

Eclipse of the Alfred Sun

The Alfred Sun ceased publication in late June 1970 (front page of June 25, 1970 pictured) but was resurrected in June 1973. During the three-year "eclipse" of the Sun in Alfred, the region experienced the devastating Flood of 1972. The Sun aims to fill a gap in its historic archives by soliciting stories of readers' memories of the Flood of 1972 for a 50th anniversary supplement in June 2022.

The Flood of '72

Hurricane Agnes devastated Southern Tier 49 years ago

By DAVID L. SNYDER
Editor and Publisher

ALMOND—Forty-nine years ago this week will forever be a landmark in time in the Alfred-Almond Community along with most of the Southern Tier.

For six consecutive days from June 20-25, 1972, the sun did not shine. Tropical storm Agnes parked over the Upstate New York region, dumping as much as 14 inches of rain. Creeks and rivers overflowed and the raging water wreaked havoc throughout its path.

June 1972 became the Northeast's wettest month on record, as the twelve-state region averaged 8.29 inches of precipitation, more than twice its average 3.86 inches. Precipitation for the period from June 20-25, 1972 in Alfred was 13.24 inches, an even 14 inches in Wellsville.

In New York, 24 lives were lost (two of them in Almond) and damage totaled more than $280 million. More than 100,000 people were evacuated from their homes (including all in the Village of Almond) in what was termed the worst flood in the history of New York state. Approximately 17,000 homes were damaged or destroyed, the majority downstream in the Corning and areas.

But to check the Alfred Sun archives, however, it's as if the Flood of 1972 never happened. The Flood occurred during an "eclipse" of The Alfred Sun. You see, the Sun ceased publication in late June 1970 and was not published for three years. It was resurrected in June 1973, a year after the flood.

The Sun aims to fill its archives with an historic record of the Flood of 1972 with a special supplement to be

Dr. Chambliss works toward positive change in policing

ALFRED—Since taking on the role of chief diversity officer of the Alfred State Police Academy last year, Dr. Mel Chambliss has been working hard to make positive changes in the policing profession.

In one recent example, Chambliss served as a panelist during a community police forum at Mansfield University, which "provided an opportunity for the public and police to share concerns, ideas, and recommendations for improving the relationship between the police and the citizens they serve," according to a description of the event.

Also serving as panelists were Mansfield University Chief of Police and Director of the Mansfield University Police Academy Scott Henry; Tioga County Commissioner and member of the Pennsylvania State Law Enforcement Advisory Commission Erick Coolidge; Wilmington Delaware Police Retired Lieutenant and Community Policing Expert Dan Selekman; Chief of Wellsboro Police Department Jim Bodine; and Mansfield Borough Council member Will Schlosser. Moderating the panel were the TRIO Director at Mansfield University

Kim Shelton, and the Chair of the Diversity & Inclusion Council at Mansfield University Nichole Book.

Chambliss noted that he participated in the forum as a representative of two agencies, since he is the chief diversity officer of the Alfred State Police Academy, as well as a member of the Advisory Board and lead collaborator of the Pennsylvania Community Safety Alliance. According to the organization's website, the goal of the Alliance "is to equip officers in Pennsylvania law enforcement with enhanced skills based in empathy, equity, and human relationship, and to provide the support officers need to ensure that the people of Pennsylvania flourish in safe and secure environments."

"My goal in working with both organizations is to bring about a change in how police academy participants are educated and given the opportunity better understand their obligation to the communities they serve," Chambliss said. "I feel by starting with the cadets, we may have an opportunity to reach and influence those who will eventually hire them!"

Speaking about the forum, Chambliss said, "The forum was designed to bring about an open discussion about current events that have littered the news concerning police actions against Black and Brown Americans across the country in both rural and metropolitan communities and how we can best work to change those events. The consensus has been, let us have open and frank discussions to allow us to build better relations! I feel the comments that were received were extremely positive and we have made a big step forward."

In addition to attending the forum and serving on the Pennsylvania Community Safety Alliance, another way in which Chambliss is helping to bring about positive change in policing is through working with Alfred State Police Academy Session Director Scott Richardson and Assistant Director Kyle Amidon to introduce course materials that emphasize the importance of equity, empathy and human relationships. Chambliss hopes this will allow cadets to have the tools to deal with any situation they may encounter on the job.

Additionally, Chambliss has worked to acquire a virtual reality system that allows instructors to utilize realistic scenarios with their cadets to reinforce information delivered in the classroom, such as encounters with emotionally challenged individuals, traffic stops, and domestic cases.

Alfred State Chief of Staff Wendy Dresser-Recktenwald said, "At Alfred State College, we strive to always be better and do better when it comes to police training. We have spent a lot of time and research understanding the 'why' behind the push to 'reimagine' policing. We believe race, mental illness, and addiction need to be discussed and understood. We are taking these issues and dealing with them head on in an effort to have well-trained cadets leaving our academy. Dr. Chambliss has taken his job seriously and has been active in forums in Pennsylvania that we don't have here in New York State. Our next step is to duplicate what they are doing in Pennsylvania and do some of their hard work here in New York. If we put the effort into our cadets now, we are going to have a much better law enforcement officer in the future."

Memorial service for Dean Richard Thompson

RICHARD C. THOMPSON
One-time art school dean
DAYTON, OHIO—Richard C. Thompson of Dayton, OH, former dean of the School of Art and Design at Alfred University, passed away in February. He was 75.

There will be a memorial for Richard Thompson at 6 p.m. EST on Saturday, June 26 which will be live streamed in the Miller Theater on the Alfred University campus for anyone who would like to watch it in the company of others and not have to deal with the technology. For those who prefer to join from the comfort of their own spaces, please email performs@alfred.edu for the zoom link before Friday, June 25.

Richard was appointed dean of the School of Art and Design in September of 1997 after a 12-year tenure as professor of painting and assistant chair of the Art and Art History Department at the University of Texas, Austin.

Richard held the dean's position at Alfred University until 2005, when he joined the faculty as a professor of painting. He retired from teaching in 2008.

RICK McLAY

Retired AU graphic artist

A celebration of life for Rick McLay '89, longtime director of creative services at Alfred University, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 26, at the Andover Presbyterian Church, 33 East Greenwood St., Andover. Refreshments will follow in the church social hall.

Rick, who retired from Alfred University in 2019, passed away in December of 2020.

SUN OBITUARY POLICY

The Alfred Sun does NOT charge to publish obituaries. It never has; so long as the janitor has his say, it never will.

Ralph E. Empson, 84, worked at furniture stores, Dresser-Rand

RALPH EDWARD EMPSON
Maintenance at Dresser-Rand
GREENWOOD—Ralph Edward Empson, 84, passed away on Monday, June 14, 2021 at Jones Memorial Hospital, Wellsville.

Mr. Empson was born April 11, 1937 in North Bingham, Pennsylvania to Jake and Emma (Hamilton) Empson. On Nov. 29, 1958, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Rexville, he married Elizabeth (Betty) A. Brown, who survives.

Ralph worked in maintenance for Dresser-Rand in Wellsville for 32 years, retiring in May 1999. Previously he worked for Chapman and Burrous Furniture in Genesee, Pa., Gibson's Furniture in Wellsville and finally Antoon's Furniture in Wellsville.

In addition to his wife Betty of 62 years, Ralph is survived by two daughters, Brenda (Ross) Roberts of Wellsville and Beth (Steven) Blitz of Bartow, Florida; two sons, Ralph (Anja) Empson, Jr. of Bietigheim, Germany and Jay (Kelly) Empson of Alfred Station; a brother, Randall Empson of North Bingham, Pennsylvania; a sister, Sylvia Williams of Painted Post; 14 grandchildren, Joshua Roberts, Zachary Roberts, Jacob Roberts, Sarah Roberts, Eric (Amanda) Blitz, Shawn Blitz, Lisa (John) Sacher, Amber (Cody) Jones, Patricia Empson, Justin Empson, Mandy Empson, Gabriel Empson, Logan-Sage Empson and Aidyn Empson; nine great grandchildren, Adalyn Blitz, Austin Blitz, Alexander Blitz, Brooke Blitz, Luke Blitz, Ella Sacher, Evie Sacher, Alana

Jones and Taya Jones; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

He was predeceased by six sisters, Harlene Lindenmuth, Louise Palyun, Betty Batt, Marjorie Gray, Mary Jordan and Kathleen Empson; and five brothers, Richard Empson, Howard Empson, Harold Empson, Martin Empson and Rudy Empson.

Ralph used his hobbies and handyman skills to spend time with his children. He enjoyed finding old appliances that were being junked, bring them home, strip them down; and storing the parts by model type. He and his son Jay performed service calls for anybody that needed a repair. The standard charge was always $5.00. His rationale was he wanted to make it affordable to all, but not hurt anybody's feelings by doing it for free.

Ralph enjoyed doing puzzles with his daughter Brenda. For family vacations, Ralph would lead the family on camping trips to the Adirondacks and Four Lakes in Scio. They also liked to travel together to Florida and Germany.

Ralph, coming from a family of 13 siblings, learned early the value of hard work and being frugal. Often in his career, he was working two jobs. At other times, with money short, he bartered his handyman skills to provide a used bicycle for his children. He loved his family deeply and passed on many life lessons.

Ralph was a member of Andover Masonic Lodge and the Corning Consistory of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Masonry.

Calling hours were held from 4-6 p.m. Thursday, June 17 and 10-11 a.m. Friday, June 18 at Baker-Swan Funeral Home in Andover. The funeral service was held at 11 a.m. Friday, June 18 at the funeral home immediately following the visitation with Rev. Christian Mattison of the Andover Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial followed in Greenwood Cemetery. Online condolences may be offered at www.baker-swan.com.

James R. Wenslow, 86, Wellsville, taught at Alfred State 1959-1997

JAMES R. WENSLOW
Taught math at Alfred State
WELLSVILLE—James R. Wenslow, 86, of East State Street, Wellsville, passed away on Sunday, June 20, 2021 at home surrounded by family.

He was born at home in Nansen, PA on Sept. 24, 1934, the son of the late Frank and Ida Mae (Rowlands) Wenslow. In 1958 he married the late Anne Braun of Rochester, with whom he had his first three children. After Anne and Jim went their separate ways, he married the former Ginny (Vossler) Adams on June 12, 1981, from whom he gained three children, and had two more.

Jim was raised in Leaper, and Kane, PA and was a 1952 graduate of Kane High School. Upon graduating he attended Mansfield University pursuing a double major in Math and Science while also working as a full time head cook. After graduating from Mansfield he continued his culinary career for several years before he began teaching Math. He taught at several schools in Western New York including Troupsburg, Angelica, and Alfred State, where he worked from 1959 to 1997, retiring after 38 years. During his time at Alfred he became known as a loose cannon who fiercely advocated for students and mentored thousands as “Teach babe.” During his tenure at Alfred he earned his Masters from the University of Pittsburgh and SUNY Geneseo, and eventually was one credit shy of earning his PhD.

Outside of his career, Jim was a proud family man who dearly loved all of his children and grandchildren. He was also involved with several organizations such as the Boy Scouts, and Hornell Kiwanis Club (for whom he cooked), a past member Bethel Lutheran Church of Portville, and a founding member of Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church in Wellsville. He loved reading, gardening, poetry and playing chess.

He is survived by: his wife of forty years, Ginny; seven children, Michael (Jennifer Evans) Wenslow of Los Angeles, Cynthia (Stuart Yaniger) Wenslow of Gilbert, AZ, Amy (Jeff) Wenslow-Fretz of Pasadena, CA, Erik (Tracey) Adams, Valerie (Clay) Steadman, Richard (Wendy) Wenslow, and Frank (Sara) Wenslow, all of Wellsville; 18 grandchildren, Jarrick, Liz, Joe, Katie, Buddy, Nate, Zeruviah, Lillian, Cordelia, Isabella, Gabriel, D’Artagnan, Zoey, Kirsten, Brooke, Christian, Rilea, and Nicki; a brother, Don (Nance) Wenslow of Blossburg, PA; a sister, Alberta (John) Campbell of Kansas City; a brother-in-law Dale Vossler; and several nieces and nephews. In addition to his parents, Jim was predeceased by: an infant daughter, Susan Wenslow; a son, Dale Adams; his first wife, Anne Wenslow; and a brother, Ronald Wenslow.

Friends are invited to call on from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday, June 29, at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, 4229 Fassett Lane, Wellsville, NY 14895. A funeral service will follow calling hours at 1 p.m. Tuesday, June 29 with the Reverend Bill Wilson presiding.

Please consider memorial donations to Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, Wellsville, or to a charity of the donor's choice. To leave online condolences please visit www.embser-funeralhome.com

Scene About Alfred

By SHERRY VOLK
Alfred Sun Columnist

My previous lifetime record of turtle rescues stood at three, total. In mid-May, the first snapper, bearing about a ten-inch shell (first photo) more-or-less grudgingly sauntered off State Route 19, near Short's Gas Station, urged from behind with a cane.

About three weeks later, a very determined snapper, also approximately a ten-inch shell (second photo), resisted (snappily) the attempts of both of us to remove it from the, relatively speaking, safety of Hanneman Road near McHenry Valley Road. Eventually we harried it into a roadside ditch.

Finally, on June 13, a modestly-sized youngster (third photo, see tape measure) stopped flailing when picked up and seemed to be enjoying the scenery as I carried it along Waterwells Road from near Sandy and Don Cameron's home, to put it in the creek behind our house. Lifetime rescues doubled in just one spring.

Featured 'East meets West' composers were classmates in Beijing

ALFRED—East will meet West in a new way this month as we chat with a couple whose award-winning musical compositions spring from their world-spanning heritage and experiences.

For the fifth “East Meets West: Music Dialogue” Virtual Concert and Forum series on Friday, June 25, at 8 p.m., our guests will be extraordinary composers and artists, Dr. Chen Yi and Dr. Zhou Long.

Born in the 1950's in China and starting to learn western musical instruments at very young age, Zhou Long and Chen Yi were classmates among 32 chosen from the 20 thousand applicants to study composition at the Central Conservatory of Music in Beijing, China, in 1977.

Both journeyed to the United States to further their composition studies at Columbia University, receiving their Doctor of Musical Arts in 1993. They are now both Distinguished Professors at the Conservatory of Music at the University of Missouri-Kansas City.

SUNNY SIDE UP

By ELLEN SHULTZ
Alfred Sun Columnist

Still another rhubarb recipe

[Editor's Note: Like most of the recipes she shared with our readers over the past couple of decades, Sunny Side Up columns by the late Ellen Shultz are worth repeating.]

While Spring is known as rhubarb season, one can keep a patch producing rhubarb all summer long by keeping it picked and not allowing the plant to “go to seed.” If you don't have a patch, you can likely find rhubarb at Kinfolk (now The Rogue Carrot) in Alfred.

This recipe is from an old cookbook called A Cooks' Tour of Piseco published in 1994 by the Piseco, New York Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary.

Rhubarb Cream Pie

2 c. pink rhubarb, ½ in. pieces	2 eggs, beaten
2/3 c. sugar	1 tsp. lemon juice
2 T. flour	1/8 tsp. salt

1 9” single pie crust

Fill pie crust with cut up rhubarb. In a bowl, stir ingredients in order given and then pour over rhubarb. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes, then at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream ala mode.

Appreciates Littell's columns

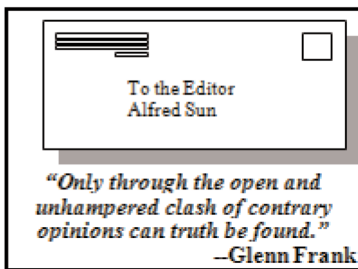

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my appreciation to Mr. Littell for his intermittent columns on his many world travels over the decades. They are always superbly written expeditions through space and time as Mr. Littell graciously brings us all along with him.

Alfred is fortunate to have such a gifted travel writer with a keen eye and experiences to relate. I hope that Mr Littell will keep his remembrances coming, as I for one, will continue to enjoy reading them.

Alfred University

AT THE INTERSECTION OF
impact opportunity

by President Mark Zupan

While we have but one stop light in town, the luminosity emanating from Alfred University's intersection is wondrous. At its essence, the mission and vision of our educational intersection is to transform student lives and better our world.

Institutions of higher education such as Alfred University have been so durable and impactful because of the intersections that they provide across people, disciplines, and time. Universities epitomize what author Matt Ridley points to as being the distinguishing feature of our human race—our ability to promote the sex of ideas; the capacity to store and build upon knowledge.

COVID threatened universities because it also thrived on intersections. To mitigate the pandemic's spread, we had to learn how to preserve the most meaningful intersections at the heart of education while pivoting to new ways of behaving that avoided others: daily screenings, masking, social distancing, surveillance testing, tracing, and isolating/quarantining.

We were able to "Protect the Lux!" through the resourcefulness, resoluteness, and resilience of our students, staff, and faculty. The new norms that were established and adhered to allowed us to ensure the safety of our community members while preserving three key intersections at Alfred University: knowledge; the future; and ourselves.

Throughout the academic year, nearly 55 percent of our classes were in person, 25 percent were hybrid, and the remainder online. Safety protocols resulted in our classrooms being places that did not spread COVID while conveying knowledge. We treasure these old educational norms all the more now and look forward to returning fully to them during the coming academic year.

Successfully navigating the past year also permitted us to reaffirm our commitment to the future and creating a better world. As one pundit aptly put it, the time that we have been living through has been a combination of 1918, 1929, and 1968—a vexing amalgamation of viral pandemic and socioeconomic challenges. While the challenges have been manifold and monumental, the way to overcome them is through the education that is at the fore of our University's mission and vision.

Finally, dealing with COVID created an opportunity to focus on our values. Trustee Jim Jordan '72 is fond of noting that the first time he met himself was at Alfred. College provides a crucible for reflecting on and developing the principles that we live by—even more so when a pandemic amplifies a crucible's heat. The heat, of course, affords enlightenment and serves as a reminder of Ralph Waldo Emerson's observation that "what lies behind us, and what lies before us, are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."

Please join me in commending our students, staff, and faculty for all that they have done to bring Alfred University through and beyond COVID. Their unwavering commitment to learning—to creating intersections with knowledge, the future, and themselves—during these difficult times does them honor and has amplified Alfred University's light.

From the mayor

By BECKY B. PROPHET

Alfred Village Mayor

Happy Summer! Yes, even though it is Alfred, NY and we had snow on the ground in mid-May, it is now summer. The official arrival of summer was June 20 at 11:43 p.m. just as Father's Day was coming to a close—at least in our Eastern time zone.

In this latitude, especially this time of year, we enjoy very long evenings often misting their way into twilight. New York State schools are all but finished for the year and such dusky evenings are an invitation to the idyllic beauty of our community and the relaxed bedtimes for children to play on into the blanket of late evening.

With this in mind, let us continue to be mindful of summer safety for our whole community. The annual burn ban for NYS has ended; small fires are permitted in properly contained spaces on private property. Be sure you have adequate water readily available to douse your hot coals or open flames. Unlike last summer, fully vaccinated people may gather around such fires without masking! (It's hard to eat a perfectly roasted, melted, marvelously warm and viscous marshmallow if you are wearing a mask! Right?) In all of this glory and energy of summer, please be sure that you and your friends and family are fully vaccinated!

As for the Covid-19 pandemic, it seems clear that the "Delta variant" is far more contagious and makes those who catch it far more ill than the original virus. It is also clear that it is the dominant form circulating in the US. Getting vaccinated prevents the spread of this more deadly strain. It also helps the entire world to work toward ending the pandemic. The more we can limit or eliminate the virus before it has time to mutate into something that the current, very effective vaccines can't serve to protect us, the longer we will have to be prepared to undergo restrictions of activities and business to prevent future spread. More importantly, without vaccinations increasing, especially in our region, we will fail in protecting loved ones and friends. Please, give all of society a shot at health and safety, by vaccinating as soon as possible. Give Alfred and the surrounding area a shot at a glorious summer and a brilliant fall!

Summer is upon us! As a child I joined my friends in joking about there being two seasons in Alfred, "winter and the Fourth of July." One AU professor added that if the Fourth fell on a weekend they would try to go on a picnic. Other friends spoke of the two seasons as "Winter and Allegany County Fair." Still others, usually the grown-ups around us described Alfred's seasons as "Winter and road construction." Whatever your favorite quip, all of these suggest that we must be safe and keep those who work to make our summers delightful safe as well. May we all have happy long days of gardening, walking, hiking, traveling, gathering, or any other inviting summer activity.

At the same time this summer can be one of gratitude for the vaccine and enjoying the relief that being vaccinated brings!

ALFRED FARMERS MARKET

Farmers Market offers youth a place to grow, learn

By MARY GARDNER-RUCH
Special to the Alfred Sun

ALFRED—The Alfred Farmers Market had a good turnout on opening day and many of the vendors were sold out by the end of the day. As the season progresses, farmers will have more variety and new vendors will join in.

We are happy to announce that Canacadea Berries will be joining us soon. They are a favorite for seasonal berries, homemade jams, and baked goods.

We are proud of our local youth vendors who have brought their time and their talent to the market.

Sam Bensley from Alfred Station is selling Sam's Sticks, which are wooden devices to hold playing cards. They come in a variety of colors.

Art by Yuri, featuring collages made by Yuri Lake of Alfred, was a favorite on opening day. Nine-year-old Yuri has an eye for abstract art. Some of the art is matted and some are framed.

Jim Eshelman of Scio is a 12-year-old who loves farming. He is selling chicken, eggs, bread, and baked goods. He hopes to have some lamb to sell in the future. His family owns the EIEIO farm.

We have a wonderful group of young volunteers helping at the market this year and headed up by Coordinator, Claire Volk of Alfred Station. Claire has been volunteering her time and talents to the market and is a member of the Alfred Farmers Market Board, as well as a volunteer. She coordinates all of the kid's activities. Children can stop by the Kid's Tent each week for a weekly arts and crafts project.

Also returning from last year is volunteer, Owen Lawrence., of Hornell. Owen is a natural leader and is willing to help out vendors and the manager wherever he is needed.

Our new volunteers are Rona Powers of Alfred Station, Molly Tulk of Alfred Station, and Candy Zhou of Alfred. We are pleased to have them join us. Candy will be providing music on Sunday, June 27, along with some of her fellow classmates from Alfred-Almond. Stop by and support and listen to the talented youth in our community.

Candy, Owen and Rona at the manager's tent at the Alfred Farmers Market Sunday, June 13.

Claire coordinates the volunteers, joined here by new volunteer Molly Tulk.

Art by Yuri was popular at Alfred Farmer's Market Sunday.

Art for Rural America seeking dancers for film project

WELLSVILLE—Are you a dancer? Wellsville's Art for Rural America and Kate Martelle are working together to create a site specific performance and dance film.

Kate Martelle is a professional choreographer and owner of Wellsville-based dance company Martelle Dance Academy. The Fassett GreenSpace, Wellsville's newest public garden located at 55 North Main Street in the village, will be the stage for the dance performance.

The group is seeking 8-10 dancers to be involved in this project. Dancers are preferred to be between 15-45 years old and have 3+ years of experience. The time commitment for this project is one hour each week starting the second week of July. The performance will be filmed in mid-August.

The vision of this project is to host a public performance as well as film dancers as they move between the garden's walls, interacting with flowers, herbs, vegetables, and the greenspace's centerpiece fountain.

We want to bring this beautiful garden to life with movement. The group's focus is on rising again and hope. What better time to focus on such themes than as we're re-opening from a dark time? The original composition and setting will invigorate our creative souls and give something special to the community.

The deadline to sign up is July 3, 2021. Please contact Kate Martelle at Wellsvilledanceproject@gmail.com for more information and to apply. Potential applicants can also call Cassandra Bull at 518-937-3234. Follow the Fassett GreenSpace at www.facebook.com/wellsvillecommunitygardens for additional information and seasonal updates.

Fassett GreenSpace will be the stage for a dance performance in mid-August.

Nutrition in a Nutshell

By MARIA BOYUK
Nutritional Therapy Practitioner and Alfred Sun Columnist

Local Spotlights: Quail Eggs

Lately I have been getting a lot of questions about how to support local allergies. Along with herbal remedies, raw local honey and bee pollen, and general immune system support, quail eggs are the way to go! Thus, I am pulling out a fun article from 2018, sharing the first time I tried quail eggs with my “friend Pavel” (we were not even dating yet!), the nutrition of quail eggs, and where to source them. Enjoy!

“This last week, my diet was exotically broadened with the introduction of some nutritional dynamite: quail eggs! Unknowingly, the adventure was in the making when Kristina Snyder, of Sunny Cove Farm, hatched quail eggs from her home this winter. I had the delight of seeing the chicks at different stages of growth. They were quite cute! Soon, her family was enjoying the “fruit” of their labor! Content with my chicken eggs from the Sunny Cove store, it did not occur to me to try her quail eggs. However, that all changed this last week when she personally offered me some of her newest product! I had never tried a quail egg, and was quite surprised by how tiny they are! Honestly, my first thought was, “how impractical!” I’d yet to realize the gift I was given.

There are many ways to eat the quail egg. For my first try, I decided to go with the height of nutritional advantage. A local Ukrainian friend, Pavel, educated me on the methods of how to eat a raw quail egg. This is the tradition in his culture as it is recognized that all the nutrients are preserved by not cooking the egg. Although nervous about the texture, I proceeded. No worries! A mild sweet flavor, much like the yolk of a soft-boiled chicken egg. It was delightful and I felt nourished.

It’s not all in my head! After this new experience, I decided to do some research. Truly, every sustainably raised egg (chicken, duck, quail, etc.) deserves a five-star rating for nutrition. For example, all of these eggs contain high levels of vitamin A, D, B12, selenium, protein and fat-making them a great food for vision and blood sugar handling among other things. However, the quail egg has some unique treasures.

The origin of quail egg consumption can be traced back to Egyptian and Chinese medicines, when it was used to fight respiratory diseases and general immune conditions. This practice soon spread to other Asian cultures--Japan is known for feeding their children 2 quail eggs for a school breakfast. The eggs are also prized in European countries-- I mentioned the Ukrainian traditions shared with me by Pavel, and they are quite common in some South American countries where they are typically served hard boiled.

So, what sets the quail egg apart from other eggs? Above, I termed the egg “dynamite” because when comparing quail eggs to chicken eggs, one quail egg contains six times more vitamin B1 and fifteen times more vitamin B2. Also, between 1960-1980, two physicians, Dr. Truffier and Dr. Lucotte conducted separate studies of therapeutic doses of quail eggs which resulted in profound ‘cures’ of asthma and allergies. (Supporting their historical use in Egypt and China.) This is the result of unique enzymes in the egg white which inhibit trypsin (a protein which causes allergies.) And what about eating quail eggs raw? Well, you certainly can enjoy them prepared any way you would cook a chicken egg. However, unlike chicken eggs, quail eggs contain little to no Salmonella due to an increased amount of lysozyme--an enzyme that kills bacteria. So, if you trust the source of the egg and it is fresh, you can enjoy all these nutrients raw.

Best of all, I don’t have to travel far to find more eggs, thanks to our new local supplier! You could say, two to three quail eggs keep the doctor away! I just may find out as I incorporate this delicious “super-food” into my regular diet.”

NOTES from the BOX OF BOOKS

By MELANIE MILLER
Box of Books Library Director

A Word About Face Coverings in the Library

As per CDC guidelines and NY Department of Health guidelines, face coverings are OPTIONAL for those who are fully vaccinated. Unvaccinated individuals must continue to wear face coverings. This includes children over the age of 2.

It’s also important to note that while New York State hit a huge milestone with 70% of the population vaccinated, Allegany county lags far behind. Only 32% of Allegany County residents are fully vaccinated, and 36% have received a first dose.

Staff continue remain masked due to the number of people we interact with each day. We feel this is the best way to protect all our patrons. We are still committed to daily disinfecting of high-touch surfaces at the library. And we will continue to limit building occupancy due to our building’s physical size. Our public restroom is not available yet.

As we have done throughout the pandemic, the Board of Trustees, Library Director and staff will work closely together to monitor the ever-changing situation and adapt our services and policies to keep the community and library staff safe and healthy.

DIY Grilled Goat Chops

I love grilling in the summertime. Keeps the house cool and adds new flavor! Have you tried goat? This is a great introductory recipe for you.

GRILLED GOAT CHOPS

6 large garlic cloves
1 med. onion, coarsely chopped
1/2 cup plus 2 T. good tasting extra virgin olive oil
Shredded zest of 2 large lemons
Juice of 1 large lemon (about 6 tablespoons)
1/2 cup dry white wine
4 teaspoons dried oregano
1/4 teaspoon each salt and freshly ground black pepper
8 to 9 1-inch thick goat chops

Allow 1-1/2 to 2 hours for marinating the meat. In a food processor or blender combine the garlic, onion, 1/2 cup olive oil, the lemon zest, lemon juice, wine, oregano, salt, and pepper. Process to just short of a puree. You want some small bits of rind, onion, and garlic. Pour the marinade into a heavy plastic bag or bowl, toss with the chops and refrigerate 1-1/2 to 2 hours.

To cook, drain chops but do not wipe off marinade. Heat remaining 2 T. oil in 12-inch straight-sided sauté pan over medium high heat. Arrange chops in skillet so they barely touch. Use 2 pans if necessary. Brown quickly on both sides. Then turn down heat to medium-low and cook another 2 minutes a side, or until chops are barely firm when pressed with finger. They should be blushed with pink inside. Serve chops hot.

On the Grill: Burn hardwood charcoal until grey ash forms. Make a two-zone fire with a heap of coals on one side of the grill for searing, and a thin layer of coals on the other for slow cooking. Sear the chops over the high heat, and then move them over the lower heat section to finish, cooking slowly. When you press them and they seem to be barely firm, they are done.

Trail towns communities launching visitor survey

BELMONT—Letchworth Gateway Villages (LGV) and its network of Trail Town partners are launching a visitor survey to better understand the visitor market to the Genesee Valley's outdoor recreation attractions like Letchworth State Park, the Genesee Valley Greenway, local lakes, and the Genesee River.

The Trail Towns communities, part of a destination development project that LGV kicked off earlier this year with funding from USDA Rural Development and the Northern Border Regional Commission. Participating communities include the Towns of Wheatland, Avon, York, Perry, Mount Morris, Geneseo, Nunda, Hume, Caneadea and Cuba.

The visitor survey aims to provide information that will help each Trail Town's local businesses and municipal leaders ensure the highest quality visitor experience and establish baseline data to track performance over time.

The target audience for the survey is visitors coming to the area from a 25-mile radius and beyond. The survey will run from June through mid-October during the height of the tourism season. Survey questions address who is coming to the region, what visitors look for in their vacation destinations, how the region can enhance visitors' experiences, and more.

Upon completion of the survey, participants will automatically be entered to win prizes that include a gift basket filled with Genesee Valley products ($100 value) and a 2022 Empire Pass for New York State Parks.

All businesses, attractions, and communities will have access to the data and analysis once the survey is closed.

To take the survey, go to <https://exploregeneseevalley.com/visitor-survey>

UR JONES MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Walker promoted, Green HR director

WELLSVILLE—Jones Memorial Hospital has announced the selection of Kristopher Green as the hospital's Director of Human Resources. Kris assumes the position most recently held by Carrie Walker, who was promoted to Vice President of Medical Practices and Professional Services, in March 2021.

"We are fortunate to have Kris Green, who has a wealth of Human Resources experience, coming on board to take the reins in HR; he will serve our staff and facility very well," said Eva Benedict, CEO at Jones. "Carrie has been a member of the administrative team for the past four years and a department director since 2008. She has experience leading and growing outpatient services, as well as the strategic leadership experience that will be valuable in her new role."

Carrie Walker started her career at Jones as a Medical Imaging as a technologist in 2002. She was promoted to Director of Medical Imaging six years later and was named Executive Director of Human Resources in 2017. Carrie has a Bachelor of Science in Radiology & Science and a Master's degree in Human Resources & Employee Relations. A native of Andover, Carrie and her husband, Kevin, raised their three children in her hometown: Colby, 20; Chris, 18, and Caroline, 16.

"Being a resident of Allegany County for the majority of my life I am well aware of the important place Jones Memorial has in the health of our community," she said. "It is gratifying to be a member of the administrative team and to guide our hospital into the future. This promotion brings me back to supporting the clinical practices, the cornerstone of healthcare, and I am looking forward to getting back to my roots."

A life resident of Wellsville, Kris Green comes to Jones from Amazon Logistics where he was the Upstate NY Senior Regional Human Resources Business Partner and the interim Regional HR Manager for New York. Kris graduated from Thomas Edison State University (Trenton, NJ) with Bachelor of Science degrees in Business Administration and Human Resources Management. He earned his Masters of Science in Human Resource Management at State University of New York at Stony Brook.

"Working in Human Resources allows me to support the organization's most valuable resource — its people," he said. "This, in turn, helps the organization accomplish its mission. I am fortunate and proud to have joined the Jones Memorial Hospital team and look forward to working with everyone!"

Kris and his wife, Allison, have two children Wyatt, 7, and five-year-old Liam. A fan of baseball, Kris is involved in Little League and enjoys spending time with his family. He is involved in a number of community organizations including the American Legion and the Lions Club. He is also involved with the David A. Howe Public Library.

Please join Jones Memorial in welcoming Kris Green and congratulating Carrie Walker.

Kids: color stuff in!

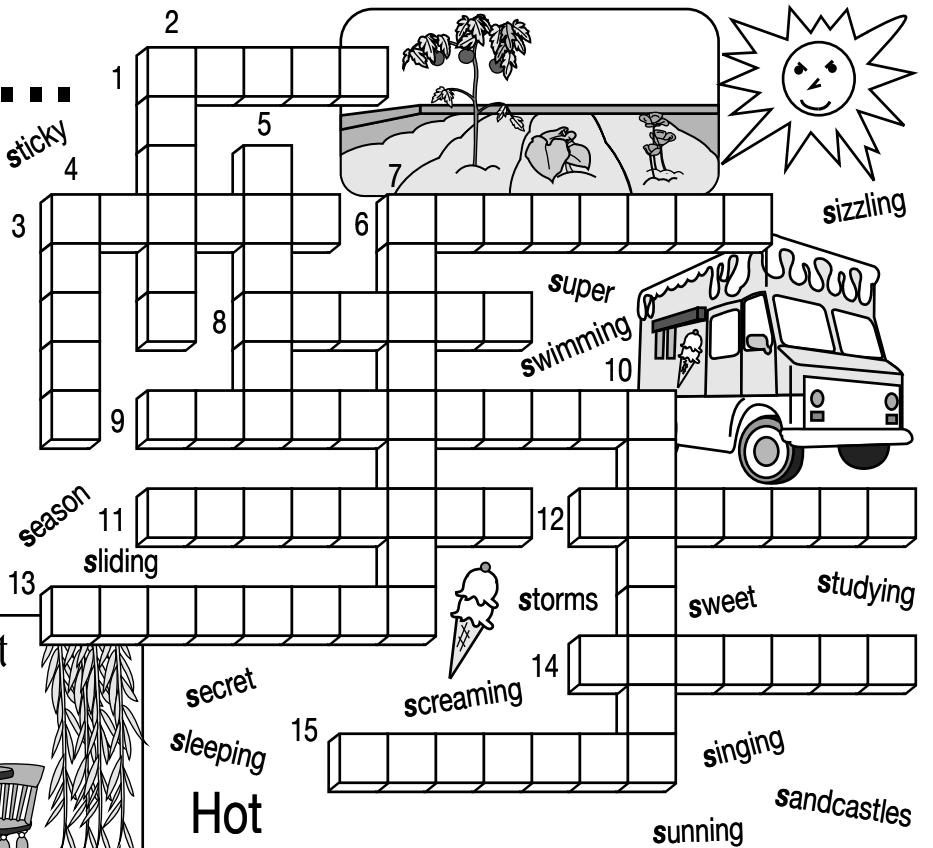

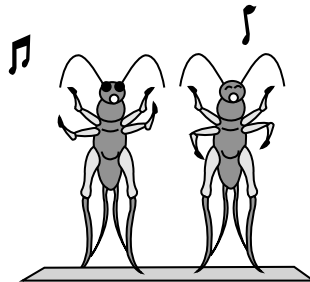

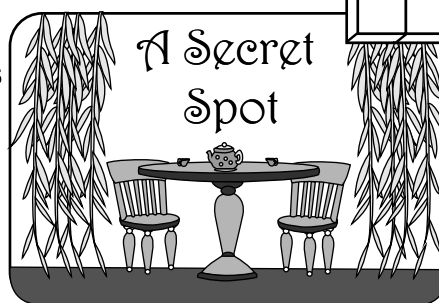

I love summer! I enjoy cool, juicy watermelon, sticky, dripping popsicles, spicy, barbecued chicken, crispy potato chips and all the goodies in picnic baskets.

I really like the summertime, but sometimes it is too hot and humid for me! On some days I just feel like I'm melting away. Before I do, read the clues to fill in my puzzle about summer. Notice that the answers all begin with the letter "s"! Even in the heat I think I'm pretty clever!

1. _____ and tart
pink lemonade
2. _____ popsicle juice streaking down your arm
3. _____ hideaways under drooping tree branches
4. _____ reading clubs and programs at libraries
5. _____ for growing flowers, apples, pumpkins
6. _____ and splashing in the lakes
7. _____ at the top of a roller coaster

Turtles sit in the sunshine to get the sun's light and heat. It is one way they regulate their body temperature. Basking in the sun helps them to warm up. It also helps them digest their food more easily. Turtles can overheat if they sit in the sun too long. Just like people, they head to cool water or shade when hot!

Alfred State's annual golf tournament raises over $30,000

ALFRED—For the seventh year in a row, dozens of golfers came together to have fun and support Alfred State College by playing in the school's annual Pioneers Drive for the Development Fund golf tournament.

Presented by Mach Architecture, this year's tournament took place June 18 at the Wellsville Country Club. A total of 31 teams competed and raised more than $30,000 in cash and gifts in kind. Proceeds from the event will help fund student scholarships, athletics, and other needs of the college.

Earning the coveted blue jacket as the winners of the golf tournament were the members of the Campus Construction team —

Kevin Donaghue, John Langdon, Jason Hanon, and Tim McCardle. The second-place Maple City Savings team included Nick Kelley, Julianna Gibson, Raymie Auman, and Dustin Kelley, while the Level Financial team of Steve Elwell, Andrew Reisman, Nick Smith, and Andy Smith placed third.

The top three teams took home $500, $300, and $200, respectively. In addition, the tournament featured a silent auction, a number of skills prizes, and a barbecue.

Event sponsors ($2,500) this year included Pepsi Co.; Manning & Napier; U&S Services; Otis Eastern; Savarino; Pathfinder Engineers & Archiitects.; Corning, Inc.; and Laborers No. 621. Eagle sponsors ($1,000) included IBEW Local No. 86, Elderwood of Hornell, West Herr Ford, and Lincoln & Mercury.

Contest sponsors ($500) were National Fuel, Decorator's Choice, and Union Concrete. Additionally, the event featured 25 hole sponsors ($150).

Alfred State Director of Development Jason Sciotti said, "It was great to be able to get the 2021 edition of our Pioneer Drive for the Development Fund golf event back to the way we want it to be: a huge group of supporters and players, fun activities taking place on the course during the day, and interactions that brought out so many smiles and laughs. The highlight of the day was a 'Beat the AD (athletic director)' challenge on a par-3 hole for a chance to win cash. We were very excited to offer over 65 door prizes at this year's tournament and would like to say thanks to our amazing donors and sponsors."

Sciotti also extended thanks to everyone else who helped make the tournament a success.

"I can't thank our Alfred State staff and the Wellsville Country Club enough for all the work put into this day," he said. "The funds being raised will go to the Alfred State athletics program, scholarships, and the future of the college for the betterment of our students. We're already looking forward to Pioneer Drive 2022!"

Plans are under construction for the Alfred Daily Vacation Bible School to be held in the Village Church and Parish House from July 15-26...Due to the increase of supplies it was decided to increase the enrollment fee to 35 cents...

The junior and senior high school classes in Alfred-Almond Central School enjoyed picnics last week to surpass any last day school celebrations of pre-war years...On Thursday, the 7th grades journeyed to Stony Brook State Park with Miss Isabelle Johnson and Mr. Charles Packard as chaperones. The same day, the 8th grades with Howard Dunbar and Miss Ann Hayes held their picnic at Conesus Lake. Chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Willard, the sophomore class went to Cuba Lake. On Thursday the juniors went to Roseland on Canandaigua Lake. On Friday the seniors went to Keuka Lake. Each of these classes were accompanied by their advisors.

Marion Ellen Sutton entered Bethesda Hospital, Hornell, Tuesday morning for a tonsillectomy.

Born Wednesday, June 19 to Rev. and Mrs. David Clarke of Westerly, R.I., a son, David Sherman.

Prof. and Mrs. Clifford Potter, Mrs. Lester Burdick and Mr. and Mrs. S.J. Miller of Hornell were in Newark to attend the Jackson-Perkins Rose Festival.

Mrs. H.C. Moland was in Batavia recently, as a guest of Dr. and Mrs. R.W. and family. Mrs. Moland's niece returned home with them to help in the Corner Store this summer.

Eloise Phillips, Patty Spaine and Adrienne McLeod will leave Sunday, June 30 for Camp Rathbun where they will spend a week.

Rev. and Mrs. Harley Sutton entertained the following last week: Rev. Harold Crandall of Westerly, R.I., Rev. Paul Maxson of Berlin, Rev. Luther Critchelo of Washington, D.C., Rev. and Mrs. Neal Mills and daughter of New Auburn, Wisc., Mr. and Mrs. Rex Zwiebel of Hebron, Pa.

55 Years Ago, June 23, 1966

Dr. Stuart Smith, assistant professor of education at Alfred University for the past three years, has been appointed chairman of the education department effective in September...Dr. Smith succeeds Dr. Seymour B. Dunn....

Promotions of two faculty members to full professor and retirement gifts of two others highlighted the annual President's dinner...Honored on their retirement was Prof. George D. Gregory...and Dr. Abraham Robbin, college physician...

Regents scholarships have been awarded to two alternate winners at Alfred-Almond Central School. Named recipients were Carroll Wilcox, Terry Montgomery and Joanne Tinklepaugh, all members of the 1966 graduating class. Wilcox, the son of Mrs. Florence Wilcox, Almond, plans to enter the Navy. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Montgomery, plans to enroll in Alfred University and study liberal arts. Miss Tinklepaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Tinklepaugh, will enter State University College at Geneseo.

The 27th annual commencement exercises will be held Saturday. Some 68 seniors will be candidates for diplomas...The valedictory address will be given by Betty Judson of Alfred and co-salutary addresses will be given by Sharon Smith and Linda Stearns.

Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Button and two children, Danny and Linda, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Coit Wheaton's Sunday.

The Alfred Town Bell Ringers entertained Amourouth of Allegany County Saturday evening at Friendship under the direction of Mrs. S.B. Scholes.

Mrs. Evea Potter visited her sister, Mrs. Grace Bouchard at an infirmary in Rochester Saturday. Later she and Miss Doris Simpson toured the grounds of Roberts Wesleyan College in North Chili and visited Mrs. Jerome Davis and Philip Saunders and family in Scottsville.

Mrs. Glenn Alty-Crafts, Becky and Jeff, and Mrs. Harry Stoneham, Donna, Bob and Jimmy all of Rochester, celebrated Father's Day with their father and grandfather, John W. Jacox.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Butts were in Cleveland,

Ohio, over the weekend, visiting Led Nagle, a retired salesman.

Dr. Winfield Randolph has been selected by the National Science Foundation to be one of the participants in Science Course, starting June 25. Mr. Randolph will leave by plane Sunday for the University of Illinois.

Donald Dickens, on leave of absence from the College of Ceramics, to teach in Phu Tho Polytechnic School under the employ of Southern Illinois University, has returned to Alfred from Saigon. He hopes to return to Saigon to continue the work he started there.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Kenyon will be honored on their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house for all friends and relatives. The event, which is being held by their children and grandchildren, will be held in the Parish House.

35 Years Ago, June 26, 1986

An Alfred boy will be participating in an historic naturalization ceremony at Old Fort Niagara in Youngstown today, July 3. Zacharey James Cornell, two-year-old son of Larry and Lois Cornell of Alfred Station will become an American citizen during the ceremony. It marks the first occasion in 25 years that the U.S. District Court has conducted a naturalization session outside the U.S. Court in Buffalo. Zacharey arrived in Alfred Aug. 21, 1984 at the age of six months after having been born in South Korea. Old Fort Niagara is one of the most significant early historic sites on the Great Lakes and was occupied in 1678 and permanently occupied in 1726...

Cuba Cheese, the fourth largest employer in Allegany County, is about to undertake a $13 million expansion project. The company employs 180 people and the project will create 15 construction jobs. Upon completion of the project an additional 20 jobs will be create. Cuba Cheese will require the services of an additional 200 dairies, a shot in the arm for dairy farmers.

George Ormsby, 45, of Alfred Station, died Tuesday, June 17, 1986 at St. James Mercy Hospital, Hornell, following a long illness. A native of Hornell, he lived in Alfred Station most of his life...Survivors include his wife of 23 years, Sally Ann Tucker; two daughters, Cindy Edwards of Hampton, VA, Lori Ormsby at home; one son, George Jr. at home; a father, Harold, of Alfred Station; paternal grandmother, Mabel Stiles of Hornell; three brothers, Eugene of Wellsville, Donald of Alfred Station, Robert of Mansfield...

Members of the Union University Church held their morning service June 22 at Camp Harley Sutton, Following the service a dish-to-pass picnic was held.

Ten Years Ago, July 1, 1976—In the early 1800s Almond was the most populated town in the area. The 1830 census listed the population of Almond as 1804, Alfred 1416, Hornellsville 1364. It was not until the coming of the railroad that Hornellsville exceeded Almond. First plans were for the railroad yards to be built in Almond as that was the chief commercial center but the valley floor was too narrow and it was located in the wider Canisteo River flats, Hornellsville (Leathersich).

25 Years Ago, June 27, 1996

The Almond Lions Club held its 25th annual Charter Night recently and presented annual awards, with John Flint being named Citizen of the Year and Doris Montgomery being named Senior Citizen of the Year. Both were recognized for outstanding work they provide for the community. Jim Comes was named "Lion of the Year" with Lions Club President Doug Norton recognizing his outstanding work in the Lions Club. The Jake Stuart Sports Award, presented to the outstanding senior girl and boy that played in at least three team sports and excelled in them at Alfred-Almond, were given to Megan Stuart and Chad Davidson. The Almond Lion Scholarship of $500 each were awarded to Megan Stuart, Chad Davidson and Nicole Fertitta...

What it lacked in quantity, the Alfred-Almond Central School Class of 1996 made up in quality—and in generosity. One of Alfred-Almond's smaller graduating classes, nearly half of the class of 43 graduating seniors comprised a Senior Band Ensemble and nearly half comprised a Senior Chorale that performed well during the 57th annual commencement exercises Saturday afternoon in the high school auditorium...

How many people will it take to turn Alfred University owned Crandall Barn into a Montessori School?

Probably no census will be kept. However, a generous number representing four of the entities already involved in the transformation met at the Barn on June 18. The Crandall Barn Building Committee, made up of Galen Brooks, Brian Gray and Sandra Scofield, and headed by Angela Rossington, arranged the gathering...

Sunbeams—Pam and Randy Thomas and family of Independence, MO were visiting friends and family while here for the 50th wedding anniversary of her parents, Lyle and Thelma Palmiter, on June 22...George and Mae Bottoms were recently in Portland, OR to attend the graduation of Mae's daughter, Elyn, who received her master's degree in nursing from Oregon Health Sciences University...John Lewis, son of Mark and Ann Lewis of Swansea, IL and grandson of George and Mae Bottoms of Phillips Creek, received the Eagle Scout rank at a special court of honor May 31. For his Eagle project, John organized and directed a Red Cross blood drive at his school, at which 80 pints of blood were collected...Evelyn Thomas visited her daughter, Susan and Mel Shaffer of Rochester from May 21-28, following eye surgery. While there, she attended the wedding of Mel's niece, Kara Vanderhoof and Richard Burke.

10 Years Ago, June 23, 2011

David M. Mueller, formerly of Alfred, died suddenly on Tuesday, June 14, 2011 in Plainfield, Indiana. He was born January 15, 1951 in New Brunswick, NJ to Edward E. (Gene) and Sally Mueller of Canandaigua, formerly of Alfred, who survive him. David was a 1969 graduate of Alfred-Almond Central School, and later earned bachelors and Masters degrees from Butler University in Indianapolis, IN. David was a retired elementary school teacher and remained active as a clown, story-teller and year-round Santa Claus. He gave to his community as a volunteer with the Boy Scouts, Optimists Club, Christian Clowns, and was a member of the Avon Christian Church in Avon, Indiana...

Cadet Eric Goodrich, son of Deborah and Jeffrey Goodrich of Alfred Station, has been named to the Dean's List for the Spring Semester—January through May at the U.S. Military Academy...

Sunbeams: The small bridge over Kanakadea Creek behind the grandstand at Merrill Field at Alfred University has been removed and will be replaced....Work is proceeding on a "bumpout" at the corner of West University Street and North Main Street in Alfred, opposite the bus stop. The bump-out, a project of the New York State Department of Transportation, will make it easier for pedestrians to see cars and for drivers to see pedestrians at the corner. All of North Main Street will be milled and repaved this summer by NYSDOT. In addition, the Village of Alfred will mill and repave its portion of South Main Street...

This just in: the Alfred Village Band is gearing up for another summer of Music on the Green! Each Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. beginning on June 29...

Noah Webster, in his preface to his History of the United States, notes:

"The brief exposition of the Constitution of the United States, will unfold to young persons the principles of republican government; and it is the sincere desire of the writer that our citizens should early understand that the genuine source of correct republican principles is the Bible, particularly the New Testament or the Christian religion."

"Spiritual" life I have a mountain top experience and then I find myself in the desert. Elijah was no different. In our sermon series "The Call" during the 11 a.m. Worship Hour at the Alfred Station Seventh-day Baptist Church, "Baptist with a Difference," Pastor Ken's sermon "Run, Run as fast as you can!" will focus on Elijah's Desert moment after his Mountain Top experience of victory over the prophets of Baal.

Prepare yourself before coming to Worship by reading 1 Kings 19:1-8.

So, you want to know where to come? The Church Campus is located at 585 Route 244, in Alfred Station. Perhaps you have a question about the passage or why we worship on Saturday. You are invited to call the church office at 607-587-9176.

In the middle of the week perhaps you need an encounter with the "Word of God," the Bible. On Wednesday, July 7 in the church meeting house social rooms from 10 am-11 am join in a discussion entitled "An Attitude of Gratitude." In the evening between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. be a part of a verse-by-verse study of the book of Daniel beginning in Daniel 2:25. Don't be a stranger.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

For even when we were with you, we commanded you this: If anyone will not work, neither shall he eat. For we hear that there are some who walk among you in a disorderly manner, not working at all, but are busybodies. Now those who are such we command and exhort through our Lord Jesus Christ that they work in quietness and eat their own bread.

ALFRED SAXON ROUND-UP

Kaempffe replaces Phillips; Yunie on ballot, football slate listed

With AU Men's Basketball Coach Russ Phillips moving up the street to the Fasano House as the Assistant Director of Advancement, following a national search, AU has hired Erich Kaempffe as its next men's basketball coach.

A North Rose native, Kaempffe becomes the 16th head coach in the 113-year history of the men's basketball program.

"I am absolutely elated to have Erich join our Saxon family and to continue to build upon the successes of the program, competing for championships year in and year out," Vecchio said. "Erich's background and experiences to date aligned perfectly for what we are seeking. He is extremely bright, a noted and highly successful recruiter, and builds lasting relationships with his players. I am also incredibly grateful to Russ Phillips for his seven years of exemplary work with our men's basketball program and look forward to Erich continuing to build on those successes."

Kaempffe arrives at Alfred after spending four years as an assistant coach at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (RPI), serving as recruiting coordinator, scouting director, and academic coordinator. Working alongside head coach Mark Gilbride, Kaempffe aided the turnaround of RPI hoops, as the team went 53-28 over the last three seasons, the best three-year stretch in the last 27 years. RPI routinely ranked among the nation's best defensively; the 2019-20 squad finished third nationally allowing 60.9 points per game and 11th with 281 steals. That team finished as Liberty League Regular Season Champions (17-1) for the first time and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, finishing with a 24-5 record and the team's first-ever D3hoops.com ranking (No. 24). Kaempffe and Gilbride were named Liberty League Coaching Staff of the Year for their efforts.

Yunie on Hall of Fame ballot

The National Football Foundation (NFF) & College Hall of Fame has released its 2022 ballot for induction into the College Football Hall of Fame, including 78 players and seven coaches from the Football Bowl Subdivision and 99 players and 33 coaches from divisional ranks.

Legendary Alfred University football coach Alex Yunevich is among those being considered for induction in the Divisional Coaching category.

"It's an enormous honor to just be on the College Football Hall of Fame ballot considering more than 5.47 million people have played college football and only 1,038 players have been inducted," said NFF President & CEO Steve Hatchell. "The Hall's requirement of being a First-Team All-American creates a much smaller pool of about 1,500 individuals who are even eligible. Being in today's elite group means an individual is truly among the greatest to have ever played the game, and we look forward to announcing the 2022 College Football Hall of Fame Class early next year."

The ballot was emailed today to the more than 12,000 NFF members and current Hall of Famers whose votes will be tabulated and submitted to the NFF's Honors Courts, which will deliberate and select the class.

Yunevich is the winningest coach in AU football history, winning 177 games from 1937-41 and 1946-76. His coaching tenure was interrupted from 1941-46, when he served during World War II. During his career at Alfred University, Yunevich coached six undefeated teams and five teams with only one loss.

In 1971, Yunevich led the Saxons to an unbeaten 8-0 season and the Lambert Bowl Championship as the best small college team in the East. That same season, he earned the Stan Lomax-Irving T. Marsh Trophy as the best small college coach in the nation. In 1956, the Washington Touchdown Club named Yunevich the Small College National Coach of the Year after he guided the Saxons to a perfect 7-0 campaign. He was inducted into the Alfred University Athletics Hall of Fame in 1975.

Yunevich in his playing days was Second Team All-American and All-Big 10 fullback at Purdue while also serving as the captain of the Boilermakers' track and field program.

2021 schedule announced

While Yunevich headed the AU program for 36 seasons, Coach Bob Rankl is entering his 22nd season and, since becoming head coach in 2014, has built on Alfred's winning tradition with an overall record of 46-22.

The Saxons, coming off an abbreviated 2021 spring season having split two games with Utica, will have a challenging 2021 fall slate of ten games. In addition to the stellar Empire 8 competition, AU has dates with Liberty League powers Hobart and Ithaca. The fall 2021 schedule follows:

- Friday, Sept. 3 vs. Hobart, 7 p.m.
- Sept. 11 at Mount St. Joseph (Cincinnati, OH), 1 p.m.
- Sept. 18 vs. Ithaca, 1 p.m.
- Sept. 25 at Kalamazoo, MI, 12 noon.
- Oct. 2-Open date
- Oct. 9 vs. Hartwick, 1 p.m.
- Oct. 16 at St. John Fisher, TBA
- Oct. 23 vs. Morrisville State, 2 p.m.
- Oct. 30 at Cortland State, 1 p.m.
- Nov. 6 vs. Utica College, 1 p.m.
- Nov. 13 at Brockport State, TBA.

MATTERS of Finance

Financial Considerations for High-Income, High-Debt Professionals

Doctors, lawyers and other highly-trained professionals often have their sights on lucrative salaries once they complete their courses of study – but many are also saddled with a less pleasant graduation gift: outstanding student loans. For those who've landed a well-paying job in their desired fields, the dual reality of commanding a big salary while being encumbered with debt can lead to financial mistakes. But, as with many complexities in life, having a plan in place can help.

If you find yourself in the camp of high-income, high-debt professionals, consider the following four steps to manage your finances, pay down your obligations and pave the way to a confident financial future.

1. Spend wisely

The income you earn today may seem staggering compared to what you were accustomed to in the years before receiving your degree. Before you increase your spending, it's important to take a step back and consider how to tackle multiple financial goals at once. Start by earmarking part of each paycheck for your future goals. Knowing you have dedicated savings for future purchases like a new home or sending your kids to college can help you have confidence in your everyday finances – including an occasional splurge. However, until you have your other debts paid off or dramatically reduced, it may not be prudent to take on a large mortgage or a loan for an expensive vehicle.

2. Manage your debt effectively

Keep up on student debt and if you can, consider accelerating your payments. Paying extra will not only help you eliminate the debt sooner but will reduce the total amount you pay in interest. Refinancing the debt to ease your monthly payment schedule may be an option, but given your likely cash flow, it may not be necessary. If you have accrued other debts such as car loans or credit card borrowing, repay them as quickly as possible. Make it a priority to reduce the impact that debt has on your monthly budget.

3. Start saving for retirement

A good rule of thumb for any young professional is to try to save 10 percent (and more, if possible) of their income in accounts designed to build wealth for the long run. While the idea of retirement may seem a lifetime away, starting to accumulate money in a retirement account as soon as possible can be especially effective. Those who begin saving for retirement in their 20s or early 30s can most effectively leverage the power of compounding interest. At this age, you have time on your side and the ability for your investments to grow over the decades to come.

4. Keep it all in perspective

You've worked hard to get where you are, and earning a big paycheck is a justifiable reward. Your professional and financial journey is just beginning, so treat your financial life as a marathon, not a sprint. At the very least, focus on living within your means. To the extent you are able, try to live even more modestly with the goal of paying down debts as quickly as possible. You never know what the future holds and what opportunities may arise. Your income level could change, either by your own choice or due to unavoidable circumstances. Take advantage of your good fortune today to strengthen your financial future.

The Flood of 1972

Memories of a five-year-old refugee

published in June 2022, the fiftieth anniversary of that natural disaster. Kicking off a year of gathering personal stories for that supplement is the following reminiscence of Heidi (Ryan) Lindley.

Heidi's story first appeared in the Baker's Bridge Historical Association Newsletter and recently was published in the Almond Historical Society's Newsletter. She shares her memories of the Flood as a five-year-old "refugee," at Alfred-Almond Central School. Almond village residents were housed there after being evacuated. A naturally-occurring dam, created because of a collapsed sluice along the Rt. 17 expressway that was under construction, was in danger of breaking.

Much like many have contributed to this newspaper's "Pandemic Escapes" throughout the past year, the Sun welcomes area residents to share their memories (and photos) of The Flood of 1972 for publication in a special historic supplement in late June 2022. Stories and photos may be emailed to: alfredsun.news@gmail.com

Here's Heidi's story:

By HEIDI RYAN LINDLEY

Recently my mother sent me a snapshot capturing a moment from the Summer of 1972. When I opened the picture, I did not look at the title, but I knew instantly where it was taken and the event - The Flood of 1972. It was a photograph of people sitting in the high school cafeteria of my old alma mater, Alfred-Almond Central School. I recognized many people from the picture, the first ones being my three cousins, who sat at a cafeteria table with empty trays in front of them. They were surrounded by adults of various ages who were our neighbors.

This picture and event brought so many memories flooding (sorry for the pun) back to me that I wanted to take a moment and write them down. When you are five, your worldview is so skewed. You are so blissfully ignorant and unaware of what is really happening around you that it is quite humorous as I look back on it. The event itself was not funny at all but the way that I remember it brings a whole new perspective.

There were many tragic things that took place during this catastrophic event and I in no way want to make light of those things. People lost loved ones and property and possessions were forever destroyed so this is not what these memories are about. These are just some ramblings of a 50 something woman who loves the nostalgia that photographs recall.

One of the last weeks of June 1972 I remember getting off the bus at Harvey's Restaurant and walking home in the rain. It was one of my last days of Kindergarten with Miss Whitford. It had been raining for a couple days and prospects for swimming were looking bleak. My family had just installed a new in-ground pool the previous fall in our backyard and my summer days were going to be spent swimming. I was going to perfect my Nestea plunge and possibly have more faith than that silly disciple, Peter, who didn't have enough faith to walk on water. I would show him I had enough faith! I loved the water and I'd stay in that pool all day long if it weren't for parents and grandparents that had other things to do besides watch a child swim all day. A rainy summer was not sounding very fun.

Now, I don't recall the actual day of the week or when exactly it happened but my very first memory that my life was going to change came when I was awakened by my mother or father. I was told to put on clothes and go downstairs. I don't remember if I packed a suitcase, if I took any toys with me, or my favorite blanket. I just remember being downstairs and on the way down the stairs passing someone with a filing cabinet drawer from my parent's office. They looked heavy! There were more people coming with files as I made my way through the vestibule and living room. I went into the Nationwide Office of our home and the door to the outside was propped open and there I saw a rapidly flowing river in front of our house where Main Street used to be.

The next thing I remember there was a fireman picking me up and carrying me across the street. My sister Jenny was being carried or had been carried across the street too. It seems to me that I remember being able to stand on the sidewalk of that side of the street. I don't know who was with us, I feel like my parents were busy trying to save their business files from being totally destroyed by the water that threatened to come into our house. I remember walking and probably asking an incessant number of questions to whomever would listen.

I do not remember fear entering my mind even though it was dark, it was the middle of the night or very early morning and I was walking alongside a raging and very destructive river on my left. I remember it like it was an adventure. I had no idea I was now a refugee!

By definition a refugee is a person who has been forced to leave their country in order to escape war, persecution, or natural disaster. Well, that was me alright! I mean, I wasn't fleeing my country, it was just my town and I was going to my school rather than an internment camp or anything like that. I certainly didn't feel like a refugee. I felt like I was on an adventure! How many kids get to spend not one night but night after night in a classroom with their whole family and extended family and some people I'd never met in my short little life! For our temporary housing we were assigned one of the Kindergarten classrooms! What more could a child of five ask for? We had cots to sleep on, toys to play with, a bathroom with toilet and sink that were just my size, records to listen to, an entire school at our disposal with a gym and a pool! You would've thought we'd just checked into the Ritz!

Our extended family assigned to this Kindergarten room consisted of my mother and father, my sister and brother, both sets of grandparents, a great-grandmother, my great aunt and uncle, a newlywed couple that were some of our relation. I believe the bride was from England and this was a most unpleasant way to be introduced to American living! We also had two poodles in our room that were so high strung that they barked each time the clock struck another minute. How did we ever sleep?

At the age of five you are completely oblivious to what the adults are going through. I believe God designed it that way for a reason. If we had been told the details of what we know today it would have been a terrifying experience. Our parents protected us by allowing us to be distracted with what the school provided for us in the way of entertainment. While it may have been one of the most horrific events in my parents' life and those of our town, I was living it up! We spent our days running the hallways of that school, playing on those scooters in the gym; you know the kind that you hold onto with your hands and inevitably run into someone else on the scooter smashing your fingers and sometimes you get your fingers run over by another scooter which hurt like the dickens! Playing endless games of Dodge Ball, War and Kick Ball.

Running those hallways again only to find that some of our own teachers were refugees too! Mrs. Lloyd was in her room grading papers and my sister had the privilege of going and helping her with that task. I was too small to help and probably whined about it a lot! We had an endless supply of chocolate and vanilla pudding and ice cream that was left over from the school year. Nothing says a good time like a cup of vanilla ice cream eaten with a tiny wooden spoon.

The icing on the cake for this five-year-old was having access to that indoor swimming pool! Don't have a swimsuit? No problem! The school had an ample supply of swimsuits for all shapes and sizes! Those swimsuits were color coded for a reason. At first glance you could spot your size and grab one before the other girls. If I remember correctly, they came in forest green (S), navy blue (M), and red (LARGE). Those navy-blue suits were so well worn it was hard to find one that would stay perched on your shoulders while you swam covering those bits that were not to be seen by the boys or anyone else for that matter, or still had elastic in the legs that didn't expose the other private bits. I've gotten carried away with my description of these suits because they really were quite awful. But when you are five and you love to swim, you'd swim in your birthday suit without a care in the world!

When I look back now, as an adult, I cannot even imagine how awful this must have been for my parents. The concern they had for their own home and hundreds of others that were insured by them, the protection of those files containing all the information on those clients, their children's safety, their parents' safety and the devastating loss of Mr. Ide and his daughter, Amy, who was the same age as myself. The town was completely devastated, as the Canacadea Creek winds through the village. Roads, ball fields, businesses, backyards, pools, and homes were completely encased in flood mud! There was so much clean up that it must have been extremely overwhelming!

If you've ever had the chance to be in a town that has been affected by flood waters, you know the smell. It is putrid, it is everywhere, and it was in our pool! The pool that I was so excited about swimming in became our summer project. There's something about the air and the climate after a major flood. It's hot, humid, sticky and that is not a good combination with flood mud.

We had the opportunity to house a "fresh air" child that summer. How ironic that is, considering the air smelled less than fresh at the time! Imagine just having survived a major catastrophe and having a house guest for the summer. The young man's name was Leroy and he was from Harlem, NYC. Any plans for a fun, carefree summer quickly vanished for Leroy and the Ryan children as they were put to work cleaning the backyard pool, patio and other backyard structures.

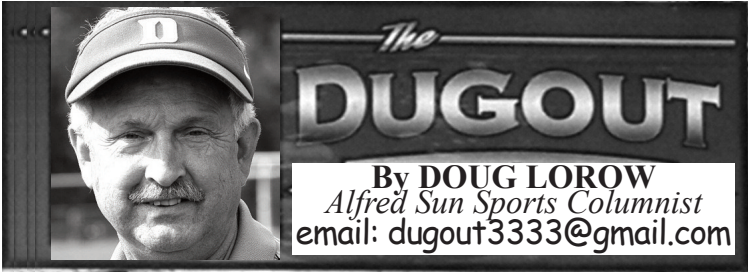

At one point Leroy felt compelled to let my mother know what he thought about all the work. "Mrs. Ryan, you make Jeffrey work altogether too hard!" Leroy certainly received an experience of "fresh air" he was likely thankful to forget that summer.

The smell of flood mud is still a very prevalent odor in my mother's cellar to this day. I've taken my children down there a few times to see how it coated everything and so they can appreciate the hard work I endured as a child. A few years ago, we were cleaning out the barn to have a sale and we discovered a cat that had been covered with flood mud. Who knew we had our own archaeological dig in our own backyard? And who knows whether that cat was from the 1972 or possibly the 1984 flood?

When my parents first moved from Karr Valley Road to Main Street in Almond my father expressed a concern that without living on a farm, his children wouldn't learn the meaning of hard work. We may have lived a soft life for most of our childhood, although our parents were good about leaving a "to do" list for us every day in the summer. However, when it came time for a major cleanup from a flood, whether it be 1972, 1984 or anytime in between, never fear, Dad, we learned the meaning of hard work.

HITS AND MISSES:

It was a "double dipper" of trophies for four baseball-softball programs in Section Five with the NYS tourney not being played for the second consecutive spring due to the pandemic. Wellsville, Avon, Bolivar-Richburg and Keshequa all won their respective sectional championships, in both sports! Keshequa was the #1 seed on the baseball diamond in D1 and they topped Batavia ND in the finals. Bolivar-Richburg grabbed their third straight baseball championship with a C2 title. And Wellsville added onto their numerous sectional trophies in baseball with a B2 win over Penn Yan. #2 seeded Hornell fell in their B1 finals to top-seeded Pal-Mac, 5-2.

For the Bolivar-Richburg program in baseball it has been a solid 13-season run as they grabbed seven championships in that span, in various classes. The Wolverines were champs in 2008 (C), 2010 (DD), 2013 (C), 2016 (C2), 2018 (D1), 2019 (C2) and this spring. Again, no sectionals last year due to Covid-19. They also took titles in 2000 and 2002. Some before that when they were "just" Bolivar, the Bulldogs. Hopefully have all that correct or I'll be hearing from Cody!

The combined Avoca/Prattsburgh baseball was going for a third-straight championship in the D2 bracket but they fell to #2 seeded, Northstar/Hope Hall by a 4-0 tally. Avoca won this championship in 2018-19 before the combined squad this season. And coaching this team was long-time Wellsville Lions coach, Denny Miles with his 12-sectional championships at that school. Miles, "retired" from Wellsville and emerged in Avoca to take over for a team that was already a sectional champ. A-P went (15-2) this season, was the #1 seed in D2 and Miles was the Coach of the Year in that class. As for Hope Hall, had never heard of them! Knew about Northstar as former Alfred State cager, Toby Brown of Waterloo coached there for awhile. Think he might still be teaching at the school but unable to confirm via the once-legendary Kaz.

In summer, college baseball, the Hornell Dodgers have five products of Alfred State College on their roster. They are: Collin Burdett (Hornell), Lewis Pettit (Bolivar), Brody Burdett, Avallone Matteo and Tim Holler. Also, Arkport players John Haines from Washington & Jefferson plus Garrett Stuckey from Finger Lakes CC. The Dodgers grabbed four wins last week as they topped the Rochester Ridgemen, Dansville Gliders, Cortland Crush and the Syracuse Spartans. A loss in the mix to the Genesee Rapids. Hornell had improved to (6-5) as of Sunday past after a shaky start to the season. The Mansfield Destroyers still pace the Western Division that the Dodgers are in. The Rapids are in second, Hornell third. Hoping to catch a game later this summer when they take on the Ridgemen in Webster at Boulter Park.

Backing up a bit, Virginia Wesleyan won the NCAA Division III softball championship as they beat Texas Lutheran in the finals. Wesleyan also won this championship in 2017 and 2018 while Lutheran grabbed the 2019 trophy. The University of Rochester (35-10) dropped both their games in the double-elimination format as they fell to Birmingham-Southern by a 3-2 tally and to St. Thomas (MN) by a 2-1 score. Ouch. Believe Thomas is the school that was kicked out of their own league in football ... for being too good.

It was quite a spring for Salisbury as their baseball team (34-4) beat that St. Thomas program in the NCAA D3 championship contest and this was after their undefeated women won the lax title and the men's lacrosse squad fell in the finals to RIT, in overtime. Almost three NCAA trophies in the spring! Cortland won the baseball championship back in 2015 with a (44-4) slate. No track & field championship for Salisbury though. The Wartburg (men) and Loras (women) took home those banners. Wartburg and Loras are in the same conference as Nebraska Wesleyan, where ex-Saxons hoop coach Dale Wellman resides these days. The American River Conference. Both championship schools in Iowa. Guessing Gary "Doc" Moore has been out there in his "track travels!"

There might be life in the NY Yankees after all as they swept the Toronto Blue Jays last week at Sahlen Field in Buffalo and then pulled out 2/3 over the red-hot Oakland A's this past weekend at Yankee Stadium. Meanwhile, the Tampa Bay/Montreal/Nashville Rays dropped six straight with mega "walk-off" wins against them in Seattle. One on a grand slam off the bat of Shed Long, Jr., perhaps a distant cousin of the late "Ungawa" Long of Hornell Macker basketball officiating and Bona pitching coach fame. Ticket prices were just absurd for the Yanks-Jays in Buffalo. Had hoped to attend a game with former Genesee soccer parent, Mike Novak, but $200--250 for a ticket was just nuts. Guessing former A-A athletic director, Keith M. Holmok either hit the lottery or cashed in his 401K to get four ducats to one of the games. Pro Yanks crowd! The "Traveling Sports Fan" made it there ... sorta. An opening in the outfield fence and (of course) he gathered in a foul ball. Anyhow, the Yanks still need starting pitching if they are going to do anything this year. Four/five-inning pitchers Michael King, Jameson Taitlon and Domingo German just don't cut it. Going to potentially burn that strong bullpen out.

Rob "Hair" Torrey (note paint on hand) holds Sahlen Field home run ball he grabbed at an opening in the outfield fence.

While not a Mets fan by any means ... sorry McDrip, but it is fun to watch Jacob deGrom take the ball for the New York team as he's the best pitcher currently on the planet. Now, if he can just stay healthy! He was pitching last week against the Cubs and struck out eight batters in the first three innings! And then he was pulled due to shoulder soreness. After that game his ERA was at 0.54 and, oh yes, his batting average was .423 for the season. Cy Young Award and MVP if he stays healthy and the Mets do something this year?

A new stadium for the Buffalo Bills in the NFL? Their lease at Highmark Stadium expires in 2023 and they are contemplating having a new one built, still in Orchard Park, ready for the 2025 season. Where is that money coming from? Billions! Anyhow, if it were to come about, there is talk of the Bills extending the lease by a year or two or playing in Toronto (CFL) or at ... Penn State? Don't see that happening.

Anyhow, new stadium with a retractable roof?

Still think the NFL should "flip flop" divisions with the Baltimore Ravens and Bills. Move Buffalo in with Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Cincinnati with the Ravens now playing the Patriots, Jets and Dolphins. Easy trips to Buffalo-Cleveland, Buffalo-Pittsburgh and not terrible to Cincy for Bills fans.

It is "major time" on the three golf tours in the United States as Jon Rahm (-6) held off a stacked Sunday leaderboard, that faltered, to grab the U.S. Open trophy. Only Louie Oosthuizen was able to stay with Rahm but a terrible tee shot on #17 doomed him. Big names like Brooks Koepka, Colin Morikawa, Xander Schauffele, Rory McIlroy and especially Bryson DeChambeau semi-challenged and then dropped back. DeChambeau had a "nifty" 8-over on the back nine, with an (8) at the par four, seventeenth. Jordan Spieth was never a factor after opening with a 77. Justin Thomas, Dustin Johnson and Spieth well back at (+2).

The women have the KPMG LPGA Championship this week with a history in Rochester (Pittsford) associated with this tourney. In 2010 it was called the LPGA Championship presented by Wegmans. From 2011-14 it was the Wegmans LPGA Championship with the Locust Hill CC the layout, except for 2014 when it was shifted to the Monroe GC. And that was the end of it for golf in Rochester despite great crowds for years at the Rochester International. Always a good draw for the regular tour event and a solid list of the top players. The KPMG now rotates around at various courses and Rochester has the Symetra Tour, and that's it.

It'll be another major for the men on the 50+ golf circuit as it's the Senior Players Championship in Akron, Ohio at the famed Firestone CC. The regular PGA Tour used to stop here every year on this awesome course, but now it is the Champions Tour event only. Been out to that layout, 3-4 times over the years. College buddy, Glen Sayre lives not too far away and we've gone there. Went once with his Dad, Del, when Glen couldn't make it. Wandered out there once a few years back to see Spieth in action. Guessing at a WGC Invitational event. This will be one of three majors in a four-event stretch on the schedule with the Senior Open and British Open to follow. Can't be good news for the Dick's Open in Endicott, sandwiched in-between all of these. Phil Mickelson in the field this week? Haven't heard so guessing not.

Backing up to future sites for the U.S. Open tournament as it'll be in Brookline, MA next year. Heading up there and staying with "Hilly" Moses if he can get us tix! They are back at Pinehurst in 2024. The PGA Championship will be at Oak Hill in Rochester in 2023. That has been contested there in 2003 plus 2013.

"Real shame" to see the Brooklyn Nets knocked out of the NBA playoffs. Actually, if healthy, which they weren't much of the season, gotta believe this team takes the championship. Kevin Durant couldn't quite pull it off virtually all by himself. James Harden wasn't 100% and Kyrie Irving (ankle) was out. They and NBA stars across the playoff landscape. Who is going to be healthy enough to compete for Team USA in the Olympics?

And in some shocking NBA news with a local flavor, Stan Van Gundy is out as head coach of the New Orleans Pelicans after just one season at the post. Believe Van Gundy (Brockport) inked a five-year deal to coach the Pelicans. Yikes. On his staff, Coach Bob W. Beyer (LeRoy/AU) who is probably off to Saratoga Springs as you read this and with a "free" paid year upcoming on his contract. Maybe a volunteer assistant coach with the Blue Streaks of Toga?

Enjoyed watching the USA Olympic swimming trails on the tube last week from Omaha, Neb. Knew the name of Katie Ledecky and that is about it. She certainly didn't disappoint.

A Father's Day weekend (Saturday) lunch and a couple of cold ones with former Genesee soccer player Meg "Pam" (Verdino) and her husband, Josh Newman at the K2 Brothers Brewing on a hot afternoon. Great patio! Meg and daughter Lauren roommates/teammates at SUNY Genesee. Always entertaining!

And speaking of 3L, looking forward to seeing her and Jason, Quinny, Rowy next week for a few days in this area. Hopefully she can squeeze me in between visits to Jess (Herbst) Benway, Meg, probably her former Macker teammate Cass, Ellen Lindahl and Coach Brown. Then they are off to Cayuga Lake to hook-up with the Larson crew.

Maybe some golf on the agenda (sometime) with the illustrious Smitty, perhaps with Josh Newman, Bob Baker and maybe Pat Atwell down-the-road. All tentative plans at the moment but am hopeful.
