

Back to Alfred?
The Cameron girls (Nancy, Marilyn and Marianne) gathered in Alfred - from Anderson, CA, Celina, TX, Kidron, OH. The sisters, former Alfred area residents, were taking photos of themselves and realized it might be a fun "turnabout" to have their photo taken reading the Sun in Alfred. The paper they are holding was actually brought from Ohio. The sisters were in town for the Allegany Artists Studio Tour.

He continued his education and received a master of science degree in wildlife management from Humboldt State University and Ph.D. in wildlife ecology from the University of Maine. Construction begins on president's new residence

ALFRED--After more than a year of planning, construction has begun on a new residence for the president of Alfred State. The site is located on Route 244, south of the College Farm and will replace the current home for the president which is located in the Village of Alfred.
Building Trades students, under the direction of department chair Joe Richardson, broke ground on the project in September. Over the next three years, students will complete nearly every aspect of construction and will follow National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) green building standards.

When complete, this 7,800 square foot residence/entertainment facility will feature state-of-the-art geothermal and solar technologies and will serve as a demonstration home in Alfred (similar to the zero energy demonstration home on the Wellsville campus) that showcases green technologies and programs at Alfred State.
In addition to a five-bedroom residence, the structure will have a separate entertainment area for small, special events complete with a parking area for guests, handicapped accessibility, and a catering kitchen.

Here's a delicious fall breakfast dish!

I was looking around for another Fall type recipe and came across this delicious breakfast dish which uses apples. It is easy to prepare and sets overnight, so in the morning you just put it in the oven and enjoy.

I found it on the Recipe4Living web site.

Apple-Raisin French Toast Casserole

- | | |
|---------------------|--------------------------------|
| ½ c. brown sugar | 1 (1 lb.) loaf French Baguette |
| ½ tsp. cinnamon | 3 eggs |
| ¼ c. butter, melted | ¾ c. milk |
| 1-2 apples | ½ T. vanilla extract |
| ¼ c. raisins | 1 tsp. cinnamon |

Grease an 8x8 inch baking dish. Mix together brown sugar and ½ tsp. cinnamon. Mix in melted butter. Peel, core and slice apples. Stir apples and raisins into the butter until evenly coated. Pour into pan. Slice half of the baguette into 1 inch slices and arrange in an even layer over apples. Whisk together eggs, milk, vanilla and 1 tsp. cinnamon. Pour over bread, making sure every slice is fully soaked. Cover with aluminum foil and refrigerate overnight. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Bake covered for 40 minutes. Remove cover and bake 5 minutes.

Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Yield: 6 servings. (Probably should cover only half the baking time-the bread in mine didn't get crispy.)

Toward Community Chest goal of $37,210 Drive raises $19,287

Dear Editor:

The Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest drive is now proceeding very slowly, dollar by dollar, toward its 2012 goal for the support of our local charities. As of last week, we have received donations and pledges totaling about $19,287 or a little over 51.8%% of our $37,210 goal. We will need everyone's help with the 2012 campaign. Please do not forget the community where you work or live. Now is the time to act. Without YOUR help, we simply will not reach the goal.

The Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross is an important organization benefiting from our campaign. If we are successful our local Red Cross chapter will receive much needed support from this year's campaign. As we are all aware, natural disasters do not stop. The Red Cross provides help to more people than ever before. They establish emergency communication, shelters, give out food and clothing, and provided health assistance to victims of 'natural' events. They replace essentials needed by communities when rebuilding begins. In addition they provided counseling for families and assistance while coping with disasters. What the Red Cross does not expect, or accept, is repayment for any assistance they give during a disaster.

It is essential that we be generous after costly emergencies. Only then can we 'assist' the Red Cross in its mission and help to replenish its services. At the time of fires in Alfred, the Red Cross provides for those who have lost possessions. They are at the scene of the fires and emergencies providing much needed assistance and counseling. The blood collection and our blood supply rely on the most well known of Red Cross services. In addition, the Red Cross hosts educational programs dealing with transmitted diseases, water safety procedures, and many other programs.

The Red Cross also provides a wide range of programs and services to members of the U.S. Armed Forces. Probably the most important of these is their around-the-clock, around-the-world emergency communications network. In an average year over a million high priority messages are sent between service personnel and their families at no cost to the parties served. Red Cross volunteers at military installations and in our local communities provide counseling to members of the military and their families to help solve personal crises and deal with stress during periods of family separation. Local chapters also prepare and ship "good will" packages to service people stationed overseas. Please consider all that the Red Cross accomplishes, as you make your pledge to our campaign.

We hope that you will agree that support for the Red Cross, as well as our other campaign organizations, provides services that are essential to our community as well as the greater whole and helps to make the Alfred area a special place in which to live and work. We ask those of you who have not yet made a donation or pledge to join your friends and neighbors in making our drive a success. Thank you to those who have been so generously given to our campaign. A comprehensive look at hydrofracking
By GRAHAM MARKS
Special to the Alfred Sun

Town of Alfred
Public Hearing
Thursday, Nov. 1
6:30 p.m.
Alfred Station Fire Hall

Individual Rights/ Individual Responsibility

On Thursday Nov. 1 at 6:30 p.m. there will be a public hearing in the Alfred Station Fire Hall. The Alfred Town Board will be seeking comment from citizens on the plan to extend the current moratorium on horizontal, high volume, slick water, hydrofracking for another year within the Town of Alfred. Since the announcement of this meeting I have been thinking about the importance of a moratorium and the idea that some have put forth that a moratorium is a threat to our individual property rights.

Rather than seeing the moratorium as a threat, I think it is actually quite the opposite. I take great comfort in the fact that our civic representatives are taking the time to study this issue and all of its possible effects and ramifications on our town and our way of life. I have travelled in some of the highly drilled communities in Pennsylvania and seen first hand the impact on individuals, families, roads, property rights, as well as the impact on the natural resources we too often take for granted such as clean drinking water and clean air. Since this entire industry is exempt from the federal clean air and clean water standards, I believe that it is unconventional gas drilling that is the threat, not a moratorium.

No matter how we feel about the extent of government regulations, I think we can agree that there are numerous ways in which the rights of individuals to do as they please are moderated by rules that protect the greater good of a community. Why not have an adult bookstore across the street from a public school? That's why we have zoning. Why have regulations that protect human health? Why not dispense with septic systems? Why do we have a police force? Speed limits?

A moratorium on horizontal, high volume hydrofracking protects the public while this issue is being studied. This seems prudent. Many citizens recently attended the informational meeting in Almond where Scott Torrey of the Allegany County Soil and Water department illustrated how the Village and Town of Alfred, as well as Almond, are all intimately connected because we draw water from the same unprotected aquifer. Professor Ingraffea from Cornell then proceeded to explain from a scientific and geologic point of view just how vulnerable these resources are and the impacts that all the processes associated with unconventional drilling can have on them.

The Comprehensive Plan for the Town and Village of Alfred includes a study of water quality and management. Although commissioned in 1993, long before this type of drilling was an issue, it is particularly relevant today. This is an excerpt from the study:

"A quick survey of remediation costs for contaminated groundwater supplies will show that prevention is well worth the effort. Corrective measures can rapidly escalate into the millions of dollars, not to mention yielding substantial inconveniences to those dependent on the contaminated water supply. There really is no such thing as being overly protective when it comes to groundwater protection, especially when it is a community's only source of drinking water... While many of the suggestions provided in this guide may seem politically unpopular in the short-term, having contaminated groundwater would be even more unpopular. It is far easier to address threats and prevent contamination than to deal with the costs and other problems associated with crisis-type situations.... Groundwater protection efforts are most effective when done on a more regional level as aquifers and their recharge areas do not stop at jurisdictional boundaries."

This last statement is particularly relevant because many of the issues associated with horizontal drilling do not stop at "jurisdictional boundaries."

Polluted water and air don't recognize property rights and property boundaries. The fracking industry doesn't either. Through compulsory integration, if 60% of individual landowners have leased their land in a well spacing unit, the other 40% can be integrated against their will and drilling will occur under their land whether they give their consent or not. So much for individual property rights. When I first read about compulsory integration I thought it was an article about China.

The same individual who is worried about his property rights has also stated that decisions should be made on facts, not emotion. Many have studied this issue for a long time now and feel strongly, emotionally if you will, exactly because they have studied the facts, including the dismal record of leaks, spills, and methane migration. I am one of them. Furthermore, I have met people in Pennsylvania that have poisoned water, and who, from the industry perspective, are expendable. Not surprisingly, they aren't any different from you or me; they simply had the bad luck to own a well that was polluted by a nearby horizontal fracking operation. They are, understandably, emotional.

My family drinks from a spring whose recharge area does not obey property boundaries. I will do my best to protect it and I expect others to do the same. The community has to ask itself — are there threats to our town, universities and schools, our way of life, our water and health that are worth protecting ourselves from? Where do individual rights stop and individual responsibility to others begin? I would strongly suggest right here, right now.

As of early October, 234 communities in New York State have invoked home rule by enacting bans or moratoriums or are in the process of doing so, like the Town of Alfred. These 234 towns have decided that it is imperative to protect themselves from the threat of unconventional drilling and that clean water and clean air are essential, and need to be a protected right for all.

Ultimately, the Plan will:

- Plan for energy production and conservation, transportation, waste and water management, land use and livable communities, agriculture and forestry, economic development and open space;
- Build upon Regional Economic Development planning efforts to integrate plans for economic prosperity with efforts to promote long-term sustainability;
- Identify indicators to measure our progress, including GHG emissions and energy use, available natural resources and economic assets, liabilities and opportunities; and
- Describe projects that may apply for implementation funding from various funding sources including the NY-SERDA Cleaner Greener Communities program.

The planning team invites your ideas and feedback on implementation projects that can help meet the region's goals for sustainability.

You may submit project ideas via: www.sustainable-ny.com/form or by attending the public meeting:

Fosdick-Nelson Gallery hosts 'Boundary Hunters' exhibition

ALFRED--The Fosdick-Nelson Gallery at Alfred University will host a new exhibition titled "Boundary Hunters." opening Friday, Oct. 26 and running through Saturday, Dec. 1. There will be a gallery talk with several of the artists, Rachael Wren and Matthew Farina, on Oct. 26 at noon, as well as an opening reception in the evening, from 7-9.

In addition to Wren and Farina, the gallery will feature artists Donnie Copeland, Amy Feldman, Julian Jackson, Karen Schifano, and Laurel Sucsy. These contemporary painters combine color, mark, shape, and edge to form unique spatial experiences.

Copeland is assistant professor of visual arts at Ouachita Baptist University, Arkadelphia, AR. Throughout the past several years, he has placed a greater emphasis on the "stuff of which paintings are made." He is "interested in what the paintings are rather than what they might be a picture of." Copeland acknowledges the importance of what a viewer brings to the experience and his works are responses to environmental stimuli such as landscapes, music, and other art forms.

Brooklyn-based Farina received a four-year Studio Certificate from the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, University of Pennsylvania. Fusing imagined landscapes with geometry, Farina uses white space and swaths of highly saturated color to create pieces which brink on chaos but ultimately find resolution.

Also based in Brooklyn, Feldman earned a bachelor of fine arts degree in painting from the Rhode Island School of Design and a master of fine arts degree in painting from Rutgers University. Her playful paintings often feature bold, abstract geometries, colorful lines, and solid arrangements and explore the nature of abstraction.

Jackson studied painting, printmaking, photography, and performance at the Massachusetts College of Art in Boston and at Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond. His works have been featured in the United States, Germany, and Italy. Jackson's paintings contain composed structures and colors spilling over their boundaries, reminiscent of shifting moods, and are often inspired by natural landscapes.

Schifano, who earned a bachelor of arts degree in art history from Swarthmore College and a master of fine arts degree in painting from Hunter College, draws inspiration from doors and hallways. She fuses the uncertainty associated with these portals with shadows, light, color, and perspective to evoke feelings of liberation, transition, and imagination.

New York-based artist Sucsy earned her bachelor of arts degree from Bowdoin College and her master of fine arts degree from Tyler School of Art. She has been the recipient of numerous grants and residencies, including the Dean's Award from the Tyler School of Art and the Vermont Studio Center Artist Residency.

Wren received her bachelor of arts degree from the University of Pennsylvania and a master of fine arts degree from the University of Washington. Her paintings are often inspired by moments when the air feels thick and tangible - such as when fog intertwines with tree branches, light pierces the clouds, and the sky darkens before a thunderstorm.

The Fosdick-Nelson Gallery at Alfred University is open Mondays-Fridays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Saturdays and Sundays from 1-3 p.m.; the gallery is closed during University holidays.

'Dial 'M' for Murder' to be staged Nov. 2-3

HOUGHTON--This November, The Valley Theatre of Houghton presents Frederick Knott's Dial M for Murder.

Don't miss this classic thriller made famous by Alfred Hitchcock, the master of suspense. When aging tennis pro Tony Wendice (Ben Layman) saw the end of his career on the horizon he did the sensible thing. He married a rich woman (Sarah Badger), an arrangement that has worked well for him for many years.

That is, however, until Tony finds a letter from the charming Max Halliday (Clayton Danner) in his wife's purse. Tony quickly realizes that once again he is at risk of losing his posh lifestyle, a prospect that is unacceptable to him.

Once again, he does the sensible thing. With the help of an old college acquaintance (Dan Buckley), he arranges for Margot's untimely death. Unfortunately for Tony murder isn't as neat as marriage, and things go horribly wrong.

Now Tony has to think on his feet and stay one step ahead of Max, a nosy reporter (Hannah Mills Woolsey) and the police (Aaron Arber, Josiah Parlett & Joe Perrotti). Here's hoping the old tennis pro still has the reflexes to play the game.

The show will be performed at the Houghton Fire Hall on Rt. 19 in Houghton, at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 2, and at 2 and 7 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3. Tickets are just $5.00.

NOTES from the BOX OF BOOKS

By ELIZA ORDWAY
Box of Books Library Director

I spent my Saturday this past weekend at library sponsored events. My daughter attended the Library Lions story time here at the Box of Books and was happy to be a lion for the morning.

We then went to the Almond 20th Century Club Library's 100 year celebration and were able to witness a great performance by a children's choir and by the public speakers of an area home school group. It was amazing to hear young people perform such complex scenes from Shakespeare and others from memory in front of a large crowd. I even won a door prize for being the 100th person to sign the guest book, and I learned where the term blackballed came from. Congratulations to all the performers and great job to the Almond Library board, volunteers and director, Tammy Kokot!

I rounded out my Saturday at the Tasting, tiny Treasures and Tunes put on by our Friends group. What a great job done by all those who volunteered their time and energy to this project. I don't know the financial success of the event but I can tell you that those attending had a great time viewing and buying the art, enjoying the delicious food and sampling some of the wines. To all of you who donated art, food, time or all of the above, I thank you. The Box of Books Library is very lucky to have a great Friends group that is willing and able to offer such support to the library. The community support of this event continues to overwhelm me. For those of you who missed the event the few items that didn't sell will be for sale at the Box of Books for $20 Please stop by to view what is here and support the library.

This week's events at the Box of Books:
Thursday, Oct. 25 at 4:15– Make your own Trick or Treat Bag – Bookworms program. Registration required for this event because we only have enough bags for 11 participants.

Friday, Oct. 26 at 11- Mother Goose on the Loose- Music, stories and movement for PreSchoolers.

Monday Oct. 29 at 4:15 – Bones and Education Fieldwork Class, designed for school aged kids.

Tuesday, Oct. 30 at 5 – Halloween Party! Come in costume and share in snacks, games and activities for kids.

Thursday, Nov. 1 at 6 – ePLACE – Advanced Excel Class – Please register.

Pigskin Picks Football Contest

DOUG LOROW wins Week 6

It had to happen sooner or later. Alfred Sun sports columnist Doug Lorow of Webster won the Pigskin Picks Contest, with his only misses being Alfred State's loss to Apprentice School and the Bills' loss to Tennessee. No one else was close, really.

Floyd Farley of Hornell and Bob Baker of Alfred each had 4 misses to share runner-up honors. Then there was Mark Davidson of Hornell, Mark Jackson of Alfred, Betsy Brooks of Alfred Station and Jay Lawrence of Fulton with 5 misses. Those with six misses were Jim Moretti, Duane Green, both of Alfred, and Bob Grogan of Canisteo.

Enter your guesses of winners of 10 college and 10 pro football games (found in the ads of our sponsors on these pages) and predict the score of the Monday Night Football game as the tiebreaker in the form below. TAKING A REFRESHING COURSE

Only a few days are left before the 2012 U.S. presidential election season ends. The coverage of it provided by every type of media has left me feeling virtually drowned. I keep trying on various life-jackets to lift myself above this tidal wave into fresh air.

Most recently I decided that a mental trip to the past might help. After two days of considering various options, I chose a destination. I would sail off to get reacquainted with the Presidents elected in 1812 and 1912.

Using my home computer I made searches on the Internet, turning up largely undocumented information. From Alfred University's Herrick Library I borrowed pertinent books, and flipped their pages seeking some verification. In no particular order, here are some of these facts.

James Madison (1751-1836) was nominated by the Democratic-Republicans to run for a second term as President in 1812. His opponent was New York City Mayor DeWitt Clinton. Madison won the election with 128 out of 146 votes. In 1808 he had successfully run against Charles Cotesworth Pinckney (1746-1825) of the Federalist Party.

There are many "quotes" on the Internet which are attributed to Madison. With the dates of their origin not being indicated, one cannot tell which statements were made while he was President. For instance, some may stem from the articles now known as the "Federalist Papers," which he wrote along with Alexander Hamilton and John Jay. Here are six of Madison's opinions:

"In framing a government which is to be administered by men over men you must first enable the government to control the governed; and in the next place oblige it to control itself."

"Learned institutions ought to be favorite objects with every free people. They throw that light over the public mind which is the best security against crafty and dangerous encroachments on the public liberty."

"The circulation of confidence is better than the circulation of money."

"War should only be declared by the authority of the people, whose toils and treasures are to support its burdens, instead of the government which is to reap its fruits."

"I should not regret a fair and full trial of the entire abolition of capital punishment."

Woodrow Wilson (1856-1924) was the winner of the 1912 U.S. presidential election in a four way contest. He ran for the office as a Democrat, defeating incumbent Republican William Howard Taft. The Republican Party was undergoing a split. Theodore Roosevelt, formerly a Republican himself, ran as the nominee for the Progressive Party, nicknamed the "Bull Moose Party." Eugene V. Debs was the nominee of The Socialist Party of America.

As in the case of Madison, I have no documentation on when or where President Wilson made any of the following remarks. I believe that readers will find that many of them could be spoken pertinently by someone today.

"I will not speak with disrespect of the Republican Party. I always speak with respect of the past."

"I am not sure that it is of the first importance that you should be happy. Many an unhappy man has been of deep service to himself and to the world."

"Every man who takes office in Washington either grows or swells, and when I give a man an office, I watch him carefully to see whether he is growing or swelling."

"That a peasant may become king does not render the kingdom democratic."

"My own ideals for the university are those of a genuine democracy and serious scholarship. These two, indeed, seem to go together."

"The awakening of the people of China to the possibilities under free government is the most significant, if not the most momentous, event of our generation."

"I not only use all the brains that I have, but all that I can borrow."

And speaking of brains, I was stunned by the impertinence revealed when I "Googled" websites for presidential quotations. The first website which I opened was called "brainyquote." It featured statements from all U. S. Presidents beginning with George Washington. It also posted political ads for the 2012 election.

One advertisement popped up on each of the pages I consulted for quotes by Madison and Wilson. It consisted of four short lines, with the second phrase in bold type: "Ads by Google - Mitt Romney-Official Site - Help Romney Get America Back to Work. Donate $5 Now! - www.MittRomney.com"

Although he was quite likely using a pen, and certainly not using a keyboard, Madison appeared to be speaking to me when he said this on one of the computer screens with the ad: "All power in human hands is liable to be abused." He also asserted, "If men were angels, no government would be necessary."

Library Lions Story Time a hit

By BRAD BOWDEN
of the Alfred Lions Club

ALFRED--The Alfred Lions Club's first Library Lions Story Time at the Box of Books Library on Saturday, Oct. 20 was a great success with a small but enthusiastic 'pride' of children very involved in listening and enthusiastically responding to questions about the book, The Library Lion (of course there is a book by this title!) read by Lion Brad Bowden.

Following the story the children each made a 'lion mask' (potential Halloween mask) by coloring a paper plate. Children were assisted by three Alfred University students participating in AU's 'Fall Into Service' day and by Alfred Lions Jonnie Arroyo and Kathy Benzaquin.

The next Library Lions Story Time will be at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 10 at the Box of Books Library. What will be the story book, who will read it, and what will be the follow-up craft/activity? Come and find out!

In addition, he was the winner (with Bill Cook) of the Medieval Academy of America CARA Award for Excellence in Teaching Medieval Studies. 'Forgiveness: the real F Word' Part II

'How Can I Forgive Myself?'

By LINDA STAIGER
ALMOND--"How Can I Forgive Myself?"Matthew 26:31-35, 69-75.

"Forgiveness: the real F word": Part II. Forgiveness is necessary. We must be forgiving people--we need to learn to forgive. Forgiving others is not very easy sometimes. But, as hard as that is, it may be more difficult to forgive ourselves. We have baggage we carry around with us all the time: poor decisions made in the past leading to all sorts of issues we carry on our backs. We need to get back on track; get beyond the effects of these bad decisions and to do that requires forgiveness. We've got to be able to forgive ourselves.

To forgive somebody means that we don't hold it against them anymore. We don't have to forget what they did, we just aren't mad at them now. We don't forget the missed opportunities, ruined relationships, lost jobs--we just put them behind us. We stop beating ourselves up over things that happened years ago, and we move on. Easier said than done, though. Robert Schuller's phrase is always helpful: "Let go and let God".

The thing is, we need to have God's forgiveness. God can truly wipe our slate clean and He won't remember our sin anymore. You and I can't do that. We can't turn off our memories, but what's important is that we don't let those memories gain control over us. "How can I do that?" Look to Peter. He promised he would stand by Jesus to the very end, but when it came down to it, Peter denied Christ three times! God knew this would happen, but He would forgive him anyway. The thing is, could Peter be able to forgive himself and move on? Like Peter, some of us are carrying around a lot of guilt and shame, unable or unwilling to forgive ourselves. Today is the day to be free of that.

Coming to God for Forgiveness. Like the Prodigal Son, we must recognize our need for God and return to Him. Receiving God's forgiveness enables you to forgive ourselves. The first step is to go to God for forgiveness. Forgiving ourselves requires Changing our pattern of behavior. This is the repentance component. Change behaviors so we don't keep doing those things over and over again. Look again at Peter: he went from denying Christ to preaching His word to thousands of people. They were ordinary men and they were astonished to see that these men had been with Jesus. Peter is no longer a coward and he is NOT denying he knew Jesus. Forgiving ourselves requires Creating a new future for us. Do you realize the role that you play in creating your future? God has plans for you, but He isn't going to do it all for you. You have to be serious about following Him.

Let's backtrack here for just a bit---about not forgetting our past issues. Why do you suppose that they aren't just erased from our memories? Why do we still remember them? God has a purpose for them--for the scars that remain. It's simple, really. Because there are so many people out there struggling with some of the same things, we can go out to help them. When we allow God to use our weaknesses and our mistakes to help other people. You can help because you know the way out--you found it so they can as well--through you. He needs us to feel compassion for others going through the same trouble.

Whatever is holding you back, Come to God for forgiveness. Change the patterns of behavior Create a new future for yourself. Forgive yourself. Allow God's plans for you to come to fruition.

Members run Laity Sunday service at Alfred United Methodist Church

By ADAM GAYHART
ALFRED--Sunday, Oct. 21 was Laity Sunday. This day on the United Methodist calendar is a time to celebrate the people of the church, otherwise known as the Laity. The day is usually celebrated by having the church members themselves run the service. This Laity Sunday was no exception. The people of the church handled nearly every part of the service, excluding the sermon.

The service began with a welcome and the recitation of an original poem by Adam Gayhart. The poem was entitled "Autumn Fire" and spoke about the resemblance of the red, yellow, and orange of a forest in fall to that of a fire. It was a nod to the beauty of this season.

The welcome was followed by a very clever and funny skit directed by Barb Larson and performed by Pete Gradoni and Darwyn Cook. The piece involved two men headed to church, one was a regular and the other was his first time guest, and an amusing episode of road rage. The heart of the skit was a message about the do's and don'ts of living God's Grace. It showed how knowing what Grace is and actually living with Grace are two very different things.

The rest of the service involved Dick Kephart giving the prayer for our Joys and Concerns and the Lord's Prayer, the Joyful Noise Choir singing their weekly anthem, Addison Frye giving the Offertory Prayer, and Scripture and Responsive Readings by Pam Bucher and Kim Gayhart, respectively.

Pianist Pam Bucher once again chose inspirational and fitting music to enhance the service. Rose and Kaitlyn Cook performed their regular duties of operating the church electronic display and presenting the collection plates. Ushers JR Gayhart and Darwyn Cook collected the tithes and offerings.

Finally, the sermon was done in a unique fashion in honor of the special service. Pastor Tim Middleton, Sr. asked a series of questions to get the Laity's perspective on their relationship with God. The questions involved such subjects as how the people of the church are the hands and feet of God, how God has changed their lives, and what God has done for them. The answers varied, but all stated that God has improved and shaped their lives in great and powerful ways. The congregation agreed that God is the most powerful influence in their lives and that they owe him more than they can say.

The service was a success and everyone did a great job. Thank you to everyone who worked so hard to make this Laity Sunday one to remember.

The Alfred United Methodist Church invites everyone to worship with us at 9 a.m. each Sunday and enjoy Fellowship time at 10 a.m. Following that at 10:30, are Church School classes for all ages, including adults. The Youth Group meets at 6 p.m. Sunday evenings. College students are always welcome at our Sunday service. If you would like more information you may call Pastor Timothy Middleton, Sr. at (607) 587-8168. The church newsletter is available on the Alfred United Methodist Church Facebook page. We hope to see you next Sunday.

Lincoln seldom let his passion break forth in public utterance. But on paper, in private...

"Here without contemplating consequences, before High Heaven, and in the face of the world, I swear eternal fidelity to the just cause, as I deem it, of the land of my life, my liberty, and my love.... Let none falter, who thinks he is right, and we may succeed."

Black-Eyed Susan: ‘it’s about the music’

ANGELICA—Every Friday and Saturday evening, Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café hosts fine touring musicians in the Music Room at 22 W. Main St., Angelica.

The café’s musical guests this week include an accomplished and sought-after New York City guitarist, and a popular singer-songwriter-fiddler-storyteller.

On Friday, Oct 26 we welcome Peter Griggs, internationally-known classical guitarist and composer. Griggs has presented more than 400 solo guitar concerts throughout the United States, Eastern & Western Europe.

On Saturday, Oct 27 we host our first-ever wine and food pairing evening: “Off the Vine”—a sumptuous, seasonal four-course meal paired with five premium Angelica Winery wines. The meal begins at 6 p.m. and is followed by Irish fiddler and balladeer Pat Kane.

Each musician begins at 7:30 p.m. There is no cover, but guests are expected to contribute to the musician’s tip jar.

Friday, Oct. 26

Peter Griggs is exploring the boundaries of classical, jazz and world music both as a guitarist and a composer. He’s been playing for thirty years, and his evolving style includes flamenco and Brazilian bossa nova music. He credits living in Germany for ten years with helping to develop his affection for café music and the café culture, as well as enabling him to meet some great players. “I became a much better musician as a result of living in Europe,” says Griggs. Powerful songwriting, explosive improvisation, deep dance grooves and a unique vision for the future of American roots music is what the Andrew & Noah Band is bringing to venues all over North America.

Their core material, written by brothers Andrew and Noah VanNorstrand, might best be described as Americana Groove: a mix of Appalachian, Celtic, classic Country and Bluegrass, Jazz and Swing, Cajun/Zydeco and various world music influences.

The six-piece band features guitars, banjo, fiddle, mandolin, accordion, saxophone, drums and three-part harmony vocals. Music that captures the memory of what we had, the urgency of where we are and the beat to keep you moving all night long.

Andrew and Noah have been featured performers at the Grey Fox Bluegrass Festival, Lake Eden Arts Festival, Falcon Ridge Folk Festival and many others. In addition to touring extensively, they have taught at various music camps including Ashokan Fiddle & Dance, CDSS Pinewoods and the Augusta Heritage Center. Andrew is also the program director for the Ashokan Guitar Camp. They performed live on "A Prairie Home Companion" when they were in their teens. The brothers maintain their own independent label (Great Bear Records) and produce an annual music and dance festival in Oswego, NY called The Groove.

"... it all comes together with a lovely maturity and sophistication that seamlessly blends elements of jazz, whispers of

Scandinavia, breezy Irish melodies, spunky Cajun rhythms, and, yes, even some plaintive bluegrass. Andrew and Noah VanNorstrand are defi-

nately a force to be reckoned with in the acoustic music world." -JK, BLUEGRASS UNLIMITED, A Certain Tree album review

AU rally falls short at Salisbury, 24-21; Utica next

SALISBURY, MD--A fourth-quarter comeback came up just short as the Alfred University football team (4-2, 3-1 Empire 8)lost to host Salisbury, 24-21, Saturday afternoon in a battle of nationally-ranked Empire 8 Conference leaders.

Alfred trailed 24-7 midway through the fourth quarter before scoring touchdowns off consecutive Salisbury turnovers to pull within a field goal with 5:25 remaining. But the host Sea Gulls held onto the ball down the stretch, tallying a pair of first downs late before running out the clock.

The game lived up to its billing as a battle of defenses bent on stopping the run. Alfred came in averaging 220 yards per game rushing (second in the Empire 8 and 36th the country), while Salisbury was averaging 284 yards per game on the ground (tops in the conference and 11th in the nation). It was defense that won the day, however, as Salisbury and Alfred were limited to 273 and 260 yards of offense, respectively, including 187 on the ground for the host Sea Gulls and 110 for the Saxons.

Alfred led the turnover battle, forcing three Salisbury fumbles and scoring touchdowns off all three. Alfred turned the ball over only twice, but one miscue was costly, as the Sea Gull defense converted a first-quarter fumble into a score to take a 14-point lead.

Salisbury opened the scoring on its opening drive, marching 70 yards in nine plays and capping the drive with a touchdown 4:08 into the opening frame. After the teams exchanged punts, the Saxons fumbled the ball away on their second drive of the game, and Salisbury returned the ball 38 yards for the score to go up 14-0 lead with 2:26 left in the first.

Alfred cut the lead in half with 3:15 left in the opening half, when junior quarterback Zach Sopak (Falconer/Southwestern) connected with senior tight end Adam Schutz (Geneva) on a six-yard TD pass after Alfred forced a Salisbury fumble near mid-field.

After a scoreless third, Salisbury pushed its lead to 17 points, at 24-7, on a touchdown 2:31 into the fourth. AU punted on its first drive of the fourth and Salisbury looked to run some clock, but the Sea Gull quarterback fumbled at his own 35-yard line and five plays later, AU junior tailback Chuck Beckwith (Victor) scored from four yards out and Salisbury led, 24-14. After the ensuing kickoff, Salisbury ran two plays before Griffin again fumbling, this time at the Sea Gull 48. Seven plays later, Beckwith scored on a two-yard run on fourth down to make it 24-21.

The Saxons almost got the ball back on the Sea Gulls' next drive, but Salisbury recovered its fumble and eventually ran out the clock. Beckwith finished with 80 yards on 19 carries with two TDs and Sopak was 16-of-27 for 150 yards, a touchdown and an interception. Schutz caught a game-high five passes for 31 yards and a score, while freshman wide receiver Maleke Fuentes (Olean) and junior wideout Josh Phillips (Syracuse/West Genesee) each caught four passes for 39 yards.

Senior nose tackle Mike Raplee (Dundee) had 10 tackles, including one for loss and a sack, to lead the AU defense. Senior free safety Jon Jackson (East Amherst/Bishop Timon) and junior linebacker D.J. Welch (Avon) each had eight tackles. Senior end Chris Steeves (Rochester/Gates-Chili) had seven tackles (one sack), and sophomore linebacker J.R. Britton (Rochester/Greece Arcadia) had four tackles and a pair of fumble recoveries.

The Saxons will face an up-start Utica (5-2, 3-1 E8) squad Saturday, Oct. 27 with kickoff at 2 p.m. at Charles Gaetano Field on the campus of Utica College.

Last Week: L, 26-13, at Salisbury (10/20)

The Saxons were able to score a frenzy of goals, holding a distinct 24 to 11 shot advantage over Buff State, along with a four to two corner kick advantage. Senior forward Frankie Mannino (Elmira Free Academy) earned a hat trick with goals at the 5th minute, the 19th minute, and the 57th minute. Senior forward Eric Rockwood (Allegany-Limestone) netted two goals in the span of five minutes (76th, 81st minute), while junior forward Jeffery Thomas (Canandaigua) (1 assist) and freshman forward Nicholas Carey (Middletown/Minisink Valley) scored a goal apiece.

Alfred State College Sports Round-up

ASC women's soccer #1 seed

Women's Soccer: 16-1, 12-0 RIII DIII (Ranked #1 in National Poll)

The #1 ranked Lady Pioneers wrapped up the regular season with a 4-0 victory over Penn College. The blue & gold will be the #1 seed in this week's Region III Division III Tournament and will take on #9 Clinton CC in the semifinals on Tuesday, Oct. 23. Clinton defeated #8 seeded Onondaga CC 1-0 on Saturday in a 1st round contest.

The Lady Pioneers entered the game with a 16-1 record and a 12-0 mark in Region III Division III contest. Clinton is 8-5 on the year.

The winner of Tuesday's contest moves to the Region III Division III A Finals to be held on Saturday at Tompkins Cortland CC and will take on the winner of #4 Broome CC and #5 SUNY Delhi.

In the 4-0 win over Penn College, Hannah Holmok (Alfred Almond) rattled a shot of the cross bar and the goalies back to get the blue & gold on the board 12 minutes into the game. Taylor Dezio (Marion) and Kali Muhleisen (Alfred Almond) picked up assists. 24 seconds later Muhleisen scored after getting a pass from Keri Teufel (Sachem).

Just 50 seconds later Muhleisen found the back of the net again after getting another pass from Teufel. In the second half, Muhleisen completed her hat trick and scored her 30th goal of the season after getting a pass from Dezio with just over 40 minutes left in the contest. Krista DeCarlo (West Islip) and Kayla Scharet (Warsaw) combined on the shutout.

Football: 3-3

Four Alfred State turnovers in the 2nd half led to the Apprentice School breaking a halftime tie en route to a 35-21 victory over the Pioneers.

The Builders got on the board first when Rashawn Sims caught a five-yard pass from Paul Morgan with 3:31 remaining in the 1st half. Alfred wasted little time scoring two plays later when Joey Frendo (Fremont, MI) connected with Mikel DeMonte (Brockport) on a 79-yard scoring play. The PAT attempt bounced off the crossbar.

Frendo gave the Pioneers their first lead of the game with 11:01 remaining in the 2nd quarter when he hit Colton Caldwell (Dublin, OH) on a 46-yard pass play. The two-point attempt was unsuccessful. A minute and a half later Keegan Phalen (East Aurora) gave the Pioneers a 14-7 lead when he blocked a punt that was recovered in the end zone by Apprentice for a safety. Apprentice tied it up heading into half when Morgan found Sims on a 10-yard pass play with just 14 seconds left in the half.

After Alfred threw an interception on their first possession of the 2nd half (Alfred fumbled the opening kickoff of the 2nd half) Morgan scored his first of three rushing touchdowns from three-yards out. The Pioneers tied the game back up at 21-21 with 1:36 remaining when Frendo connected with Caldwell on a seven-yard scoring pass. On the ensuing drive, the Builders drove 57-yards on 10 plays to take the lead for good. Morgan rushed in from seven yards out to cap the drive. Morgan made it a two-TD lead four minutes later after a Pioneer fumble when he dove in from one-yard out. The Pioneers threatened to cut the lead but a final turnover crushed any comeback hopes.

Frendo finished the day 21 for 38 for 286 yards and three scores. DeMonte, who had caught three passes on the season, caught seven passes for 128 yards and a score to pace the receivers. Caldwell had four catches for 76 yards and two scores.

Thomas Daniels (Bronx/Institute for Collaborative Education) had a monster day with 13 tackles (4.5 for a loss) and a sack. Alonzo Joyner (Queens/Info Tech) also finished with 13 tackles while Carl Williams (Rochester/Greece Olympia) and Michael Gibson (Capital Heights, MD) each had nine. Phalen and Cody Bradbury (Norwich) each had sacks on the day.

The Pioneer offense was held to -1 yards rushing on 18 carries and turned the ball over a total of five times in the contest compared to Apprentice's one turnover.

Men's Soccer: 5-8-3, 4-6-2 RIII DIII

The blue & gold's season came to an end following the announcement of the Region III Division III Tournament. The Pioneers narrowly missed the final spot of the tourney.

Volleyball: 26-13, 14-4 RIII DIII

The Lady Pioneers were 3-2 this past week. They split a pair of home matches, 3-2 loss to Erie CC and a 3-0 win over Elmira JV, before finishing 2-1 at the WNYAC Tournament. At the WNYAC's, Alfred defeated Mercyhurst NE 3-0 and Genesee CC 3-2 but fell 3-1 to Niagara CCC.

Mallory Eberhardt (Lyons) had a solid overall week finishing with 45 digs, 21 kills, and 12 aces while Rebecca Hanrahan (Greene) had 25 kills, 16 aces, and 17 digs. Jessica Ramsey (Tioga) had 58 kills, Mercedes Bossard (Hornell) had 79 assists, and Kay Pfleghardt (Tioga) had a team-high 37 kills.

The Lady Pioneers are the #4 seed for this weekend's Region III Tournament. They will play #5 Jefferson CC, the winner of the #8 Onondaga CC/#9 Corning CC 1st round contest, and #1 Niagara CCC on Saturday in pool play. The top two teams advance to the semifinals on Sunday.

Cross Country: Women ranked #3, Men ranked #5 in National Poll

The Pioneers had the weekend off but return to action this weekend when they travel to Utica for the Region III Championship.

Muhleisen National Player of the Week

Alfred State women's soccer player Kali Muhleisen (Alfred Almond) picked up her third honor last week. She was named the NJCAA DIII soccer player of the week.

Muhleisen netted six goals and passed out one assist in the Lady Pioneers three victories last week. She had both goals in the team's 2-1 victory over Finger Lakes CC, ranked #2 in the country, at the time, she scored a goal in the Lady Pioneers 3-0 win at Bryant & Stratton, and netted three goals and passed out an assist in a 8-0 win over Roberts Wesleyan JV.

On the season, Muhleisen leads the team and is tied for 2nd in the NJCAA DIII with 27 goals. Earlier in the week, Muhleisen was named the Region III athlete of the week and the Alfred State athlete of the week.

JACKSON PICK--Alfred University defensive back Jon Jackson (#1) makes the first of two interceptions in the Saxons' 26-13 win over St. John Fisher Oct. 13 at Merrill Field. Linebacker D.J. Welch (#7) of Avon was also in on the play. Welch finished the game with 8 tackles, assisting on a tackle for loss. Jackson and Welch each have 42 tackles on the season for the Saxons (4-2), who travel to Utica for a 2 p.m. kickoff Saturday, Oct. 27. (PhotosbyLAN.com)

Alfred As It Was

Remembering Alfred of Years Gone By

By DONALD POLAN

In the summer of July 1935 there was a rain storm for about three days with a total rainfall of about 6 or 7 inches. The result was the "Big Alfred Flood."

The creek could not retain the water volume at the south end of the village with water flowing down South Main Street where the branch from Randolph Road (Milk Can Road as it was called by the kids) joined the branch coming from farther up Jericho. The culvert was partially blocked, diverting the water to the road as well as the water going down the creek bed. Some houses on South Main Street were surrounded by water, in front as well as at the rear.

The bridge on Terrace Street was partially blocked by fallen tree limbs and a few trees which had collapsed into the creek bed farther up Jericho Hill. The result was water was flowing over the bridge, running down South Main Street 5 or 6 inches deep inside the curbing.

Excess water went into Seidlin's garage, pushing in the car entry door and buckling the side wall and the rear wall as well as flooding our back yard up to the foundation of our garage, washing out the top soil and leaving behind rocks 12 to 14 inches in greatest dimensions.

The water flooded the Carnegie Library basement, damaging the offices and library storage areas, leaving behind three feet of muddy water and mud. The concrete pond and surrounding metal rail (Prexy's Pool) were covered with mud as the water receded. Prexie's Pool had contained flower boxes with water lilies and gold fish prior to the flooding.

Just above the football field, the two major branches of the Kanakadea joined at Pine Street. The water flooded the football field, washing away all the top soil, shifting the "Field House" off its foundation and leaving huge rocks strewn across the field. This also flooded the area now called Tucker's Field. The field surface was ruined and it was a few years before the field had a decent surface again.

Even the little brook draining the area from Glen Street did great damage to the Robinson house foundation and front yard when the water went over its normal boundaries. A lot of water passed through Tinkertown, but did relatively little damage, though Alfred Station had some damage to the buildings there.

HITS AND MISSES:

Starting off this week with women's soccer at Alfred State College as Coach Anne (Gaisser) Holmok's squad is now ranked #1 in the NJCAA Division III poll, the Lady Pioneers are 16-1 with 16-straight wins, they wrapped up their regular season with a 4-0 win over somebody named Penn College of Technology and now are in the Region III playoffs as the #1 seed. Holmok's (A-A) program will host #8 Clinton CC this week and the winner of that contest heads to Tompkins-Cortland CC on Saturday for the finals. Alfred has been paced in scoring all season by Kali Muhleisen (A-A) as they shoot for a berth in the national tournament.

It is high school sectional time for the fall sports as soccer gets underway this week. The Alfred-Almond boys secured the #3 seed in the D1 bracket with a (12-4) slate and will take on #6 Scio (9-4-3) to start things off for the Eagles. Fillmore (15-1) is the top-seeded school and Genesee Valley (13-3) is in the second-slot. The Eagles of A-A will most likely have to get by those two teams, semi's and finals, to grab another sectional trophy. The Andover Panthers are seeded sixth in D2 and take on Belfast in their first action.

The Alfred-Almond girls soccer squad was one of four schools to receive a first-round bye as they came in with the #4 seed at 9-6-1 in the "DD" bracket. Arkport (15-1) ... surprise, surprise! is the top-seed, Genesee Valley is #2 with the girls as well and J-T is in the third spot. The GV and J-T girls each had (12-4) marks. Andover landed a #2 seed in D action.

Coach Kristy Sherman's (Arkport) girls soccer team stumbled down-the-stretch to complete an (8-8) regular season campaign as the Brockport Blue Devils will be seeded #8 in "AA" play. Brockport will host #9 Greece Athena to begin sectional play. Athena just beat the Blue Devils on Friday past, 5-2. Injuries have plagued the Blue Devils this year. Coach Kent Brown's Webster Schroeder (7-6-3) team secured the #6 seed in "AA" play.

Stephen Baker and his UPenn men's soccer team dropped a 2-1 decision to Yale to fall to (2-11) on the year. Baker tallied the first goal of the game with a PK and the loss marked the first time the Quakers have dropped a game when Baker scored in that contest! Prior to the Yale game, UPenn was 12-0-0 when the McQuaid graduate found the back of the net in his three-years of college soccer.

Haley Marks (Penfield) and Jess Herbst (Webster) each scored goals last week for their Vermont Catamounts women's soccer team as the regular season came to a close. Marks tallied in a 2-0 win over Hartford while Herbst had the lone score for her team in a 2-1 loss to Binghamton ... on Senior Day! The Catamounts will host UAlbany in America East playoff action this week. The winner of that game gets #1-seeded Hartford. UVM is (4-12-1) on the year.

Christy Kaznowski and her Western Carolina Catamounts women's soccer squad dropped a, 3-2 decision to the College of Charleston over the weekend in OT. Her Catamounts squad is now (6-9-2) on the season.

The SUNY Geneseo women's soccer team split a pair of home, SUNYAC games over the weekend. Plattsburg beat Geneseo, 3-1 as Katie Beale (Penfield) scored for the Knights. On Saturday ... Senior Day, Geneseo drubbed Potsdam, 7-0. Vermont transfers Bethany Kwarta and Shannon Spusta each scored for the winners. Coach Wiley's squad has a final game this Wednesday versus Elmira.

It was a tough, road loss for the Alfred Saxons (4-2) in Division III football action as Salisbury nipped Coach Dave Murray's team, 24-21. Alfred was down 14-0 in the opening stanza, battled back, but couldn't overtake the host Sea Gulls who basically wrapped up the E8 title and an NCAA berth. Alfred University has games left versus Utica, Frostburg State and Hartwick which should take them to (7-2) and land them an ECAC Bowl game. Guessing the Pioneers of Utica this Saturday will be the toughest opponent of those three left.

In other D3 football action, it was: SJ Fisher stopping Ithaca, Hobart staying undefeated with a lopsided win over RPI, Brockport blasting WConn, Union beating UR, Buffalo State over Frostburg and Cortland nipping a tough Rowan team, 24-21. Don't understand why the Red Dragons weren't ranked heading into this game? They are now (5-1) on the year. Hobart stands at (7-0) with Union looming. Wisconsin-Whitewater lost again!

The Hornell Red Raiders continue to roll along their merry way in high school football as they drilled Wayland-Cohocton, 41-13 in sectional "C" action. The Red Raiders (8-0) next face Attica and then will probably tangle with LeRoy for the sectional championship.

"Congrats" ... once again!, to Alfred-Almond junior Meghan DioGuardi as she won her fifth-straight "C" tennis title last weekend with a 6-0, 6-1 win over Emily Gilfert of Wellsville. The 2011 AGR Player of the Year will now head to the state qualifier this weekend in Rochester (Mendon).

Ground broken for McLane Annex

ALFRED--Alfred University officially broke ground Oct. 11 for an addition to its physical education facilities that will “contribute in a very significant way to the health and wellness of our students and our neighbors,” said Peter Cuneo, chairman of the Alfred University Board of Trustees.

The McLane Center Annex is the centerpiece of a $14.5 million capital campaign, “Score One for AU,” the first major effort to raise funds for athletics and recreational facilities at the University in 40 years.

Alfred University President Charles M. Edmondson praised the efforts of his predecessor, Edward G. Coll, Jr., and former State Sen. J.R. “Randy” Kuhl for initially securing the $8 million in NYS funds to support the project. Their vision, said Edmondson, was to create something that would benefit both the campus and the community, and the McLane Center Annex will do that.

The addition, at the north end of McLane Physical Education Center, will house an indoor four-lane track and three basketball courts; men’s and women’s locker rooms; storage areas, and an elevator leading to the street level entrance of McLane. The 33,000 square foot facility – located off the north end of the McLane Center--will include an indoor track, an all-purpose court, two locker rooms with restroom facilities. A support wing located on the west end of the annex will house a multi-purpose room for community-oriented activities like yoga, Zumba and martial arts, along with an office and some room for storage.

An elevator will run from the ground level of the main annex area to the support wing to the second floor. The new facility will connect to the main McLane Center building via the football office annex.

The new facility is slated for completion by September 2014. Paul Vecchio, AU athletics director, pointed to the benefits the Annex will provide not only to the University population, but the Alfred community as a whole.

“Most significant is the impact this will make on the AU student body at large who will now have access to an enormous amount of indoor space for recreation, intramurals and club sports,” Vecchio commented. “In addition, our AU faculty and staff will now have an indoor venue on campus, when paired with the Gibbs Fitness Center in McLane, which can truly bring health and wellness into focus for 12 months a year in the village of Alfred.”

University officials stress the facility will be open to the public, providing a facility that can host activities aimed at promoting health and fitness. It will also provide a training facility for the Saxon track teams and the courts will help accommodate the University’s intramural programs.

Backing up to our recent weekend in Lake George, 3L and I traveled on alot of the roads that she did just two-weeks prior as part of the Ragnar Adirondacks Race. One of the "stops" was just outside Lake George.

Daughter Lauren has a busy Sunday on tap this week. In the morning she is running in a 5K race in NYC and then heading over to the Dolphins-Jets game at the Meadowlands. Believe it'll be the first NFL game live for the Miami fan.

Milko (SUNY Geneseo) will be the Development Coordinator in the Athletic Department at the University of Maryland ... and hopefully able to secure Duke basketball tickets for 3L and myself!

The SF Giants forced a deciding 7th-game in the NLCS against St. Louis with the winner (of course) facing Detroit in the World Series. The Tigers eliminated the woeful Yankees, 4-0. Never seen such terrible at-bats for the Yanks. Amazing. Mark O'Meara ... still a Giants fan?

A "recovering" Audrey Connell celebrates birthday #94 this week !!!
