'In the Loop' at the Fosdick-Nelson Gallery

Opening reception, Friday, Nov. 7, 7-9 p.m.
Show runs through Dec. 3

"In the Loop" features an array of international artists currently working with video--all honoring, or to some degree inspired by, iconic 1970s performance art works. Like their predecessors, these artists are commenting on issues of the engendered and political body, as well as the weightiness of art historical pedigree. Yet, they contemporize the dialogue with wit, whimsy and satirical references to diverse popular culture.

Gallery hours: Monday to Friday 11 a.m.-4 p.m.; Saturday & Sunday 1-3 p.m.

Would You Like to Collaborate on a Public Art Project in Alfred?

A graduate art student is looking for a student or faculty/staff member to participate in a public, performance-based art project in the Village of Alfred. The only requirement is that you must live in town and get from place to place mostly by walking. No art skills or experience required!

The project, called Life Lines, will involve mapping out the daily lives of 3 Alfred residents (one Alfred University student, one Alfred State College student, and one community member who lives and works in town). The map will be made by literally drawing dotted lines on the streets and sidewalks during your daily travels with temporary spray chalk for a period of one week.

A map "legend" will also be drawn in the center of town to inform other Alfred residents about the project and the people involved. All necessary materials would be provided. No additional time commitments would be required. All you'd need to do is go about your daily life as usual!

If you're interested in speaking to the artist and learning more about the project, please contact Alicia Eggert:

718.596.4899 or AE1@alfred.edu

Washington Semester Program for Spring 2009

Dr. Heineman, of the Social Sciences Division, is now taking applications for the Washington Semester Program for Spring 2009.

The Washington Semester Program is sponsored by American University and enables students to spend a semester in Washington, D.C., studying public policy in a variety of areas. Students who have participated in the program have used their experience and contacts to obtain excellent positions in Washington and elsewhere.

In addition to taking coursework, students will meet with government officials and political leaders in seminar sessions and will participate in an internship of their choosing. In addition to its major focus on American national government, the program also has a number of options utilizing non-governmental resources in the Washington area, including working with interest groups and art and cultural institutions. Some of these are: journalism, law enforcement, public law, economics, international business, international organizations, and women and politics.

Course credits and grades are fully transferable to the student's transcript. Students can obtain additional information on the program at www.washingtonsemester.com. Juniors or seniors are eligible to participate, and scholarships are available. Last semester Kalyn Follmer attended the program and Kristin Rubisch is currently there. Those interested should contact Dr. Heineman in room 209 of the Olin Building.

Applications should be completed by Wednesday, Nov. 5, 2008.

Getting Started with Student Learning Assessment

"Getting Started ..." is the first of a three-Webinar series on SLA. It will air Tuesday, Nov. 25, 1-2:30 p.m. and be projected in Olin 302.

The key to successful assessment is to design and conduct meaningful, manageable, and informative tools. Towards this end, SLAC (Student Learning Assessment Committee) and the Provost are sponsoring these Webinars.

The second and third assessment Webinars will be at the same time and location: Thursday, 12/4/08, Choosing a Published Instrument to Assess Student Learning, and Thursday, 12/11/08, Developing Tools and Strategies to Assessment Student Learning.

Contact Cheryl Monroe to express interest.

Owens Corning Diversity Leadership Conference

The Career Development Center is pleased to announce applications are now being accepted for the 6th Annual Diversity Leadership Conference sponsored by Owens Corning.

Owens Corning, a global leader in the building materials and composites industries, is eager to identify students to participate in our Sixth Annual Diversity Leadership Conference. The purpose of the event is to provide an opportunity for talented young men and women to enhance their knowledge and understanding of leadership and corporate values through workshops and exercises.

The conference will take place Jan. 29 - 31, 2009, at the Owens Corning World Headquarters in Toledo, Ohio. Transportation, lodging, and training materials for each student will be provided.

Must have sophomore or junior standing; majoring in business or engineering.

Only 25 students from campuses throughout the United States will be accepted. The past few years Alfred University has had 2-3 students attend this event.

It is a fantastic addition to any resume and all expenses are covered if you are accepted.

Complete information including agenda and application process are in the attached document. Applications due by Wednesday, Nov. 26, 2008 with notifications completed early December 2008.

'Separate Histories; How We Lie To Ourselves'

Journalist and Author and Pulitzer Prize Winner

ELLIOT JASPIN

Will speak on:

"Separate Histories; How We Lie To Ourselves" - Everywhere we look the old racial order is collapsing. Yet at least one thing stubbornly endures. Americans still cannot bring themselves to talk about this country's long history of racial cleansings.

Wednesday, Oct. 29, 7 p.m.
Dresser Auditorium, Murphy Building
St. Bonaventure University

Jaspin's talk is free and open to the public. Sponsored by the Diversity Action Committee and the Russell Jandoli School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Also: On SBU TV Monday and Tuesday evening (Oct. 27 & 28) at 7 p.m. the documentary film: "Banished" will be shown. "Banished" recounts the forgotten history of racial cleansing in America and Elliot Jaspin appears in the film.
