Alfred 'Pet Pals' Program to seek furry friends

Alfred University student Aleda Boomhower, in conjunction with the Center for Student Involvement, has recently formed the Alfred Pet Pal program, an organization hoping to find opportunities to interact with furry friends. The inaugural meeting for the program will occur Friday, Sept. 7 at 3 p.m. in the Li'l Alf Caf.

"All my life, I've been around animals," says Boomhower, "and I am determined to find a way for this not to change despite living away at college and in a residence hall."

Boomhower, a Vermont native and a new biology student, cites her childhood with goats, horses, chickens, cats, dogs, and more as her motivation for starting the Pet Pals.

The newly created mission of the Pet Pals program is to provide positive opportunities for students to interact with animals both within the community and local shelters.

They will promote the emotional and health benefits of these interactions (both for humans and animals) as well as the educational benefits, such as biology and pre-veterinary studies.

While animal rights topics may be discussed and fundraising projects may be organized, this organization primary focus will be to simply increase interactions. Boomhower does plan to begin Pet Pal visits exclusively to no-kill shelters because, she states, "I realize that fellow students may be hesitant to invest time and emotions into animals that may be euthanized."

Boomhower looks forward to meeting other people who are willing to offer a hand to those with paws at the introductory meeting. Subsequent meetings will likely include travel to nearby shelters or visits by some four-legged friends.

Questions and inquiries can be directed to Boomhower at AJB6@alfred.edu or to the group's adviser, Nancy Banker, at bankern@alfred.edu or 607-871-2175.

Vocal Jazz Workshop - Saturday

All are invited to a vocal jazz workshop with singer Cindy Miller and singer/pianist Alan Jones on Saturday, Sept. 8, beginning at 10:30 a.m. in Miller 301. The art of scat-singing and other vocal jazz techniques will be explored. Singers are especially invited, but all interested in the topic are most welcome.

Ms. Miller performs regularly with the Gap Mangione Big Band and has appeared with the Benny Goodman Tribute Band, the Utica Symphony Orchestra, the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Central New York Jazz Ensemble. A graduate of Nazareth College and the Eastman School of Music, Miller receives rave reviews for her cabaret acts and has released several CDs, including Love You Madly and I've Got the Music in Me.

Alan Jones, singer and piano player, is best known as a cabaret performer. He and his long-time partner, Phyl Contestable, have been guest artists with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra and the Brockport Symphony and have been the opening act for Bill Cosby, Rich Little, and Jackie Mason. They have entertained at many resorts and hotels, including Trump's Castle in Atlantic City. They have released two recordings and continue to be among Western New York's most popular entertainers. Jones is a graduate of the Capital University Conservatory of Music with a master's degree from the Eastman School of Music.

Michael Lasser events - 'Fascinatin' Rhythm'

On Friday, Sept. 7, the David and Elizabeth Miller Guest Artist Series will present the well-known lecturer, writer, and broadcaster Michael Lasser, host of the nationally-syndicated public radio show, "Fascinatin' Rhythm." With singer Cindy Miller and pianist/singer Alan Jones performing the music, Lasser will narrate a program entitled "Fascinating Rhythms: How Berlin, Kern & Gershwin Made Music American".

In 1994, Michael won the Peabody Award for letting "our treasury of popular tunes speak (and sing) for itself with sparkling commentary, tracing the contributions of the composers and performers to American society." He and Philip Furia are co-authors of the recent book, America's Songs: The Stories Behind the Songs of Broadway, Hollywood and Tin Pan Alley. He is the former theater critic for The Rochester Democrat & Chronicle and for nearly 25 years has spoken at museums and universities all over the country with substance and humor. A graduate of Dartmouth College, he taught English in independent schools for 40 years.

Cindy Miller is a versatile singer with wit, warmth, and conviction. She performs regularly with the Gap Mangione Big Band and has appeared with the Benny Goodman Tribute Band, the Utica Symphony Orchestra, the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Central New York Jazz Ensemble. She is a graduate of Nazareth College and received her master's degree from the Eastman School of Music. She receives rave reviews for her cabaret acts and has released several CDs, including Love You Madly and I've Got the Music in Me.

Alan Jones, singer and piano player extraordinaire, is best known as a cabaret performer. He and his long-time partner, Phyl Contestable, have been guest artists with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra and the Brockport Symphony. Together they have been the opening act for Bill Cosby, Rich Little, and Jackie Mason. They have entertained at many resorts and hotels, including Trump's Castle in Atlantic City. They have released two recordings and continue to be among Western New York's most popular entertainers. Jones is a graduate of the Capital University Conservatory of Music and earned a master's degree from the Eastman School of Music.

Thanks to funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the trio will be available for two extra events: a classroom presentation for the music appreciation class on Friday at 3:30 p.m. and a workshop on jazz singing/scat singing at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. The public is cordially invited to these events as well as the Friday evening show which begins at 7 p.m.
