First Day of Summer,
It's All Downhill
Or,
Why the Sun Flies South
For the Winter,
And How We REALLY Feel About That

Better try to get the mostest
From our yearly summer solstice,
Cuz each half-a-year Floridian,
From Miami to Meridian,
Up and steals the sun all wi'ter –
Leaving here all cold and bitter –
Caring naught for Northern brother,
Or even ailing mother
Who cannot make the trip
For she's frangible of hip
And with cough and cold and sneeze,
While "Junior" (pushing eighty)
Basks in sunshine – with his matey –
Which we KNOW they took from here
In the long cold Southern Tier
Cuz although (when it's not night)
We faintly see its light,
The morning sun we greet
Is devoid of any heat
(If we remember such a thing)
Till sometime late in spring
When half-Florida returns
With their suntans – never burns –
And not empty-handed, NO sir!
No, they bring our sun back closer (Yup, there's no two ways about it:
They just cannot live without it;
At the risk of being scoffed,
I'd say they've gotten soft)
Till finally it's the closest
At time of summer solstice
And at last it's warm enough
To get out and do your stuff,
So you better make the best-of-it –
All too soon we'll see the last-of-it.

FROM THE DESK OF DAVID PULLEN

By DAVID PULLEN
Allegany County Legislator

COUNTY PLANNING PROGRESS

The first regular meeting of the Board of Legislators for the month of June took place on Monday afternoon, June 10th. Former Navy Petty Officer Jeffry Spencer led the Pledge of Allegiance. After serving in the Navy from 1978 to 1984 Jeffery has continued to serve our community. He is currently a teacher at Cuba-Rushford Central School District. He was recently recognized as an outstanding teacher at the Allegany County Area Foundation Annual Education Awards program.

Privilege of the Floor was granted to Allegany County Agricultural Society President ("County Fair") Martha Roberts. She gave a summary of changes and improvements for this year's County Fair. It will be held July 15th-20th in Angelica. The County Legislature will hold one of its regular meetings at the Fair at 2 pm, on July 18th. I hope to "see you at the Fair."

The Legislature considered eight resolutions at this session. Resolution 93-13 expressed unanimous support for the Solar Energy Project proposed by Houghton College in the Town of Canadea. When constructed the 9 acre solar panel array will be one of the largest solar energy projects in the State. Resolution 94-13 approved the appointment of Sarah Decker as Journal Clerk for the Board. She will replace Adele Finnemore. Adele is retiring after many years of dedicated service. Resolution 95-13 approved the Board Chair's appointment of members to Southern Tier West Regional Planning and Development Board.

Resolution 96-13 created the Sheriff's Department position of Correction Lieutenant, and abolished the positions of Correction Master Sergeant and Assistant Jail Administrator. Resolution 97-13 proposed creation of a Correction Captain position, but was tabled. Resolution 98-13 accepted and appropriated three donations to the County Office For the Aging. The Oriana Grove Lodge ($2,000) and National Fuel ($1,500) donated to the Meals-On-Wheels program. Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest donated $676 to the Lifeline Program. Resolution 99-13 accepted and appropriated $368,997.50 from NYS under the Consolidated Highway Improvement Program ("CHIPS") for state fiscal year 2013-14. This will help finance additional capital improvements to our roads and bridges.

Resolutions 100-13 and 101-13 must be viewed together. Resolution 100-13 proposed approval of an agreement with Cattaraugus County for the Workforce Investment Board, operated jointly by Cattaraugus and Allegany County. County Attorney Thomas Miner, Esq., requested that this resolution be withdrawn and replaced by Resolution 101-13. That was done and Resolution 101-13, approving the "Local Plan" for the period from July 1, 2013 through June 30, 2014, was unanimously approved.

Several other important matters were handled in Committee meetings on Monday, June 10th. At the Ways and Means Committee meeting held before the Board session, County Treasurer Terri Ross reported that the County's sale of the "Refunding Bond" had been completed and would save the County almost $46,500 over the next 4 years. This was possible because of the extremely low (favorable) interest rates currently available. She also submitted a report about the 2013 tax sale of foreclosed properties. The Ways and Means Committee approved the sale of approximately 70 parcels.

Following the Board session a Committee of the Whole meeting was convened to receive the updated County Comprehensive Plan. County Planner Kier Dirlam presented the updated Comprehensive Plan and gave a brief report regarding the work done by the Allegany County Comprehensive Plan Review Committee and County Office of Development. Copies of the Updated Comprehensive Plan were distributed and the Board discussed the procedure for adoption of the updated Plan. This will involve holding a public hearing in approximately one month. I strongly encourage that everyone interested in the history and/or future of our County obtain a copy of the Updated Comprehensive Plan. Please pay special attention to the summary of "Accomplishments that have occurred since 2008 in Allegany County" and "Project Priorities" found on pages VII-3 through 6 of the Updated Comprehensive Plan. We have come a long way, but still have a long way to go.

A-A alum to stage solo theater premiere here July 26

ALFRED—A 1983 Alfred-Almond Central School alum who now is a leading Solo Theater Creator and Performer in Hollywood, will stage the premiere of his latest work at 8 p.m. Friday, July 26 at the Cappadonia Auditorium in the Orvis Activities Center on the campus of Alfred State College.

The performance by Todd Larsen, son of Barbara and the late John Larsen, will be his first return performance in his hometown in more than 25 years. His solo theater production The In Between will premier in Alfred before its Hollywood CA and New York City performances beginning in the fall.

The In Between is a cleverly woven tour de force performance of acting, movement, and visual images in which Todd shares his creative journey from Alfred, NY to his adventures in Hollywood, CA.

"Aspects of the production are based on my life," Todd says, "but it is truly about each one of us, and our gifts of creativity. It's everyone's story, and how we must realize our dreams and pursue them. It's about the quest to find the 'magic moments' in life, when the dynamic potential between ourselves and possibilities touch."

Todd first began acting in his parents' productions at Alfred State College, where they directed the drama department from 1965-1993. Along with his acting at Alfred Almond he began studying mime and movement. He produced several productions locally at the colleges and high schools and has gone on to be awarded as one of the top movement theater creators in the United States.

He currently resides in Hollywood, CA, working as an actor and entrepreneur. Highlights of his film and stage career include working with Dom DeLuise, Carol Burnett, Charlie Sheen, Dean Cain and John Cleese. Todd's work has been reviewed by the NY Times and LA Times as a "performer not to be missed" and as a "...solo Cirque Du Soleil meets Chekov."

This premiere performance, which takes place at 8 p.m. Friday, July 26 in the Cappadonia Auditorium of the Orvis Activities Center on the Alfred State Campus, is provocative, funny, and a unique theatrical experience. Todd plays over 30 characters, real and imagined. The "creative spark" that began this theatrical creation came when he first saw pictures of the Sistine Chapel, and imagined what it would be like to sit down and chat with its creator.

TODD LARSEN... "a performer not to be missed." --NY Times

"I get to do that! That's why I fell in love with the theater and creativity" he says. "This is going to be quite a moment in my life" Todd adds. "It's incredible to return to my hometown, and share this new production. Especially on the stage at Alfred State College."

The Alfred State Drama Club is excited to be sponsoring this event.

The performance is free and will announce a new scholarship for Alfred State College. Todd has created the Barbara and John Larsen Scholarship to honor his parents' dedication for over three decades to the Alfred State theater, college, and students. It will honor and assist ASC students who have shown excellence in the theater.

At the show, there will be an opportunity to donate to the scholarship. Anyone interested in finding out more about or donating to the Larsen scholarship and is unable to attend the performance should contact Colleen Argentieri at the Office of Institutional Advancement, Alfred State College, Huntington Administration Building, Alfred, NY 14802 (Larsen Scholarship). Any questions regarding the show can be directed to Janna Buckwalter at buckwajb@alfred-state.edu.

WELLSVILLE—Allegany Arc (the Arc), an agency for the rights and full participation of all children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities, invites the public to view their 2013 Arc Art exhibit at the Wellsville Creative Arts Center, 124 North Main St., Wellsville.

Arc Art will be on display until July 20. Allegany Arc held an Opening Reception on Friday, June 7 and had over 40 guests attend and view the creative works of art.

"We are excited to partner with the Wellsville Creative Arts Center for a fifth year to promote disability awareness, and to encourage individuals with disabilities to explore new activities and discover their inner artist," says Carrie Redman, Allegany Arc's Marketing Director.

"Arc Art honors individuals with disabilities throughout Allegany County and celebrates their accomplishments by showcasing the talents of artists with a wide range of physical, cognitive and mental health disabilities," she added.

More than 25 artists are displaying their work in the Arc Art exhibit. The works on display demonstrate an abundance of style and images. The exhibit is as varied in method and expression as the life experiences of the individual artists.

Arc Art is a celebration of self-expression by artists with differing abilities. It is an Allegany Arc sponsored outlet for artists with special needs to not only express themselves through art, but to raise community awareness of the diversity and value of artistic expression. ## Almond 20th Century Club Library

By TAMMY KOKOT

Almond 20th Century Club Library

ALMOND—Can you "Dig It?" Beneath the Surface?" Pre-K through 3rd graders and 4th through 6th graders will "Dig Into Reading" at the Almond Library starting on Monday, June 24, from 9:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. under the direction of Genesee Valley Central School art teacher, Kristin Buchholz, and Almond Library Aide, Mary Jane Essex.

Children will hear about the unearthing of a real mastodon as described by Kristin's dad, Vaughn Buchholz. You see, all he wanted was a pond...and, well, bones got in the way. This year's program will focus on archaeology, nature, earth science, history, and art.

Who knows? Maybe the dinosaur dig will unearth our very own mastodon! Kids will go home with fossils and dinosaur eggs made by their own hands. Reading, drawing, and journaling will be a part of this event-filled summer program.

Teens will get "Beneath the Surface" with Liz Butler, Adult Literacy Instructor with BOCES. She will lead a Tween/ Teen Reading Club from 6-7 p.m. on Tuesdays, July 9, 16, and 23 culminating with their own pizza party on July 30. All will read The Graveyard Book by Neil Gaiman, plus as many other books as they can squeeze in.

Sign-up sheets are available at the library and will be going home with students through the school. So reserve these dates for your kids to "Dig Into Reading" at the Almond Library: June 24, July 1, 8, and 22 with a family, dish-to-pass picnic the evening of July 29.

NOTES from the BOX OF BOOKS

By ELIZA ORDWAY

Box of Books Library Director

I am AMAZED at the outpour of support we have been getting in response to our annual appeal letter. We have been blessed this year with a donor who has generously offered to match up to $1000 of donations. I am extremely optimistic that we will reach this goal of $1000 and am going to keep the total thus far raised to myself until we come up with a great way to show our growing success. Be on the lookout for a goal meter of sorts either inside or outside of the library to monitor our funds raised and Keep those donations coming!

I would like to take another moment to offer thanks from the Box of Books to several people specifically New Country Flowers on Elm Valley for the donation of the beautiful flowers and plants for our gardens, Liz VanHouter and Alex Haase for the time and energy planting these flowers and plants, and Pat Crandall for weeding our myrtle for us. The library garden is beautiful and it is because of all your hard work and energy. Our next step is to mulch the beds once we get the remainder of the planting done. Alex also worked at leveling our pavers, that were so badly displaced due to roots, at the exit of the children's area. They are now much smoother and less of a tripping hazard for our patrons!

With the school year screeching to a halt this week; that leaves the question what are we going to do this summer? My suggestion is Dig in to READING! Did you know that when you register for the summer reading program here at the Box of Books you are not committing to anything other than reading? Hmmm...if you are here already then I guess you are reading, I say you should register. We have self guided games like bingo you can do while you travel and there are always prizes for our top readers.

There are great programs coming up this summer offered by our program staff, the Allegany Arts Association, the Master Gardener's and by local community members. Our website alfredboxofbookslibrary.org has our calendar on it and you can always find information out at the library itself. We look forward to seeing you and your families this summer. Registration begins on June 24 and our kick off Carnival Event is July 7 in conjunction with the Alfred Farmers Market.

TONIGHT - Thursday, June 20 - Bon Voyage BoB; An International Potluck. Come help our bookworms group say goodbye to their friend BoB and to welcome his cousin Al Fredrick to our library. Bob is going to go on vacation for the summer and enjoy some travels around the world, we hope to send him off with some good food from around the world and lots of well wishes until his return in September. Everyone is welcome, people are encouraged to bring a dish from around the world. The Box of Books will supply drinks and table service.

Tuesday, June 25 from 5-7 pm - Resume Workshop with Mark McFadden. Are you looking for a job, or just looking to improve your resume come to our resume workshop hosted by Alfred's own Mark McFadden who works at Alfred University's McComsey Career Development Center. Registration can be done by calling the Box of Books at 587.9290.

Adventures with Joan: Catching the racing bug. In all my eighty years of life on this good green earth, I have never considered racing a talent, or even a slight desire. But when I saw an advertisement in the Georgia Times for a charity race my curiosity was aroused. It was a benefit for St. Mary's Hospital so it couldn't be too bad—right? It stated several categories: 2k running, 1 mile walking or jogging and even a kiddy section...So off went my check for the whole shebang of us—Mary, Dick and grandchildren Josh and Joey, plus myself. The day of the 5th Annual Frog Hop at Sandy Creek Nature Center (name of the race, of course) arrived cool and drizzly but off we went to the park. We were quite surprised on arrival to see how many foolish, determined Georgians there were to "walk, jog, run or stroll"...We raced on a picturesque paved road through part of the beautiful park then down a hill to the lake. And we all know what goes down must come up. So at the lake we turned and went back up the hill on a road to the right. Then around a bend flanked by tall pine trees and there it was—the finish line! Cheering people were waiting for me (and everyone else) plus a man with a camera plus another grinning man who presented me with an engraved medal on a ribbon to wear proudly around my neck! What a surprise! I was told this award was for being the oldest participant to finish the race. I really felt a little guilty though thrilled for accepting the medal as I walk at least a mile every day, without cheers, I must add...I guess we all need happy, happy adventures every so often so I truly vouch for racing—everyone is a winner!

God is big enough...to see me through

By LINDA STAIGER

ALMOND—God is Big Enough ...to see me through the storms of life. In Mark 4:35-41 we read the story about Jesus and His disciples in the boat. A storm suddenly shows up and they are quite afraid, but Jesus just remains calm. They thought He didn't care about their safety, but He was more disconcerted about their lack of faith that things would turn out OK. He could sleep through this storm, perhaps because He had complete trust in God. "He will not let your foot slip--He who watches over you will not slumber." The disciples weren't there yet—they did not yet have that kind of faith to trust completely. Moving forward in time, how often do we get concerned when we don't need to be? Don't we believe that Jesus is with us? Why the lack of faith? Our worry and concern over things that happen to us shows that we are not trusting God to work things out.

The storms of life can be fierce at times. We are overcome with doubt, when our troubles seem just too great to handle. Let go and let God. Just tell Him you know you cannot do it alone. There is peace to be found once you have asked His help.

Although the storms may continue to rage far longer than you think you can handle, just 'keep the faith.' These storms are sometimes a test of faith. They can refine and strengthen our faith. Through difficulties come victories. The trials we face build our faith. I'm thinking these trials are necessary for building this strength.

Consider the diamond-and how often it is cut just so the light can reflect through numerous facets and be even more stunning. Faith is the key that unlocks the power of God. Faith is also the key that will take away our fear. Faith DRIVES OUT FEAR!! 'though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me...." Psalm 23, this reporter's absolute favorite Psalm.

"Have courage my soul, and let us journey on./ Though the night is dark and I am far from home. Thanks be to God the morning light appears. {Cue the drums and piano:} The storm is passing over, {Cue the crescendo:} the storm is passing over, {And a bigger crescendo:} The storm is passing over, Hal-le-lu!"

"Man, oh Manischewitz" do those spirituals say it all! Word!

A Gift for Father's Day

By ADAM GAYHART

ALFRED—On Sunday, June 16, Alfred United Methodist Church learned of a special Father's Day gift through a skit performed by Pete Gradoni and directed by Barb Larsen.

The piece involved a man remembering when he was a little boy, five years old, who wanted to get his father the perfect gift for Father's Day. It would be the first gift he ever gave his father by himself with no help from anyone else. The trouble was he had no money or the ability to go to a store. The little boy's father, a young, but loving guy, was the boy's hero. The guy cared deeply for and did his best to provide for his wife and son. The gift had to be perfect.

The kid found that gift in a group of six apple trees his father had planted. Like the boy's father the trees were young, but did their best. They hadn't matured yet, so they only gave small, tough, cherry sized apples. The boy decided to gather up those apples for his gift.

The boy gathered them from low branches and off the ground because he was too short to do better. Despite the fact that the apples on the ground were a little squishy and home to a wormy surprise or two, the boy felt he'd picked the best gift he could. After he gathered the apples he found an old box in his dad's closet that a friend had given him as a birthday present. It was nothing special, just an old box, but there was a card with it. The industrious little boy then crossed off the writing on the card and wrote, "To Dad" on the envelope. He didn't quite have spelling down yet. He then wrote, "I Lov Yo," on the card.

When he presented his "perfect gift," his father said it was the best gift he'd ever gotten, while fighting back tears. Years later the boy, now grown, realized that it wasn't the gift, the father had owned everything he'd been given to begin with, it was the love behind it that had touched his father.

That is the same way it is with God. We never give him anything he doesn't already own, but we do show him our love. Our love for and worship of him is nothing, however, compared to his love for us. Like the father in the skit, he loves us unconditionally and will do anything for us. He loves us no matter what, no matter how small or silly our gifts may be, or how much we may mess up.

So remember to take the time to remember your father on earth for all he does and show him how much you love him, but never forget that you have another father, your Heavenly Father and he loves you more than we can ever know. Thank you to all fathers who give everything for those they love.

The Alfred United Methodist Church has services every Sunday Morning at 9 a.m. Please feel free to call Pastor Timothy Middleton, Sr. at (607) 587-8168 for more information.

Vacation Bible School to be held June 24-28

ALFRED STATION-- "Yes it is that time of year again", said Pastor Ken of the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church, "A 3 C church: Connect, Care Community: "It is time for Vacation Bible School."

Pastor Ken continued, "The theme for Vacation Bible is Everywhere Fun Fair God's World Comes Together. All children who have completed Kindergarten through Sixth Grade are invited to be a part of this fun filled opportunity to learn about God's world and word.

When asked when and where Vacation Bible School would take place, Pastor Ken replied, "The dates for Vacation Bible School are from Monday, June 24 through Friday June 28 beginning at 8:45 a.m. and ending at 2 p.m."

The day begins at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church meetinghouse at 8:45 a.m. The VBS children and staff will be transported by bus to Camp Harley Sutton, about 11/2 miles away, returning at 1:45 p.m. to the meetinghouse. Pastor Ken also wanted to remind everyone because of the length of day to bring a bag lunch with them."

Just in case you don't know the location of the church campus it is at 587 Route 244 in Alfred Station. This is one of the busiest areas of the county. The campus is located down from Robert Lawrence Trucking, Canacadea Country Store, Baker's Bridge Antiques and Alfred Counseling. The meetinghouse is right across from Hillbottom Pottery. ## THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, June 20

On this day in June, 1776, a letter was traveling to Philadelphia, via the Boston Post Road from Massachusetts. In it, Abigail Adams reassured her husband John:

"I feel no anxiety at the large armament designed against us. The remarkable interpositions of heaven in our favor cannot be too gratefully acknowledged. He who fed the Israelites in the wilderness, who clothes the lilies of the field and who feeds the young ravens when they cry, will not forsake a people engaged in so righteous a cause, if we remember His loving kindness."

Mueller Mullings

By MATT MUELLER
Alfred Sun Columnist

HIGH IN THE SKY

Recently I completed a solo driving round trip of 1,671 miles, leaving from and returning to Alfred, New York. My main stop was at the Conference Center in Green Lake, Wisconsin. There, with 25 other participants, I attended a five night Elderhostel Road Scholar program.

Unfortunately, the less conscious part of my brain tells me to fall asleep behind the wheel when I have been travelling for several hours. Fortunately, as I left the Village limits this time, my more conscious brain part had a brilliant idea which would create wakefulness. I should look for "modern" landmarks along the way which would surprise my resurrected father, if he were along.

In the summer of 1947, my father, mother, big sister, and I took my first long car trip to the east coast from our home in Joplin, Missouri. My father, Felix Eliot Mueller, who lived from September 21, 1895- August 28, 1951, did most of the driving. Among the states which we passed through were New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. I was doing that now.

There were a couple of old fashioned windmills along my way, apparently being preserved as a comfort toy for people like me. He would have been surprised by their overall disappearance from the landscape. And, by the appearance of many center pivot irrigation systems.

Several varieties of towering structures which I saw would have baffled my father. He would have questioned the purpose of the huge number of wind turbines, blades whirling, seen at one locale. Similarly astonishing is how the various kinds of towers which make cell phone use possible now are dominating elements in the countryside.

Most of the roads on which I drove were four lane or six lane stretches of the Interstate Highway System. It had been advocated by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and authorized by the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956. On that earlier family trip, we were thrilled to try out some of the four lane Pennsylvania Turnpike, which had opened in 1940. It included some of the same, worthy features as the now existing Interstates, such as easy graded curves allowing year round use. Of course, having four lanes also made the Turnpike safer than the former two lane cross country highways.

What other differences could I point out to him? Well, for this child who grew up reading them with my father, there is now a lamentable lack of Burma Shave six-signs-in-sequence advertising. Gone are messages such as: "The wolf is shaved so neat and trim Red Riding Hood is chasing him - Burma Shave."

Since returning home, I have consulted Wikipedia on the Internet for answers to additional questions my father might raise. It has told me that advertising is now restricted, according to the law which President Lyndon B. Johnson signed on October 22, 1965. This Highway Beautification Act of 1965 (23 USC 131) begins "Billboards are allowed, by statute, in commercial and industrial areas consistent with size, lighting and spacing provisions as agreed to by the state and federal governments."

I have not checked laws regarding rumble strips. Driving around New York State I have grown accustomed to them along road shoulders. Both my father and I shared partial deafness. I congratulate the inventor of the strips which my father never experienced. For me, the "feel" of them provides just as good a warning, or awakening, as their diminished sound. However, I was startled to discover middle of the road "center rumble strips" on my recent trip. These must be especially useful after dark on the narrow two lane roads where I found them.

By now it is taking much more than graded curves and a mere four lanes to keep the highways safe. From all appearances, our tax dollars and tolls paid are insufficient to keep the roads repaired. I was relieved that three of the four days I drove were weekend ones. On that fourth day I was passing by repair zones with road workers in them trying to earn a living while speeding motorists seemed bent on killing them.

Throughout my trip most drivers, other than truckers, appeared to believe that it was mandatory at all times to ignore speed limit signs and to drive a minimum of five miles per hour faster. At the entrances to some work zones there was a radar sign displaying vehicle speeds and messages. Most drivers did not abruptly brake when the truth of their speed was revealed to them. I do hope that road workers have good life insurance policies.

Traversing work zones one views orange traffic cones, feels speed bumps, and sees heaps of dug up roadway. I feel certain that my father and I would have found a "ground up" pun in there somewhere.

Three NYS All-Stars from Hornell to join Saxon camp

AU to welcome 80 football recruits

ALFRED—The Alfred University football team will welcome 80 new recruits when preseason camp opens in mid-August. The new players include a trio of transfers and 13 high school all-state selections, 12 from New York State.

Among the new recruits are three New York State all-stars from Hornell High School: quarterback Dominic Scavo, linebacker Zack Bacon and wide receiver Brendan Buisch.

Other New York State all-stars in the Saxons' 2013 recruiting class include: Tyler Johnson, quarterback from East Syracuse-Minoa High School; Lee Girard, linebacker from Glens Falls High School; Ryan McDonnell, quarterback/kicker/punter from Burnt Hills-Ballston Lake High School; T.J. The Saxons also have a Michigan state all-star coming in this fall in quarterback Mitchell Myler of Sacred Heart High School in Mount Pleasant, MI.

Scavo, a two-time New York State Class B First Team all-star (2010, 2011) and 2011 NYS Class B Player of the Year, transfers to Alfred from Ithaca and will begin his AU playing career as a freshman. A two-time All-Greater Rochester First Team pick and two-time Livingston County Athletic Association (LCAA) all-star (2010, 2011), the 6-3, 210-pound Scavo was the starting quarterback at Hornell High his sophomore, junior and senior seasons, leading the Red Raiders to three straight unbeaten seasons, each culminating in a state Class B championship.

Bacon is a two-time New York State First Team all-star. He earned Class B honors as a linebacker in 2011 and First Team Class C honors as a running back in 2012. Bacon (6-0, 230) also played on Hornell's three state title teams and on the 2012 squad that lost in the state Class C title game. A state wrestling champion as a senior, Bacon was a two-time All-Greater Rochester First Team (2011, 2012) all-star and a four-time Livingston County Athletic Association all-star (2009-12).

He was a Second Team New York State Class A all-star and Central New York Co-Player of the Year as a senior in 2011, when he led East Syracuse-Minoa to the third of its three straight Section III Class A championships. Like Scavo, Johnson transfers to AU with four years eligibility.

Girard (6-0, 215) was a Second Team Class B all-state pick as a senior at Glens Falls High. He was also a Section II Class B West First Team all-star.

McDonnell (5-10, 180) was a First Team Class A all-star as a placekicker/punter in 2012. He also earned First Team All-Section II and First Team All-Area honors last fall. McDonnell is the son of Alfred University Hall of Fame quarterback Paul McDonnell.

Crye (6-1, 185) was a two-way player at Avon High School last fall, when he was named a First Team New York State Class D all-star at linebacker. As a quarterback, he was also a First Team All-Greater Rochester all-star, a Livingston County Athletic Association all-star, and the Section V Class DD Offensive Player of the Year in 2012.

Murphy (6-1, 275) was an honorable mention NYS Class AA all-star as a senior last fall. He also earned First Team All-Western New York honor,

First Team All-Monsignor Martin honors; and was a Western New York Football Weekly First Team all-star.

Other top recruits to the Saxons include:

- Kevin Lamarque (6-2, 312), offensive lineman from Holliston (MA) High School. Lamarque transfers to AU from Division II Merrimack College, where he played one season. In high school, he was a two-time Tri-Valley League all-star who helped lead his team to a state championship in 2010.

HITS AND MISSES:

There is nothing quite like spending your Father's Day morning, out in the rain, watching a soccer game, umbrellas in use galore ... and you know all of one player on the field! Took in a couple of games on Sunday at the annual Webster WSA tournament where there were approximately 100-teams spread out over a host of age groups. Dan (Cutter) and Ann Cook's daughter, Caitlin was playing for a Southern Tier team made up of mostly athletes from Arkport and J-T. A squad playing in the U17 bracket although many were younger than that on this particular team. The ST team, dressed in pink shirts, won the rain-soaked game, 3-0 over Bloomfield which then put them in the finals of their bracket. Daughter Lauren played in this tourney many times during her travel soccer days, always on Father's Day weekend, so this brought back a few memories. And, the Southern Tier team (4-0) would play the bracket title game in the Webster Schroeder Stadium, on the turf. This time in bright sunshine as Cook tallied a goal, an assist and one trip over the 10-yard line! Her team beat the Greece Cobras, 4-0. Fun day which included lunch with the Cook's at UNO's Chicago Grill in Webster. Ah yes, was time to enjoy some soccer again.

Coach Dave Murray's incoming frosh class at Alfred University will include a host of football players from nearby Hornell that played on sectional and state championship teams during their Red Raiders career. Joining RB Austin Dwyer, a former teammate, will be the likes of Dominic Scavo, Zack Bacon (wrestling champ) and Brendan Buisch. The Saxons will have six games this season at the friendly confines of Merrill Field but with an overall demanding schedule. Besides tough E8 opponents like Salisbury, Ithaca and SJ Fisher the first two contests are against RPI and Montclair State. Yikes. RPI has been pretty strong in the Liberty League of late and Montclair from NJ contends with the likes of Rowan and Cortland on a yearly basis in their conference. Guessing that Montclair State replaced St. Lawrence on the schedule. The Saxons will also go up against Buffalo State, Brockport State, Utica, Hartwick and Frostburg State. "Great" schedule for the fans to see! Not sure Coach Murray will quite look at it that way. The AU-Fisher game at the end of the year will be the Courage Bowl at Growney Stadium in Pittsford.

The Hornell Dodgers (2-6) snapped a losing streak in a big way as they pounded the Geneva Twins, 15-3 on Monday morning at Maple City Park in NYCBL action. Coach Tom Kenney's squad was at Webster on Tuesday nite where they took on the Rochester Ridge-men. Was slated to take in that contest with noted area photographer, Leo Nealon. Hoping to hook-up with Webster native, Paul Welker ... the Hornell Dodgers GM and the SID at Alfred State College.

Former Alfred-Almond student, Jamie Bennett and his family took in the Father's Day baseball game at Tropicana Field in St. Pete's (FL) as the Kansas City Royals topped the Tampa Bay Rays, 5-3.

Former Almond and Geneseo resident, "Hilly" Moses and his son, "Marvin" were at Fenway Park on Saturday past and (guessing) for an AAU clinic or something of that nature. The younger Moses got to field grounders on the field for roughly 30-minutes! Sweet. Hopefully the older Moses wasn't "coaching" from the stands.

Alfred-Almond Hall of Famer, Alfred State College coach and perennial Region III "Coach of the Year," Gary "Doc" Moore had a chance to get out on the running circuit this past weekend as he took fourth-place in the St. Thomas 5K Habitat For Humanity. Moore was timed at 19:41.

Daughter Lauren ran in the Portugal Day 5-Miler in NYC on Sunday as part of the NYRR series of races. 3L was 1068 overall out of 5259 runners, 99th female out of 2103, sixth in her age group out of 87 and was timed in 37:48. Sure she has a run or two on her slate in between but 3L will be competing in the Utica Boilermaker 15K on July 14th. Maybe Coach Moore will be there as well.

John and Colleen Baker are off on a hike of Mt. Kilimanjaro this weekend as part of a two-week excursion they have planned. Wow. Hopefully Bakes will take some notes (journal) so we can report it in this space at a future date. Hopefully sooner than he usually gets back to me via text or phone calls!

Tuned into the U.S. Open golf coverage on ESPN on Thursday, delayed by weather, after work and there is nothing quite like hearing the voice of Chris Berman as the host of this golf event. Are you kidding me? He is annoying enough on the NFL Sunday pre-game show, but golf? Too many solid, actual golf people available, to have Berman fill this role. Tirico, Van Pelt, North ... anyone else!

A batch of NYS vanity plates spotted of late: SQR PEGS, SAFEMONY ... where?, 32BROWNS ... the great Jim Brown, EAGLWNGS (spotted in Lake Placid) ... A-A, GOTTORUN ... the famed Torrey Painting Striders and OHIO ST ... Vincent Wasilewski. Also, in from NH and Jim Gaisser ... SCHTZE ... his brother!

A rather "nice" start to the NHL Stanley Cup finals as the Chicago Blackhawks topped the Boston Bruins in game one in 3 OT's and the Bruins returned the favor in the second outing, in one OT. Sticking with Bruins to claim the 'Cup.

NBA ... Miami Heat in 7 ???

A gift from the Galanis family of Buffalo will allow Alfred University (AU) to renovate the main gymnasium in McLane Center, creating the Terry S. Galanis Family Arena. On hand for the announcement were, from left: Paul Vecchio, director of athletics at Alfred University; Terry S. Galanis Sr., a 1940 alumnus of Alfred University; Terry S. Galanis Jr., a member of the AU Board of Trustees; and Charles M. Edmondson, president of Alfred University. They are shown in the McLane Center gym.

Gift will transform McLane Center gym

ALFRED--A gift from Terry S. Galanis, Sr., a 1940 alumnus of Alfred University (AU); his son, Terry S. Galanis, Jr., a member of the University's board of trustees, and their families will allow Alfred University to renovate its main gymnasium in the McLane Physical Education Center on the AU campus.

The gift to create the Terry S. Galanis Family Arena at the McLane Center is part of the ongoing Score One for Alfred campaign to improve athletic and recreational facilities on the AU campus. Alfred University President Charles M. Edmondson announced the gift during Reunion Weekend.

"Whatever I have achieved in life, I owe to Alfred University," said Terry Galanis, Sr., founder of Sealing Devices in Buffalo. He admitted that he "busted out of college after six months," but the late Murray Rice, professor of physical chemistry, "took me under his wing, got me back into school and helped me get through. I wish everyone could get as much out of their school as I got from Alfred University."

"We are pleased to be able to make this donation to Alfred University," said Terry Galanis, Jr. "My father has always been in love with the University."

The project, which will include a new floor, new bleachers, and a new sound system, represents the first major renovation of the gymnasium since it was built in 1971, noted Paul Vecchio, director of athletics for the University.

Calling the gift "transformative," Vecchio said the renovated facility will allow the men's and women's basketball programs and the women's volleyball programs to better compete for Division III athletes against the schools in the highly competitive Empire 8 athletic conference.

It will also be a more attractive facility for hosting major University events, including opening convocation, honors convocation and commencement.

"The Galanis family's gift will impact generations of AU student-athletes, as well as the general student body because of the McLane Center gymnasium's constant traffic, including recreation and intramurals," said Vecchio. "This was a much-needed and sincerely appreciated gift to renovate a major Alfred University asset."

It is anticipated work will begin in May 2014 and be completed for use in fall 2014.

The Dugout continued...

Some "leftover" tidbits from my recent Lake Placid weekend to see 3L run as "hats off" to the race committee for a well-run sign-in at the Olympic Center for the Half-Marathon and Marathon are in order. Well signed, roped off, easy to get bibs for the runners. Great job!

Zippping along the NYS Thruway on the way from Albany to Webster (at speed limit) it was interesting to see two different golf courses I have played as a few holes can be seen from the road. Casolwood past Syracuse that I toured with Our Man Frank for sure and maybe Jake Taft as well. Hidden Valley near Whitesboro that I did indeed play once with Frank and Jake plus the last time with the late Bob Springer in his league. Fun course! Also, the Liverpool CC just off that exit with the famed #3 green located just behind Hooligan's. Stubb almost scored a hole-in-one there ... allegedly.

It was off to Canada this past Saturday with Nealon as we headed to the strawberry festival put on by St. Andrews Presbyterian Church near Niagara-on-the-Lake. Whew ... great food. After that we headed to St. Catharines to check-out some pubs there that Nealon raved about. Not too much "raving" to be had anymore in that town. Stopped in at Murphy's Harbourfront Inn where the bar is actually an old boat. Pretty interesting place. Scorecard Harry's was next on the agenda but the deck/patio was full on this super sunny afternoon. After that it was off to Red Hots on the "patio" where Nealon ran into an old camera-buff buddy. Unique. Did not travel on the R. Moses Parkway to get there.

Am headed to New York City to see Lauren this weekend and take in a Yankees game on Saturday afternoon. Rays and Yanks as we have same seats in RF bleachers we had last June. Was hoping to see the Dodgers-Yanks but LA is in town Tuesday-Wednesday. Also was hoping to see Andy Pettitte pitch but going to miss him by a day or two. Think 3L and I will get to watch CC Sabathia on the mound for NY. After game, over to Foley's Sports Bar and hopefully Mike from Florida will be there this time! And a host of other things I'm sure 3L has lined up for the weekend.

The Alfred-Almond alumni banquet is set for July 27th at Alfred State College!
