

Alumna profiled in "Commanders and Chiefs"

8/03/17

Alumna Lynn O'Connors Voss, RN, BSN '78, now chief executive officer of Gray Healthcare Group, is profiled in an article entitled "Commanders and Chiefs." She is cited as "a pioneer for the power of the digital conversation to address changing dynamics in consumer access and trust.

As the CEO of ghg | greyhealth group, a health communications firm owned by WPP, she is credited with helping transform the marketing of pharmaceutical brands. And she is the first woman to develop and run a global health communications enterprise."