Saxons� season ends with loss at ECAC South Championships
5/12/13

READING,PA The Alfred University softball team saw its 2013 season end with a 7-4 loss to Stevenson in a game that began Saturday, was halted by rain, and concluded Sunday morning.

Alfred (24-19) trailed 3-1 with one out in the bottom of the sixth and runners on second and third when rain stopped the contest Saturday afternoon. When play resumed Sunday at 8 a.m., Stevenson got one out before freshman shortstop Nicole Maher (Newark, DE/Caravel Academy) tied the game with a clutch single that drove in freshman outfielder Samantha Jauregui (Lindsay, CA/Lindsay) and freshman catcher Samantha Greenberg (Toms River, NJ/Toms River), who had singled leading off the inning.

Stevenson answered with four runs in the top of the seventh to go up 7-3. The Mustangs loaded the bases with no outs and scored their first run of the frame on a walk, then plated three unearned runs to take a four-run lead. AU closed out the scoring in the bottom of the frame, with Jauregui hitting her third single of the game and scoring on Greenberg&s double.

On Saturday, Alfred took 1-0 lead in the third when junior outfielder Samijo Scheer (Corning, NY/Corning East) tripled with one out and scored on a wild pitch. Stevenson went ahead with three in the fifth, with all three runs scoring with two outs.

Freshman pitcher Katelyn Jakobsen (Elmwood Park, IL/Elmwood Park) started for Alfred and allowed three earned runs on six hits and a walk over 5 1/3 innings. Sophomore Jessica O&Sullivan (Habersham, SC/Groton-Dunstable (MA) Regional) relieved and got two outs in the sixth. Sophomore Alison Wickwire (Towanda, PA/Towanda) took over to begin the seventh and took the loss, allowing four runs (one earned) on three hits and a walk.

Stevenson advances to play the winner of this morning&s game between top-seeded and host Alvernia and second-seeded FrostburgState. Live Stats for Sunday&s games are available here. Updated results and schedule are available
