GIFTS AND BEQUESTS

Suggestions

The demands upon institutions of learning are broadening year by year, and equipment and endowment must be increased to keep pace with the demands. Alfred is no exception to this rule. With the assistance of her friends, she has been enabled to meet the advancing needs to a good degree, but not to as large an extent as she desires. Relying upon a continuation of that kindly interest in her work, there is here presented for consideration a variety of channels into which substantial aid in meeting the demands of the future may be directed:

Increase in the General Endowment Fund, the income of which shall be at the disposal of the university for its general expenses.

The Endowment of Professorships. Twenty-five thousand dollars Will endow a professor's chair.

The Endowment of Scholarships to pay the term bills of worthy but needy students. One thousand dollars will endow a scholarship.

A scholarship may be instituted conditionally by the payment of one hundred dollars, and kept alive by a payment every two years thereafter, until one thousand dollars have been paid, and the beneficiary will be credited on his tuition charges with the income of the fund. Where the scholarship is founded by a church or society, if twenty-five dollars or more be added to the principal annually, the beneficiary will be granted free tuition.

The Centennial Fund was established in 1899 with the expectation that it would amount to $100,000 when the university celebrates its centennial. Gifts to this fund may be made in amounts from $1 to $100.

The Gift of Books and of money to buy books.

Every gift will be used as the donor may direct. The giver of fifty dollars or more will be asked to allow his name to be used in connection with the gift in the reports of the university.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The President has the honor to submit his 21st annual report, namely for the 80th year of Alfred University, beginning June 8th, 1915, and ending June 6th, 1916.

A Gracious Providence has preserved during the year the lives of the students and members of the several faculties. One member of the faculty, Prof. George A. Bole, has suffered a severe illness but is now in improved health with prospect of recovery. A member of the Board of Trustees, Mr. J. J. Merrill, has also sustained a very severe illness, but to the great gratification of all his colleagues and friends, has sufficiently recovered to be present at this meeting.

Death has claimed two members of the Board of Trustees and one ex-member.

Necrology

Captain Russell Emmett Burdick was born in Alfred in 1848. His education was received in Alfred University. In early manhood he went to Cleveland, Ohio, where he soon became associated with the firm of Bowler & Burdick Co. This firm grew into a large wholesale and retail jewelry business of which Mr. Burdick ultimately became the president.

For many years Mr. Burdick commanded Troop A of the Ohio National Guard of which he was captain and with which he served his country as a volunteer in the Spanish-American War.

Mr. Burdick was elected a trustee of Alfred University in 1896, an office which he continued to hold until his death.

Mr. Burdick possessed unusual business capacity and his advice and counsel were of great value to the Board of Trustees. He was also a generous giver for the interests of the University.

He died at his home in Cleveland, Ohio, on December 22d, 1915.

Professor Stephen Babcock was born at Potter Hill, R. I., in 1832. At 16 years of age he injured his eyes so that he became totally blind three years later. Mr. Babcock then entered the New York School for the Blind, and after being graduated, became a teacher there, and later was appointed principal. He retired from the school in 1904, after a term of service covering about sixty years. •

Prof. Babcock invented the system of maps still used in America and Europe, in teaching geography to the blind. This invention, and his reputation as a teacher of the blind, gave him an international reputation.

He was elected a trustee of Alfred University in 1904, a position which he held until his death.

Alfred University conferred upon him the honorary degree of Master of Arts in 1902.

He was a man of great versatility, keen discrimination and executive ability.

For the past two years he has been in poor health and died at his home at Yonkers, May 19, 1916.

Rev. Leander Elliott Livermore was born at Independence, Allegany Co., March 26, 1835. He was graduated from Alfred University in the class of 1866, after which he studied theology at the Baptist Union Seminary in Chicago, and the Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

During most of his life, he was engaged in pastorates of various Seventh-Day Baptist churches. Later he was editor of the Sabbath Recorder for a number of years. He was a trustee of Alfred University from 1883 to 1902 and was president of the Board from 1893 to 1896. On different occasions he was appointed by the trustees as the financial agent, and in this capacity secured some important contributions for Alfred University, notably the bequest of Peter Wooden from which the University is enjoying the income of a fund amounting to about $22,000. Advanced years and impaired health compelled him to retire from active duties in 1908.

Mr. Livermore was a man whose loyalty to his Alma Mater and whose unfailing interest in education made him a valued trustee and an able and efficient advocate of higher education.

Mr. Livermore died at his winter home in Florida, January 22, 1916.

College Faculty

Few changes have occurred in the College faculty during the past year. Miss Bessie Lee Gambrill, A. M., was granted a continued leave of absence for a second year in which to complete her work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Columbia University. Associate Professor Ford S. Clarke, has continued in charge of the Department as in the previous year.

Prof. George A. Bole, A. M., on account of illness, was granted a leave of absence for a year and Mr. Charles H. Milligan, A. B., S. B., a graduate student of the University of Chicago, has carried the work in Chemistry, holding the rank of instructor in Chemistry.

Miss Madelia H. Tuttle, instructor in Public Speaking, relinquished her work in the College in order to devote her entire time to teaching in the Agricultural School, and Miss Lucia S. Weed, a graduate of the Leland Powers School of Expression in Boston, was named as instructor in Public Speaking to succeed Miss Tuttle.

The other members of the teaching staff have retained their positions as in the previous year, and have maintained their usual high standard of efficiency.

A few changes are to occur in the faculty for the coming year. Frank J. Weed, A. M., Professor of Instrumental Music, has tendered his resignation.

Miss Bessie Lee Gambrill, A. M., Professor of Philosophy and Education, who has been absent on leave for two years, has offered her resignation in order to accept the professorship of psychology at the State Normal School at Trenton, N. J., at a large increase in salary.

The trustees are fortunate in the fact that Associate Professor Ford S. Clarke, who has acted as substitute in this department for the past two years, is available to be made Professor of Philosophy and Education and to carry on the work of the department in an efficient manner.

Registration

The registration of the University for the past year has been as follows:

Total registration of the College	160
Theological Seminary (16 special) regular...	6
Ceramic School	49
Agricultural School	226
Summer School	48
Students in the Music Department	08
Total	587

Of this number 145 are duplicates, leaving a total registration of 442 different individuals for the year. The registration for the past year has shown an increase of 21 over the year preceding, notwithstanding the closing of Alfred Academy.

State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics

The attendance of this school has increased this year from 41 to 49. The school received from the State for maintenance this year an appropriation of $18,500. Two of the staff of instruction, Miss Clara Greenwood and Miss Elsie Binns, have been absent on leave, and Miss Marion Fosdick and Miss Myrtle Merritt have carried on their work as substitute instructors. Miss Greenwood requests absence of still one more year in order to complete certain studies which she is pursuing, and to give personal attention to her mother. Miss Fosdick has given good satisfaction as a substitute and can be retained for the coming year in this position. Miss Merritt, who has been substitute for Miss Binns, has received an appointment as an instructor in ceramic art, in Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa., for the coming year. Prof. Earle T. Montgomery, Professor of Ceramic Engineering, has tendered his resignation to accept a position as consulting engineer for a large manufacturing concern in Detroit, Mich. It will be necessary to find a man who can fill his place as professor of ceramic engineering.

The School by its growth in attendance and increasing usefulness, is attracting wide attention and rendering an important service to the State.

The appropriation for the coming year is $18,425, approximately the same as last year.

State School of Agriculture

The faculty for the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University has continued as last year with the exception that Mr. Luther Banta, M. S., of Cornell University has been appointed instructor in Poultry Husbandry, and Mr. R. Q. Smith, a graduate in Agriculture of the Ohio State University, instructor in Farm Crops for the short course. Also Miss Madelia Tuttle, has been employed for her entire time in Public Speaking, History and other subjects formerly taught by Mr. Orlo Perry, who resigned his position at the close of last year.

The application of the School for a new building to cost $40,000, was not approved by the Legislature although encouragement is given that we will be able to secure the appropriation for this building at an early date.

The appropriation for maintenance for the coming year continues approximately the same as last year, namely $44,475.

The growth of the attendance has been so great that during the past year the capacity of the buildings and laboratories is taxed too greatly for the most satisfactory work.

Theological Seminary

The faculty of the Alfred Theological Seminary has remained the same as for the previous year except that Rev. Walter L. Greene, Professor of Church History and Religious Education, who was devoting half his time to instruction in the Seminary, resigned his position at the close of the first semester of the school year. It is believed to be practical to substitute satisfactorily a special course of lectures, for the regular work of this professorship, and to do so will conserve the funds of the Seminary which have been for the past two years inadequate to meet the necessary expenses.

The attendance of the Seminary is growing in the number of students from the College who elect courses offered in the Seminary.

Alfred Academy

With last year, Alfred Academy closed up its work and turned over to the public school all instruction in high school subjects. Alfred High School retained the same principal and has organized its work in harmony with the proposition which was made to the district that Alfred University would contribute $500 a year for five years providing the district would organize a four years' high school approved by the Department of Education, giving courses preparatory to college and also giving opportunity for practice teaching by our college students in the department of pedagogy.

This change has proven very beneficial to the College as it eliminates all appearance of competition with neighboring high schools and adds to the prestige in which the college is held by the high schools of Western New York.

Summer School

The second session of the summer school was held from July 5 to August 13, 1915. The attendance numbering 48 students, was an increase of more than 100 per cent over the previous year. The demand for the summer school and the growth of last year indicate a still further growth and the permanent establishment of the school. Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, Professor of Modern Languages, continues as director and for the coming summer will have associated with him a faculty of 18 people. This school by vote of the trustees in 1914, was allowed the use of the college plant without charge, subject to the approval of the heads of departments or others responsible for the College property; but its faculty was to assume all expenses connected with the school and to leave all property in as good condition and repair as they find it at the beginning of the term.

Although it is yet a matter of sacrifice, and will probably for some time not become profitable financially, yet it should in due time become a source of income to the University.

Interscholastic Meet

The eighth annual interscholastic meet was held on May 24th, having been postponed for one week on account of bad weather and damage to the athletic field by floods. The meet however, was well attended by about 130 contestants representing a large number of high schools of Western New York. The high school making the largest number of points and earning the silver cup was the Canisteo High School.

In connection with the athletic meet, two prize speaking contests were held, one for girls and one for boys. In the first contest eight young ladies competed and the first prize was won by a representative of Batavia High School. In the second contest 13 young men competed, from as many high schools, and the first prize was won by the representative of the Addison High School.

Glee Club

In accordance with the instruction of the trustees one year ago, Prof. Ray W. Wingate, Director of Music, has organized and trained during the past year a college glee club of 16 voices. By the middle of the year, the glee club showed good material and good training and gave promise of a successful concert season.

It was found necessary to equip the club with dress suits which was done at a very reasonable cost through the generosity of Mr. B. S. Bassett, a member of the glee club committee.

The following report of the manager of the glee club shows the total number of concerts given with the expense account for the same and the total proceeds:

GLEE CLUB MANAGER'S REPORT

	Received	Expenses
February 29, Alfred	$107 55	$ 6 50
March 11, Almond	17 60	8 00
March 13, Hornell	17 75	15 50
March 29, Hornell	24 10	10 45
Easter Vacation Trip—10 concerts	362 51	639 17
May 10, Andover	10 00	6 50
May 18, Hornell	21 25	9 70
May 25, Bolivar	29 40	23 80
Total Expenses		$719 62
Total Receipts		$590 16
Deficit for the season not including the receipts of the Concert given Tuesday evening, June 6		$129 46

One more entertainment is to be given, namely the annual concert this evening and it is hoped by the aid of this concert all expenses for the glee club concerts other than the equipment of dress suits will be covered. If the same proficiency can be maintained for two or three years, the proceeds from the concerts should not only pay expenses of the glee club but also refund the money expended on dress suits.

The organization and concert tours of the glee club are doubtless the most effective advertising the College has had in recent years.

The glee club has been cordially welcomed in all its dates and enthusiastically received by the audiences in all its concerts. The work of the club has resulted in a large number of inquiries concerning Alfred University and will doubtless be effective in bringing in some students to the College.

Athletics

One important change in athletic administration has been made during the past year. This is the consolidation of the athletic associations of the College and the Agricultural School. This arrangement increases the number of available students who are good material for athletic teams, and has strengthened the unity between the schools. We were fortunate in being able to secure as a coach for football last autumn, Mr. E. R. Sweetland, a man of large experience as a football coach, and a man whose moral influence with the students is excellent and whose ability in training men is unusually good. The team made the best showing in football that has been made for many years.

Many of the younger alumni are advocating a training camp just before the opening of college in which a few days shall be given to the development of prospective players for next year's team. It is expected that Mr. Sweetland will be available again as coach.

It is generally conceived by educational institutions that athletic activities, wholesomely and successfully conducted, are of great benefit to the morale of the student body as well as a good agency for publicity and advertising for the college.

Improvements to Buildings

Two important improvements were made last summer in the buildings of the University, the first in the old Chapel building in which a new hard wood floor was laid, making the room available for basket ball and much more suitable also for a general assembly room. This was done at a cost of $406.

The second was the laying of a new hard wood floor in the halls of the first floor of the Brick. This has greatly improved this building and the cost for this improvement was approximately $311.

Other minor repairs have been made in these and other buildings so that the appropriation for repairs and improvements has somewhat over-run the budget as estimated but it has seemed necessary to make these repairs without further delay.

So far as can now be seen, no extensive repairs are demanded upon any of the buildings. The improvement which is most urgent and which the President would be glad to recommend could he see a way of financing it, would be a new heating plant for the Ladies Hall. This Hall should be heated with steam and the cost would probably amount to about $5000. Some provision should be made for this improvement at the earliest possible date.

Additional Dormitory Facilities

The efforts in recent years to make the Ladies Hall a popular rooming place have been so successful as to entirely fill the Hall with students. At the present time there remain only three rooms in the Hall that are not rented for next year and almost no provision is made for the girls of the freshman class. It has been the policy of the faculty for some years to require freshman girls to live in the Ladies Hall unless for a good reason they are specially excused. This policy will now have to be abandoned which would be very unfortunate, or extra provision will have to be made for a dormitory annex for freshman girls. The President would recommend that the trustees authorize the Executive Committee to make such provision as may be found necessary by way of providing a dormitory annex for young women.

Gifts and Bequests

The largest item added to the property of the University the past year is the remainder of the bequest of Ethan Lanphear, amounting to $1600. The next in size is the aggregate of gifts to the Peter B. McLennan Fund totaling $872. Gifts to the Davis Gymnasium Fund amount in cash to about $773, to date. Other items added to the endowment including scholarship payments bring the total addition of the year to about $4000. Notice has been received that by the will of the late Charles Henry Green, a bequest has been left to Alfred University of $4500 subject to the life interest in the income by his aunt, Dr. Lucy Babcock and on $500 by his nephew, Edward Greene.

Gymnasium

The movement which was started one year ago by representatives of the branch Association of the Buffalo Alumni, looking toward the creation of a gymnasium fund is in harmony with recommendations of the President repeatedly made in the past that steps be taken to increase the gymnasium facilities of the college. During the past year some relief has been had, particularly for basket ball, by the use of the Chapel Hall floor for this purpose. The building has been used since the new floor was laid without serious injury and has served a good purpose as a basket ball hall. Twelve dozen folding chairs were purchased for the use of spectators at games and the students have appreciated the opportunity for better quarters for this sport. The need remains however almost as great as ever, and will steadily increase as our student body grows, for adequate gymnasium facilities and the President commends to the trustees and alumni the movement for a new gymnasium in the hope that at an early date funds sufficient may be raised to purchase the Brick Livery barn and transform it into a modern and attractive gymnasium.

Betterment Fund Underwriters—Committee's Obligations

During the past year the payments on contributions to the Betterment Fund have not more than paid the interest on the $11,000 remaining of the underwriters' obligation. The uncollected pledges are not likely to be realized upon sufficiently to meet the obligations and the interest. The underwriting committee therefore contemplates an effort to raise a supplementary sum to assist in the liquidation of these obligations and the President commends to all the trustees and friends of the college this effort and bespeaks the hearty co-operation of all in the efforts of the committee.

Charter Revision

In accordance with a recommendation of the President made one year ago, that a committee be appointed to consider the matter of revising the charter of Alfred University in such a way as to eliminate the term "stockholder," Mr. H. G. Whipple was appointed to prepare such an amendment. Mr. Whipple however, is of the opinion that action looking to the change of charter should have the formal approval of the stockholders as well as the trustees. He has therefore made no effort to secure the change in the charter in the past session of the legislature but has made a study of the changes that are desirable with a view to submitting the same to the trustees and stockholders at their meeting today.

"Alfred College" As An Advertising Title

The President recommended one year ago that the trustees consider the advisability of authorizing the use of the name "Alfred College" for advertising purposes without change of the charter name "Alfred University." Action upon this recommendation was referred to the September meeting but it was not called from the table at that time, and hence no action has been taken. The President is still of the opinion that a wise use of the term "college" in our advertising is preferable to the term "university" as we are at present situated.

College Standardization

In January, 1915, there was organized in Chicago an association known as the Association of American Colleges. The association is composed of colleges and some small universities which do not hold membership in the Association of American Universities organized some ten years ago, and at the present limited to 22 of the largest and wealthiest state and privately endowed universities.

The second meeting of the Association of American Colleges was held in January, 1916, at which time the membership of the Association had grown to include over two hundred colleges and smaller universities. This association has undertaken the task of standardization and definition of the colleges which shall have degree conferring power, and whose students shall receive certificates for high school teaching or shall be admitted to graduate departments of large universities as candidates for advanced degrees. The preliminary report of the committee on standardization was presented and action upon it postponed until the meeting in January, 1917, at which time doubtless it will be adopted with slight alteration from its present form.

The preliminary report defines a "minimum college" as one which possesses buildings and equipment valued at $200,000 and an endowment of at least $300,000, or total assets not below $500,000; which has a faculty of not less than seven professors doing only college work on salaries not less than $1500 each, besides a president whose salary is at least $2500; and which has a student body of strictly college students of not less than 100.

The report defines an "efficient college" as one which has buildings and equipment aggregating $1,000,000 and endowment aggregating $2,000,000, or total property of $3,000,000; a faculty of twenty professors at salaries of $2500 each and thirteen instructors and assistant professors at salaries ranging from $1500 to $2000 each, with the president at $5000 and a student body of 400 college students.

The chief objection to the adoption of the definition and standardization recommendation in this report was not to the definition of the minimum college but to the definition of the efficient college by which it was inferred that all institutions with less than $3,000,000 of endowment and property are inefficient. With slight change of terminology in this respect, the report is likely to become effective within the coming year as a general basis on which to estimate the rank of all institutions of learning in the United States. Colleges with less than half a million of dollars of endowment and property will be forced to go out of business as colleges or to assume the rank of junior colleges, limiting their work to the freshman and sophomore years and foregoing their degree conferring power.

It will be observed that Alfred meets the requirements of the minimum college in all respects except that of number of professors receiving the salary of $1500 each. At the present time there are not seven of our professors drawing such salary. It is therefore evident that there is urgent need of adding to our endowment a sum sufficient to enable the trustees to pay the minimum salary of $1500 to at least seven professors of the College.

Our endowments are steadily growing each year. There are bequests of which we know, that within a few years will add considerable sums to the endowment of the College. These should be supplemented by gifts and bequests at an early date which will considerably increase the revenues of the college, available for the payment of salaries.

College Degrees

For the past two years the faculty has had a committee studying carefully the curriculum, college entrance requirements, proper degrees to be conferred, etc., with a view to revision and greater efficiency of work. One of the recommendations of this committee is of such character as to require the sanction of the Board of Trustees for its final adoption.

It is the recommendation that the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy be dropped, that the degree of Bachelor of Science be limited to technical students such as those pursuing the technical course in the School of Clay-Working and Ceramics and that the degree of Bachelor of Arts be conferred upon all the regular graduates of the College. This recommendation of the committee was adopted by the faculty with a majority and a minority vote, so that while the recommendation is made to the trustees, it is not a unanimous recommendation.

In making this recommendation the committee submitted the following data:

"Sixty circular letters were sent to as many different colleges and universities in the eastern and middle western sections of the country. From these institutions fifty-three replies were received and the results of the inquiry are tabulated as follows:

Of the 53 institutions, 13 are in New England; 24 are in the Middle States; 11 are in New York State (they are included in the 24 of the Middle States but do not include Alfred) and 16 are in the Middle West.

Of the 13 in New England none gives all three degrees as A. B., Ph. B., (or B. Litt), and B. S. ; 2 give the Ph. B. degree (Yale and Brown); 9 give A. B. and B. S. and 2 give only the A. B. (Williams and Mt. Holyoke) (Amherst after 1913).

Of the 24 in the Middle States and Maryland (including N. Y.) 6 give all three degrees; 7 give A. B. only (Penn. State, Wells, Cornell, Bryn Mawr, Goucher, Swarthmore, Vassar) 11 give A. B. and B. S.

Of the New York colleges in this group two only give all three degrees, (Union and Hamilton), 7 give the A. B. and B. S. and two give only A. B., (Wells and Cornell). Syracuse has just abolished the Ph. B. and has agitated the abolition of B. S. The matter is also being agitated at Columbia. Colgate's Registrar thinks Colgate will be on a one degree basis soon.

Of the 16 western institutions, 3 only give all three degrees (Bethany, Lawrence, Drake); 8 give only the A. B. and B. S. and 5 give the A. B. only (Wisconsin, Ohio State, Illinois, Oberlin, Ripon).

It will be noticed that out of the 53 institutions only 9 (17%) give three liberal arts degrees, and 14 (26%) give the A. B. degree only.

The fourteen colleges that do not grant any degree for liberal arts courses except the A. B. degree are as follows: Williams, Mount Holyoke, Penn. State, Wells, Cornell, Bryn Mawr, Goucher, Swarthmore, Vassar, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Illinois, Oberlin, Ripon.

Eight of these do not require Latin or Greek either for entrance or in the college course. They are Penn. State, Cornell, Goucher, Wisconsin, Ohio State, Illinois, Ripon.

The others do require Latin at some point in the preparatory or the college course for the A. B. degree."

"Reasons why Alfred should grant only the A. B. degree for liberal arts work and should not require Latin:

1. Simplicity. While not the strongest argument this has weight and should have due consideration. It seems a little complicated that a small college of 160 students should be giving liberal arts courses sufficiently varied to warrant three degrees.

2. Our courses as arranged are too nearly alike to warrant the granting of three degrees. The required work of the first two years of the college course leading to the three degrees is almost identical for all three courses. Is it worth while to give students different degrees because one has taken three years of Latin and the other has not, in his eight years of school?

3. The Ph. B. degree is looked on as inferior. This is a real point for our graduates. All our degrees are equal in our eyes. Yet in some sections the Ph. B. degree signifies a short or inferior course.

4. Finally, there is a consideration of great importance which it is difficult to put briefly. The breadth and content of education are different from what they were a hundred or even fifty years ago. A liberal education today to be really liberal must bring the student into contact with a new body of material much of which did not exist fifty years ago, but which is fully as useful and interesting and educative to the people of today as the older classical content was to people of an earlier day. Conditions of life are different. The emphasis is different. It may be fairly questioned if the results aimed at through the old curriculum are not better realized in our day, under our conditions, through the new human sciences and the physical sciences in due proportion, with the classical holding a real and important though subordinate place. This is the trend in education today. Is it not fair to suppose that the change in emphasis is in harmony with the needs of the time as was the change to the classical from the old medieval at the time of the Renaissance? All our courses represent a liberal education. Why not give the typical liberal arts degree for them all instead of letting it be monopolized by a course once considered as the only classical one—a course so badly diluted now with the newer subjects that it has itself lost its old meaning?

We ought to make our courses more distinctive if we keep them. That seems impossible with so small a faculty and student body. The logical alternative is to allow all the differences that now exist to continue, let people emphasize what they please within the liberal arts field, then, because they are all liberal arts courses or modifications of emphasis within a course, give to all who complete them the standard, recognized liberal arts degree—that of Bachelor of Arts."

The arguments of the minority in opposition to this recommendation are first: "The A. B. degree is historically associated with the classical languages and literature. That classical association with the degree should not be broken down."

Second, "Classical languages have been taught successfully for so long that they have proved their value as cultural subjects beyond any other subjects or group of subjects."

Third, "The distinction should be maintained between the education which is practical or scientific and that which is purely cultural and this distinction can best be maintained by requiring language in preparation and in college for all who would have a liberal or cultural education."

Fourth, "The trend toward the one degree of B. A. without the requirement of Latin for entrance or in college is mainly in the Middle West and West and the majority of the better colleges in the East and Middle States with which Alfred University must maintain rank, do not confer the degree of B. A. without requiring Latin, Cornell University, Penn. State, Adelphi, Dickinson, Goucher and Pittsburgh being the exceptions."

It will be seen therefore that the problem of the trustees is to decide whether it is advisable according to the recommendation of the majority of the faculty to permit students to graduate with the A. B. degree who enter college with four years of high school work which does not include Latin and who therefore can not pursue Latin in college. If we can not do this consistently, it will be necessary to maintain some other course than the A. B. as a considerable number of our students do not have four years of Latin upon entrance to college. Such students and a few occasional students who have substituted modern languages entirely for Latin, should not be dropped from the privileges of a college education.

Pre-Medical Course

Since the medical colleges of the country have established a four year course which is definitely required of all students whether college graduates or not, most of the universities having medical departments, have established combination courses. These provide the opportunity for a prospective medical student to transfer at the end of the sophomore or junior year to the medical department and at the end of the one or two years receive his bachelor's degree from the college on account of the work done in the first year or two of the medical school. Then at the close of the medical school course, he receives his medical degree. By this combination medical students receive the arts degree and medical degree in six or seven years instead of in eight years as is necessary in separate colleges and medical colleges where no such combination course is provided.

A number of the alumni of Alfred, and prospective students also have raised the question of the propriety of Alfred's establishing with some first class medical college a combination course and making it possible for a student in two or three years at Alfred to pursue such studies as will prepare for the medical course and then granting him the privilege of credit for the remainder of his college course on account of work done in the first year or two of the medical college. This arrangement will give Alfred the advantage enjoyed by colleges which have a medical department, in attracting students who have medicine in view. At the present time we are receiving almost no students who are looking to medicine.

After investigating the matter somewhat carefully, I am of the opinion it would be wise to establish such relation, and I find that Yale Medical College is willing to accept our students on certificate after they have completed at least two years in Alfred, provided these two or three years contain certain specific courses in Chemistry, Physics, Biology and Modern Languages. These specific courses constitute a pre-medical course. The President would recommend therefore that the faculty be authorized to announce a pre-medical course in Alfred, preparatory to Yale Medical College, with the understanding that the remaining portion of the college work after the pre-medical course has been completed, may be completed in the Medical College of Yale University for which credit will be given on the college course and the bachelor's degree will be conferred by Alfred University upon the candidate.

Other Reports

The reports of the Dean and Registrar of the College, Librarian, Curator of the Museum, Dean of the Theological Seminary, Director of the State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics and the Director of the State School of Agriculture, are transmitted herewith as a part of this report.

With grateful acknowledgment of the blessing of Almighty God upon our labors for the past year and with keen appreciation of the loyalty and co-operation of colleagues and students which has made this eightieth year of Alfred's history in many respects the happiest and best year of our work, this report is respectfully submitted.

BOOTHE COLWELL DAVIS,
President.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF ATTENDANCE

1906—1916

The following comparative table of attendance since 1906 shows the relative growth of the University

REPORT OF DEAN AND REGISTRAR

1915-1916

To the President of Alfred University,

Dear President Davis:—

The following brief report of the work of Alfred College for the year beginning September 15, 1915, and to end June 8, 1916, is herewith submitted for your inspection and transmission to the Trustees:

I Registry of Students

First Semester.....	155
Second Semester.....	150
Total different names during the year.....	160

II Classification of Students

Graduates.....	3
Seniors.....	25
Juniors.....	39
Sophomores.....	26
Freshmen.....	53
Specials.....	14
Total.....	160

These figures show an increase over those of last year of about 17% in the total registration, and of 77% in the Freshman class, the number of Freshmen last year being thirty and this year fifty-three.

There has been a gratifying seriousness of purpose in the student body, and almost entire absence of objectionable pranks and lawless conduct. This may be partially due to the vigorous discipline of the preceding year, and partially to a better appreciation of more serious work.

III Candidates for Degrees in Course

The College Faculty recommends the granting of the following degrees:

BACHELOR OF ARTS

Genevieve Cornelia Burdick	DeRuyter
Howard Frank Kirk	Maywood, Ill.	2

BACHELOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Ruth Brown	Utica
Earl Leslie Burdick	Belmont
Rachel Mae Burdick	Westerly, R. I.
Helen Ardoette Gardiner	Portville
Ethel Mae McLean	Moscow
Lowell Fitz Randolph	Alfred
Frances Olive Thomas	Niagara Falls
Mary Katryne Vander Veer	Dunellen, N. J.
Lucy Helen Whitford	Plainfield, N. J.
Eva Mary Williams	Wellsville
Ina Mae Withey	Allentown	11

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

Ford Beverly Barnard	Corning
William Ernest Buck	Canisteo
Robert Alonzo Greene	Alfred
Horace Burlingame Griffiths	Burlington Flats
Elmer Leon Hunting	Plainfield, N. J.
Raymond Maure	Richmond Hill
Nina Eola Palmiter	Alfred Station	7

BACHELOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN CERAMICS

Abbie Susie Burdick	Alfred
Inez Lewis Cook	Waterville	2

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CERAMICS

James Leroy Austin	Mexico
Leon Burdette Bassett	Alfred
Merrill Milton Groves	Brockwayville, Pa.	3
Total		.25

IV Honors

The class orator for this year, chosen by the Faculty from a list of five names nominated by the senior class, is Mr. Merrill Milton Groves.

The Faculty has abolished the award of first, second and third honors based upon a combination of scholarship and all-round excellence and has substituted the following:

SENIOR HONORS

"Three grades of honors are awarded to Seniors, viz.:

(a) Highest Honors, or Summa cum laude, to those having no grade less than "A."

(b) High Honors, or Magna cum laude, to those having an average grade above B and no grade less than C.

(c) Honors, or cum laude, to those having an average grade of B."

Departmental honors are still awarded to seniors who have pursued at least eight hours of elective work in the department, and who have maintained an average standing of B or more in all the studies pursued during the junior and senior years.

OTHER HONORS

Honors are awarded to members of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes, who have earned an average grade of B, and who at the time of the award have no entrance conditions.

It will be noticed that the new system of honors removes the competitive feature and makes it possible for any student in college to earn honors by maintaining satisfactory standings.

All these honors are first announced on Commencement day and later printed in the annual catalogue.

V Miscellaneous

The Faculty has considered the advisability of eliminating the Ph. B. and S. B. degrees, and giving the A. B. degree to all college graduates, and has recommended it for your favorable consideration.

The Faculty has simplified the statement of requirements for entrance to college, without reducing the amount from the fifteen units which have been required for several years.

The summary of the simplified statement is:

English	3 units
Mathematics	2 units
Foreign Language,	4 units
Science	1 unit
Elective	5 units

This seems to simplify the adjustment of our entrance requirements with the various high school courses completed by our entering students.

Respectfully submitted,

A. B. KENYON,

Dean

W. A. TITSWORTH,

Registrar.

Alfred, N. Y., June 5, 1916.

REPORT OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

To the President of Alfred University:

A brief report of the Seminary for the year 1915-1916 is herewith respectfully presented.

Teachers

Rev. Arthur E. Main, Dean, Professor of Theology.
 Rev. William C. Whitford, Secretary, Professor of Biblical Languages and Literature.
 Rev. Walter L. Greene, Professor of Church History.

Students

Regularly enrolled, six.

Special (not including Summer School), sixteen.

Summer School, 1915

Teachings of Christianity	12 students	30 lectures
Introduction to the Bible	4	10
Bible School Pedagogy	4	10
Teacher Training	1	10

Regular Session—Subjects and Semester Hours

FIRST SEMESTER

New Testament Theology	3 students	2 hours
New Testament Theology	1	1
Theological Introduction	1	2
Philosophy of Religion	8	2
Systematic Theology	1	1
Hebrew	2	4
Social and Ethical Teachings of Jesus	3	2
Peace	4	1
Ancient Church History	3	2
Mediaeval Church History	1	2
American Christianity	1	2

SECOND SEMESTER

Old Testament Theology	3	2
New Testament Theology	4	2
Philosophy of Religion	10	2
Systematic Theology	1	2
Homiletics	1	2
Hebrew	1	4
Hebrew	1	2
Wisdom Literature	3	2
New Testament Greek (John)	2	2
Theological Introduction	1	1

In the first semester 2 students took Public Speaking in the College 2 hours, and one student English 3 hours. In the second semester 2 students took Public Speaking 2 hours, and one student English 2 hours.

The sixteen special students were from the college, and their work was reported to the college office for credit. Several departments of the college are open to students of the seminary in subjects for which the seminary may properly give credit. This exchange of goods between college and seminary seems to us to be a most fortunate arrangement.

Religious Education

The college has recently placed Religious Education in its list of thirteen major subjects; and the seminary offers twelve courses to college students, of which a minimum of sixteen hours may constitute a major in this subject.

The Abraham Herbert Lewis Lectureship

The resignation of Professor Greene which took effect at the end of the first semester makes it possible for us (1) to retain him as the regular lecturer on Denominational History and Doctrine; and (2) to secure other non-resident lecturers. The lecturer for 1916-1917 is Rev. Charles Beed Clark, Ped. D., President of Salem College, Salem, W. Va.; for 1917-1918 Professor Alfred E. Whitford, M. A., of Milton College, Milton, Wis., and President of the Sabbath School Board.

For financial statements see the Treasurer's report.

Summary

3 teachers
35 students (including the summer school)
18 subjects (including 2 taken in the college)
56 semester hours (including 9 earned in the college); or, approximately, 840 exercises.

ARTHUR E. MAIN, Dean.

Wm. C. WHITFORD, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the President and Trustees of Alfred University:

Circulation

I hereby submit my eighth annual report for the year 1915-1916. Four thousand seven hundred and five books have circulated during the year. This number though much smaller than a year ago does not represent any diminution in the use of books. Early in the year the various professors placed all books for required reading and study on special reserve shelves with the understanding that these books were not to circulate but to be used entirely in the building. This fact accounts for the apparent difference in the number of books circulated.

Attendance

The library has been more generously patronized than ever before. By careful computation carried on for a number of days 223 persons entered the library each day or not fewer than 1,000 per week. This computation is based on the number actually entering the building and consequently many persons are counted twice or more often.

Openings

Aside from the regular day openings the library has been open four nights each week and on the afternoons of Saturday and Sunday under proper supervision. The library has actually been open fifty-two and one-half hours per week. These openings amply meet all the needs for library privileges.

The library has been liberally patronized by the town people. The total number of registered borrowers for the past year has been 590, an increase of 56 over any previous year. Of this number 175 represented people not connected with the college.

Additions

Two thousand six hundred and seventy-six books have been added during the year. Of this number 583 were purchased and 2,093 were gifts. The largest single donor was Mrs. B. P. Rogers, who presented most of the books belonging to her husband's library, the late Rev. B. P. Rogers.

Reading Room

Eight hundred and forty-four magazines have been drawn as reported by the reading room assistant. As current issues are not allowed to circulate most of the magazines are referred to in the building. The large stock of back numbers kept in the basement is in use constantly and a large number of requests for various material connected with college work frequently come to the desk. Our large equipment of magazines and pamphlets makes possible a ready access to a large amount of information.

Pamphlets

The librarian has worked out what he considers a scientific system of pamphlet indexing. Several thousand pamphlets are fully classified, catalogued and arranged in boxes by number making ready access to this very valuable material.

Binding

One hundred and seventy-five volumes of magazines have been bound. So far as funds will permit all magazines are bound as soon as the volumes are completed.

Donations

The following persons and organizations have remembered the library in the gift of books:

C. Loomis Allen	G. B. McClellan
Mrs. Barber Allen	A. E. Main
Percy Andreae	J. J. Merrill
President B. C. Davis	Mrs. B. F. Rogers
E. E. Perry	Hosea W. Rood
Maxim Hudson	Charles Butts
P. M. Hueffer	S. B. Crandall
Bert Kenyon	Mrs. Charles
Horace D. Baldwin	Martin Sindell
Ford Barnard	D. F. Stillman
D. S. Burdick	Nathan Straus
Dr. Daniel Lewis	Edgar F. Smith
E. H. Lewis	Mrs. E. M. Tomlinson
John Langworthy	Emile Waxweiler
Daniel Langworthy

Dr. Daniel Lewis presented two plaques of Washington and Lincoln to the library.

Organizations giving:

Wisconsin State	Carnegie Endowment for International Peace
Longmans, Green & Co.	Western Theological Seminary
N. Y. Stock Exchange	H. Mifflin Co.
Fleming H. Revell Co.	World Book Co.
Interstate Com. Commission	Japan Society
Brown University	Bureau of R R. Statistics
Maxmillan Co.	Smithsonian Inst.
American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society	U. S. Government
U. S. Brewers Association	American Portland Cement Co.
N. Y. (State)	Silver, Burdett Co.
N. Y. (City)	Chas. Cook Co.
American Historical Association	American Jewish Com.
Massachusetts State

Bulletins

The library has published two bulletins during the year. Bulletin number 7—Alfredana—compiled by the librarian. This publication includes the publications of Alfred University together with the literary productions of alumni and faculty, in print or manuscript, so far as such material was in the possession of the library at the time the bulletin went to press. This collection covers 600 titles. The second bulletin, number 8, was by Professor William C. Whitford on "Borrowing Money," an address delivered before the college assembly in March.

Seminar Rooms

In accordance with the instructions of the Directors a portion of the summer of 1915 was spent in accessioning, cataloguing and placing in the history seminar room of the library about 2,000 volumes of reports taken from the annex of the Brick. The seminar room now contains about 3,000 volumes and is considered second if not equal in many respects to the history seminar room at Cornell University. The second large room on the second floor has been given over to the education department and at the present time contains an educational exhibit used during the summer school.

Shakespeare Exhibit

In keeping with similar movements throughout the United States the tercentenary of Shakespeare's death was suitably celebrated by the library. Aside from a Shakespeare program given at the college assembly a collection of books dealing with the poet, numbering over two hundred, pictures of his times showing early theatres, actors, etc., were on display in the library. A Shakespeare edition of the Alfred Sun was also printed in which appeared a paper on Shakespeare and various items of interest connected with his life.

State Library Meeting

The New York State Department of public libraries appointed the 18th of May for a district library institute to be held here. The meeting was called in the office of the president and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather nineteen persons connected with library work in the district were in attendance. The librarian at the request of the Chief of Public Libraries of the State, took part in this meeting as well as in a similar meeting held at Olean on the 16th of May.

Books in Library

The number of books in the library at the present date is 29,502.

Respectfully submitted,

C. R. CLAWSON, Librarian.

REPORT OF THE CURATOR OF THE ALLEN STEINHEIM MUSEUM

To the President and Trustees of Alfred University:

Work on the classification and arrangement of materials in the museum has been carried on constantly. The Curator entertains over a thousand guests a year, giving them as far as possible the personally conducted visit, that is becoming so popular in the greater institutions of similar nature.

During the past year there have been received the following accessions, for which public acknowledgment is made.

Accession No.	Articles Given	Donor
161	Coppertoed shoes	Miss Zulieka Richardson
102	Memento of the war of 1812	Anna Surbaugh, Alliance, Ind.
103	Facsimile of John Carver's chair	John Wolfe
104	Chinese idol, coins, cups and chopsticks	Mrs. W. W. Ames, DeRuyter, N. Y.
105	Concretion	Ellen Holmes
100	Canteen, camp chair of the civil war, chopsticks and book, Confederate bill and a Continental bill	Addie Evans
107	Eight Theological Students photographs	Mrs. Hoffman
108	Marcasite Geodes	Milton Groves
109	Siliceous Geode	D. Lee Baker
170	Three Babylonian Tablets in Cuneiform script	By purchase
171	Birds and sundry curios placed in the collection by Dr. A. W. Kelly, not recorded by him and unacknowledged up to this time.

These have been acknowledged and classified.

The Museum has, during the nine years' service of the present director, been constantly growing. This growth would be much more rapid were we able to display our collections to advantage. Donors like to see their gifts displayed and appreciated. This means that some regularly available fund or endowment ought to be given to this work. The Steinheim could become one of our best advertisements, with the judicious expenditure of a reasonable yearly appropriation.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES D. BENNEHOFF, Curator,

Your attention is also called to the exceptions made in the Transfer Tax Law of this state, whereby Educational Corporations, with certain other corporations and associations, are exempted from the Transfer Tax, provided that "no such corporation or association shall be entitled to such exemption if any officer, member or employee thereof shall receive or may be lawfully entitled to receive any pecuniary profit from the operations thereof except reasonable compensation for services in effecting one or more of such purposes."

No officer, member or employee of Alfred University does in fact receive any pecuniary profit from the operations of the University, excepting reasonable compensation for services rendered; but, since the charter contains no prohibition, it is possible that the same objection may be made by the state in Transfer Tax proceedings as has been made by the General Education Board, thereby forcing expensive litigation upon the University, and delaying it in securing a much needed legacy, given to it.

It is believed that these difficulties may be obviated by securing from the Legislature an amendment of the Act incorporating the University as follows:

A. Add to Section 1 the following paragraph:

"No subscription to said permanent fund shall entitle the subscriber to any interest whatsoever in the property of the corporation, and the right to vote for trustees shall terminate at the death of the subscriber. No subscriber to said permanent fund and no officer or employee shall receive or be entitled to receive any pecuniary profit from the funds or operations of the corporation, except reasonable compensation for services rendered in effecting one or more of such corporate purposes. No trustee shall receive compensation as such."

B. Amend Section 3 so as to read as follows: striking out the words included in parenthesis, and adding the words in black face, viz:

REPORT OF ATTORNEY RELATIVE TO CHANGE . OF CHARTER

To the Board of Trustees of Alfred University:

Gentlemen: —

In his Annual Report for the year ending in June, 1915, the President of the University stated in substance that the General Education Board had made a ruling that no funds of the; Board would be appropriated to any institution organized upon a stockholders basis, and that the General Education Board considered that Alfred University was a stock corporation and therefore not eligible to share in the funds of the Board.

The matter was referred to your attorney, who reports as follows:

The criticism of the General Education Board is apparently based on the use of the word stockholders in Section 3 of the Act incorporating the University. If the criticism is well founded, then the subscribers in the sum of $100 to the permanent fund of the University, to whom the word stockholders refers, have the right to divide among themselves any profits that may accrue and to divide the assets remaining after payment of debts in case of a dissolution of the University. The right to divide the assets would be a constant temptation to the stockholders to bring about a dissolution of the University in order to secure a distribution of the surplus assets; and thus any funds which might be contributed by the General Education Board to the University would be dissipated, instead of being used to promote education.

No way has been found to convince the General Education Board that their objection is not valid. Other possible donors to the funds of the University may refrain from making gifts for the same reason, and thus the University may be deprived of valuable help by reason of the apparent ambiguity of the charter.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The following report of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds for the year 1915-16 is respectfully submitted:

Two large items of repairs and improvements have required special attention and unusual expense. The first is Chapel Hall where a new hard wood floor was necessary in order to make the building suitable for basket ball. It was at first intended to floor only a part of the main hall, leaving the remainder for another year. The unevenness however, of the old floor and the amount of furring required on the west side particularly, made it impracticable to leave this floor incomplete as it could not have been used with any satisfaction in that condition.

The floor in the main hall of Ladies Hall had become badly worn and must either be patched or refloored. It was therefore thought advisable to lay a hard wood floor in this hall complete.

Aside from these two items, the repairs have been minor in the several buildings. The committee regrets the necessity for overrunning the appropriation in making these improvements but it was felt that the conditions required it.

The following is a summary of expense on each of the several buildings together with a statement of the expenditures on the grounds chargeable to the E. Lua Babcock Fund:

Repairs and Improvements to Buildings

AUDITORS REPORT

Alfred, New York, September 3, 1916

To the Board of Trustees of Alfred University:
Gentlemen:

I have examined the accounts and vouchers of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, and the securities held by him on June 30, 1916. This report does not include the Betterment Fund, The Davis Gymnasium Fund, the Peter B. McLennan Memorial, nor the accounts of the State Schools.

I have verified the cash in bank by evidence of deposit; the income from securities by an examination of such securities, the income from students by an examination of the record of bills rendered by the Registrar and of the scholarship allowances granted them.

I have verified the Report of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, to which this report is annexed, consisting of the Endowment Report, Schedules 1 to 9, inclusive, and the Income Report, Schedules 15 to 27 inclusive, and also Schedule 29 by comparison with his accounts, and find such report correct in all respects.

The diligent efforts of our Treasurer in the collection of income, as well as the manner in which his accounts have been kept and his other duties performed are worthy of commendation.

Respectfully submitted,
HERBERT G. WHIPPLE, Auditor.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Board of Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910:

1. That an Investment Committee of five be appointed by this Board to be one of the permanent Committees of the Board, and to be responsible to the Board rather than to the Executive Committee; and that this Investment Committee be instructed to make a careful study of our investments and the possibility of reinvesting such of our funds as may be deemed by it desirable, and to make such reinvestment, safeguarding the interests of the University more fully if possible, both as to the size and length of loans and as to the permanent and increasing value of property on which loans are made.

2. That a Finance Committee of at least nine members be appointed to undertake at once the raising of additional endowments and to provide for other enlargement of the equipment and efficiency of the University.

3. That a Trustee-Auditor be appointed who shall audit all principal accounts and securities as well as revenues and expenditure accounts.

BY-LAWS

Adopted by the Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910.

INVESTMENTS

The endowment of the University may be invested in bonds and mortgages on unincumbered real property situated in this state, to the extent of 50 per cent of the value of improved farm property, 60 per cent of the value of property situated in any incorporated village or city the population of which does not exceed 50,000, and 65 per cent of the value of property situated in any city having a population exceeding 50,000.

No money shall be invested in loans on real property not capable of producing an income, saving, in the case of loans for the purpose of constructing a building.

The endowment may be invested in such other forms of investment as are authorized by the Savings Bank Law of the State of New York.

PROHIBITED LOANS—No money shall be loaned upon notes, bills of exchange, drafts, or other personal security; nor upon policies of insurance; nor in real estate contracts.

SEARCHES AND EXPENSES—In all cases of loans upon real property a sufficient bond secured by a mortgage thereon shall be required of the borrower; and all expenses of searches, examinations, examination and certification of title and of drawing, perfecting, and recording papers, and the mortgage tax, shall be paid by the borrower.

APPROVAL—No investment in any bond and mortgage shall be made except upon the approval in writing of at least three members of the investment committee, subscribed by the members approving the same, who shall certify to the value of the premises mortgaged or to be mortgaged, to their best judgment; and such written approval shall be filed and preserved among the records of the University.

LOANS TO CERTAIN PERSONS PROHIBITED—No trustee or officer of Alfred University, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee or officer, nor any professor in the employ of the University, shall directly or indirectly, for himself or herself, or as an agent or partner of others, borrow any of its funds, or in any manner use the same, except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the Board of Trustees; nor shall any trustee or officer, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee, nor any professor in the employ of the University become endorser or surety, or become in any manner an obligor for moneys loaned by or borrowed of the University.

No moneys of the University shall be loaned to any corporation in which any trustee of the University shall be interested as a stockholder, trustee or officer; but this clause shall not be construed to apply to deposits in any incorporated bank.

The Tomlinson Medal

The Tomlinson medal for proficiency in Classical Philology was established in June, 1912, by Dr. Corliss Fitz Randolph of Newark, New Jersey, an alumnus and trustee of Alfred University, as a tribute to the memory of Edward Mulford Tomlinson, for many years William B. Maxson professor of the Greek Language and Literature at Alfred.

The general conditions for the award of this medal are as follows:

"All candidates for the medal shall have passed satisfactorily the usual entrance requirements in Latin and Greek (for the classical course), and, following that, shall have pursued the study of these subjects continuously throughout the entire four years of their college course."

The detailed requirements may be had by applying to the head of the department of classical languages.

Ceramic and Chemistry Medal

A medal will be awarded to that member of the Junior class who, during his Sophomore and Junior years, has made the highest average in all his subjects. Application for this medal must be made in writing to the Registrar before the end of the first semester of his Junior year. The competition is open to those majoring in chemistry or ceramic engineering.

The Twentieth Century Club Cup

The Twentieth Century Club Cup is given by the Twentieth Century Club to the one of the two lower classes, Freshman or Sophomore, having the highest scholastic average.

PRIZES AND MEDALS

HONORARY DEGREES

CLAYTON ADELBERT BURDICK, presented by Prof. W. C. Whitford.

Prof. Whitford said:

Mr. President: It is my privilege to nominate for an honorary degree a man who has been for many years in public service as a pastor. As a preacher of righteousness he has been a fearless messenger of God; but he has not lost the favor of men because his genuine sympathy has won the hearts of the people. As a sermonizer he has shown genius and ability, and what he has said has ever been enforced by his character as a man and a Christian.

I appreciate the privilege of this moment the more since the man of whom I speak was my pastor when I left home to study for the gospel ministry. I nominate Rev. Clayton A. Burdick of Westerly, Rhode Island, for the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

President Davis said:

Preacher of the gospel, pastor, spiritual counselor, in recognition of your long and increasingly distinguished service to humanity through able leadership in the Christian church, Alfred University extends to you a welcome to her honorary alumni. By authority of the Board of Trustees, I admit you, Clayton Adelbert Burdick, to the degree of Doctor of Divinity causa honoris, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining.

Clayton Adelbert Burdick, youngest child of the Rev. Russell G. and Adaline Campbell Burdick, was born in the little village of Utica, Dane County, Wisconsin, February 1, 1858. His early life was spent in his native state. He attended the common schools until his fourteenth year when he entered on a course of study at Albion Academy, Albion, Wis., which was completed in 1878. He studied law for a period in the office of Ira A. Towne, Albert Lea, Minnesota, and with the firm of Hill & Martz, in Indianapolis, Indiana. He was licensed to preach in June, 1884, by the Seventh Day Baptist church at Utica, Wis., and ordained to the Gospel Ministry by a council called by the same body, April 25, 1885. He was pastor at West Edmeston, N. Y., from 1885 to 1889 ; at Brookfield, N. Y. from 1889 to 1899 ; at Ashaway, R. I., from 1899 to 1904, and from 1904 to the present time, at Westerly, R. I. He was married October 1, 1884, to Hattie E. Crandall of Chicago, who died May 11, 1910. There are four daughters two of whom are graduates of Alfred University. His address is Westerly, R. I.

JOHN AUGUSTUS LAPP, presented by Prof. Norwood.

Prof. Norwood said:

Mr. President: It is with the deepest sense of honor, and the greatest personal satisfaction that I rise to nominate the next candidate for an honorary degree. This gentleman was born in this county, and is a graduate of this college—a true son of Old Alfred. He is a man of high educational attainments, having spent over two years in graduate study at Wisconsin and Cornell, where he held assistantships or fellowships. In 1908 he became Director of the State Bureau of Legislative Information at Indianapolis, and this position has since remained the chief field of his public services. But he has branched out therefrom and has also been or still is: Secretary of the Indiana Commission on Industrial and Agricultural Education; Member of the National Commission on Vocational Education; Member of Special Libraries Association; Managing Editor of "Special Libraries," Associate Editor "National Municipal Review" and of the "American Political Science Review" and founder of the Public Affairs Information Service.. He is also joint author of the notable volume entitled "Learning to Earn." This gentleman, Mr. President, my old college chum, fellow student, classmate and long time friend—scholar, editor, author, practical reformer and statesman, Hon. John Augustus Lapp, I nominate for the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

President Davis said:

Son of Alfred, distinguished scholar, investigator, publicist, in recognition of your notable achievements in the domain of public service, expert legislation, authorship and as secretary of the National Commission for Vocational Education, your Alma Mater gladly admits you, John Augustus Lapp, to the degree of Doctor of Laws, causa honoris, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining.

John Augustus Lapp was born at Fillmore, N. Y., in 1880. He was graduated from Alfred University in the class of 1946. He was a graduate scholar in Political Science in the University of Wisconsin 1906-07 and fellow in Economics in Cornell University 1907-08. In 1908 he became Legislative Reference Librarian of Indiana and Director of the Bureau of Legislative Information, a position which he continues to hold. He was secretary of the State Commission on Industrial and Agricultural Education in 1912-13; a member and secretary of the Federal Commission on Vocational Education, 1914. He is managing editor of "Special Libraries," associate editor of the "National Municipal Review" and "American Political Science Review." He is lecturer on Legislation in the University of Indiana and author of "Learning to Earn," published in 1915. He was elected trustee of Alfred University in 1911. His address is State House, Indianapolis, Indiana.

CHAUNCEY LOOMIS ALLEN, presented by Prof. W. A. Titsworth.

Prof. Titsworth said:

Mr. President: We have with us this morning a distinguished guest and alumnus who has made himself famous as a man who does things; a member of a firm of experts in the management of public utilities, especially in connection with electric railways, light, power and gas companies; a well known engineer, an efficiency expert and an authority on all matters pertaining to public utilities. He is now president of two railway companies, vice president of two others, and president and treasurer of the firm of Allen, Peck & Co. Inc. of Syracuse; the author of many public addresses, notable among which was the one delivered last October as president of the American Electric Railway Association at San Francisco. Mr. President, in view of these accomplishments, I deem it a great honor and privilege to present Mr. Chauncey Loomis Allen for the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

President Davis said:

Son of Alfred, man of affairs, high-minded citizen, master in the science of electrical engineering, expert in the administration of public utilities; in recognition of your scientific attainments and service rendered to the public through your direction of public service corporations, and in appreciation of your scholarly, able, discriminating and prophetic doctor's oration, your Alma Mater gladly admits you, Chauncey Loomis Allen, Master of Science, to the degree of Doctor of Science, causa honoris, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining.

Chauncey Loomis Allen was born in Syracuse, N. Y., in 1870. He entered Alfred University in 1886, where he remained for three years. He then attended Syracuse University one year. In 1890 he entered the employ of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company in connection with its engineering corps. In 1892 he engaged in private engineering practice in Syracuse, N. Y. In 1895 he became civil engineer of the Syracuse Street Railway Company; later the Syracuse Rapid Transit Railway Company. In 1898 he was made assistant general manager of this company and in 1899 general manager. From 1900 to 1901, he was general manager of the Lorain Street Railway Company of Lorain, Ohio. In 1901 he became general manager of the Utica and Mohawk Valley Railway Company, a position which he held until 1912. Since that time, he became president of the firm of Allen & Peck Co. Inc., electric railway engineers and promoters of Syracuse. In 1914, he was elected president of the American Electric Railway Association. He is president of the Newport News and Hampton Railway, Gas and Electric Co. of Hampton, Va., and the Syracuse and Suburban Railway Co. of Syracuse, vice president of the Maryland Electric Railway Co. of Annapolis, Md., and the Buffalo, Lockport and Rochester Railway Co. of Rochester. In 1905, Mr. Allen received from Alfred University the honorary degree of Master of Science. In 1909, he was elected trustee of Alfred University. His address is Syracuse, N. Y.

Appendix DNEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY-WORKING
AND CERAMICS*DIRECTOR'S REPORT

For year ending September 30th, 1915

To the President of Alfred University,

Alfred, N. Y.

Sir:—I have the honor of submitting to you the fifteenth annual report of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics.

A survey of the past fifteen years during which time I have been Director of the school reveals a degree of steady progress which serves to emphasize the fact that a real need is being met. About fifty young men and women have been graduated and a large number of other persons have sought and received instruction in the mysteries of clay working. Graduates and students are or have been, working in twenty-four states of the Union and in Canada and correspondence has been received from a large proportion of the remaining states.

Two large conventions have been attended during the past year. The convention of the American Ceramic Society which meets with the National Brick Manufacturers' Association and the National Paving Brick Manufacturers' Association was held at Detroit, Michigan in February and was attended by the Director, the Assistant Director, the Professor of Chemistry and the Professor of Physics. No other school of Ceramics sent so large a delegation. The convention of the National Federation of Arts was held in Washington, D. C., in May and was attended by the Director, the Professor of Drawing and the Professor of Modeling. It is worthy of note that on these occasions the account of the work done at Alfred was received with marked interest, being already known to great numbers. In the recent development of vocational education and especially in the prominence given to this subject in the scheme of the Federal Government the work of this school has received a good deal of attention. It is known that those graduates who have devoted themselves to teaching have made good. A single illustration will emphasize this point. There is a movement on foot to establish in Boston under the direction of the Massachusetts Normal Art School, an institute of applied arts of which clay-working forms an important part. The Director of that school recently took pains to visit the school as well as most of the places where Alfred graduates are working so that he might familiarize himself with the methods in use and the results attained.

On the more strictly technical and engineering side of the work the success has been even greater as judged by the number of graduates who are employed in important positions. These men are now manufacturing brick of all sorts, plain and decorative, wall tile, floor tile, fire proofing and pottery while some are doing laboratory work in refractories, glass and general industrial chemistry. Every year there are positions offered, sometimes in greater number than the graduating class can fill.

The research work which was mentioned in the report, of last year has been continued and some excellent specimens of china have been made from domestic materials. The result of this study will be presented at the convention of the American Ceramic Society in February, 1916. Other studies have been undertaken at the request of manufacturers who find themselves at a loss owing to the rapid advance in price of many necessary materials.

The subject of brick for street paving is receiving close attention. The extensive use of automobiles has introduced new problems to the paving engineer and the evidence in favor of brick as the best paving material is rapidly accumulating. This throws upon the ceramic engineer the onus of devising an improvement in the quality of the brick. It has been shown that the shales which lie in abundance in the southern tier of counties is eminently suited to the manufacture of paving brick and the industry using this material has assumed large proportions.

The school is about to offer a short industrial course, to last one week, for the benefit of those practical clay-workers who have not had the advantage of a technical education. To do this work to the best advantage it is desirable to invite one or two lecturers from outside the State. The Bureau of Standards of the National Government is willing to co-operate and no expense will be incurred in respect of a visit from their expert but a small appropriation should be provided for other lecturers and for some necessary apparatus.

A movement is being made by the school to establish a State Association of Manufacturers of clay wares and other ceramic products and it is expected that the coming winter will see the maturing of the plans.

Your attention is again called to the need, mentioned in the last report, of a power house which will permit the removal of the engines from the main building. The demand for power is increasing daily and the need, consequently, becomes more pressing.

The Treasurer's report is appended.*

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES P. BINNS, Director.

NEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY-WORKING
AND CERAMICS*DIRECTOR'S REPORT

For the year ending June 30th, 1916

To the President of Alfred University,
Alfred, N. Y.

Sir:—I have the honor of submitting to you the sixteenth annual report of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics.

The attendance of students keeps up fully in numbers, forty-two being the registration for the year, and steadily improves in quality. The number entering as "special students" is smaller than heretofore which, of course, means that a larger proportion is qualifying for the regular classes, a most desirable condition.

There are always a few students who can enter for only a short period and the school is glad to assist these in any way. At the same time these are urged to enter for the full course and some have proved able to do so. Five students graduated at the completion of the required work this year and there has been no difficulty in these securing satisfactory positions, in fact it is found to be the case that when any new position is to be filled in the ceramic field, whether in teaching, in research or in manufacture the graduates of the school are always considered and often considered first. Besides the profession of teaching for which young women are prepared and are in demand, positions have recently been filled in the manufacture of tile, of electrical porcelain, of brick and of abrasive materials. The last named is a comparatively new departure of ceramics and has received a great impetus from the manufacture of munitions of war.

Professor E. T. Montgomery, who has had especial charge of the department of Ceramic Engineering, has tendered his resignation to accept a lucrative position in connection with the manufacture of spark plugs for automobiles, an industry which has assumed large proportions. It is understood that he will also undertake the manufacture of chemical porcelain, a product to which the school has devoted a great deal of attention. In fact, the success attending the research which has been conducted in this school is believed to have led to the offer which Professor Montgomery received. The Professorship of Ceramic Engineering has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Joseph B. Shaw, E. M. in Ceramics of Pittsburgh who is a graduate of Ohio State University, Department of Ceramics, and has had experience in several departments of ceramic manufacture and research. In other respects the faculty is unchanged.

In the workshops it has been found necessary to employ a practical workman as foreman. Mr. Joseph Johnson was appointed to this position at the beginning of the year and his work has increased the efficiency of the mechanical operations which the students are required to perform.

The Faculty of the College has rendered, as always, important assistance in the necessary collateral subjects without which the training of the classes could not be accomplished.

In the field of research both Faculty and students have been active. At the Annual Convention of the American Ceramic Society papers were presented upon the "Use of American Clays in the Manufacture of China" and "Chemical Porcelain." Upon the latter subject the Director addressed, by invitation, a meeting of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society in Boston.

In the field of industry new demands are constantly being made upon ceramists and the school is continually in receipt of applications for advice and assistance.

During the year certain important organizations were effected. The New York State Ceramic Products Manufacturers' Association was formed at a meeting held in Syracuse and this was followed by a Short Industrial Course held at Alfred as foreshadowed in the last report. The meetings were addressed by Professor A. V. Bleining of the Bureau of Standards, Professor Heinrich Ries of Cornell University, Mr. Harold Copping, an expert on the drying of clay-ware, Professors Titworth, Milligan, Montgomery and the Director, all of Alfred.

The students of the school formed a Student Branch of the American Ceramic Society and the inauguration was conducted by Mr. R. R. Hice, State Geologist of Pennsylvania and President of the Parent Society.

The Director was in attendance at the Convention of the American Federation of Arts at Washington where a collection of pieces of high temperature stoneware from the school received the "Special award" for pottery.

From the point of view of efficiency of the school it is to be regretted that the State has limited the attendance at such conventions as this and the annual meeting of the American Ceramic Society to one delegate. Perhaps I may be allowed to point out that these gatherings are not regarded as pleasure excursions. They involve hard and serious work and are a great stimulus to any of the staff who may be enabled to attend.

I must reiterate the needs which I have mentioned in previous reports. The suggested power house becomes more and more imperative not merely as a convenience but on the ground of safety and economy. Also if the short industrial course is to be made effective there should be a small appropriation to provide for the necessary expense.

The Treasurer's report is appended.*

Respectively submitted,

CHARLES F. BINNS, Director.

Appendix ENEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE*DIRECTOR'S REPORT, 1914-1915

To the President of Alfred University:

Sir:—I have the honor to submit herewith the seventh annual report of the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University for the year ending September 30, 1915.

It is a pleasure to be able to report continued progress throughout the year; the most prominent developments being the strengthening of the* Extension Work, the addition of a special Poultry Department, and a closer co-operation with the various agricultural interests and organizations of the State.

Board of Managers

A list of the Board of Managers and the executive committee is found on page five of this Year Book. Only one change has occurred since last year, and this is due to a change in the personnel of the State Department of Agriculture, the Commissioner of Agriculture being ex-officio, a member of the Board of Control of this School. The present incumbent is the Hon Charles S. Wilson who has taken an active interest in matters pertaining to agricultural education.

Faculty

The faculty consists of twenty-one professors and instructors, sixteen of whom give their full time to the school. Five are employed jointly with other departments of the University. The farm superintendent has charge of the instruction work in farm practice. The following changes have occurred during the year.

Professor George Addison Bole*, who is employed jointly with other departments of the University as Professor of Chemistry has been given a leave of absence for one year on account of illness. His place has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Charles Milligan. Mr. Milligan is a graduate of Carson Newman College with a degree of A. B. and last year completed at Chicago University work for the degree of Bachelor of Science, taking special work in chemistry-

Mr. Luther Banta of Amsterdam, New York, a graduate of the Poultry Department of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University with the degree of Bachelor of Science has been appointed chief of the newly organized Poultry Department with rank of instructor. Mr. Banta has had considerable practical poultry experience and has practically completed the work for the degree of Master of Science.

Miss Madelia Hart Tuttle, who was last year employed jointly with other departments of the University, now gives full time to this School.

The following is a list of faculty and officers of administration:

- Boothe Col well Davis, LL. D., President
Rural Sociology and Ethics.
- William Joseph Wright, M. S., Director
Horticulture.
- Charles Orrin DuBois, B. fit., Assistant Director
Soils, Crops and Farm Management.
- Angeline Wood
Domestic Science and Domestic Art.
- Frederick Sherman Place, A. M.
Forestry and Entomology.
- Byron Ernest Pontius, B. S.
Animal Husbandry and Dairy Industry.
- Linton Brown Crandall, B. S.
Farm Mechanics.
- Charles Milligan, A. B., B. S.
Chemistry.
- Susan May Langworthy, Ph. B., Librarian and Registrar
Instructor in English.
- Julia Darboll Wood
Instructor in Domestic Art.
- Lloyd Raymond Watson, A. M.
Instructor in Chemistry.
- Grace Lucile Cheesman
Instructor in Domestic Science and Domestic Art.
- Ray Winthrop Wingate
Instructor in Music.
- Ivan Lester Fiske, B. S.
Instructor in Physical Training and Hygiene.
- Langford C. Whitford, B. S.
Instructor in Industrial Mechanics.
- Luther Banta, B. S.
Instructor in Poultry.
- Madelia Hart Tuttle
Instructor in History ; Director of Student Literary Activities.

E. Everett Poole, Superintendent of Farm
 Instructor in Farm Practice.
 William H. Thomas
 Instructor in Farm Mechanics.
 Alexander Higbie Remsen
 Instructor in Greenhouse Management and Plant Laboratory Practice.
 Adelbert Sheffield
 Instructor in Dairying.
 •Cortez R. Clawson, A. M.
 University Librarian.
 •Curtis F. Randolph
 Treasurer
 Vernon A. Baggs
 Auditor.
 *Ruth L. Phillips, Ph. P..
 Secretary to the President.
 Nellie V. Barkhouse
 Secretary to the Director.

•Also connected with other departments of the University and receive a part of their salary therefrom.

Student Enrollment

A summary of the student enrollment is shown in the following table. This indicates a slightly greater enrollment than was given in the sixth annual catalogue as it includes the names of several students who entered in the spring term after the catalogue was published.

SUMMARY OF STUDENTS

	Agriculture	Home Economics	Total
Seniors.....	44	7	51
Juniors.....	21	3	26
Freshmen.....	39	7	46
Specials.....	11	17	28
Short Course.....	17	..	17
College students taking one or more courses	14	..	5
Academy students taking one or more courses.....	..	8	8
Total.....			181

The enrollment for the coming year will be, from present indications, exceptionally large. More than 100 new students have already applied for entrance. This is an increase of more than seventy per cent over the entering class of last year.

Commencement

The annual commencement and graduation exercises were held on Thursday, March 26th, 1915. As a majority of the students complete their work at the close of the second term the graduation exercises are held then rather than at the close of the third term, in June. Students completing their work at the close of the third term are awarded diplomas at that time. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. Charles H. Stoddart of the Pennsylvania State College.

A list of graduates of the class of 1915 follows. Those marked with an (h) are graduates from the Home Economics course; all others from the Agricultural course:

Prances Acker	Hornell
Ivan Adams	Corning
John Allen	Alfred Station
Harry Anderson	Brooklyn
Benjamin Armstrong	Savona
Herbert Austin	Eagle Bridge
Hazel Baker (h)	Alfred Station
Thomas Barry	New York City
*Harry Blackmore	Grand Island
Nora Blowers (h)	Alfred
Arthur Booth	Buffalo
George Brainard	Binghamtoh
Luraan Brandes	Wellsville
Robert Broad	Buffalo
Neal Clarke	Crittenden
Fred Conderman	Hornell
Milo Davis	Alfred Station
Clair Evans	Angelica
Paul Green	Hornell
George Griffiths	East Aurora
William Hoefler	Geneva
Carl Horn	Wellsville
Harold Howard	Buffalo
Thomas Hufstader	Buffalo
Frederick Intemann	New York City
Robert Lawrence	Bath
Fern Lewis (h)	Alfred Station
Halsey Merriam	Scio
Harold Peet	Whitesville
Luther Plumier	Otisville
Lulu Pohl (h)	Redfield
Walter Preische	Yorktown Heights
Mark Sanford	Little Genesee
*Arthur Sheridan	Richmond Hill
Bernice Sherman (h)	Springville
John Sherman	Saylesville, R. I.
Howard Stickle	Centerville
Harold Stout	Wellsville

Frederick Thiel	Brooklyn
Gerald Toland	Geneseo
Morris VanHouten	Orangeburg
Cleo Williams	Rushford
Herbert Windus	Belmont
Harry Winship	Salamanca
Archie Wolfe	Forestville

•Academic diploma only; regular diploma will be granted when requisite farm experience has been acquired.

Buildings and Grounds

As no special appropriation for buildings was made by the last legislature, only minor changes and improvements have been made. Among these may be mentioned the painting of the house occupied by the farm Superintendent, and the building of a fruit and vegetable storage cellar. An addition to the poultry plant is now under construction.

Extension Work

In my report for last year I outlined a proposed scheme of co-operation with the State College of Agriculture for carrying on extension work. This has been accomplished with excellent results, and it is proposed to continue the arrangement for the coming year. The principal activities of the extension department have been along the line of Junior Project Work, and for the most part have been in connection with the rural schools in district No. 5 of Steuben County. This extension work has occupied the time of the Assistant Director on Fridays and Saturdays during the school year, in addition to full time during the months of July, August and September. The following is a summary of the Junior Project Work:

(1) Pruning demonstrations	15
(2) Fruit spraying demonstrations	15
(3) Potato spraying demonstrations	9
(4) Personal visits to boys' potato plats and orchards	66
(5) Address on Project Work, etc.	11

In addition to the above, the Annual Farmers' Wee*k was held on March 9, 10, 11 and 12. This was probably more largely attended than any previously held. A Farmers' Picnic in co-operation with the Allegany County Farm Bureau and the Allegany County Pomona Grange, was held at the School on August 17th.

More or less extension work in the form of lectures and demonstrations before granges and farmers' organizations outside the school, has been done by practically every member of the faculty, more than 60 addresses having been given before over 7000 people.

Short Winter Term

The short winter term has become a regular feature of the school work. Three separate short term courses are now offered, one in General Agriculture, one in Dairying and one in Poultry and Fruit Growing. The extent of this course has increased until it is necessary to secure an additional instructor for the winter months.

Needs of the School

For the past two years I have pointed out three distinct needs of the School; (1) A three story laboratory and demonstration building. (2) A house practice cottage for the Home Economics Department. (3) An addition to the greenhouse to provide necessary room for laboratory work. The need for the last two is as great and in fact greater than in past years, but the present crowded condition of the laboratories makes it imperative that more laboratory facilities be provided. For this reason I especially urge this year that steps be taken to secure the necessary funds to purchase a site and to erect, a suitable laboratory building to provide room for laboratory classes in chemistry, physics, farm machinery and wood working; also suitable lecture rooms and an auditorium of sufficient capacity to seat the entire student body and in which lectures and demonstrations of interest to the farming people of the community may be held. Such a building and site could probably be provided for approximately $45,000.

In conclusion I can but express my appreciation for the hearty co-operation of the board of managers, faculty and students and for the excellent esprit de corps which has prevailed throughout the year.

The report of the Treasurer is appended.*

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. WRIGHT, Director.

NEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTUREDIRECTOR'S REPORT, 1915-1916

To the President of Alfred University:

Sir: I have the honor to submit herewith the eighth annual report of the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University for the year ending June 30, 1916.

Continued progress has been made throughout the year, among the more important developments being the addition of a Poultry Department and the enlargement of the scope of the Extension work, which has been carried on in co-operation with the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

Board of Managers

A list of the Board of Managers and the Executive Committee is found on page five. Only one change has occurred since last year, this being due to a change in the Director of the State College of Agriculture who by virtue of that office is ex-officio a member of the Board of Control of this School. The present incumbent is Professor Albert R. Mann.

Faculty

No change has been made in the personnel of the faculty during the past year, each member expecting to be present for next year's work. There are now twenty-one professors and instructors; sixteen of whom give their full time to the work of this School. Five are employed jointly with other departments of the University.

Student Enrollment

The past year has been characterized by a marked increase in student enrollment, the entering class exceeding the entering class of the previous year by over 70 per cent. A summary of the enrollment is given in the following table. This shows a slightly greater enrollment than does the seventh annual catalog as it includes several students who entered for the spring term after the catalog was published.

SUMMARY OF STUDENTS

	Agriculture	Home Economics	Total
Seniors	27	11	38
Juniors	37	4	41
Freshmen	64	7	71
Specials	10	28	38
Short Winter Course	22	—	22
College students taking one or more courses	5	9	14
High School students taking one or more courses	—	11	11
Duplicates	165	70	235
Total			3
			232

Commencement

As is our custom, the annual commencement and graduation exercises were held at the close of the winter term on Thursday, March 23, 1916. It is held at this time because a majority of our graduates then complete their work. The commencement address was delivered by Dr. Liberty Hyde Bailey of Ithaca, New York. The commencement exercises at the close of the third term were held on Thursday, June 22, and took the form of a pageant showing the development of agriculture and farm home life during the past century. This pageant was of considerable interest and it is planned to publish it in pamphlet form for distribution in different rural communities.

A list of the graduates of the class of 1916 follows. Those marked with an (h) are graduates from the Home Economics course; all others are from the Agricultural course:

Fannie Marie Allen (h)	Alfred Station
Helen Wright Bertine (h)	Middletown
Cyrus Mansfield Bloodgood	Geneva
Leighton Waterbury Boyes	Margaretville
Grace Esther Brandes (h)	Wellsville
Joseph Conderman, Jr.	Brooklyn
Lawrence Velzy Cornwall	Machias
Harold Owen Dennis	Jasper
George Wilson Feagues	Pine Island
Richard Marden Humphrey	New York
Harry Jimerson	Corning
Bessie Jane Jordan (h)	Cuba
Laura Marguerite Keegan (h)	Binghamton

Ethel Mae Kelly (h)	Groveland
Marguerite Lewis (h)	Alfred Station
Lynn LaRue Loomis	Bainbridge
Reevs Makuen	Goshen
George Ward Martin	South Dayton
Irving Maure	Richmond Hill
Ervant Morlain	Troy
Jennings Davis Pickens	Lawton
Gerald Erwin Platt	Painted Post
Nina Frances Ross (h)	Nichols
Floyd William Saunders	Richburg
Lewis Pedro Schondorff	New York
Erwin Sedlaczek	Richmond Hill
Julia Madalene Shaw (h)	Alfred
Almon Alonzo Thayer	Fillmore
Elliott Howell Wight, Jr.	Yonkers
Howard B. Wilson	Cameron Mills
William Myron Woodruff	Livonia

Buildings and Grounds

No appropriation for new buildings has been made for several years. Therefore, only minor improvements and repairs have been made. Among these may be mentioned a thorough renovation of the main building (Agricultural Hall) and the construction of a large amount of concrete retaining wall. The latter was made necessary by the floods last year which threatened to destroy the farm buildings.

Summer School

For several years it has been planned to offer a summer course at the School of Agriculture for the instruction of rural teachers in Agriculture and Home Economics. For several reasons, however, this has not been carried out. This year a co-operative arrangement has been made with the summer school of Alfred University whereby this School will offer during the coming summer courses in elementary Agriculture and Home Economics. The courses in pedagogy, etc., will be given by other departments.

Short Winter Term

The short winter term was given as usual. This term appeals to young men who wish to secure some training in scientific agriculture but who are not able to take the long term courses. Three separate courses are now offered, one in general agriculture, one in dairying and one in poultry and fruit growing. A goodly number of students enrolled in these courses last year, though the crowded conditions of the class rooms required that the number be limited.

Farmers' Week

The annual Farmers' Week was held on February 22, 23, 24 and 25, and in attendance and general interest probably exceeded any similar Farmers' Week which has been conducted in previous years. The permanent date for this meeting has been set for the week including February 22.

Needs of the School

It is apparent to all who have known of the School and its work that it is greatly in need of additional room and equipment. For the past two years a request has been made to the Legislature for a new laboratory and demonstration building which request, however, has not yet been granted. Two other needs are scarcely less pressing, namely, a house practice cottage for the use of the Home Economics Department and an addition to the greenhouse to provide room for necessary laboratory work.

The School has been justly noted for the large amount of practical agricultural experience which it offers to its young men students. It has not been possible, however, to give a like experience in Home problems to the young women students. A house practice cottage costing perhaps $5,000 to be used by the students in Home Economics in actual practice work is most desirable.

There has been a growing interest among our men students in work pertaining to the growing of flowers and vegetables under glass. The present greenhouse is entirely inadequate to give any practical experience along this line. To provide anything like adequate equipment there should be added to the greenhouse range a house at least 30 by 60 feet which should cost, with equipment, not more than $1,500 or $2,000.

Our most pressing needs, however, are for laboratories to accommodate the Departments of Chemistry, Physics and Farm Mechanics which are now temporarily and inadequately housed in other than school buildings; and for an auditorium and drill hall. The School has no auditorium which is at all adequate for the holding of public meetings, such as Commencement exercises or Farmers' Week meetings; neither has it any drill hall or gymnasium where the physical and disciplinary training contemplated by the recent State Law can be carried out.

I most strongly advise that a request be again made of the Legislature for an appropriation to be used for the erection and equipment of a building suitable for the accommodation of the chemical and physical laboratories, lecture rooms and offices; for suitable laboratories and offices for the Department of Farm Mechanics and that provision be made therein for an auditorium capable of seating at least 1000 people which may also be used as a drill hall and gymnasium.

Such a building including the necessary land and equipment will probably cost not less than $45,000.

In closing permit me to say a word in behalf of the faculty of the School who have loyally performed their tasks without complaint though receiving salaries which in almost every case is less than those received by instructors in the other similar institutions in this and other states. I trust that this condition may be speedily overcome.

The report of the Treasurer is appended.*

Respectfully,

W. J. WRIGHT, Director.

FORMS FOR BEQUESTS

The Following Form® of Bequests Are Recommended

1. I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of _____ dollars, to be safely invested, and called "The _____ General Endowment Fund ;" the net income only, to be used for the general expenses of the University.

2. I give, devise and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of Twenty-five thousand dollars, to be safely invested, and called "The _____ Professorship;" the net income only, or so much as may be necessary, to be used to pay the salary of the incumbent of said professorship, the surplus income, if any, to be at the disposal of the University.

3. I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of One thousand dollars, to be safely invested, and called "The _____ Scholarship;" the net income only, to be used for the payment of the term bill of some worthy and needy student, the surplus income, if any, to be at the disposal of the University.

4. I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New- York, the sum of _____ dollars to be expended in the purchase of books for the Library.
