Patriot Guard Riders escort Wally to Sunday's funeral

ALFRED—More than 60 Patriot Guard Riders escorted the remains of Wallace C. "Wally" Higgins from Wellsville to Alfred for Sunday's memorial service at the Union University Church.

Higgins, the Kendall native who was a Tuskegee Airman during World War II, following the war enrolled at Alfred University where he met the love of his life, Norma Miller. They were married in August 1951 and soon thereafter settled in Alfred, as Wally became first a technical specialist at the NYS College of Ceramics at Alfred University, then an associate professor of ceramic design, retiring in 1985.

A selfless kind-hearted servant, Wally became a pillar in the Alfred community. He was a 50+ year member and four-time president of the Alfred Lions Club, life member of the Alfred Station Volunteer Fire Department, past president of the Allegany County Senior Foundation, a longtime member of the Baker's Bridge Historical Association and 64-year member of the Union University Church.

ALFRED STATE BUILDING TRADES

Students restore historic cabins in the South

ALFRED—In the early morning hours on the day before classes were to begin for the fall

2018 semester, 13 Alfred State College building trades: building construction students, along with their instructor, Dan Drake, set out for a field trip like no other.

Their destination: Land Between the Lakes National Recreation Area, located on the border of Tennessee and Kentucky. Drake and his students traveled to participate in a restoration project at The Homeplace 1850s Working Farm and Living History Museum. While on site, students worked to restore historic cabins on the farm, with much of the work involving replacing wood-shingled roofs and log restoration.

Students participating in the project include: Martin Buchinsky, of Binghamton; Tyler Caton, of Nunda; Kevin Connelly, of Brockport; Parker Czerniak, of Colden; Michael James, of Akron; Ronald Jones, of Tonawanda; Nicholas Lane, of Waterloo; Brandon Miller, of Kendall; Michael Pazik, of Wilson; Joshua Schamberger, of Buffalo; Jesse Tinker, of Horseheads; Dylan Utz, of Buffalo; and Zachary Wheeler, of Buffalo.

The job was managed by HistoriCorps, a nonprofit organization that helps mobilize volunteers to participate in restoration projects on public lands across the nation. Alfred State's connection with HistoriCorps began last fall when building construction students worked on a similar project in Allegany State Park.

"Last year's project was a great experience for everyone involved. Our students learned a lot about restoration and teamwork, and HistoriCorps personnel were able to learn about our program and the type of education Alfred State offers. On a departmental level, we determined that HistoriCorps could be a valuable partner in the education of our students," said Jack Jones, chair of Alfred State's Building Trades Department. "We really value opportunities to get students out of the traditional classroom environment, especially when they can use their developing skills to make a difference in the world around them. This year we wanted to take that to the next level."

While on site, workers slept in living quarters provided by the park. HistoriCorps provided lo-

Is This False Advertising, Or Is The Product Really This Bad?

(Before I write this poem I have something that is interesting to say.)
(Oh, wait: did I just tacitly admit that all my poems are cliché?)
(I know what you've been thinking: "We ignore him long enough, he'll go away.")

(But how did I get stuck now writing everything I'm saying, in parentheses?!)
(It must be that I'm worried that you otherwise would miss important emphases.)
(But really it's more likely that it's prob'ly cuz I'm coming down with tenth disease.)

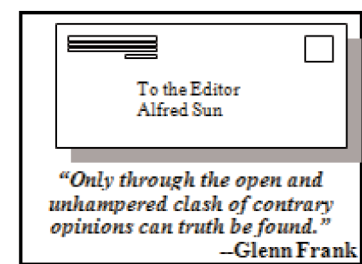

(Which is just the same as fifth disease, except the fact it's not like it at all.)
(You get it when the calendar says summer but the weather says it's fall.)
(Or A. Certain Mouse's pen has literally hit a figurative wall.)

(So it therefore must be due to sundry ills both psychological and medical.)
(Maladies both physical and mental, whether real or hypothetical.)
(Which have skewed me to an alternate reality where I'm just parenthetical.)

(And now that I've gone this far, I've forgotten what the poem was concerning.)
(Which is prob'ly just as well, cuz it'd only have made sense to "the discerning".)
(Yeah—they'd see to show a full appreciation of the thing requires burning.)

Last minute letters regarding today's Republican Primary

Whitney professional

To the Editor:

I am a Chaplain for the Allegany County Sheriff's Office and for several years I have had the opportunity to meet with and converse with Sheriff Whitney at our monthly meetings, as well as at the Triad meetings. I appreciate the open door he gives us, and that he sees the value of the Chaplain's program.

I have always found him to be professional, yet at the same time personable. He is a conscientious person, and has been since our high school days at Angelica..

I believe he serves the department and our county very well, providing competent leadership. He and Undersheriff Monroe work very well together and make a great team. I respect and appreciate them both very much.

Sincerely,
David Ford

Mackney by far finest

Dear citizens of Allegany County:

I spent 29 years in the New York State Police. I lived and worked in western New York for 17 of those years. As I rose through the ranks of the state police to become the Interim Superintendent of the State Police with the rank of Brigadier General; I never met a police officer with greater integrity, a higher work ethic, or superior level of professionalism than Walter Mackney. I wholeheartedly endorse him for Sheriff of Allegany County.

I have known Walter Mackney for more than 36 years. We first worked together when I was a trooper out of SP Wellsville, and he was a Cuba Police department officer. We quickly became law enforcement colleagues. He then joined the New York State Police, which has one of the most rigorous entry-level screening processes of any law enforcement agencies in the nation. he then rose through the ranks to become a Senior Investigator; a grade few Troopers make but many covet.

As the Commander of the Southern Tier Drug Task Force, Walter led major narcotics investigations to rid Allegany of notorious drug traffickers and the poison they spread. He solved many major cases including homicides and other violent offenses through his dogged determination and superb investigative abilities.

I have traveled across this country and internationally; in my travels, I have met many outstanding police professionals. Walter Mackney by far is among the finest, so my endorsement comes easily. He has dedicated his life to serving the people of Allegany County. He will be an outstanding sheriff.

I trust Walter with my life. I know you will not find a better sheriff.

Sincerely,
Pedro Perez

First Deputy Superintendent
(Ret) New York State Police

Whitney dedicated

To the citizens of Allegany County:

Working as Public Defender, District Attorney and Allegany County Court Judge, I have known and worked with Sheriff Rick Whitney for over 35 years. I have seen Sheriff Whitney work tirelessly in our community as Chief of Police in Bolivar and even more so as Allegany County Sheriff. He is a respected member of the law enforcement community and works to ensure public safety by strengthening relationships with local, state and federal law enforcement agencies. Sheriff Whitney also works and partners with other local agencies to strengthen our community and ensure that Allegany County's future is a bright one.

In my many years of working with the law enforcement community in Allegany County, there are few more dedicated to this profession than Sheriff Rick Whitney. His character and presence is what Allegany County needs as its top law enforcement executive. Character matters and the people one surrounds themselves with also matter. Sheriff Rick Whitney not only speaks to what is right but acts that way as well. He has been an active member in our community and will continue to be a positive influence in our county moving forward. Rick takes on responsibility when he need not and expects that people in his orbit do so as well. He does this by leading by example and employing his more than four decades of civil and community service in Allegany County.

Sheriff Whitney has achieved many accomplishments in the past 43 years, including successful completion of the FBI National Academy, being awarded the Medal of Honor by the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police and is currently Sergeant at Arms for the New York State Sheriff's Association. He has received numerous local awards and recognition for his continued community service from organizations like SCOPE and Lions Club International. As Sheriff, he has maintained the jail accreditation, facilitated the expansion and updating of the 911 facility and encouraged command staff to expand their certifications. he has maintained federal contracts that generate just over two million dollars annually, and has delivered to the citizens of Allegany County, an office that over performs while it is continually under budget, a budget that is set by the county legislature.

Sheriff Whitney has a dedication to law enforcement and to this community like none other. If experience matters, then his dedication to our community is eclipsed by no one. I am happy to sign my name to this endorsement for Sheriff Rick Whitney. I am viting for Sheriff Whitney and I ask that you do also.

Hon. James E. Euken

Dear Alfred University students, staff, faculty and members of the Alfred Community:

Over the past year, we have taken the thoughtful input that you have provided regarding what makes our University the special place that it is, and we have been working with the marketing agency Creative Communication Associates (CCA) to refine your insights into a powerful brand concept for Alfred University.

Thanks to the ongoing support of our Trustees and other key alums/friends and their philanthropic investment in our Strategic Investment Fund, we are now ready to launch a compelling and broad-based marketing campaign that will boldly and proudly communicate what makes our University the extraordinary place that it is.

With this in mind, please join us for our Outside of Ordinary launch party on Friday, September 14, from 2-3:30 p.m. We will start with a presentation in Harder Hall from 2-3 p.m., followed by a celebration outside on Allen Way from 3-3:30 p.m., with food and refreshments to be provided as well as keepsakes from the occasion.

Please remember that the launch party will be on a #SaxonFriday, so wear your purple and gold with pride on that day.

For faculty and staff, our administrative team will be working to ensure that as many of us as possible can be there for the launch party.

We look forward to having you with us for the occasion so that you can see how your input and your actions define our University's unique and impactful brand.

U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT

Alfred State one of ‘best public colleges’ in North region

ALFRED—The 2019 US News & World Report Best Colleges rankings show Alfred State College (ASC) coming in at No. 5 on the Top Public Schools list for Northern Regional Colleges. ASC is also a stellar No. 1 among SUNY regional colleges. When compared against all 94 public and private regional colleges in the 11-state northern region, Alfred State ranks No. 12, up two spots from last year.

“The entire campus should be proud of our success because this prestigious ranking is thanks to the dedication of our faculty, skills of our staff, and accomplishments of our students,” said Alfred State President Dr. Skip Sullivan. “Prospective students are looking for a college offering majors that are in-demand in the workplace. The next criteria is when many parents and students narrow their choices to in-state public schools for the best value. The 2019 report from US News clearly shows that Alfred State is number one among their choices.”

This is the 12th straight year for Alfred State to be highly ranked by the publication. The US News definition of a regional college is one that focuses on undergraduate education with less than 50 percent of the degrees in liberal arts disciplines. This makes for a more career-ready graduate. The respected Carnegie Classification lists a massive number of 729 such colleges offering bachelor’s and/or associate degrees. In the north, US News is very selective in only awarding a numeric ranking to 47 of these regional colleges for the 2019 list.

Other Northern Regional College honors for Alfred State:

- No. 1 public college for Best Value Schools.

- No. 7 Best Value School among both public and private.

- No. 3 among public schools for Best Colleges for Veterans.

- No. 6 Best Colleges for Veterans for both public and private.

- No. 1 for right-sized northern colleges with enrollment from 2,000 – 5,000.

- No. 2 for all northern public colleges with enrollment greater than 2,000.

- No. 7 among public schools for Best Retention Rate.

US News & World Report’s Best Colleges list is one of the most sought-after rankings among colleges and universities across the nation. The rankings include data on more than 1,800 colleges, with schools ranked on up to 15 areas related to academic excellence.

Alfred State is pumped to be named the No. 1 SUNY regional college.

OBITUARIES

Roberta G. Frost, 73, secretary

ROBERTA G. FROST
Hallmark Channel fan

DUNDEE—Roberta G. Frost, 73, of Waneta Lake, passed away Monday, Sept. 10, 2018 at home following a brief illness, surrounded by family.

Mrs. Frost was born on Oct. 9, 1944 in Wellsville to Robert L. and Grace M. (Smith) Black. She was a 1962 graduate of Scio Central School. On June 20, 1964 at the Church of Christ in Scio, she married Robert E. Frost, who survives.

Roberta worked as a secretary for Air Preheater in Wellsville for over 30 years until her retirement in 2011. She previously worked as a bank teller at First Trust Union Bank in Wellsville.

In addition to her husband of 54 years, Roberta is survived by three daughters, Deborah K. (Bob) Bowers and Michele L. (Tim) Brown, both of Andover and Kimberly J. (Victor) Matacale of Greenwood; one son, Donald J. (Peggy) Frost of Andover; one brother, Robert E. (Joanne) Black of Andover; his Uncle Richard Black of Wellsville; 11 grandchildren, Aimee L. (Bryan) Dodge, Daniel (Brittney) Bowers, Rebecca Bowers, Craig Billings, Missy (Jake) Reihle, Katie Johnson, Brandon Brown, Kristen Brown, Blake Matacale, Brooke Matacale and Bethany Matacale; 8 great grandchildren, Colin Dodge, Trixie Bowers, Grace Bowers, Corbin Billings, Molly Billings, Abigail Reihle, Zac Johnson and Zoey Johnson; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

She was predeceased by a brother David Black, an infant brother Daniel Black and an infant sister, Madeline Black.

Roberta enjoyed life on Waneta Lake where she and Bob lived for many years and would often go for a boat ride on the lake. Her children and grandchildren’s favorite memories are the two weeks of vacationing every year at the lake. Roberta cherished the time spent with her grandchildren, great grandchildren, and the “Lake family.”

Roberta also liked to cook and entertain company, be it family or friends. There was always a big family feast at the holidays, with Mom at the controls. As a young girl, Roberta was active in Girl Scouts and no doubt many of the skills learned there were a great help as she managed the affairs of her family. Oh, and Roberta was a huge fan of the Hallmark Channel and the many reruns everyone had to endure.

Visitation will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14 and 10 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday, Sept. 15 at Baker-Swan Funeral Home in Andover. The memorial service will be held on Saturday at noon at the funeral home immediately following the visitation with Rev. Calvin Densmore of the First Baptist Church of Andover officiating. Online condolences may be offered at www.baker-swan.com.

Memorial contributions in Roberta’s name may be made to the Andover Volunteer Fire Department, PO Box 714, Andover, NY 14806 or to the Andover Rescue Squad, PO Box 726, Andover, NY 14806.

gistical structure and meals, but students helped out with some of the meal preparation and cleanup. During downtime, students were able to enjoy life on the 1850s farm and swim in a nearby lake.

This trip is one of two HistoriCorps projects that are scheduled for the fall semester. In late September, Building Trades Instructor Brady Adams will depart with four more building construction students to Malakoff Diggins State Park in California.

“These projects are intended to supplement regular instruction for students and offer them the chance to do some things that they would not do on campus,” said Jones. “Aside from good hands-on experience, they are learning valuable life skills and making great memories while living together on the job site.”

Drake noted that once the group arrived at Homeplace, he immediately realized how important the project would be to all parties involved.

“It helped HistoriCorps in giving them a major boost in meeting their contract with Homeplace, and most importantly, it helped Alfred State College in training 13 students on the importance of civic engagement,” he said. “I was so proud of these 13 students! In hot and humid conditions, they were relentless on working hard to complete these three structures, but most of all, they had some of the greatest memories on this trip that they will laugh about throughout the whole year. I was very proud to be their instructor and look forward to a great semester with this group.”

AU PERFORMING ARTS

PUBLIQuartet offers free concert Friday, Sept. 14

ALFRED-PUBLIQuartet, a group dedicated to presenting new works for string quartet, is on the Alfred University campus this week for a three-day residency Sept. 12-14.

Lauded by the Washington Post "a perfect encapsulation of today's trends in chamber music," and by The New Yorker as "independent-minded," PUBLIQuartet's creative programming lends a fresh perspective to the Classical music scene.

During its residency, PUBLIQuartet is working with members of the Alfred University Orchestra and Saxon String Quartet, providing insights into techniques for orchestral string section playing and chamber music techniques through workshops and classes.

The group will give a Bergren Forum on Thursday, Sept. 13, at 12:10 p.m. in Nevins Theater, with the residency culminating in a free public performance on Friday, Sept. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in Miller Theater.

Dedicated to presenting new works for string quartet, PUBLIQuartet was selected as Concert Artists Guild's New Music/New Places Ensemble at the 2013 CAG Competition, and then garnered Chamber Music America's 2015 ASCAP Adventurous Programming Award for outstanding and innovative approaches to contemporary classical, jazz, and world chamber music.

PUBLIQuartet's commitment to support emerging composers inspired their innovative program, PUBLIQ Access, designed in 2014 to promote emerging composers and to present a wide variety of under-represented music for string quartet—from classical, jazz and electronic, to non-notated, world and improvised music.

MostArts Musicians Amanda Gookin and Curtis Stewart return to Alfred University with the PUBLIQuartet: Music Residency and Performing this week, Sept. 12-14. Don't miss their Bergren Form at noon on Thursday in Nevins followed by a 7:30 p.m. concert Friday, Sept. 14 in Miller Theater. All events are free and open to the public.

WALKER METALSMITHS IN ANDOVER

Fifty years of local Celtic art to be exhibited

ANDOVER—An exhibit in Andover from Sept. 21-29 will display locally produced Celtic art and design from the past fifty years.

"We were Celtic before Celtic was cool!" says William "Scotty" MacCrea of Alfred. Mr. MacCrea was the art teacher at Andover Central School from 1958-1990. His influence is responsible for introducing several generations of students to Celtic art. Some of his students have pursued professional careers as artists but hundreds of his students gained an understanding and appreciation of Celtic art from his classes.

Since the 1980s there has been a worldwide Renaissance of Celtic art and design. In recent decades, the style, with its roots in the medieval and ancient traditions of Scot and Ireland has become mainstream in the fields of jewelry, tattoo art, monumental art, clothing and other applications. But in the 1960s and 70s a local tradition was already emerging in rural Andover.

Dick Lang was in third grade when MacCrea started teaching in 1958. He recalls the teacher carving on wooden components of his elaborate "assemblage" sculptures during class. Lang went on to study ceramic art at Alfred University and has had a lifelong career as a ceramic artist. A Celtic design plate he made in 1968 as a freshman will be on display at the exhibit.

Steve Walker is hosting the exhibit at his workshop on Main Street. When asked how he became interested in Celtic art his answer is "bagpipes." Walker, originally from Syracuse, was from a Scottish and Irish family. His family moved to Andover in 1969 while he was in 6th grade. Walker learned to play bagpipes and began to make Celtic jewelry originally as regalia for the bagpipe band. Walker's Celtic jewelry has been a full time business in Andover since 1984.

"Outsiders are often puzzled about why my business is in Andover," Walker says, "As I was explaining it this summer I realized that it had been fifty years. In fact the opening reception for this exhibit is on the 50th anniversary of the day I met Mr. MacCrea."

Several of MacCrea's sculpture will be displayed along with work by his son Kevin, daughter in-law Debora and grandsons Colin and Alex. Andover Alumni featured include Dick and John Lang, Jerry Brown, Greg Hardy, Eric MacMichael, Terry Scott, Sean Hyland and Steve Walker.

Other artists featured are Jennifer Slocum, John McHenry, Roxanne Friend, Lyndsay Burr, Lindsey Thurber and Shelby Sullivan.

Greg Hardy is the curator of the exhibit. An avid art student in his school days, Hardy has been creating fine handmade pens in recent years. Some of his pen designs incorporate silver Celtic elements that are created in collaboration with Walker.

Celtic art over the past 2000 years has undergone a number of revivals and renewals. The characteristic style, which includes interlaced designs, spirals and abstract geometrical and animal symbols and motifs, has become emblematic of the Scots, Irish and other peoples of Celtic ethnic heritage. Steve Walker has made a career crafting Celtic jewelry. His studio in Andover has found a national audience.

An opening reception is planned for 4 to 7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 21. Many of the artists expect to be present. The exhibit will be at 1 Main Street, at the workshop and former showroom of Walker Metalsmiths.

Richard Lang and Steve Walker, both Alumni of Andover Central School, with a ceramic plate crafted by Lang in 1968. This and other examples of locally produced Celtic Art will be exhibited in Andover from Sept. 21-29.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY

NYFA exhibition at Fosdick-Nelson marks 30 years of fellows

ALFRED—Alfred University's Fosdick-Nelson Gallery is hosting an upcoming exhibition sponsored by the New York Foundation for the Arts commemorating three decades of New York State Council on the Arts/New York Foundation for the Arts fellowship program. The landmark traveling exhibition, Artists as Innovators: Celebrating Three Decades of New York State Council on the Arts/New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowships, will be shown in the Fosdick-Nelson Gallery in two installments, beginning Sept. 14.

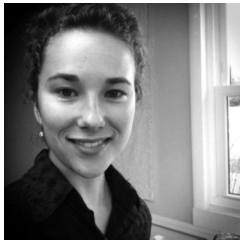

The NYSCA/NYFA Artist Fellowship program has supported more than 4,000 artists in various fields in the visual arts, literature, and performing arts at critical stages throughout their careers. The artists in the exhibition are acclaimed and respected around the world, but what is less known is that they all received support from NYSCA/NYFA Artist Fellowships at crucial points in their careers. Curated by Judith K. Brodsky and David C. Terry with the assistance of Madeline Scholl, Artists as Innovators: Celebrating Three Decades of New York State Council on the Arts/New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowships will feature work by more than 20 NYSCA/NYFA Artist Fellows who have gone on to record significant achievements in their artistic careers. The works on display will show how the fellows have addressed pressing and often controversial issues through their art, including racism, gender equality, sexual orientation, immigration, and globalization.

The Fosdick-Nelson Gallery will present Artists as Innovators in two installments. Part One opens Sept. 14 and will run through Oct. 19, featuring: Ida Applebroog, Dawoud Bey, Sanford Biggers, Tara Donovan, Carroll Dunham, Marilyn Minter, Tony Oursler, Faith Ringgold, Martha Rosler, Dread Scott, Andres Serrano, Carmelita Tropicana, and Fred Wilson. Part Two will open Nov. 2 run through Dec. 4, featuring: Elia Alba, Ross Bleckner, Wendell Castle, Chitra Ganesh, The Guerrilla Girls, Barbara Kruger, Christian Marclay, Lori Nix, and Shinique Smith. Exhibition highlights include The Guerrilla Girls' "How Women Get Maximum Exposure in Art Museum," perhaps one of the most recognizable works of the feminist art canon. The feminist art perspective is further explored through the works of Ida Applebroog and Chitra Ganesh; both Applebroog's "Winnie's Pooh" and several works by Ganesh reference mainstream imagery in surprising, sometimes disturbing ways that highlight alternate articulations of femininity to the broader public. Other featured works include stills from Dread Scott's "Money to Burn" performance on Wall Street, a transgressive act that questioned one of the foundations of the international economy. By burning one bill at a time and encouraging others to follow, Scott made physical what happens on stock markets around the globe every day.

Artists as Innovators will be celebrated with a public reception on Sept. 14 from 7-9 p.m. at the Fosdick-Nelson Gallery. Future stops include Marion Art Gallery, SUNY Fredonia; Burke Gallery, SUNY Plattsburgh; Paul W. Zuccaire Gallery, Stony Brook University; and Center for the Arts, Westchester Community College.

Fellows from Alfred University's School of Art and Design include: Peer Bode, Video 1986/2002; Xiaowen Chen, Printmaking/Drawing/Artists' Books 2003; Anne Currier, Crafts 1988/1993/1997; Andrew Deutsch, Video 1998; Sarah Ferguson, Printmaking/Drawing Artists' Books 2005; John Gill, Crafts 1988; Andrea Gill, Crafts 1998/1993/1997; Tony Hepburn, Crafts 1986/1990; Wayne Higby, Crafts 1995; Tom Lacagnina, Crafts 1995; Barbara Lattanzi, Video 1998; Mary Lum, Painting 1987; Sharon McConnell, Sculpture 2003; Walter McConnell, Sculpture 2001, Crafts 2005, Sculpture/Crafts 2014; Brian Oglesbee, Photography 1986/2004; Kevin Wixted, Painting 1998; and John Wood Printmaking/Drawing/Artists' Books, 1990.

NYSCA/NYFA Artist Fellowships are administered with leadership support from New York State Council on the Arts with the support of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo and the New York State Legislature. Funding for Artists as Innovators: Celebrating Three Decades of New York State Council on the Arts/New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowships is provided in part by the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) with shipping support from Atelier 4.

Building a Thriving Lifestyle: Recreation

Recreation is the next building block of a thriving lifestyle. In some ways, it may seem to overlap with our study of rest, and in other ways it is rather the opposite of "ceasing from motion." Therefore, today we will define recreation in comparison to rest as well as the common practice of entertainment. Additionally, we will look at the health benefits that come with the "package" of recreation. Recreation is derived from the Latin word recreare: re (again) and creare (make or beget). It is anything fun that renews or revitalizes us--typically it involves social or outdoor activity. Your line of work and interests will greatly determine your choice of recreation. If you have a desk job, then going for hikes will likely be renewing. However, if you have a more physically demanding job, you may want to divert to an activity that is more social or strategic.

If the practice of recreation is new to your lifestyle, the following reflection may help you discover where to start: Ask yourself, "What activity is exciting and enjoyable? It doesn't drain me (although it may challenge me physically), but leaves me feeling more alive because it suits my personality and interests?"

You may have noticed from the definition above that while our recreation may be "restful" and may overlap with proper rest, it should not fully replace rest. Remember, I defined rest according to 3 categories: work-life balance, sleep, and fasting. Thus, recreation and rest may overlap in the "work-life balance" category, but is quite separate from sleep and fasting. We need to intentionally include both, recreation and rest, in our lifestyle.

To many, recreation could also be confused with entertainment. Entertainment is from the Latin word intertenere: intere (among or across) and tenere (hold or keep). It is in essence the activities which hold our attention--typically it involves us watching or listening rather than engaging in something. A performance, show, or game are all examples of entertainment, whether they are in person or on TV. It is true that these may have "refreshing" elements to them, however, they have not been shown to produce the same health benefits of recreation as defined above.

The degree of health benefits received from recreation will vary depending upon the chosen activity. Studies show that participating in various forms of recreation result in three benefits: improved psychological health, the creation of social support, as well as restored/enhanced physical health. [1][2] While entertainment can be both educational and fun, studies reveal that when it takes away from our recreational time, it results in lower life satisfaction. [3] For example, if we are less active and more isolated when watching TV, we will particularly miss out on the physical and social health cultivated through recreation, such as taking a walk with friends.

Balance is definitely the key to successfully incorporate these areas of rest and recreation into our lives. If we focus too much on recreation, at the neglect of rest, we will become burnt out. Also, as discussed above, if entertainment becomes our outlet for recreation, we will miss out on the health benefits exclusive to the more renewing activities. As you establish this balance in your lifestyle, allow the process of incorporating recreation to be one of discovery and fun!

The DIY Farmer's Wife Approach

By KRISTINA SNYDER

DIY Sourdough Pumpkin Muffins

I roasted my first pumpkin of the season last week. The leaves have a slight color to their edges, the air temperature has turned brisk, the days are shorter and autumn is certainly within our grasp. I love the change of seasons, finishing the projects of summer and embracing the promise of things soon to come. I made a batch of these lovely pumpkin spice muffins in celebration. This recipe fills homes and tummies with smells of cinnamon, warmth and love.

What You Need:

- *1/2c sourdough starter
- *2c whole grain flour
- *1c water
- *2c pumpkin
- *2eggs
- *1/4c fresh grated ginger
- *1/2c maple syrup
- *3T cinnamon
- *1/2T nutmeg

Overnight stir in your starter with flour and water and let rise 12 hours. In the morning mix in remaining ingredients in order of list one at a time. Let mixture rise for one hour and then bake at 400 degrees for 15-20 minutes. Enjoy !

In The Alfred Sun 50, 25 and 10 Years Ago

Compiled By DAVID L. SNYDER
Alfred Sun Editor and Publisher
50 Years Ago, Sept. 12, 1968

Alfred University announced today that it is exploring the feasibility of creating a school of business administration, effective fall of 1969. University President Leland Miles disclosed he had appointed a committee to determine the potential for such a school. The committee is to report back with its recommendations no later than January 1969. If established, a school of business administration would form the fifth semi-autonomous educational unit on the Alfred campus. The University now includes a college of liberal arts, a graduate school, a school of nursing, and the State University College of Ceramics at Alfred University...

William S. Vaughn, board chairman of the Eastman Kodak Company, said last night that skyrocketing college costs may make necessary additional federal support for higher education in the "national interest"...The Hornell Industry Day citation honoring Alfred University noted that Alfred occupies 31 buildings on a main campus of 180 acres, employs a staff of 400, and has a total enrollment of over 2,000 students. The University's assets are $22,800,000; it operates on an annual budget of $5 ½ million; its yearly payroll is $2 ½ million...

Alfred-Almond Central School has received notification that two students of the class of 1969 have been selected as National Merit Semi-Finalists, placing them with about 1,000 other students in New York State who scored in the top one percent. The Alfred-Almond students are: Dwight Gertz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gertz, and Mike Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, both of Alfred.

Miss Audrey Jane Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan W. Hardy of Almond became the bride of William H. Lamprey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Headlee Lamprey of Alfred, Saturday, Sept. 7, in the Almond Union of Churches. Baskets of yellow and white gladioli and yellow daisies decorated the altar for the single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. J. Henry Rood. Mrs. Lee A. Ryan of Almond was the organist...Miss Janet Hardy of Almond was maid of honor for her sister...Mark Lamprey of Alfred, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. David Reeves of Kenmore and Roger Lamprey of State College, Pa., brother of the bridegroom, ushered. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony for about 80 guests in the church parlors. Mrs. Arthur Karns of Garwoods and Mrs. Hans Peters of Southampton, Pa., aunts of the bride, cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Charles Gould of Wilmington, Del., poured, and the Misses Ann and Mary Ellen Gould, cousins of the bride, presided at the punch bowl...The bride is an alumna of Alfred-Almond Central School and Eastman School of Music at Rochester. She was an instrumental insutrcor at Thomas A. Edison Junior-Senior High School, Elmira Heights. The bridegroom is a graduate of Lewiston-Porter Central School at Youngstown, and the State University College of Ceramics at Alfred University, where he is completing work for a master's degree in ceramic engineering. He is employed by American Standard Corp., Tiffin, Ohio...

At the village board meeting Monday evening, Trustee James Herrick sounded the alarm for opponents of a dog leash ordinance to unite. Herrick said he would offer a proposal at the next meeting to curb dogs' freedom. The trustee stated there are many dogs which appear to be ownerless and are problems to the residents. The village's engineering consultant also notified the board that the sewer expansion plan offered by the village has not yet been approved by the State Board of Health. William Herrick of the R.J. Martin Associates, reiterated the plan for stream augmentation. This scheme calls for the drilling of an additional well and pumping the water into the Canacadea Creek during dry periods, thus enabling the treated effluent from the plant to be carried away...

John Turner of Alfred Station has not gone to Vietnam, as reported in last week's Alfred Sun. The American Friends Service Committee, which supplied the news to the Sun, has postponed indefinitely the sending of new personnel not previously known to the South Vietnamese at Quannai Hospital...

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland K. Ormsby of Alfred Station, held a garden reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Argentieri in Hornell, Saturday, Aug. 31. The occasion marked the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ormsby. All seven children were in attendance...

25 Years Ago, Sept. 9, 1993

Meet Alfred's MacArthur, the cow that could plop $1,000 in your pocket with one smooth moo-ve and a swish of its tail. How could this cow enrich your piggy bank? He has been selected as Bovine Extraordinaire for Cow Chip Bingo, a fun and profitable event coming to Alfred on Saturday, Oct. 2. Here's the scoop: for $25 you have the opportunity to buy a square yard of Mac's 10x15 yard "pasture"—better known as the area between McLane Center and the tennis courts on the Alfred University campus...

The Alfred Village Planning Board Sept. 2 denied two permits to Alfred University for the proposed Marlin Miller Performing Arts Center, to be constructed on State Street. The board denied Alfred University's request for a compliance permit because the height of the proposed building would exceed the village building code. The University will now apply for a variance from the Zoning Board of Appeals. "Why does this have to be 50 feet tall?" asked Sandy Scofield, planning board member. The board also denied a request from Christine Grontkowski, dean for the college of liberal arts and sciences, to conditionally grant a site permit. "Every week that we delay is costing my college and my university money," Grontkowski said...Members of the planning board questioned University representatives on the potential for erosion on the hill and the capacity of the Kanakadea Creek to handle run-off...

While not out of the tunnel yet, the light is growing brighter in the Alfred University budget picture. President Edward G. Coll, Jr., in his annual State of the University address last week to faculty and staff said growing freshman enrollment and a sharp improvement in student retention may mean the end of painful budget cuts...

Notes from Palmiter Hill (By Rev. Albert N. Rogers) Items of special interest in the SUN sixty years ago, 1933, included the following: Monthly meetings of Wee Playhouse, Grange meetings were regularly held at their hall on South Main Street; Prof. Paul Saunders gave his demonstration on liquid air frequently at group meetings; President Boothe C. Davis announced his retirement and was honored at a testimonial dinner before he moved to Florida; Fred Place was making souvenirs and memorabilia at his iron shop; the Vandermark area west of town was being reforested by State employees, some of whom needed a job; Dr. H.O. Burdick's lecture on "Chemical Messengers" was popular with social groups; Chaplain James C. McLeod was writing a SUN column; Sheff Bassett's store advertised Ball Band arctics; Coon's Grocery advertised coffee at 31 cents a pound; Theological students including Orville Babcock, Donald Gray, Travah Sutton and this writer were living at the Whitford House on Sayles Street—classes were held at The Gothic where the School of Theology was located except those taught by Dean A.E. Main who held his classes at his home...

Wallace C. Higgins and his wife Norma of Alfred Station have returned from San Salvador, El Salvador, where Mr. Higgins served as a volunteer with the International Executive Service Corps (IESC). The Steinheim Museum at Alfred University, Western New York's first museum, was created in the 1870s by the University President, Jonathan Allen. It housed an extraordinary collection that included birds, shells, corals, fossils, plants, pottery, glass, American Indian articles, oil paintings, statuary, shoes, stuffed animals, basketry, crockery, costumes, ancient and historical implements, rocks and minerals and other curiosities including the skeleton of the first woman prosecuted in Allegany County for murder. In 1953 the museum was finally closed. The dilapidation of the building had threatened the collection and uncoordinated rescue efforts left artifacts strewn around various departments of the university and other undocumented safe-keeping places in Alfred. Some artifacts were given as gifts and many were taken in order to guarantee their safety. It is believed that many of them are still carefully stored in houses and attics of Alfred and the surrounding areas. THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, September 13

At the first light of dawn on this day in 1814, the British fleet commenced its bombardment of Fort McHenry, in Baltimore's harbor. All day long and into the night, the shelling continued, lighting up the sky with explosions of aerial bombs, rockets, and mortars.

Watching from a British ship were two Americans, aboard under a flag of truce to negotiate an exchange of prisoners. Once of these was Francis Scott Key, and as he paced the deck, he would pause and write down in a notebook the words that were coming to him. Then he would return to the rail, to see if the fort's huge flag was still there.

BACK TO CHURCH SUNDAY

'You Belong Here!' national theme of 'Back to Church Sunday' Sept. 16

WELLSVILLE--"You Belong Here!" is the theme for Allegany County churches participating in this year's national Back to Church Sunday on Sunday, Sept. 16.

Several churches, the largest concentration of any county across New York's Southern Tier, will be focusing on an end-of-summer and beginning of fall connection or re-connection for individuals and families within their church service areas.

Back to Church Sunday participating congregations that are part of the Mission Genesee Valley coalition seeking community transformation and revival throughout Allegany County include Almond Union of Churches, 11 South Main Street; Knights Creek Church, 2987 Knights Creek Road (County Road 9), Scio; Wellsville Bible Church, 2907 Andover Road (State Route 417 East); and Yorks Corners Mennonite Church, 3350 County Road 29, Wellsville.

These churches are part of rotating location Journey to Transformation Community Prayer gatherings from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday nights and 6 to 8 p.m. rotating prayer, praise and worship gatherings twice a month, often focusing on different topics of community concern, along with other church unity activities.

Knights Creek Church also is inviting current congregants and individuals who would like to connect with a church to a free Community Dinner following its 11 a.m. Sunday worship service. The meal will be followed by the church's weekly music lessons for children and adults, provided by its Venezuelan music ministry team, which also are provided without cost.

Organizers of the observance's 10th anniversary nationally note "the church is not a building. It's a gathering of people brought together to experience God's love and purpose," which re-enforces the focus of "You Belong Here!"

Town of Rushford, Land Bank demolish house

RUSHFORD—The Town of Rushford, in collaboration with the Allegany County Land Bank, has demolished a home on Main Street in Rushford. The property had extensive fire damage and was abandoned by its owner.

When the property was seized by Allegany County in tax foreclosure proceedings, the town decided to purchase the property.

The Allegany County Land Bank partnered with the Town of Rushford to share the cost of demolition and create a public space where the property once stood. Some of the ideas for the repurposing of the public space include a playground, benches, and picnic tables.

The Allegany County Land Bank is dedicated to the removal of blight in our community and hopes to continue to work with municipalities to address vacant, abandoned, and distressed properties around Allegany County.

Removal of a burned abandoned house on Main Street in Rushford may result in a useful public space.

BOTH ALLEGANY, LIVINGSTON COUNTIES

‘Ag in the Classroom’ gets funding

OLEAN—Senator Catharine Young (R,C,I - 57th District), secured $20,000 for the Cornell Cooperative Extension in Allegany County and $25,000 for the Cooperative Extension in Livingston County to support Agriculture in the Classroom programs.

The grant-in-aid, or “bullet aid” funding was approved during the 2018-2019 state budget process, and was finalized at the end of the 2018 Legislative Session. The grants will support an ongoing program in Livingston County and start an Agriculture in the Classroom program in Allegany County.

“The hands-on learning experience children gain in the Agriculture in the Classroom program is invaluable,” Senator Young said. “It directly increases their agriculture knowledge and literacy.”

Senator Young said agriculture is one of New York State’s biggest industries and it is the leading industry in the 57th District.

“Sadly, many people never consider the impact agriculture has on their lives,” she said. “Agriculture is one of our state’s top industries, with 35,000 farms and a workforce that’s over 100,000 strong, generating an economic impact of more than $5.4 billion.”

Mark Wittmeyer, Youth Development Team Leader of the Cornell Cooperative Extension of Livingston County, said the funding will allow the Cooperative Extension to continue educating students in every school district in Livingston County within the 57th Senate District.

“Cornell Cooperative Extension of Livingston County is very appreciative of Senator Young for securing the 2018/2019 Agriculture in the Classroom grant,” he said. “Teaching youth, especially at a young age, about the facts of where their food comes from, the importance of agriculture as an industry, and the need for a diverse agricultural workforce is critical to the sustainability of agriculture today and tomorrow.”

Laura K. Hunsberger, Executive Director of the Cooperative Extension of Allegany County, thanked Senator Young and said the funding will kick-start the Agriculture in the Classroom program in Allegany County.

“We are very excited for the opportunities that this funding will bring to Allegany County,” she said. “Currently, we have only been able to participate in Ag Literacy Week where volunteers read a book with an agricultural theme to second graders. This funding will allow us to hire a part-time educator to go into Allegany County public school classrooms and share curricula especially developed to work with the teachers’ existing programming. Coupled with our new Farm-to-School program, we are anticipating a real jump in our young peoples’ understanding of where their food comes from and how their food choices can impact their local community.”

Agriculture in the Classroom teaches awareness, understanding and appreciation of where the food we eat comes from by helping educators, students and communities learn about and engage with the agriculture industry.

Senator Young said teaching young people about the importance of agriculture not only helps them appreciate the food they eat and the products they buy, but it also teaches them the importance of protecting the environment to sustain healthy agriculture.

“Programs like this are vital to our youth and their need to understand the agriculture industry that surrounds them,” she said. “Supporting the Agriculture in the Classroom program is an investment in the future. Anything that benefits agriculture in the Empire State, benefits us all.”

ALFRED-ALMOND SPORTS

A-A girls’ soccer team beats Addison for first time in years

By BARB WELCH

Alfred Sun Sports Reporter

ALMOND—The Alfred-Almond girls’ varsity soccer team scored an important and impressive win in the first round of the Keshequa Tournament last Wednesday night, Sept. 5.

After giving up the first goal to the visiting Knights the Eagles answered with two goals of their own. Maeve Looney got on the board with her first goal of the season. Captain Lindsey Allen followed suit and the two Steuben League rivals went into half time knotted at 2-2.

When play resumed A-A quickly jumped out in front with goals from Looney and Emily Agnello both assisted by Olivia Ormsby. Addison got back into the match when they scored their third goal of the night and the battle was on. The final 15 minutes was a tense affair but the Eagles held their ground for the 4-3 win.

The team played their signature style and were unfortunate not to see more goals on the scoreboard, having one goal called back for offside and another shot hit the upright and narrowly missed finding the back of the net. Coach Jim Lucey lauded the team’s performance and noted that it has been several years since A-A defeated the current Class C champion

Knights.

Open season with loss

The girls opened their season in Campbell Savona August 30 with a narrow 2-1 loss to Canisteo-Greenwood. After leading for much of the match, A-A gave up two goals in 10 minutes to fall in their season opener. Sophomore Avery Libordi notched the A-A goal in her first varsity match, assisted by sophomore Maeve Looney. With a multitude of changes from last year’s line-up the Eagles were clearly looking to settle in against a tough opponent. Coach Lucey said, “A Farewell To Arms was not the first thing that Hemingway wrote. I see plenty of things to be positive about despite the loss.”

The girls were back in action less than 24 hours later when they played host Campbell-Savona in the consolation match. A-A opened its account quickly when sophomore Emily Agnello scored with the assist provided by Maeve Looney. Agnello repeated the feat when Amy Evingham slotted a ball to Agnello and she rounded her defender and pushed the lead to two before half time. After some heavy squad rotation senior Olivia Ormsby drove a shot to the corner with Agnello feeding her the ball for a 3-0 final score.

YUNEVICH STADIUM

AU honors Pat, Bob Codispoti with video scoreboard

ALFRED—Alfred University dedicated the brand-new state-of-the-art video scoreboard in Yunevich Stadium to Bob '66 and Pat Codispoti on Saturday afternoon, surprising the duo that has supported AU Athletics dating back to the early 1960's.

Unbeknownst to Bob and Pat Codispoti, AU President Dr. Mark Zupan and the AU community had a huge surprise for them on Saturday evening. It was big enough to be hoisted by crane into Yunevich Stadium, which serves as home to the AU football, men's and women's soccer and lacrosse programs. That surprise was a 25-foot video scoreboard dedicated in their name.

"Bob '66, '71 MS, and Pat Codispoti have transformed the lives of countless Alfred University students, thereby bettering the world," Zupan began. "Given the particular leadership roles that they have played in promoting the student-athlete experience at our University, it is altogether fitting for them to be honored through the fabulous new scoreboard in Yunevich Stadium at Merrill Field. We are grateful to the many alumni and friends whose lives were positively impacted by Bob and Pat and who generously contributed to make the scoreboard a reality."

The Bob '66 & Pat Codispoti Scoreboard was installed in early August and debuted during the first home football game in Yunevich Stadium versus Thiel where the Saxons defeated the Tomcats, 44-16, during Labor Day weekend.

"This is without a doubt one of the best days I've had as the Director of Athletics here at Alfred University," Paul Vecchio said. "Sure, we've dedicated other spaces and we've enjoyed some incredible championship performances by our Saxon teams that will resonate with me for the rest of my career. But today is a type of day that we don't get to celebrate enough in this business. A day where two people who have given so unselfishly and who have been unwavering in their support of the ideals of not only Alfred University, but also the Division III collegiate student-athlete experience, get their much-deserved recognition."

Bob and Pat Codispoti have been supporters of the University and athletics department for more than fifty years. Bob was a member of the AU football team from 1962 to 1965 and graduated with his bachelor's degree in 1966 before earning his master's degree in 1971. After graduation he served for several years as an assistant coach to legendary head coach Alex Yunevich, the all-time leader in Saxon football wins. Codispoti currently serves as the President of Saxon Nation, the fundraising arm of AU athletics, as well as the play-by-play commentator of AU football games on both WLEA and Saxon TV. Bob is currently in his 34th year as the play-by-play commentator for AU football.

Pat was the Head Coach of the women's soccer program from 1985 to 2000 as well as the Head Coach for softball from 1998 to 2001. During her tenure she coached 28 all-conference players as well as six Regional All-Americans. Pat was at the helm of two of the best teams in AU women's soccer history including the 1988 team that went 14-6-1 and earned the NYSSCAA Championship crown. She also coached the 1996 team that went 13-5-1 that advanced to the NYSSCAA Championship Tournament. The 1988 team still holds records for most wins in a season (14), goals in a season (54), shutouts in a season (10), and shutouts in a row (5). The 1996 team tied the record for most shutouts in a season. Pat currently serves as the color commentator, by Bob's side, during AU football

Soccer alumna, Julie Francis '93, spoke via video at the dedication ceremony stating, "Pat and Bob, you truly have left a legacy and a lasting impact on so many people's lives. You have taken countless hours to bring student-athletes under your wing to help the University. This recognition is something that is going to be enduring. Every time you come and see your beloved Saxons play you will see your name up there as an honor that is so well-deserved."

Vecchio added later in his dedication speech about Bob and Pat, "The richness in their lives has been what they have given of themselves to others. To generations of student-athletes whose lives they have altered through their coaching, their counsel and their commitment. For the love that they have shared for each other and their family and the love that comes back to them from the thousands of lives that they have enriched. They have given their undying efforts decade after decade, to make this University better in small, unforgettable, ways."

The dedication ended with every student-athlete in attendance, current and former, on their feet applauding Bob and Pat Codispoti...an applause that spanned generations and will echo in perpetuity in Yunevich Stadium.

GREG'S GAME 3-ON-3 BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Greg's Dream Team captures tournament title

ALMOND—Almost as if out of a Hollywood script, Greg's Dream Team, a well-seasoned and finely-tuned configuration of relatives of the late Greg Norton, fought off a determined little Alfred Sun squad of the janitor and friends to capture the inaugural championship of the Almond Community Day Greg's Game 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament.

The day's play began with a ceremonial first shot by 66-year-old Jim Norton, elder brother of the affable and athletically amazing late Greg Norton, who was tragically killed in an auto accident in his 20th year of a life well-lived. Jim's "swish" was an early indicator that Greg's Dream Team had every intention of living up to its name.

In the first round of exhaustive tournament play, the Dream Team of Jim Norton, Doug Norton, Hali Ordway, Erik Jacoby and Debbie Jacoby easily defeated an outmanned and outwomanned Alfred Sun team, 15-8.

The Dream Team rolled through the winner's bracket, defeating all challengers. The Alfred Sun team, meanwhile, pressed yet not distressed, perplexed but not in despair...cast down but not destroyed, overcame every obstacle in the loser's bracket to advance to the championship round. Just as the Dream Team had done, the Alfred Sun faced and overcame Weak Knees, Jock Joints, and Sabotaged Shoulders.

Earlier in the day, the Alfred

Sun Janitor, cruising around seeking out one of Almond's many yard sales, driving along Bishopville Road encountered a couple of gentlemen out for a morning run along the country road. The janitor, as he is apt to do, slowed down and yelled out his window, "Do you want to know how fast you're going?"

One of the gents replied, "No, not really. Our motto is that we start slow, and then we taper off."

That seemed to have also been the theme for the Alfred Sun team on Saturday on a perfect day for outdoor play with temperatures in the upper 60s and cloud cover. As champs of the losers' bracket of the double elimination tournament, the Alfred Sun needed to twice defeat Greg's Dream Team to capture the tournament championship.

It all seemed possible after the trio of Dave Snyder of Alfred Station, Michael Leyden of Andover and Mike Davis of Scio got hot hands and, before a standing room only crowd at the Greg Norton Memorial Park Basketball Court, upset the Dreamers, 15-12.

The Alfred Sun ran out of steam in the title game, however, as Greg's Dream Team regrouped and with balanced scoring and team depth, rolled to a 15-9 win and the tournament's inaugural championship.

In the youth division championship, the "Hornell 56" squad, in a long, grueling defensive battle with a scrappy "Straight Out of Bishopville" team, finally broke away for a 15-10 victory.

Members of the championship team were Lillian Hoyt, Jordyn Dyring, Selena Maldonado and Payton Bentley. Coach Adam Dwyer's Straight Out of Bishopville team included Brendan Dickinson, John Scheesley, Riley Winans, Shane Davidson, Harper Wilson and Lakin Ludden.

The Greg's Game Tournament Committee would like to thank the tournament sponsors: Bill and Robert Pulos; Brian Schu, Esq.; Mullen Carpets of Almond; and The Ryan Agency. Thanks also goes to Head Coach Russ Phillips and Assistant Coach Mike Romano and the Alfred University men's basketball team for officiating the tournament. The committee also is thankful for the outstanding promotional materials provided by Tim Koegel at College Suppliers.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY SPORTS

AU hosts first cross country race in 20 years

The Alfred University men's cross country team competed on Jericho Hill as they finished fourth out of five teams during the Alfred University Short Course Meet on Saturday afternoon. It was the first cross country meet AU has hosted in 20 years.

"Our school spent a lot of time and effort on making this course. It's been over 20 years since we've hosted a meet and all of the coaches and all of the runners liked it," Head Coach William Sortore said.

The Saxons were led by senior Jordan Schools (Wyalusing, PA) and his 19th (17th scoring) place finish with a time of 21:53.70. He was followed shortly after by frosh Kyle Jenkins (Camillus/West Genesee) and his 22:23.60 time good enough for 27th (22nd scoring) place.

Sophomore Sean Raymond (Marcellus) and frosh Irving Sesmas (Marietta, GA/Kiski Area) finished together with times of 22:50.70 and 22:57.40, respectively for 31st and 32nd (24th and 25th scoring) places.

Junior Brian Anderson (Fairfax, VA/James W. Robinson) was the next Saxon to cross the finish line of the 5K course, in 23:09.50, good for 34th place (26th scoring). Frosh Gavin Wilbert (Webster Thomas) took 38th (28th scoring) in 23:20.10. Senior Rashid Abuelmaali (Latham/Shaker) rounded out AU pack with a 23:46.60 in 41st place (30th scoring).

The Saxons will travel to Penn State Behrend Saturday, Sept. 15 for a 5:30 p.m. race start.

Women win 2nd straight

The AU women's soccer team won its second straight home game Saturday night as the Saxons (3-1-0, 0-0 Empire 8) defeated Keuka, 2-1.

AU came out of the gates with a lot of energy, getting the ball out in front of the net early and often. Quinn Fowler (Chester/Washingtonville) opened the Saxon scoring with a goal in the 16th minute. Emily Wright (Dallas, TX/ Plano West) placed a corner kick in front of the net wher Amanda Guariglia (Valley Stream South) headed it in to put AU up 2-0.

"The first half was great because the team came flying out and knew they had to have a lot of intensity in this one," Head Coach Craig Yanni said.

The game became a defensive struggle in the second half. Keuka scored in the 72nd minute from deep outside the box to cut the Alfred lead to just one, but that is all they would get as the Saxons were able to hold off the Wolves for the remainder of the game.

"We came out a little flat in the second half. We've had some players out for a while, for example Emily [Wright] was out for a week and was a little winded but was able to hold her own and help us down the stretch," Yanni said.

Spikers drop home opener

The AU women's volleyball team fell to visiting College at Brockport, 3-0 on Tuesday evening in the Terry S. Galanis Family Arena.

The Saxons (0-9, 0-0 Empire 8) put up set scores of 17-25, 13-25 and 17-25. The biggest push Alfred University gave the Golden Eagles was in the third set as they were down 20-7. AU ended the set with a 10-5 run led by kills from sophomore Amanda Burns (Pine Bush) and junior Amber Smith (Penfield/Webster Schroeder) as well as a solo block from Smith, assisted block from Burns and first-year Rachael Moravansky (Mount Airy, MD/Linganore) and an ace from Moravansky.

Sophomore Sarah Raeman (Canandaigua) recorded a match-high 9.5 points off of eight kills, one ace and one block assist. Smith followed with 7.0 points from six kills and her block solo. Burns had 3.5 points from two kills, one ace and one assisted block. Moravansky chipped in 1.5 points from her ace and block assist and first-year Alaina Arenson (Yorktown, VA/Tabb) rounded out the scoring with a block assist for 0.5 points.

Junior Sarah Huzyk (Churchville-Chili) led the defense with nine digs in only two sets of play. Burns had 13 of the Saxons' 16 set assists while soph Julia Fanning (Wallkill Senior) recorded the last three.

"I have to say that we wouldn't have done that last year and I really have to give Sarah [Huzyk] credit on the defense with back-to-back digs on the ball and her character really jump-started that change in the third set," Head Coach Dakota Pruiss said. "[Amanda] Burns did a great job by scoring on the two balls that she killed but our passing just wasn't where it needed to be to give her more opportunities in the third."

AU heads to Elizabethtown College in Elizabethtown, PA for three matches. Their first match is at 7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14 against Rowan. Then, they take on the hosts at 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 15 and later face Misericordia at 1 p.m.

Saxons Steamroll the Tomcats as Nas Smith Rushes for Three TD's

AU (1-0) will host rival Ithaca (1-1) Saturday, Sept. 15 with kickoff at 1 p.m.

Saxons host rival Ithaca

The Saxons (1-0), following a bye week, will host former Empire 8 rival Ithaca (1-1), now competing in the Liberty League.

The Bombers are coming off a hard-fought 13-7 loss to E8 foe and 5th-ranked Brockport State at Butterfield Stadium Saturday.

Ithaca held the Golden Eagles scoreless until the final two minutes of the first half before allowing 10 points heading into the locker room. Brockport added another score early in the third quarter before the Bombers shut them down. Ithaca threatened with a late touchdown with only 1:38 left on the clock. Ithaca forced the punt by Brockport, but time expired while the punt was in the air, ending the game.

The Bomber offense averages 296.0 yards per game, including 77.5 yards rushing and 218.5 yards passing. Nick Cervone and Isaiah D'Haiti spearhead the Ithaca rush game with 47 and 36 yards rushing, respectively. D'Haiti has scored the only rushing touchdown for the Bombers this season.

Wahid Nabi leads Ithaca under center with 338 yards on 32-of-66 (48.5%) passing. He has connected with wide receivers, Andrew Vito and Will Gladney for two touchdowns while throwing three picks.

The Bomber defense has been stellar over the first two games of the season, allowing only 13.5 points per game and 481 yards of total offense (240.5 per game).

Series History: The Saxons are 18-38-2 in 58 games against Ithaca College. The two teams started squaring off in 1933 where the Bombers snuck out with a 12-7 win over the Saxons. It wasn't until 1939 that AU earned its first win over Ithaca 18-6. The 2017 version of the matchup was another showdown in the rivalry. The Saxons walked away with a 20-17 victory over the Bombers in the season opener despite trailing late in the fourth quarter on the road. Bryce Morrison and Jayden Gavidia teamed up for a 26-yard pass with 7:51 to go in the game to take the lead. The AU defense slammed the door shut on Ithaca's final drive when Kyle Moore intercepted the ball with 38 seconds left on the clock.

"Greg's Dream Team"

It was a trip back in time to my hometown on Saturday ... seeing some people I knew and (sadly) unable to see so many more. The annual Almond Community Day festivities on a chilly, early September day brought me back on one of my quicker "travels" of this extended summer.

Back when I was a member of the now-defunct Almond Lions Club, this Community Day started out of that club and with a big push by "Big Dale," my Dad. Obviously he didn't do it all himself as that was a hard-working group of men that were willing to pitch in to help out the community and virtually all in need. A long and busy day, as I remember, but also a great gathering of the people in and around Almond.

Parked this day behind the old Chair Factory, Mullens Carpets and headed towards the Greg Norton Memorial Park to see some basketball action, 3-on-3, Gus Macker style, in honor of the Alfred-Almond Hall of Famer. First person I see as I'm walking towards the old playground is "The Janitor" as he awaits his fellow AU players to join his team for game one, The Suns ... of course!

Waiting for them is Greg's Dream Team and quite frankly when I heard Jim and Doug "Savo" Norton were playing, I said ... "no way!" Hats off to them for honoring their brother, all three Norton sisters were in attendance and was good seeing them. Had been awhile. The Dream Team stuns Dave Snyder and Co., 15-8 or something like that and fittingly goes on to grab the abbreviated "championship."

Time to head into town, the park where the main action was taking place. Had hoped to see Lillian Hanks, Judy Coleman and some others as they are usually there working a food stand. First two I spot are Kim Costello and his mom, Betty. Good catching up with both and last time I saw Betty was my last visit to Community Day, perhaps 4-5 years ago? While talking with them, all the Codipoti's arrive! Bob & Pat, their son Erin whom I haven't seen in years plus his family, up from Virginia. Cody emphatically disputing the "51 shots" per Sunday basketball outings years ago at A-A! Erin lives in Arlington, Lauren and I have stayed in that town a couple of times in travels past, so I was going over places we've been with his family.

Moving onward, time for a sausage-peppers-onion sandwich and do indeed see Lillian, Kitty Baker and Doris Montgomery. "Veterans" of this event and working their shift, for the Almond Library? Great catching up with all, Judy stops by while I'm talking to Lillian and Kitty even tells me she reads and understands my column! Appreciate that, but a little dubious she "understands" my ramblings. Kathy Costello and Pat McEvoy the next spot over and had time to talk to them as well. Plus, more time with Kim Costello ... what a memory of our days growing up together in Almond!

Do it Best

Sure I've forgot some of this, a piece of cake actually upon park arrival, honoring Mona MacIntosh for her Village of Almond service. 31 years! Chatting with Donna Ryan, Ervilla Dungan Crandall, Fred Schwartz at age 90!, Laredo ... spotted Steve Bracken and Dick Stuart from afar but didn't get a chance to talk to either, Ben Palmer ... Almond version walking by, Colleen Harvey with grandkids (Quinn!), others walking around the park.

Time to depart as the event was winding down relatively early. Sure the "nippy" weather had something to do with that. Plus, I was heading to the University of Rochester to see the Geneseo Knights women's soccer team play UR at Fauver Stadium.

While a quick visit, always good to get back home. Obviously not the same Almond I grew up in ... with great memories galore. Baseball at Lockwood's, basketball at Smith's, sled riding and homemade soap box derby runs on hill behind Lockwood's, playing in the creek, Marty Moses and I playing hoops against an older "Hair" Torrey, hide & seek all hours of the nite, riding our bikes with the baseball cards in the spokes, good gosh ... hitchhiking!, ice cream at Palmer's when older, the cabin and on & on. Wouldn't trade growing up there and with friends I had for anything.

HITS AND MISSES:

While the Alfred Saxons (1-0) had their way-too-early "bye" week, other D3 football teams were in action. Hobart rebounding from their thrashing by Brockport to clobber Morrisville, Cortland blasted Framingham State and plays Alfred next on their schedule, Utica had no problems with Catholic, RPI eased by Worcester Poly, Adrian of Michigan smashed Buffalo State, Brockport nipped Ithaca as the Bombers avoided a shutout very late, Union won over the Coast Guard, St. Lawrence drilled a weak Norwich program and Hartwick topped Alfred State (0-2), 49-24. Get this "odd" scheduling ... SJ Fisher has back-to-back "bye" weeks after opening on September 1st! The Saxons and Cardinals should've played this past Saturday and then had a later bye week.

The Dukes of JMU got back to their winning ways as they blanked the Norfolk State Spartans, 17-0. The "Cage Man" thinks James Madison will now run-the-table.

Had a chance to chat with The Mixer last week for quite awhile as we were catching up on this and that. Included in our conversation was his recent vacation trip to Ecuador for virtually the entire family. Yikes!

Did indeed make it to the Geneseo soccer game and it was quickly 1-0 for the home squad as I was entering the stadium. Ouch. The starting GK for the Knights got hurt in warmups and while not blaming the back-up, as I didn't see the goal, perhaps not quite ready for the early action? The rest of the half was well played, Geneseo went up 2-1 in the second stanza but a late UR goal tied up the non-conference tilt. Geneseo (2-1-1) in midst of a demanding Nazareth-UR-William Smith run of games, all on the road.

Coach Anne Holmok (A-A) and her Alfred State College women's soccer team won two games last week as they topped Medaille from Buffalo, 3-2 in 2OT's and then smoked Morrisville, 4-1. They are now (2-1-1) on the young season.

Katie Kaznowski and her Guilford College teammates are (1-3) in the early women's soccer season with a win over NC Wesleyan last week. The daughter of Tom and Patti Kaznowski of Cary, NC. The "once-legendary" Kaz of ASC fame.

Spotted some NYS vanity plates of late: ITSMYSUV ... on a "Scummer-sized" vehicle, LUV2H1KE ... and attempt to keep up with a speed-walking 3L plus Jess Herbst Benway and 2ND WIND ... the Norton's in hoops on Saturday!

Not a huge tennis fan by any means, but are all the men's majors now won by Rafael Nadal, Roger Federer or Novak Djokovic? Perhaps three of the all-time greats and all playing at the same time!

The "AAA" International League playoffs are a rematch from 2017 as the Durham Bulls (Rays) are playing the SWB RailRiders (Yanks) again. SWB won the Governors Cup in 2016 and have to be playing with a "AA" call-up roster at this point. Durham won the trophy last season.

It should be quite the finish in the NL West and for the NL wild card as the MLB season comes to a close in a couple of weeks or so. The Rockies, Dodgers and Diamondbacks are just about all knotted up in the West with the second-place team perhaps playing the Milwaukee Brewers (or Cards?) in the wild card contest.

The NJ Giants cut backup QB, Davis Webb last week and he was promptly signed by the NJ Jets to their roster. Davis Webb ... not to be confused with David Webb (Jason Bourne).

Think I was perhaps a little optimistic with my (6-10) prediction for the Buffalo Bills this season. Egads, what an ugly game in Baltimore against the Ravens in a 47-3 loss. Their offensive line is terrible. Hard to tell if they have any real receivers to throw to as the QB's have no time to see the field.

Ex-Bills QB, Ryan Fitzpatrick had himself quite the day though as he was 21-28, for 417 yards in the air, 4 TD's, plus 36-rushing yards and another touchdown. Has to be the NFC Player of the Week as Tampa Bay stunned the New Orleans Saints, 48-40.

Daughter Lauren spotted U.S. Olympic gold medalist, Aly Raisman on the streets of NYC this past weekend. And like seeing Mike Dunleavy (Duke) previously ... no photo or chat!

Look-alikes: Gary Woodland of the PGA Tour and catcher(?) Gary Sanchez of the NY Yankees. If only Sanchez was in as good a shape as Woodland.

The WNBA finals are going on now with Seattle and their two ex-UConn stars of Breanna Stewart (league MVP) and Sue Bird taking on Washington and almost-UConn player, Elena Delle Donne ... the 2015 league MVP. Stewart well on her way to be the most-decorated women's cager of all-time, probably surpassing Diana Taurasi eventually.

Good college football win for head coach Herm Edwards (ex-ESPN) and his Arizona State Sun Devils (2-0) over Michigan State, 16-13 on Saturday nite past.

Watched the first-half of the Buffalo Bills debacle on Sunday. Why does CBS continually have to run scores of the other NFL games at the bottom of the screen? Most annoying.

Off to Alfred this Saturday with former AU sports photographer, Leo Nealon to see the Ithaca-AU football game. Pretty sure I'll see former Jokers Wild softball teammate, Pat Milgate there as his son (Nick) is a starting LB for the Saxons. Maybe another ex-teammate in "Bud Man?" And maybe the temps won't be in the 50's like it was this past Saturday in Almond!
