PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The President has the honor to submit his twenty-sixth annual report, namely for the eighty-fifth year of Alfred University, beginning with June 16, 1920, and ending with June 14, 1921.

The year has been one of growth and achievement and will be noted in Alfred's history as one of the landmarks of its progress.

Unusually good health has prevailed among the student body and the members of the faculty.

Two deaths have occurred among the students of the Agricultural School, one resulting from injury while engaged in a football game.

The Board of Trustees has sustained the loss by death of two valuable and beloved members.

Necrology

Frank Sullivan Smith, LL. D., a trustee of Alfred University since June, 1902, died at his home in New York, November 15, 1920, having served on the Board for more than eighteen years. In 1908, at the founding of the State School of Agriculture, Mr. Smith was appointed by the Trustees of Alfred University, a member of the first Board of Managers of the School of Agriculture, and continued to hold this position until the time of his death. In 1903, in recognition of his scholarly and distinguished service as a member of the State Board of Law Examiners, and in many other capacities, Alfred University conferred upon Mr. Smith, the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

A graduate of Yale University, a man of exceptional literary attainments and scholarly ability, and a man of the choicest personality and spirit, Mr. Smith held a very high place in the esteem and affections of the Board of Trustees, and rendered a great service to Alfred University as an honorary alumnus and Trustee. The wisdom of his counsel and the loyalty of his interest and devotion to high ideals of education, together with his generous spirit made him a valuable trustee and endeared him in the affections of all who knew him.

Amanda Malvina Burdick, widow of the late William Clarke Burdick, a trustee of Alfred University since 1906, died at the home of her daughter in Chicago on December 13, 1920. Mrs. Burdick was born and reared in Alfred, the daughter of one of Alfred's pioneer settlers, Judge Clarke Crandall. She graduated from Alfred Academy in 1848. In 1885 she was married to William C. Burdick, a prominent citizen in the community and for many years a trustee of Alfred University.

Mrs. Burdick was a woman of rare personal charm, broad sympathy and wise judgment. She gave generously of her thought and interest and of her means to Alfred University; and until advancing years and infirmity prevented, was a regular attendant at the meetings of the Board of Trustees. She will long be remembered with affection and high esteem.

Durwood D. Jumph, member of the class of '22 of the Agricultural School, died February 4, at the Spencer Hospital in Meadville, Pa., as a result of injuries received while engaged as a member of the Varsity team of Alfred University in a football game with Thiel College at Greenville, Pa., on Thanksgiving day. His home was at Perry, N. Y., from which place he came to Alfred to enter the Agricultural School in the fall of 1920. He was a young man of clean and manly character and habits, and of fine courage and heroic will power. His accident and death made a deep and lasting impression upon the student body and faculty of Alfred University.

Edward Elwood Lee Sharpsteen, a member of the class of 1922, of the Agricultural School, died of pneumonia at his home at Hemlock, N. Y., in March, 1921. He was a young man of promise and much esteemed by faculty and students.

Registration

The total registration of all departments of Alfred University for the past year has been as follows:

College	218
Seminary	5
Ceramic School . . .	86
Agricultural School .	153
Specials in Music . .	35
Summer School . . .	130
Total	627

Of this total 147 are duplicates, leaving a registration for the year of 480 different individuals. This is the largest enrollment since the discontinuance of the preparatory school.

The Freshman Class this year numbered 82, which is also the largest freshman class ever enrolled.

College of Liberal Arts

New members of the faculty appointed last year were Archie L. Ide, Ph. D., Professor of Philosophy and Education; Joseph Seidlin, S. M., A. M., Babcock Professor of Physics and Associate Professor of Mathematics; Aloysius A. Wesbecher, S. B., Professor of Physical Education and Coach of Athletics; Ada Becker Seidlin, Professor of Pianoforte; Margaret Landwehr, A. M., Assistant Professor of Modern Languages; Arlotta Bass Mix, A. M., Instructor in English and Public Speaking; and Gladys K. Bleiman, A. M., Instructor in Philosophy and Education. These appointments have all proved satisfactory and the faculty as a whole contains a larger percentage of members holding advanced degrees than ever before, and represents an exceptional equipment in training and efficiency.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, who was appointed Dean last year in place of Dean Kenyon resigned, has proven a wise choice and has conducted the office with ability and discretion, devoting much time and thought to matters of administration and in this way has greatly relieved the President of many minor details. While his appointment was to some extent an experiment and its continuance was intended to be dependent upon the success of this year, there is every reason to believe that the appointment should be continued.

Few if any changes are expected for next year.

Miss Mabel I. Hart who has been absent on leave, has tendered her resignation. Mr. John B. Stearns who, as assistant professor, has conducted the work of the department for the past two years with marked ability, is recommended for the professorship. He has contemplated further graduate study at Princeton University and is not yet fully decided upon his course of action for next year. He may request a leave of absence in order to pursue graduate studies.

Professor James D. Bennehoff has under consideration the advisability of graduate study and is likely to either offer his resignation or ask for a leave of absence; but no definite action has been taken in either of these cases up to the present time.

The Summer School

The enrollment of the summer school in 1920 was 130 students, an increase of about 60% over the preceding year. The school is rapidly gaining in reputation and influence and is likely to continue to grow steadily.

The New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics

The attendance of the State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics is by far the largest this year of any year in its history, and emphasizes anew the urgent need for additional laboratory space. A request for an addition to the building to cost $75,000, was made to the Legislature of 1921, but on account of the Governor's economy policy, was not granted. It is hoped that an appropriation for such an addition may be allowed with the next Legislature.

The only change on the faculty for the past year was the appointment of Miss Clara K. Nelson as Professor of Drawing and Design, to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Miss Marion L. Fosdick to the Professorship of Modeling and Pottery left vacant by the resignation of Miss Elsie Binns.

Every effort should be made to obtain relief from the Legislature in the way of larger facilities to meet the need of the rapidly growing student body.

The New York State School of Agriculture

The State School of Agriculture was unexpectedly left at the beginning of the year without a Director due to the resignation of Dr. C. E. Ladd in order to accept a professorship in the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University. Mr. Archie E. Champlin was appointed acting director and has served successfully in this office during the year.

The school attendance has increased over last year, but has not yet reached its pre-war maximum. With the coming of normal conditions, however, to industry and agriculture, the prospect is good that the maximum of capacity will soon be reached again.

The school holds its rank without question as the most successful and efficient of the secondary schools of agriculture in the State.

The rural teacher training course established last year with Miss Ethel D. Bennett as teacher, has been in operation this year. This course is attracting much attention and gives much promise of greatly improving the type of rural school teachers.

The Alfred Theological Seminary

No change has occurred in the faculty of the Alfred Theological Seminary during the year and its work has continued its uniform excellence. Forty students from the college have availed themselves of the opportunity to pursue courses in Bible study and religious education in classes in the Seminary, aside from six students who have pursued regular Seminary courses.

Athletics

For the first time, we have enjoyed the efficient service of a professor of physical education who is also a competent coach of athletics. Professor Wesbecher has also proved to be a man of fine personal character and influence, and under his direction, the athletic activities of the University have been conducted on a high plain of educational and professional excellence.

Professor Wesbecher has been assisted by Miss Amey D. VanHorn, who has had charge of the Freshman and Sophomore girls' classes in physical training.

The old Chapel Hall has been repaired and altered to adapt it better to physical training work. Showers and locker rooms have been provided for both boys and girls, and the floor improved for basket ball purposes.

There are some problems in connection with the scheduling of games with desirable colleges, which are unique for Alfred because of the fact that a percentage of our students have always been from Seventh Day Baptist families and also because of the fact that the college is situated in a community where a majority of the people observe the seventh day. In two instances during the past year, an exception was made to the general rule of long standing that no games should be played on either Saturday or Sunday. On both of these occasions, teams of non-Seventh Day Baptist membership were allowed to play games with colleges remote from Alfred, one with Hamilton College at Clinton, N. Y., and one with Geneva College at Beaver Falls, Pa. These exceptions have aroused some criticism which the President herewith reports to the Trustees for such instruction or advice as you may wish to give.

Teachers' Retiring Allowance

The provision which went into effect on July 1, 1920, for the members of the faculty of the college to participate in the Carnegie Retiring Allowance plan, has been accepted by a number of the members of the faculty and others are contemplating entering in the near future. This provision gives encouragement for members of the faculty to retain their positions even though compensations are less than might be elsewhere obtained. The increase which was made last year in salaries and the adoption of a salary scale, has proved a great stabilizing factor in the holding together of our teaching force.

Publicity

Much progress has been made during the year in various forms of publicity. Under the direction of Dean Titsworth, head of the English Department, small sums have been paid to certain students to prepare newspaper publicity, providing it for the surrounding daily and weekly papers. In this way, Alfred has had the largest publicity of any year in its history.

The Interscholastic Meet has this year attracted a wider notice than ever before and has brought to Alfred 290 contestants in the various athletic events and in the prize speaking contests and stock judging contests. Schools have been represented from Broome to Chautauqua Counties in the southern tier of counties, and north including Rochester and Buffalo, and south from a number of counties in Pennsylvania.

A number of colleges are adopting a method of advertising through a sub-freshman day. This has been recommended by some of the alumni of Alfred, and would be a desirable method of bringing Alfred's advantages still further to the attention of high school students in this part of the state, provided we are able to organize and carry out such a sub-freshman day effectively. The President raises the matter for your advice and suggestions.

The Improvement Fund

One year ago, the President reported that application had again been made to the General Education Board for $100,000 toward Alfred's endowment on condition that the Trustees should raise from other sources for endowment purposes, the sum of $200,000.

In December, 1920, the General Education Board made this conditional appropriation and in addition appropriated the interest on the $100,000 at five percent, beginning July 1, 1920, so that we could have the income from this fund during three years at least while we were raising the $200,000 required in order to avail ourselves of the gift of the General Education Board.

The Board stipulates that the entire sum of $200,000 must be pledged by October 30, 1921, and that it must be paid within five years from that date, namely by October 30, 1926. It furthermore requires that the heating plant or any other indebtedness must be paid by October 30, 1926, when final payment is due.

The Board very generously permits the cash and pledges received for the Improvement Fund campaign of last year, to be applied toward the conditions imposed.

Application has been made to the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching for an appropriation of $25,000. Action on this application has been deferred from time to time; but after the February meeting of the Carnegie Board, the Finance committee decided to delay no longer but to organize our campaign without reference to any possible further gift from the Carnegie Foundation.

In the meantime, Mr. Judson G. Rosebush, made a proposition to contribute $25,000, provided other subscriptions should be made sufficient to fulfill the conditions of the General Education Board.

The indebtedness on the heating plant on the first of March was a little less than $30,000, and it was estimated that we should provide for a deficit of $5,000 per year for three years and for interest on the indebtedness for three years—$5,000—so that a campaign was inaugurated about March first, to provide the following sums:

1. Endowment for increased salaries and expenses	$300,000
2. To pay debt on heating plant	30,000
3. To provide for estimated deficit	15,000
($5,000 per year for three years)
4. To pay estimated interest on heating plant debt for three years	5,000
Total	$350,000

Program for raising this $350,000 for which the name "Improvement Fund" is continued, is as follows:

1. Conditional gift of the General Education Board	$100,000
2. Conditional gift of Judson G. Rosebush	25,000
3. Cash endowment already paid in toward Improvement Fund	82,000
4. Five year pledges made but unpaid on March 1	53,000
Total provided for	$260,000

leaving a balance of $90,000 to be raised in five year pledges.

The township of Alfred was apportioned to raise $20,000 in addition to $10,000 already subscribed. The county of Allegany outside of the township of Alfred was apportioned $30,000; the remaining $40,000 to be raised from friends and alumni living in other localities outside of Allegany county.

During the month of March, subscriptions were received, mostly in Alfred, aggregating $10,000; in April $10,000 were subscribed; and in May $15,000. Up to the present time in June, something over $5,500 have been subscribed, altogether about $40,000 since March 1st, leaving about $50,000 yet to be provided for in subscriptions by October 30.

This is a stupendous undertaking for Alfred, but many alumni and friends of the College have shown such deep interest in the success of the movement that the President is confident that the hearty co-operation of the trustees and the alumni, will enable us to be successful in securing the remaining $50,000 within the four and a half months still remaining.

The largest single gift outside of those already specifically mentioned, is that of Mrs. Angle Cobb Tullar of Wells-ville who has subscribed $8,000 for the establishment of four $2,000 scholarships.

It will be impossible to mention in detail in this report all these generous contributions, but they will be printed in full at the completion of the campaign.

Increased College Capacity and Equipment

At the autumn meeting in New York last September, the President called the attention of the trustees to the fact that the capacities of the class rooms, laboratories, dormitories, etc., are soon to be taxed to their utmost and that the teaching force must be further increased in the near future if the student body continues to grow. The freshman class during the past year, numbering 82 members, has required three sections for freshman mathematics, freshman English and biology, and two sections in some other subjects. With the possibility of a freshman class of one hundred students next September, we will face the necessity for four divisions in these subjects and doubtless extra divisions of other subjects. It is evident that these extra divisions must require in the class a laboratory, extra accommodations and extra teaching staff. Serious study will have to be given to these problems between now and the opening of college.

Furthermore the rooming facilities for the students must have the sympathetic and constructive co-operation of the Board of Trustees.

For a number of years, fraternities have rented houses in which they have resided. During the past year, two of these fraternities have made provision for the purchase of excellent fraternity houses. The Klan Alpine, a local fraternity, has acquired the house now occupied by E. P. Saunders on South Main street, an excellent and commodious house for a fraternity of twenty or more members.

The Delta Sigma Phi, which is a chapter of a national fraternity of that name, has made arrangements to purchase the homestead of the late William Clarke Burdick, on North Main street. This is a still larger building and will accommodate about thirty men. The acquiring for permanent homes of the two houses in the village best suited for such purposes, marks a very great advance in equipment of rooming facilities for men. Other such fraternity houses should be acquired in the near future.

The rooming facilities for women have been more ample in the past because of the larger accommodations provided by Ladies Hall. During the past year, however, it has been taxed to capacity and is occupied by about seventy young women, aside from teachers, matron, etc.

A sorority of eighteen girls has been organized and has requested the privilege of renting and running a chapter house for the sorority. Such an arrangement would relieve temporarily the congestion in Ladies Hall, and leave a number of vacant rooms available for incoming freshman girls. Appropriate houses however, for such a sorority chapter house are not plentiful. One house, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Morgan, now of Columbia University, and soon to be vacated by the removal of Miss Angeline Wood and her sister, Miss Julia Wood, has been made available by the offer of Dr. and Mrs. Morgan to contribute half the value of the property—$1500—to Alfred University, if the University would be willing to accept this gift, paying to Dr. and Mrs. Morgan the sum of $500 on delivery of the title, and paying monthly as rent is received, $20 per month until the sum of $1000 additional shall have been paid without interest. Dr. and Mrs. Morgan desire to make this a contribution to our endowment fund, paying it in the form of this property. The property can be rented to this sorority for $25 per month without furniture, and the executive committee and the President are of the opinion that it is a good proposition for the trustees to accept, not only because there is the value of the gift in the property, but because it will help solve the housing problem which is so urgent upon us.

The executive committee voted to accept the gift, subject to two conditions, first that the Morgans should not require us to hold the property in our possession indefinitely; and second, that the transaction, particularly the payment of $500 of endowment funds toward this property, should be approved by the finance committee.

The President was instructed to obtain the advice of an architect in regard to the possibility of making over the livery barn into a dormitory annex. Mr. Bickford of Pierce & Bickford of Elmira, has looked over the barn and submitted a report discouraging any attempt to make it into a dormitory. He advised that it be used for some other purpose or be torn down and the material used for other construction. Mr. King of King & Campbell of New York, has looked over the building and promised to give an opinion in regard to it, but up to the present time, has not done so.

The reports of the Dean, the Registrar, the Librarian, the Curator of the Museum, the Dean of the Theological Seminary, the Director of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, the Director of the New York State School of Agriculture, and the Director of the Summer School are submitted herewith as a part of the President's Report.

With gratitude for the continued blessing of Almighty God upon the labors and achievements of Alfred University during the past year, and with sincere appreciation of the loyalty and co-operation of the trustees, faculty and student body, throughout this eighty-fifth year, this report is respectfully submitted.

BOOTHE COLWELL DAVIS, President.

REPORT OF THE DEAN

To the President of Alfred University:—

For the present dean, the year just closing has been one of learning the ropes. Because the success of any college administrative officer depends so largely upon the good-will of the students and their readiness to co-operate with him in maintaining high ideals of scholarship and of conduct, the ideal dean must be as wise as a serpent. That Dean Kenyon had so established himself in the affections and respect of college men and women made the burden laid upon his successor a double one. The students have been astonishingly ready to give a generous interpretation to the efforts of the present incumbent, to work with him for a still sounder, saner student community life at Alfred. He wishes particularly at this time to express his especial gratitude to B. Colwell Davis, Jr., president of the Student Senate, to Isabel Mack, president of the Sigma Alpha Gamma, and to Eloise Clarks, house president at the Brick, for their co-operation.

Student self-government has taken a leap ahead in Alfred this year. Young men and women both in and out of official student positions have shown a desire to abide by college regulations, to uphold the good name of Alfred. Student officials have been willing to enforce law. Upon the initiative of the Council of the Sigma Alpha Gamma, two girls who had wilfully broken college regulations were suspended for one week during the second term. Because of the stiffening of self-government, the faculty, believing that the time had come for an extension of democracy in the student body, this spring voted to make the presidents of the Student Senate and of the Sigma Alpha Gamma full members of the Committee on Student Life.

Through the assistance of Dr. A. L. Ide, of the department of philosophy and education, the registrar has this year compiled data from the grades on file in the office which makes it possible for the faculty to watch closely all the work done by each student and by each class in college. This data is now in such form that the university officers can compare a student's work for a given term or year with his performance for any other term or year. It is easily perceived, therefore, that the office can much more adequately discover what each college man or woman can do and can stimulate him or her to top-notch work. From the study of grades, which Dr. Ide and the registrar have undertaken, it appears that this year's junior class has dropped considerably in the quality of work below their performance of last year, and likewise below the performance of last year's junior class. The class of 1922, being small, has felt the burdens of the extra-curricular activities which always fall upon the juniors in too great abundance. Our study of grades also reveals the fact that the present freshman class is of high mentality. Many professors, in conversation with the dean, have expressed the opinion that Alfred can well be proud of the substantial quality of the class of 1924.

The dean wishes to mention two additional matters, which lie outside the strict limits of this report.

First, the Wee Playhouse. The Wee Playhouse had its inception about one year ago. Its membership now numbers about thirty men and women from the student body, from the townspeople, and from the faculty. It is the purpose of this organization to stimulate high-class dramatic performance in Alfred. The trustees of the university have kindly put at the disposal of the Wee Playhouse a room in Alumni Hall formerly occupied by the high school. This room has been made over into a theater, has been decorated, the stage has been built, and the necessary accessories produced by the members themselves. Three bills of one-act plays have been staged, the scenery and costumes for which have been made and the coaching of which has been performed altogether by the members. Furthermore, three plays have already been put on which have been written by local authors. Obviously, therefore, this institution offers, especially to the instructors in art, in public speaking, and in English, a splendid opportunity for creative self-expression. Also it affords opportunity to students in these departments for self-expression. Increasingly this little theater should be a laboratory for college men and women to do in the subjects named what the other laboratories of the college do for the students in physics, in chemistry, or in biology.

Second, University Publicity. Although Alfred has not had—and can not have until the university has a full-time publicity agent—the publicity in the village and city papers hereabouts which she deserves, yet this present year has seen a notable advance. Alice M. Dickinson, a freshman, who has had several months of practical newspaper experience as a reporter in Utica and in Rochester, has supplied the Buffalo Express, the Buffalo Courier, the Buffalo News, the Jamestown Post, and all the local papers from Bolivar to Hornell with a goodly amount of Alfred news each week. She has had particularly good success with the Buffalo papers, the Wellsville Reporter, the Hornell Tribune-Times, and the Andover News.

It seems to the dean that another year should see a paid press club—to be paid by the hour—composed of students who are willing to accept the responsibility of keeping the newspapers of this locality more systematically supplied with Alfred news than it has been possible this year to do. It would be a paying proposition also to supply not only the local papers regularly with the Fiat Lux but to send marked copies to all the papers in the towns from which the students come who are mentioned in the columns of the college weekly. The need for such dependable publicity is especially keen when notable athletic contests are being staged in Alfred.

In closing, the dean would like to express his gratitude to the President, to Mrs. George A. Bole, Dean of Women, and to the other members of the Committee on Student Life for their valuable counsel and hearty cooperation in this year's work.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL EMERSON TITSWORTH, Dean.

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR

1920--1921

To the President of Alfred University,

Dear President Davis:—I have the honor and pleasure to submit the following report of the work done in the Registrar's office for the college year beginning July 5, 1920, and ending June 15, 1921.

I. Summer Session

On July 6, 1920, the annual summer session opened with a total registration of 130 students. This was an increase of 54% over the registration of the preceding year.

II. Registry of College Students

First Term	210
Second Term	205
Third Term	203
Total different names during the year	218

Of this number 115 are men and 103 are women. Last year the total registration was 181 which makes a net increase this year of over 20%. The number of men increased 20% and the number of women increased 21%. This increase compares favorably with that of other institutions. The fact that the total registration is considerably over 200 is very pleasing and should there be a corresponding increase this next year the present plant will be heavily taxed. In some of the required Freshman courses such as English and Mathematics it was found necessary to subdivide the classes into three or four sections.

III. Classification of Students by Classes

Graduates	1
Seniors	37
Juniors	28
Sophomores	53
Freshmen	82
Specials	17
Total in attendance	218

The Freshman class of 82 is the largest in the history of the college and represents an increase over last year's class of 30%.

IV. Classification of Students by Courses

Classical	69
Scientific	55
Ceramic Engineering	56
Ceramic Applied Art	21
Specials in Ceramics	8
Other	Specials.....9

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the President and Trustees of Alfred University:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to present herewith my annual report for the college year 1920-1921.

In the report of one year ago the books then reported comprised 34,015 volumes. During the past year the total additions have been 736 volumes. Of this number 299 were purchased, 272 donated, and 165 volumes constitute bound magazines. After deducting the 2,159 books that have been removed for various reasons there remain the total of 32,591 books. These are distributed among the various departments on the campus, in the annex and in the main library.

The number of borrowers' cards which have been issued is 584. This does not take into consideration the thousands who enter the library each term for study and reading. The total circulation for the year has been 6,593 volumes. Increasing use is being made of the pamphlets and magazines. Aside from constant reference to this material in the library itself, 650 magazines and pamphlets have been drawn for outside use. The total number of periodicals regularly received by the library is 100, not including about ten newspapers.

The following data with reference to the history of the library furnishes interest as showing the steadily increasing usefulness of the institution. When the library was organized in the early years of the institution it occupied a small, poorly lighted room ten and one-half feet by twenty feet and was opened for fifteen minutes each week for the drawing of books, and the number of volumes drawn did not exceed one hundred. The library moved into its present quarters in the fall of 1913. At that time the number of volumes was about 25,000. Today the number approaches 35,000, or an increase during the eight years of nearly 10,000 volumes, or over 1200 volumes each year. Instead of being opened for 15 minutes each week as was the case in the earlier history it is now opened every day in the week, or in all 62 hours for the seven days. The management has sought to maintain a high standard of books. The library has less than the usual proportion of current fiction and more than the ordinary proportion of solid reading including works on History, Literature, Economics, Travel, Biography, Essays, Science, etc. Such is the nature of the books on our shelves that students from out of town frequently call upon the library for reference material, many calls even coming from our neighboring city of Hornell because their own city library is inadequate for their needs. Our own library is liberal in its policy and thus not only the immediate community but other communities as well enjoy the advantages whenever this does not interfere with our own college needs.

A healthy co-operation exists between the Alfred High School and the college library. The teachers of the High School make frequent use of the library and High School students find it advantageous to consult our reference shelves on matters of current interest.

About four years ago a careful computation was made as to the number of people who use the library. After careful investigation it was discovered that on the average 1,000 people visit the building every week. In making this estimate some are necessarily counted twice. This means that during each of the three terms about 12,000 persons, or more than 36,000 each year, visit the library. Mere figures are an inadequate measure of the many vital forces that radiate from a collection of books. This influence must be felt in every phase of our social and intellectual life. In almost every movement inaugurated in our community the library is drawn upon for material. The various clubs and similar organizations outside the college, seek the library as a most valuable source of information and assistance. There is not an institution that can compare with the public library today in its far reaching and helpful influence. It is the most democratic and most accessible clearing house and exchange of useful and beneficial forces that tend toward the making of better citizens.

One hundred and sixty-five volumes of magazines have been bound during the year at a total cost of $256.60. The largest shipment of magazines left the library for the bindery during the month of May. This shipment represented 195 volumes and will cost in the neighborhood of $300.00.

It gives me pleasure to record a number of gifts to our collection of books. The largest contributors were Mr. Wardner Williams who donated 51 volumes of miscellaneous literature from his father's library, and Mr. Howard Langworthy who donated 54 volumes. Through the kindness of Senator

Fernald of Maine the library received the bound volumes—19 in all—of the first and second sessions of the 66th Congress.

During the year Miss Ruth Stillman and Professor John B. Stearns have faithfully served the library, Miss Stillman as reading-room assistant and Prof. Stearns as assistant at all the evening openings of the library. I am glad to report that Miss Gladys Greene, a sophomore in the college, will have charge of the reading-room beginning with the fall term of 1921.

Since my last report the ceiling of the main floor of the library has been decorated with a very soft and pleasing shade of buff. This adds greatly to the appearance of the room. When the time comes for placing shades at the various windows to mellow the glaring sunlight which is especially severe during the summer, a decided improvement will have been made and all that could be desired by way of decoration of the main room.

Respectfully submitted,

C. R. CLAWSON, Librarian.

REPORT OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

To the President of Alfred University:

In point of numbers, and in the amount of work done, the year now closing has been the best in our history.

The seminary is practically a School of Religious Education at Alfred University, as the following outline report shows.

Ten lectures on the "Sermon on the Mount," in connection with the Summer School of 1920. The class numbered over twenty members.

Number of Students

College 43; Seminary 6; Auditors 4; Total 53 less 6 counted twice, or a total of 47 (40 College, 5 Seminary, 2 Auditors); not including the Summer School class.

Some of these students have the ministry in view; some have other forms of definite Christian work in mind; but, probably, the greater number expect to teach in college or public school.

A New Book

Chiefly by means of a liberal appropriation from the Board of Trustees of the Seventh Day Baptist Memorial Fund, of Plainfield, New Jersey, the Seminary has published an edition of about three hundred of "The Challenge of the Ministry," by the Rev. Ahva J. C. Bond, of Salem, West Virginia, Director of The New Forward Movement, of the Seventh Day Baptist General Conference. It is an attractive little book of ten challenging sermons and addresses; and has been sent, upon request, and without cost, to young people of any denomination who would read it with promptness and care. Requests have come from many parts of our country and from young people of different denominations; and copies have been sent to libraries and to other lands. This has been a sowing of good seed.

Suggested Needs

1. A better appreciation of the opportunities for great service in the Christian ministry, for young men and women who are willing to spend years in preparation for this high calling.
2. A recognition by the Church of the open doors of usefulness for adequately fitted lay-men and lay-women.
3. The realization that theology is the study of religion in the light of modern philosophy, science, and experience, a study worthy of the serious attention of all thoughtful men and women.
4. A more widespread understanding that by reason of the co-operation of our university faculties in the field of religious education, Alfred is well equipped for helping young men and women prepare for the ministry and for other kinds of Christian work.
5. Funds for placing the Gothic, the home of the seminary, in good and suitable repair.

REPORT OF DIRECTOR OF SUMMER SCHOOL

Session of 1920

The conditions in the summer session of 1920 most nearly approximated those of the winter session of the college of any session yet held. The attendance was 130, or 54% increase over that of 1919. There were many more fair-sized classes and fewer of the one and two-student variety.

In Ceramics the school was filled to capacity.

In the Rural Education, the field of the summer school's most unique service to the community, there has been a most notable increase in attendance. Under the dynamic headship of Mrs. Myrtle Garrison Bates, now supervisor of elementary schools of Chatham, New Jersey, the interest in the rural work has been more and more gripping actual and prospective rural teachers. In 1918, the first year of Mrs. Bates' work in Alfred, there were nine students in rural education; in 1919 there were twenty-six (including five who were back for their second year); in 1920 there were thirty-eight (including eleven back for their second year). In the fall of 1919, Mrs. Bates made a trip to Alfred, spending about two weeks in the vicinity visiting and counseling with her pupils of that summer who were teaching in rural schools. During the winter of 1920-21, she again came to Alfred to spend four days with the joint conference of teachers held by Superintendents Brush, Carter, and Garwood in Hornell. Both these trips she made without any compensation, her traveling and boarding expenses being met by a philanthropist friend interested in the problem of rural education. Largely owing to the vision and initiative of Mrs. Bates Alfred is a pioneer in offering a practical education that is distinctively for teachers in rural schools, a field receiving increased attention from progressive educators.

Last year it cost a few cents more than $2.50 a clock hour for summer school instruction. Instruction costs are higher in summer school than in the winter session because there is a wider variety of subjects called for and fewer students in a class. The summer school management has sought for this coming session to reduce this expense by charging a higher tuition fee to students taking classes in which there are but one or two registrations. So far as I can see, however, the summer session will never be able to run its classes so economically as they are run in the winter session.

The cost of instruction would have been much higher if the management had not succeeded in finding excellent teachers who, anxious to see a strong summer session established here, were willing to work in Alfred for much less than they could get in other summer schools. Many of the teachers, also, have taken on a number of teaching hours beyond the number any instructor, for the sake of health and efficiency, can afford to teach. Although the average number of hours which the summer school instructors are teaching is fifteen, two or three of the teachers last session were undertaking as high as twenty-four hours a week, or about twice the schedule of college instructors. In the near future the number of hours per week required of summer school teachers must be reduced and their compensation increased, if the efficiency and attractiveness of the summer session is to be maintained. The number of instructors in the 1920 session was twenty-four.

Below is a summary of the number of classes, the number of hours given, the number of instructors, and the number of students in each department:

The summer school management wishes to express its heartfelt gratitude to the board of trustees and to Treasurer Randolph, and to President Davis for their counsel and substantial support of summer school.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The following report of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds for the year 1920-21 is respectfully submitted:

The largest item of improvements and repairs during the year has been in connection with the old Chapel. The majority of this expense however, has been met by the fund accumulated from gymnasium fees. The hardwood floor in the main hall has been extended so as to increase the size of the basket-ball court. Bleachers have been placed on each side of the room which accommodate about 250 spectators without interfering with the floor space for games. Hot and cold water shower baths have been provided in locker rooms on the first floor with entrance for boys from the north end of the Chapel, and entrance for girls from the stairway on the south end.

An organization of faculty and students interested in dramatics has made improvements in rooms on the first floor of this building and a very attractive little theatre with work room, dressing rooms, etc., has been arranged.

The next largest item of expense is for decorating the Library. At the time of the building of the Library, no decoration was put on the walls. After ten years the plaster had become darkened and in many places checked, and it was necessary to repair and decorate the ceiling and walls.

The various other buildings have had minor repairs. The following statement includes the expenses laid out on the several buildings during the year, with a statement of the expenditure on the grounds chargeable to the E. Lua Babcock Fund:

Schedule 37AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Trustees of Alfred University:
Gentlemen:

I have examined the accounts and vouchers of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, and the securities held by him on June 30, 1921. The report does not include the accounts of the State Schools, nor the various Clubs.

I have verified the cash in bank by evidence of deposit; the income from securities by an examination of such securities, the income from students by an examination of the record of bills rendered by the Registrar and of the scholarship allowances granted them.

I have verified the Report of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, to which this report is annexed consisting of the Endowment Report, Schedules 1 to 9, inclusive, and the Income Report, Schedules 15 to 26 inclusive, Schedule 27 and also Schedules 28 and 29 by comparison with his accounts, and find such report correct in all respects.

The diligent efforts of our Treasurer in the collection of income, as well as the manner in which his accounts have been kept and his other duties performed are worthy of commendation.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT G. WHIPPLE, Auditor.

Dated, September 4, 1921.

Schedule 38RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Board of Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910:

1. That an Investment Committee of five be appointed by this Board to be one of the permanent Committees of the Board, and to be responsible to the Board rather than to the Executive Committee; and that this Investment Committee be instructed to make a careful study of our investments and the possibility of reinvesting such of our funds as may be deemed by it desirable, and to make such reinvestment, safeguarding the interests of the University more fully if possible, both as to the size and length of loans and as to the permanent and increasing value of property on which loans are made.

2. That a Finance Committee of at least nine members be appointed to undertake at once the raising of additional endowments and to provide for other enlargement of the equipment and efficiency of the University.

3. That a Trustee-Auditor be appointed who shall audit all principal accounts and securities as well as revenues and expenditure accounts.

BY-LAWS

Adopted by the Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910

HONORARY DEGREES

HERBERT LOCKE WHEELER, presented by Prof. Waldo A. Titsworth.

Professor Titsworth said:

Mr. President: I have the pleasure and honor of nominating for an honorary degree, Herbert Locke Wheeler, D. D. S. Dr. Wheeler is a graduate of the Philadelphia Dental College of the class of 1890. He has been a practicing dentist for thirty-one years, the past twenty-one years in New York City. For twelve years past, he has been professor of Prosthetic Dentistry at the College of Dental and Oral Surgery in New York City.

Chairman of the Journal Committee of the National Dental Association, member of the Governing Board and ex-chairman of the Executive Board of the State Dental Society, and member of other State Associations, Dr. Wheeler is a man of national eminence in the dental profession. His distinguished war services won for him a commission as Lieutenant in the Dental Corps, U. S. A. He is the author of numerous pamphlets and articles on various subjects associated with his profession.

Mr. President, in view of his distinguished services as practitioner, teacher and scientific leader in his profession, I deem it a great privilege to nominate him for the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

President Davis said:

Son of the Philadelphia Dental College, distinguished professor in the College of Dental and Oral Surgery of New York, scholar and author of many noted treatises on dental and technical subjects, philanthropist, patriot and welfare worker, Alfred welcomes you to the ranks of her honorary alumni, first on account of your personal scholarship and achievements in scientific education and public service, and also because of the fact that both your father and mother are numbered among the honored and loved alumni of this institution. By the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I gladly admit you, Herbert Locke Wheeler, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Science in this University, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining, and in token thereof, I invest you with this hood and present you with this diploma.

Herbert Locke Wheeler, son of Lyman A. and Mary M. Wheeler, was born at Corry, Pa., January 12, 1869. He was educated in the public schools of Pittsfield, Mass., and Hammonton, Pa., and at the Philadelphia Dental College and Medico-Chicago Medical School in Philadelphia. For one year he worked for John Wanamaker and Hook, Bonbright and Company. His practice of dentistry has covered ten years in Warren and Worcester, Mass., and twenty-one years in New York City. For twelve years he has been professor of Prosthetic Dentistry at the College of Dental and Oral Surgery in New York City, and director of the dental service of Bellevue and allied hospitals. His war service gained for him a commission as first lieutenant in the Dental Corps of the United States Army and included the chairmanship of the Committee of the Dental Profession which raised $75,000 for a Face and Jaw Hospital in France, and the presidency of the Examining Board which examined for commissions in the Dental Corps for the United States Army throughout the war. Duties in connection with his war work took him to France in 1914 and 1916. For some years he has served as chairman of the Journal Committee and secretary of the Legislative Committee of the National Dental Association; he is a member of the Governing Board of the State Society, and of the Dental Educational Council of America, the latter being chosen by the United States Government to rate and inspect dental colleges during the war; and also of various other dental and professional societies. His writings include articles and pamphlets in the field of dentistry and dental hygiene.

DAVID BIRDSALL CORSON, presented by Dr. Corliss F. Randolph of Newark, N. J.

Doctor Randolph said:

Mr. President: It may not be inappropriate on this occasion and in this presence to remind you of an old proverb to the effect that among the things that are worth while in this life and that abide are old wine, old books, and old friends.

Of those selected for distinguished honors on this occasion, it is indeed a very great pleasure that it is my privilege to present a man whom I have known well for more than twenty years and who has been an intimate friend for the greater part of that period.

This man is wholly the product of what may fairly be called our national system of public school education. His preparation for his life work was obtained in our public schools, and his chosen profession lies in their service. With a laudable ambition to excel in his profession he has risen steadily, step by step, until he has become the head of the public schools of a city numbering virtually half a million inhabitants, and is an outstanding figure in the public school realm of this nation.

He has developed, rationalized, and adapted to the conditions of a city of widely divergent needs certain of the most revolutionary features of modern public school administration. These activities cover all grades of the elementary and secondary schools, and even embrace the college; for he has established as an integral part of his public school system at least one of the first, if not actually the first, junior college so established in this country.

He has sought the welfare of all classes of children and has left no stone unturned to accomplish that end. He has made provision for vocational, as well as cultural education; for physical, as well as mental training; for the child who is abnormal or defective physically, as well as for the child who is sound and whole in both these respects.

In a city as cosmopolitan as any in this country, he has succeeded far beyond the fondest hopes of a quarter century ago in democratizing education, and in developing a high grade of American citizenship.

In the midst of all his administrative duties, he has not forgotten his own cultural growth, and under existing conditions has made an enviable academic record.

Because, therefore, of his lofty professional and academic attainments, I take great pleasure, Mr. President, in presenting for the degree of Doctor of Laws in this University, Doctor David Birdsall Corson, Superintendent of Public Schools in the City of Newark, New Jersey.

President Davis said:

Son of New York University, distinguished school administrator and executive, scholar and public servant, in recognition of your achievements and leadership in the field of education, Alfred University welcomes you to a place among her honorary alumni. By the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I gladly admit you, David Birdsall Corson, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in this University, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining, and in token thereof, I invest you with this hood and present you with this diploma.

David Birdsall Corson is a native of the state of New Jersey and the son of David Peacock and Mary Birdsall Corson. He is a graduate of the State Normal School, Trenton, N. J., and of New York University, where he received the degree of Ph. D. in 1913. He began his professional career in suburban schools, rose to be Superintendent of Schools of Rahway, N. J., and has held various important educational positions in Newark, N. J., finally being appointed Superintendent of Schools in 1918. Dr. Corson has ever been a popular and progressive schoolman. He organized the extra-mural collegiate and professional courses for teachers which developed into the Newark Institute of Arts and Sciences : he recommended and developed the Girls' Vocational School, continuation schools, alternating schools, junior high schools, junior college, the intensive plan of teaching manual arts, and other progressive educational projects, including extension of the all-year system of schools. He is a public speaker of force and ability and a contributor to various educational journals. Dr. Corson is an elder in the Presbyterian Church and a member of many educational and other associations. He has held various offices of importance, including the presidency of the Newark Principals' Association, the Presbyterian Union, the New Jersey Council of Education, the New York Schoolmasters' Club, the New York University Alumni Association of Northern New Jersey ; and the vice-presidency of the National Department of Superintendence.

CHARLES FRANCIS WHEELOCK, presented by Dean A. B. Kenyon.

Dean Kenyon said:

Mr. President: Twenty-eight years ago this summer, it was my privilege to meet and work with, a man with whom I formed a very pleasant friendship, which has lasted ever since.

He was a graduate of Cornell University of the class of 1873. He was a successful teacher for some years, then school commissioner of Herkimer County for three years, after which he was a high school principal for eleven years. In 1891 he was called to the employ of the Regents office in Albany, first as a senior examiner, shortly promoted to the position of inspector, which he held for some thirteen years, when he was again promoted to the office of chief of the examinations department which he held for six years. In 1910 he was made assistant commissioner of education, in charge of secondary schools of the State of New York, a position which he has since most ably held.

It gives me special pleasure, Mr. President, to present this gentleman for an honorary degree, not on the ground of my personal friendship and high esteem, but because of his ripe scholarship, his very high attainments in the cause of education, and his distinguished service to that cause in this Empire State of New York.

His forty-eight years of continuous service in the field of education, thirty of which have been in the employ of the Regents of the University of the State of New York, have proven his devotion to that cause, and shown his eminent ability and worthiness.

I therefore present Charles F. Wheelock, LL. D., for the honorary degree of Doctor of Pedagogy.

President Davis said:

Son of Cornell, scholar, successful and distinguished educator and educational executive, man of broad sympathy and deep insight into educational problems, beloved chief of the state in Secondary Education, Alfred is honored to welcome you on this occasion as the orator of the day, and now, after your inspiring and illuminating address, as an honorary alumnus of this University. By the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I gladly admit you, Charles Francis Wheelock, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Pedagogy in this University, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining, and in token thereof, I invest you with this hood and present you with this diploma.

Charles Francis Wheelock was born at Litchfield, N. Y., October 17, 1849, the son of Danford and Margaret Cummings Wheelock. He graduated from Cornell University in 1873 and received the degree of LL. D. from St. Lawrence University in 1906. He began his educational work in 1873, serving as teacher until 1876; from 1876 to 1879 he served as School Commissioner for Herkimer County, N. Y.; 1880-1891, he was High School Principal; 1891-1904, he acted as inspector in the Regents' Office in Albany; 1904-1910, he was Chief of the Examinations Division of the Educational Department for New York State; since September, 1910, he has been Second Assistant Commissioner of Education. He is a member of the National Educational Association and of various other educational societies; also of the Utica Commandery K. T. and the University Club, Albany. For forty-eight years Dr. Wheelock has served the cause of education in the state of New York, showing both executive ability and broad scholarship in the performance of his various duties. His address is: State Education Department, Albany, N. Y.

Appendix DNEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY-WORKING AND CERAMICS*DIRECTOR'S REPORT

For the year ending June 30, 1921

To the President of Alfred University,
Alfred, New York,

Sir:—The report for 1920 stated that the year then ended had been the most successful in the history of the school, but this fact has been eclipsed by the events of the present year. The student body has shown a phenomenal increase, the number of regular students being eighty-seven (87) with eight (8) college students taking special work. This is an increase of 07 percent in the regular classes, the Freshman class alone numbering thirty-five (35) members. This large enrollment has thrown a heavy strain upon the resources of the teaching force and equipment, neither of which has been increased

A certain amount of growth was to be expected and was anticipated in the last report but it was not thought that it would be of such an overwhelming nature. Plans were then formulated for securing an appropriation for additional facilities but these were denied by the legislature and in consequence the forthcoming year, with a prospective addition at least as large as that of the present involves problems of accommodation which are so serious as to become staggering.

The school must be enlarged and the teaching force increased or applicants must be refused admission. This condition is stimulating but discouraging, especially in view of the fact that while the New York State School has become the largest ceramic school in the country, the financial support is the most restricted of any.

At the University of Illinois a building has recently been erected at a cost of $150,000, while New Jersey has this year appropriated $100,000 for a new ceramic building.

It is hoped that the friends of the school will unite in a strenuous effort to secure an adequate appropriation in the next session of the legislature.

The graduating class is eleven (11) in number, five in ceramic engineering and six in applied art. Nearly all of these have secured satisfactory positions, notwithstanding the general depression under which the clay-working industries have been laboring.

Good accounts are received of the activities of the graduates of other years and it is evident that the reputation of the school stands high in the industrial world. This is further evident from the continual stream of enquiries, not only for men and women, but for assistance in all kinds of technical information and aid. These come not only from many parts of the country but from abroad.

The work of the department of ceramic engineering has proceeded along the established lines notwithstanding the crowded condition of the laboratories. Among the more pressing needs is a special laboratory for advanced work and private laboratories for the staff. It is impossible to carry on effective research work amid a crowd of students. It may be noted here that the Corning Glass Company has recently financial a research fellowship in glass, but the incumbent has elected to work at the University of Illinois.

The Department of Applied Art has maintained its excellent standing. Miss Posdick has proved herself fully capable of handling the work to which she was transferred last year and Miss Nelson's work in the classes in drawing and design has been of unusually fine quality.

The Ceramic Guild has done very good work. Miss Streeter, the manager, has been kept busy with orders and many excellent pieces of work have been produced by the students. The Guild affords an opportunity for the students to measure their powers with the commercial demand and it has proved a great source of inspiration. Miss Streeter has accepted a position for next year to teach pottery making at the Arequipa Sanitorium in California,

The American Ceramic Society of which your director is the secretary, held its annual meeting at Columbus, Ohio. This meeting was attended by Professors Bole and Shaw in addition to the director, and several papers were contributed by the staff. The local Ceramic Society sent one of their number as a delegate and several other students attended at their own charges.

The Board of Managers is as follows:

B. Sheffield Bassett	Boothe C. Davis
John J. Merrill	D. Sherman Burdick
	William R. Clarke

*The report of the Treasurer is appended.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. BINNS, Director.

Appendix ENEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE*DIRECTOR'S REPORT

For the year ending June 30, 1921

To the President of Alfred University:

Sir:—I have the honor to submit herewith the thirteenth annual report of the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University for the year ending June 30, 1921.

It is a pleasure to report that this year has been one of progress. Although the student body was not as large as in pre-war years, it was larger than last year and there has been a fine spirit of earnestness and co-operation in the various school activities.

The most prominent features of the work of the school during the past year are the further development of the extension and junior extension work; the work in Rural Teacher Training; and the increased service of the school in its co-operation with the Farm Bureaus and other agricultural associations, and with individual agriculturists.

In October, 1920, Dr. Carl E. Ladd resigned his position as Director of the school to accept a position in the Department of Farm Management of the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University. Professor Archie E. Champlin, Instructor in Chemistry and History, was appointed Acting Director to succeed Dr. Ladd.

Mr. Winfield W. F. Randolph was appointed to fill the position held by Professor Champlin. In addition to his duties as Instructor of History and Chemistry Mr. Randolph has acted in the capacity of County Leader of Junior Extension Work.

Mr. Forrest P. Nelson has filled the position as Instructor in Animal Husbandry during the past year.

Mr. Carlos C. Camenga was secured to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mr. Adelbert Sheffield as Instructor in Dairying.

Miss Angeline Wood, Head of the Home Economics Department, was granted a leave of absence at the beginning of the second term, to study at Columbia University. Miss Grace L. Cheesman has acted as Head of the Department in Miss Wood's absence, and Mrs. Agnes K. Clarke has acted as Assistant in the Home Economics work.

Rehabilitation Work With Disabled Soldiers

The school has co-operated in every way possible during the past year with the Federal Board for Vocational Education in the rehabilitation of our disabled soldiers. Fifteen ex-soldiers have been enrolled for regular work in Agriculture and it is expected that this work will continue another year.

Commencement

Commencement was held this year on March 29, and the festivities were attended by a large number of alumni and guests. The meetings were most enthusiastic.

The most significant feature of this year's Commencement was the unveiling of the War Heroes Memorial. The memorial, which was placed on the east wall of Agricultural Hall, is a bronze tablet upon which are inscribed the names and numerals of those N. Y. S. A. boys who sacrificed their lives in the World War. The dedication and unveiling of this memorial by President Davis was most impressive and significant.

A class of nineteen young men and women was graduated. The names of the graduates follow:

Extension Work

Many lines of extension work have been carried on and developed by the various instructors of the school, and the results of this work are most satisfying.

Last fall the school put up an exhibit at each of the following County Fairs: Hornell, Angelica and Cuba. Each day demonstrations of various kinds of work were conducted by some member of the school staff.

A phase of extension work which has been participated in this year to a greater extent than ever before is the assistance which the school has rendered at country school fairs and entertainments. On such occasions the representatives of the school provide a part of the entertainment and act as judges of the school exhibits. The major part of this work has been conducted by Miss Bennett, Head of the Rural Teacher Training Department, and in each case she has been assisted in this work by two or more members of the Rural Teacher Training Class.

The school has co-operated in every way possible with the Farm Bureau Associations, and especially in their work in the organization of the Holstein-Friesian and Ayrshire Calf Club Associations. The purpose of these clubs is to incite greater interest in the raising of pure bred cattle.

Junior Extension Work

The Junior Extension work in Allegany and Steuben counties has seen a marked growth during the past year. There have been over seven hundred enrollments in Junior Project work. Arrangements have been made with five District Superintendents in Allegany and six in Steuben county whereby the project workers in these two counties are under the supervision of both the District Superintendent and the Junior Project Leader.

This spring the State School of Agriculture offered to each project worker who was interested in potato raising a peck of certified seed potatoes free of charge. Nearly every project worker responded to this offer, which gave evidence of a real interest in the work.

Potato judging exhibits and demonstrations were given at the county and state fairs by teams of potato project workers, who were chosen by the county leader because of the excellent quality of their work.

Through the closer supervision of the Junior Project work, and the increased funds available for travel through the Smith-Lever aid, real growth and progress of the work is anticipated for the coming year.

Farm and Home Week

The annual Farm and Home Week was held this year on November 10, 11 and 12, instead of in the spring as in former years. The speakers were good, and the usual Poultry, Fruit and Potato Show were held with splendid success. However, the week was marked by an unusually small attendance, due to the fact that the majority of farmers had not yet finished their fall work, thus making it impossible for them to leave the farm to be present at the various sessions of Farm and Home Week. It is therefore deemed advisable to schedule the next Farm and Home Week in March as in previous years.

Annual Stock Judging Contest

The Seventh Annual Stock Judging Contest was held in connection with the Interscholastic Track Meet on May 18th. The following high schools contested: Addison, Belfast, Belmont, Cherry Creek, Castile, Canisteo, Dansville, Horseheads, Hammondsport, Haverling, Westfield, Cuba, Avoca, Alfred. Westfield won first place in Class A, and Cuba was first in Class B. The second places in classes A and B were won by Horseheads and Avoca, respectively. The 1921 Stock Judging Contest was the largest in the school's history.

Supervised Summer Work

The school is again supervising the summer work of the students. All regular students in Agriculture are required to work on a farm approved by the school during the six summer months and during this time the student is required to keep records for the school and is visited several times during the summer by members of the school faculty. The value of this summer work in correlating the theoretical work of the school with the practical work on the farm is evident.

Federal Aid From Smith-Hughes and Smith-Lever

The school has had during the past year a fund of $500 of Federal money appropriated by the Smith-Lever fund to be used for extension purposes. An additional $75 has been appropriated for use the coming year.

The school has also had the use of Smith-Hughes aid for teachers of Agricultural subjects, thus making the salaries more attractive. The school will have the Smith-Hughes aid again next year.

Rural Teacher Training

As noted in the Director's report of June, 1920, a course in Rural Teacher Training was to be organized at the school in October.

While the enrollment this year was small, the course has met with sufficient approval from the State Department that a similar course is to be instituted in the other special schools as soon as arrangements can be made to care for it. It seems reasonable to expect a much larger class for next year.

*A financial report for the year is appended.

Respectfully submitted,

A. E. CHAMPLIN, Acting Director.
