MEMORIAL HALL.

Greeting.

The Christian Association of Alfred University extends to you a hearty greeting, and presents this book that you may more readily become acquainted with the various features of college life.

We welcome you to the privileges and activities of the University. We welcome you to the Christian Associations which furnish the best of college life. Come to their meetings. Be one of them. They want you and you cannot afford to be without them.

We trust that in all your giving and getting here, there may be fostered an increasing purpose for a wholesome, religious, Christian life.

Y. M. C. A.

Together with the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. is the chief medium of Christian work in the University, and is a branch of that great central organization of the Y. M. C. A. which encircles the world.

OBJECT.

The object of this Association is to promote growth in grace and Christian fellowship among its members, and aggressive Christian work, especially by and for students, to train them for Christian service, and to lead them to devote their lives to Jesus Christ, not alone in distinctively religious callings, but in the every-day walk of business or professional life.

MEMBERS.

The Association makes no denominational distinctions or requirements. All Christians are welcomed, and a simple acknowledgement of allegiance to Christ is deemed sufficient for admission to active membership. Anyone of good moral character may join as an associate member.

We believe that it is to the advantage of Christians to connect themselves early in their course with the Association and its work. New students are earnestly invited to identify themselves with the workers the first week, and are recommended to attend either the village church or the weekly service in the college chapel.

CONFERENCES AND CONVENTIONS.

The Association sends delegates every year to the Northfield Summer School, and also participates in district conferences and state conventions. Its president is sent to the Presidents' State Conference and various other places. From these several sources much inspiration is received, which, in the last two years, has greatly increased the spiritual strength of the University.

The financial resources of the Association are somewhat limited, which necessitates strenuous efforts to meet the requirements of effective work.

The Association desires to extend its sincere thanks to the Faculty, Trustees, and Alumni of the College, and to the citizens of Alfred for the generous contributions and the assistance of various kinds which have enabled the Association to accomplish so much in "the promotion of God's truth among men."

Extracts from the Constitution.

ARTICLE III.—MEMBERSHIP.

SECTION 1.—The active membership of the Association shall consist of men, either students or members of the Faculty of this institution, who are members in good standing of an evangelical church, and have been elected by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting. Active members only shall have the right to vote and hold office.

SECTION II.—The membership fee shall be twenty-five cents per semester, payable at such time or times as the Association may determine.

SECTION IV. It shall be the duty of each member to co-operate heartily in carrying out the object of the Association as indicated in Article II, according to the policy determined by the Association or the Executive Committee.

Y. W. C. A. Organization.

Realizing that the College training which develops the physical and mental powers only, does not produce a well-rounded-out woman, the first and foremost object of the Young Women's Christian Association is to promote a Christian spirit within the University, and to interest and assist every young woman within its walls in the spiritual and social development of herself and her schoolmates, and secondly, to deepen an interest in all philanthropic work. This is accomplished by devotional meetings, by conducting Bible classes for the systematic study of the Bible, by holding evangelistic, temperance, and missionary meetings, by personal work, and by giving receptions and socials.

The Young Women's Christian

A CORNER OF THE CAMPUS.

Association of Alfred University was organized May 21, 1893, and though it has not always been as prosperous as could be desired it has steadily grown in numbers and influence. The Association has been represented three years at the Summer Conference at Northfield, and at various State conventions.

Much help is gained during the year by the visits of secretaries of State organizations with which the Association is affiliated.

Prayer Meetings have been held on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Gothic, also in connection with the Young Men's Association on the last Sunday evening in each month.

A mission study class and various Bible study classes will be conducted by some competent leader.

Bible Study.

No college student can be said to have a liberal education, who has not included in his course a practical and comprehensive study of the Bible. As a student, you should become acquainted with the Book which has been the most mighty factor in the establishment of our Christian civilization; as a Christian, you need to study the Bible regularly and systematically, that you may maintain and develop a strong vigorous Christian life and character.

To meet your needs, the Young Men's Christian Association offers, this year, two courses in Bible study, which will be well worth your consideration. One is "Sharman's Studies in the Life of Christ," based on "Stevens' and Burton's Harmony of the Gospels;" the other is "Bosworth's Studies in the Acts and Epistles." These courses are arranged by thoroughly practical Bible students to meet the needs of college students.

The classes will meet weekly for one hour, under student leadership, at a time to suit the convenience of the members. Each of the courses requires a daily study of about fifteen minutes to prepare for the weekly recitation. Details will be given at the Bible study meeting to be held on the second Sunday evening after the opening of college.

Annual Reception.

The annual Reception to the new students will be given by the Christian Associations on the first Thursday night of the school year. You are cordially invited to this reception. The privileges afforded in the community for social intercourse are many. Not only the college but the townspeople as well show a keen interest in the welfare of all students. Alfred residents will make you feel at home.

Intercollegiate Y. M. C. A.

FOUNDED JUNE, 1877.

The general supervision of the Association work among the colleges of North America is in the hands of the College Committee of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations. The most far-reaching result of this movement is that it has made possible the formation of the College Young Woman's Christian Association, the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, and other organizations world-wide in their influence.

The inter collegiate movement employs traveling secretaries and one office secretary, through whom inter-collegiate relations are maintained. The traveling secretaries visit the colleges, assist in strengthening existing Associations, organize new Associations, conserve results, concentrate energy, and broaden the field of influence of the Christian men in the various institutions. The secretaries also plan and conduct the World's Student Conferences held yearly in Northfield, Mass., Lake Geneva, Wis., and Knoxville, Tenn.; and in many other ways train leaders for the college work.

The Alfred University Association is actively connected with the Inter-collegiate movement. Delegates represent the local Association at the Northfield President's and district conventions. This connection with the movement is of inestimable value to the work of our home Association in deepening and broadening the religious lives of the Christian students as well as in winning souls for the Master.

You will have the pleasure of meeting the Sophs on the diamond.

The Freshmen occupy the seats in chapel farthest from the entrance.

Get acquainted with your class.

Chapel attendance is compulsory.

Don't Read This.

1. Don't fail to be as slow as you can in going to recitations; if possible, be at least fifteen minutes late.

2. Don't fail to have five or six hard questions for the professor so he will not have time to get over the lesson.

3. Don't fail to step as if you were testing the floor. The professors urgently request this.

4. Don't fail to make your mark in the world, especially on the specimens in the laboratory and the desks in the recitation rooms.

5. Don't fail to spend Sabbath afternoon studying or calling on the girls.

6. Don't, oh! don't fail to be one of those gentlemen who stand in front of the church door while everyone else is coming out.

7. Don't fail to find some excuse in order to stay away from Y. M. C. A.

8. Don't fail—in examination.

The Members of the Academy are cordially welcomed to all the meetings of the Christian Associations.

CAMPUS.

The University Campus is picturesque and attractive. It covers about twelve acres of ground, ornamented with a large variety of trees and shrubs forming an Arboretum of rare beauty and value. Its lawns, walks, and drives are kept up by a special enowment for that purpose known as the E. Lua Babcock Fund for the Grounds.

Academy.

The Academy was the first of the University buildings to be built. It is a substantial frame structure, and contains the large hall in which Chapel exercises of the Academy are held each morning; the Academy office, the recitation rooms of the Academy, and the assembly rooms of the Alleghanian and Orophilian Lyceums.

ALLEN STEINHEIM MUSEUM.

Ladies Hall

Is a dormitory for young women, with a boarding department in the basement.

Kenyon Memorial Hall,

named in honor of President William C. Kenyon, is the executive building of the College. It contains the College Assembly Room, the Library, the offices of the President and Registrar, and the lecture rooms of the departments of Philosophy, History, Greek, Latin, English and Theology.

The Allen Steinheim Museum,

a memorial of President Allen, built by himself and given to the University by himself and his widow, Mrs. A. A. Allen, is a picturesque building of stone. It is the Natural History building of the University. In the outer walls there are over seven thousand varieties of rock found in the drift near Alfred. The interior is finished in natural woods, every available variety being represented. This building contains the collections in Archæology, Palæontology, Mineralogy, and Conchology, made by the late President Allen, in all about thirty thousand specimens, all of which are accessible to students. It also contains the laboratory and lecture room and the cabinet of the Department of Natural History and Biology.

The Gothic,

which receives its name from the style of architecture employed in its construction contains a number of lecture and recitation rooms. The Y. M. C. A. information bureau for new students is also here.

Burdick Hall,

named after Mr. William C. Burdick of Alfred, is a dormitory for young men. The students in this hall board in a club conducted in the building.

Rogers' Observatory

consists of a circular room surmounted by a revolving dome nineteen feet in diameter and contains an equatorial refracting telescope with an object glass of nine inch clear aperture and nine and a half feet focus.

Babcock Hall,

named in memory of the late George H. Babcock, contains the well equipped chemical and physical laboratories which are supplemented by a large lecture room and a department library.

The Department of Industrial Mechanics also has rooms in this building, viz: A department library, a draughting room, a machine shop, and a wood-working shop. Fifty horse power Babcock & Wilcox boilers furnish power and steam heat for the building.

The State School.

The buildings of the New York State School of Clay-working and Ceramics are adjacent to the campus of the University. They are designed and equipped for giving instruction in all the branches of technology in clay ware production. This school is built and maintained by New York State, and free tuition is given all students of the state who take the prescribed course.

THE LIBRARY

contains over 13,000 volumes, and additions are made to it yearly. It is chiefly made up of works bearing on the courses of instruction, together with the encyclopedias, dictionaries and general works of reference. The books are classified by subjects according to the Dewey Decimal System, and a card catalogue is provided. It is open every college week day from 9 A. M. to 12 M. and from 1:30 P. M. to 5 P. M. Students are allowed free access to the shelves, and are encouraged to make diligent use of the books. Tables and chairs are arranged for their convenience, and the Associate Librarian is always present to assist them in an intelligent use of the books and to give counsel and aid in any line of reading and research. As a reference library, it is free to all; but any of the books, excepting encyclopedias, dictionaries and general works of reference, may be drawn for home use, under prescribed regulations by the Faculty, the Board of Trustees, and the active members of the several Lyceums; one thousand volumes have been set apart, however, as a free circulating library. The library is under the supervision of a Board of Directors consisting of the President, Librarian, and one representative each from the Board of Trustees, the Faculty, the Alumni Association, and the several Lyceums.

A READING ROOM

well supplied with newspapers and periodicals is maintained in connection with the Library. All students have access to the Reading Room and are charged a fee of fifteen cents per quarter for its maintenance.

LABORATORIES.

The Physical Laboratories

in Babcock Hall of Physics contain a great variety of apparatus for illustrating and establishing physical laws. In connection with these laboratories there are the machine shop and carpenter shop, in each of which practical instruction is given in constructing apparatus to be used in the department.

The Chemical Laboratories

are located in the west wing of Babcock Hall. They are well ventilated and lighted, and provided with tables for the use of students in performing the practical work of the department. The tables are supplied with individual sinks, water faucets, natural gas, Bunsen burners, the ordinary re-agents, and the appliances required for the courses offered. The laboratory is equipped with the apparatus necessary for Blowpipe Analysis, Quantitative Analysis, Qualitative Analysis, Organic Chemistry, and Clay Analysis.

The Biological Laboratory

is equipped with microscopes, microscopic materials, dissecting instruments, an aquarium supplied with running water and other facilities.

THE NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM

is well supplied with specimens illustrating the various departments. The collection of shells, skeletons, insects, birds, flowering plants, fossils and minerals is especially valuable.

GYMNASIUMS.

The Gymnasium for men is an attractive and well furnished room in the basement of Babcock Hall. Its equipment includes apparatus for both light and heavy work, dressing rooms and lockers, bath, etc. Ladies Hall has a commodious gymnasium for ladies. Its equipment is the usual apparatus for light work—clubs, dumb-bells, etc.

COLLEGE SONG.

Tune, "Mandalay."

By the old Steinheim a-dreaming,
When the sun is in the west,
When the bird notes are the sweetest,
And the village is at rest;
When the wind is in the pine trees,
And the Chapel bell is still,
There is rest for mind and spirit,
At this haunt upon the hill.

CHORUS.

You may go where'er you please
From the north to southern sea
And you'll find no music sweeter
Than the wind in old pine trees;
How each restless thought it stills,
How the heart with rapture thrills
When the green comes back in springtime
To the dear old Alfred hills.

Tell us not of larger colleges
With greater wealth endowed,
For despite their great attractions,
Of A. U. we still are proud;
Scarce we understand the reason
But the very soil seems dear,
And we always breathe the freer
In this pure, clear atmosphere.

CHORUS.

Now the violet is blooming
And I dream the oriole calls,
And my heart is faint and restless
Far from classic paths and halls;
When the heart is only longing
Little sympathy it finds,
And I sigh for dear old Alfred
And the wind among the pines.

CHORUS.

EDNA BLISS, '90.

College Yell.

Debating.

is a valuable feature of Lyceum work. You have an opportunity to gain knowledge through debates and literary programs, to do credit to yourself and become an honor to the University. There will, according to agreement, be an inter-lyceum debate this school year and one next year, between the men's societies.

RULES.

SEC. I. Any organization of the University may challenge another.

The challenging party shall have the right to propose the question, provided the question has the approval of the Debate Committee. The challenged party shall have the choice of sides. The challenge shall be presented in writing, and signed by the secretary of the challenging organization. The reply shall be in writing, and signed by the secretary of the challenged organization.

SEC. II. The date of the debate, and the number of participants shall be determined by mutual consent.

SEC. III. Participants for debate shall be undergraduate students of the University. A student shall be considered in the college if a majority of his hours are in college, or a student in the Academy if a majority of his hours are in the Academy.

SEC. IV. Each participant in debate shall be allowed ten minutes for his first speech and five minutes for rebuttal, unless otherwise provided by mutual consent. The speeches of the affirmative and negative shall be made alternately, beginning with the affirmative. The speeches in rebuttal shall be given alternatively, beginning with the negative.

SEC. V. There shall be three judges, no one of whom shall be a member of either organization. Each organization shall choose one judge, and the third shall be chosen by the Debate Committee.

SEC. VI. The points on which discussions shall be rendered in debate shall be argument and delivery. Argument and delivery shall count equally.

SEC. VII. All disputes arising over points not covered by the above rules shall be referred to the Debate Committee for arbitration.

The Alfred University Monthly

is published monthly during the college year by a board of editors chosen from the student body. Its interests are those of the alumni as well as of the students. Its aim is to be a true mirror of the work done in the University. A lyceum article is printed in each issue. Contributions are solicited from both alumni and undergraduates.

ATHLETICS.

Athletics at Alfred are in charge of the Athletic Association, under the general supervision of an Advisory Committee from the Faculty. The grounds are in charge of a Board of Directors chosen by the Association. The annual dues for active membership are 50 cents

With the generous co-operation of the citizens of Alfred and other friends of the University, a new athletic field has been purchased and graded during the past year. The base ball games of the 1901 season were played on the new grounds, and in the future, there will be much greater satisfaction in having athletic teams from other schools visit Alfred, than in the past, when the games were held on the old field on the hill.

Athletics are now universally recognized as an important factor in college life. With proper support, this factor in our school life may not only have a beneficial effect upon the other phases of our work, but may also raise the standing of the college among other colleges. It is highly desirable, therefore, that athletics should continue to receive the support of the students and all others interested in the progress of Alfred University, in order that the good reputation made in this line in the past may be sustained, and that still further development may be made in the future. Officers: H. Eugene Davis, Pres.; A. M. Wallace, Vice Pres.; H. B. Case, Treas.; T. Coit Bliss, Sec.

Football.

The regular practice for football commences the week following the opening of school and continues daily until the close of the season

During the season of 1900, 7 games were played and 138 points made against 5 lost.

The new field will be a great help to the training of the team, and should create a renewed interest in the sport.

The management has provided a good schedule for 1901 and the prospect seems encouraging for a successful season. All candidates for the team should report for practice as soon as the season begins. Officers: D. C. Babcock, Capt.; T. Coit Bliss, Manager.

Baseball.

Baseball candidates are expected to take light preliminary work in the gymnasium, beginning with the second semester. Active training and competition for places on the nine begins at the opening of the spring quarter. The positions are awarded to the best men, whether they have played on the 'Varsity team before or not. All students are eligible to compete for places on the nine, 8 games were played in 1901, in which 59 points were gained and 47 lost. Officers: A. M. Wallace, Capt.; J. F. Whitford, Manager.

Track Athletics.

This branch of athletics is comparatively new here, nothing systematic having been done toward its development until last season. A track team was then organized and the positions filled competitively. Training was conducted through the track season, and one dual meet was held—that with Geneseo Normal School, at Wayland on June 12th. Alfred was represented by a team of six men and made 56 points, while Geneseo made 59 points with eight men. The Field Day sports during Commencement Week were also in charge of the track team, and were much more successful than in former years.

The greatest handicap on the development of track athletics at Alfred is the need of a suitable place for training. The acquisition of new athletic grounds has improved the situation, but a good track is essential to the full success of this branch of sport, and it is to be hoped in the near future the new field may be made complete by the addition of a running track. Officers: L. L. Segur, Capt.; J. M. Groves, Manager.

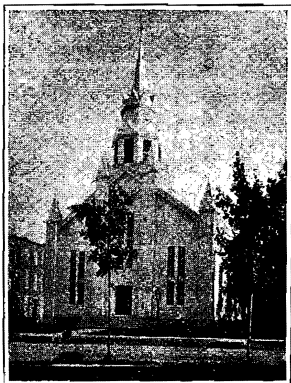

Tennis.

Lawn Tennis at Alfred is coming to be recognized as the leading recreation for those having only occasional leisure moments. Expense cannot possibly deter one from joining the Tennis Association. The fees are very small; being fifty cents for admission, and a tax of twenty-five cents per semester. The Tennis Association possesses two courts and steps are being taken for the putting in of a third. The courts are open to members of the Association at any and all times. The officers are Pres., G. A. Farwell, '03; Sergeant, W. G. Davis, '03; Sec. and Treas., P. E. Titsworth, '04.
