MRS. JULIA M. ROGERS POWERS.

MRS. JULIA MARIA ROGERS POWERS

Mrs. Julia Maria Rogers Powers, who left a bequest of five hundred dollars to Alfred University, was a sister of the late Prof. Wm. A. Rogers, toward whose memorial the gift was presented, it being designated to apply on the Wm. A. Rogers Professorship of Astronomy.

Mrs. Powers was a daughter of David P. and Mary Ann Rogers; was born at Waterford, Conn., Oct. 4, 1834, and died May 3, 1899. She was married to Geo. H. Powers with whom she lived a happy married life of 36 years.

First of all a Christian, Mrs. Powers was a leader and enthusiastic worker in missionary, philanthropic and educational enterprises.

In early life, she was a student in Alfred University. She always retained a love for her Alma Mater and a desire to render it useful service. This desire she put into concrete form by her generous benefaction to Alfred University.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

To the Board of Trustees of Alfred University:

The President has the honor to submit his sixth annual report, viz., for the year 1900-1901, beginning June 19, 1900, and ending June 25, 1901.

First, We must acknowledge with gratitude the Divine blessing in the preservation of the life and health of the officers and students of the University.

In the Board of Trustees and in the Faculty, no death or serious illness has occurred. Among the students, one death has occurred, that of Mr. Vernon W. Holmes of the Senior class, who suicided May 8, 1901.

REGISTRATION

The University has enjoyed an increased attendance, both in the College and in the Academy.

The year has been in all respects I think the most successful since my official connection with the University. The registration of the College is 101 students. The registration of the Academy is 156 students. Of this number 17 are duplicates, making a total registration for the year, of 240 individuals; an increase over last year of $33 \frac{1}{3}$ per cent.

The Freshman class numbers 32 members, the largest ever registered in the history of the college.

THE FACULTY

The following changes have occurred in the faculty since the last annual report.

Miss Gertrude B. Harris, B. L., Professor of German and French, was granted a leave of absence for study abroad, and Miss Celestia M. Pember, Ph. B., a graduate of Syracuse University, has been employed temporarily as Instructor in the department. Her work has been of a high order.

Early in the year Dr. A. K. Rogers, Instructor in Philosophy and Education, was elected to the Professorship of Philosophy in Butler University and resigned his position at Alfred to accept the appointment at Butler. Mr. A. D. Sorensen, A. M., a graduate student of Chicago University, was appointed his successor to the Instructorship in Philosophy and Education. His work in this department has been successful.

In April Professor Frank G. Bates, Ph. D., Charles Potter Professor of History and Political Science, resigned his Professorship to accept the position of State Librarian of Rhode Island.

Mr. Sorensen took charge of Professor Bates' classes for the remainder of the year.

The several departments have been conducted with uniform excellence, and the work of the several Professors and Instructors merits the approval and gratitude of the Board of Trustees.

The President has been absent much of the time during the year, in the interest of the University.

A large amount of work has been done in connection with the teachers' institutes of New York State. Fifteen institutes have been addressed. This work has been done largely at the request of the State Supervisor of Institutes, and the several Institute conductors. I think it is safe to say that your President has done more work among the teachers of the state, and in the interest of Public Instruction, than any other College President in the state.

Much time has been consumed in superintending the construction of the building for the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, necessitating a number of trips to Albany and elsewhere to interview the state architect and other officials.

One month was given to visiting the Associations and presenting the interests of education in these several meetings.

The President has been absent from the University, in all, about 118 days during the year. He has traveled about 10,000 miles and delivered about 75 sermons and addresses, at a cost of a little over $400 for traveling expenses.

THE NEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY-WORKING AND CERAMICS

During the year the building for the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, which was begun one year ago, has been completed at a cost of over $11,000. It has been thoroughly equipped with clay-working machinery and is now occupied by the instructors of the school.

Five students registered last September for the regular courses in Ceramics, and there have been beside these about a dozen special students in the school.

The new lines of technical and practical instruction offered in this school are attracting universal interest throughout the state, and indeed in many other states.

About eighty samples of clay and shale from different parts of New York state, and some from other states, have been sent to the school for examination and expert opinion as to their value for manufacturing purposes.

There is now a bright prospect for a Summer School in Ceramic Art under the management of Professor Binns, which will attract to Alfred many distinguished artists from all parts of the country.

The first Annual Report of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, made by the Director to the President, and by him submitted to the Governor, is appended to this report.

THE ATHLETIC FIELD

Through the efforts of Mr. E. E. Hamilton of this Board a fund of $450 has been raised for the purchase of a new athletic field. A desirable lot for this field was purchased of Mr. Frank Sisson of Alfred and deeded to the University. At an expense of about $150, the most of which was raised by the Athletic Association, it has been graded and put in good condition for athletic purposes.

It furnishes excellent accommodations for track athletics, as well as base ball and foot ball, and is sufficiently near to the University to render it very convenient for these purposes.

THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Seventh-day Baptist Education Society, at its annual meeting in August, 1900, took action looking toward increasing the efficiency of the Alfred Theological Seminary by increasing its teaching force. The society adopted a plan for raising the necessary funds, and urged the appointment of two additional professors. The Rev. W. C. Daland, D. D., was elected to the Professorship of Theology, and the Rev. J. L. Gamble, Ph. D., to the Professorship of Church History and Homiletics.

Dr. Daland declined to accept the appointment and the professorship therefore still remains vacant.

FINANCIAL POLICY

Some weeks since, the attention of the members of this Board was called, by a letter from the President, to the question of finance, and the necessity for such an economy in the management for the future as will insure a freedom from further deficit.

The indebtedness has increased annually for the past six years at an average rate of about $3,000 per year. It should not be forgotten however, that while this is true, we have in the same time added to the value of our College equipment, in new buildings, betterments, improvements, and endowments, at an average rate of about $10,000 per year. We therefore have added to the value of our College plant within the six years $60,000, but this value is offset by an increased indebtedness of about $20,000.

The efficiency of the institution with its greatly enlarged and improved equipment, and its greatly increased attendance must also be remembered. Still further it must not be overlooked, that this increase in efficiency and patronage are due to the increased equipment, and could not have been secured without this enlarged expenditure.

That we should have been able in six years, besides meeting our running expenses, to add sixty thousand dollars to the value of the equipment, (forty thousand dollars of which has been contributed) and incur only twenty thousand dollars of indebtedness in so doing, is certainly a matter for congratulation, as well as the fact that our attendance has more than doubled in that time.

But I believe the College has now gathered sufficient momentum and secured sufficient efficiency to limit further improvements to funds actually in hand for such improvement. It therefore seems to me to be a wise policy for the Trustees to limit their expenditures for the coming year to the actual income. The method by which this can be done without weakening the teaching force will be indicated by the report of the committee on retrenchment, and I respectfully urge that the Trustees adopt this policy.

The Treasurer's Report will indicate the commendable growth of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Centennial Fund, and the encouraging number of One Thousand Dollar Scholarships that have been founded during the year.

I consider these two methods of increasing our endowments, as they have been developed and introduced by our Treasurer, and pushed forward by his untiring energy and tact, to be the most promising channel through which the masses of the people can be enlisted in the financial support of the College.

The Treasurer has received $500 from the estate of the late Julia M. Powers of New London, Conn., which is to be applied toward the endowment of the William A. Rogers Professorship of Astronomy.

The Treasurer has also received notice that $663 has been received by the Education Society, from the estate of the late Phineas C. Burdick of DeRuyter, N. Y., the same to be applied toward the permanent fund for the support of Theological education.

These and many other things indicate the growing interest which the people feel in the work of education, and in the growth and prosperity of Alfred University.

The annual reports of the Registrar, the Principal of the Academy, the Librarian, and the Director of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, are herewith presented as an addenda to this report.

With profound gratitude for the confidence and support of the Board of Trustees, and for the prosperity which the University has enjoyed during the year, together with the bright prospects for the future, this report is most respectfully submitted.

BOOTHE COLWELL DAVIS, President.

ACADEMY REPORT

TO THE PRESIDENT:

The Academy has enjoyed a prosperous year. The attendance has been very good, 156 students having been registered, an increase of more than 30 per cent over the registration of last year.

The graduating class this year numbers nine; and the prospect is good for a much larger class next year, for there is a marked improvement along the line of systematic pursuance of regular prescribed courses of study.

Seventeen members have been registered in the Teachers' Training Class, and the work done has been of a high order. It is now too early to tell how many of the members will be successful in getting certificates, but we expect that a good percentage have passed. We have the appointment to instruct a class next year, which, in view of the fact that there has been a large reduction in the number of classes in the State, speaks well for the work we have been doing.

The Principal has, for a long time, been trying to bring about an arrangement whereby the Academy could become a free high school for resident pupils of school age, and he asks that the matter be laid before the Trustees for their approval, so that it may be presented to the district electors at their annual meeting in August.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL P. SAUNDERS, Principal.

STATE SCHOOL REPORT

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY,

Sir:- I have the honor to submit a report of the work done in connection with the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, since the action of the legislature which founded it.

Chapter 383 of the laws of 1900, established the school, appropriating $15,000 for a building and equipment, and $5,000 for maintenance for one year.

The wisdom of this action has been abundantly verified by the remarkable interest which has been shown by the public in the establishment of the school.

The movement for the scientific education of clay workers is rapidly assuming national proportions. The lead was taken by Ohio in the year 1895 when the legislature founded a department of clay working in the Ohio State University. New York was the second in the field, establishing her State School of Ceramics in 1900. Since the passing of the enactment by New York, Iowa has taken steps for the formation of a Clay-Working school at Ames College and now New Jersey is planning a Ceramic department at Rutgers College. These facts illustrate the great interest which is being awakened in the development of the ceramic industries. The National Brick Manufacturers' Association and the American Ceramic Society are alive to the importance of the work, the former organization maintaining a scholarship at the Ohio School.

In New York, not only have Clay-Working industries all over the State shown a deep interest in the school, but many real estate owners have begun investigations, through its aid, to ascertain the availability of their own clay and shale deposits for economic purposes. But most striking of all is the large correspondence which has sprung up with young men in different parts of the state, who are looking toward the school with the hope of securing a technical training in this line of education, which will enable them to develop the enormous clay resources of the state and promote its industries as well as to place themselves in positions both useful and remunerative.

The Trustees of Alfred University, to whom was entrusted the administration of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, appointed, in May, 1900, a Board of Managers for the State School, consisting of five members, and in June this Board appointed me Director of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics and Professor of Ceramic Technology.

I entered upon my duties in organizing the School, and carrying on the experimental work of the school, July 1st, 1900.

A suitable building for the purpose of the school occupied my attention for some time. It was necessary to provide great stability in the walls to stand the vibration consequent upon running machinery.

Large laboratories and recitation rooms were desirable besides the offices of administration. It seemed important to give considerable attention to the artistic side of clay-working and an art department needed liberal accommodation. Several interviews with the State Architect resulted in planning a building which, notwithstanding the modest amount of the appropriation, will be worthy of its object.

The building is 75 feet by 45 feet in size and is two stories and a half high above the basement.

The corner stone of the building was formally laid on June 20th, 1900, by Senator Humphrey. The occasion was an important one. The State was represented by the Senator and Assemblyman Litchard and Mr. John J. Merrill, chief of the bureau of corporation taxes. The University was represented by yourself with the other members of the Faculty and the Board of Trustees. A large number of the Alumni and patrons of the University and citizens of the surrounding country were present.

The building, now rapidly approaching completion, is built of Alfred brick with stone trimmings and roofed with Alfred tile. It is a substantial and artistically constructed building.

In the basement are placed the engines and heavy machinery. The principal floor contains the offices of administration, a private laboratory, rooms for recitations and technical work and a Ceramic Museum. The second floor is devoted to the Art department and contains a modeling room with lathe and jigger, a room for applied design, a private room for the instructor, and a large studio for general drawing purposes.

Outside the building is a chimney stack 40 feet in height which is surrounded by a kiln shed. The battery of kilns consisting of a general purpose kiln of about 35 feet cubic capacity, a high temperature kiln about half the size, a muffle kiln for firing decorated wares and small furnaces for experimental work.

The necessary equipment of the laboratory was carefully considered and machinery was ordered for making brick, tile, hollow blocks, roofing tile, etc., and for pottery manufacture.

The machinery for the production of brick, tile, drain tile and hollow blocks consists of five foot dry pan for crushing and disintegrating, a horizontal open pug-mill for blending the clay or shale with water, a brick machine to receive the moist clay and express it in a shaped column, a cutting table whereby the column is separated into the proper sized brick or tile, together with a screw press operated by hand for tile making or repressing brick.

The potters' machinery consists of a special plant of three machines for the preparation of white clays, a vertical pug-mill for compressing the prepared clay, a potters' wheel, a jigger and a turning lathe for shaping wares, a pair of grinding cylinders for the preparation of glazes, and a set of small blungers and grinders for small mixings in an experimental way.

The motive power for the heavy machinery is a 36 h. p. Otto gas engine, and a small Rumsey gas engine of 2 h. p. is provided for the small machines in order to save wear on the main line shaft and pulleys.

All this machinery was ordered early in the summer and much of it has been already delivered.

The preparation and issue of an announcement or circular for the school occupied my attention for sometime during the summer.

A booklet of 16 pages has been printed in which particulars are given of the equipment of the school, the courses offered and the requirements for entrance. The full course of instruction extends over four years and is equivalent to a College course in Science.

On completion of the prescribed curriculum, students will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Ceramics. The entrance requirements are the same as those demanded for entrance to a regular scientific course. Shorter courses of one, two or three years are offered to those who may be unable to enter the full course, and the work will be arranged to meet the needs of any student. The only requirements for entrance to the short courses is an ability to read well and to write good English, with a mastery of the simpler problems of arithmetic.

Certificates are granted to students who take the shorter courses, stating the work which each has accomplished.

With the first class entering even before the completion of the building, five students have registered; three for the full course, who are taking the first year of the course in its regular order. Two students have entered for special work and are also attending recitations in the allied sciences. All the students are residents of the state except one, who comes from New Jersey.

Upon my recommendation the Board of Managers appointed Miss Lillie W. Tourtellotte, Instructor in Art and Graphics. She is a graduate of Pratt Institute and is well qualified for the post.

Subjects allied to technology and art in Clay-Working and Ceramics are taught in their regular departments in the University, thus securing both efficiency and economy. The libraries, laboratories and museums of the University are also accessible to all students of the State School.

Calls have been received from several manufacturing plants which needed advice. I have visited three manufactories in Syracuse and vicinity and was able to give assistance in the solution of technical problems.

Clays have been received for examination from several parts of the state, besides samples from New Jersey, Tennessee and Missouri. The work upon New York clays is done without remuneration. For other clays a fair price is charged.

In the development of the resources of the state, I have been in communication with the Directorate of various railroads, examining the clays and shales along the lines of their roads.

Samples of these deposits are being sent to the school for analysis and experimental manufacture.

I am more and more impressed with the importance of this work in which the state has undertaken to take part. The demands for clay products are increasing daily, and New York State has hitherto been dependent upon other states and foreign countries for a supply which it must have and which is daily growing in magnitude and in the imperative nature of its demand.

The liberality of the state in providing and maintaining such a school is not a stronger evidence of its generous support of education, than it is of its far-sighted economic and industrial wisdom.

The technical education of its own young men for the practical development of the enormous clay resources in which New York is so abundantly rich will eventually enable her to supply her own demands and furnish to the world a large share of these important commodities.

Since entering upon my duties as Director of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, I have had the honor to be elected President of the American Ceramic Society.

The following is a statement of the expenditures of the state thus far in the equipment and maintenance of the school, as made by the Treasurer, upon vouchers approved by the State Comptroller:

ENDOWMENT AND PROPERTY.

THE ENDOWMENT FUND has increased with gratifying rapidity in recent years. The interest-bearing funds now amount to about $250,000, which, together with all its other property, is held in trust by Alfred University, except as otherwise specified below. The value of the entire property of the University, including endowments, buildings, grounds, library, educational collections, and apparatus, is nearly $450,000.

THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST EDUCATION SOCIETY, which was organized in 1855 and incorporated under the Laws of the State of New York in 1857, holds in trust for the benefit of the University about $44,000.

THE GEORGE B. ROGERS PROFESSORSHIP OF INDUSTRIAL MECHANICS was established in 1867. Mrs. Ann M. R. Lyon, of New York City, gave $10,000 toward its endowment, and the professorship was given the name of her son, who had died while educating himself for a Mechanical Engineer. The trustees of the University raised $5,000 additional toward the endowment of the professorship. In accordance with the terms of Mrs. Lyon's gift, the income of $13,000 is used in paying the salary of the incumbent, and the income of $2,000 in the purchase of books and apparatus, and in securing the general efficiency of the department.

THE BABCOCK PROFESSORSHIP OF PHYSICS was established by George H. Babcock, of Plainfield, New Jersey, in 1881. He endowed it with $20,000, the income or so much as might be necessary, to be used in paying the salary of the incumbent,—surplus income to be used for the purchase of books and apparatus for the Department of Physics. The principal is held in trust by the Board of Trustees of the Seventh-day Baptist Memorial Fund.

THE WILLIAM B. MAXSON PROFESSORSHIP OF THE GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE was established in 1881. George H. Babcock, of Plainfield, New Jersey, gave $10,000 toward the endowment of the professorship. The principal is held in trust by the Board of Trustees of the Seventh-day Baptist Memorial Fund.

THE CHARLES POTTER PROFESSORSHIP OF HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE was founded in 1888 by Charles Potter, of Plainfield, New Jersey, who endowed it with $20,000, the income, or so much as might be necessary, to be applied in payment of the salary of the incumbent, the surplus to be expended in the purchase of books for the library. The fund is held in trust for the University by the Board of Trustees of the Seventh-day Baptist Memorial Fund. Mr. Potter died December 2, 1899.

THE RHODE ISLAND PROFESSORSHIP was established and named by the Misses Harriet and Maria L. Pottter, of Potter Hill,

Rhode Island, who bequeathed to the University the sum of $5,000 each, as a perpetual fund for its maintenance. The income has been assigned by the University to the support of the Chair of Mathematics. Miss Harriet Potter died in 1886. Miss Maria L. Potter died in 1891.

GEORGE H. BABCOCK FUND. E. L. A. BABCOCK FUND. By the provisions of the will of the late George H. Babcock, of Plainfield, New Jersey, $70,000 were given to the Board of Trustees of the Seventh-day Baptist Memorial Fund, in trust, for the University. The income of $50,000 was designated to be used in such manner as the University may deem best, and the income of $20,000, known as the E. L. A. BABCOCK FUND, to be used "in keeping the grounds in good order and repair and for the purpose of inculcating ideas and habits of order and neatness among the students."

Mr. Babcock died December 16, 1893. He had been a member of the Board of Trustees of the University since 1881, and, at the time of his death, was its President.

THE KENYON-ALLEN ENDOWMENT FUND, which the Alumni Association set about raising immediately on its organization in 1886, now amounts to over $10,000, and is increasing yearly.

PETER WOODEN FUND. Peter Wooden, of North Plainfield New Jersey, bequeathed to the University $500, and also made it residuary legatee. The amount which will be derived from this source has not yet been ascertained, but it is expected that the University will realize at least $20,000. Mr. Wooden died January 14, 1895.

The routine work of caring for the grounds has been attended to, and the following permanent improvements have been made:

A well six inches in diameter has been drilled on the Campus above the Reservoir to a depth of 182 feet, which is capable of furnishing 1,000 barrels of water per hour, within thirty feet of the top. A pump has been put in to lift the water from the well so that it will run into the reservoir. The pump is worked by an electric motor; the power for motor is generated at Babcock Hall of Physics.

Extensive grading around the east end of Ladies Hall has been done, and a large sewer drain has been laid south of Ladies Hall to take the drainage from the south side of the Campus to the creek.

3,772 square feet of artificial stone walk has been laid along the east side of Ladies Hall, connecting with walk previously laid from Kenyon Memorial Hall to University Place. (Since Commencement 12,536 square feet of artificial stone walk has been laid, a more detailed account of which will be presented in the next Annual Report.)

NOTE.—Natural gas was first used to heat Kenyon Memorial Hall during the school year of 1898-99. The following year it was installed into the Gothic, Chapel, Steinheim, a portion of Ladies Hall, and the Babcock Hall of Physics, Kenyon Memorial Hall being connected with the latter building so that both were heated from the same plant. At beginning of the present year (1900-01), the two dormitories were fully equipped for gas so that all the buildings on the Campus are now heated and lighted with natural gas. The dormitory rooms are each provided with a meter and the students pay for actual amount of gas consumed.

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS

SUGGESTIONS

The demands upon institutions of learning are broadening, year by year, and equipment and endowment must be increased to keep pace with the demands. Alfred forms no exception to the rule. With the assistance of her friends, she has been enabled to meet all requirements in the past. Relying upon a continuation of that kindly interest in her work, there is here presented for consideration a variety of channels in which substantial aid in meeting the demands of the future may be directed. Those who wish to perpetuate their usefulness and their memory, and make their deeds live after them, cannot better do so than by giving or bequeathing something to Alfred University in one of the following ways :

INCREASE IN THE GENERAL ENDOWMENT FUND, the income of which shall be at the disposal of the University for its general expenses.

THE CENTENNIAL FUND was established in 1899 with the expectation that it will amount to $100,000 00, when the University shall celebrate its centennial. Gifts to this fund may be made from $1.00 to $100.00.

THE ENDOWMENT OF PROFESSORSHIPS. Twenty-five thousand dollars will fully endow a professor's chair.

THE ENDOWMENT OF SCHOLARSHIPS to pay the term bills of worthy, but needy, students. One thousand dollars will endow a scholarship.

A scholarship may be instituted conditionally upon the payment of one hundred dollars, and kept alive by the payment of not less than twenty-five dollars every two years thereafter, until one thousand dollars have been paid; and the beneficiary will be credited on his tuition charges with the income of the fund. In the case of scholarships founded by Societies, if twenty-five dollars or more be added to the principal annually, the beneficiary will be granted free tuition.

A LIBRARY BUILDING which will cost, say $25,000.

The gift of books and of money to buy books.

Every gift will be used as the donor may direct. The giver of fifty dollars or more will be asked to allow his name to be used in connection with the gift in the reports of the University.

THE FOLLOWING FORMS OF BEQUESTS ARE RECOMMENDED :

1 I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of _____ dollars, to be safely invested, and called " The _____ General Endowment Fund "; the net income only to be used for the general expenses of the University.

2 I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of Twenty-five thousand dollars, to be safely invested, and called " The _____ Professorship "; the net income only, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used to pay the salary of the incumbent of said professorship, the surplus income, if any, to be at the disposal of the University.

3 I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of One thousand dollars, to be safely invested, and called " The _____ Scholarship "; the net income only to be used for the payment of the term bill of some worthy and needy student, the surplus income, if any, to be at the disposal of the University.

4 I give, devise, and bequeath, to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of _____ dollars to be expended in the purchase of books for the Library.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The fees that students in Alfred University are required to pay are known as tuition fees, incidentals, and extra fees. The following statement shows the total tuition and incidental fees charged, the allowances on account of scholarships, and the cash income from such fees, in each of the last four years (excluding income from the Training Class) viz:

Year		Tuition and Incidental Fees	Scholarships	Cash
1897-98	Academy	$2,599	$606	$1,993
	College	1,651—$4,250	379—$985	1,272—$3,265
1898-99	Academy	2,137	420	1,717
	College	1,821—3,958	439—859	1,382—3,099
1899-00	Academy	1,900	520	1,380
	College	2,009—3,909	408—928	1,601—2,981
1900-01	Academy	3,073	711	2,361
	College	2,715—5,788	696—1,407	2,019—4,380

Three systems of scholarships are in force in the University, as follows:

TEN PER CENT SCHOLARSHIPS. These were established many years ago on the following terms: The University agreed to pay, by allowance upon tuition fees, ten per cent per annum on moneys donated to its funds; but the founders of the scholarships were not to use them to the detriment of the University by selling, renting or leasing them, although they might donate the use of them to any person or persons who depended entirely upon their own exertions to defray their educational expenses. Incidental and extra fees, however, must be paid in cash by the beneficiaries of the scholarships.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLAR SCHOLARSHIPS. A CT OF 1894. These may be established conditionally on the payment of $100, and they will continue in force so long as payments are made amounting to at least $25 in two years; but they become permanent when the sum of $1,000 is fully paid. The owner of a scholarship is entitled to keep one student in attendance at the University whose tuition fees, incidental fees, and extra fees, will be paid out of the income of the principal fund, if the income is sufficient to pay the same, but if not, the remainder of such fees must be paid in cash by the student. Societies endowing scholarships conditionally, and paying at least $25 a year toward the principal, will be allowed free tuition fees for one student every year; but the student must pay incidental and extra fees in cash.

COMPETITIVE FREE SCHOLARSHIPS. These are granted, under certain conditions, to pupils in the High Schools in the counties of Allegany, Steuben, Cattaraugus, Livingston and Wyoming, New York; and the counties of McKean, Potter and Tioga, Pennsylvania. They are limited to students fully prepared for college, and exempt the holders from payment of tuition and incidental fees, but require the payment in cash of the nominal sum of $2 a year.

ALFRED THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Maintenance and Endowment

At the ANNUAL MEETING of the SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST EDUCATION SOCIETY at Adams Centre in 1900, the following report was presented by a committee which was appointed to consider the condition of the Theological Department at Alfred and make recommendations, viz:

1. In general, we heartily recommend that early and earnest effort be made by the Trustees of the University to strengthen the teaching force of that department, and that our people loyally and generously support these efforts.

2. That at least two professors, one of Theology and one of Biblical Interpretation be employed, but with an added one of History, if found practicable—who shall devote their time to the work and interests of the department.

3. That the labors of these professors be supplemented by the employment of non-resident lecturers on subjects in the line of the general aim of the department.

4. We commend to the favorable consideration of the Board of the Education Society the plan of securing individual and systematic subscriptions from our people for the benefit of the department, something after the method adopted by the Missionary Board.

This report was adopted. In compliance with the second recommendation, Rev. Arthur E. Main has been elected Dean of the Seminary and Professor of Doctrinal Theology and Pastoral Theology, and Rev. James Lee Gamble has been elected Professor of Church History and Homiletics. They have accepted their appointments, and entered upon the performance of their duties. Rev. William C. Whitford continues in the Professorship of Biblical Languages and Literature which he has held for a number of years. Rooms in the building known as the Gothic have been fitted up for the use of the Seminary.

THE COST of running the Seminary (as re-organized) for the year 1901-02, is estimated as follows:

Salaries	$2,400
Fuel	100
Printing, traveling and incidental expenses, say.....	200
Repairs75
Furniture75
Total estimated expense	$2,850

In this estimate nothing is included for the purchase of books nor for carrying into effect the third recommendation of the Committee. To maintain the Seminary in the manner contemplated by the recommendations will call for an expenditure of about $3,000 a year, which equals the interest of $60,000 invested at five per cent.

The Permanent Endowment of the Seminary at the time when the Committee presented its report was $23,085.21, which yielded an income of $1,031.06 in the fiscal year ending in 1900, as appears by the reports of the several corporations holding these funds in trust. (See "Schedule A" below.) Thus, something over $1,800 more was required to provide for the expenses of the Seminary for the College Year 1901-02.

In compliance with the fourth recommendation of the Committee, Rev. Lester C. Randolph of the First Seventh-day Baptist Church of Alfred, aided by the Alfred Quartet No. 1, made a canvass of many churches of the Denomination, in the summer of 1901, and secured between 500 and 600 pledges toward the maintenance of the Seminary. The number of pledges secured indicates the general interest of the people in the matter, and that they "loyally and generously support the efforts " to strengthen the department. (See " Schedule B " below.)

Since the Reports of 1900 were made, the permanent endowment funds have been increased by a bequest from Phineas C. Burdick, deceased, and by gifts and pledges amounting, in the aggregate to $12,988.40. (See "Schedule C" below.) Of this amount $10,725 was secured at the General Conference at Alfred in 1901, by the earnest efforts of Messrs. David E. Titsworth, Charles C. Chipman and Orra S. Rogers, which has since been augmented by pledges amounting to $650 00.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY

(New York Corporation.)

This Society includes all graduates of the University, all persons who have received degrees from it, members of the Faculty, and former students who have been in attendance for one year or more. The annual fee is one dollar.

The objects of the Society are to foster fraternal intercourse and sympathy, and the interest of its members in their Alma Mater, as well as to promote the welfare of Alfred University.

At the time of its organization in 1886, the Society established a perpetual fund for the benefit of the University, giving it the name of the KENYON-ALLEN ENDOWMENT FUND. This fund now amounts to upwards of $10,000. The Society has adopted a form of pledge to pay, for the benefit of the fund, one dollar a month for five years; and a considerable amount has already been secured in this manner. Pledges or contributions in cash are solicited, and will be duly acknowledged and added to the fund. The income of the fund is used, in part to defray the expenses incident to a course of lectures annually before the University, and in part to assist in the payment of the salary of the President.

The Society is represented on the Board of Trustees of the University by nine trustees, three of whom are elected each year for a term of three years.

The Annual Meeting of the Society is held on Wednesday of Commencement Week, the whole day being given over to the Society.
