

TALK BY ENVOY ELLIOTT
AND A MUSIC TEST
FILL ASSEMBLY
PERIOD*Salvation Army Worker
Opens Campaign*PROF. WINGATE GIVES SEASHORE TEST

Envoy Elliott of the Salvation Army gave the Assembly talk Wednesday but the greater part of the period was taken up by Director Ray W. Wingate, who gave the Seashore Musical Test to the assemblage.

The test, a psychological one, was for tone, pitch, time, resonance, and note. Much consternation was evidenced when the fourth part of the test came, when the audience had to determine which of two chords was most pleasing to the ear. Since opinions are bound to differ, it is difficult to state whether or not that part of the test was successful.

"Thousands of ex-service men who cannot find work are applying for help from the Salvation Army every day, and our institutions are already filled to overflowing," said Envoy Eliot of Buffalo in his address.

Mr. Eliot is a veteran of the Salvation Army, having spent forty years of his life in the service of that organization. Outlining in a very effective manner the present needs of the Army, he stated that every day many had to be turned from the doors of its various institutions because of the lack of money to carry on the work which has been so well begun.

The Salvation Army cares not for race or creed; all that it asks is a chance to point the way toward the kingdom of Christ.

"The Salvation Army has done and is doing a great and noble work, and I hope to die as I have lived—in the service of the Salvation Army," Envoy Eliot declared.

He told also of the many ways the money given to the organization is used in lightening the burdens and sufferings of unfortunate men, and furthering the kingdom of God.

VARSLITY LOSES IN LAST HALF OF ROCHESTER
S. O. GAME*Optometry Team Victors
by Score of 34-22

The Rochester School of Optometry won a hard fought battle from the Purple and Gold, in a game played on the Alfred court last Saturday night. The score at the end of the final period was 36-22.

In the first five minutes of play the game bid fair to be the fastest of the season. Campbell caged the ball soon after the initial whistle was blown, and Smith tapped one in on a jump ball. Rochester came through with a goal, but Newton increased the Varsity's lead when he dropped in two field baskets and two fouls. Roch-

NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE TO CONVICT MARCUS
CRANDALL OF MURDER*Jury in Mock Trial Renders Verdict of Not Guilty

A most interesting mock-trial was held in Dr. Norwood's room last Tuesday afternoon when the class in American Politics tried Marcus A. Crandall for the theft of a diamond ring and the shooting of A. A. Shaw of this village.

Henry Hinchcliff presided, as chief justice.

The prosecuting attorney, Burton Bliss, and his assistant, Audrey Haynes, attempted to prove that Crandall bought a revolver from Shaw's store and that the evidence of his guilt was

FOOTLIGHT CLUB SCORES HIT WITH "THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST"*Oscar Wilde's Farce A Treat for Large Audience

The Footlight Club scored a great success last Saturday night, when it presented before an appreciative audience in Firemens Hall, its first play of the year, "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde." Robert Clark and Mildred Faulstich, who carried the leading roles, were both distinct hits.

The play, which is a comedy with a laugh in every line, was admirably chosen for the initial performance. The plot centers around John Worthing and Algernon Moncrieff, young English bachelors, both of whom pose as Earnest because their sweethearts like that name. Algernon's aunt, the Lady Bracknell, is the tyrannical mother of Gwendolen, who accepts Jack's proposal, but changes her mind when Cecily, his word, reveals his name. When Lady Bracknell follows Gwendolen to Jack's country home, the startling fact is disclosed that Miss Prism, Cecily's guardian, is responsible for all the trouble. She was the nurse who left Jack, as a baby, in a hand bag. When his real identity proves to be Earnest Moncrieff, Algy's brother, the complications magically disappear, and everyone is happy.

Of the characters in the play very little can be said except in praise. Miss Faulstich, who took the part of Hon. Gwendolen Fairfax, a beautiful but rather conceited belle, was all that could be expected. She fitted her part nicely, forgetting her real identity and playing with wonderful results the part of Gwendolen Fairfax.

Robert Clark, who took by far the hardest role, that of John Worthing, played the part admirably. Mr. Clark's acting showed the result of considerable study and good coaching. To have risen to the full possibilities of this part would have required months of study and hard work on the part of a professional, but Mr. Clark fell short in very few places.

The part of Lady Bracknell, a lady of extreme fashion in London society, was taken by Miss Charlotte Kershaw. This was Miss Kershaw's first appearance behind the Alfred footlights and she played her part with splendid effect.

It would have been hard to find one who could have played the part of the indolent Algernon Moncrieff, with more power than Leon Dougherty. At no time did he fail to act to the full possibilities of the clever role.

Miss Julia O'Brien as Cecily Cardew, the beautiful, but somewhat too sentimental, ward of John Worthing, displayed no little amount of ability. Miss Laura Stillman as Cecily Cardew's governess, took the part very well, although at times it seemed that Miss Stillman fell short in her portrayal of governess. Her acting was much above the ordinary amateur.

Nowhere could have been found a more pleasing choice than Edgar Buttle for the role of the obliging and conciliatory Rev. Canon Chasuble, D. D. With his voice modulated to that of the English divine, Mr. Buttle seemed perfectly suited to the part.

Of Miss Bleiman, who directed the play, nothing but praise can be given. This is not the first of Miss Bleiman's productions that has charmed Alfred audiences and this one was no less a success than its predecessors.

Mention should be made also of the tasteful decoration of the stage, the scenery being arranged and painted by Frobisher T. Lytle with the assistance of other Club members and Mr. Stanley Stillman. The properties were by Irwin Conroe and Edward Teal.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Lane—butler	Theodore J. Ahern
Algernon Moncrieff	Leon A. Dougherty
John Worthing, J. P.	Robert F. Clark
Lady Bracknell	Charlotte L. Kershaw
Hon. Gwendolen Fairfax	Mildred Faulstich
Miss Prism—governess	Laura Stillman
Cecily Cardew	Julia G. O'Brien
Rev. Canon Chasuble, D. D.	Edgar A. Buttle
Merriman—butler	Chester A. Feig

THREE SHORT PLAYS OF WEE PLAYHOUSE ARE MUCH ENJOYED*DEAN TITSWORTH STARS

All faculty members and students connected with the production of the three plays given at the Wee Playhouse Thursday night are to be highly complimented on the success of these productions.

In "The Maker of Dreams," Mrs. Wesbecher made a very beautiful "Pierrette." Prof. Mix was in his part all the time and was very natural in his portrayal. Mr. Place, as the "manufacturer," had a part to which he was well adapted, and he carried it through admirably.

The second of the plays given was "The Hour Glass." It was a most excellent presentation. Miss Nelson displayed extraordinary talent in her part and Prof. Binns and Mrs. Ellis were extremely good.

Dean Titsworth, as "Mr. Sud" in "The Pot Boiler," was thoroughly limbered up and Dr. Adamec, as the personification of youthful innocence, was a merry little farce all by himself.

SOPHS SNATCH TWO VICTORIES FROM FRESHMAN QUINT BY CLOSE SCORES*Basketball Title Goes to 1924 After Two Hotly Contested Games*SOPHOMORES WIN FIRST OF UNDERCLASS BASKETBALL GAMES

Evincing the spirit of Bunker Hill and Chateau Thierry, the Sophomores defeated the younger class by a score of 31-30 at the Academy Wednesday night, when the underclasses met in their first basketball clash.

The game proved to be the liveliest seen on the local court this season. Both teams were eager to win the initial game of the series.

The Sophs started with a rush and almost immediately commenced piling up the count. The first few minutes looked like a walk-away for the older class. The game was fast and exciting during every minute of play. Although the freshmen worked hard they were unable to overcome the lead of the Sophs. The first half ended 17-7 with '24 on the long end.

In the second half the Sophs did not show the good team work they had displayed during the first half. For some reason they could not pass the ball up the court, while the yearlings, with good passing form, easily played the ball rapidly from one end to the other. The Frosh score began to swell until it reached 30, when the whistle blew and left Sophs victorious.

The freshmen were unable to find the basket for the majority of their foul shots, while "Soupie" of the Sophs had his eye on the basket for almost every free throw. The contest in foul-shooting decided the game. Both teams are to be commended for the brand of playing they exhibited.

Line up and summary:

Sophomores (31)	Freshmen (30)
Campbell	R. F.
Dunbar	L. F.
Drummond	C.
Barron	R. G.
Witter	L. G.

Time of halves: 20 minutes.

FROSH DEFEATED IN SECOND GAME

In the most exciting game that has ever been witnessed in Alfred, the sophomores defeated the freshmen last night by the close score of 23-19. Both teams entered the contest with a grim determination to win and fought from the first whistle to the last.

The first half started with very few opportunities for either class to score except by a foul now and then. The Frosh were the first to become aggressive and straightway started piling up the score. In this period "Soupie" intercepted a swift pass and caged a sensational basket. At the end of the period the score stood 11-10 in favor of the youngsters.

The last half was snappy, to say the least, for the freshmen still smarted from the defeat they had received last week and the Sophs wanted to administer another stinging blow. For a time the score see-sawed, but the Frosh soon moved ahead. This made the Sophs fight still harder and they steadily rolled up the score until a tie resulted. Ingoldsby was hurt and had to leave '25's line up. In the final desperate rally the Sophs finished with a hard-earned lead of two field baskets.

The game throughout was characterized by clean playing and the fair decisions which the referee gave. Both teams deserve a great deal of praise for the hard, fast playing which they exhibited. Each player was a credit to the team that he represented. The foul-shooting was again a deciding factor in favor of the Sophs.

Summary:

PROF. POTTER ON FORESTRY

Prof. Clifford Potter gave an interesting talk last Tuesday on forestry and lumbering methods, showing the operations by slides. Many views were taken in the vicinity of Alfred, and a number were taken at the large lumber camps of the north.

ICE CREAM CLASS TAKES A TRIP

Thursday morning at 7 o'clock, five auto loads of the Ice Cream class in charge of Prof. Camenga, left for a four-day trip through central New York to visit ice cream plants and milk stations. Perry, Rochester, Seneca Falls, Auburn, Ithaca and Elmira were visited. The party returned Sunday noon after a very successful trip.

MR. AND MRS. J. B. NICE SURPRISED

Last Monday night Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nice were pleasantly surprised by the Federal Board men and the wives of several of the men.

Mr. Nice leaves Ag School this week to take a position on a fruit farm near Rochester. He has been taking Vocational Training here for the past two years and has been a member of the Federal Board Club during its existence.

The evening was spent by storytelling and singing. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hillary, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Kirkpatrick. The party broke up at a late hour with everyone expressing their best wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Nice in their new home at Irondequoit, N. Y.

BETTER BEE-KEEPING

February 21st and 22d, Dr. George H. Rea of the Pennsylvania State College, formerly of New York State College of Agriculture, gave a series of addresses on the different problems of bee-keeping.

One address was devoted to "Bee-Keepers' Associations and their Functions," and another to "Supplies and Honey Prices." The attendance at these addresses was good, and included a number of Ag students. Discussions were held at every lecture, and a great many interesting as well as useful points were brought out.

As no subject in Bees is given at the Ag School, Dr. Rea's stay in Alfred no doubt benefitted many of the students who have bees at home and who had problems about them.

A. K. GETMAN, OF STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, TELLS WHY AND HOW TO STUDY

Mr. A. K. Getman, specialist in Agricultural Education, of the Department of Education at Albany, spoke at Assembly Friday on the question, "How do we get an education?" His answer to the question was: "We get out of our work and study such benefit as is proportionate to the energy and painstaking effort we put into it."

"The average person does not use anywhere near the amount of energy of which he is capable," Mr. Getman said. "Men are leading today because they put a nearly superhuman effort in their particular line, not because they have any more talent, but because of their interest in their work."

Another question was: "What particular qualities or abilities must one look for?" His answer was: "People who can do things. Knowledge, to be effective, must be translated into direct actions." A recipe to cover the whole talk was: "1st. Set your jawbone; 2d. stiffen your backbone; 3d. throw away your wishbone."

Mr. Getman's talk was very interesting, and if his advice is followed no doubt many low marks would be raised in the monthly standings. Such talks and advice, condensed as it was given, should prove beneficial to every student. The whole talk may be summarized in five words, namely: Take Interest In Your Work.

Among the visitors at Alfred during the past week were Genevieve Button '22, who is now employed at the Genesee Co-operative Association at Batavia, Helen Chaffee of Angelica, and Zaneta Dibble '21, who is now bookkeeper and secretary at the Bonalevo Farms, Warren Road, Batavia.

CHILDREN ENTERTAINERS

Thursday morning, under the guidance of Gladys Place and Verda Paul, a number of children from the Grammar School entertained the Ag students by singing and dancing, and a play depicting the story of the "Elves and the Shoemaker." The children performed very well and their work was very much enjoyed.

Zaneta Dibble '21, of Batavia, sang several songs, and memories of last year came back to the older students at hearing Miss Dibble sing again.

C. L. C. A.

The meeting of Country Life Christian Association Sunday night was somewhat out of the ordinary.

Frances Witter gave a vocal solo, accompanied by Frances Gardiner, and special violin music was given by Donald Pingrey. Vernon Goff read a paper on "The Religions of the World" which took up the principles of the main religions outside of the Christian religion. Mohammedism, Buddhism and Confucianism were discussed.

An interesting program has been planned for next Sunday night, and it is hoped that more of the students will turn out.

SEARLES-CHEESEMAN

The marriage of N. Contee Searles '21, and Grace Cheeseman, formerly head of the Domestic Science department, took place at the Andover home of the bride, Tuesday, February 22d. Rev. Mr. Smith of the Methodist Church officiated.

About 50 people attended the wedding, among them the following from Alfred: Director Champlin, Prof. and Mrs. Place, Prof. and Mrs. Remsen, Misses Bennett, Langworthy, Erma Clarke, Bleiman, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Sheppard, and the following students: Helen Mead, Frances Witter, Lillian Martin, Grace White, Edward Harns, and Henry Dea. Former students from out of town included Genevieve Button and Zaneta Dibble of Batavia, Helen Chaffe of Angelica, and Mary Sick of Bath.

Edward Harns acted as best man, and Marian Searles as bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by Helen Mead. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Sheppard, and the girls attending from Ag School served. The house was tastily decorated in yellow and white by Mrs. Sheppard and Helen Mead.

After a short trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Searles will be at home at their farm near Seneca Falls, N. Y.

EDWIN M. WHITNEY

Those who attended the fourth number of the entertainment course last Tuesday and heard Edwin M. Whitney in "Turn to the Right," had a rare treat, as it was one of the best of the course. This was Mr. Whitney's first appearance before an Alfred audience, but we predict it will not be the last. He is an Allegany county boy, having formerly lived at Angelica.

NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE TO CONVICT MARCUS CRANDALL OF MURDER

to be found in the presence of soiled clothing, of muddy shoes and of this revolver in his room.

The attorney for the defense, T. J. Ahern, with his assistant, Jeanette Randolph, attempted to prove that Marcus Crandall was not the guilty man.

The witnesses for the prosecution were well placed at the time of the crime. Henry Stryker, a physician, was returning to Alfred from a call when he heard a shot and rushed to Shaw's store to find Mr. Shaw, senior, prostrate upon the floor with a bullet hole in his head. Sheriff Leon Haynes rushed to the scene immediately. He testified that he saw a mysterious individual disappearing in the rear of Burdick Hall. Next morning he visited the room of the accused and found the gun, a muddy pair of trousers and shoes covered with mud. The next witness called on the stand was Dana Shaw (Donald Sanders) who described Shaw's store. Edith Childs was a finger print expert for the prosecution and Sanford Cole held the same position for the defense. Clyde Dwight, as a personal friend of Marcus Crandall, was called in to testify. Dwight offered the testimony that upon going into Hornell he had seen a person whom he felt morally sure was Marcus Crandall.

Openhym, the first witness for the defense, testified to the good character and moral worth of the accused. Hazel Gamble, who as a nurse had cared for the mother of the accused for six months preceding her death, gave testimony as to the unusual kindness of Marcus Crandall and his thoughtful consideration for his mother and also told of seeing on Mrs. Crandall's hand a ring, seemingly identical to the one displayed in court as the stolen ring. Miss Gamble asserted that Mrs. Crandall had expressed the wish that the ring go to Marcus at her death. Witness Vera Gorton (Mrs. Green) saw a suspicious looking character lurking in the vicinity of Shaw's store. Upon first sight this man bore a striking resemblance of Marcus Crandall, but on closer scrutiny, she observed that he was another person.

Ahern as attorney for the defense, made an eloquent appeal to the jury in behalf of the accused.

Bliss, as prosecuting attorney, presented a masterful summary of his case in which he charged the jury to consider the matter of the guilt of the accused coolly, reminding them that they had sworn not to be swayed by emotion in the matter.

The jury consisting of Margaret Glaspey, Clair Peck, Edward Vachuska, George Stearns, Edward Teal and Elmer Ockerman, brought in the verdict of "not guilty," concluding that there was not sufficient evidence for conviction.

CERAMISTS AT CONVENTION

Prof. Binns, Prof. Radasch, Leon Ells and Clair Peck of '22, and Sanford Cole '23, left last week for St. Louis, where they are attending the annual convention of the American Ceramic Society.

A track club meeting has been called for tomorrow morning, after student body meeting. The college men will consider ways and means of finishing the board track and developing a real team.

Satisfactory arrangements could not be made with Salem for the game proposed for March 6, so only two games remain on this year's basketball schedule; one with St. Bonaventure on March 9, and the other with St. Francis on March 16. Both of these games are to be played on the Alfred court.

This year's basketball season has not been a success from the standpoint of games won. However, the team has shown decided improvement, and the first period of Saturday's game revealed the fact that the team is capable of good basketball.

The Varsity needs cheering and encouragement. With increased support, it is entirely possible to win the games remaining on the schedule.

Marion Newton and Miss Beulah Newton were called home by the death of their grandmother in Hamburg.

On Monday, March 6, 1922, the university chorus will present the comic opera "The Pirates of Penzance" in Firemens Hall.

A card from Mrs. B. C. Davis states the weather seems like July or August in Florida, and the temperature is between 70 and 80.

It is told of Dr. McKosh of Princeton that he was accustomed to giving out notices at the morning devotional exercises which always closed with prayer. One morning he forgot a certain notice until he had begun his last prayer. Praying for the students and professors of the college the notice from the French professor came to mind and the students were astonished to hear the doctor say in pious petition: "And, oh Lord, bless Prof. Karge, whose French lesson will be held this morning at nine instead of half past ten, as usual.

At a meeting of the English Club on Friday afternoon James Yanick read a very interesting paper on Stevenson as an essayist. Following this there was a discussion of Stevenson led by Dean Titsworth. At the next meeting which will occur at the home of Dean Titsworth on Saturday evening, March 11, Miss Lucretia Vossler is to discuss Stevenson as a novelist.

ALFRED GIVES NEARLY $200 TO SALVATION ARMY

Before Envoy Elliott left yesterday afternoon he expressed great satisfaction on the result of the recent Salvation Army campaign for funds.

Nearly $200 was collected here, and Mr. Elliott wished to thank all contributors for their generosity. He felt sure that Alfred could respond each year to this Home Service appeal. This is the only authorized campaign in villages that do not support local work.

A standing committee composed of Messrs. F. A. Crumb, W. F. Burdick, Clifford Potter, Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Clawson, has been chosen to sustain local interest in the S. A.

"FLIES" BANQUET AGAIN

The Most High and Royal Order of Flies holds banquets so often that it is difficult to report all of them. On Sunday night, Feb. 19, this young, thriving society banquetted in style at the Klan Alpine home.

When the guests had arrived the Flies entertained with many choice musical selections, after which the banquet was served. During the meal each of the Flies gave a description of his particular new invention which he was shortly to give to the scientific world. This was very interesting.

With more music and the "Fly Yell" the guests started homeward after a very happy evening. Among the guests present were Prof. and Mrs. Radasch.

"Sam" Bond is confined to his home with the mumps.

Louis Collin of the class of '20 has been a recent visitor in town.

"Bill" Whitford has been confined to his room with a severe case of the mumps.

Miss Susie Burdick returned last week from several weeks spent in various parts of the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Potter have moved into their new home, the Tomlinson house, on Terrace street.

The preliminary trial for the Peace Prize contest will be held in the English room on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Clark and Mrs. Laura Quackenbush of Hornell spent Sunday with Mrs. Helen Cottrell.

Dr. Norwood has recently been nominated as a village trustee, and Prof. J. B. Shaw has been nominated as village president.

The Rev. A. J. C. Bond of Salem, W. Va., director of the S. D. B. Forward Movement has been in the village the past week.

A son, Arthur E., Jr., was born Feb. 16th, to Prin. and Mrs. Arthur E. Stukey of Fort Lee, N. J. The little fellow weighed 6 pounds and 14 ounces.

The students of the college and Agricultural school and faculty of both schools are invited to the high school senior dance tonight at 8 o'clock at Academy Hall.

MRS. T. G. DAVIS DIES IN SHANGHAI

The sad news has just been received in Alfred that Mrs. Theodore G. Davis, recently died in Shanghai, China.

Her husband, who graduated from A. U. in 1906 and now makes his home in Plainfield, N. J., was on a foreign-selling trip for the White Motor Co. when the death occurred. Mr. Davis' brother Alfred is now in business in Shanghai, where their father was in missionary work, up to the time of his death several years ago.

Mrs. Middaugh's Birthday Party

Mrs. Middaugh's birthday was celebrated by the Brick girls at dinner Sunday evening. The dining room was attractively decorated in yellow and white. The tables were centered with golden daffodils. As the girls came down to dinner in their light dresses, the dining room took on the appearance of a summer festival. The Brick dwellers were delighted with the excellent menu which the chef prepared for the occasion. The guests of honor were Mrs. King, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Binns and Miss Elsie Binns.

Charles B. Johnson of the controllers office in Albany has been auditing the books of the State School this week. Mr. Johnson was a student here in the nineties. Colonel W. W. Brown of Congress street, Bradford, Pa., is in town for a few days. Recently a letter has been received from Pearl C. Parker '11. She gives her address as Olean. Walter King, class of 21 was recently married in Detroit to Miss Marie Christiansen.

Intercollegiate chess is the newest novelty among Ohio colleges. The game is to be played by wireless in the same manner that any chess game would be played. Each side would set up a chess board near the radio-phone and the wireless man would announce immediately to the opponents each move made by his own team. The Hobby-Hour Wireless Club at Cincinnati University started the movement by issuing challenges to Miami, Ohio Wesleyan, Wittenburg and Ohio University.

VARSITY LOSES IN LAST HALF OF ROCHESTER S. O. GAME

ter tried many long shots and succeeded in netting three of them. During the whole first period of twenty minutes the Purple five by means of superior passwork easily led the visitors in scoring, and the half ended with Alfred leading 17-14. In the second period, however, the Alfred team was weakened by the withdrawal of Newton and Campbell, who had both received injuries, and the visitors galloped away with the remainder of the game. The Purple team succeeded in capturing only one goal from the field in the second half. Fitch starred for the Optometry team caging 7 field goals, while Newton did the bulk of the basket getting for the Alfred quint, being credited with four goals from the field.

Line up and summary:

Newton, Hinchcliff	R. F. Engle
Campbell, Johnson	L. F. Fitch, Smith
Smith	C. Robb, Hennessy

Lyman, Gardner	R. G. Sedgwick

Field goals, Newton 4, Campbell 2, Smith 2, Engle 4, Fitch 7, Robb 2. Hennessy, Roese; foul goals, Newton 4, Campbell 2, Engle 6. Referee, Beck. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

There will be a meeting of the college student body tomorrow, March 1, after Assembly, at which time an amendment to Article VIII, Section I of the Honor System Constitution will be proposed. The article as amended reads as follows:

“ARTICLE VIII Section 1

This Constitution may be amended by a three-fourths vote of those present at a student body meeting, or a revision may be authorized by a unanimous vote of said student body, and the passage of the revised Constitution shall be secured by a three-fourths vote of those present. Notice of this meeting shall be given at least one week previous to time of action.”

The article, as now worded: “Section I. This Constitution may be amended by a three-fourths vote of those present at a mass meeting, notice of which must be given at least one week previous.”

JOURNALISM CLASS MAKES SURVEY

The college class in Journalism completed a survey today, which is intended to show just how many of the students read daily newspapers, and the tastes of the readers. The results of this survey will probably be ready for publication next week.

CHINA NOW REPRESENTED IN STUDENT BODY

Winton Bee, a Chinese student who has been in this country only a month, registered here last week, and is planning to take the regular college course. Mr. Bee chose Alfred instead of Cornell because it will be easier for him to learn English here, where there is no chance to converse in Chinese.

At a recent meeting of the Allegany County Board of Supervisors resolutions were adopted appropriating money for putting more durable tops on the town-county highways, and designating the state roads to be constructed in 1923. There are three roads in this list and the Alfred-Alfred Station road is the first one on the list, and would thus be the first road to be built in 1923, but it is expected that within the next two or three weeks this road will be taken over by the state and placed among the roads maintained by the state, and will undoubtedly be repaired this coming summer.

Anything may happen to a freshman, yet he will still survive. Douglas Barnes of Rutgers fell four stories from a ledge on Winants Hall and sustained only a fractured rib and a broken wrist. Locked out of his room one night, Barnes made his way thru a hall window and crawled along a narrow ledge in an effort to reach, the window of his own room. He woke up in the hospital, yet not so seriously injured.
