

HARRIER SQUAD ENDS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Too often is Alfred guilty of allowing the accomplishments of its teams go into the records without credit to those who brought victory and honor and glory to the Purple and Gold. By this time the victory of the Saxon Harriers in the Middle Atlantic's Championship Race is old news. To fail to give to the members of the team the recognition they deserve would be unfair. Had that team counted on the Alfred student body to provide the stimulus to win races the season would have been a string of defeats. The day before the team left for their last race a bonafide student of Alfred asked one of the team how they "made out" with Army. The 26-29 defeat of the Army by Alfred became even more significant when the Cadets easily defeated a strong U. of Pittsburgh team the following Friday and then went on to defeat the newly crowned New England Champions—U. of New Hampshire the next week. The Middle Atlantic victory becomes more gratifying to all concerned when it is noted that Manhattan finished a half dozen points ahead of Cornell in the I. C. 4A meet the week before. For the members of the Alfred team this removes some of the sting from the early season defeat by the Moakley-men.

Despite the previously referred to indifference of the student body toward one of the greatest teams in Alfred's history, the morals of the team was ever the finest. The entire squad had a spirit that was above petty differences, personal jealousy, and fraternity rivalry. It was this spirit which carried them on to win the Middle Atlantic against almost unbeatable odds. No other Alfred team has ever won the Middle Atlantic twice in succession. Alfred had won it but once previous to this victory. Back in post war days a great Lafayette College team under Capt. Crawford, and coached by Harold Anson Bruce, won it three times in a row. That

STUDENT LIFE COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES CHANGE

At a recent meeting of the Student Life Committee it was decided for the Student Life Committee to make it its policy to grant Thursday night dancing privileges to any organization whose plan it was to conduct an all college dance. The granting of the dates is to be left to the discretion of the calendar committee, with the understanding that not more than eight are to be granted during the college year.

This has been done in a co-operative spirit. Previous to this, dates for Thursday night dances have been refused owing to the fact that there was such a great amount of cutting done the following day, resulting in a loss academically.

The committee feels that if there is wholesale cutting following these dances, it will be necessary to stop the privilege.

The committee took into consideration the fact that social privileges are quite often confined to only a small group of campus people. This is a measure adopted in the hope that those who have previously been unable to entertain as they wished, will now be able to do so.

The College Calendar as it stands now has provision for forty-one dances. These dates include those held by the fraternities and sororities and those held by the Kanakadea Committee, Phi Sigma Gamma and the Junior class.

DR. SAUNDERS GIVES AIR DEMONSTRATION

Dr. Paul Saunders, head of the Chemistry Department, gave several Liquid Air demonstrations last week in upper New York state.

On Wednesday, he was at Tupper Lake, where he gave demonstrations before the Tupper Lake High School, The War Veterans' Hospital, the Tupper Lake Rotary Club, and the Plattsburgh Discussion Group. Thursday he spent at Keesville High School, Plattsburgh High School and Rouses Point High School; and on Friday at the high schools of Potsdam and Gouverneur.

CERAMIC SOCIETY ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

The next meeting of the Ceramic Society will be called on Dec. 9, for the purpose of showing the moving picture "Electric Heat in Industry".

A program has been outlined by the Society, showing briefly its future plans. Other features will be added such as comedies and sceneries.

The pictures scheduled are as follows:

- Dec. 9—Electric Heat in Industry.
- Jan. 13—The Potters Wheel Automatic Substations for Edison Three Wire System
- Jan. 27—The Greater Campus
- Feb. 25—The Wizardry of Wireless
- Mar. 10—Big Deeds
- Mar. 24—Hydroelectric Power
- Apr. 7—General Electric Enameling Furnaces.

SIGMA CHI NU PARTY

Girls of Sigma Chi Nu Sorority inaugurated their social calendar of the year last Wednesday night, when they entertained at an informal Thanksgiving Eve dancing party from 8:00 o'clock until midnight. Approximately 50 couples were in attendance.

A simple and yet unique scheme of decoration provided a feeling of coziness. Clustered candles in colonial-style floor standards, set at intervals around the room, with their amber glow created this effect.

Mrs. Grace Santee, Miss Eva Ford, Miss Marie Cheval, Professor A. D. Bond, Mrs. Jennie Camp, Miss Jeanette Ingersall and Alumnae Miss Corinne Adams and Miss Louise Twohill were guests of the evening.

THE COLLEGIATE

"What's yours? We have everything from A to Z—and almost as many managements!"

The Collegiate Restaurant was opened over fifteen years ago by Mr. Peck, who sold it to Mr. Hulbert. From him it passed into the hands of Andrew Dromazos, who held it for several years. He now operates the Plaza Restaurant in Hornell. The Collegiate then went to Jimmy Jamison, a brother of the recent owner. "George" (no other name available) was the next owner.

Thus, in July 1926, Charlie Jamison bought the Collegiate and ran it until this summer when it was sold to Nick Maraitis, the present proprietor.

If "Variety is the spice of life", then the Collegiate should be about the best place one could find. At least there's been plenty of variety in owners!

At any rate, the Collegiate, until the advent of the "lunch car" owned by Tiny Lamphere, has been the sole place where students might drop in for a bit of refreshment.

The Collegiate has undergone several improvements in decoration, especially since Mr. Jamison took it over.

The slogan among Alfred students has been for many years and probably will be as long as the restaurant exists. "Meet me at the Collegiate!"

STEINHEIM MUSEUM SECOND OLDEST IN COUNTRY

All that most of us remember in connection with the traditions of the Steinheim is that in the past and present it has figured in romantic moments of unnumbered Alfred students; but now a letter from The Director of the American Association of Museums, Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C., tells us that it has another distinction. It is the second oldest museum on a college campus in the United States.

Formerly a building on the Harvard campus was the oldest, and Peabody Museum at Yale ranked second. Now the Yale building has been demolished to make room for a new building, and our own Steinheim has that distinction.

The Steinheim was completed in 1870, although the main part was probably built before 1870. It was constructed of many kinds of local stones and finished on the interior with a variety of local woods. Jonathan Allen, President of Alfred from 1867 to 1892, built it after the pattern of a castle in Germany. It appears from his writings that geological collections were being made as early as 1873.

Here and there its rugged sides are scratched with initials, dates, and other symbols which make it stand clearly in the memories of hundreds of those men and women who have called Alfred their Alma Mater. Its traditions, its age, and its rugged outline silhouetted against the dark background of Pine Hill, make it one of the most distinguishing features of Alfred's campus.

CAST FOR SKIDDING PICKED BY CLUB

"Skidding" by Aurania Rouverol, a three act comedy, to be presented by the Footlight Club December 15, deals with the problems of modern life as they arise in the domestic affairs of a large family.

The plot is built around the political fight Judge Hardy wages to be renominated for the judgeship of the District Court of Idaho, and the political aspirations of his daughter, Marion Hardy. Interwoven with this are the difficulties encountered by Marion in her love affairs with Wayne Trenton, who objects to her interest in political affairs. Much of the humor is supplied by the escapades of Andy, the young son of the family.

JUNIOR FOLLIES SEEKS TALENT

Director Dante Vezzoli of this year's Junior Follies requests that anyone in the college having any stage talent whatsoever, report for general try-outs in Kenyon Hall, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, between 7 and 9 P. M.

If you can play, dance, sing, chatter or entertain in any way, do not be hesitant about offering your talents.

Let us make this year's follies the best yet! Think it over. You may be an Eddie Cantor or a Marilyn Miller.

BRICK ENTERTAINS AT OPEN HOUSE

Saturday evening the Brick open house sounded a gay note in the fall social season. The halls and living rooms on the main floor were arranged and decorated for dancing; the effect of the decorative scheme was that of a late autumn garden; dashes of warm colors and sprigs of autumn leaves peeped from a rich background of evergreen boughs. The occasion inaugurated the proudest possession of the Brick, its recently acquired "radio-vic", which supplied the party with a varied and lively program of dance music.

About thirty of the Brick girls enjoyed dancing privileges and in addition there were various guests. Chaperones for the evening were Mrs. Middaugh and Prof. and Mrs. Wingate.

Dorothy Davit, Helen Smathers and Juliet Drabkin comprised the committee in charge of general arrangements.

WRESTLING PRACTICE OFFICIALLY STARTED

The failure of Ghetto to return to school this year has left the 115 lb. class wide open with no prospects of a similar powerful performer to take his place. Excluding possible frosh developments, Wheeling, TenBroeck, or Benza might fill the gap. The 175 lb. class has also been left vacant with the graduation of Ted Flint. This division will probably be in circulation between Cleaves, Bevacqua, and Greenstein.

Vezzoli will probably have undisputed claim to the 125 lb. class, in which he showed some smart grappling last year. In the 135 lb. group Warde will probably repeat his success of last year. Davidson and Felli are the likely contestants for the 145 class, while Grantier will no doubt see action in the 155 lb. group. Graham will match his brain and brawn with the 165 pounders, while Lockwood will probably fill the unlimited division.

The schedule will open at Alfred on January 9th, when the tough Mechanics squad will invade the Davis Track and Field House.

MRS. HILLS ENTER-TAINS HARRIERS

Mrs. John H. Hills, proprietress of the Coffee Shoppe, entertained the Alfred Cross Country team and their guests at dinner last Tuesday evening, fulfilling her promise of a dinner in the event that they were victorious in the Middle Atlantic. The guests were the Misses Virginia Richter, Elizabeth Champlin, Josephine Partridge, Miriam Walton, Dorothy H. Eaton, Mary Swan, Betty Rogers and Mrs. James McLeod, Messrs. Hughes, Lyons, Razey, Wessels, TenBroeck, Vance, Giller and Chaplain McLeod. The members of the team gratefully appreciate Mrs. Hills' hospitality and interest in Alfred.

Varsity PRACTICE STARTS SEASON

Varsity basketball practice got under way during the past week with about twenty candidates going through preliminary drills preparatory to vieing for the several vacant positions.

Coach Galloway first gave the men a talk in which he stressed the chance of each man to make the team in view of there being no outstanding stars, and therefore no men certain of obtaining a position without first working hard for it.

With these assuring words from their mentor, the squad lost no time going to work and showed considerable ability plus energy. At the end of their workout periods the various members seemed reluctant to leave the court and stayed around practicing their pivots, steps, blocks and shots. It is this enthusiasm which leads observers to predict that the Saxons will be a tough nut to crack.

Frosh basketball also got under way during the past week, with about 35 enthusiastic yearlings reporting to Coach McLane for preliminary fundamental drills and calisthenics. This is by far the largest squad of freshman hopefuls to turn out since the "fighting frosh" of 1927, and much is expected of them. Among them are several former stellar performers of various high school court teams. If Coach McLane can shape them up and whip them into a team, most anything is liable to happen.

The schedule is still in the making but no doubt with the moulding of the team, suitable opponents will be booked, and the future of Alfred on the court for the next few years will be told.

FROSH DORMS TIE FOR X-COUNTRY TROPHY

The Ferguson Intramural Cross Country race resulted in a tie between Bartlett Dorm and Burdick Hall, twice winner in the past. If Burdick Hall had won this time, the plaque would have remained permanently in their possession. As it is, they have two and a half shares in this prized trophy. The Bartlett distance mentor, Sam White, led the Burdick Hall ace; Burt Grape, by a comfortable margin, upsetting all the dope sheets on the race. The final tally gave Bartlett and Burdick 14 apiece, and Kappa Psi 18.

Sam White's victory over Grape was one of the surprises of the race for Grape has previously beaten White in two races. Also, Parente, a comparative newcomer to the trying sport of cross country, showed much improvement by placing well up in front.

The purpose of this race has been to develop future cross country teams. In the past, it has served very well as a proving ground for the frosh and, also, in giving them experience in running race competition, which is usually stiffer than practice.

Summary:

1. White, Bartlett
2. Grape, Burdick
3. Barton, Kappa Psi
4. Parente, Burdick
5. Patterson, Kappa Psi
6. Brooks, Bartlett
7. Donnelly, Bartlett
8. Bampton, Burdick
9. Comstock, Bartlett
10. Brush, Kappa Psi

EDITORIALS

What wonderful college spirit was displayed by the student body last week when the news came of the victory over Manhattan and Union and the other contenders in the Middle Atlantic, what boundless enthusiasm and cheers and marvelous welcome greeted the team when they returned from their trip Tuesday morning. Even the bonfire that was scheduled as celebration failed to materialize due to some unknown but too well felt feature of the attitude of the student body. Much has been said about college spirit in connection with football and there has been a change for the better in that case, but, if football deserves the support of the student body and its enthusiasm, cross country certainly deserves ten times the support accorded to football. Cross country is not as spectacular a sport as the grid game, but it takes just as much courage and stamina and that intangible will to win as any game that was ever played on a white lined field.

Within a few weeks the fraternities will be sending out their bids through the Inter-fraternity Council. Many freshmen are probably certain of the house to which they want to belong and there are, doubtless, others who have not reached any such stage in their choice, but there is one thing that should be remembered by all before accepting a bid. Is it the house that you as a college student will want to point to with pride and say "I belong up there"? Is it the group of fellows that you'll want to be with for the remainder of your college life, and your life after college?

HUMOR

"Mahatma Gandhi visited Buckingham Palace in his loincloth and shawl today and had a friendly, five minute talk with India's King and Emperor."

As Groucho Marx would have it:

This program, ladies and gentlemen, is coming to you through the courtesy of the National Biscuit Company over the Leavenworth Chain. I have just received a telegram from the Postal Telegraph Co., stating that Mahatma Gandhi was seen entering the grounds of Buckingham Palace in a loincloth. But did he? No, my friends, he entered the grounds of Maxwell House in a Dinner-Mercedes, and, confidentially, he came before supper because he came after supper. And this, dear children, gives me an opportunity to speak of the bargains we are offering in milk. Why, if you only realize it, our milk department uses more water per month than any other industry in the city, and if the milk is blue, you have my personal guarantee that it's these long, dull evenings that make the cows depressed.

But if you don't like this program, ladies and gentlemen, write us, or wire us—or you can even phone us, prepaid, of course, if you want to. We receive daily letters from people in every quarter, but we have yet to receive a quarter from any people, and I can only say in conclusion, that I believe in this Gandhi. As Ethel Barrymore so cleverly puts it, "What this country needs is more Gandhi and less tobacco,"—and that brings me to the merits of our cigars. Don't ever forget, my friends, there's one thing you'll find about each and every one of our cigars, and that's the wrapper. Harpo Marx, whose foot has gone to sleep, will maim you now with a vocal duet, entitled, 'Awake, me Sole!'

ALUMNI

ALUMNUS OF ALFRED BECOMES COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Jay W. Crofoot '95, was formally inaugurated as president of Milton College, in Milton, Wisconsin, November 24, 1931, though he has been in office since September. Among those who took part in the exercises were the governor of Wisconsin, Honorable Philip LaFollette and President Davis.

Preceding the exercises faculty, trustees, visiting presidents of various colleges and other distinguished visitors took part in an academic procession. A banquet followed the program.

President Crofoot has spent a period of thirty years in Shanghai, China, as teacher, translator and administrator. He performed a service of distinction in this field and gave up his work not without great regret, to answer the urgent call of Milton to its presidency.

Mrs. Crofoot (Hannah Larkin) is also a graduate of Alfred—in the class of '98. Both Mr. and Mrs. Crofoot bring to their new task qualities of character, personality and experience, which promises much for their success. Their many friends welcome them most cordially back to residence in America, and extend hearty congratulations on this inaugural event.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Clark Corson announced the birth of a son, Richard Powell, born November 2, 1931. Mrs. Corson was formally Elizabeth Ayars '22.

EXCHANGES

The Colgate Maroon: Princeton University has plans for a $400,000 university center for undergraduates. This building will have accommodations for the Athletic Associations as well as student publications. The purpose of this center is to afford a gathering place for students, the need of which Princeton has long felt.

The Colgate Maroon: At last the value of extra-curricular activities is being acknowledged. Among other colleges, the Milton faculty has adopted a plan whereby worth while extra-curricular activities of the students will have official recognition with "service credits".

The Reserve Weekly: The first international collegiate radio debate is to take place next month, when orators from Harvard and Oxford universities will engage in exchanging arguments through ether across 3,000 miles of ocean.

The Reserve Weekly: Transfer students at the University of Southern California whose fraternities have no local chapter there have organized a social group known as "The Stray Greeks".

We were glad to have Billy Nichols, Frances Cody and Erma Burdick as dinner guests last Tuesday evening.

What fun we had moving furniture for the party Wednesday night. We hope everyone had a good time. And that ain't all. Will there be some bad falls when semester credit hours come out? We all overslept Friday morning. It was a time of Thanksgiving.

Open house Saturday night, Mrs. Santee chaperoned.

Now is the time to give a big rousing cheer for Alfred's winning team! Cross Country!

The Brick

It seemed great to see Polly Martin back for the week-end. Come again, Polly!

Spring's coming! Mrs. Middaugh found enough flowers for a bouquet! Is it?

"Cunie" Barry was a guest of "Ted" Redmond, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Seidlin and son John, were dinner guests, Sunday.

Ruth Kenyon, "Greg" Grow and Georgiana Kennedy were the guests of Maxine Armstrong, Sunday night.

Helen Parry, Billy Nichols and Lucille Alsworth were among those who took the trip to Willard, Friday.

Among those home for the week-end were Katherine Greening, Ruth Smalley, Lucile Bailey, Betty Hyde, Christine DeVore, Betty Simpson, Mary Chamberlain, Doris Coats, Martha Cornish, Kay Johnson, Thelma Brasted, Ruth Harrington, Mary Curry, and Eleanor Witter.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Tyle and son spent Thursday and Friday in Alfred, visiting their daughter, Eleanor Van-Tyle '35.

Nina Thompson entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Friday.

Jane Hawk, Gene Marshall, Laura Williams, and Margaret McCulloch were dinner guests of Clara Benson, again Sunday.

Quite a few girls remained at the Brick for Thanksgiving.

Myrtle Klem '31, was a guest at the informal dance Saturday night.

Fraternities

Kappa Psi Upsilon

Nice partys Brick and Pi Alpha.

With the arrival of the snow storm the boys put on their mountaineer costumes and act as such.

Getz, Lawrence, Perry and Beeton were back for a visit over the week-end.

Even if the holiday had been a huge success—May we hereafter be spared the necessity of spending our Thanksgivings in Puritanical fashion.

Some of us, though, did escape. Reports on our homeland, we know, shall make these three weeks the harder to bear.

Not the depression this time—but Rosy is alleged to have spent some time in the Infirmary, following an encounter with the Wolf.

Great going, Varsity!

Beta Phi Omega

We are pleased to announce the formal initiation of Clarence E. Dungan to membership.

Whiteman and Palmieri left for parts unknown, Friday. We hope to see them in classes Monday morning.

Professor Burdick and several Freshmen were entertained at the house last Monday night. Refreshments were served and original campus motion pictures were shown.

Capowski is still waiting for a certain letter from that certain party.

Nice going, cross country!

Delta Sigma Phi

We are pleased to announce the pledging of Francis Gagliano.

Vance, Warde, Hughes and Ten-Broeck came back from New York on Tuesday, bringing with them the proverbial bacon, in the form of the Middle Atlantic title. Actions speak louder than words. Congratulations, team!

Green, Gaulrapp, Gagliano, and Harwood went up to Buffalo with the Senior engineers, to learn all about ceramics. That is, what they didn't all ready know.

Accept our congratulations for nice parties, everyone. This excludes Fisher's Fun Farm.

Klan Alpine

Brothers James Coe and Harold Gullbergh, who are doing graduate work in Cornell, spent the week-end at the House.

Brother Ralph French, a student in the Cornell Agricultural College, spent Friday at the House.

Also, Brothers "Beany" Adams and "Kling" Anderson dropped in on us during the week.

Brothers Prof. Amberg, Flint, DeLaney, Nobbs, and Lockwood spent the week-end in Buffalo and vicinity, visiting the various Ceramic industries.

Congratulations, Cross Country, for winning the Middle Atlantic Championship. Klan wishes you success and good luck in your western trip. Nice parties, sororities.

Infirmary Notes

It has been a very busy week for the Infirmary, judging by the list of those injured.

Joseph DiTrollo came as a result of a heart attack. John McLean and William Rosenberg both suffered from head injuries received at the gym.

Dorothy B. Eaton stayed at the Infirmary from Wednesday morning until Thursday morning, to rest.

Lou Graham has been receiving medical treatment for an alkali burn in the corner of his eye.

Chester Davies is now staying at the Infirmary, because of a fever. His case has not been diagnosed as yet.

NOTICE

The German Club will meet Thursday night at 7 o'clock, in the German room. Professor Buchanan will give a short talk on "Wunderbare Reisen und Abenteuer" by Baron von Muenchhausen.

THETA THETA CHI OPEN HOUSE

Theta Theta Chi observed a gala holiday, Thursday, culminating in its Thanksgiving supper dance in the evening. A feature of the party was the innovation of a new R. R. O. combination radio-vic; this machine furnished the music for the evening. The house glowed in a friendly atmosphere thoroughly in keeping with the informality of the day.

Miss Hewitt chaperoned the festivities of the evening. Hilda Crandall, Ruth Norwood, Margaret Bedell, Frances Cody and Felice Menz were Theta Chi's guests for the occasion. Other guests and alumnae, present were, Zara Sheheen, Mary Rogers, Ruth Marley, Brownie Allen and Dot Hallock.

The Reserve Weekly: At the University of North Carolina warnings have been issued to more than 1,000 students who were found to be either below the passing mark or on the border line. This number represents well over one-third of the student body. The abolishment of compulsory attendance is quoted as the cause of this record failure.

PI ALPHA PI PARTY

Pi Alpha Pi held its informal party of the season in Social Hall last Wednesday evening. Music was furnished by Clayton Fattley's orchestra.

Mary Swan was chairman of the entertainment committee.

Chaperones and guests for the evening included Prof. and Mrs. Harder, Prof. and Mrs. Amberg, Prof. and Mrs. Rice, Prof. Crandall and Miss Harris, Coach and Mrs. McLane, Betty Swarthout, Betty Mitchell, Katherine Chamberlain, Katherine Dramazos, Margaret Folsing, Dorothea Snyder and Ruth Smalley.

Refreshments were served during intermission.

The St. Bona Venture: A large "Grid-graph" was installed in the Columbia University gym for a play-by-play description of the Columbia-Cornell game. A system of lights indicated all plays as they took place at the game at Ithaca, N. Y. Football spirit was brought out by cheer leaders and a section of the band, which played in the gym during the half.

★ Is Mr. Montgomery's Statement Paid For?

You may be interested in knowing that not one cent was paid to Mr. Montgomery to make the above statement. Mr. Montgomery has been a smoker of LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes for 6 or 7 years. We hope the publicity herewith given will be as beneficial to him and to M-G-M, his producers, as his endorsement of LUCKIES is to you and to us.

SIDE LINE SLANTS

With the Alfred football season completed our interests in gridiron combats is purely synthetic and maintained through the medium of the ether. We listened aghast to the downfall of Notre Dame before the onslaught of an inspired Army eleven, catching snatches of the fifty-fifth battle between Yale and Princeton in which a Boothless Bulldog trampled a Tame Tiger to a 51-14 defeat. Stanford came out of the West with a one hundred piece band and a whale of an attack to defeat a bewildered Green team from Dartmouth. They wore green and were green so far as ability to solve the Warner attack was concerned.

The Side Line Slants will now be made from the court. Coach Galloway lost some great players last June, and the outlook is not bright. Around the veterans, Captain Gagliano, Lou Obourn, and Don Dickens, a team must be built. Last years freshmen should contribute much. Clark, Di-Candia, Henning, and Chan Young look like prospects.

Coach McLane should have one of the best freshmen teams ever to play under his tutelage. Many ex-high and prep school stars have already started to play.

Wrestling should come into its own in the first year as a major sport. The schedule although short in meets is spread over a long season. Captain Felli, Grantier, Graham, Lockwood, Vezzoli, Davidson, and Benza are among the veterans to return.

Indoor track will claim the attention of some. A meet is pending with University of Rochester in their fine new gym on the River campus. It is expected that some will participate in the games at Buffalo, where pre-Olympic trials and A. A. U. championships will be held.

To the Editor:—

Inasmuch as Mr. Rosebush is not a member of the present student body, nor has attended any of the joint student-faculty meetings, nor understands this situation of several weeks past, he cannot be too severely criticized. On the other hand, one who is removed from any event is in no fair position to judge it with any great degree of intelligence.

In the first instance I differ widely on the point that the student body represented by "all the fraternities and other intermittent political associations" acted without any "valid rhyme, reason or excuse." To one who is not a student it is difficult to convey to him the feeling of unrest and dissatisfaction that has been simmering in the student body for the past three or four years. The existing inconvenience four weeks ago merely precipitated that feeling.

Previously the students, in order to make the best of things, had to have a "good American sense of humor." But even humor can be pressed to the breaking point.

Due to this lack of understanding Mr. Rosebush fails to appreciate what the students of Alfred University are striving for. They are not seeking notoriety, nor are they setting up a new form of communism. Nor is anyone understudying Hitler to keep the students at odds with the faculty, administration and trustees. The students believe that the points discussed in the recent student-faculty meetings were largely responsible for the coerced suspension of school. However, they further and firmly believe that if a happy medium were attained in regard to these differences and proposals that a very definite constructive and progressive measure would be realized by Alfred in relation to other American Colleges. Heretofore no means for a representative arbitration committee had been provided. Nothing was properly presented, and no understandings were arrived at. The relative merits of proposals were dormant. Now, a step has been taken in the right direction. With a group representative of the entire student body and the faculty the chances for a repetition of the past demonstration will be considerably lessened.

The students want to make Alfred a college that they can be proud of. "Collegiate pride" does help in gaining a livelihood. If, from striving to attain this ideals the students acquire the name "rebels", they can be justly proud of their sobriquet. In the closing paragraph of Mr. Rosebush's letter he makes a magnanimous assumption. However, when the other side of the picture is viewed such arrogance may prove to be quite irrational.

In looking over the records of past years of the Student Branch of the American Ceramic Society one notices that in 1928, the organization started the year with 72 paid memberships. The memberships enlarged until at the end of the year the total was nearly 100.

To-day with the total enrollment in the Ceramic Engineering courses greatly increased, one finds that at the first of November there are but 25 paid memberships even though the dues for the year are only half of what they were in 1928.

One then decides to look further into the situation. In the good old days, all of these members came to every affair of the Society and enjoyed it. Actual record shows that they had less to go to than the Society does today. Frequently they saw the same picture twice.

In this new era with a new and greater Ceramic School in the making even the paid members do not think it worth while to attending meetings. The men who were in those early meetings are the backbone of the greater Ceramic movement that is in progress in Alfred. As students what are you doing?

In 1928, the Social Hall did not exist, talking pictures had not been introduced, men went to college to learn something about ceramics or to take a liberal arts course. Is one again being confronted with the new overshadowing the old order of things?

Then let one hear a little less of "other Ceramic Schools can place their men in ceramics why can't N. Y. S. S. C. C." The industry is not looking for social secretaries. Over at Rutgers the Ceramic Society is doing things, down at North Carolina State, over at Ohio State, out at Illinois; or anywhere else the men are being placed in industry.

"For, where your heart is, there will you be also." The motto of Carnegie Institute of Technology and of Andrew Carnegie is "My heart is in the work". Where is yours?

An Engineer

Swarthmore Phoenix: Another result of the depression is the present movement under way at the University of Arizona; an attempt to make the co-eds share equally the expense of their dates. This divided payment plan is in operation at present at Annapolis, West Point, University of Pittsburgh, and several other institutions.

The St. Bona Venture: Two serious cases of "Athlete's Foot" were uncovered recently at Temple University, when football players reported for equipment. One of the applicants asked for a size 17 shoe, while the other took a 15.

The St. Bona Venture: "What's wrong with the students?" will be the topic of general discussion at a faculty student conference arranged by representatives of Oregon State College, Reed College, and the University of Oregon.

The Campus of Allegany: Four Haverford students expected to attend the recent Haverford-Susquehanna game, but they never got there because the owner of the Model T Ford in which they were riding received a good offer for the car "enroute" and sold out.

HARRIER SQUAD ENDS SEASON

feat has never been duplicated and Alfred has most closely approached it.

What of next year's prospects? From the present team, Captain Hughes, Les Vance and Steve Warde, consistent performers and mainstays in two championships will be lost. Such a loss is certain to be felt. These men have run their last Cross Country race for Alfred, but don't be surprised to see them all better their previous performances in track next spring. The nucleus for next year's team will be the already seasoned veterans—Razey, Ten Broeck and Lyons. These men have the experience and ability to keep Alfred out in front next year. Wessels and Tolbert have shown constant improvement and should win places on next year's team. Cibella, a veteran of the good freshman squad of '29, experienced difficulty in rounding into condition after a year lay-off but should be up there next year. From the Freshman squad White, Stephens, Donnelly, Brooks, and several others have shown ability. Grape, a transfer from Iowa has shown well over the short distances and should develop the necessary endurance to make the varsity squad.

No one would be so optimistic as to forecast another championship, with Manhattan boasting an IC4A freshman championship this year, and all three of the great front runners of this year's varsity returning. Hard work and team spirit is ever the recipe for victory. We know that Alfred's Cross Country team in any year is always an aggregation of which to be proud. Next year's team will be no exception in that respect.
