

Alfred Sun in Texas...again

Moving his sister Kate Rafte to Texas has turned out to be a big adventure for Alfred Sun subscriber Josh Rafte of Rochester. The Alfred University graduate, who works for Paychex in Rochester, dwarfed here by the huge Texas welcome (sign), keeps in touch with his alma mater and his onetime college home by reading the Alfred Sun.

Tony offers small-town personalized service

By ERICA SMYTH
Special to the Alfred Sun

ALFRED—"He knows the people...He knows what they are taking...He can catch things before they become a problem," said Mark Guinan, director of human resources at Alfred University.

He was talking about Tony Graziano, owner of the Alfred Pharmacy, next to the Terra Cotta café, on Main Street in the village.

Tony is from a big Italian family and treats the Alfred community as an extension of that family. He always takes the time to check on how customers are doing. He makes sure that they have the medications they need. He coordinates with the health plans offered by both Alfred University and Alfred State Colleges.

At the same time, he provides other significant services, such as offering flu shots and working with local doctors to help people save on insurance copays. Tony is also a property owner who rents apartments to students from both campuses.

Tony says he feels that it's his duty to help maintain community health. When an elderly woman recently lost her husband, Tony immediately got in his car and drove to her house. He offered his condolences and then made sure she had all her medications before he left.

According to Alfred University's Guinan, "he takes good care of the community by considering his customers' needs and adapting to changing times."

Over the years, Tony expanded from a simple pharmacy to a small convenience store. He continuously battles with what he calls the overwhelming presence of Hornell-based businesses such as Walmart and Wegmans.

Regardless of the difficulties of running a local pharmacy in a small town like Alfred, Tony continues to do what he describes as a "duty given to me by God": assisting people entrusted to his care.

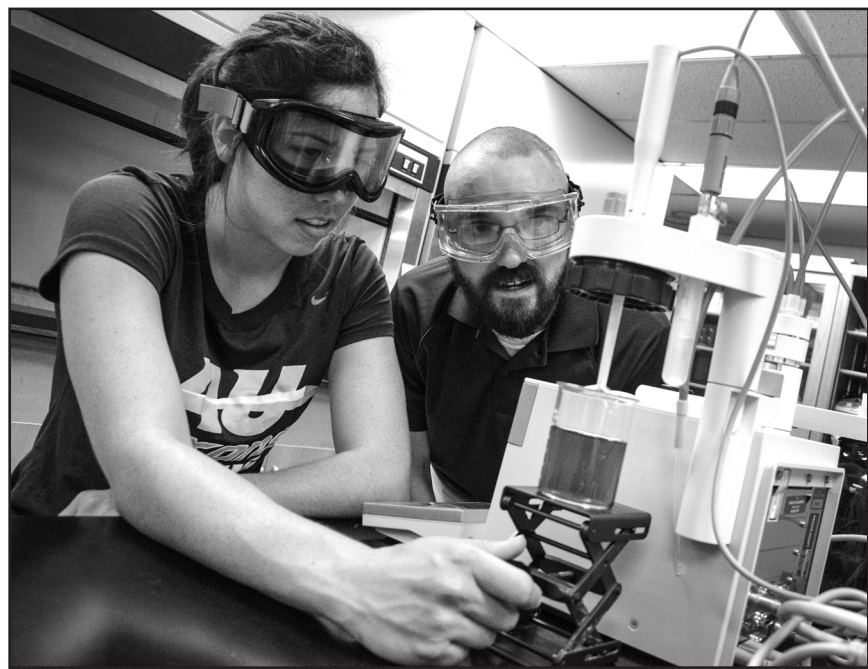

Tony Graziano was born 52 years ago in Utica, N.Y. He is a short, balding man with dark eyes and a firm handshake. After graduating from high school, he attended Albany College of Pharmacy, firmly set on a career in pharmaceuticals.

Tony decided to settle in Alfred, primarily for family reasons. He, his wife and three children live in a wooded lot on McAndrews Road, at the edge of the village.

In his business, he has nine employees, and he sees his work as an important part of the Alfred Community.

"Without question," says Mark Guinan, "Tony Graziano is a considerable asset to our village."

AU junior gets 'real-world' research at PNNL

Brennan Ferguson from Destrehan, LA, a junior environmental studies/chemistry major at Alfred University (AU), spent three weeks this past summer at the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory (PNNL), Richland, WA, working alongside AU Assistant Professor of Chemistry Geoffrey Bowers, who was conducting his own research in solid state nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR). Ferguson is the first undergraduate student he has taken with him to PNNL. Here the two work together again, in an on-campus laboratory. (Photo by AU Photographer Rick McLay)

ALFRED— This past summer, Alfred University (AU) junior Brennan Ferguson received the opportunity of a student's lifetime - to visit and conduct research at the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory (PNNL), Richland, WA, a national institution for scientific research supported by the U.S. Department of Energy.

"It's hard to get this kind of real-world research experience as an undergraduate," Ferguson said. "This was an amazing experience."

Ferguson spent three weeks at the lab alongside AU Assistant Professor of Chemistry Geoffrey Bowers, who was conducting his own research in solid state nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR). Ferguson is the first undergraduate student he has taken with him to PNNL.

"I've always wanted to bring an undergrad student, and she's the first to get far enough into the program to go and be able to contribute," Bowers explained. "It's a pretty high-pressure environment, and I can't spend a lot of time teaching because every second that we're out there, the instruments have to be generating data that's publishable."

Bowers and Ferguson worked extensively with PNNL's cutting-edge NMR spectrometers and microbeam x-ray diffraction instrument. Although AU has a state-of-the-art x-ray diffraction laboratory, it does not currently include either of these instruments, which allowed Bowers and Ferguson to process extremely small sample volumes quickly and precisely. Bowers spent most of his time on the NMR spectrometer, so Brennan was trained to run the microbeam x-ray diffraction instrument by herself, processing all of the samples and collecting data.

Ferguson was also trained to operate the helium ion microscope, one of only six such instruments in the country and fewer than 20 globally.

"Maybe five to 10 undergrads have ever gotten to do this," Bowers estimated.

Ferguson, an environmental studies and chemistry double major, had previous research experience during a summer internship at Louisiana State University prior to her sophomore year, but she said that the more independent experience she gained at PNNL this summer has helped her decide what direction she wants to take after college.

"This definitely helped me decide that I want to pursue a career in research," she said. "I wasn't certain about grad school until this experience, but this made me realize that I want to do a lot more research."

OBITUARIES

JUDITH A. GROGAN

Loving wife, mother, grandma

CANISTEO—Judith A. Grogan of Canisteo, loving wife, mother and grandmother, who as an Alfred-Almond Central School health teacher was one of the first area educators to teach Red Cross standard first aid to high school students, and an avid card-player always ready for a game of Pinochle or Cribbage, died Sunday, Oct. 6 at Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester after a long illness. She was 80 years old.

Born in Montrose, PA to Ray and Thelma Abbott, who predeceased her, Mrs. Grogan graduated with honors from Canisteo Central School in 1950. In 1954 she earned a B.S. Degree in nursing from Syracuse University. That same year she wed fellow Syracuse alum, Robert Grogan. Married for 59 years, they lived almost all of that time in Canisteo.

Upon graduating from Syracuse, the Grogans moved to the Canisteo area. Mrs. Grogan was a nurse at St. James Mercy Hospital, mainly serving in Pediatric Care. Later she taught at the St. James School of Nursing.

In 1970, Mrs. Grogan became school nurse at Alfred-Almond Central School. Shortly after that she became the health teacher at Alfred-Almond. She was among the first educators in the area to offer high school students the American Red Cross standard first aid course as part of her curriculum. The uniqueness of the program led the Evening Tribune to feature a full page article on the class in February 1982.

The local Red Cross director praised the program, saying, "Many of the students who completed the initial certification went on to participate in more advanced first aid courses taught by the Red Cross. Mrs. Grogan, herself certified in multi-media first aid, is the one who made the program such a success at Alfred-Almond."

Following her retirement from teaching at Alfred Almond, Mrs. Grogan spent several years as a tax preparer for H&R Block in Hornell.

Besides her husband, Judy is survived by four children: Kathleen Grogan of Canisteo; Betsy Lang and her husband, David, of Georgetown, KY; Michael Grogan, and his wife, Melissa Ingram, of Overland Park, KS; and Steven Grogan, his wife, Liz, and their two sons, Ryan and Patrick Grogan, of Rochester. She is also survived by two brothers and their families: Dr. Jay Abbott, and his wife, Sylvia, of Litchfield, CT, and Peter Abbott and his wife, Laura, of Pulaski, as well as many cousins, nieces, and nephews.

In retirement, Judy pursued her great loves of bird-watching, reading and visiting family and friends as often as possible. She was an avid card-player, always ready for a game of Pinochle or Cribbage. She also was a lover of classical music, especially Opera, and anything by Roy Orbison.

To send a remembrance or light a candle one may visit www.brownpowersfuneralhomes.com

A memorial service in celebration of her life (at which friends and family will be invited to share memories and stories of Judy) will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday, Oct. 11 at the Brown & Powers Funeral Home in Canisteo.

Those wishing to make a donation in Judy's memory are invited to contribute to the Hornell YMCA Building Fund.

RICHARD E. ELLIS

Life-long Arkport resident

ARKPORT—Richard E. Ellis, 45, of 551 Bishopville Road, Arkport, passed away Monday (Oct. 7, 2013).

Born in Hornell Aug. 17, 1968, the son of Eugene and Jacquelyn Fisher Ellis, he had resided in the Arkport area all his life. He was self-employed in logging, construction and farming.

He was predeceased by his father.

He is survived by his mother, Jackie Ellis of Arkport; his longtime friend and companion, Etelka Button of Almond; four daughters, Jennifer Ellis of Bath, Amy Cyphert of Andover, Lindy Outman of Whitesville, and Chrissy Cyphert of Wellsboro, Pa.; his sister, Debra (Bert) Price of Arkport; his brothers, William (Sally Allen) Ellis of Almond and Charles (Tina) Ellis of Fairport; four grandchildren; and nieces, nephews, aunts and uncles.

To send a remembrance to the family or to light a candle in Ricky's memory, please visit www.brownpowersfuneralhomes.com. The family is being assisted by Gerald R. Brown, director.

Honoring Ricky's wishes, there will be no visiting hours. A memorial service will be held at a later date.

Funeral arrangements are entrusted to Bender-Brown & Powers Funeral Home, 354 Canisteo St., Hornell.

Because of Ricky's long illness, friends wishing may make contributions to his family.

OLETHA "LETHA" B. MONAHAN

1940 Andover C.S. graduate

WELLSVILLE—Oletha "Letha" B. Monahan, 91, entered into rest Monday (Sept. 30, 2013) at Wellsville Manor Care Center, with friends at her bedside.

Mrs. Monahan was born on May 2, 1922 in Wellsville to Cornelius J. and Hazel Pearl (Hungerford) Callaghan. She was a 1940 graduate of Andover Central School. On May 24, 1975, in Andover, she married Russell A. Monahan, who predeceased her on Dec. 4, 1992.

Letha worked for Southern Tier Home Health Care and later for Jan and Bev's Home Care, both in Wellsville, retiring in 1999.

Letha is survived by a son, Neil (Judy) Storms of Aiken, SC; one brother-in-law, Thomas LeBar of Madison, OH; 18 grandchildren; 51 grandchildren; 21 great grandchildren; a special friend, Ann Johnson of Wellsville; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

In addition to her second husband, Russell, she was predeceased by her first husband and father of her children, Walter L. Storms, Sr.; two daughters, Gayle LeBar and Cheryl Johnson; one son, Walter Lee Storms, Jr.; and one sister, Thelma LeBar. Letha enjoyed growing flowers, sewing, reading and crossword puzzles. She was a member of the Andover Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary and attended Wellsville Bible Church.

Friends called Friday, Oct. 4 from 1:30-3 p.m. at the Baker-

Swan Funeral Home in Andover. The funeral service was held at the funeral home at 3 p.m. Friday, Oct. 4 immediately following the visitation with Rev. Daniel Kenyon of the Wellsville Bible Church, officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery in Wellsville at the convenience of the family. Online condolences may be offered at www.baker-swan.com.

Memorial contributions in Letha's name may be made to Allegany County Cancer Services, Attn: Lori Ballengee, 100 South Highland Ave., Wellsville, NY 14895.

A.E. Crandall Hook &amp; Ladder Fire Company President Bob Pipal and A9 Captain McCormack.

Fire Dept. throwing a party Oct. 20

ALFRED--The A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Fire Department has a new truck and wants to invite everyone over to play with it.

Come one. Come all. AE Crandall is throwing a party at the fire hall Sunday, Oct. 20 from 1 to 4 p.m. to celebrate its new ladder truck. The Department bought a 2006 ladder to replace its 28-year-old ladder truck and the truck is finally home in Alfred.

"We are very excited to finally get the truck," said Chief Zachary Hamm. "But it will be a couple of months before it's in service." The Department will need to outfit out the new ladder truck with gear and hoses, and then practice for actual emergencies. In the meantime, the old ladder truck will still be in service.

"This is a huge step forward in capability," said Assistant Chief Paul Weaver. "There's a 22 year difference in ladder truck design. The new truck is more capable and much safer, both for us and the people we are trying to rescue."

The new truck features a 100 foot ladder with a platform. The platform has its corners cut, allowing the truck to approach at an oblique angle, an improvement over the the previous design, according to the chief. The oblique angles allows for more maneuverability during a rescue.

The new truck can also pump 2000 gallons a minute, much faster than the old truck. "That's a lot of water," said the chief. "For us, the issue is getting that much water. In the village it should be okay because of the hydrants."

Although usually deployed in the villages (such as Alfred, Andover, Wellsville) with hydrant systems, the tankers can supply the ladder with water in rural areas. And the old ladder has been deployed to barn fires. Additionally, the new ladder truck has a small water tank, carrying about 300 gallons.

Please come join us. Cupcakes and goodies will be available. Additionally, fire extinguisher training for village residents will be ongoing.

Union University Church to sponsor UNICEF drive

ALFRED--The Union University Church will again sponsor the Community UNICEF Drive.

All children, youth, and adults in the Alfred/Alfred Station area are invited to join in this year's UNICEF Drive starting at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27.

Children will be transported by volunteer adult drivers. Participants will depart from the Union University Church Center at the corner of Main and Church Streets in downtown Alfred. Orange UNICEF collection boxes will be provided and refreshments will be served upon completion of the event at about 4 p.m.

For more than 60 years, America's children, schools, parents, and partner organizations involved in Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF have raised millions of dollars for UNICEF's lifesaving programs worldwide. As one of the longest running youth volunteer initiatives in America, Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF is an excellent way in which to inspire our young people to learn the benefits of giving to those in need.

Community members who are not at home at the time of the drive may make contributions by check made payable to: U.S. Fund for UNICEF in care of the Union University Church, 29 N. Main St., Alfred, N.Y. 14802.

Scene About Alfred

We've seen new signs on the Thruway and I-86. "It can wait; text stop 5 miles." Here, taken from a car traveling 65 mph on the Thruway on Saturday, October 5, is a sign at a rest stop. While still teaching at Alfred State College, my students could read, for participation points, an article from Eriesense, a magazine put out by Erie Insurance (<https://www.erieinsurance.com/Eriesense/issues/Summer2010/Cover.aspx>), an article that calls texting while driving the "toxic trifecta," because it distracts the driver's use of all three things needed for driving safely; hands, eyes, brain.

DAR chapter to meet Oct. 17 in Wellsville

WELLSVILLE--The next regular meeting for Catherine Schuyler Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), will be held Thursday, Oct. 17 at the Wellsville Country Club, gathering at 12:30 p.m. for lunch at 1:00 p.m.

This will be a special meeting in several ways:

--our newest members will be inducted into our Society

--we will be drawing for the Wells Quilt

--program will be given by Suzanne Griffing from the DAR speaker's committee on "DAR bottles"

--it is our last regular meeting for 2013.

SUNNY SIDE UP

By ELLEN SHULTZ
Alfred Sun Columnist

Zucchini pretending to be apples

This recipe appeared in the Democrat and Chronicle newspaper recently in a column by Karen Miltner, their food editor. When she had a zucchini explosion in her garden, she purchased The Classic Zucchini Cookbook by Nancy C. Ralston, Marynor Jordan and Andrea Chesman published in 2002. She says the book "has helped take care of zuke overloads through all meals and all courses."

This is a casual, homey, yet really delicious dessert that is easy to make. In it the zucchini pretends to be apples.

Zapple Bars

Filling:

5½ c. peeled and diced zucchini
½ c. fresh lemon juice
2/3 c. brown sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. freshly grated nutmeg

Crust:

2½ c. flour
1¼ c. sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1c. cold unsalted butter, cut into pieces

In a non-reactive pan, combine zucchini and lemon juice. Bring to a boil over medium-high heat. Reduce heat and simmer until tender, about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add brown sugar, cinnamon, and nutmeg. Simmer and stir for a couple minutes or until slightly thickened. Set aside. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter a 9x13 inch baking dish. To make crust, combine flour, sugar, and salt in food processor. Add butter and vanilla and process just until the mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Press half the mixture into the prepared pan. Bake for 10 minutes. Spread the zucchini mixture evenly over the crust. Crumble the remaining crust mixture evenly on top of the zucchini mixture. Bake for 35-40 minutes, until golden brown. Cool completely on wire rack before cutting into bars. Makes 15 bars.

Removing political signs brings on civil penalty

To Whom It May Concern:

If you are removing political signs for K. David Porter, candidate for District III Legislator, are you aware that you can be charged with a Civil Penalty of stealing private property?

During the past weekend, I have had signs removed from public property (only the state and municipality has a right to remove signs from the side of the road and only if it is hindering safety and welfare of general public) on Jericho Hill, Route 19 North between Wellsville and Scio, and Route 19 South, corner of Jack Bridge Road.

It is too bad I, a person who is willing to take the time, energy and money to try to help the people of Allegany County, have to deal with this issue.

I will replace those signs and will monitor if they disappear again. Since all of this was done during the daylight hours on Sunday, October 6th, someone is very brazen! Please be aware that if you still continue to remove my signs, and I find out who is responsible, charges will be made.

Sincerely,
K. David Porter, Candidate
District III Legislator

More Femme Fatale-ities
Than You Can Shake a Speare At

There once was a girl, Juliet,
Whom a fellow named Romeo met;
She could not be his wife,
So she fell on a knife...
Which she hasn't recovered from yet.

Then, too, there was Lady Macbeth:
Preoccupied so much with death,
She scrubbed with a sud
That would not take out blood,
While muttering under her breath.

And then there was Gertrude, Queen Mother,
Who married her dead husband's brother;
Hamlet's poison she drank,
And, as dying she sank,
She cried, "No, no, the—" something-or-other.

They all died so sad in the end:
Void of husband, of son, or of friend.
Not like a guy, who would say,
"Et tu—well played, Bruté!"
Knowing it's only pretend.

Bowers is also in the process of writing three papers for publication based on the data they collected; Ferguson is a co-author on all of them. "I can't say anything specific right now, but we opened some brand new research avenues that no one has been able to attempt before," Bowers said of their results. "I'm excited that Brennan got to be a contributing member of making that sort of thing happen."

REAL PROPERTY REVALUATIONS – REALITY AND MYTH

Real property assessments, and especially property revaluations, are a hot topic. Unfortunately both topics are largely misunderstood. In this article I will present "facts" to hopefully eliminate some of the confusion. Some readers may be surprised by this information.

The property assessment process is dictated by state statute, and implemented by each local town. State law requires that every property must be assessed at its "fair market value." If every property sold every year its value would be obvious. It would be its sale price. However, in most communities less than 5% of all properties are sold each year. That means that local assessors must "estimate" current values for all those properties that did not sell.

Property assessments really have nothing to do with the amount of tax that any particular property will pay. The size of each municipality's budget determines how much money it must raise. The total taxable assessment of that municipality determines how that tax burden is divided. If my property, your property, and everyone else's property are all assessed at "fair market value" then each of us will pay our proper share. The challenge is to determine the value of those parcels that have not sold recently. For example, I purchased my residence in 1984, more than 29 years ago. We paid $24,500. Since then we have done extensive renovations, put on an addition, and property values have increased significantly. Obviously it shouldn't be assessed for $24,500 in 2013. Determining the proper current assessment is every Assessor's primary challenge.

The primary way to determine fair market value is by comparing all properties to those that recently sold in an "arm's length transaction." There are well defined rules and procedures for making those comparisons. Most assessors do an excellent job and most property-owners do not object to the accuracy of the values assigned to their property. However, over time there is a tendency for values to shift, either higher or lower. Rather than re-assess every parcel every year those differences are reflected by an "equalization rate." That rate represents the percentage of difference between the assessment and "fair market value." A simple example may be the best way to explain this concept. If a residence was purchased in 1980 for $50,000, it should have been assessed for $50,000 if the 1980 equalization rate was 100%. If that property sold for $100,000 in 2010, that meant that it was only assessed for 50% of its true value, and its 2010 equalization rate would have been 50%. If a town-wide revaluation is conducted every property should see its assessed value double. However, every property should also see its equalization rate double from 50% to 100%. In most revaluations one-third of the equalized assessments stay the same, one-third decrease, and one-third increase. Not surprisingly, those facing increased assessments complain quite loudly. The other two-thirds don't say anything. This creates the impression that everyone's equalized assessments went up, which they didn't.

The County Office of Real Property Tax Services provided me with data on the most recent revaluations conducted by towns in Allegany County. Seven towns completed "revaluations" in 2011 and 2012. Their prior equalization rates ranged from 70% to 100%, but all were at 100% after completing their revaluation. Three towns saw their full-value assessments decrease, not increase, after their revaluations. After completing their revaluations four towns saw their share of county taxes decrease, both in percentage and absolute dollars. Total assessment increased in all seven towns by $11,347,100, or 3.01%. For those two years the County taxable assessment increased by more than $81 million. That means that more than $70 million of increase came from new assessment, not from revaluation increases.

At a recent session of the County Legislature one Legislator claimed that reduced county tax rates are primarily the result of revaluations. That assertion is inaccurate, and reflects a misunderstanding of revaluations. The reduced County tax rates for 2011, 2012, 2013, and 2014 represent true reductions of each taxpayers tax liability. And that's a fact.

Peter O'Connor to join Stephanie Trick in Comfort House benefit

WELLSVILLE—Internationally acclaimed jazz pianist, Stephanie Trick, will be in concert at the Wellsville Country Club on Friday, Oct. 18 from 8 pm to midnight benefiting the Hart Comfort House of Allegany County for an evening of swing, stride, and boogie woogie piano.

Joining Stephanie at the event will be Allegany County's own jazz pianist, Peter O'Connor, along with Pete's band, the Jazz Ninjas.

Stephanie is a professional piano player who plays pieces with a punch that is matched by her precise interpretation.

A classically trained pianist, Stephanie began playing piano at the age of five. During the time between her beginning years and high school, her piano teacher exposed her to early jazz, and the syncopation and swinging rhythm piqued her interest.

Stephanie was the 2012 recipient of the prestigious Kobe-Breda Jazz Friendship Award, and has performed in many parts of the United States as well as in Europe.

Tickets for the event are $15 in advance, $20 at the door and may be purchased at the Wellsville Country Club, or by calling the Comfort House at 585-596-1045, or online at comforthouseofalleganycounty.org.

A cash bar will be available along with a variety of savory hors d'oeuvres prepared by Chef King. It should prove to be an entertaining evening for your listening pleasure and dancing.

One Time, One Meeting

The Practice of Zen Meditation

By BEN HOWARD

THE LABYRINTH OF EXERTION

Exert yourself. Whether conscious or unrecognized, that imperative underlies our everyday experience. Our livelihoods and indeed our survival depend upon our exertions. If we are to compete, achieve, and contribute to the common good, we must exert ourselves. Even the pursuit of happiness, as it is called, requires exertion. No rest for the weary, and no mercy for the slacker.

Yet even the highest achievers need their rest. The great pianist Vladimir Horowitz was once asked how he managed to play so many notes so quickly. "I relax between notes," he cheerfully replied. As Horowitz well understood, rest and relaxation are essential, both before and during performance. They make strenuous exertion possible.

Quite often, people in need of rest and relaxation find their way to Zen practice. Viewed from a distance, the practice offers the prospect of unruffled calm. Yet, as newcomers soon find out, it is not always easy to rest or relax, even in a meditative setting. For those accustomed to multi-tasking, hyper-connectivity, and busyness generally, the simple act of stopping and resting can be as challenging as the most demanding activity. Admonished to sit still, the body rebels. A shoulder aches; a knee hurts; a foot wants to fidget. Efforts to correct one's posture or relieve one's unease often result only in new forms of discomfort. Wedded to incessant movement, the body wants to do, not merely to be.

Likewise, the mind resists immobilization. It craves activity, whether that activity be generating memories and fantasies, forming judgments, discriminating between this and that, or engaging in abstract speculation. "Rest in awareness," Zen teachings advise. "Rest in the openness of mind." But if we are anticipating a hectic day, or coming off a troubling one, those traditional imperatives can ring rather hollow. It is as if we were caught in a labyrinth of our own making—a labyrinth, as it were, of unending exertion.

Fortunately, a guiding thread may be found in the teachings of Eihei Dogen (1200-1253), founder of the Soto Zen tradition. In his masterwork, Shobogenzo, Dogen Zenji propounds the concept of gujin ippo (or gujin for short), which means "the full exertion of a single thing." That may sound like yet another form of striving, but it is actually quite the opposite. Far from adding another burden, the practice offers a path toward total rest.

Gujin has been variously translated as "total realization," "total penetration," "total manifestation"—and, most often, "total exertion." The scholar and translator Francis Dojun Cook, an authority on Dogen, explains the concept in this way:

From the angle of the person who experiences the situation, [gujin] means that one identifies with it utterly. Looked at from the standpoint of the situation itself, the situation is totally manifested or exerted without obstruction.

By "obstruction" Cook means those preferences, discriminations, and judgments that reinforce a sense of "me" and keep us from identifying with our present situation. Practicing gujin, we wholeheartedly enter that situation, however attractive or unnerving it may be. We immerse ourselves totally, without, as Cook puts it, "omitting even a fragment of [ourselves] in the act." By this means we allow the situation itself to manifest.

Framed in this fashion, gujin may seem to require effort, and in its own way, it does. Can we really allow the situations in our lives to manifest themselves? To be as they are, unaltered by our habitual manipulations? Perhaps we can, but our lifelong conditioning militates against it. Truly to practice gujin requires us to bring both wholehearted attention and full acceptance to whatever is occurring, within and around us, at any given moment. And it also requires us to understand that the present moment, however pleasing or upsetting, could not be other than it is, given the causes and conditions that have brought it about. To practice such radical acceptance, as it is sometimes called, requires a kind of exertion, mental and physical, as well as an effort to counter the habits of a lifetime.

Paradoxically, however, Dogen's "total exertion" is also a way of freeing ourselves from compulsive exertion, insofar as our previous exertions have been devoted to filtering, interpreting, or otherwise tampering with our experience. By allowing immediate situations to manifest themselves, just as they are, and by acting in concert with that purpose, we can allow both ourselves and our lives to be fully realized. As Shunryu Suzuki Roshi once put it, we can learn to "observe things as they are, and to let everything go as it goes." And along the way, we can afford ourselves some much-needed rest.

On Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 19 and 20, visitors will find every one of the 50 participating Allegany Artisans in 41 of their studios ready to offer demonstrations, exhibits and refreshments. For other dates please contact the individual artisan. Some studios have regular hours and others will meet you by appointment or at shows. Visit during the Studio Tour to experience the creativity of member artisans. All studios are located within the picturesque Allegany plateau. Savor the beauty of the Genesee River's fall landscape as you travel between studios. Talk with the artisans and shop in their homes and studios amid their private inspirations. See artisans at work with grace and skill born of experience. Call any member throughout the year for unique gifts and special commissions. Enjoy shopping the old fashioned way – knowing the hands that formed your art treasure.

Renowned architect to lecture here

ALFRED—The Department of Architecture and Design at Alfred State is proud to announce "Architecture is a noun," an upcoming lecture by Tod Williams of Tod Williams Billie Tsien Architects on Oct. 14 at 6 p.m. in room 215 of the Engineering Technology Building on the Alfred campus.

Tod Williams has been in partnership with Billie Tsien since 1986. Their studio, Tod Williams Billie Tsien Architects in New York City, focuses on work for institutions such as museums, schools, and non-profits—organizations that value issues of aspiration and meaning, timelessness and beauty.

Their buildings are carefully made and useful in ways that speak to both efficiency and the spirit. A sense of rootedness, light, texture, detail, and most of all experience are at the heart of what they build. Parallel to their practice, Williams maintains an active teaching career and lectures worldwide.

Among their distinguished buildings are the American Folk Art Museum; the Asia Society Hong Kong Center; the David Rubenstein Atrium at Lincoln Center; the Center for the Advancement of Public Action at Bennington College; the Cranbrook Natatorium; the Neurosciences Institute in La Jolla, California; the Phoenix Art Museum; the Reva and David Logan Center for the Arts at the University of Chicago; and the new home for the Barnes Foundation in Philadelphia. Their long list of design awards includes the 2013 AIA Architecture Firm Award.

The Department of Architecture and Design gratefully acknowledges the lecture's sponsorship by Joseph Venture and his firm ArtWalk Tile in Rochester, New York, a gallery style store with an inventory of luxury tile and hardwood displayed as fine works of art.

Entrance to the new Barnes Foundation Museum in Philadelphia designed by Tod Williams of Tod Williams Billie Tsien Architects. Williams will speak at Alfred State on Oct. 14.

NOTES from the BOX OF BOOKS

By ELIZA ORDWAY

Box of Books Library Director

I want to take a moment to talk a little about the Friends of the Box of Books. You may or may not be aware that there is a Friends group that is extremely important to the Box of Books Library. This group helps the library monetarily with donations from their fund raising events, but more importantly this group helps us with staffing of our events we host here at the library. They help run the booksale tables, set up for events and much more.

The Friends group is looking to expand it's numbers, with some younger people who may have different ideas about how to help the library. If you are interested in joining the friends group or volunteering at the library please contact Eliza.

The Tasting, Treasures and Tunes for this year and its 6x6 art sale have been cancelled. The Box of Books is still collecting the 6X6 canvases and will be hosting a 6x6 sale later this year. Details are still in the works. If you would like to help with this event please let us know.

Coming events at the Box of Books:

Storytime at 11 a.m. Fridays, Oct. 11 and 18; ages birth to 5 years welcome.

The library will be closed Sunday, Oct. 13 and Monday, Oct. 14.

'Year There Was No Summer' story will be told

ALFRED STATION--Bakers Bridge Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 21 at the Meeting House at 5971 Hamilton Hill Rd., Alfred Station.

Our speaker for the evening is Susan Wake, an accomplished "natural artist" who lives in Howard where she creates memory inspired art, folk art and fine art. Her portfolio encompasses over 100 original paintings employing acrylics, oils, watercolors and pastels. Susan is one of the founding artists involved in the "Palettes of Keuka" and numerous other first time art events and exhibitions.

Susan's talk has been described as "eye opening, highly informative and inspirational." She will be telling us the two moving local stories that make up her presentation "The Signs of Past Times." She will tell the true story of "THE YEAR THERE WAS NO SUMMER" also known as "EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND FROZE TO DEATH."

The second story deals with pioneers from Steuben and Allegany Counties. The tale is full of adventure as we travel with the first two women of European descent by horseback, wagon, sled, steamboat, mules and on foot from Western New York over the Rocky Mountains to Oregon Territory! Susan uses the spoken word and posters of her storybook paintings (the original mural sized paintings reside in the Howard Museum) to illustrate her stories.

We extend a warm welcome to anyone interested in our topic or the history of the area. For more information about Bakers Bridge Historical Association, please refer to www.bakersbridge.org.

'American Jazz Piano' to be performed

ALFRED—Famed jazz pianist Stephanie Trick, will perform American Jazz Piano as a part of Alfred University's Bergren Forum Series. The presentation will take place at 12:10 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 17 in Susan Howell Hall (note change in usual venue). The event is open to the public free of charge.

A master of Harlem stride, swing, and boogie-woogie piano styles, Trick will perform several jazz pieces during the presentation. She has released six albums including "Piano Tricks," "Ragtime Tricks," "Hear That Rhythm!," "Stephanie Trick LIVE," "Something More," "Two for One," and "Fourteen," which came out last November.

Thursday evening Trick will perform a free concert on AU's Miller Theater stage at 7:30 p.m., thanks to support from the David and Elizabeth Miller Performing Arts Fund and the AU Student Activities Board.

The Bergren Forum, sponsored by the Alfred University Division of Human Studies in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, meets Thursdays during each academic semester at the University. Participants are encouraged to bring a lunch; coffee and tea will be available.

Pigskin Picks Football Contest

ROLAND STEPHENS WINS WEEK FIVE!

Roland Stephens II of Hornell edged Bill Pulos of Alfred Station on the tiebreaker to win Week Five of the Pigskin Picks Contest. Both had four misses, well ahead of the rest of the contestants. Doug Lorow of Webster was a distant third with 7 misses, while Jim Gaiser of Sandwich, NH had 8 misses, as did Nelson Snyder of Alfred Station. Jessica Stephens, last week's winner, had 9 misses while Mark Jackson of Alfred, Chris Yarnal of Almond, Floyd Farley of Hornell and Jay Lawrence of Fulton each had 10 misses.

All are invited to participate in The Alfred Sun's Pigskin Picks Football Contest. Each week during the football season, this newspaper awards the best entrant a $10 prize and bragging rights.

Enter your guesses of winners of 10 college and 10 pro football games (found in the ads of our sponsors on these pages) and predict the score of the Monday Night Football game as the tiebreaker in the form below. Enter today! Remember to guess the score for the tiebreaker, the NFL's Monday Night Football. The entry form below is due by 5 p.m. Friday, OCT. 18.

Send entries to: Pigskin Picks, PO Box 811, Alfred, NY 14802 or take them to the ALFRED SUN mailbox on the porch of the home office located at 764 Route 244. Good luck, all!

Patrick Barry joins Ed Foundation

ALFRED—The Educational Foundation of Alfred, Inc., a private foundation representing faculty, staff, and friends of Alfred State, welcomed a new board member earlier this year, Patrick Barry of Wellsville.

Barry, senior vice president of The Dolomite Group based in Hornell, manages operations at the former A.L. Blades & Sons, Inc. He received his bachelor's degree in civil engineering from Tri-State University in Angola, Indiana, and his master's degree in mechanical engineering from the University at Buffalo.

He is an active community member in the Wellsville area, a member of the Wellsville First United Methodist Church, and maintains membership in a number of professional organizations and societies, including the Associated General Contractors (AGC), the Association of Pennsylvania Contractors (APC), and the Association for Bridge Construction and Design (ABCD). He is a member and has been a president of the local chapter of the National Society of Professional Engineers. Barry is also a former Allegany County legislator and is the director of Stanbards Water, Inc.

A native of Scio, Barry has two children—Shannon Alban and Christopher Barry—and currently lives with his wife Michele in Wellsville.

Gas less than $3?

CHICAGO (Oct. 8)—‘How low could they go?’ That’s what reporters are asking from coast to coast as Americans watch in envy of folks in Tulsa, OK, Lubbock, TX and St. Louis, MO where gas prices are poised to break below $3 as the average price for their respective markets. Already, St. Louis consumers are seeing some stations at $2.79; while Tulsa has some stations at $2.85 per gal. In Lubbock today consumers can pay as low as $2.89 or as high as $3.59 per gal. “While the direction of current prices reflect what we can expect for Q4 fuel prices, it’s certainly encouraging to see how many states already have stations with regular gas available for under $3,” said Patrick DeHaan, senior petroleum analyst, GasBuddy.

‘The Power of Visiting’ promotes peace in Asia

ALFRED—Homemade soup and bread was donated and served to Alfred area residents on Thursday, Oct. 3. Nadine Hoover spoke about the power of visiting, both here and abroad.

She announced the screening of the film, “The Act of Killing,” set for Oct. 21 and 22, followed by a discussion on Oct. 23 and a talk on Oct. 23 about how Alfred residents have made an extraordinary difference in North Sumatra.

The film offers a stunning view of how perpetrators in the 1965 coup de tat in Indonesia remain in power while they boast about having committed horrific crimes.

With Friends Peace Teams, anyone may join Nadine in visiting the very area the film was set. Nadine pointed out it's hard to explain how safe life is day-to-day. Similar to Rochester where news could make one fearful, but going there frequently is common place. Peace and violence coexist in most places. Visiting is powerful when traveling with someone from the area.

Ms. Zum, a teacher from an extremist Islamic community in Central Java, commented early this year, “When you first came we were fanatics. I mean fanatics. Fanatics, fanatics, fanatics. Fanatical fanatics! I told my husband mixing with people from the outside was wrong. Nothing good could come of it. We needed to protect ourselves and our children. But I was wrong! You and all your friends have been such a good influence on us. We are so grateful you come and visit. Please tell others not to be afraid of us and to come also. We wish we could visit you, too.”

Mr. Darmo, the leader of Barak Induk, a town of thousands of refugees who fled Aceh during the war, was asked, “What is peace?” He responded, with a big smile and no hesitation, “Peace is having no enemies! Peace is having no problems with others. Peace is having friends, lots of friends, friends from everywhere! What we would like to say to the whole community, if at all possible, don't have problems with anyone from any side. All we want is to protect our own right to live.”

Nadine described having tea with Mr. and Mrs. Ninos in Alfred. She was touched when he said, “Thank you for the work you do in the world. It's so good that people in other places know Americans are a friendly people.”

Living through a war makes one so appreciative of the little blessings of having tea with neighbors. We have extraordinary stories of transformations of individuals, whole communities and even the course of history, but the blessings we remember occur in the ordinariness of visiting.

Alfred residents sewed dolls, collected school supplies and donated funds for Nadine Hoover to visit North Sumatra with a peace team. Anyone is welcome to join these teams from young people to elderly. Christian or Muslim, American or Indonesian, visiting is fundamental to building peace and a beloved community. You may join Nadine in January, early February or April in Indonesia.

Nick Rozard then spoke about the development of water filters. When we began, the engineers talked as if this technology exists, which it does, but not in the public domain. The available, low-cost ceramic and sand filters that exist, don't have the engineering behind them to filter international standard drinking water; they save lives where boiling water is not possible, but Alfred residents would not want to rely on them for drinking water. Ceramic filters that produce drinking water are costly.

The engineering required is extensive. Even though Nick feels close, it's hard to tell how long it will take until the research successfully produces a reliable filter. Nick is collaborating with others at Alfred University and publishing their results in each step, which places this work in the public domain. Once Nick has a prototype, he will be in a position to apply for grants to move the prototype into production. He is seeking funding of $7,500 to support himself and a microbiologist for three months, part-time, to hopefully complete the research needed to produce a prototype filter.

Area residents are invited to view “The Act of Killing.” It will be screened:

--6:30 pm Monday, Oct. 21, Engineering Technology Building 215, Alfred State

--6:30 pm Tuesday, Oct. 22, Nevins Theater, Powell Center, Alfred University

A documentary that challenges former Indonesian death squad leaders to reenact their real-life mass-killings in whichever cinematic genres they wish, including classic Hollywood crime scenarios and lavish musical numbers. Directed by Joshua Oppenheimer. (Running time: 159 minutes)

Socio-political Consequences of Impunity: Discussion of The Act of Killing

6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 23, Judson Leadership Center, Alfred University, led by Nadine Hoover, founder of Conscience Studio and Friends Peace Teams. Nadine has worked in Indonesia bringing former enemies together—Acehnese and Javanese, Christians and Muslims, victims and perpetrators - to work towards recovery, reconciliation and peace.

How Ordinary People Make an Extraordinary Difference: Friends Peace Teams

6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24, New Horizons Forum, Student Leadership Center, Room 310, Alfred State. Nadine Hoover is working in the same location and with the same cast of character shown in “The Act of Killing.” Nadine will describe how the Alfred community has made an extraordinary contribution to the protection of civilians in that area.

By M.L. WELLS

Cornell Cooperative Extension Master Gardener

Jack Frost slipped down from the North a bit early this year. The night was clear and calm. Did it catch you off guard?

Since cold air is denser, it sinks down into the valleys which usually experience the chill before their hilltop neighbors. My garden and meadow sit on a 2% slope, 2 feet lower for every 100 feet. When the temperature hovers around 32 degrees, you can see the frost line grow up slope. The lower end is 1 foot lower and often when it is frosted, the upper end is "safe."

Often the first frost is followed by a week or two of "good" weather so it is worth your while to go out around 5 p.m. and cover up the tender plants: tomatoes and beans. Use what comes to hand: boxes and sheets are the quickest. Remove them next day around 9 a.m. I have hardy sweet alyssum and violas by the front door and with a little care can keep them in bloom until Thanksgiving.

So keep an eye on the weather and prolong the life of your garden!

Doing More With Less

By M.L. WELLS

The years roll on and the garden grows-in size. There comes a time when it is prudent to reverse the process. Shrinking the area is not so hard, but giving up plants is another story. It seems to me when you have less time or your body dictates "garden less," there are two approaches in the vegetable garden. Do I really need zucchini? How can I almost have as much in less space?!

The list of what "I don't need to grow" will vary person to person. You know your likes and what you mostly give away. Last year I decided to reduce the 1200 sq. feet by 1/4, a more manageable 900 sq. feet: 45 x 20.

The hardest part was deciding to do it. Then the challenge, the fun and games began. The main techniques which came into play were as follows:

1. Increase the depth of the soil,
2. Start cool season crops early indoors and transplant outside with protective covers so they can be harvested earlier; thus freeing up the space for a second fall crop,
3. Interplant,
4. Utilize trellises, stakes, and fences (vertical growing),
5. Rethink tilling or digging the garden,
6. Think mulch instead,
7. Don't forget the garden's second season: late July – October,
8. Water when necessary

To cover all of these topics, I will break this into a three part article! Let's start with soil depth; allow me to relate my time living in Kentucky, 3 miles from the Ohio River and in the flood plain. When our dog died, my husband dug a 3 foot hole for the burial. It was rich, black top soil all the way down those three feet! In comparison, here in Allegany County we look at our meager mix of a few inches left behind by the glaciers and we know how unfair life can be. My garden in Kentucky was amazing. Everything grew twice as high and full and produced four times as much! This was a good lesson for me once I moved to Allegany County. I wanted my 3 feet of beautiful soil, so I started adding compost, leaves and other humus to my garden to add inches and produce more.

You can add compostable materials to your garden too; if you want to speed up the process, consider buying some quality soil. Even if you only have a little money to spend on your garden, spend it on good top soil. I once calculated a well-planned 10' x 10' space would yield $500 in tasty, pesticide free food. Adding 6 inches to a 10' x 10' = 2 cu yards at a cost of about $100. Don't buy the bagged "stuff". Go to a local contractor you trust and get a load of the "real thing". Less garden area with deeper soil means less money spent on seed, fertilizer, mulch and less time to care for it. But it will produce more per sq. foot.

Read next week for more details if you need to downsize your garden without giving up too much!

FIFTY YEARS AGO, OCTOBER 10, 1963

The Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Lukas Foss, will present a public concert at Alfred University at 8 p.m. Oct. 18 in the Men's Gymnasium. The orchestra will give the campus performance under the sponsorship of the Alfred University Cultural Programs Council and the New York State Council on the Arts...

In many ways, Monday night's village board meeting was one of the most interesting of the year because the matters which came before the board spanned the gamut from a sales talk for the Stanley Saunders house on Church Street to a rather frank discussion with two taxpayers about the progress of expansion in the Hunting Heights area...

Miss Lynette Ann Nisbet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Nisbet of Almond became the bride of Douglas V. Richmond of Alfred in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Oct. 5 in the Almond Union of Churches. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Richmond of 113 North Main Street, Alfred. The Rev. Jesse M. Howat, pastor of the Union of Churches, performed the double ring ceremony before the altar, banked with beauty baskets of white mums, snapdragons and palms...

Did you ever wonder what it would be like to dye the pigment of your skin and travel to the deep south to learn what it's like to be a negro in Dixie? John Howard Griffin, a 43-year-old writer from Mansfield, Texas, got a New Orleans doctor to give him a drug used in the cure of vitiligo (a skin disease) which, along with sun lamp treatments, turned his skin dark in five days. From November 7 through December 14, 1959, he hitchhiked, walked and rode buses through Mississippi, Alabama and back to New Orleans and finally to Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Griffin's appearance is one of six programs scheduled for the year-long student Cultural Series at the Agricultural and Technical Institute at Alfred... Mr. Griffin will tell what it is like for him, disguised as a negro in the south, to search miles for a glass of water or a bathroom, to buy a ticket, to try to cash a travelers check, to walk the streets at night as "an aging, bald negro." He later wrote the book "Black Like Me" which is a detailed chronicle of his experiences. "Mississippi and Alabama were a terrifying prison; Atlanta was a ray of hope," he says...

Almond—Spending some time this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Braack and family are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fuhr of Buffalo... Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Doherty of Andover spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bey... A weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Bordeaux was Mrs. Doris Hansen, Mr. Bordeaux's sister from Jersey City, N.J....

Alfredians—Alfredians were much in evidence at the Grape Festival, Saturday at Naples... Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Foster were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walker at Lockport, and while there, attended the directors meeting of the Christmas Tree Growers Association at Holland... Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacox and William called on Miss Becky Jacox at Seneca Falls, Saturday... Mr. and Mrs. William Parry were in Bennington, Vt., Monday until Wednesday on a business trip, and to visit their daughter... Mrs. Tom Mix (Thelma Gardner) and two sons of Shinglehouse, Pa., were Tuesday guests of Mrs. Malcolm Crump... Mrs. Robert Love of Syracuse arrives today to be the guest of the Robert Love Jr. family, for the weekend... Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Slack and sons spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Merl Slack at Whitesville... Mrs. Inez O'Grady of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. is expected this week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Belovsky... Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Clarke are in Bad Kreuznach, Germany, where Mr. Clarke is a U.S. delegate attending the meeting of the International Electro-Chemical Commission from Oct. 1-11. While there, the Clarkes hope to see their niece, Rebecca (Spicer) Longmire and her husband, who is stationed nearby...

For the Alfred Saxons today it's the assignment of meeting the team that beat the team that beat them. St. Lawrence defeated Union. Union in turn whipped Alfred, 33-20 last Saturday. Not it will be Alfred and St. Lawrence in Alfred's 45th Homecoming game this Saturday. The Saxons not only suffered their first defeat, but also had the shine removed from their defense against rushing record that had held two foes to 89 yards and ranked 10th in the nation for small colleges. Union picked up 168 yards rushing and added 139 in the air although first downs were even at 16-16. But Alfred spotted Union a 21-0 lead before Billy Baker banged in from the 2-yard line to complete a 69-yard drive. When Sophomore Johnny Forsythe ran 10 yards for Alfred's third touchdown and Baker ran for the 2-point conversion, the Saxons trailed by only 27-20 and still had a shot with ten minutes remaining. But they missed a key first down and Union passed for a final TD to wrap it up...

Coonhound Rescued—A young female coonhound was rescued by Alfred Station volunteer firemen Monday afternoon from a cliff in the sand pits at Buffalo Crushed Stone, off Depot Road, Alfred Station. In photo sequence at left, dog is clinging for its life on steep 75-foot embankment. Duane Mosh handles the rope for Jim DeLotto who lowers himself down to the dog. Terry Palmiter and Keith Stanley welcome Jim and the dog on solid ground. Buffalo Crushed Stone Plant Superintendent Howard Taft spotted the dog on the cliff at 9 a.m. Monday morning when they heard continuous barking. The dog, whose owner was not determined, was released at about 4 p.m. and "trotted off" without as much as a "Thank You!"

Guest Editorial: Our lives in a chronicle. (By Carolyn Blankenship, Mayor, Village of Alfred) It gives me great pleasure to officially recognized the Alfred Sun and National Newspaper Week (October 2-8, 1988). The Alfred Sun is truly our hometown newspaper. From the front page local news to the Alfredians to the back page sports, our lives are put into a chronicle. Each week we see the evidence of our past in the "Years Ago... In the Sun" column. I've yet to make this column but recently my daughters relived their past in a 4-H article as did other 4-H Happy Helpers. Happy memories of days past. Not only does our newspaper serve us but it keeps us in contact with our friends in 38 states. It's truly a great little paper that we all look forward to every Thursday. Thank you, David, and Staff, for your dedication.

Alfredians—Amy Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer of Tinkertown, is enjoying her time as an exchange student in Liege, Belgium, a city of about 400,000 in the "land of the castles"... Jerry and Mary-Lou Cartledge spent a recent weekend in Elmira, with her mother, Eloise Straight. Mrs. Straight was helping her church participate in the first International Festival, honoring 14 ethnic groups living in Elmira... Al Rawady was master of ceremonies at the first Hornell Hall of Fame luncheon held at Big Elms recently. Johnny Nelson received the framed certificate for Coach Jim Moretti, who was with his football team in Ithaca. About 200 persons attended... Alfred's David Schwert, coordinator of education for emergency medical technicians in Allegany County, was named the "1988 Educator of Excellence" in Buffalo recently by the Western Regional Emergency Medical Services Council... A lovely outdoor wedding in Columbus, Ohio was held Sept. 24 when Julie Riber became the bride of Eric Johnston, of Yellow Springs, OH. Julie is the daughter of Rob and Ellie Riber of Alfred. Rev. Laurie DeMott of the Union University Church was the presiding clergy...

Building Families Through Adoption is pleased to announce the nomination of Laurie Jo DeMott of Alfred as an "Outstanding Family Who Has Grown Through Adoption." Laurie recently adopted 21-month-old John... Laurie and John arrived in Alfred Aug. 19 and have been through some weeks of "adjustment," according to the new mother...

Luan Sutton Ellis, a resident of Alfred Station and high school math teacher at Alfred-Almond Central School was recently elected president of the Seventh Day Baptist General Conference, USA and Canada. During her 1988-89 presidential year, she will be responsible for planning and promotion of the year's program for the denomination across the country and will preside over the 177th session to be held at the University of Portland, OR from August 6-12, 1989... Luan will be promoting her year's theme, "Share the Joy," at meetings of the Pacific Coast Association in Riverside, CA Oct. 14-16. In November she will travel to Portland, OR to meet with the local host committee and University of Portland officials to firm up plans for the weeklong sessions next August... A graduate of A-A in 1959, Mrs. Ellis has taught math there since 1970. She earned a B.S. from Alfred University and a master's degree in education in 1969. A member of the Alfred Station S.D.B. Church, she has been active in various leadership roles Mrs. Ellis and her husband, Ronald, formerly of Wellsville, are the parents of three college age children, Timothy, Terry and Debi, and reside at Pleasant Valley Road, Alfred...

Chatting with John and Angie Ninos is like taking a walk down Alfred's memory lane. This delightful couple has lived in Alfred almost 40 years, and operated the Collegiate Restaurant since 1950... The building was erected in 1912 and became a restaurant in the 1920s. In the 1940s, it was owned and operated by Nick Moraitis, who sold it in 1950, due to failing health. Mike Ninos purchased the Collegiate in partnership with sons John and William. William continued to operate the University Diner, the senior Ninos managed the Ag Tech cafeteria and the Collegiate management was turned over to 22-year-old John and his new wife Angie...

Another adventure in Colorado—(By Joan Lindeman) One Colorado afternoon, daughter Katie and I went to a matinee in Carbondale's tiny movie theater. A very quaint, little theater, it looked as though it had been there since the talkies hit the screen. We had walked there but Katie promised we would ride home. That was a puzzle to me for as far as I knew there were no taxis in that small town. As we stood letting our eyes adjust to the sunlight I heard a clip-clop coming down the street and there it was! A wagon being pulled by a beautiful very large Percheron—that's a horse of course. Talk about a surrey with a fringe on top, here it was, ready to take us for a ride. So off we went down the quiet streets of Carbondale clip-clopping along. During our conversation with our friendly driver I happened to ask her if she sang. It only seemed right to me that this relaxing adventure called for songs, just like in the movies. Sure enough she sang, although very reluctantly at first. I guess I wore her down with my pleading. So there we were, traveling at the steady pace of our draft horses' walk down the picturesque streets singing old-timey songs. What fun it was! Onlookers probably assumed we were either crazy or drunk, but we sure were happy. Katie's young neighbor Tavia heard us and begged for a ride. We let her on only if she would sing—and she did. I'm positive, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "Springtime in the Rockies" never sounded so melodious backed by the rhythmic beat of the horse's hooves...

Joan and Brad Bowden of Alfred are pleased to announce the marriage of their daughter Judith Clarice Bowden to Jake Burton Ritchie, son of Sharon and Charles Ritchie of Long Lake, MN. The July 12th wedding ceremony at the Union University Church in Alfred was performed by the Rev. Laurie DeMott. Music was provided by a string trio and quartet led by Lisa Lantz. Tim Wheeler was soloist. Scott Kinkead was reader...

Nolan was 21 1/4 inches long at birth.

A community reception for new Alfred State College President Uma Gupta will be held at the Alfred Fire Hall at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15. The reception will be a free ice cream social sponsored by the Alfred Business Association. The program will be a social hour during which the community will have a chance to meet President Gupta as well as gather as friends and neighbors, followed by welcoming by officials. President Gupta will then have a chance to be introduced and say a few words...

Joy at the church with the red door!

By LINDA STAIGER

I have to tell you--so many days this is the feeling in our church--"WooHoo!" It's one of Pastor Steve's favorite expressions and its catching. There is Joy in this little white church with the red door!

Our Pastor has a kind of giggle--yes, giggle--which comes through often in his messages, in his chats, everywhere. The choir laughs a lot: sometimes at our own musical foibles, or at the puns continually being made by the 'back row'! Not a rehearsal goes by without a few good laughs starting in the back row and rippling through to the front row! The laughter in our church is NEVER at the expense of anyone--maybe that's why it's so much fun to be in our church and be free to laugh! Even political jokes are never crude or cruel.

This is the time of year when we have Paul and Cindy Talley visit us for the weekend: Saturday evening concert and Sunday worship service--all music! [Indeed, this reporter's favorite way to worship!] Paul has a nice way about him--he brings a message of Jesus' love and the joy there is in loving Him. As is true with most good speakers/ leaders, he brings a bit of humor into the message and I really enjoy it. I grew up in a Methodist church in Elmira Heights with a minister who was so good that each time the 'head honchos' wanted to move him onto another church as they typically did, our elders moved heaven and earth to keep him. Hence, the chance to spend my entire growing years in a marvelous church full of music, joy and good spirits.

I learned that it was OK to laugh in church....after all, if loving and believing in God is so great, why NOT feel joy and laughter, right? Amen? So, back to Paul--he, too, is not averse to using a little silly humor. Try this one on for size: he said, "They asked me to sing in the garden...and I thought they were talking about the song!" Come on, I hear you snickering out there!

Paul and Cindy's message is important for us to hear. The humor sweetens and lightens our hearts so we can really hear the words. The songs kind of say it all: "Oh, How I love Jesus, because He first loved me." Times are tough--although, when I reflect on this saying, I cannot imagine a time when we would NOT say this. They always are in one way or another, no matter who we are.

But there is a refuge--"Go to Him in Prayer." It may not be a physical refuge, but it will be a refuge for your spirit and heart. And that's really what we need, isn't it? The refuge for the spirit that will guide us toward making sure our needs are met. He Will Provide. Yep, for sure. He will provide.

But that doesn't mean we just sit around and wait. That's sort of like focusing on buying lottery tickets in the hopes that you will Win the Big One! Bypassing the hard work in order to get the 'prize' NOW. Imagine a doctor or a musician trying to make it big without the preparation? It's long, hard hours of study, practice for years in order to be that good...they can't just go out and buy the prize at the end.

The deal here is, "Do whatever we do with all our hearts--for the Lord." If you're going to do something, do it right--[my Mom would add 'the first time' to this]. When you seek for me, seek with all your heart. Keep in mind your 'outward actions are a result of your inward attitude'.

That 'inward attitude' is meekness (NOT weakness!)--a reverent, humble, kindness in your heart. It is the attitude that allows us to see that we need to recognize and admit we are not perfect....repent. This world most definitely is in need of this act. Consider this: a church announces a "Preaching on Prosperity", gets a BIG crowd, then they offer "Preaching on Healing"...BIG crowd. But then they get down to it and offer "Preaching on Repentance"...yep, you guessed it---itty, bitty crowd! And yet, that's the one which we needed the most. To repent means you are humble in the light of God. Dude, once you are there, the rest of it will come. A truly repentant heart in God is the key. If you are not in God at this moment, while you have breath--make it right.

To Paul and Cindy Talley we say Thanks..for the message, the music and your friendship. Although, we are each at different places of humility, repentance at Almond Union, you can be sure of one thing: "There's Joy in that there church!"

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, October 10

On this day in 1492, Christopher Columbus was at the edge of despair. They had been sailing west for 32 days--and seen nothing. With all three crews on the verge of mutiny, the other two captains had extracted a promise from him: if they did not reach land in the next two days, they would turn back. Yet Columbus was convinced that God had called them to this mission, and that He was with them.

"I found our Lord well-disposed toward my heart's desire, and He gave me the spirit of intelligence for the task... Who doubts that this illumination was from the Holy Spirit? He, with marvelous rays of light, consoled me through the holy and sacred Scriptures...encouraging me to proceed."

BRIGHAM, COLUMBUS, 54.

Congressman Tom Reed schedules four town hall meetings Saturday

Congressman Tom Reed will hold four town hall meetings Saturday, Oct. 12 in Chemung County in Elmira, Seneca County in Waterloo, Steuben County in Bath, and Yates County in Jerusalem.

"Whether it's the country's current debate over a continuing resolution, the looming debt ceiling debate, our massive national debt and annual deficits, or the President's health care law being rolled out, we have no shortage of topics to talk about," Congressman Reed said. "I hope residents of the Southern Tier and Finger Lakes join this important discussion and share their thoughts so we can take their input to Washington. This is a critical time for our country."

Town halls will be held Saturday, October 12th as follows:
8:00 a.m., Southport Town Hall, 1139 Pennsylvania Ave., Elmira
10:15a.m., Bath Village Hall, 110 Liberty Street, Bath
1:00 p.m., Jerusalem Town Hall, 3816 Italy Hill Road, Branchport
3:30 p.m., Fayette Town Hall, 1439 Yellow Tavern Rd, Waterloo

Those unable to attend the town halls are encouraged to share their thoughts with Rep. Reed through his website (www.Reed.house.gov) or Facebook (www.Facebook.com/Rep-TomReed).

'Road less traveled' talk on organic food

ALFRED—Amanda Khodorkovskaya, owner of Living Acres Farm in Alfred Station, will speak on "Choosing the Road Less Traveled?" as a part of the Alfred University's (AU) Environmental Studies Speaker Series. Her lecture will take place on Friday, Oct. 18 at 12:20 p.m. in the Roon Lecture Hall (Room 247) of the AU Science Center. Everyone is welcome to attend, admission is free, and refreshments will be served.

Living Acres Farm grows close to 40 different types of vegetables on three acres which are sold at local venues from June to November. The farm's organic soils, free of herbicides and pesticides, are the secret to their delicious vegetables, says Khodorkovskaya.

The produce can be purchased through the farm's Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) plan, the Angelica Farmers Market (Saturdays 9 a.m.-1p.m.), the Alfred Farmers Market (Sundays 11a.m.-3p.m.), and the Kinfolk Natural Grocery Store, Alfred.

The Environmental Studies Seminar series at Alfred University is held every Friday during the fall semester when the University is in session. Sponsored by the Division of Environmental Studies within Alfred University's School of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the series brings a range of speakers to the campus, including scientists, activists, and policy-makers, with the mission to better understand our environment and what we can do better to sustain our world.

AU DB named Empire 8 Defensive Player of Week

ALFRED—AU senior defensive back Seiji Hinton (Freeport) has been named Empire 8 Conference Defensive Player of the Week.

Hinton was honored for his play in the Saxons' 39-33 double-overtime win against visiting Buffalo State on Saturday (story, Pg. 16). He had 10 tackles, including three for loss (17 yards) and a sack (11 yards), to go with a forced fumble and an interception.

Saxons fall to Storm, 2-1

The men's soccer team (4-7-0, 0-2-0 Empire 8) lost to visiting Keuka College, 2-1, Tuesday evening, Oct. 1. Alfred's weekend E8 game with Ithaca was postponed due to poor weather.

Keuka held a 1-0 lead at half-time before AU freshman midfielder James Piombino (Ballston Spa) tied the game at the 63rd minute off a free kick service from freshman midfielder Richard Lander (Narrowsburg/Sullivan West). Keuka scored a late goal at the 86th to get the win.

For the game, the Saxons held a 19-6 shot advantage over the Storm. Senior goalie Jacob Bird (Auburn/Skaneateles) went the distance in net for Alfred, making two saves.

This Week: at St. John Fisher (10/12, 3 p.m.)

Women's Soccer loses to Houghton, 7-0

The women's soccer team (3-7-0, 0-2-0 Empire 8) lost 7-0, on the road to Houghton, Saturday afternoon. Senior goalie Alicia Hanes (Vestal) made nine saves in net for Alfred during the full 90 minutes of play.

Volleyball team drops matches

The women's volleyball team (2-17, 0-5 Empire 8) lost a 3-1 decision to Pitt-Bradford Tuesday evening and fell to Houghton, Stevens, and Hartwick later in the week at the Empire 8 Crossover Tournament with scores of 3-0, 3-0, 3-1.

A-A boys soccer team runs win streak to 11

ALMOND--The Alfred-Almond boys' soccer team won its eleventh straight game Monday night with a 1-0 win at Steuben League foe Addison. Cory Olix took a John Mormino pass and scored at 24:54 in the first half. It was all A-A needed. A stingy Eagle defense has given up only three goals all season as Sam Gorman was called on to make one save in the Eagle net. Gorman has recorded 11 shutouts in 13 games. A-A is 12-1.

In the rain at Jasper Saturday night, Oct. 5, Olix scored on a pass from Levi Lawrence at 23:52 in the first half and the Eagles defeated Steuben League rival Jasper-Troupsburg for the second time in three days. On Thursday night at A-A, Pierce Gunn took a Tyler VanSkiver pass and found the net at 32:05. A-A's Colin Johnson answered just 38 seconds later with Anup Jonchhe getting the assist. Johnson added another goal five minutes later as A-A won, 2-1.

Coach Burt Turner's boys have outscored their opponents, 34-3. Colin Johnson has scored 7 goals and 6 assists; Cory Olix has 6 goals and 2 assists. Jake Shilling has 6 goals. John Mormino has scored 5 goals and an assist. Parker Bryant-Carty has 4 goals and an assist. Jake Johnston has 3 goals and 3 assists. Anup Jonchhe has 2 goals and 3 assists while Jaesuk Lee has scored once. Levi Lawrence is credited with 3 assists while Jordan Tomm has 1 assist.

Despite their gawdy 12-1 record, the Eagles, competing in Section V Class C2, are currently fifth in Sectional Tournament seeding behind Naples (8-1-2), Honeoye (9-2), Geneseo (10-1-1), Marion (8-1-1), with Keshequa (10-2), Wheatland-Chili (8-2-2) and Perry (8-3-1), York (7-3-2) and Pavilion (6-4-2) also in the C2 bracket.

A-A hosts Genesee Valley at 5:45 p.m. tonight (Thursday, Oct. 10) and travels to Campbell-Savona for a 6:30 p.m. game Saturday, Oct. 12 before wrapping up its regular season schedule with a clash at Bath-Haverling under the lights at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15.

Girls have win streak snapped

The A-A girls' soccer team had its four-game win streak snapped Friday at Addison, suffering a 5-2 loss. The Eagles, now 6-4-1, had defeated Canisteo-Greenwood, 1-0; Hammondsport, 6-0; Wellsville, 4-0; and Bradford, 8-0; leading to the Addison game.

A-A hosts Prattsburgh at 6:45 p.m. tonight (Thursday, Oct. 10), then travels to Belmont to face Genesee Valley at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15; hosts Campbell-Savona at 5:45 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 16; and completes the regular season with a game at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 19 at Canisteo-Greenwood.

Seiji Hinton (Freeport) has been named Empire 8 Conference Defensive Player of the Week. Hinton was honored for his play in the Saxons' 39-33 double-overtime win against visiting Buffalo State on Saturday (story, Pg. 16). He had 10 tackles, including three for loss (17 yards) and a sack (11 yards), to go with a forced fumble and an interception. (PhotosbyLAN.com)

Earlier in the week, AU lost by scores of 14-25, 19-25, 30-28 and 17-25. Senior Chelsea Hall (Grand Island) had nine kills and six digs and Senior Paige Jensen (Weiser, ID) had seven kills, five digs and two blocks to pace the Saxons.

Junior Taylor Kiernan (Patchogue-Medford) had 17 digs; senior Janelle Gallipeau (Rochester/Greece Olympia) had 24 assists and six digs; senior Core' Oppliger (Neuchatel, Switzerland/Lyce Jean-Piaget) had three blocks; senior Brittany Anselment (Baldwinsville/C.W. Baker) had four services aces; and senior Kellie Hughson (Albion/Charles D'Amico) had 10 digs.

The Lady Saxons dropped a 3-0 decision to Houghton, Friday evening at the Empire 8 Conference Crossover Tournament, hosted by Elmira College.

Alfred lost to Hartwick by scores of 18-25, 25-20, 21-25 and 14-25. Jensen had 12 kills and Gallipeau had 37 assists, eight digs and two service aces to pace the Saxons. Oppliger had seven kills and four blocks; senior Kelsey Brand (Elmira Free Academy) had seven kills; and Kiernan had 21 digs.

Against Stevens, the Lady Saxons lost by scores of 25-9, 25-21, and 25-18. Brand (four blocks) and Wood and Hall each had three kills; Oppliger had five blocks; Kiernan had nine digs; and Gallipeau had six assists.

Women's tennis gets E8 win over Utica

The women's tennis team (4-8, 1-6 Empire 8) lost a 7-2 decision to Fredonia State on the road Tuesday evening, and downed Utica, 9-0, later in the week earning a conference victory. Matchups scheduled against Penn State-Behrend and Daemen were cancelled due to inclement weather.

In the win over Utica, Alfred swept the singles matches, getting victories from junior Brennan Ferguson (Destrehan, LA/Ursuline), 8-4 in first singles; sophomore Rachel Cook (Youngstown, OH/Laurel Springs), 8-6 in second singles; junior Emily Eisenberg (Oyster Bay), 6-1, 6-0 in third singles; freshman Alexandra Smith (Wartertown), 6-0, 6-0 in fourth singles; and senior Bethany Dickerson (Alma/Wellsville), 6-0, 6-4 in fifth singles; and senior Alison Clemente (Massapequa), 6-3, 6-3 in sixth singles.

The Saxons took all three doubles matches. Ferguson and Cook won first doubles, 8-2; Eisenberg and Smith claimed an 8-2 decision in second doubles; and junior Paige Beeber (Syosset) and Dickerson won third doubles, 8-0.

Against Fredonia State, the team of Ferguson and Cook won first doubles, 8-2. Cook was Alfred's lone singles winner, taking second singles 6-1, 6-3.

Hinton, Oppliger Named Saxon Athletes of the Week

Seiji Hinton: The senior defensive back had 10 tackles – including three for loss (17 yards) and a sack (11 yards) – to go with a forced fumble and an interception in the football team's 39-33 double-overtime win against visiting Buff State on Saturday.

Core' Oppliger: The senior middle blocker from Neuchatel, Switzerland, had 17 total blocks (five solo, 11 assisted) and 14 kills in four matches for the volleyball team last week.

Pioneers win second straight

MEDIA, PA--The Alfred State football team rushed for 328 yards as they blanked Williamson Trade 48-0 to earn their second straight victory. The Pioneer defense was very stingy as well holding the Mechanics to just 54 total yards.

After having their first drive stopped on a goal line interception, Rasheed Williams (Swedesboro, NJ) gave the Pioneers the lead just under four minutes into the game when he scampered in from 15-yards out.

Keegan Phalen (East Aurora) made it 14-0 four minutes later when he blocked a punt and returned it seven yards for a TD.

Greg Hampton (Uniondale) connected with Devin Simmons (Elmira Free) on a 26-yard pass play on the blue & gold's next drive to make it 20-0 toward the close of the 1st quarter.

Dayan Gardner (Rosepine, LA) made in 27-0 heading into halftime when he dove in from two yards out with 13:40 remaining.

Williams added two more touchdown runs early in the 3rd quarter to make it 41-0. Williams scored from 1-yard out with 10:55 left and raced in from 57-yards with 7:39 remaining.

Jordan Sealey (Lockport) capped the scoring with 6:11 remaining in the 3rd quarter when he took a handoff and went 55-yards for a score.

The Pioneers benefited from great field position all day. The team had a average drive start of their own 45. Danny Napolionello (Valley Stream) was key to the great field position early with solid punt returns. He set up the first and third scores with returns of 32 and 23 yards. Brett Harrington (Rochester/Edison) set up another score with a 38-yard return.

All six of the Pioneers offensive scoring drives were less than four plays and took no longer than 2:17 off the clock.

Williams led the way with 135 yards and three scores on just three carries. He has now rushed for over 100 yards in three straight games. Gardner finished with 78 yards while Sealey had 67.

The Pioneer defense held Williamson Trade to -24 yards rushing and sacked the Mechanics six times. Jerome Thomas (Buffalo/McKinley) recorded three sacks while Nick DePofi (Union Endicot) had two.

Dylan Snyder (Penn Yan) led the defense with five tackles and Tyler Sanders (Pioneer) picked off a pass.

The blue & gold (2-3) have next weekend off before hosting NJCAA rival Erie CC Oct. 19 at Pioneer Stadium. Opening kickoff is slated for 1 p.m.

Cross Country: 18th at Geneseo

Both of the cross country teams finished 18th at the SUNY Geneseo Invitational at Letchworth Park on Saturday. The men scored a 526 while the women scored a 607.

Jordan Rusek (Williamsville East) led the Pioneer men with a 135th place finish. He finished the 8k course in 28:11.8. Joe Seitz (Williamsville) finished 146 (28:26.6), and James Westman (Fonda-Fultonville) was 148 (28:28.3).

Kim Lupo (Auburn) led the women in the 6k course with a 204th place finish (26:32.4). Kelly Healy (Maple Hill) was 230 (27:20.3)

Men's Soccer: 1-7

The Pioneers fell 5-1 to Dean (MA) College in their only action of the week. Kyle Jones (Wilson) scored the lone goal after getting a pass from Steven Hickey (Aquinas).

Women's Soccer: 7-2, #6 in the USCAA

The Lady Pioneers defeated Tompkins Cortland CC 3-1 on Wednesday in their only contest of the week. Kali Muhleisen (Alfred Almond) scored twice while Chelsea Dunn (Newfane) scored her first goal of the season. Ally Vargeson (Addison) and Keri Teufel (Sachem) were credited with assists while Krista DeCarlo (West Islip) made five saves.

Volleyball: 13-8, #13 in the USCAA

The Lady Pioneers were 2-1 this past week. They fell 3-1 to Houghton on Tuesday and defeated Penn State Beaver and Penn State New Kensington 3-0 on Sunday.

Lera Braun (Waterloo) led the way this week with 70 assists, 19 digs, 16 kills, and nine aces. Kay Pflughardt (Tioga) chipped in 15 kills, Ashley Hulse (Hammondsport) had 14 kills, and Grace Hall (Ellicottville) and Mallory Eberhardt (Lyons) had 13. Jessica Ramsey (Tioga) had 21 digs while Mishaya Tuttle (Campbell Savona) had 20.

HITS AND MISSES:

The exciting season continues for the Alfred Saxons (3-1) in Division III football action as they topped Buffalo State, 39-33 in 2 OT's on Merrill Field in Yunevich Stadium this past Saturday in front of a Homecoming Weekend crowd. After an amazing comeback the week prior at Brockport, where the Saxons erased a 28-0 halftime margin and won in overtime, this win took two extra stanzas to secure. Alfred has now defeated Montclair State, Brockport and Buffalo State ... three quality opponents, after an opening season loss to RPI. Next up is Ithaca College as the Bombers are smarting from a 21-9 loss at the hands of Hartwick.

In other Division III football contests of note, it was: SJ Fisher just easing by Frostburg State, 38-35 ... Rowan nipped Brockport, 20-16 ... Salisbury demolished Utica, 34-0 ... St. Lawrence got by the U of R, 14-10 ... and Hobart continued to roll with a 41-7 win over WPI. Hartwick beats Ithaca (3-1)?

Syracuse University played their first football game in the ACC this past Saturday at home and Clemson drilled the Orange, 49-14. "Not quite" like playing Wagner.

In NFL play on Sunday it was a wild one in Dallas as Denver prevailed, 51-48. Not much defense but an exciting one for the fans to watch! Peyton Manning well on his way to another MVP campaign.

Former Alfred University WR, "Shuey" was on the NFL officiating crew in Cincinnati this past Sunday as the Bengals halted the Patriots in a downpour. Tom Brady's 52-game streak of tossing a TD was snapped.

The "Traveling Sports Fan" from Almond has been making the rounds of late as the former A-A cager was at the Ravens-Bills game in Orchard Park on September 29th, out to the Tampa Bay-Cleveland MLB playoff contest on October 3rd ... as his beloved Tribe fell and still in Cleveland the next nite as the Browns topped the Bills. Two tough losses in Ohio! "Hair" has popped into one AU football game as well to see the Saxons tangle with Montclair State in mid-September ... roaming the far side with Martin "Larvell" Moses.

QB Josh Freeman of the Tampa Bay Bucs was released by the NFL team in their bye week as the winless team has struggled on offense. A former, high #1 draft pick. Ouch.

A-A grads ... The Scum (BoSox), Jake Taft (ex-Reds/Tampa Bay) and Frank Sumo (attendance) took in the Boston-TB Rays AL playoff game on Monday evening in St. Pete's. "Warming up" first in the bullpen at Ferg's.

Received a nice letter last week from Vic "The Sandbagger" Wirt as the A-A grad has been in Florida for a number of years. Both hips replaced in 2013 so no tennis or golf of late for Wirt.

Stephen Baker and his UPenn men's soccer team is (4-6) on the year now after a couple of wins last week, over Drexel and Cornell, 3-2 and 1-0. The Quakers are in NYC this Saturday nite to take on Columbia. Daughter Lauren is planning on taking in the game, hooking up with the Baker's and maybe bringing along a former SUNY Geneseo teammate to watch as well.

The Western Carolina Catamounts women's soccer team, with senior Christy Kaznowski on the squad, is at (5-5-1) now after a loss to Davidson in league play.

Coach Kristy Sherman's (Arkport) girls soccer team at Brockport High is (7-3-2) on the year while the Webster Schroeder squad is zipping along at 8-1-3.

Team USA prevailed in the Presidents Cup competition at a soggy Muirfield Village in Dublin, Ohio as the United States topped the International golf squad. Captain Fred Couples now at 3-0.

"Savo's buddy," Joost Luiten was on the victorious side as the Continental Europe team beat the Britain/Ireland golf squad to grab the Seve Trophy.

Spotted a few vanity plates here and there: 1 SWAIN ... ski slope, SKI CAR ... Nealon taking AU ski photos at Swain, MASS VSN, H2OFORD1 and with California plates, it was: FRANK VI ... yikes!

The Exceed team that 3L ran with in the recent Ragnar Adirondack 200-Mile Relay Race took 2nd-place in the Ultra Division, would've taken 1st-place in the Coed Division as they had a last-minute replacement, female for male and was 13th out of roughly 200-teams entered. Impressive.

3L continued her training for the upcoming NYC Marathon as she ran a Half-Marathon/Grete's Great Gallop over the weekend in NYC. Lauren was timed in 1:46:22, was 1132 out of 5476 runners, 237-female of 2652 and 16th in her age group of 325. This after running 29-miles the weekend prior in the ADK's. Ouch.

Had an opportunity to golf last Wednesday at Chili CC in a

Frito Lay outing/retirement dinner. Good time on a beautiful day. Winning score was (-5) and team I was on came in at (-1).

No more Ziva David on NCIS ... yuk!

Passing thru Black River in the ADK's on recent trip and spotted a Drive-In movie theater still in operation.

Took in the New Paltz-Geneseo women's soccer game this past Saturday as we had a "mini" alumni parents gathering. Great time! Geneseo prevailed, 2-0 to move to (4-4-3) on year and at/near the top of the SUNYAC standings Coach Wiley starts six freshmen. Wow. Had chance to chat with Michelle Barnum and Alexa Vojvodic ...

frosh when Lauren was a senior and Olivia Harris (Webster Schroeder). Good seeing the Verdino's, Feuz's plus George and Louise. Hopefully next year a big "alumni parents" gathering! Also next year, Alfred University and Geneseo set to play each other.

Off to Lake George this Columbus Day weekend for some golf with McDrip. Yes ... willingly. Saturday-Sunday rounds in the LG area and Monday at Saratoga. Maybe Scott Yelle (A-A) will be there. Looking forward to seeing Tina!

Rollercoaster: Saxons defeat Bengals, 39-33 in 2 OTs

ALFRED—And you thought the come-from-behind win at Brockport State was a thriller. You ain't seen nothin' yet.

Taking a Homecoming capacity crowd of 4,187 at Yunevich Stadium on an emotional rollercoaster ride with seemingly unending twists and turns, the Saxons somehow pulled out a 39-33 2 OT win over Buffalo State Saturday afternoon. It was the third straight win for AU after opening the season with a 24-21 loss to RPI.

The Saxons won in double-overtime in their Empire 8 Conference opener, a week after rallying from a 28-point halftime deficit to edge host Brockport, 34-28, in overtime. This one looked good for the Saxon faithful early, as AU scored touchdowns on three of its first four possessions to take a 20-0 lead with 2:50 left in the opening frame. The PAT after the third TD missed, playing a role in an exciting finish to regulation.

AU senior Austin Dwyer (Hornell) opened the scoring with a one-yard run 3:57 into the game, capping off the Saxons' seven-play, 48-yard opening drive, set up by Dwyer's 38-yard kickoff return. After a Buff State punt, senior fullback Chuck Beckwith (Victor) scored on a 16-yard pass from freshman QB Tyler Johnson (East Syracuse-Minoa) and Alfred led 14-0 midway through the first.

AU got the ball back when junior cornerback Michael Perkins (Rochester/East) intercepted a pass near midfield. AU punted, but the Bengals fumbled the return and AU recovered at the Buff State 8-yard line. Three plays later, Johnson hit senior wideout David Lee Tack (Newark) with a one-yard TD pass. The PAT failed and Alfred led 20-0.

Buff State scored with 24 seconds left in the second quarter and AU held a 20-7 lead at intermission. The Bengals scored on their opening drive of the third and the Saxons led by six points (20-14) with 11:44 left in the frame. After Dwyer scored on a 10-yard run to cap a 55-yard drive with 31 seconds left in the third, AU led, 27-14.

Buff State came back in the fourth, scoring twice to make it 27-27. AU sophomore defensive back Dave Bennett (Medford/Longwood) preserved the tie by blocking the extra point try after the second touchdown. Each team had two possessions before the horn sounded to end regulation. Buff State and Alfred exchanged punts and each turned the ball over: Buff State on downs and Alfred on an interception as time ran out.

A nail biter of an overtime began with Dwyer rushing for his third TD of the game on the Saxons' fourth play in the extra session. Senior tailback Tyler DeRosa (Miller Place) ran 18-yards to the Buff State 7-yard line to set up Dwyer's score. The PAT failed and the Saxons' led 33-27. AU seemingly had the game won when senior defensive back Seiji Hinton (Freeport) intercepted Kacz's third-down pass in the endzone, but Hinton was stripped of the ball and Buff State recovered in the end zone for a touchdown. The game remained tied, however, when the Bengals' extra point try failed.

After AU shut down Buff State on its drive in the second overtime, the Saxons opened their drive with DeRosa carrying for 15 yards to the Bengal 10. Three plays later, on third down from the 4-yard line, Dwyer ran in for the game-winning touchdown, setting off a raucous celebration by the AU players and Homecoming crowd.

The teams combined for more than 800 yards of offense. Dwyer had 13 carries for 26 yards but scored four touchdowns. Johnson had 56 yards and DeRosa 44 as the Saxons ran for 155 as a team. Johnson completed 22 of 39 passes for 201 yards and a pair of TDs and was intercepted three times. Tack had six catches for 60 yards and a score; senior wide-out Josh Phillips (Syracuse/West Genesee) had five for 57; and senior tight end Alec Ladonis (Nescopeck, PA/Berwick) had four for 27.

Hinton had a huge game for the Saxon defense, tallying 10 tackles, including three for loss and a sack, a forced fumble and an interception. Sophomore middle linebacker Corry Wallace (Mastic Beach/Longwood) had 15 tackles and a pair of pass breakups; freshman nose guard Zack Bacon (Hornell) had five tackles (two for loss), including a sack; sophomore strong safety Mike Berardi (Wellsville) had nine tackles (1½ for loss) and two pass breakups; and senior linebacker D.J. Welch (Avon) had six tackles and a pick.

The Saxons travel to Ithaca Saturday, Oct. 12 for a 1 p.m. kickoff at Butterfield Stadium. The Bombers (3-1) are coming off a 21-9 road loss at Hartwick (4-0).
