HEALTHCARE WORKERS EARN CERTIFICATION

AU awards first care management certificates

ALFRED-Alfred University, known as the 'pioneer college of Western New York," marked another milestone Wednesday, Sept. 6 with the awarding of the first-ever post-baccalaureate certificates in patient-care management to 34 students in a New York City-based program.

The students, all members of 1199 SEIU healthcare workers' union, are "pioneer graduates of Alfred University's care management program," said Dr. Jay Cerio, dean of External Programs for Alfred University.

W. Richard Stephens, provost and interim vice president for Statutory Affairs, told students, "You had to have a passion to devote time and energy to pursue this certification."

His comments affirmed those by Florence Wong, director of 1199's League Training & Upgrading Fund, who noted that each of the students had "accepted a challenge" in February 2017 when they enrolled in the classes that took them five months to complete and included a week spent on the Alfred University campus. "You are all working adults who had to balance work, family and course work" to complete the certificate. "I admire you and I congratulate you for your success."

Going forward, she pledged "We will work with you, support you and encourage you. We will help you get (new) jobs, and help you work on your master's degrees."

Angelina Asbery-Holmes, speaking on behalf of her classmates, said "I would like to thank everyone here for the opportunity" to participate in the first-of-its-kind program in New York State. "That's pretty powerful, as far as I am concerned. I am so very proud of all of us."

The students were taught at different sites, but all came together for the week on the Alfred University campus. "It was such a wonderful time," Asbery-Holmes said, "getting together, learning about each other, (forming) friendships and collaborations."

She expressed the students' appreciation for 1199 "for putting the program together," to the Center for Integrated Teacher Education (CITE) for bringing the partners together and to Alfred University, particularly Cerio and Dr. Robert Bitting, associate dean of External Programs, for developing and teaching the curriculum.

The innovative program curriculum "was designed to provide the knowledge and skills training required for the new healthcare job title of care manager... in direct response to the healthcare industry's expressed need for additional healthcare workers who have the knowledge and skills in behavioral health required to articulate, coordinate and manage patients with multiple care needs. The Alfred University program meets guidelines established by the National Academy of Certified Care Managers.

A second cohort will begin the program in January

U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT

Alfred State highly ranked in 'Best Colleges' list

straight year, Alfred State is highly ranked on the latest US News & World Report Best Col-

Alfred State is No. 1 among all SUNY schools in the Northern Regional Colleges category. For schools with out-of-state tuition and fees below $12,000, once again Alfred State earned a

No. 1 ranking in the north. When looking at all public colleges in the 11-state northern region, the report ranked Alfred State an impressive No. 6 overall, No. 3 on the Best Value list for public colleges, and No. 3 on the Best Colleges for Veterans list of northern public schools.

"We recognize that many students compare a long list of colleges and the 2018 US News & World Report Best Colleges rankings are instrumental to both students and parents researching their options," said Alfred State President Dr. Skip Sullivan. "We're very grateful that this prestigious list recognizes our faculty excellence, hands-on career preparation, and the superior student experience found at Alfred State. We've placed highly in a number of national rankings lately and it's a tremendous honor.'

Recently Money Magazine's Best Colleges for Your Money recognized Alfred State's web development program as best in the nation, while cyber security. applications software development, and network administration came in at No. 2 among all colleges offering similar degrees. An additional eight majors also made the national top ten list by Money. TheBestColleges.org ranks the college's veterinary technology program No. 3 in the country. Praise from student reviews also gained high marks for Alfred State from Review Princeton and Niche.com.

"Each of SUNY's 64 colleges and universities help our students find their purpose and their passion. Whether it's in research, education, outreach, or engagement, our colleges and universities strive to achieve excellence in everything they do,' said SUNY Chancellor Kristina M. Johnson. "We are thrilled that so many of our SUNY campuses have again received favorable rankings by US News & World Report. While we appreciate that rankings are one indication of quality, it does help of the best national education systems. Congratulations to each of the SUNY campuses recognized by the 2018 US News and World Report rankings.'

Alfred State continues to add new in-demand majors like the new motorcycle and power sports technology program. The college again ranks high on the 2018 US News & World Report Best Colleges list.

AU among top colleges for student employment

ranks in the top 23 percent of four-year colleges and universities in the country for its record in giving students meaningful employment and helping them to meet college costs through the Federal Work-Study Program.

A new study, issued by Student Loan Report, highlighted Alfred University for its participation in the federally funded program, ranking the University 167 out of 730 four-year colleges and universities that reported Federal Work-Study aid and job figures.

We are very proud Alfred University is among the top 23 percent of all colleges and universities in the country," said President Mark Zupan. "Considering we are ranked among much larger schools for the

ALFRED-Alfred University number of work-study opportunities we provide, we can be proud of what we are doing to help our students finance their educations, and gain meaningful employment opportunities that boost their professional, postgraduation success.'

Drew Cloud, who authored the report, said Alfred University's inclusion in the report "means that your school offered some of the best opportunities for students to work, learn and earn during school compared to the rest of the country.

Participating in the Federal Work-Study program "is a big deal," Cloud said. "The Federal Work-Study program is enormously beneficial to students looking for ways to limit student debt and find work experiences within their degree field.'

ONE STEP CLOSER TO ACCREDITATION

Alfred State Business Department granted candidacy for accreditation

dacy status, the Alfred State Business Department is one step closer to being accredited by an internationally recognized accreditation body.

Granting the candidacy was the Board of Commissioners of the International Accreditation Council for Business Education (IACBE), the leader in mission-driven and outcomes-based programmatic accreditation in business and management education for student-centered colleges, universities, and other higher education institutions throughout the world. The IACBE has hundreds of member institutions and campuses worldwide, and has accredited more than 1,500 business and business-related programs in the United States, Europe, Asia, the Middle East, Central America, and South America.

In its decision to grant candidacy status to Alfred State's Business Department, the Board determined that the department "has developed an appropriate quality management system; has satisfied candidacy requirements relating to its business programs, resources, and operational processes; and is eligible to undergo an accredita-

Programs within the department that are eligible for accreditation include the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA), financial planning (BBA), sport management (BBA), technology management (BBA), the Associate of Science (AS) in business administration sport management (AS), the Associate of Applied Science (AAS) in accounting and marketing (AAS).
Assistant Professor and Department Chair

demonstrates that our programs are well-designed and effective. External accreditation lends legitimacy to the programs and competency of the faculty within our department. Achieving this candidacy status places our business programs on the path to a valuable and unique accreditation that offers internationally recognized significance."

Green added that she worked closely with Assistant Professor Mark Bloxsom for many hours to achieve candidacy status, noting that he was invaluable to the process. Dr. John Williams, dean of the School of Architecture, Management, and Engineering Technology, credited both Green and Bloxsom for the achievement, and elaborated on its importance.

"The significance of this candidacy for accreditation reflects the academic excellence and commitment of the business faculty to our students,' Williams said. "IACBE accreditation will be an additional distinction further defining the quality and value of an Alfred State degree. I am most grateful to Professors Green and Bloxsom for their commitment and determination as we moved through the process.'

Over the next 18 months, Green said, the department will be collecting data and reflecting on academic and operational practices as part of its comprehensive self-study.

"Following the self-study," Green said, "the programs will be reviewed by the Board of Commissioners, and we have complete confidence that we will be awarded full accreditation status."

Are Republicans in Congress becoming disenchanted with Trump?

To the Editor:

In light of Congress's failure to repeal the ACA, and the continued broadening of the investiga-Trump's Russian involvement, apparently some republicans in congress are becoming disenchanted with our Chief Executive. He seems to be barely on speaking terms with the Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, and Speaker of the House, Paul Ryan seems to be having his own issues with the President's agenda. Since then, Trump seems to be acting pretty independently.

First, he announced via a series of tweets that transgendered persons were to be banned from serving in the military, it appeared to come as a total surprise to the Department of Defense and the Pentagon, neither of whom supported the change. The only justification Trump offered was the cost of medical care for transgendered persons, but he offered no data to support that decision. The military did not favor this decision. Their position was that many of these people had exemplary service records, and held very responsible positions, and that the issue of transgender people already serving was not addressed. Currently, Trump's action is being challenged in two separate Federal Court cases claiming discrimination.

The President's second major policy change has been to revoke Planning Board and Zoning the Obama - era decision to Board of Appeals. The time com-into this country by parents who were illegal aliens to remain here legally (DACA). This practice included ALL children, including newborns and very young children who have lived here virtually all their lives, and have little or no memory of their country of origin. He claims that this is in response to his campaign promise to stop the flow of illegal aliens (whom he defined as rapists, murders, and generally just "bad hombres") into the country. People seeking protection under the provisions of DACA are required to apply for that protection, providing detailed information about themselves, and their background, and to regularly update that information. He says he has selected this group to begin to fulfill his campaign promise because this data base of DACA recipients creates an easily identifiable group of illegal aliens. In fact, as adults, this group is responsible for about 6% of our Gross Domestic Product (GDP), proving them to be contributing members of society.

Trump has provided no data in support of either of these actions, and, in fact, no firm evidence of any real benefit to the American. He seems to be focusing on anything he feels he can accomplish without the support of Congress.

Sincerely, Barbara Crumb Branchport NY

ALFRED ART WALK

Alfred art venues throw open their doors Friday

throw open their doors all at once on Friday, Sept. 15, for the monthly "Gallery Walk" in the village.

Seven galleries and the Alfred Ceramic Art Museum will be open to "encourage collaboration among art venues in Alfred" on both Alfred University and Alfred State College campuses and in the Village of

The initiative is designed to "showcase area artists, and national and international talent alike by promoting one evening each month from 6-9 p.m. as a community night for experiencing art.'

Organizers suggest participants start their tours at the Scholes Library Gallery on the Alfred University campus because it will only be open from 5-6 p.m. that evening. "The First Line" features work by Andrew Deutsch, a professor of Integrated Electronic Arts at AU, and internationally acclaimed artist Ann Hamilton, curated by Karen Donnellan September 15: OPEN 5-6 p.m.

Other venues:

•The Alfred Ceramic Art Museum on the Alfred University campus, "Selections from the Permanent Collection.'

•The Bret Llewellyn Gallery, Alfred State College campus, "The 17 Day Video Series," featuring a one-night showing of the entire 10-video series.

•Cohen Center Gallery, 55 N. Main St., which will have two concurrent exhibitions by women who graduated from the Alfred University School of Art and Design in 2001. "The Part of Sight" features work by Liz Ainslie, and "Real Lookers" is work by Desiree Leary. The exhibitions will remain on view at the Cohen Gallery from Sept. 15-Oct. 19. The opening reception is 6-9 p.m. Friday, Sept. 15.

•The Fosdick-Nelson Gallery, Harder Hall on the Alfred University campus, will also open a new exhibition, "Alfred/Dusseldorf MFA in Painting," featuring work by faculty members who will teach in the School of Art and Design's newest Master of Fine Arts degree program. The opening reception is 6-9 p.m. and the exhibition also remains up •Gallery 2 Gifts of Distinction, 43 N. Main St., Alfred, features work by more than 30 local artists.

•The Robert C. Turner Student Gallery in Harder Hall on the Alfred University The show opens Sept. 8 and runs through Sept. 15.

•The Harland Snodgrass Gallery, Harder Hall, Alfred University campus.

WELLSVILLE CREATIVE ARTS CENTER

Jason Eady stepped up his songwriting

WELLSVILLE-Jason Eady will perform on Sunday, Sept. 24 at the Wellsville Creative Arts Center. Show starts at 5:30pm. Advanced tickets are $16, $18 at door. Tickets may be purchased online at www.WellsvilleCreativeArtsCenter.com or at the Art Center Coffee House. For more information visit the website or call (585) 593-3000.

Although country music was singer/songwriter Jason Eady's first love, he was exposed to the musical stew of the lower Delta — blues, soul, R&B and primal swamp rock — while growing up in Jackson, Mississippi.

Eady was performing in local bars by the time he was 14, singing and playing guitar. He began writing his own songs, but the live music culture in the Magnolia State was geared to hits and classics rather than original music.

Eady moved to Nashville to seek a record deal, but he became disillusioned and headed back to Mississippi, joining the Air Force on the way nome.

"Becoming a translator in the Need to Know. Air Force helped me be a better songwriter," Eady says. "I got a much broader view of the world and of other cultures, which helped me see things from a better perspective.'

After the military Eady got a job in a Fort Worth bank's IT department, and he began attending open mic nights to blow off steam. Soon he developed a fol-

"I was surprised to learn that Texas was exactly the opposite of Mississippi," he says. "If you played too many cover songs the audience would get restless. They wanted original music."

That encouraged Eady to step up his songwriting and step away from his day job, never to return.

Eady is currently touring in support of his latest self-titled release. The Kevin Welch-produced album, Eady's sixth overall, is the follow-up to 2014's acclaimed Daylight/Dark and has been garnering rave re-

In February 2017, he was included in Rolling Stone's list of 10 New Country Artists You

ALFRED UNIVERSITY

Two alums to open Cohen Gallery's exhibitions

ALFRED-Alfred University's Cohen Gallery on Main Street will open its 2017-18 exhibitions Friday, Sept. 15, with shows by two 2001 alumnae of the School of Art & Design. Liz Ainslie's "The Part of Sight" and Desiree Leary's "Real Lookers" will open with a reception from 6-9pm.

The elements within Liz Ainslie's paintings function as fundamental building blocks of perception—represented and rearranged. As a poet might reorder the parts of speech, Ainslie uses the language of abstract painting as a structure upon which to develop a visual investigation of human perception. To this end, the artist has developed a vocabulary of non-objective forms that sidle up with everyday objects, bodies, architecture, and the natural world.

Equally important to Ainslie's work is her manipulation of space through the use of color theory. Each of her paintings holds a record of the color relationships developed by mixing oil paint on the palette and drawing from the memory of observed color. Ainslie uses pho- art multiples, awarding them as prizes at public events, tography as a sketchbook, capturing interactions between architecture, light with natural interventions on Using consumer-grade cameras, on-demand printing processes, and readymade home goods, Brooklyn-based artist Desiree (Des) examines the tension between the photographic image and its physical presence in space. The works presented in Real Lookers often upend viewer's expectations by throwing the ordinary legibility of snapshots and household wares into question. New perspectives are overlaid on functional objects—like plates, picture frames, and blankets—by compounding their appearances with imagery referring back to themselves. In this fashion, American life's everyday materialism is represented through the interaction of its most familiar implements and their own images—that is, between reality and its depiction.

Des often creates socially engaging contexts for her mailing them through the post, or selling them at a low cost in retail environments of her own devisement. This ensures that almost any viewer can choose to take something home and experience it on their own terms—even (and especially) if that means the works are placed into contexts beyond the artist's original intention or control. In this way, Des hopes to encourage conversation about the role of art outside of traditional galleries and underscore how seeing a work over time changes both it and

For this show, Des has created a self-service, honorsystem, pay-as-you-wish Souvenir Shop where visitors may take home a postcard or poster and "pay" with their own artworks or other monetary and non-monetary offerings. These transactional goods will be displayed on pedestals in the gallery, and contributors are welcome to add the "Real Lookers" exhibition to their résumé.

Garlic Fest 'a stinkin' good time' in Cuba Sept. 16-17

CUBA –The Cuba NY Chamber of Commerce is partnering with Premier sponsors Cutco Cutlery and Seneca Gaming & Entertainment to bring the 13th annual Cuba Garlic Festival to the grounds of the historic Empire City Farms Sept. 16-17. Don't plan on kissing anyone after attending this great festival featuring over 140 vendors offering everything garlic!

The fun-filled weekend kicks off at 10:30 am with opening ceremonies and the crowning of this year's Garlic King and Queen, Loren and Cate Sweet. They will be assisted throughout the weekend by the Garlic mascots, Giana Liaccano, Julia Bickler, Tristan Clayson, and Cameron Getz.

Bob Dunkel of the Garlic Seed Foundation will be on hand to answer all your garlic questions. He will also offer informative garlic lectures in the Depot Building on both days of the festival. The Garlic Lady will offer her popular garlic braiding instructions. Fresh culinary garlic and seed stock in several varieties will be available directly from the many garlic growers in Tea Room; and Joe Fusco, Chef the Garlic Marketplace. Garlic Expressions vendors will offer delicious pre-packaged food and delightful high-quality arts and crafts. Vendors will also have some unique garlic-themed items for sale. The two-day festival includes an outstanding lineup of musical entertainment. Back by popular demand will be Anastazja, Trigger Happy, Zoar, and Not Norman. Newcomers to this year's festival are The Sticktights and Marshmellow Overcoat.

The music is always exceptional, but music isn't the only entertainment offered at the fes-

tions and tastings are also a crowd-pleaser. The Alfred State College culinary arts students under the direction of Chef Deb Burch will host this year's Cutco cooking demonstration. Also on the schedule are Frank Scott of Allegheny Hills Golf Course's Turfside Restaurant; Chef Ed Kincaid of Union Whiskey; Chefs Ruben Santiago and Nancy Meyers from the Duke House

Arts Instructor at BOCES. New to this year's festival is daily demonstrations by the Stagecoach Outriders. A unique aspect of this cowboy mounted shooting club is their emphasis on period clothing, tack, and equipment. They have an excit-

at the Lodge B & B and Culinary

Craig Braack will be back this year with two talks, and Tim Baird will be there with his talk on Western New York birds. Caricatures by nationally renowned artist Eric Jones will be available both days, and weather permitting, Joe Snyder will be back with his fascinating honey bee display. The festival will also include a blacksmith demonstraon Saturday, and a presentation by the New York State Police K-9 unit on both Saturday and Sunday.

For the younger crowd there will be story times and game centers hosted by Children's Library Director Tina Dalton, and the Cuba-Rushford Student Council. In addition to a special family entertainment featuring Charlie & Checkers, the weekend will include children's crafts, a petting zoo, pony rides and much more.

It wouldn't be a garlic festival without some tasty garlicthemed foods. Come hungry and follow your nose to Garlic Heaven Food Alley where this year's vendors will offer a tantalizing assortment of food sure to please every palate. Vendors will again offer the "Garlic Bites" menu items; at $3 or less.

The musical entertainment, cooking demonstrations and tastings, informative and entertaining lectures and demonstrations, children's activities, and on-site parking are all included in the daily admission of just $7/person (children 10 and under are free).

No pets are allowed on the grounds, and smoking is allowed in designated areas only. Plan to attend the 13th Cuba Garlic Fest. You'll have a stinkin' good time!

What's Happening at Almond Library By ELIZABETH CALL

Almond Library Director

One of the purposes of libraries is to be a safe haven for learning. As the director of the library, it has been my pleasure to uphold these ideals. Everyone who comes in the library has individual needs, and I love being able to help them.

One thing I have noticed lately on Facebook (my personal social media choice), is that there are many social divides in our society that don't need to exist. I have been told that because I am or believe one thing. I cannot possibly understand or believe this other thing. This is really flawed thinking. I read an article the other day that suggested that instead of looking for divisions, we look for intersections. This means, where my beliefs and identity intersect with your beliefs and identity. The library is a place of intersections!

Lego Club is back!! Join us Friday from 3:30-4:30 pm for Lego challenges. Each week is a new challenge. This Friday the challenge is to make an object that will sink and one that will float. Our student worker, and architecture major, Amanda, will be leading the club every Friday in September.

Mother Goose on the Loose storytime takes place every Wednesday at 11 a.m. This is an early literacy program designed for infants, toddlers and preschoolers, with puppets, songs, stories and more! It's also a great time for the grownups to socialize too.

We are holding a Technology Test Drive on Thursday, September 21 at the Almond 20th Century Club Library. This is a great opportunity to try out different devices such as an iPad, Kindle, or Nook to find out what features meet your needs. As the holidays quickly approach, many people look to buy technology for gifts. This is an opportunity to check them out.

Howe Public Library is pleased to welcome back The Valley

Thursday, Sept. 21 will be a "Grand Night for Singing!" for this Valley Theatre cast of performers from around Allegany County. The show starts at 7 p.m. at Nancy Howe Auditorium.

For an archeologist, the surface of the earth is littered with the hidden remains of many an ancient city, cities which once were the centers of thriving civilizations. No more. What happened? Sometimes wars finally did them in – think Troy. Many times it was climate change. Examples are scattered across Asia, once hubs of commerce and civic activity, now rubble covered in blowing sand. Will in a thousand years, Houston be such a place?

When Europeans reached America 400 years ago, they found a "new world." They cleared away the natives, the forests, the wolves, and the bison. An agricultural paradise was created with hard work. Looking back, we had it easy - a rich, deep soil - room to expand freedom to flourish. The overall climate was relatively benign, stable. The earth, much like The Living Tree in the childhood tale, gave and gave – we took and took.

For our generation, a new norm is developing, one not so benign towards us. In many places, the living is no longer easy. Cities like Houston are faced with hard and expensive choices: stay put, rebuild only better, smarter at Great Cost (about 100 billion or about $350.00 for each and every one of us!) OR: Move out of harm's way. Now that will be expensive!

In 1276, a severe 24 year drought began in the American Southwest. The Anasazi stuck it out for 24 long, dry years. Then they gave up, packed up and walked 300 miles southeast to the Rio Grande River Valley. They became the ancestors of the modern day Pueblo Indians. We humans are very clever, stubborn, determined, and are forever doing battle with Mother Nature. Many times we win. Sometimes the wiser plan is to retreat and live to fight another day.

If 50 inches of rain in four days becomes the norm, even if it only happens every 50 years, who do you think will win? When we came here 400 years ago, we had to build it all from scratch. Houston could do it again – somewhere higher.

Our ancestors may not have had a modern scientific understanding of nature. But they respected her. We have lost that respect. All the old myths warn of human hubris and we all know what happens – remember the Tower of Babel? Relearning that respect may be the President Leland Miles will welcome 367 freshmen to Alfred University on Sunday at a convocation which is part of a week-long orientation program designed to acquaint the students with their college home. New students and their parents will be greeted personally by President and Mrs. Miles at a reception in Ade Hall following the convocation...Before the start of classes on Thursday, the new students are given the opportunity to audition for chorus and orchestra, and to learn Alfred cheers and songs at a pep rally...

Since man first sailed the seas he has needed a means of navigation, a way of finding his way to his destination. The old armadas of galleons needed the compass and charts as still do the modern navies with atomic-powered, space-age ships. Today's U.S. Navy, with its huge aircraft carriers, sleek cruisers and swift destroyers, also needs to find its way around the seas and this necessity gives rise to a group of men who combine the old and the new to keep these ships on course. These are Navy quartermasters and navigators at work. One of these men is Quartermaster Seaman Alan R. Vanderhoef, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Vanderhoef of Randolph Road. Vanderhoef is serving aboard the USS Boston, a guided missle cruiser.

Virginia W. Buchanan, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles D. Buchanan, of Alfred, became the bride of Sigmund Fensel, August 16, 1967. Mr. Fensel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Fensel of Cleveland, Ohio. The couple were married in the town hall at Aschoffenburg at 11 a.m., and at 3:30 p.m., in a double-ring ceremony in the interesting old St. Peter and Paul's Church at Detwang in the valley near Rothenburg-o-Tauber. The ancient stone church was built in 968, its wooden altar hand-carved 1499-1505 by the famous wood carver-sculptor, Tilman Riemenschneider...

Sun Spots—The U.S. Constitution Speaks: I am the charter of political freedom establishing a government that has endured longer, without change in form, than any other in the world. The men who framed me made only one great mistake: slavery was allowed to exist and become the underlying cause of the greatest troubles that have beset my nation. As thte decades have passed, I have changed, by amendment, to meet the changes in society brought by the march of time. Public officials and military men vow to uphold and defend me. In turn, I defend the people against any abuse that an irresponsible government might inflict upon them.

The Board of Advisory Editors of 'Outstanding Civic Leaders of America' announced today that Mrs. Agnes G. Rhodes of 154 North Main St., Alfred, has been chosen for inclusion in the 1967 edition of this national publication...

The New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University will formally dedicate its new $6.2 million Scholes Library of Ceramic sat 11 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 16. The facility houses what Library Director Bruce E. Connolly calls the most comprehensive collection of bibliographic material on ceramic art and ceramics sciences in the world." The ceremony opens with a dedication symposium chaired by Connolly. Dr. Melvin H. Bernstein, professor of English emeritus, will offer the invocation, and University President Edward G. Coll Jr. will welcome guests. Dr. D. Bruce Johnstone, chancellor of the State University of New York, will deliver the main address, with Dr. James McCauley, dean of the College of Ceramics, to outline the history of the library. Val Cushing, professor of ceramics, will speak on "Artists and Scholarship," and Dr. L. David Pye, professor of glass science and director of the Industry-University Center for Glass Research, will speak on "Scientists, Engineers and Scholarship."...

Parishioners of Saints Brendan and Judge Parish community of Alfred-Almond and Alfred University and Alfred State College students will be asked this weekend at all parish and campus Masses to come to the assistance of a southern Florida parish that was devastated during the recent hurricane Andrew. Sacred Heart Parish in Homestead, Florida can no longer use its church, so badly was it affected by the hurricane. The parishioners are now using the school hall though its roof leaks as a result of the storm...The SS. Brendan and Jude parish collection will be taken up this weekend for Sacred Heart Parish and its people, some of whom attend nearby St. Brendan's Catholic High School in Miami. The entire collection will be sent to the parish to help put it back on the road to recovery...

Coach Jim Moretti's Alfred Saxons will open their 1992 season by hosting St. John Fisher at 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12 at Merrill Field. The Saxons, coming off a fine 7-3 year, are favored to defeat the rebuilding Cardinals. St. John Fisher, however, got its 1992 season started on a high note last week by defeating Catholic University, 17-15. Last year, the Cardinals were 0-9... "Bigger, stronger, faster" is how the Saxons describe themselves for the "1992 Payback Tour" in which AU will rely on some seasoned veterans on offense and a solid defense to vie for a berth in the NCAA tournament. Lofty goals? Perhaps. But by taking one game at a time, the Saxons aspire to finish at the top of the pack in the 1992 season—a season the teams has dedicated to the memory of long-time AU mentor Alex Yunevich, who

An Alfred Station woman will be the guest speaker at the next Christian Business and Professional Women's Club dinner at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 15. (Photo) Members of the Alfred State College community were all smiles recently as they celebrated the "grand re-opening" of the Engineering Technology Building following a seven-year, $17 million rehab project. Members of the faculty and staff as well as local government officials and representatives of the various organizations involved in the project were on hand for the ribbon-cutting ceremony in August. Some of the major rehab projects included new offices, classrooms, and laboratories for virtually all the engineering technology programs, a $1 million equipment grant from the Gleason Foundation, a large tiered lecture hall (SET 215), the clean room facilities for microelectronics fabrication, machine tool and robotics labs, architectural technology studies, and a new student lounge, just to name a few. College officials thanked those companies and individuals who worked on the project, including Terry Weaver and Jim Denaker of the SUNY Construction Fund; architect Phil Scaffidi of Scaffidi and Moore; engineers from Hatch Associates and RP Morrow; contractors, including Pike Construction, Christa Construction, and Horning Construction; as well as Douglas J. Barber, dean emeritus, School of Management and Engineering Technology, for initiating and leading the project for ASC. Pictured here, cutting the ceremonail ribbon are Craig R. Clark, interim vice president for academic affairs; NYS Assemblyman Joe Giglio (R-District 149); NYS Sen. Catharine Young, (R-District 57), Dr. Ronald R. Rosati, provost and officer in charge; and Austin Cheney, dean, School of Management and Engineering

Sunbeams--The condition of Dr. Alexis Clare, who was critically injured in an auto accident recently, continues to improve...Some 111 persons attended the Clarence C. and Edith Cornelius Jacox Reunion held Aug. 5 at Camp Harley Sutton in Alfred Station. Two surviving daughters present were Bernice Pierce-Holly of Zephyrhills, FL and Neva Darling of Spindale, NC. Traveling the farthest, from across the Big Pond were Ross and Julie Payne with daughter Charlotte from Surrey, England, UK. Family members attended from New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Ohio, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia and Colorado. Guests included Mike Minnick, grandson of John and Ruby Jacox (John Jacox was brother of Clarence), and Beth and Lyle Slack, granddaughter of Will and Vinna Jacox (Will was brother of Clarence). In addition to family members "catching up," they were intrigued by the family tree and scrapbooks that filled the attic of the Camp Harley lodge thanks to Patty Spaine Harvey Curran...The Brian and Debi Barber family visited her parents, Ron and Luan Ellis August 1-14. The Terry Ellis family visited August 10-13 and Tim Ellis visited August 7-14...Jamie Clayton, daughter of Terri Drake who works in the Alfred University business office, was cheering with the Buffalo Jills in the Aug. 24 half time show at Ralph Wilson Stadium..

What is Christian freedom? This is a question that Pastor Ken will explore in his sermon during the 11 a.m. Sabbath Worship Hour. This Sabbath (Saturday) at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church the sermon, "The Battle Cry of Freedom" considers what the apostle Paul's Galatians 5:1 said, 'It was for freedom that Christ set us free; therefore keep standing firm and do not be subject again to a yoke of slavery.'

From what are Christians set free? They are fee from the tyranny of sin; salvation through legalism or ceremonialism; and salvation through works righteousness. While the sermon represents the hub of Worship. The purpose of coming together is to focus and give glory to God the Father through God the Son, by God the Holy Spirit.

Preceding the Worship Hour is Sabbath School at 9:45 a.m. We are committed to studying the Bible. There is a nursery class, Pre- K-K, 1st and 2nd grade, 3rd-4th grade, 5th and 6th grade, Youth Class grades 7-12, and 3 adult classes. In short there is a class for everyone who needs and wants to learn the Bible. This learning will change your

After the Worship Hour if you have the gift of choral music you are invited to join with the Sanctuary Choir in preparing to lead the people of God in Worship.

Twice an immigrant—an Alfredian's journey

MY TURN By ALAN LITTELL

Alfred Sun Contributor

The people in the image form a tableau. Two boys, brothers, stand stiffly. Their mother, a handsome woman in her thirties, bends slightly forward. The only animated figure is that of the child, a pretty little girl of two. She is daughter of the woman, sister of the boys. Oblivious of her surroundings, she prances about. She has no way of knowing she has boarded a wartime troopship—life rafts lashed to the deck—and will shortly embark from an Egyptian seaport on the first leg of a longer journey whose safe completion is uncertain. Twenty-one years later, the girl in the photo and I will marry.

This is an immigrant's story. It is a story of dislocation and of renewal, and it begins many years ago, in the early days of the Second World War. Caroline Littell, who in later life would make her home in Alfred, was born in 1939 in Cairo, Egypt, a country then a protectorate of Britain. Her baptismal name in the Catholic Church was Caroline Jane Penelope Byass. Her father, Lt. Col. F.W. Byass, commanded a regiment of British armor in the North African desert war against German and Italian forces.

In the summer of 1941, with the Wehrmacht's Panzer divisions threatening Cairo, Caroline and her brothers, Charles, 13, and David, 11, were evacuated by rail to Suez, gateway to the Red Sea and Indian Ocean. Their mother, Constance Mary, accompanied them as far as the port. She would remain in Egypt as a naval cypher clerk. A pair of elderly nannies seeking passage home to England—the Misses Weston and Backhouse—had care of the children.

Suez in those days was a busy place, with once-great passenger liners requisitioned as troopships disgorging their cargoes of men and weaponry and embarking displaced colonials and prisoners of war for the long, slow voyages to South Africa and Britain. The two nannies and their charges boarded RMS (Royal Mail Ship) Empress of Russia, a three-funnel coal burner built in Scotland in 1913 for the Canadian Pacific Line's Vancouver-Far East service. The vessel was bound for Durban, on the east coast of South Africa.

From England, my brother-inlaw David Byass writes:

"From Suez to Durban there were on board about 200 Italian prisoners who were allowed on deck for one hour a day, otherwise locked below. At Durban we were dumped ashore so that Empress of Russia could go back to Suez for another load."

After a week in a hotel, the children and their nannies traveled to Cape Town, in the country's west. There they joined another transport, RMS Franconia, a single-funnel Cunard liner dating from 1923. She was a big ship but a slow ship. Her twinscrew propulsion could push her along at not much more than 16 knots, or 18 miles an hour. It was a rate of speed barely fast enough to outrun the German submarines known to be operating in African waters.

Franconia's master, James Bisset, takes up the story. "[We] loaded a cargo of footstuffs at Durban and at Cape Town," he would recall. "On 20th July 1941 [we] left Cape Town, alone, with a cargo of 3070 tons and 300 passengers, homeward bound for [the northern English port of] Liverpool. I was directed to proceed...across the South Atlantic to Trinidad Island, at the south-eastern edge of the Caribbean Sea. That region was under the protection of the United States Navy."

Bisset was a bluff, burly seaman noted for the part he had played, as a young ship's officer, in the 1912 rescue of Titanic survivors. His long career in sail and steam would be capped by appointment to war commands of the world's most famous liners, Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth, hauling hundreds of thousands of American troops across the North Atlantic.

Now, at 58, and with the safety of Franconia's passengers his chief concern, Bisset had shaped a course "less liable to U-boat attack than on the route along the west coast of Africa and across the Bay of Biscay." As an added precaution, he had ordered lifeboats freed from their cradles and "swung out over the side, ready for immediate lowering."

In his 1961 memoir, "Commodore," Bisset provides a phlegmatic account of his ship's unescorted flight from danger. "Franconia," he writes, "made the passage from Cape Town to Trinidad, 5628 miles, in fifteen days, at an average speed of 15 knots [17 miles an hour], and anchored at Port of Spain on 4th August.

"After taking on 2300 tons of oil and 943 tons of fresh water, we put to sea on 5th August. Twelve days later, we let go the anchor in the Mersey [Liverpool's river]. The passage from Trinidad...was 4499 miles by zigzag."

From Suez to Liverpool, the Byass children had covered some 15,000 miles in eight weeks. But of the many memories the brothers had of their adventure, one, they have told me, especially stood out. They recalled stationing themselves at opposite sides of Franconia's deck and of careening Caroline between them in her pram, catching the child on the vessel's downward roll and sending her back on the upward swing. Their baby sister, they reported, loved

War evacuees in 1941 from Egypt included two-year-old girl who in later life, as Caroline Littell, became a resident of Alfred.

every minute of it. Nannies Weston and Backhouse were not amused

Caroline spent the rest of the war with a grandmother in a suburb of London; her brothers attended their father's old boarding school, 40 miles west of the capital. Several months after the children had sailed from Suez, Lt. Col. Byass was killed in action in the Egyptian desert

I've headed this reminiscence "Twice an immigrant." For there would be a second journey to a new life in a strange and unfamiliar country. It came a couple of decades later, when Caroline booked passage on SS France, one of the fastest and most beautiful luxury liners of the big-ship era.

Launched in 1960, she was an enormous vessel, more than 1,000 feet long, with 12 decks and a distinguishing pair of raked, winged funnels. Her powerful turbines and quadruple screws could produce a cruising speed of 30 knots, or 35 miles an hour. The new ship, sailing under the house flag of the French Line, entered transatlantic service—Le Havre-Southampton (England)-New York—in February 1962. But she had come to sea too late. Jet aviation would soon lure travelers by the tens of thousands from the snail's pace of ocean voyaging

In early March of the liner's inaugural year, the 22-year-old Caroline Byass boarded at Southampton. The crossing to New York took five days. On arrival, the young immigrant walked down a canopied gangway and through a dark, dank pier shed to West Street, in lower Manhattan. A porter followed with her single piece of hold baggage, an oversized foot-locker, and Caroline stepped out into the United States.

The story ends with an epilogue. Although she and I had met and once lived in Paris, we married in New York. We moved from the city to Alfred, with our two sons, in 1968. Caroline became a naturalized American citizen in 1987. She died on March 18, 2015.

I still possess my wife's footlocker. Its once-bright latches and corner fittings are dulled by the span of more than half a century. A faded steamship label affixed to the lid bears the name of the great French liner she had traveled on. And one can still make out, in Caroline's unmistakable hand, the accompanying words—New York—that signaled not only her destination, but, I think, what she took to be the broader meaning of that port of entry: the immigrant's break with a European past.

The Cunard liner Franconia carried British colonials fleeing wartime Egypt to safety in England.

The late Alfredian Caroline Littell—then Caroline Byass—immigrated to the United States on SS France, one of the great passenger liners of the post-war era.

AU (1-0) will host E8 foe Utica (1-1) Saturday

team, currently ranked 19th in the latest D3football.com Top 25 poll, will host Empire 8 foe Utica at 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept.

The Saxons, 1-0 after a Week 1 win at Ithaca, 20-17, are coming off a bye week, while the Pioneers, 1-1, have a 20-7 win over St. Lawrence and a 16-10 loss at Catholic to date.

Alfred tallied 347 yards of offense at Ithaca, with QB Bryce Morrison (Randolph) providing 239 on 17-of-29 passing with two touchdowns in his first career collegiate start.

"I'm really proud of how Bryce performed in his first start as a Saxon," Rankl said. "He got hit a few times and never shied away and made some big throws in the second half."

Jayden Gavidia (Homer), who had the game-winning TD catch, caught five passes for 90 yards and the TD and senior wideout Rodney Etienne (Spring Valley/Ramapo) had six receptions for 53 yards. AU ran for 108 yards, with Maleke Fuentes (Olean) gaining 66 on 25 carries. AU's defense stifled the Ithaca attack in the second half, holding the home-standing Bombers to just 74 second half yards gained.

Junior linebacker Cole Reed and 10 tackles and senior linebacker A.J. LiCata had eight (1½ for loss) to lead the Saxon defense. Senior ends Ty Timmerman (three tackles for loss, one sack) and Toby Hale (two tackles for loss) each made five stops.

Utica (1-1)outgained Catholic, 341 yards to 230 but could not overcome the Cardinals' 16-0 halftime lead in a 16-10 loss in the nation's capital.

ALFRED-The AU football Utica QB Peyton Miller connected on 15 of 26 passes for 178 yards but had two interceptions, while running back Malcolm Stowe had a big day, gaining 130 yards on just 18 car-

Men's soccer falls to Keuka

The Alfred University men's soccer team fell on the road on Saturday to Keuka College, 3-1.

The Saxons (0-3, 0-0 Empire 8) got on the board early in the second half when sophomore Webster Merkey Evan Schroeder) received a pass from junior Alexander Tostanoski (Corning-Painted Post) in the 54th minute and managed to tie the game 1-1 before the Wolves managed back-to-back goals in the 76th and 78th minutes.

Senior Chris Gutierrez (Holbrook/ Sachem East) had four saves in the 90 minutes of play. Keuka's Christopher Spaulding also made four saves in net.

The Saxons totaled 18 shots (five on goal) compared to Keuka's 17 shots (seven on goal). SeniorJesse Lichtman (Mahopac) led Alfred University in shots with six. Alfred held the advantage in corner kicks, 7-3 and committed fewer fouls, 6-13 on the day.

The Saxons were at SUNY Cortland last night (Wednesday, Sept. 13). They now have a three-game home stand as they open Empire 8 action against Utica College at Yunevich Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 16 at 5

Women fall to Pitt-Bradford The AU women's soccer team fell to visiting Pitt-Bradford Saturday afternoon, 1-0 at Yunevich Stadium.

The Panthers scored the lone goal in the 12th minute as Courtney Shade converted the header off the corner kick from Kaitlyn

Senior Emily Wright (Dallas, TX/Plano West) picked up where she left off, having two of her three shot attempts on goal.

Both teams played each other evenly as Pitt.-Bradford had a slight edged on shots, 14-13, as well as corner kicks, 9-6. The Saxons (1-3, 0-0 Empire 8) came out aggressive in the second with 11 shot attempts.

When asked about his team coming into the second more aggressive, head coach Craig Yanni said "the team came out in the second half like a whole new team with putting forth 100% until the final whistle.'

Senior Sammy Jo Shanahan (Valley Stream) earned the loss in net, making seven saves in the

Tennis falls to Sage

University Alfred women's tennis team met with the newest addition to the Empire 8 Athletic Conference on Sunday afternoon but came up short with a 2-7 loss on the William T. Brown Tennis Courts.

The Saxons (0-4, 0-3 Empire 8) scored in both doubles and singles. The No. 1 doubles pair of sophomores Tori Pellegrino (Whitesboro) and Miranda Sakala (Olean) defeated Sage's Sammantha Montague and Rebecca Jackson, 8-4 as they were the last doubles match being played before singles. "Tori and Miranda played very well," head coach Mike Graham said. "They stayed aggressive at the net and on return of service."

Sophomore Amber Smith (Prattsburgh Central) earned AU's lone singles win at the No. 6 spot against the Gators' Samantha Dibbell. Smith defeated Dibbell 6-2, 6-1. "Amber played fantastic at the sixth singles position," Graham said. "She got her first singles win as a collegiate player.'

Two other singles performances that were notable on Sunday afternoon were No. 2 singles with junior Inda Gillett (South Kortright/Delaware Academy Central) falling to Abbey Clobridge 6-7(4), 5-7 and senior No. 5 singles player Beryl Torthe (Pretoria, South Africa/St. Mary's Diocesan-South Africa) taking Lindsey Toman to three sets but falling 6-4, 2-6, 2-6.

The Saxons will next take to the road for a four-match away series featuring two non-conference and two conference matches. First, they were to play at Fredonia Tuesday, Sept. 12. Then, they head to SUNY Cortland for a 4 pm start on Friday, Sept. 15. They end the road series with two Empire 8 matches at Utica College on Saturday, Sept. 16 and at Elmira College on Saturday, Sept. 23 with both matches starting at 1 p.m.

AU alum finishes marathon

Elisabeth Phillips-Jones (AU'12) finished the Hombolt Bay Marathon last month with a time of 3:15:09, earning her the 18th spot overall. She was second among women of all ages, and first among women ages 25-29. The race was in Eureka, CA, on Aug. 13.

Bill Sortore, Alfred University's track and field coach, was not surprised by "PJ's" results. "She lives to run, and long runs are her favorite. It is no surprise that she is finding success at the marathon. She can handle the type of training it takes to be successful."

Elisabeth participated in cross-country, and both indoor and outdoor track and field all four years at Alfred. She was captain for all three sports in her junior and senior years. She is a former school record-holder in the 10k.

She now makes her home in Grants Pass, OR, and last year hosted a few Alfred University alumni for the U.S. Olympic tri-from both sides of the ball as the Hawks defeated Alfred State 45-0 in the Pioneers' home opener.

The Hawk defense accounted for the first points of the contest as Mark Hackett intercepted a pass seven minutes into the game and returned it 13-yards for the score. The interception was the first of two on the night for Hackett.

Hartwick put together quick scoring drives in four of their next five possessions in the 1st half. All four drives featured Billy Pine finding Brad Garcia for scoring passes. The duo hooked up for scores from 23, 37, 20, and 15 yards to give the Hawks a 35-0 lead at halftime. Pine would finish the day 13 for 21 for 247 yards while Garcia caught six passes for 129 yards.

Tito Pichardo, who finished with 128 yards rushing on the night, accounted for the lone points in the 3rd quarter with a 3-yard scoring run and Brian McGovern connected on a 25yard field goal with just over 10 minutes left in the game to cap the scoring.

Hartwick gained 567 total yards and held Alfred State to just 77. The Hawks recorded five sacks on the day with Joe Tecklenburg leading the charge with six tackles and two sacks. Hackett chipped in five tackles with his two interceptions.

Brandon Davis (Lansing) led the defense with 11 tackles while Austin Parker (Port Byron) finished with nine.

Cross Country: Men & Women 2nd at Bruce Bridgemen Invitational at Finger Lakes CC

The cross country team had a strong showing at the Bruce Bridgemen Invitational at Finger Lakes CC on Saturday afternoon. Both the men's and women's team earned 2nd place finishes.

The men's team scored a 47 and finished only behind NCAA DII LeMoyne who won the meet with a near perfect score of 18. Jacob Hanss (East Rochester) and Shawn Rutledge (Watkins Glen) led the charge for the men. Hanss was 5th overall in the 8k race in 28:54.87 while Rutledge was 6th (29:47.75).

Lindsey Thiel (Liverpool) led the women's team with a 6th place finish on the 5k course. She crossed the finish line in 21:13.07. Olivia Leonti (Port Byron) was 9th (22:07.78) and Cassandra Ryan (Gloversville) was 19th (24:52.17). The Lady Pioneers scored a 55. LeMoyne won with a score of 18.

HITS AND MISSES:

The Buffalo Bills are in first-place in the AFC East! After their rousing, 21-12 victory over the hapless NJ Jets and combined with a rare sluggish showing by the NE Pats, the Bills are all alone at the top of their division. The Miami Dolphins were "idle" due to Hurricane Irma. Before fans of the Bills go too crazy, the Jets are and probably will be, the worst team in the NFL this season. Buffalo could also be (1-3) at the quarter-pole as Carolina, Denver and Atlanta loom. Good start, obviously, but wonder who is going to emerge as a WR threat? Need to put up more points than (21) when at Carolina and Atlanta soon, for example. The front four on defense for Buffalo is solid and they'll need to be strong all season for any success. Still think they'll finish in the (6-10) range.

Jim Stuart and Waffle were at New Era Field in Orchard Park on Sunday past and for Stu it was his 39th consecutive home opener! Saw on FB that A-A classmate, Don Z. Higgins there as well, along with daughter Mellisa and Jets fan, Anthony Saullo. Didn't see any postings of Smitty joining Hi-Hi-Higgins, so guess he wasn't there!

Had hoped to join Stu, heading from Webster/Penfield and perhaps Waffle as well, for the late October game against the incoming Oakland-LA-Oakland-Las Vegas Raiders ... but to no avail. Stu informed me season tix sold for that game. Must be I "missed" the Turning to Division III college football, it was a tough weekend in general for the E8 conference with a limited schedule on the slate. Hobart drilled SJ Fisher, 31-3 with Utica and Cortland dropping road games as well. Catholic out of DC nipped the Pioneers as Framingham (MA) beat the Red Dragons of Cortland. Hartwick did skunk Alfred State, moving up gradually to the D3 ranks and Brockport handed ex-E8 member Ithaca their second-straight loss with a 31-0 beat down. Yikes. The Saxons, Buffalo State and Morrisville all were in their "bye" weeks ... which seemed quite odd. The Bengals and Mustangs play each other this week.

Elsewhere in NCAA football play at the D3 level it was St Lawrence beating ex-E8 football member Norwich, RPI thumped WPI, Union eased by the Coast Guard and Carnegie Mellon blasted the University of Rochester, 42-14. In the latest D3 poll, Alfred was in at #19 and Brockport was at #22. Frostburg State is ranked 11th. They were terrible when they played in the E8! Also, UW-Whitewater is (0-2) on the young season. Yikes.

In big-time college football, the two best games on Saturday's schedule were on virtually at the same time. Yuk. Oklahoma was at Ohio State, where they topped the Buckeyes ... sorry Dawn, Michael, Glen and Chud as Stanford was tangling with red-hot USC. Thee Ohio State trip back to the "Final Four" might be a little tough this year with Penn State and Michigan on the schedule later on. The Trojans will have to battle thru a tough Pac-12 with top QB's all over

The Syracuse Orange (1-1) fell at home to Middle Tennessee, 30-23. Not the Tennesee Vols or even East Tennessee State of Coach Wiggins fame, but Middle Tennessee. The Blue Raiders have ex-SU head coach, Scott Shafer as their defensive coordinator.

How about this oddity in the Canadian Football League. All four teams in the East Division have losing records while the fifthplace Saskatchewan Roughriders are last in the West with a (5-5) mark. Should be a crazy playoff slate of games

Turning to college soccer now as Katie Kaznowski is a frosh defender for Guilford College (2-2). Yes, the daughter of the oncelegendary Alfred State College men's cage squad, the one and only Kaz (and Patti!)

Contemplated heading to the Skidmore-Geneseo women's soccer game on Saturday past but didn't really want to sit out in the balmy 59-62 degree weather. Coach Wiley's young team is 4-0 on the year, and after trailing 1-0 at halftime to SLU and Coach Bari's

AU football season tickets available

ALFRED-Season tickets for the 2017 Alfred University football season are available for purchase. The Saxons, coming off one of the most successful seasons in program history, have six home dates this season as they look to defend their Empire 8 Conference Crown.

Alfred opens its 2017 home slate at Yunevich Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 16, at 1 p.m. against Empire 8 foe Utica College. The following Saturday, Sept. 23, the Saxons play their annual Homecoming Game at 1 p.m. against visiting Rochester. Other AU home dates include: Sept. 30, 1 p.m., against Buffalo State; Oct. 21, 1 p.m., against RPI; Oct. 28, 1 p.m., against Morrisville State; and Nov. 11, 1 p.m., against Hartwick. Buffalo State, Morrisville State and Hartwick are all Empire 8 Conference contests.

Season tickets cost $60 and can be purchased on-line at: https://commerce.cashnet.com/c ashnetg/selfserve/BrowseCatalog.aspx. For more information. call 607-871-2193 or email Krystal Cooper cooperkm@alfred.edu.

Alfred enjoyed a season for the ages in 2016, posting a 12-1 record and finishing the year ranked 12th in D3football.com's final Top 25 national poll. AU had a 10-0 regular season mark, winning the E8 Conference title with a perfect 8-0 league record and becoming the first team in E8 history to go through a regular season unbeaten.

Out West it is Phoenix (Diana Taurasi) and Los Angeles with Candace Parker tangling. The LA Sparks stopped the Minnesota Lynx run last year to win the championship. Parker was the Mark S. Gaisser (A-A) and his 55+ slow pitch softball team won (yet another) major tourney as they prevailed in Woodlawns, Va. in the ISSA Eastern Championship. Five "major" wins on the year, went 5-0 in this tournament and scored 143runs along the way. Egads. The Dominos team scored seven-runs in the bottom of the seventh to grab the victory. In addition, the 50+ team competed in two majors and took second-place in both. "Nice" season for Gaisser as his ring/trophy total

The "AAA" playoffs are down to the finals in International League baseball action as the defending champion Scranton WB (Yanks) team will be taking on the Durham Bulls (Rays). Scranton continues to impress as Tyler Wade, Tyler Austin and Clint Frazier are all with NYY now plus top prospects Gleyber Torres (injured) and Dustin Fowler (injured/traded) are gone. The series opened in North Carolina in the best-of-five.

In MLB action ... the LA Dodgers? After going (43-7) at one point in the season, as of Sunday past they had lost 10-straight and something like 15/16. Big D and "Foolish" Farley getting Over in the AL, the sizzling Cleveland Indians had an 18-game winning streak as of Sunday past and the "Traveling Sports Fan" is getting ready to move to Euclid, Ohio!

The Hornell Red Raiders are (2-0) in high school football action with a win over Livonia this past weekend

What is Desmond "Urkel" Howard rambling on about on College Game Day (ESPN) and the football championship series?

Watching the Jets-Bills, Yanks baseball on Sunday and keeping up with Hurricane Irma on my phone as A-A friends Jake Taft, Brownie, Our Man and Mr. Timmer in the St. Pete's/Tampa area. While doing so, come across some absolute dirtbags looting a store in Ft. Lauderdale ... for sneakers! Taking police away from other areas, in the time of need for many and first responders have to deal with this? I wouldn't make a very good, impartial judge in this case. Also wouldn't do what some were suggesting on FB, but how low can you get? Just appalling.

This, after a great wedding on Friday nite at the Deerfield CC outside of Rochester, Jess Herbst and Nick Benway. Jess looked beautiful in the outdoor ceremony! Had a chance to chat with former Penfield/UVM soccer player, Haley Marks and former Webster Schroeder/Albany soccer player, Dani Britt. Sat with their respective parents as well as the Gill's from Burlington, Va. Hayley Gill played for the UVM Catamounts too and met her parents once years ago when going to see Herbst play soccer in Vermont. And Jess ... Happy Birth-

The last 3-4 years, while working at Frito Lay, have taken a week off in September-October and just "wandered around," usually with the ADK's involved somehow. Going to do the same this weekend, but just for four days. Golfing with former Union College men's basketball coach, Bob Montana on Friday in Schednectady. Had hoped that current Dutchmen basketball coach, "Murph' could join us but guess he has some b-ball duties to attend to. Next stops will be Cooperstown, Lake George, Ticonderoga, maybe Old Forge and then down thru the Utica area. Hopefully some more golf on the agenda, but will see about that each day. Wanted to play the Thendara golf course in Old Forge, with Smitty, but he apparently wasn't up to the challenge. Other things planned ... Star Trek!, and will see how they pan out.

Not forgetting to wish my (recovering) mom a very Happy Birthday ... now out in Kentucky!

Finally this week ... all the best to Lauren and Jason in NYC as 'Paige' (still holding out) arrives into this world!
