H. Com Lyrrad

AENU's Soy Burger Day, scheduled for the weekend of April 22, promises to be a total blowout, according to organizers of the annual event. Joe Cliff, co-chairperson, said "this years events will be the worst ever, because the Alfred E. Newman State College is involved."

Newman State, which normally doesn't participate, decided that they wanted to share the glory this year and pitched a tent in front of Bill's Scampus Center and the Sexless Inne until Soy Burger Day coordinators agreed to let them in "by the hairs of [their] chinny chin chins."

Soy Burger Day, a dummy charity for a secret fund to build a brewery in the Newman community, is directed by despot King Coal, and the residents of Monarchy Hall: Ding Dong, Court Jester McMatt Dubatt, Mork Mug, Prince Ogre, Wicked Witch of the Southern Tier, Susie-Q, and M. Lamb McDonald's with support from the Inter- Freak Council.

The 17th annual Soy Burger Day will begin on Friday April 22 with the traditional I Scream, U Scream, We All Scream for Mice Feed Bash at 6 p.m. in the Newman Bombshelter.

The Bash will include an out of work comedian sponsored by B.a.S and its president Micro Wear. The bulk of events, not fully planned yet, will take place on Saturday, beginning with Bud Tossing at 11:00 p.m. on Sucker Field. Most events will probably flop during this week-end of boredom.

Student Politburo Allocates Entire Budget to Rugby

Prince ET

Last Wednesday, at the Student Politburo's weekly meeting, the Politburo unanimously voted to support the Financial Committee decision to give the entire remainder of its funds to the Men's and Women's Rugby teams.

There was applause from throughout the building at the decision.

The Men's team had requested $15. to buy three towels which they would share with each other (there are over fifty guys on the team).

The women wanted only $20. to pay for their waterboy, since they have no way of getting a drink at Sterile Field.

President Amy Oldpecker said the decision was "coming for a long time now."

Vice-President Ferrari Phil said "this shows the care and concern not only representative of the Financial Committee, but of the entire Politburo and its Senators."

The administration was also pleased with the decision and Ding Dong, director of beer distribution, promised a campus wide 300 keg party.

Diners Ailing at Sick Hall

Rookie Rentar

Approximately 250 diners in Sick Hall were rushed to the Illness Center yesterday with symptoms of food poisoning.

Sick had an exotic seafood special.

"I think it was the squid sandwich," said Fried Food, AENU Junior.

"The crustacean chili did it for me!" senior Hot Tamale exclaimed.

University Trustees Lower Tuition Students and National Organizations Protest Decrease

Prince ET

Students are up in arms over the decision made this morning by the Bored of Trustees to lower tuition 45%. This means that tuition would cost the same as most state schools.

Students rose in protest immediately after the decision was made.

The Student Politburo's Vice- President, Ferrari Phil, said that he will be "organizing a militant group to march in front of Monarchy Hall until the decision is rescinded!"

Amy Oldpecker, Politburo president, has called parents and organized them to lobby against the decision.

Both parents and students were expecting the 15% increase they asked for earlier in the year.

The decision was surprising to everyone except the administration. Parents and students were hoping to get rid of financial aid totally, or at least work study.

Bjorn Barnett, a junior English major said, "I want my parents to pay at least $15,000 in tuition fees, and so do they. Look at Harvard's and Stanford's tuition; we are far below the national average."

Ding Dong, director of beer distribution, said that "the Bored of Trustees have made their decision and are going to stick to it. In fact, most of them wanted to lower tuition 55%, but they compromised."

Students of the Old State College of Cement of AENU protested the tuition decrease. This decision, they fear, will cause the state school to lower their tuition also. Parents have been calling their Congressmen and the Politburo's Senators have been trying to contact Governor Cuomo to force the Bored of Trustees to change their decision.

It seems unlikely the Bored will change its mind, but a national news conference has been scheduled for Friday.

Students at other schools around the country have been concerned about the national repercussions of this decision; they fear that a chain reaction may occur and schools around the country will start lowering their tuition.

Representatives from as far as California and Alaska have been flying in to lobby the Trustees and give AENU their support.

Researcher Documents Acid In Local Rain

AENU Wants to Bottle and Sell

Lois Lane

When it rains it pours. And that's good news for Alfred E. Newman University.

Rain could quickly become a commodity at AENU, where researchers have documented an unusual component of local precipitation—LSD.

Doctors Constance Lee Tripping and Ima Hippy, associate professors of Felony pharmacology at AENU have documented the presence of LSD here using samples they collected over a 12-month period.

"We were really, truly curious, you know?" Tripping said.

Tripping and Hippy began collecting samples last year when the University lowered tuition and could not pay its water bill.

"It was a rainy day and I was really, really thirsty, you know. So I stuck my cup out the window and filled it up. Wow, it tasted so good—I was so thirsty—Business and Finance didn't issue our paychecks that week so

Sexless Inne to Lose Virginity at Orgy Party

Scope Staff Member

"We vow that the Sexless Inne shall lose its virginity at our upcoming orgy party," said Mark Zucchini, station manager of BARF.

What Mr. Zucchini is referring to is the upcoming orgy party being planned as, "a new way to recruit staff" by The Liat, Alfred E. Newman's student newspaper and BARF AENU's student run radio station. The event, to be held in the Sexless Inne, has been strongly supported by the rulers of Alfred E. Newman University.

"The students of AENU need a little more sex in their lives," said Ding Dong, director of beer distribution at AENU. "Monarchy Hall is 100% behind these innovative students. We plan to send over 15 or so kegs to give the event a strong start."

Craig Pretzel, Liat Editor, said he feels that, "the students should lose all their bashfulness about sex. Hopefully, in the process of having a great time, we can do a little staff recruiting."

The evening, beginning at 8:00 p.m., will be highlighted by two hour long orgies and a nude matching game where partners will be blindfolded for a more interesting time.

"We plan to help decorate the event with numerous pillows, silk sheets, whips and chains, and some interesting sexual devices," said Rowdy Howdy Doody, assistant director of boring activities for students. "We also are encouraging students to bring their own devices with them."

Pretzel noted that all on campus condom dispensers have been stolen by Liat staff members and relocated at the Inne for the orgy.

Admission to the event is free.

University Plans for '88 Academic Year

Prince ET
Some new and exciting changes will be made by the administration in the fall of 1988.
Despot King Coal and the Bored of Trustees have reformed key elements of AENU policy to make the University number one among the most desired slob and degenerates in the college market.
Ding Dong, director of beer distribution said he hopes to have several campus wide beer parties.
"One event that would be perfect around Soy Burger Day is funnelling, chugging, quarters, and dice competition," Dong said. "It is known that the free distribution of beer is beneficial to the study habits of Alfred E. Newman's student populace."
Susie Q, Wicked Witch of the Southern Tier, has decided to drop the biased lottery method for housing and decided to take bribes for room appointments. "The highest 'donation' will get first pick, the lowest one will get the last pick, but of course people can combine funds to get into the suites," Susie said.
Court Jester McMATT Dubat, has scheduled great shows for next semester through PASS (Performances Are Simply Stupid); besides other acts, Pee Wee Herman and the Chipmunks are scheduled to perform. Some of the prominent writers from the Alfred-Almond 4th grade class are also scheduled to give lectures on their poetry.

Martini director Mork Mug, Rowdy
Featured next semester will be pool tournaments using ping pong balls, table tennis using lightweight pool balls, and chicken neck-and-feet eating contests.
Howdy Doody, and President of Boring Activities for Students (BaS) Micro Were, are also planning major concerts and other events.
Featured next semester will be pool tournaments using ping pong balls, table tennis using lightweight pool balls, and chicken neck-and-feet eating contests.
Students have already started signing up for these events.

Bill's Scampus Center will be remodeled so that the Sexless Inne is able to hold more people.
Also in the works are campus-wide Orgy Parties to be held with the combined forces of The Liat and BARF.
The Student Politburo, headed by Amy Oldpecker and Ferrari Phil are hoping to get or steal more money from the monarchy so that they can pay senators for doing well in organizing events.
Oldpecker and Ferrari are also organizing a Task Force to change the meals in Aid and Sick Dining Halls.
"We are trying to get some french chefs or at least New York chefs who speak french to cook our meals, said Oldpecker.
Ding Dong had no problem with the idea, but warned that french chefs "did not appreciate beer!"
The efforts of the student organizations on campus as well as that of the administration seems to be having a tremendous affect on the publicity of Alfred E. Newman University. Approximately 20,000 students have applied to the school for next fall.
"Both parents and students know that Alfred E. Newman University provides a unique and conducive social and learning

Researcher Documents Acid In Local Rain AENU Wants to Bottle and Sell

I couldn't pay my water bill either—well, I drank a lot of this stuff and started feeling really, really good, you know," Hippy said.
"But after AENU payed the water bill," she said, "I didn't feel so good anymore. It was like I was burnt or something."
When they "did some heavy-duty pondering," Tripping said, she and Hippy hypothesized that the rain had caused Hippy's behavior change.
She and Hippy began analyzing rain samples and discovered that it had LSD.
"I knew I recognized that feeling!" Hippy said.
After hearing of Tripping and Hippy's discovery, despot King Coal appropriated some money to the scientists to continue their work.
"I'm a big supporter of scholarly activity," he said. "Besides, I knew if this thing was for real we could market it and lower tuition even more."
In a telephone interview, vice president for black-market activities Pete Cackler said AENU has applied for a license to bottle the rain and sell it on campus.
"This is the perfect way to recruit degenerates to AENU," Cackler said. "SAT scores have gotten unbearably high in the past few years. We need to do something to change that."
Coal said if AENU gets the license, he eventually wants to expand the business into the surrounding community.
"Can you see the possibilities?" he said. "I mean, I've tried this stuff and I'm REALLY happy. We could have such positive relations with that place across the street if everybody was this happy-pee..."

Some community residents are not so happy, however, to hear Coal's proposal.
Bob Roberts, proprietor of Bob's Bar and Grill, located on the strip in downtown Alfred, said he will fight AENU's attempts to sell the bottled rain off campus.
"That loose-moraled place! First an orgy party and now this. They'll never sell that stuff here! What's next, rock 'n roll?"
Other proprietors of local business expressed similar views.
But Coal is confident. Sipping from his glass of rainwater, Coal chuckled.
"I think it will be the best money maker this University has every had."

Editorial Policy

Since The Liat does not want your letters or any kind of feedback. We do not have any letters to the Liat editor policy.

Since we are constantly being harassed by the ruling administrators of this University, we try to print free thought as often as possible. However, we do like to retain our heads.

Since our columnists usually don’t know what they are talking about, we do not support their views, unless it gives the newspaper good publicity.

From the Liat Editor:

Due to circumstances beyond the control of the staff of the Liat, there will be no editorial this issue. (King Coal, ruler of Alfred E. Newman had the recent Editor beheaded for writing negative things about the University.) Until a new Editor can be determined, this newspaper will not run an editorial. Please note, Applications for the position are available in the Liat office.

To the Liat Editor:

Dear Liat Editor,
Sex is moral, don’t you think? Who says you have to be married to have fun? If we all waited until we were married, no one would have any experience. Who wants to look like a fool in bed?
As The Man says, “Sex is natural, sex is fun!” (For those of you who don’t know who The Man is, listen to the radio — he has “Faith” in FUN!).

Thank God we’ve invaded Honduras. Now we can go back to the days of Vietnam. Free Sex. Let’s do it in the Road! Make love, not war! Peace, Love and Sex will make all our problems of stress disappear.

Free sex. The Natural Feel of it. Sex the way Nature intended it to be.
We, the Sexually Unsatisfied Students of Alfred E. Newman University hereby propose a new communication plan for the University. We propose a “Lay-In”. If it is not approved by Student “Affairs” in Monarchy Hall we’ll storm Main Street on Friday, April 1 and demonstrate to the people how it SHOULD be done.

“We’re trying to go back to primitive ways,” explained Amy Oldpecker, politburo president. “Why shouldn’t people be allowed to express themselves? So what if it’s in the middle of class— AENU students will probably learn more, anyway!”

A few words to the wise and foolish: Save Our Sex! After all, it is OUR tuition—let’s put our money to bed, we mean good use. Promote Sexual Awareness Week—be aware of what your body can do for you. Don’t take this standing up—fight back for your sexual rights! Enjoy life to the fullest extent possible. That’s what it’s here for.

Sincerely yours,

Out to Save a Dying Fad

Dear Liat Editor,
I am furious about the consistent clarity with which your reporters present their articles. I’ve searched and searched and can’t find any hint of googly-goop or nonsense in your paper. We simply can’t have this! This doesn’t accurately reflect the level of intelligence of the AENU students, faculty or staff.
Come on, who cares about safe sex? I don’t - I try to get mine, as much, with whom ever, as often as possible. And we know that A.P.E.S is a gaye disease (if you got it flaunt it). What we want to know is if Rowdy Howdy Doody is making it with Micro Wear or Mark Zucchini. We also want to know the price of tea in China, the price of rice in Russia, and the temperature on the Falkland Islands on June 28 of any given year.
We want higher tuition since we don’t have any thing else to do with our never-ending supply of money. And we want heated waterbeds in our dorms.

So get the stories straight! Print our views, not your twisted sadistic ideas. I have reported your paper to the ACNA, AENA, FBI, the MAFIA and the NFL. I hope these important leaders in our society will impress upon you the importance of proper newspaper writing, and that you will start reflecting the AENU population (large as it is).

Sincerely,

Money Doesn't Matter
Alfred E. Newman Kills All Financial Aid

Damon Grunion
Today marks the last article concerning financial aid for this paper.
The Coal monarchy, in consultation with the Bored Trustees, has decided that in its quest for the full-pay student it will close the Financial Aid Office.
“We’ve really been missing the most obvious solution to our goal. By offering no financial assistance to students, all students would be full-pay”, said Ding Dong, director of beer distribution. “It makes tremendous sense.”
When asked about the decision, Dr. Ruth, director of marketing, said that the idea of closing the office was a result of her extensive research on five students who did not matriculate.

“The idea of closing just jumped out at me, she said. “It makes immense sense and has real appeal for attracting additional full-pay students as they no longer would need to mingle with the general hoi polloi.”
Despot King Coal insists that keeping the Financial Aid Office only reinforced the perception that AENU was a middle class institution.
“It’s something that feeds upon itself,” he said. “We were scaring away the very students we wanted to serve.”
Outgoing Director David Groin could not be reached for comment but issued an official statement: “Stuff Happens!”

Wild Bill Bennett, The World’s Greatest Authority and Prince of Education lauded AENU’s decision.
“The closing of the Financial Aid Office is a step in the right direction and is something all colleges and universities should consider in getting back to the basics,” he said. “Alfred E. Newman University should be commended on its insight and decisive action. Let’s keep higher education a privilege, not a right.”

The South Has Declared War on North

Liat Plans Special Issues for Complete Coverage of Battles

Caty Roo
The South Side of the Alfred E. Newman University Campus declared war upon the North Side this morning.
This action greatly surprised the small college's administration.
In a press conference early this morning, despot of AENU King Coal commented, "We do not know what happened! All of a sudden the campus has become a war zone."
He did admit that a "cold war" has been in effect for years. "There are many art students on the North Side of Campus and many engineers on the South. These two groups haven't been mixing well for years, but this..."
The AENU Cold War was broken when Southerners from Aid Hall, started bombarding Northerners in Sick, the northern dinning hall with molotov cocktails.
The casualties are far reaching. Fifty Northerners and forty-three Southerners were rushed to the Illness Center with first-degree burns and bruises.
Unfortunately, townspeople had to be called in to keep the peace. Even the most seriously wounded continued to fight.

Immediately following the battle, Southern leaders seized the radio station and announced that they were seceding from AENU. "Why not a third college in Alfred?" cried Merry Tribus. "We are prepared for war and have established McMann as our headquarters."
Northerners quickly established Sick as their base and attacked those leaving McMann.
"Those arty gorilla attacks are simply unfair fighting practices and we've had enough!" declared southern engineer Kom Tenyon.
Academic Row has been declared "no man's land" but hand-to-hand combat continues from building to building.
The Monarchy has declared that all students involved in the Civil War will be phased.
Ding Dong, director of beer distribution commented, "When I was a kid, we were all for peace. What's with students these days?"
President of the Student Politburo, Amy Oldpecker strongly supported the administration's positon.

"From now on the carillon will play the alma mater in hopes of unifying us. A college standing can not be divided," she declared.
The town police are concerned. "Our police task force is simply not large enough to keep this under control. We are too busy keeping the cocktails under observation," a spokesman from the police department stated during a press conference this evening.
Monarchy experts have suggested the two sides are evenly matched. According to these experts, the Northerners have developed creative gorilla tactics and built high-intensity flame throwers, but the Southerners have advanced technology on their side. They have developed superconductor which explode on contact.
The campus is in a state of turmoil, but plans of action are being implemented. Nursing majors are learning burn care and Ox, the Alfred hot line, is learning ways to handle calls from those with "combat fatigue" or post-traumatic stress disorder.

Slugfest Begins with 26 Reported Injuries

Scoop Scott
For those of you who have been practicing and waiting, Slugfest has finally arrived.
The weekend's events were underway after one quick hit. "Let Slugfest begin," said Despot King Coal as he slugged Ding Dong, director of beer distribution in the face while a mob of approximately 300 students cheered him on.
King Coal then addressed the crowd of onlookers in a pep rally manner. "I encourage every one of you to come out and show your support toward Slugfest. Each one of you are cordially invited to come down to Davis Gym and beat the iiving tar out of each other."

Dong returned to the scene after obtaining medical attention from the Illness Center. "Please take your frustrations out on each other this weekend. It is the one weekend a year that fighting is legal on campus," said Dong.
Slugfest, which is sponsored by Boring Activites for Students, will run April 19, 20, and 21.
One of the most talked about events, The Slug Eating Contest, will be held April 20 at 8 p.m. in Davis Gym. There are both group and individual competitions. The number of group members is limited to five, and the competition may be entered by signing up at Bill's Scampus Center.
The slugs will be sauteed in butter and herbs and cooked at both Sick and Aid Dinning Halls.
Some other events taking place are the Free-for-All Slugout, where students are given an hour to beat on each other, the Beat Your Favorite Professor Contest, and the Beat Your Least Favorite Professor contest.
Slugfest T-shirts, mugs, and buttons will be sold and can be bought at any of the events or at Bill's Scampus Center.
Due to the events taking place this weekend, the Illness Center will be open 24 hours each day equipped with extra medical staff.

Ralph's Words

Ralph Larkin
After seeing my picture in last week's issue, I decided that I needed a break. So instead of writing a full column this week, I'll just do "news-n-notes" from the world of sports.
The NHL announced, earlier this week, that they have come up with a plan to cure their much maligned playoff format. Instead of allowing 16 teams into the postseason, the NHL will begin allowing all 21 teams. In addition to the expanded playoff format, the NHL has decided to eliminate the regular season.
The NBA has taken their playoff problem in the other direction. Instead of increasing the post season, the NBA has decided to have just one seven game series between the Boston Celtics and the

Los Angeles Lakers.
NBA commissioner David Stern said, "We know that the decision may be disappointing to the other 21 teams and their fans, but at least until Magic Johnson and Larry Bird retire, this is the format we will follow."
Toronto Blue Jays outfielder/DH George Bell has made his team an offer. Bell has said he would DH without argument if the team would add one million dollars per year to his already two million annum contract. The Blue Jays have agreed, as long as Bell will expand his duties to include team bus driver and groundskeeper.
The boxing world was shocked yesterday when it was discovered that heavy-weight champion Mike Tyson and singing sensation Michael Jackson are actually fraternal twins.
Boxing promoter Don King claims that a voice analysis provided the proof of the brotherhood.

The Alfred E. Newman University Office of Admissions will begin the process of selecting Admissions Guiles for the 1988-89 academic year. If you are interested in BSing (and getting paid for it), please attend one of the following sessions which will be held in Bill's Scampus Center.
The position of Admissions Guile will be discussed at these sessions. Necessary qualifications include conning, swindling, lying and cheating with an extra cash bonus for those adept at pickpocketing to help increase student activity funding. The selection process is competitive, so the AENU Office of Admissions recommends you bring large caliber weapons and body armor.

Goof-Off Living

Dr. Sitzin D. Lounge

Well, by now most of you have become aware that the "Wellness" craze as it has been called, is on the way out.

While three or four years ago most college campuses were still in the dark ages of the health and fitness years, now students can openly discuss such formerly taboo topics as the "Freshman 25", "Dunlap's Disease", and perhaps most commonly, the "Couch-Potato" syndrome.

Frankly, I'm a little surprised that it took students so long to wake up and smell the coffee and the Twinkies, and the Cherry Coke, and the Barbecue Flavored Potato chips left over from last night's midnight run to Unimart. I mean, if those celery-stick toting yahoos want to talk about stress management, why are they telling me to get up at 5:00 a.m. to go jogging? Just thinking about it raises my blood pressure 20 points.

And what about time management and all that jazz? Am I to assume that preparing my work ahead of time will help me in the real world? Heck no! Remember, bureaucracy is what what keeps this great country running, and what better way to prepare for a career than to practice the classic bureaucratic maneuvers: passing the buck, postponing decisions, blaming the other guy, and pleading ignorance. Todays businesses need people who know how to perpetuate the system; the last thing they need is some young twirp telling everone in the office how to increase their personal energy level by eating yogurt and doing jazzercise, whatever the blazes that is.

So, if you're thinking about preparing for the real world, bag this fitness and well-being garbage and start living the good life while you still have time. Remember the great role models of yesteryear: Archie Bunker, Dom DeLouise, Jackie Gleason, Fred Flinstone, and perhaps the greatest of all, Oscar Madison!

Omniturf Receives First Cleaning

Junior Staff Reporter

Since the rededication of Sucker field last Sept., the Alfred E. Newman University sports administration has admitted that they have neglected the University's new million dollar field.

"When the company installed the field, they told us that it would be worry-free. That no maintenance was required. I guess they were wrong," said Gene Castro-Convertible, director of sports maintenance at AENU.

The maintenance that is required for the omniturf is regular vacuuming.

The problem was discovered during a recent rainstorm. Rain and the accompanying spring run-offs, flooding the new field forcing the dust that had accumulated on the field, from last fall, into the drainage system. The dust then acted just as a regular clog that occurs in sinks.

To rectify the situation, the University purchased $500,000 worth of Drain-O, which relieved the field drainage system.

The sports administration department, in consultation with the Dorm cleaning department hired an individual to vacuum the field.

The total cost of the entire clean-up operation is estimated to be one million dollars.

"This is a major financial set back for the University," said despot King Coal, ruling leader of Alfred E. Newman University. "We are going to have to sacrifice some more important aspects of the University to pay for this work to be done."

On the list of these more import aspects is the faculty payroll, student politburo funding, and funds allocated for the library for new books.

Coal said the University will not raise tuition in order to get the necessary funds. "We are going to keep with the Bored of Trustees plans to lower tuition by 45%."

The cleaning person who is in charge of the vacuuming was unavailable for comment, but the department's supervisor did say that although the job was big, it was very similar to cleaning a dorm lounge after a weekend.

The University is estimating that the clean-up project will be complete by next Fall for the first home football game.

Broadway's worst, nominated for a Phony Award in 1982, bored the hell out of the Alfred E. Newman community on Nov. 31, 1987, at XThames Theatre in Hardly Hall.

This hard-hearted musical brought to AENU by Performances are Simply Stupid (PASS), is a look at the ruff way of life. It features jocks and big-breasted cheerleaders trying to sing and dance the necessities of steroids, drugs, sex, $6. case of Goelbel Beer, ice creame sodas, and rail trips to Tiajuana.

It had no humor, the songs were terrible and the dancing was horrid.

This show kept the audience roaring, snoring, and vegetable throwing until the last song had been squealed by the jocks and collies. The show was definately appropriate for all ages of lunitics and neurotics, but normal people would have been bothered by the sound of the music and the length of this tortuous piece of "theater".

This was the worst show in the history of mankind—even the snow refused to fall during the show. Hump Boys and Collie-Jets was totally representative of the current Broadway trend, diminishing the Arts in America with total lack of substance and a disregard for the Classics.

Once again a messed-up performance provided by Court Jester, McMATT Dubatt proves that class and taste still don't exist in the A.E. Newman community and that performances really are simply stupid.

The Sexless Inne

Some frequently asked questions about us:

1 Why must "proofing" on 21 Flub nights be such a big deal?
Well, since the administration has changed its alcohol policy, it isn't any more!

2 Who can schedule programs, utilizing the Inne's excellent twin-hamster drive music system, food service capabilities and food service relief area?
Any moron.

3 What type of food and beverage can be served?
Anything thats not moving.

4 What kind of programs and activities work at the Inne?
Some, kind of, sort of... once in a while we get lucky.

Look for dances with BARF D.J.'s, 21 Flubs, Athletic Supporter receptions and much more.

Vat's your vavorlte porno flick?

Herring Memorial Library wants to know what you consider as classic porn. Please take a minute and jot down your favorite movies (please keep the list under one hundred) and drop it in the intercampus mail to Herring Library. The top ten movies selected which are currently available will be added to our already extensive collection as soon as possible. Help us buy some videos that you would like to see that aren't readily available at most reputable video outlets. To be considered, your suggestion must be in by April 1.

THE LIAT KEGGER PARTY

We over estimated our budget and we've had a roll-over. So we're rolling out the kegs in an effort to gain more staff members. So if you're interested in our paper (or just throwing back a few foamy ones), come to our meetings and we'll show you how a newspaper should be run.
