"John Maxson [3rd][§], born 1701, was the son of John Maxson [2nd]*, born 1638, first white child on the Island of R.I., and he was the son of John Maxson Sr.[1st], born in England about 1600, who, with his son Arthur was killed by Indians in 1638.

The name originated in Scotland, where it was, and is still spelt Maxton. In England our ancestors substituted S for the T, and hence Maxson, John Senior from England as above stated."
