SUGGESTIONS

The demand upon institutions of learning are broadening year by year, and equipment and endowment must be increased to keep pace with the demands. Alfred forms no exception to the rule. With the assistance of her friends she has been enabled to meet all requirements in the past. Relying upon a continuation of that kindly interest in her work, there is here presented for consideration a variety of channels in which substantial aid in meeting the demand of the future may be directed. Those who wish to perpetuate their usefulness and their memory, and make their deeds live after them, cannot better do so than by giving or bequeathing something to Alfred University in one of the following ways:

INCREASE IN THE GENERAL ENDOWMENT FUND, the income of which shall be at the disposal of the University for its general expenses

THE CENTENNIAL FUND was established in 1899 with the expectation that it will amount to $100,000.00 when the University shall celebrate its centennial. Gifts to this fund may be made from $1.00 to $100.00.

THE ENDOWMENT OF PROFESSORSHIPS. Twenty-five thousand dollars will fully endow a professor's chair.

THE ENDOWMENT OF SCHOLARSHIPS to pay the term bills of worthy, but needy, students. One thousand dollars will endow a scholarship.

A scholarship may be instituted conditionally upon the payment of one hundred dollars and kept alive by the payment of not less than twenty-five dollars every two years thereafter, until one thousand dollars shall have been paid; and the beneficiary will be credited on his tuition charges with the income of the fund. In the case of scholarships founded by societies, if twenty-five dollars or more be added to the principal annually the beneficiary will be granted free tuition, but incidental and extra fees must be paid in cash by the beneficiary.

A LIBRARY BUILDING which will cost, say $25,000.

The gift of books and of money to buy books.

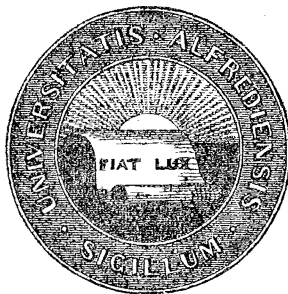

Every gift will be used as the donor may direct. The giver of fifty dollars or more will be asked to allow his name to be used in connection with the gift in the reports of the University.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY:

The President has the honor to submit his ninth annual report, viz: for the year beginning June 23, 1903, and ending June 21, 1904,

NECROLOGY

During the year, two faithful and beloved officers of the University have been removed by death.

Professor Ida F. Salan Kenyon, A. M., was born at Forst, Province of Brandinburg, Prussia, February 18, 1830. Both her parents and her brothers and sisters had died before she was eleven years of age, and she went to make her home in the family of a maternal aunt.

In 1852 the family removed to America on account of political troubles in Germany. As a young woman, Mrs. Kenyon was ambitious to secure an education, and entering Alfred Academy in 1854, graduated with the class of 1856. She then taught for several years in Pennsylvania and in Milton, Wisconsin.

In 1862, she married Reuben Long who died a few months later. In 1864, she was married to President William C. Kenyon and began at once her work as instructor in Alfred University. In 1866 failing health compelled President Kenyon to withdraw from his arduous labors, and he and his wife went to Europe for a year's visit and travel. They traveled in Germany, Switzerland, France, Holland and in England, and in June, 1867, President Kenyon died in London.

The following autumn, Mrs. Kenyon returned to Alfred and took up her work as Professor of Modern Languages and Literature. From that time until 1894, she faithfully and efficiently filled this difficult and responsible position, and won the love and esteem of thousands of students who came under her instruction. In 1894 on account of failing health and a partial loss of vision, she was obliged to resign her professorship. She was made Emeritus Professor and continued in this relation until the time of her death, March 18, 1904, thus having been officially connected with the University for forty years.

Mrs. Kenyon was a woman of unique personality, and of strong and vigorous intellect and untiring energy, and of high moral and ethical ideals. She was ever faithful and loyal to the Institution which her distinguished husband had founded, and which she had served for so many years. She showed that loyalty in numberless ways during her long period of service and in leaving by will, at her death, all her estate to enhance the endowment of the University. In her death the Faculty has lost the last living resident link that bound the University with its founders; but her name and her good works will live while Alfred University continues to have an existence.

Seymour Dexter, Ph. D., LL. D., was born in Independence, New York, in 1841 and died at his home in Elmira, New York, May 5, 1904. In his early youth, Judge Dexter entered Alfred University, and after two years study, left College at the call of his country and joined the 23d New York Volunteers in 1861. After having served the time of the enlistment, he returned to the University and continued his studies graduating with the class of 1864.

Soon after graduation, he settled in Elmira, New York, where he began the study of law and later, the practice of his chosen profession. In 1868, he was married to Eleanor E. Weaver. He rapidly rose to prominence in his profession and served his city and his country in several important offices.

He was a man of broad scholarship, high ethical and moral standards, and of unusual philanthropic impulses. He was always ready to lend his assistance to any good cause that needed a helping hand. In 1884, he was elected a trustee of Alfred University and continued to hold this office rendering valuable service to the University until the time of his death. In 1886 his Alma Mater conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and in 1903, the degree of Doctor of Laws. In his death, the University has lost a distinguished Alumnus and a wise and able trustee.

FACULTY

The faculty has remained the same as last year with the following exceptions: Professor A. R. Crandall, Ph. D., resigned his professorship in Natural History, the middle of the year leaving his department in the hands of Mr. Claude I. Lewis, B. S., who was mentioned in my last report as having been appointed Professor Crandall's assistant.

Mr. Lewis began his work in the autumn, dividing his time between instruction and work in the Museum with Professor Crandall, cataloging, re-classifying, and arranging the Museum. He also has conducted a class during the year in Agriculture, giving a general introductory course in which nine students have been registered, seven young gentlemen and two young ladies. In this department as well as in the Natural History work and the Museum work, he has rendered most efficient and satisfactory service.

Miss Alberta Oakley, B. L., who had been appointed Instructor in English and Expression, and Preceptress of Ladies Hall, was unable to take up her position on account of the serious illness of her mother. After a few weeks delay, in which time Mrs. Sophia R. Wakeman taught the classes in this department, Miss Julia Russell, B. L., of Boston University, Massachusetts, was appointed Instructor in English and Expression, and Preceptress for the remainder of the year.

Miss Oakley has signified her desire to take up her position with the opening of next year, her mother having regained her health, and it is expected that she will assume the duties which were assigned her one year ago.

The return of Professor Frank G. Bates, Ph. D., to the Charles Potter Professorship of History and Political Science, has placed this department again in the hands of a strong competent professor, after two years of substitute teaching, during his absence in Providence. His return met the universal favor of the faculty and student body and the results of his work have justified the wisdom of the re-appointment.

In the Machine Shop, Mr. Allen W. Corwin has served the University as Foreman in the place of Mr. George A. Main who resigned the position the previous year. All these persons have creditably accomplished the tasks assigned them, and the other members of the faculty have continued the uniformly excellent work which has characterized the faculty in past years.

The faculties of the Seminary, the School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, and the Academy have remained the same as last year. In all, twenty-six professors, instructors, and assistants have been employed in the University. For the coming year a few changes are anticipated. Miss Catherine F. Crocker, Instructor in Modern Languages, has resigned her position to accept an appointment in Chicago and Mr. Paul E. Titsworth, a member of the present Senior class, and a special student from the Ohio State University, has been appointed to succeed her as Instructor in Modern Languages. Mr. Titsworth has specialized in modern languages and has spent one summer in studying in Germany and gives promise of making a very acceptable instructor in this department.

In the Academy, Mr. Silas G. Burdick has been employed to succeed Principal E. P. Saunders, who has held this position for seven years and who has organized and built up the Academy to its present efficiency. Mr. Burdick has been employed also to superintend the public school and make a uniform grading from the Primary Department to the College, in accord with instructions from the State Commissioner of Education at Albany.

Miss Berry has resigned her position as instructor of the training class and her successor has not yet been appointed.

Two of the members of the faculty are traveling in Europe this summer, and are therefore absent from the Commencement exercises. The members of our faculty are all enthusiastically maintaining their departments, and working in excess of the average professors and instructors of neighboring colleges and universities. It is safe to say that nowhere else in the state is so much work being accomplished by the same number of instructors for so small a financial compensation.

REGISTRATION

The registration of the University has remained the same this year as last, which was a large increase over previous years. In the Academy, there was a falling off of eleven students, but increase in other departments off-set this decrease. The total registration in the several branches of the University for the past year, has been as follows:

The College.....	124
The Academy.....	161
The State School.....	22
The Seminary.....	12

Making a total of.....319

Of this total, 30 are duplicates, leaving a net total registration of 289 different individuals. The Senior class this year numbers twenty members, the largest graduating class in recent years.

THE STATE SCHOOL

The New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics has continued to render important service to the state and to attract much public notice to itself and to the University. At the completion of its fourth year of operation, the State so fully appreciates its value for technical education in clay ware instruction that the legislature of 1904 has increased the annual appropriation for maintenance from five thousand dollars to seventy-five hundred dollars. This was needed to meet the growing demands in clay-testing and increasing apparatus and equipment. It should be a matter of hearty congratulation to the trustees that they have been able to so administer this State School as to gain the approval of the people of the State of New York and secure the necessary increase in financial maintenance. The annual report of the State School to the Governor of New York State is appended as a part of this annual report.

MUSEUM

A little over one year ago, the University came in possession of the Allen estate's interest in the contents of the Allen Steinheim Museum in return for a purchase price of two thousand dollars. Up to that time it was impossible to make any re-classification or any display of the collections adjusted to the needs of the department of Natural History as now conducted. During the year, therefore, Prof. Crandall and Mr. Lewis have spent much time in re-cataloguing the collections and displaying them for reference for scientific purposes; and some new cases have been built and the general appearance and availability of the Museum have been much improved. It would have been impossible for Mr. Lewis to take up this work advantageously without the assistance of Professor Crandall for the first few months, in familiarizing him with the Museum and its contents.

AGRICULTURE

Without encroaching upon the subjects in the department of Natural History, Mr. Lewis has been able to re-arrange them, adding new economic features and to inaugurate a course of study in Scientific Agriculture. This has been long in demand by the patrons of the University. We are in a rural community. Many of our students come from the farms and many of them will return to the rural communities for their life work. The need of practical work in agriculture is therefore very evident and this provision has been met with great enthusiasm by the patrons of the University. All that has been done thus far, has incurred no additional expense to the University but it is devoutly to be hoped that in the near future, funds may be provided which will enable us to maintain a department of agriculture employing the entire services of at least one instructor. The effort to obtain the co-operation of the state and state support might contribute to the establishment of this department and secure funds with which to carry it on. Certainly a most desirable opportunity is offered to the state to promote agricultural education in this way at a minimum cost.

THE LIBRARY

The library is growing rapidly, as will be shown by the report of the Librarian. More than a thousand volumes have been accessioned this year and several hundred other volumes have been given and bequeathed, which have not yet been accessioned and catalogued.

The work of the Associate Librarian has been greatly increased within the past few years and more assistance is needed in the library, and a larger compensation should be paid to the Associate Librarian for the important service she is rendering.

Furthermore the rooms for the books now on hand, to say nothing of future accessions, is entirely inadequate. The usefulness of the library is impaired every day for want of available shelf room.

The growing weight of books in Kenyon Memorial Hall, raises apprehensions for the safety of the building, since it was not constructed to carry safely so great weight. Some readjustment of the problem of library space must soon be devised.

CLASS AND LECTURE ROOMS

The growing classes, and the increasing number of classes is forcing upon the trustees the necessity of accommodations in class and lecture rooms. The lecture room in Babcock Hall is the only room now equipped with proper seats, which is large enough to accommodate our largest classes. Additional chairs should be placed in the History and Philosophy room in Kenyon Hall, more chairs with writing shelf should be placed in Physical Laboratory room of Babcock Hall, so as to accommodate larger classes, and one additional room should be provided and properly furnished with college furniture before the opening of the next college year. The President would recommend that the Trustees take steps at once looking toward such provision.

FINANCE

The ever present and urgent problem with all colleges is finance. Alfred is no exception to this rule. During the past year as in previous years the President and Treasurer have made strenuous efforts to increase the endowments of the University, and thus relieve the financial strain.

The Treasurer's report will show that these efforts have not been without fruitage, though not all has been accomplished that was hoped and needed. The net increase in the endowment which has come into the Treasurer's hands during the year is $8,524.78.

Ten additional scholarships have been founded in full or conditionally during the year. Through these $8,000 is pledged to the University above the $8,524.78 that has been paid into the Treasurer's hands during the year.

The will of the late Professor Ida F. Kenyon, which has not yet been probated, bequeathes her estate to Alfred University, and it is hoped that over nine thousand dollars will accrue to the endowments of the University from this source. Since its last report the Alumni Association has received cash and pledges, not shown in the University Treasurer's report, aggregating $1,500. Thus the total actual and prospective accretions during the year is over $25,000. But with all this encouragement the Treasurer's report will contain the statement of a deficit for the year of about $4,000, which is as yet unprovided for.

The annual deficit, which it has seemed impossible to avoid, in justice to the College and to the student body, augments the debt, and lays upon the trustees the added responsibility of increasing the endowment sufficiently to meet this deficit and to provide a small sinking fund which will gradually reduce the debt. Economies can be slightly increased for the coming year, and certain hitherto unavailable funds can apply to reduce the deficit to about half what it is for the current year; but $100,000 of additional endowment is imperatively needed at once to place the University out from under the embarrassment which is now resting heavily upon it.

In the hope of stimulating the Trustees to make an extraordinary effort to raise this sum, the President prepared on January 1, 1904, an Emergency Address to the Trustees, setting forth the needs, with the grounds for encouragement in our work, and making suggestions as to the way in which substantial assistance could be rendered. Some quotations from that address as follows may not be out of place in this Annual Report, viz: "Retrenchment in the quality and scope of our work as a college I consider to be as suicidal as increased indebtedness, neither can be permitted. The annual deficit must be provided for, and increased endowment obtained to prevent its recurrence. While making an especial appeal to you for help now in what I believe to be an emergency, I also beg you to review with gratitude and encouragement, some of the achievements of the past eight years.

The regents report for 1894-95 shows the total registration of the University for that year to have been 150 students, 28 of whom were of college grade. The total salary for teachers for the year 1894-95 was $10,750. The indebtedness at that time was $28,000.

The new Year Book for 1902-1903, just published, is now ready for distribution. By reference to this you will observe that the total registration for the year, in all departments of the University, not counting duplicates was 290, of whom 124 were college students. Deducting the 33 Ceramic and Theological students, the remaining 257 College and Academy students were instructed last year at a cost for teachers' salaries, of $10,130. $620 less than the 150 were taught for in 1894-95. This fact and the additional fact that in no other college in the state are teachers doing so much work for so little pay, is sufficient proof of the rigid economy practiced in employing teachers.

The new Year Book will show a total valuation of property and endowment for the University of $514,494, (not including the State School of Ceramics worth now $25,000) while the total valuation in 1895 as shown by the Regents' Report did not exceed $310,000. Making a gain, including bequests, accretions to Memorial Funds and all other contributions, aggregating over $200,000 in endowment and property in the past eight years.

To note in detail some additions and improvements, I should mention the Babcock Hall of Physics, built and equipped at a cost of $18,600, and supplied with the $10,000 worth of scientific apparatus given by the late Professor Rogers; the Allen Steinheim Museum and contents purchased from the Allen estate at a cost of $7,000; the Burdick Hall given by Miss Susie M. Burdick and Mrs. Amanda M. Burdick valued at $7,000; the State School of Ceramics built by the State, and maintained by the State; the annual increase of endowments, which last year amounted to over $12,000; the founding in full or conditionally of fifty One Thousand Dollar Scholarships; the beginning of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Centennial Fund—these gains with numerous less notable additions and improvements, including the publication of annual catalogues, year books, etc., which were not published prior to 1895, show the activity of the University in the past eight years, and account for the unprecedented popularity which it enjoys to-day. Never were its prospects so bright in every way except this deficit. And never was its usefulness so great and so rapidly increasing as now.

But interest on the debt steadily augments the deficit. Necessary improvements, printing and advertising which have given us our public recognition, and our increased patronage, have at the same time swelled our debt. The separation from the college of the Theological Seminary which for many reasons seemed necessary, withdrew from the college, certain funds which had formerly helped pay the salaries of professors teaching in both schools; until the debt now aggregates over $50,000 and a deficit of $4,000 stares us in the face for the current year. $800 of this deficit is already pledged, by members of the Board of Trustees. But it should all be raised, and at least $25,000, added this year to our endowments.

Three or four unendowed professorships, now maintained by general funds, should be endowed at once. This is a most fruitful field for philanthropic benevolence, since a thousand dollars of endowment will do double the work here that it can do in any of the large and wealthy Universities.

Persons should be found at once who will endow these professorships with $25,000 each."

This address called forth from Trustees and others many expressions of hearty concurrence and a desire to co-operate in the work of raising the funds, and some have already aided the President and Treasurer in making acquaintances and presenting the needs of the University where it is hoped substantial assistance may be gained; and still further co-operation is promised.

I can not close this report without again commending the able, persistent and tireless efforts of our Treasurer, whose unselfish devotion to the interests of Alfred University gives him rank as one of its "greatest benefactors.

Each year is adding much to the popularity of Alfred University and to the public estimate of its educational efficiency. New friends are speaking its praise and becoming identified with its work. An increasing number of inquiries in regard to the advantages offered at Alfred, make prophecy of enlarging Freshman classes from year to year.

We now have 60 One Thousand Dollar Scholarships founded conditionally or in full and are able to offer to many indigent students scholarships. The financial and educational equipment of the University for doing college work is double what it was ten years ago, and it therefore seems to me to warrant an increase in tuition charges, particularly since these charges are so much smaller than in many preparatory schools and academies. Fifty dollars per year is now considered a very low tuition, and ten dollars increase from each of our college students would greatly assist in relieving the financial pressure. Where free scholarships are given they would be appreciated more if called fifty dollars than forty, and where students are able to pay tuition they will respect the college more for charging a fee a little more in proportion to other college tuitions, than for seeming to imply in its charges, that its facilities are far less valuable than neighboring colleges.

I would recommend that, beginning with the college year 1905-1906 the tuition in the college be made fifty dollars per year, including the incidental fee, instead of forty dollars as it now is.

The annual reports of the Registrar, Librarian, Curator of the Museum, the Dean of the Seminary, the Principal of the Academy, and the Director of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics are herewith presented as a part of this report.

It is with sincere gratitude for the Divine blessing which has attended our labors during the past, and with deep appreciation of the confidence and support accorded me by the Board of Trustees, and the Faculty of the University, that this report is respectfully submitted.

BOOTHE COLWELL DAVIS, President.

REGISTRAR'S REPORT

TO THE PRESIDENT OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY:

As Registrar, I hereby submit the following brief report concerning the recorded work of the College department of the University for the school-year beginning September 16, 1903, and ending June 23, 1904.

REGISTRY OF STUDENTS

1st Semester:—(a) In residence.....	115
(b) Non-resident.....	1—	116
2d Semester:—(a) In residence.....	120
(b) Non-resident.....	3—	123
Total different names registered during the year:
(a) In residence.....	121
(b) Non-resident.....	3—	124

The students are classified as follows:

Graduates.....	3
Seniors.....	20
Juniors.....	15
Sophomores.....	29
Freshmen.....	25
Specials.....	32—	124

It is worthy of note that only two students dropped out during the 1st Semester, and that both of these were special students, one being the foot-ball coach. All of the remaining students of the 1st Semester continued their work during the 2d Semester.

This tendency to regular attendance and the regular order of doing the prescribed work is a very satisfactory feature.

The records of the work of the student body as a whole show commendable progress and a fair degree of proficiency.

In a few cases athletics may have interfered to some extent with the regular and thorough performance of other school work, perhaps sufficient to suggest the advisability of requiring the members of our athletic teams to maintain a certain standard of proficiency in their class room work in order to retain their membership on the teams.

Honors have been awarded by the Faculty as follows:

SENIOR HONORS

(a) Valedictory Oration to Ruth H. Mason of Rushford for the highest average standing for the college course.

(b) Salutatory Oration to Frank S. Ostrander of Almond, who stood second in rank.

(c) Third Honor Oration to Caroline Bell of Ceres, who stood third in rank.

(d) Department Honors to Marjorie E. Beebe in History, and in Philosophy and Education.

To Flora J. Bell in Philosophy and Education.

To Ruth H. Mason in Latin, and in Philosophy and Education.

SOPHOMORE HONORS

ALLEN-STEINHEIM MUSEUM REPORT

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY:

In the changes that have been made in the Museum this year, we have tried to arrange the collections in such a way as to be of the most instructive value.

PALAEONTOLOGY

This collection in the cabinet has been re-arranged in chronological order.

ORNITHOLOGY

The birds from the Library have been moved to a new case which has been prepared for them. They have all been cleaned and re-classified according to the latest literature. With them have been placed the eggs and nests, which have also been newly classified and labelled.

CONCHOLOGY

A new case has been placed in the west tower. In the top, we have placed types of each family in the collection, and in the drawers below, the related genera and species. There is still some more classifying to be done in this collection.

Opposite the ornithological collection, a new case has been made, in which we have placed the fresh-water Lamelli-branchae of a few of the large conch and other large shells. Room has been left in the case for the collection of salt-water Lamelli-branchae.

BALCONY CASE

The coin collection in this case has been stamped and re-arranged. The three lower shelves contain the mineral collection. Minerals have been collected from various parts of the building and grouped, but there is still a good deal of classifying to be done, as well as re-labelling.

INDIAN POTTERY

The collection of pottery which was formed over the stairs has been removed and placed with other pottery in a new corner case on the second floor, where it can be more easily seen.

SACRED CASE

Idols and various religious relics have been grouped together and placed in a new corner case on the second floor.

ARCHÆOLOGY CASE

This case has been re-arranged and cleaned and partly classified. Some of the panels have been replaced with glass.

CHINA CASE

This has been cleaned and re-arranged and grouped together.

MISCELLANEOUS CASE

Panels have been replaced by glass in a case on the lower floor and in this has been placed various articles of general interest to the public.

WINDOW CASES

These formerly contained the Maxson collection of minerals which have been placed in the general mineral collection. In these cases have been placed a collection of old candle-sticks, eye-glasses, spoons, etc.

CLAUDE I. LEWIS, Curator.

ACADEMY REPORT

TO THE PRESIDENT OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY:

The Academy has enjoyed another prosperous year. One hundred sixty-one students have been registered. A good quality of work has been done, especially during the last quarter, since the new study hall came into use. For a long time the faculty and patrons have felt the need of such a room, where the younger pupils could be kept in for study during school hours. The arrangement has thus far worked to the entire satisfaction of all concerned; and we believe that the future will further demonstrate the wisdom of the plan.

The free high school for the district has been continued, and seventy-seven resident pupils have enjoyed its advantages.

During the year a law has gone into effect which permits non-residents possessing certain qualifications and residing in a school district which has no high school to attend any approved high school at state expense for tuition. Twenty-four non-resident students of Alfred Academy have received the benefit of this law during a part or all of this year; and it promises to bring to the Academy an increasing number of students from the rural districts in the years to come.

Now, Mr. President, at the close of a seven years principalship of Alfred Academy, I wish to thank you especially, and, through you, the trustees in general for the uniform kindness and consideration which have been accorded me.

Faithfully yours,

EARL P. SAUNDERS, Principal

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY REPORT

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY:

This year has been exceptionally prosperous. There have been six students taking the full course, and six students, partial courses. Eighteen college students have done elective work in the English Bible or have taken special courses in Theology. It is a matter of encouragement that the fact is again being recognized that courses in Theology contribute directly to liberal culture, and are therefore highly beneficial for college students, no matter what their life work is to be.

The following is a summary of the year's work:

Philosophy of Theism		New Testament Exegesis
4 students	2 hours	4 students	2 hours
Introduction to Theology		3 students	2 hours

The Seminary has had a considerable fund for the purchase of new books this year, and has also been fortunate in receiving the libraries of the late Rev. Prof. Lester C. Rogers, and of the late Rev. O. D. Williams. All of these books will be included in the University library. Capt. J. Frank Hubbard of Plainfield, N. J., and other friends of the Seminary at Alfred have contributed a typewriter to the material equipment of the Seminary.

In addition to its appropriation for the Library fund and for periodical literature for the Seminary Reading Room, the Seventh-day Baptist Memorial Board has contributed from its Discretionary Fund towards the general maintenance of the Seminary. The deficit from last year has been made up, and we come to the close of this year entirely out of debt.

The work of the regular corps of instructors has been supplemented by addresses during the year from the following persons: Pres. B. C. Davis, Rev. A. H. Lewis, 2 lectures, Rev. O. U. Whitford, 2 lectures, Rev. B. F. Rogers, Rev. O. D. Sherman, Wm. B. West, Esq., Rev. Willard D. Burdick, Rev. G. B. Shaw, Rev. T. J. VanHorn, Pres. W. C. Daland, 2 lectures.

The attendance this year has been larger than that of last year, and there is reason to expect an increase next year.

The Dean has addressed denominational assemblies in several states, and has preached frequently in Alfred and elsewhere.

Respectfully submitted,

A. E. MAIN, Dean. *

Alfred, N. Y., June 20, 1904.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY:

GENTLEMEN:—The annual report of the Treasurer for the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1904, is herewith transmitted to you.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF GIFTS

The Centennial Fund

This fund, the plan for which was first presented to the attention of the friends of the University five years ago, reached the sum of $4,066.50 on June 1, 1904. This amount has been contributed in 1557 separate contributions, thus showing the popularity of the plan. It is hoped every friend of higher education and of Alfred University will make a contribution to this fund.

Whenever one thousand dollars are subscribed and paid into the Centennial Fund from any town in the counties of Allegany and Steuben, or from any county in any state or territory, free tuition will be given to one student for the Freshman year of the College; the student to be a resident of the town or county contributing the money, and to be selected by competitive examination.

One Thousand Dollar Scholarships

[Act of 1894]

During the year eight scholarships have been established conditionally and two full paid. $3,816.53 have been received on principal account, of which $2,018.03 were paid on account of Scholarships previously founded, and $1,798.50 on account of new Scholarships. See Treasurer's Report for details, schedule 15, page 27, and schedule 18, page 31.

Group 6

December, 1903. THE THOMAS RUDOLPH WILLIAMS SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by friends, through the First Alfred Church. Doctor Williams was pastor of the church from September, 1890, to March 5, 1893, the date of his death. He was Professor in the Theological Department of Doctrinal Theology from 1866 until his death, and of Hebrew from 1876 until 1893, and in the College, of Greek Language and Literature from 1863 to 1866, and from 1871 to 1876. He made great sacrifices in order to maintain and build up the Department of Theology. The establishment of this scholarship is a grateful tribute to his memory.

December, 1903. THE SALEM COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by friends and patrons of Salem College, in token of their esteem for Alfred, Salem's sister college. $340.50 have been paid on account.

February, 1904. THE ALFRED LEWIS SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by Honorable Daniel Lewis, LL. D., M. D., '69, of New York City. as a memorial to his father, who endured many hardships and privations in order that his children might enjoy the benefits of a college education. Deacon Alfred Lewis was one of the Trustees named in the Charter of Alfred University, and continued to serve as a trustee until his death in 1875. $100 have been paid on account of the principal.

Doctor Lewis is a specialist in cancer and diseases of the skin, and enjoys a large and lucrative practice. He is upon the staff of physicians and surgeons of several hospitals. From 1895 to 1898 he was President of the Board of Health of the State of New York, and since 1898 he has been Health Commissioner of the State of New York. He is editor and manager of the Medical Review of Reviews, one of the most prosperous medical journals published in the United States. He has at all times been a loyal and enthusiastic supporter of Alfred, and since 1885 he has been a trustee of the Institution. He was one of the Charter members of the Alumni Association, and he has served five terms as its president.

February, 1904. THE MELVINA AMANDA BURDICK SCHOLARSHIP was established by Captain Russell Emmett Burdick of Cleveland, Ohio, as a testimonial of respect and esteem for his mother, for whom the scholarship is named. It is full paid ($1,000). Captain Burdick is one of the leading citizens of Cleveland, being president of the Bowler & Burdick Company, wholesale and retail jewelers, and interested in several banks and savings institutions, and also in steam and electric railroads. For many years he has been connected with the National Guard of Ohio, receiving his first captain's commission from Governor William McKinley, and, when the Spanish War broke out, he was re-commissioned in the service as captain of cavalry in the volunteer army. He is a member of a number of social and business clubs of his own and other cities, being decidedly a "clubable man." He has been a trustee of Alfred University since 1896.

March, 1904. THE WILLIS SEDGWICK MERRIAM SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by the party whose name it bears. Mr. Merriam is a substantial business man in New York City, who believes in a higher education, and takes a deep interest in the welfare of Alfred University.

March, 1904. THE MARY GRACE STILLMAN SCHOLARSHIP was established by Miss Mary Grace Stillman, A. M., '61, of Potter Hill, Rhode Island, and her sister, Miss Phebe Ann Stillman of Mariner Harbor, Staten Island. It is full paid ($1,000.) but it is subject to an "Income Gift Agreement." Both of the Misses Stillman have devoted the greater part of their lives to teaching, and both are warm friends of Alfred University.

May, 1904. THE CLAIR STEVENS PARKHILL SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by Clair S. Parkhill, M. D., of Hornellsville. $250 have been paid on account. Doctor Parkhill is one of the leading physicians and surgeons in Hornellsville. He is on the staff of physicians and surgeons of the Steuben Sanitarium. He has a permanent retainer as surgeon for the Erie Railroad, and has served as president of the Association of Surgeons of the Erie.

May, 1904. THE HARRIET NYE CRANDALL SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by Helen Mar Crandall, of Alfred, as a memorial to her mother, who was a member of the Class of 1844. $100 have been paid on account of the principal. It is subject to an "Income Gift Agreement."

May, 1904. THE SARDINIA GREENMAN CRANDALL SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by William H. Crandall of Alfred, as a memorial to his mother. $100 have been paid on account of the principal. It is subject to an "Income Gift Agreement."

May, 1904. THE FREDERICK AUGUSTUS OWEN SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by the party whose name it bears. $100 have been paid on account of the principal. Mr. Owen is a prominent citizen of Dansville. He is president of the F. A. Owen Publishing Company, which publishes a number of educational periodicals that reach over 100,000 teachers. Mr. Owen is a progressive man, interested in the improvement of educational conditions.

Group 7

June, 1904. THE CLASS OF 1904 SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by the class whose name it bears.

June 1904. THE GEORGE WESLEY ROSEBUSH SCHOLARSHIP was established conditionally by Judson George Rosebush, A. M., '00, Professor of Economics in Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., and named after his father, without whose aid and encouragement his "college course would have been longer delayed, if not left incomplete."

Bequests

PROFESSOR IDA F. KENYON A. M., '56, died at Alfred, March 16, 1904. Her will bore date the 20th day of October, 1896, and was probated July 15, 1904, in Allegany County, New York, and after directing the payment of debts and funeral expenses, contained the following clause:

Second. I give, bequeath and devise the remainder of the property of which I may die seized, both real and personal, of whatsoever name and nature, unto Alfred University, located at Alfred, N. Y., the income therefrom only to be used for such purposes as the trustees of the said University may deem best.

MARIA A. KING (1844-45) late of Genesee, Allegany County, New York, died March 21, 1903, leaving a will whereby she bequeathed $100 to Alfred University under the misnomer of "Trustees of Memorial Hall," contingent on the death of Mrs. Abigail Allen and Mrs. Ida F. Kenyon before the legacy should be paid, both of which contingencies happened. The language of the will is as follows:

To Mrs. Abigail Allen of Alfred fifty dollars, also the same amount to Mrs. Ida F. Kenyon, widow of Prof. Wm. C. Kenyon. If Mrs. Kenyon is not living when this legacy is to be paid, then Mrs. Allen will have her share: but if Mrs. Allen is not living, then Mrs. Kenyon shall have hers: but if neither is living, then one hundred dollars shall be paid to the Trustees of Memorial Hall to be spent in keeping up the Hall, in grateful remembrance of favors received by myself and sisters while attending school there.

NOTE —The friends of Alfred University will avoid the risk of a miscarriage of their good intentions, by being careful to use the corporate name of the institution, to wit, ALFRED UNIVERSITY, when making their wills. See below, FORMS OF BEQUEST.

OLIVE STEELE THRALL CLARK LANPHEAR, widow of Ethan Lanphear, late of Plainfield, N. J., deceased, died at Plainfield on May 7, 1904, in her 88th year, leaving a will, dated January 26, 1903, in which she remembered Alfred University, as follows:

9. I give to Alfred University in Alfred, N. Y., five hundred dollars, to be used where the trustees think it most needed.

17. My executors shall be empowered to sell and convey all my real estate at their earliest convenience, and shall divide whatever remains of my estate, after satisfying all bequests herein made, and paying all just debts and funeral expenses, equally between the three Seventh-day Baptist Colleges above mentioned.

PETER WOODEN BEQUEST. See page 54.

NANCY M. FRANK BEQUEST. $381.26 have been received, See Alfred Year Book, 1901-02, page 39.

The Following Forms of Bequests Are Recommended

1 I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of _____ dollars, to be safely invested, and called "The _____ General Endowment Fund;" the net income only to be used for the general expenses of the University.

2 I give, devise and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of Twenty-five thousand dollars, to be safely invested, and called "The _____ Professorship;" the net income only, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used to pay the salary of the incumbent of said professorship, the surplus income, if any, to be at the disposal of the University.

3 I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of One thousand dollars, to be safely invested, and called "The _____ Scholarship;" the net income only to be used for the payment of the term bill of some worthy and needy student, the surplus income, if any, to be at the disposal of the University.

4 I give, devise, and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of _____ dollars to be expended in the purchase of books for the Library.

5 I give, devise and bequeath to ALFRED UNIVERSITY, located at Alfred, New York, the sum of _____ dollars, to be invested, the net income only to be used for the support and maintenance of the THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

Income Gifts

These gifts are absolute; but the giver, or a person named by him, receives from the University, each half year for life, an income at a rate per cent. of the gift, agreed upon in advance, in place of the interest which the money would have earned if the donor had invested it.

A form of agreement has been prepared, adapted from a form which has been used for many years by one of the largest missionary societies in this country. That society has received hundreds of thousands of dollars in this way, and the plan has worked to the mutual satisfaction of the donors and the society.

Gifts made in this way are not subject to Inheritance Taxes, which, in many States, materially diminish gifts made by will.

Three systems of scholarships are in force in the University, as follows:

TEN PER CENT. SCHOLARSHIPS. These were established many years ago on the following terms: The University agreed to pay, by allowance upon tuition fees, ten per cent. per annum on moneys donated to its funds; but the founders of the scholarships were not to use them to the detriment of the University by selling, renting or leasing them, although they might donate the use of them to any person or persons who depended entirely upon their own exertions to defray their educational expenses. Incidental and extrafees, however, must be paid in cash by the beneficiaries of the scholarships.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLAR SCHOLARSHIPS. ACT OF 1894. These may be established conditionally on the payment of $100, and they will continue in force so long as payments are made amounting to at least $25 in two years, but they become permanent when the sum of $1,000 is fully paid. The owner of a scholarship is entitled to keep one student in attendance at the University whose tuition fees, incidental fees, and extra fees, will be paid out of the income of the principal fund, if the income is sufficient to pay the same; but if not, the remainder of such fees must be paid in cash by the student. Societies endowing scholarships conditionally, and paying at least $25 a year toward the principal, will be allowed free tuition fees for one student every year; but the student must pay incidental and extra fees in cash.

COMPETITIVE FREE SCHOLARSHIPS. These are granted, under certain conditions, to pupils in the High Schools in the counties of Allegany, Steuben, Cattaraugus, Livingston, and Wyoming, New York; and the counties of McKean, Potter, and Tioga, Pennsylvania. They are limited to students fully prepared for college, and exempt the holders from payment of tuition and incidental fees, but require the payment in cash of the nominal sum of $2 a year.

*Including $1,000 paid by Union Free School District No. 3.

†Including $1,100 paid by Union Free School District No. 3.

‡Including $1,100 paid by Union Free School District No. 3, and $422 paid by state under High School Law.

HONORARY DEGREES

Doctor of Pedagogy

CHARLES DARIUS LARKINS, Ph. B., Ped. D.

The name of Principal Larkins was presented by Professor Charles B. Clark.

President Davis said: Principal Larkins, distinguished alumnus of Alfred, and honored head of the Manual Training High School of the city of Brooklyn, teacher of scientific industry and skilled labor; we welcome you back to these halls after more than twenty years. The new era of education which you are helping to inaugurate has for its aim the enrichment of life by making labor more intelligent, more dignified, more scientific, more remunerative. It leaves the old scholasticism to the middle ages and gives us a generation trained to action. No man has worked more bravely and successfully than yourself to gain this modern, unique achievement in the history of pedagogy. I therefore confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Pedagogy and admit you to the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Charles Darius Larkins was born at Smithville, N. Y., Sept. 5, 1853. He was a son of Darius Covil and Sarah Ann Chick Larkin. He was graduated from Hungerford Collegiate Institute, Adams, N. Y., 1876, and from Alfred University with the degree of Ph. B., 1881. He was Principal of the Union School, Fayetteville, N. Y. 1881-1886; Professor of Mathematics, State Normal School, New Paltz, N. Y., 1886-1888; Head of department of Mathematics, Boys High School, Brooklyn, N. Y., 1888-1894; Elected Principal of new Manual Training High School about to be established in Brooklyn in October, 1893; organized and opened the school Feb. 12, 1894. This position he still holds, and has built up the school to a remarkable degree of efficiency. Up to 1888 he did much work for the State Department of Public Instruction as instructor of Teachers' Institutes. He read a paper before the New York State Teachers' Association at Niagara Falls, 1886. He read an important paper before the department of manual training in the National Educational Association at Denver, 1895. He lectured before the department of Pedagogy, Cornell University, 1902, and he is a frequent contributor to various educational publications. In the new field of popular education, viz., Manual Training, Dr. Larkins is recognized as one of the highest authorities in the country, and his Alma Mater gladly gives the recognition, in the honorary degree of Doctor of Pedagogy, which he has so well earned.

HENRY MARTIN MAXSON, A. M., Ped. D.

The name of Superintendent Maxson was presented by Professor Charles B. Clark.

President Davis said: Superintendent Maxson, son of Alfred and Amherst, you come back to this seat of learning after a period of thirty-four years devoted to higher learning and to the promotion of public education, to receive the honor which it is our pleasure to bestow. Alfred rejoices in the distinction which you have attained as an educator and in the public service which you are so successfully rendering in city school administration. That you have grasped the fundamental principles of the great profession of pedagogy your success fully attests. Alfred also recognizes your filial devotion in your loyal and able service as a trustee, and also, at this Anniversary, in your distinguished service as president of the Alumni Association. In evidence of that recognition, it is my pleasure in behalf of the University to confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Pedagogy, and to admit you to the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Henry Martin Maxson was born in Westerly, Rhode Island, March 28, 1853. Completing the educational course offered by the town he was for two years a student in Alfred University, 1868-1870. Later, he entered Amherst College and received from that college the degree of A. B. in 1877, and A. M. in 1880. Early in his course he determined upon teaching as his life work and after graduation he at once entered upon the work in a district school in Westerly. After eight years spent chiefly in the work of the principalship of a High School he became Superintendent of the schools of the town of Attleborough, Mass., in 1885. Four years later he was called to the Superintendency of Pawtucket, R. I., where he remained until 1892 when he accepted his present position, as Superintendent of the public schools of Plainfield, N. J. Doctor Maxson has been an ardent student of education and takes a prominent part in the work of the various educational associations of his state, having been president of the State Teachers' Association of New Jersey in 1898. He is a frequent contributor to various periodicals and is the author of an arithmetic. In 1902 he was president of the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference. His insight into educational questions makes him a popular lecturer on Pedagogy, School Management and other educational topics. The school system of Plainfield, under his management, is pre-eminently characterized by progressive common sense methods, by the cordiality of the relations between parents and teachers and the naturalness and happiness of the child's school life. For nine years he has been a member of the Board of Trustees of Alfred University, and in 1904 was President of the Alumni Association. In these offices and in many other ways he is rendering much valuable service to the University.

Doctor of Letters

EDWARD MULFORD TOMLINSON, A. M., Litt. D., LL. D.

The name of Professor Tomlinson was presented by Superintendent Henry M. Maxson.

President Davis said: Professor Tomlinson, Senior member of the Faculty of Alfred University, son of Bucknell, Berlin, and Leipsic, teacher of the language of Homer, of Xenophon and of Sophocles; after thirty-seven years of service for Alfred University, the college of your adoption, she thrusts upon you a much merited but unsought honor. The love of hundreds of your grateful students demands this recognition. This burst of applause echoes their approval. Your close discriminating scholarship, your breadth of view, and your devotion to truth, make this tribute appropriate, beautiful, touching. I who was for five years your pupil, who have now for nine years been your colleague on this faculty, could have no pleasanter duty, no more valued privilege. Through the initiative, and by the authority of the trustees of Alfred University, I therefore confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Letters and welcome you with love and appreciation to the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Edward Mulford Tomlinson was born at Roadstown, N. J., Oct. 22, 1842, and was prepared for college at Union Academy, Shiloh, N. J. He was graduated from Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., in 1867, with the degree of A. B., and was immediately elected professor of Greek in Alfred University. He was also in charge of the department of Latin during the year 1870-71. Resigning his position, he spent considerable time in visiting the leading colleges and universities in this country. He then went abroad and studied for two years at the universities of Berlin and Leipsic. His work there was largely in the line of Classical Philology, but he devoted a part of his time to the study of Ancient and Modern History. Upon his return, he accepted a position as Professor of Greek, Latin and German in Germantown Academy, Philadelphia. In 1881, he returned to Alfred as Professor of Greek, in which position he has been in continuous service to the present time. He has been Librarian since 1881 and is also Secretary of the Faculty. Since 1882 he has been a member of the American Philological Association. He has for nine years been president of the Seventh-day Baptist Education society. In 1871 the degree of A. M., and in 1904 the degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him by his Alma Mater. His long and efficient service for Alfred University, the scholarly attainments of his life, and the affectionate esteem in which he is held by the Trustees, the Faculty and the Alumni, were all fittingly recognized by conferring upon him, after thirty-seven years of service, the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters.

Doctor of Laws

EDWIN AUGUSTUS GROSVENOR, A. M., LL. D.

The name of Professor Grosvenor was presented by Superintendent Henry M. Maxson.

President Davis said: Professor Grosvenor, distinguished son and professor of Amherst, Alfred welcomes you to-day to the fellowship of her distinguished sons and honorary Alumni. We esteem highly the inter-collegiate courtesy you show in representing your celebrated college at our Commencement season. But it is in recognition of your own invaluable contributions to modern history, government and international law that we would honor you. Your travels and researches in the Orient have made ancient Constantinople come forth and speak to the men of to-day. You have opened up to us in our own language great riches hidden in foreign literatures. You are promoting universal peace and comity in the promulgation of Modern Government and International Law. I therefore gladly admit you to the degree of Doctor of Laws in this University, and confer upon you all the rights and privileges that belong thereto.

Edwin Augustus Grosvenor was born at Newburyport, Mass., August 30, 1845; prepared for college by his mother, a rarely gifted lady and author; graduated from Amherst College, salutatorian and class poet, 1867; studied at Andover Theological Seminary and College de France, Paris; Professor of Latin and History, Robert College, Constantinople, 1873-90; meanwhile travelled extensively in Europe and Asia; devoted 1890-2 to further travel; Professor of French Language and Literature, Amherst College, 1892-5; Professor of History, Smith College, 1892-4; Professor of European History, Amherst College, 1895-8; Professor of Modern Governments and Their Administration, Amherst College, 1898-1901; since 1901 Professor of Modern Government and International Law, Amherst College; Honorary member of the Hellenic Philologic Syllogos, Constantinople, and of the Syllogos Parnassos, Athens, Greece; member (president 1889) of the Syllogos of Mediaeval Researches, Constantinople; American Social Science Association: National Geographic Society: American Historical Association: American Antiquarian Society: American Political Science Association: Authors Club of New York: Boston Authors' Club, etc.; President of the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Amherst College and Senator of Phi Beta Kappa; LL. D., Wabash College, 1903, and from Alfred University 1904; author of The Hippodrome of Constantinople, London, 1889; Constantinople, 2 Vol., Boston and London, 1895; Contemporary History, New York, 1898: several hundred articles in The Universal Cyclopedia and numerous articles in magazines and reviews; translator and revisor of History of Modern Times, from the French, New York, 1893; A General History of the World, from the French, Boston, 1898; Andronike, from the Modern Greek, Boston, 1897; Lecturer on diplomatic and historical subjects. Professor Grosvenor delivered the annual address before the Alumni Association of Alfred University, at Commencement, in 1904, on "Russo-Japanese Diplomacy." The address was characterized by a comprehensiveness and breadth of Scholarship seldom equaled.

LANGDON CHEVES STEWARDSON, A. M., LL. D.

The name of President Stewardson was presented by Professor Charles F. Binns.

President Davis said: President Stewardson, distinguished head of our neighboring college; Hobart and Alfred have stood together for nearly three quarters of a century, for a high standard of conservative liberal culture. They have sent out into the world men of character, culture and power. Our students have had friendly contests on the Athletic field and inter-collegiate courtesies are not wanting; but most notable of all is the visit which you pay Alfred to-day. Not alone for the sake of your college, but in recognition of your own scholarly attainments, your studies in America and in Europe, and your distinguished services as a Christian minister and an able educator, Alfred University delights to adopt you to-day as an honorary alumnus. I therefore confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws in this University and admit you to the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Langdon Cheves Stewardson was born in Marietta, Ga., Nov. 10, 1850; he graduated from Kenyon College, Ohio, in 1873 with the degree of A. B.; and from the Episcopal Theological School in Philadelphia in 1876; he was ordained deacon in Philadelphia in 1877; and presbyter in Cincinnati in 1878; his first charge was the Church of Reconciliation, Webster, Mass., 1880-1884; from 1884-1887 he was a graduate student in Leipzig, Tubingen and Berlin, Germany; from 1888-1898 he was rector of St. Mark's Church, Worcester; from 1898-1903 he was chaplain and professor of philosophy in Lehigh University; in 1903 he was made president of Hobart College, Geneva, New York; he received the degree of LL. D. from Kenyon College in 1903 and from Alfred University in 1904. President Stewardson is a scholarly and inspiring lecturer and preacher, and has contributed important articles to the International Journal of Ethics and other publications, and has won a prominent place in the educational work of New York State.

AUGUSTUS HOPKINS STRONG, D. D., LL. D.

The name of President Strong was presented by Professor Charles F. Binns.

President Davis said: President Strong, Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Laws from Brown University, Yale University, Princeton University, and Bucknell University, for over thirty years head of a celebrated Theological school, your former honors, and the universal applause with which your masterly Doctor's Oration has just been received, render any words of mine a work of supererogation. As a scholar, an orator, and a theologian your name is already a household word in every English speaking land. Your splendid books enrich the libraries of the world. Thousands of Christian ministers have drawn knowledge, wisdom, and inspiration from your teachings and are in turn passing on your message to hundreds of thousands of our race. Alfred is honored by your presence here to-day, and gratefully tenders you this token of esteem. By the authority of the trustees of Alfred University I therefore bestow upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws in this University, and confer upon you all the rights and privileges that belong thereto.

Augustus Hopkins Strong was born in Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 3, 1835; son of Alvah and Catherine (Hopkins) Strong; graduated from Yale College 1857, and Rochester Theological Seminary 1859; pastor 1st Baptist Church, Haverhill, Mass., from 1861 to 1865, and 1st Baptist Church, Cleveland, Ohio, from 1865 to 1872. President and professor of Systematic Theology in Rochester Theological Seminary since 1872; D. D. from Brown University, 1870, Yale University 1890, Princeton University, 1896; LL. D. from Bucknell University 1891 and from Alfred University, 1904. Author of "Systematic Theology" 1886, (seventh edition 1902) of "Philosophy and Religion" 1888; of "The Great Poets and their Theology" 1897, of "Christ in Creation and Ethical Monism" 1899. Has been president of the American Baptist Mission Union, and of the American Baptist Education Society. President Strong delivered the Doctor's Oration at the Commencement exercises of Alfred University in 1904. This oration was a master piece; and by its logic, scholarship, eloquence, and exalted Christian spirit, justified the reputation of its distinguished author.

Doctor of DivinityEDWARD MARK DEEMS, Ph. D., D. D.

The name of Doctor Deems was presented by Dean Arthur E. Main.

President Davis said: Dr. Deems, Alfred University has for many years recognized in you a gifted Christian minister of ripe and broad scholarship, and a man of genuine character and devotion to your holy calling. Your valued contributions to Christian literature, and your able and faithful pastoral service in our neighboring city, have been supplemented by a wide circle of influence extending beyond the borders of your own parish and denomination. Conspicuous among such services is the course of learned and eloquent lectures delivered by you before the Alfred Theological Seminary in 1903. It is in recognition of these distinguishing qualities of heart and mind and of the fraternal and neighborly service which you have rendered to this community, to Alfred University, and to the world, that Alfred University honors you to-day. The personal pleasure which this occasion gives me is heightened by the comradeship which we have enjoyed so long, and which has been unbroken through all the years of our acquaintance. By the authority of the trustees of Alfred University I therefore confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Divinity, and gladly admit you to the rights and privileges that belong thereto.

Edward Mark Deems was born at Greensboro, N. C., April 22, 1852. While living in New York City he was prepared for College at the Lawrenceville High School, Lawrenceville, N. J. He was graduated from Princeton University with the class of 1874, spent two years at Union Theological Seminary, New York, and one year at Princeton Theological Seminary, from which institution he was graduated with the class of 1877. He has been pastor of three Presbyterian Churches: (1) Lengmont, Colo., 1877-1879; (2) Westminster, New York City, 1880-1890; (3) First Presbyterian Church, Hornellsville, N. Y., 1890—. Besides writing for various periodicals he wrote a life of his father, the late Charles F. Deems, D. D., LL. D., founder of the Church of the Strangers and of the American Institute of Christian Philosophy, New York City; and edited and compiled "Holy Days and Holidays," an extensive book of reference. He has filled various offices in the church, having been twice a commissioner to the General Assembly, once Moderator of the Presbytery of New York, and is now the Stated Clerk and Treasurer of the Presbytery of Steuben. Dr. Deems has received the following degrees: A. B. from Princeton University, 1874; A. M. from Princeton University, 1877; Ph. D., from the University of the City of New York, 1890; and D. D. from Alfred University, 1904. Dr. Deems delivered a most scholarly and instructive course of lectures on "Modern Theological Problems" before the Theological Seminary of Alfred University in 1903; and has in many other ways proved himself to be not only an able scholar, preacher, and theologian, but a good neighbor and a loyal friend to Alfred University.

LESTER CHARLES RANDOLPH, A. M., D. D.

The name of Doctor Randolph was presented by Dean Arthur E. Main.

President Davis said: Pastor Randolph, you have served this community and the church in this village four years as a faithful, able and beloved pastor. You have for three years been a trustee of Alfred University and have added to your many other labors, a very earnest watch care over the interests of this University. You have maintained well the traditions of the seats of learning where you have studied, Milton, Cornell, and the University of Chicago. The love which I bear to you as my pastor, and my successor to the pastorate of the First Church of Alfred, renders my privilege to-day a joyful one. Alfred University honors you, and by its authority I confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Divinity and welcome you to the rights and privileges that belong thereto.

Lester Charles Randolph, born in Walworth, Wis., Aug. 16, 1864, was graduated from the classical course of Milton College in 1888, spent the following year as a graduate student in Cornell University, received the degree A. M. from Milton College in 1891 and B. D. from the University of Chicago Divinity School in 1893. From 1892 to 1899 he was pastor of the Chicago Seventh-day Baptist Church spending part of each year as an evangelist in other places, and taking some special studies in the University of Chicago. The whole of 1899 he devoted to evangelistic work and then became pastor of the First Alfred Seventh-day Baptist Church, which position he still holds. He also teaches in the Theological Seminary of Alfred University and lectures on popular subjects, "The Bright Side of Life" and "A Trip to Palestine" being especially in demand. He was sent by his friends to the World's Fourth Sunday School Convention in Jerusalem. For nine years Western Editor of the Sabbath Recorder, he is at present Young People's Editor of the same publication. Dr. Randolph was elected a Trustee of Alfred University in 1900 and continues to hold this office, rendering the University most valuable service, both as a trustee and as a religious leader in the community.

*THESE ENDOWMENT FUNDS (numbers 8, 9, 10) were provided for in the will of the late GEORGE H. BABCOCK, of Plainfield, N. J., Section Twenty-four, Subdivisions seventh, eighth and ninth, as follows:

SECTION TWENTY-FOURTH. Out of the residue and remainder of my estate, real and personal, I give, devise and bequeath to the "BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MEMORIAL FUND," a duly incorporated body, located in the City of Plainfield, N. J., and its successors, for ever, the sum of two hundred thousand dollars in cash, or in such property owned by me after the above bequests have been provided for as they may elect to take at their appraised value, the same to be by them invested and kept invested, and the net income therefrom to be used as follows:

Seventh: If there be sufficient income from the fund, I do order and direct that a sum not exceeding the income upon ten thousand dollars shall be paid by them as occasion may offer for the purpose of aiding young people (male or female) in preparing for the Gospel Ministry in the Seventh-day Baptist Denomination.

Eighth: I do order and direct that the income received from twenty thousand dollars shall be paid to the TRUSTEES OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY, to be known as the "E. L. BABCOCK FUND," the same to be applied by said trustees in keeping the grounds in good order and repair and for the purpose of inculcating ideas and habits of order and neatness among the students.

Ninth: I do order and direct that the income received from fifty thousand dollars shall be paid to the TRUSTEES OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY, to be used by them for such purposes as they shall deem best.

These funds are invested as follows:

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY

Incorporated—1886—New York

This Society is incorporated under Chapter 268, Session Laws of New York, 1882, as amended by Chapter 262, Session Laws of 1884.

The Society includes all graduates of the University, all persons who have received degrees from it, members of the Faculty and former students who have been in attendance for one year or more. The annual fee is one dollar.

The objects of the Society are, to foster fraternal intercourse and sympathy; to keep its members interested in their Alma Mater; to promote the interests of Alfred University; and to raise a permanent fund, which has been named the KENYON-ALLEN ENDOWMENT FUND.

This fund now amounts to nearly $12,000. The income is used, in part to defray the expenses incident to a course of lectures at the University, and in part for the general expenses of the University.

Two forms of pledges toward the principal of the endowment fund have been adopted,—one for the payment of $1.00 a month for five years, and the other for the payment of $10.00 a year for ten years. Pledges and contributions in cash are solicited, and will be duly acknowledged and added to the principal of the fund. Remember the Society in your will, making the bequest payable to the Society by its corporate name, to wit, THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY.

The Society is represented on the Board of Trustees of the University by nine trustees, three of whom are elected each year for a term of three years.

The Annual Meeting of the Society is held on Wednesday of Commencement Week, the whole day being given over to the Society.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS

The following amendments were adopted by the Alumni Association at the Annual Meeting held on June 22, 1904, viz:

CONSTITUTION, Article II. Add the following: The Annual Dues of members of the Association shall be one dollar, payable on the fifteenth day of June for the current Fiscal Year.

CONSTITUTION, Article V. Section I, and BY-LAWS, Section I: Substitute the word Alumni in place of the word Commencement.

BY-LAWS, Section 4. Prefix the following: The Fiscal Year of the Association shall begin on the first day of June and shall close on the thirty-first day of May.

NEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY- WORKING AND CERAMICS

BOARD OF MANAGERS

(University Trustees)

PRESIDENT BOOTHE COLWELL DAVIS,

WILLIAM H. CRANDALL,

JOHN J. MERRILL,

ELWOOD E. HAMILTON,

WILL R. CLARKE.

The following is a copy of Chapter 383 of the Session Laws of New York, 1900:

An act to establish a State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics at Alfred University, and making appropriation for the construction and equipment of a suitable building and the maintenance of such school for one year.

Section 1. There is hereby established a state school of clay-working and ceramics at Alfred University. For the purpose of constructing and equipping a suitable building for such school at Alfred, New York, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to be paid by the treasurer, upon the warrant of the comptroller, upon vouchers approved by the state architect, to Alfred University. No part of such moneys shall be expended until the plans and specifications for the construction and equipment of such building and the location thereof shall be approved by the state architect, nor until the comptroller shall have certified that in his judgment the expense of the completion and equipment of such building in accordance with such plans and specifications will not exceed the amount of such appropriation. Such building and equipment shall be the property of the state. There shall be no tuition charged to students residents of this state for instruction in the school hereby established.

Section 2. For the maintenance for one year of said state school of clay-working and ceramics, the sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, payable to the treasurer of Alfred University, on the warrant of the comptroller.

Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

TO THE PRESIDENT OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY:

DEAR SIR: I have the honor to submit to you the fourth Annual Report of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics.

As anticipated in my report of last year, the demands made upon the resources of the School in experimental work have greatly increased. The number of samples of clay and similar materials received for examination shows an advance of 42 per cent over the previous year while the number of counties in the State which are represented on the list has increased 75 per cent. Moreover, these figures do not show the whole of the extension in the work involved. Formerly, it has been the case that clays entirely unsuitable for commercial use were sometimes sent to me and these could be dismissed by an analysis without a great expenditure of time. The larger number of the clays now received are of better quality and must needs be made up at the School into some suitable product. This entails very heavy work, but it represents the main purpose for which the School was established and I have no complaint to make. On the contrary, it is a matter for great satisfaction that the value of the School is being recognized to a larger extent than ever and that it is being called upon for help from all parts of the State.

Important work has been done for Railroad Companies whose lines pass through the State and the result will be doubtless the establishment of manufacturing plants and the development of latent resources.

An application has been received from the State Industrial School at Rochester for assistance in the development of the clays found upon the site for the new establishment. Samples of the clays were sent to this School and it was found that excellent brick both for building and side-walks, together with drain tile and hollow building-blocks could be successfully made. Specimens of brick were finished and the Superintendent of the Industrial School spent a day with me in conference upon the proper equipment for this purpose. I am particularly pleased that this State School should have been able to assist a sister State Institution and thus be the means of saving the State an expenditure which, if reliance had had to be placed upon expert assistance from outside, would have amounted to hundreds of dollars.

The State Commissioner for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, through the department of the State Geologist, has entrusted me with the preparation of an exhibit of the clay products of the State. These will be used to construct a pavilion which will stand in the building devoted to Mines and Metallurgy. Brick, terracotta and roofing-tile are to be worked into the structure and other manufactured products will be set within it.

I would like to point out that this is being done without cost, except as to the actual expense incurred.

The educational authorities of the State also desire that we take part in their exhibit. Accordingly there is in course of preparation a collection of the work of the students. Glazed stoneware, hotel china, porcelain and faience will be shown and the stages of progress illustrated by specimens.

Exhibits of pottery continue to be in demand in various parts of the State. The movement towards the development of Arts and Crafts has been directed towards working in clay, and this School is being looked to for advice and technical assistance. Syracuse, Canandaigua, Attica, Jamestown, and Ellicottville have had collections for exhibition, and in four of the six places mentioned I attended in person and gave some account of the work being done at the School.

I have been present at the meeting of the educational council of the five counties and at the annual educational conventions taking place at Syracuse. During the National Ceramic Convention, I was detained at home by sickness but sent papers to be read.

The interest in Clay-Working continues to grow in all parts of the country, and it seems to be generally recognized that this School leads the way in the advances along certain very important lines. The growth of the taste for artistic pottery is very marked, and the whole community must soon realize the benefit of the developments which this School is endeavoring to foster.

Of the students registered last year, seven completed sufficient work to fit them for the positions they had in view and six engaged in temporary occupations in order that they might earn sufficient to continue their studies here next year. The registration this year numbers twenty-one, and earnest work is being accomplished in all departments.

The Art work, under the charge of Miss Blanchard, is gaining in favor and in power. Some of the pottery finished by the students will compare favorably with that manufactured by experienced hands. Considerable progress has been made in the production of Ceramic colors, a branch of industry which may be followed with great profit.

The classes in Technology have been held as usual. The aim is to give the students a thorough understanding of principles so that each may find himself independent when left without the aid of teachers.

Once more I wish to express my appreciation of the work done by the professors in Alfred University in their unselfish endeavors to meet the demands made upon them by this School. Upon the proper grounding in Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, Natural Science and Language the success of our technical teaching depends, and these subjects are taught in the University with conspicuous ability.

The thanks of the School must again be accorded to the State Legislature for the special provision made in the supply bill for certain indispensable equipment but you will permit me to say that such provisions ought not to be left to the uncertain action of any supplementary provision. It has become absolutely imperative that the maintenance fund should be increased. The important experimental work which we are called upon to do, to which I have already made reference, renders necessary the employment of a permanent laboratory assistant, while the salaries of the instructors must be advanced in the coming year.

Further, the pressure of work entails a considerable amount of wear and tear. Kilns and machinery in constant use depreciate rapidly and must be renewed, lest the work suffer. These items will render necessary an increased appropriation of at least $2500 on the maintenance fund. The financial statement is appended.

I have the honor to be, dear sir,

Your obedient servant,

CHARLES F. BINNS, Director.

AN ACT TO INCORPORATE ALFRED UNIVERSITY

Chapter 190: Session Laws of New York, 1857: Passed March 28, 1857

The People of the State of New York represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

(1) § 1. Name; Object; Membership; Number of Trustees. All persons who have or shall hereafter become subscribers in the sum of one hundred dollars to the permanent fund for the endowment of a collegiate institution at Alfred, Allegany county, are hereby constituted a body corporate by the name of the Alfred University, and by that name shall have perpetual succession for the purpose of promoting education by cultivating art, literature and science. The estate, powers and business of said corporation shall be vested in, and controlled and managed by, a board of thirty-three trustees.

(2) § 2. Power to Take and Hold Property; Trustees; Quorum. Nathan V. Hull, Thomas B. Stillman, Thomas B. Brown, George B. Utter, William C. Kenyon, Leman Andrus, William B. Maxson, James R. Irish, Joshua Clarke, James Sumnerbell, Joel Wakeman, George Maxson, George W. Allen, Hamilton Clarke, Elisha C. Green, Benjamin Maxson, Alfred Lewis, Elisha Potter, John A. Langworthy, Clark Rogers, Daniel D. Pickett, Perry F. Potter, Ira B. Crandall, John Hamilton, Henry Crandall, Solon O. Thatcher, Darwin E. Maxson, Darius Ford, D. C. McCollum, Ethan P. Larkin, Ira W. Simpson, Erastus A. Green and Jonathan Allen shall be the first board of trustees, eleven of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said corporation, thus vested, shall have power to receive and hold property, real and personal, and to sell or otherwise dispose of the same for the objects of this corporation, but it shall not, at any one time, own real estate yielding an annual income exceeding fifteen thousand dollars. It shall have power to contract and be contracted with, to sue and be sued, to make and use a corporate seal and alter the same at pleasure.

(3) § 3. Election of Trustees; Powers and Duties of Trustees. Said trustees shall have power to fill all vacancies in their board, to make all ordinances and regulations necessary for their guidance in calling and conducting their meetings and the election of their officers, and such other ordinances and regulations as may be necessary for carrying into effect the powers and objects of said corporation. They shall allot themselves into three equal classes, one class of which shall go out of office at each succeeding annual election, and their successors shall be elected in perpetual succession by the stockholders of said corporation. They shall also make an annual report of all their proceedings to said stockholders.

(4) § 4. Departments of Instruction. Said Trustees shall have power to create a primary or academic department with all the powers, and subject to the same provisions, as the various academies of this state.

They shall organize a college department with separate departments or courses of study for males and females; both departments possessing equal privileges and powers.

They shall have power to organize a department of theology as a separate department, to receive and hold separate property for the maintenance of such theological department, and to conduct and maintain the same for the purposes of theological education.

They shall also have power to create such other departments in said University as they shall from time to time deem expedient.

(5) § 5. Faculty. Said Trustees shall, in such manner as they shall from time to time prescribe, appoint a president, professors, and such other instructors as they may deem necessary.

(6) § 6. Degrees and Diplomas. The said University may grant to students under its charge diplomas or honorary testimonials in such manner as it may designate.

It may also confer such literary honors, degrees and diplomas as are usually granted by any university, college, or seminary of learning in this state.

Diplomas granted by said University shall entitle the possessor to all the immunities and privileges allowed by usage or statute to the possessor of like diplomas for any college or seminary of learning in this state.

But no degree or literary honor shall be conferred without a course equivalent to a full ordinary course of college study as pursued in the colleges of this state shall have been completed.

(7) § 7. Visitation of Regents. The said University shall be subject to the visitation of the Regents of the University of this state in the same manner and to the same extent as the various colleges in the state.

(8) § 8. Contract With Alfred Academy The Trustees of said corporation shall have power to purchase, lease, and hold any property, real or personal, belonging to the Alfred Academy, and any contract made between them and the Trustees of said Academy shall be valid; provided the property thus received shall be used for the purposes set forth in this act; and the Trustees of said Academy are hereby authorized to make such arrangement with the Trustees of said corporation hereby created, for selling, leasing, or transferring their property, or any part thereof, either absolutely or conditionally, to said Trustees, as to them shall seem proper.

(9) § 9. Powers, Privileges and Liabilities. Said corporation shall possess the powers and privileges, and be subject to the liabilities and provisions, contained in the *first title, fifteenth chapter, and also the †third title, eighteenth chapter, of first part of the Revised Statutes, so far as the same are applicable and have not been repealed.

(10) § 10. This act shall take effect immediately.

*Repealed in 1892, and superseded by The University Law, chapter 378, Session Laws of 1892, abstract from which appears below.

†Repealed, and superseded by The General Corporation Law.

TRUSTS FOR SPECIFIC PURPOSES

1840 CHAPTER 318

(11) § 1. Real and personal property may be granted and conveyed to any incorporated college or other literary incorporated institution in this state, to be held in trust for either of the following purposes:

- (1) To establish and maintain an observatory.
- (2) To found and maintain professorships and scholarships.
- (3) To provide and keep in repair a place for the burial of the dead, or
- (4) For any other specific purpose comprehended in the general objects authorized by their respective charters.

The said trusts may be created subject to such conditions and visitations as may be prescribed by the grantor or donor and agreed to by said trustees. And all property which shall hereafter be granted to any incorporated college or other literary incorporated institution in trust for either of the aforesaid purposes may be held by such college or institution upon such trusts and subject to such conditions and visitations as may be prescribed and agreed to as aforesaid.

(12) § 4. The trusts authorized by this act may continue for such time as may be necessary to accomplish the purposes for which they may be created.

1841 CHAPTER 261

(13) Devises and bequests of real and personal property in trust for any of the purposes for which such trusts are authorized under the *Act authorizing certain trusts" passed May 14, 1840, and to such trustees as are therein authorized, shall be valid in like manner as if such property had been granted and conveyed according to the provisions of the aforesaid act.

*Chapter 318, (11), (12).

ACCUMULATION OF INCOME OF TRUST FUNDS

1846 CHAPTER 74

(14) The income arising from any real or personal property granted or conveyed, devised or bequeathed, in trust to any incorporated college or other incorporated literary institution for any of the purposes specified in the "Act authorizing certain trusts," passed May 14, 1840, * * * may be permitted to accumulate till the same shall amount to a sum sufficient, in the opinion of the regents of the university, to carry into effect either of the purposes aforesaid, designated in said trust.

1855 CHAPTER 432

(15) If any of the principal of any trust fund actually received by any incorporated college or other incorporated literary institution * * * under any grant, conveyance, devise, or bequest, for any of the purposes for which trusts are authorized under the "Act authorizing certain trusts," passed May 14, 1840, and the "Act in addition to the act authorizing certain trusts" passed May 26, 1841, shall subsequently become diminished from any cause, such diminution may be made up by the accumulation of the interest or income of the principal of such trust fund in accordance with the directions (if any) contained in the grant, conveyance, devise, or bequest of such trust fund. And if no directions for that purpose are contained in such grant, conveyance, devise, or bequest, then such diminution may be made up in whole or in part by such accumulation, in the discretion of the trustees of such trust fund: but in no case shall such accumulation be allowed to increase the trust fund beyond the true amount or value thereof actually received by the trustees, to be estimated after the deduction of all liens and incumbrances on such trust fund and of all expenses incurred or paid by the trustees in the collection or obtaining the possession of the same.

*NOTE—Chapter 318 (11) 12).

†NOTE—Chapter 261 (13).

VALIDITY OF BEQUESTS

1893 CHAPTER 701

(16) § 1. No gift, grant, bequest or devise to religious, educational, charitable or benevolent uses which shall, in other respects, be valid under the laws of this state shall or be deemed invalid by reason of the indefiniteness or uncertainty of the persons designated as the beneficiaries thereunder in the instrument creating the same.

If, in the instrument creating such a gift, grant, bequest, or devise, there is a trustee named to execute the same, the legal title to the lands or property given, granted, devised or bequeathed for such purposes shall vest in such trustee.

If no person be named as trustee, then the title to such lands or property shall vest in the Supreme Court.

(17) § 2. The Supreme Court shall have control over gifts, grants, bequests and devises in all cases provided for by section one of this act.

The Attorney General shall represent the beneficiaries in all such cases, and it shall be his duty to enforce such trusts by proper proceedings in the court.

NOTE—See below (22) subdiv. 5.

This statute restores to the courts of New York the power to construe gifts, devises and bequests to charitable uses liberally, in order to carry into effect the intent of the donor or testator, instead of defeating such gifts by a narrow and technical construction for the benefit of heirs, next of kin and individual legatees. This statute is the natural outcome of the notorious miscarriage of the charitable legacies of Samuel J. Tiden.

To all intents and purposes gifts to charity in New York under this statute, are entitled to the same favorable construction that is accorded to them in those states where the 43d of Elizabeth, Chapter 4, known as "The Statute of Charitable Uses" is in force. Under the latter statute, gifts to educational institutions are "gifts to charitable uses." In New Jersey, where the 43d of Elizabeth, Chapter 4, is in force, a bequest to Alfred University has been judicially determined to be a "gift to charity."

EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION

CHAPTER 908 Session Laws of 1896 The Tax Law

(18) § 4. Sub-div. 7. The real property of a corporation * * * organized * * * for * * * educational, scientific, literary * * * purposes * * * and used exclusively for carrying out thereupon one or more of such purposes, and the personal property of any such corporation, shall be exempt from taxation. But no such corporation * * * shall be entitled to any such exemption, if any officer, member or employee thereof shall receive, or may be lawfully entitled to receive, any pecuniary profit from the operations thereof except reasonable compensation for services in effecting one or more of such purposes, or as proper beneficiaries of its strictly charitable purposes * * *. The real property of any such corporation not so used exclusively for carrying out thereupon one or more of such purposes, but leased or otherwise used for other purposes shall not be exempt: but if a portion only of any lot or building of any such corporation * * * is used exclusively for carrying out thereupon one or more such purposes of any such corporation * * * then such lot or building shall be so exempt only to the extent of the value of the portions so used * * *.

THE UNIVERSITY LAW

CHAPTER 378: Session Laws of 1892: As amended

(19) § 3. Corporate name and objects. The corporation created in 1784 under the name of Regents of the University of the State of New York shall continue and be known as University of the State of New York. Its objects shall be to encourage and promote higher education, to visit and inspect its several institutions and departments, to distribute to or expend or administer for them such property and funds as the state may appropriate therefor or as the University may own or hold in trust or otherwise, and to perform such other duties as may be intrusted to it.

(20) § 24. Institutions in the University. The institutions of the University shall include all institutions of higher education which are now or may hereafter be incorporated in this state, and such other libraries, museums or other institutions for higher education as may, in conformity with the ordinances of the regents, after official inspection, be admitted to or incorporated by the University. The regents may exclude from such membership any institution failing to comply with law or with any ordinance or rule of the University.

(21) § 25. Visitation and Reports. The regents or their committees or officers shall visit, examine into and inspect the condition and operations of every institution and department in the University, and require of each an annual report verified by oath of its presiding officer, and giving information concerning trustees, faculty, students, instruction, equipment, methods and operations, with such other information and in such form as may be prescribed by the regents. * * * For refusal or continued neglect on the part of any institution in the University to make the report required by this section, or for violation of any law, the regents may suspend the charter or any of the rights and privileges of such institution.

(22) § 34. Powers of Trustees of Institutions in the University. The trustees of every corporation created for educational purposes and subject to visitation by the regents, unless otherwise provided by law or by its charter, may:

1 Number and Quorum. Fix the number of trustees, which shall not exceed 25, nor be less than five. If any institution has more than five trustees, the body that elects, by a two-thirds vote after notice of the proposed action in the call for a meeting, may reduce the number to not less than five by abolishing the office of any trustee which is vacant and filing in the regents' office a certified copy of the action. A majority of the whole number shall be a quorum.

2 Executive Committee. Elect an executive committee of not less than seven, who, in intervals between meetings of the trustees, may transact such business of the corporation as the trustees may authorize, except to grant degrees or to make removals from office.

3 Meetings and Seniority. Meet on their own adjournment or when required by their bylaws, and as often as they shall be summoned by their chairman, or in his absence by the senior trustee, on written request of three trustees. Seniority shall be according to the order in which the trustees are named in the charter or subsequently elected. Notice of the time and place of every meeting shall be mailed not less than five nor more than ten days before the meeting, to the usual address of every trustee.

4 Vacancies and Elections. Fill any vacancy occurring in the office of any trustee by electing another for the unexpired term. The office of any trustee shall become vacant on his death, resignation, refusal to act, removal from office, expiration of his term, or any other cause specified in the charter. If any trustee shall fail to attend three consecutive meetings without written excuse accepted as satisfactory by the trustees not later than the third consecutive meeting from which he has been absent, he shall be deemed to have resigned, and the vacancy shall be filled. Any vacancy in the office of trustee continuing for more than one year, or any vacancy reducing the number of trustees to less than two-thirds of the full number may be filled by the regents. No person shall be ineligible as a trustee by reason of sex.

5 Property Holding. Take and hold by gift, grant, devise or bequest in their own right or in trust for any purpose comprised in the objects of the corporation, such additional real and personal property beyond such as shall be authorized by their charter or by special or general statute, as the regents shall authorize within one year after the delivery of the instrument or probate of the will, giving, granting, devising or bequeathing such property, and such authority given by the regents shall make any such gift, grant, devise or bequest operative and valid in law. Any grant, devise or bequest made for the benefit of any institution in or registered by the University shall be equally valid whether made in the corporate name or to the trustees of the corporation, and the powers given to the trustees by this § 34 shall be construed to be the powers of the corporation exercised through its trustees.

6 Control of Property. Buy, sell, mortgage, let and otherwise use and dispose of its property as they shall deem for the best interests of the institution; and also to lend or deposit, or to receive as a gift, or on loan or deposit, literary, scientific or other articles, collections, or property pertaining to their work; and such gifts, loans or deposits may be made to or with the University or any of its institutions by any person, or by legal vote of any board of trustees, corporation, association or school district, and any such transfer of property, if approved by the regents, shall, during its continuance, transfer responsibility therefor to the institution receiving it, which shall also be entitled to receive any money, books or other property from the state or other sources to which said corporation, association or district would have been entitled but for such transfer.

7 Officers and Employees. Appoint and fix the salaries of such officers and employees as they shall deem necessary, who unless employed under special contract shall hold their offices durin the pleasure of the trustees; but no trustee shall receive compensation as such.

8 Removals and Suspensions. Remove or suspend from office by vote of a majority of the entire board any trustee, officer or employee engaged under special contract, on examination and due proof of the truth of a written complaint by any trustee, of misconduct, incapacity or neglect of duty; provided that at least one week's previous notice of the proposed action shall have been given to the accused and to each trustee.

9 Degrees and Credentials. Grant such degrees and honors as are specifically authorized by their charter, and in testimony thereof give suitable certificates and diplomas under their seal; and every certificate and diploma so granted shall entitle the conferee to all privileges and immunities which by usage or statute are allowed for similar diplomas of corresponding grade granted by any institution of learning.

10 Rules. Make all bylaws, ordinances and rules necessary and proper for the purposes of the institution and not inconsistent with law or any ordinance or rule of the University; but no ordinance or rule by which more than a majority vote shall be required for any specified action by the trustees shall be amended, suspended or repealed by a smaller vote than that required for action thereunder.

ORDINANCIES OF

The University of the State of New York

(23) § 5 College Defined. An institution to be ranked as a college must have at least six professors giving their entire time to college and university work; a course of four full years of college grade in liberal arts and sciences; and should require for admission not less than the usual four years of academic or high school preparation or its equivalent, in addition to the pre-academic or grammar school studies.

(24) § 11 Leasing University Institutions. The leasing of the property of any University institution by its trustees to any individual, association or corporation other than a board of education or an institution in the University shall, unless such lease is first approved in writing by the regents, be considered a discontinuance of its educational operations and shall subject such institution to a suspension of its charter as provided by law.

(25) § 16 Salaried Officers Ineligible as Trustees. No salaried employee of an institution, other than the executive or financial officer or both, shall be eligible to election as a trustee of any University institution, nor shall any trustee have a vote in any case relating to his own salary or emoluments.

(26) § 18 Annual Reports. Each institution in the University shall transmit to the University on or before August 1 of each year a report in such form and detail as the regents shall prescribe. The University year, for annual reports of institutions, shall close on June 30, unless permission is given to report for a year ending at some other date, in which case the report shall specify the exact dates covered.

Any University institution whose annual report for the academic year ending June 30 is not filed on August 1 shall be reported to the regents.

Any institution failing for two consecutive years to report shall be deemed to have suspended its educational operations, and after due notice its charter may be suspended as provided in § 31 of the University law.

(27) § 55 Honorary Degrees. The bachelor's degrees in arts, philosophy, science and literature, and the doctor's degree in philosophy, shall not be conferred by the University or by any institution in this state causa honoris.

(28) § 56 Non-resident Degrees. No degree shall be conferred in this state on examination without completion of a prescribed course of which at least one year has been taken in regular attendance on the usual exercises of a teaching institution registered for that degree.

(29) § 59 Degree Preliminaries. No degree shall be conferred on students matriculating after Jan. 1, 1905, for completion of a course of study or on examination, unless the candidate has as a preliminary general education at least a four year high school course or its full equivalent as determined by the University rules. Satisfactory evidence of such preliminary education must be offered before beginning the course of study for the degree, and any condition for deficiency (which must not exceed three academic subjects) must be made up within one year.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY LAWS

Adopted June 19, 1894 (as amended)

CHAPTER I

Government

(30) § 1 The general government and direction of Alfred University is lodged, by the charter, in the Board of Trustees.

(31) § 2 The immediate government is vested in the President and the Faculties.

CHAPTER II

President

(32) § 1 The President, as an executive officer of the Trustees, shall have charge of the educational administration of the University.

(33) § 2 He shall preside at all Commencements, and shall sign all diplomas for degrees duly conferred.

(34) § 3 He shall be chairman of each Faculty, and shall preside at the meetings thereof, when present.

(35) § 4 His concurrence shall be necessary to every act of such body; unless, after his non-concurrence, the act or resolution shall be again passed by a two-thirds vote of that entire Faculty, exclusive of the President.

(36) § 5 The President shall convene each Faculty for business or advice at stated times and whenever he may think it expedient.

(37) § 6 The President is authorized to make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Trustees, in order to fill unexpected vacancies in the teaching, the executive, or the library force of the University.

(38) § 7 He shall present to the Board of Trustees, at their annual meeting in June of each year, a full report on the state of the University; and shall also, from time to time, report to the Trustees the state of the instruction in the several departments, and make such suggestions for the improvement thereof as he shall deem expedient.

(39) § 8 He shall attend the meetings of the Board of Trustees (even though he may not himself be a Trustee), and shall have the right to speak on all questions before the Board.

(40) § 9 The President shall administer the government of the University under its Rules and Regulations.

CHAPTER III

The Faculties

(41) § 1 Each Faculty, shall consist of the President of the University, the professors of each department respectively, and such other officers connected with the school as may be designated by the Board of Trustees.

(42) § 2 It is the primary duty of the Faculties to educate the students. To this end, besides conducting recitations, giving lectures, etc., they will take the general state of the University into frequent consideration; make such rules and regulations, not conflicting with the University Laws, as may be necessary in the performance of their duties; take cognizance of offenses committed by the students and inflict appropriate penalties, earnestly seeking the promotion of piety, virtue, good manners and good learning in the institution. They may also at any time propose to the Trustees any laws or measures by which, in their judgment, the system of instruction and discipline may be improved.

(43) § 3 Each member of each Faculty is expected to perform miscellaneous duties which do not strictly belong to any department of instruction, and which by vote of that Faculty may be assigned to him.

(44) § 4 It shall be the duty of the professors, instructors, and other officers, to aid the President in the government; to make report to him at such times as he may appoint, relative to the merit, demerit, and general conduct of any student; to use special care to secure the observance of all the rules of the University; to promptly check every instance of disorder, and to report to the President all violations of the rules of order.

(45) § 5 Any member of a Faculty may at any time communicate in writing with the Board of Trustees on matters pertaining to the interests of his department. When the President shall find it necessary to differ with any member of a Faculty as to the purpose or subject matter of any report or communication made by such member to the Board of Trustees, the member so reporting shall have the privilege of being present when the President's report touching the matter in question is made, and of making explanation and reply.

(46) § 6 It shall be the duty of every member of each Faculty to attend the stated and special meetings of that Faculty, unless for satisfactory reasons excused by the President.

(47) § 7 The Faculties shall have power to determine, subject to revision by the Board of Trustees, their respective courses of study; they shall also in like manner determine the arrangement of the recitations, lectures, and other exercises, the times and modes of examinations, and the general methods of instruction.

(48) § 8 All cases in which there shall be a non-concurrence of the President and a majority of the members of any Faculty present at the time, shall be provided for as in Chapter second, Art. 4, and the names of those voting on each side shall be entered on the minutes, and each member shall be entitled to have entered on the minutes his reasons for his vote.

CHAPTER IV

Other Officers

(49) § 1 Registrar. It shall be the duty of the Registrar, in connection with the President, to attend to the registration of all students, keeping a record of all names, ages, residences and standings; and to perform such other duties as usually devolve upon such officer.

(50) § 2 Librarian. The Librarian shall be the executive officer of the Library, under the direction of the President and the Board of Directors of the Library; and it shall be his duty to see that the statutes and all resolutions, rules and regulations relating to the Library are properly enforced. He shall be the custodian of the property of the Library, and of its files, books, records and papers, and shall have the general charge and control of the Library and the rooms containing it, and also of the expenditures of all moneys appropriated by the Trustees and the Board of Directors for the purchase of books and supplies therefor; he may appoint all assistants and subordinate officers, and fix their titles, duties, and compensations, provided that the total amount shall not exceed the appropriation of the Trustees for that purpose; he shall make and enforce by suitable penalties needed rules and regulations relating to the Library, its readers, officers and assistants.

All bills on account of the Library, for books, periodicals, binding, administration, or other expenses, shall be examined and certified by the Librarian, or in his absence by the deputy duly appointed, and shall be countersigned by the President before being paid.

(51) § 3 The Superintendent. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent, under the direction of the President, to have the care of the University grounds and buildings, and of the furniture and fixtures therein, and to see that the same are kept in good and proper order and in sufficient repair; to employ, control and discharge all janitors and others employed in the care of the buildings and grounds. He shall not incur expenses in the conduct of his office in excess of the appropriation made by the Trustees. He shall also perform such other duties as may from time to time be designated by the President or Trustees.

CHAPTER V

The Library

(52) § 1 All books, maps, charts, and other printed matter heretofore or hereafter purchased for the use of any department shall be deemed to be a part of the Library, and shall be stamped and catalogued as such, and such books shall be kept in the Library when not required in the respective departments for special uses; and their presence shall be periodically verified.

(53) § 2 No less than two copies of all reports and other matter printed by authority of the Trustees, except such as may be printed for their exclusive use, shall be deposited in the Library.

(54) § 3 All gifts of money to the Library shall be paid to the Treasurer, who shall disburse the same subject to the approval of the Librarian and the President, for the purpose, if any, specified by the donor, without special vote or appropriation; and such gifts made without condition shall be used for buying books, which shall be marked with the donor's name.

(55) § 4. All library funds shall be paid to the Treasurer and shall be disbursed by him on order of the Librarian.

CHAPTER VI

Rules and By-Laws of Board of Trustees

(56) § 1 The Annual Meeting of the Trustees shall be held at the University on Tuesday next preceding Commencement at 10 o'clock A. M., notice of which shall be sent by mail, post prepaid, directed to the last known P. O. address of each Trustee not less than seven nor more than ten days before the time of the meeting.

(57) § 2 Special Meetings will be convened by the call of the President, or by the call of the President or Vice President upon the written request of three Trustees, notice of which meeting shall be given as specified in the last preceding article, and such notice shall specify the matters to be brought before the meeting.

(58) § 3 Eleven trustees shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(59) § 4 Each Trustee is expected to attend the Annual Meeting. If unable to attend said meeting, or any special meeting of which he has notice, he is requested promptly to report the fact and his excuse therefor to the secretary.

(60) § 5 The Trustees elected at each Annual Meeting shall enter upon the duties of their office at once, and shall hold their office for three years, or until their successors are elected.

STANDING COMMITTEESTEACHING FORCE

(61) There shall be a standing committee of three to be known as the "Committee on Teaching Force." The President of the University shall be a member of this Committee, and the second and third members shall be elected by the Board each year at its annual meeting.

The Committee is empowered to engage the teaching force below the rank of Professor, the Librarian, Assistant Librarian and preceptress, for the College year next succeeding the year for which it is elected; to fill such temporary vacancies in the teaching force as may occur during the term for which it is elected; to recommend to the Board such changes in the teaching force of the rank of professor as it may deem for the best interests of the University (giving its reasons therefor) and the establishment of new professorships; to recommend to the Board for election to vacant or new professorships suitable candidates; to assign and re-assign the duties of the teaching force, and the recitation rooms.

It shall be the duty of the Committee to present to the Board at its annual meeting a report in writing of the matters entrusted to its care, together with the cost of the teaching force for the current year, and an estimate of its cost for the year ensuing.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

(62) There shall be a standing committee of four consisting of the President of the University, the President of the Board of Trustees, Mrs. George H. Babcock, and one member elected by the Board at its annual meeting, to be known as the "Committee on Buildings and Grounds." It shall be the duty of the Committee to inspect the buildings on the Campus belonging to the University from time to time and acquaint itself with their condition; and to cause such repairs, painting, decorating, etc. to be made or done as may be necessary and proper, within the limits of the annual appropriation for repairs; and in case it becomes necessary to make repairs of a nature too extensive to be made from the annual appropriation, to report the same to the Executive Committee with an estimate of the cost of making them.

It shall also be the duty of the Committee to care for the Campus and keep it in good order and repair. The income of the E. Lua Babcock Fund shall be expended under the direction and supervision of the Committee.

The Committee shall present to the Board at its annual meeting a report in writing of the matters entrusted to its care, including a statement of the moneys expended under its direction, together with recommendations for the ensuing year and estimates of the cost of carrying out the same.

SUPPLIES AND JANITORS

(63) There shall be a standing committee of three elected by the Board each year at its annual meeting, to be known as the "Committee on Supplies and Janitors."

The Committee is empowered to make all arrangements necessary and proper for the management of Ladies Hall, Burdick Hall, and the Boarding Department, and supervise the same, hiring and discharging such employees as may be necessary therefor, and to fix the tariff of charges for rooms and board and arrange for the collection thereof.

The committee shall also hire and discharge such janitors and other employees as may be necessary to properly care for and keep the other buildings on the Campus belonging to the University in suitable condition for use; assign sleeping and study rooms in the University buildings to Janitors in such cases as it may deem wise; and exercise supervision over such employees and buildings. All fuel, furniture and supplies for the teaching force, for lighting and janitors use, shall be purchased by this committee.

The Committee may apply to the Executive Committee from time to time for advice, and shall present to the Board, at its annual meeting, a report in writing of the matters entrusted to its care, including a statement of income and cost of running Ladies Hall, Burdick Hall and the Boarding Department as separate items; the expense incurred for janitors, fuel, furniture, and supplies, and an estimate of income and expenses for each of such items for the year next ensuing.

PRINTING AND ADVERTISING

(64) There shall be a standing committee of three elected by the Board each year at its annual meeting to be known as the "Committee on Printing and Advertising."

THE LIBRARY

(65) In 1887, an agreement was entered into between the University and the Lyceums for a consolidation of their libraries. Prior thereto the University Library occupied a small room, which could not be heated, and which was lighted by a single window; it was opened regularly for a half hour, two mornings each week, only. The libraries of the Lyceum could be used only by their respective members, and they were accessible only on Saturday evenings at the time of the weekly session. At the time the Consolidation Agreement was adopted, the school year consisted of three terms, and the library fee was fixed at twenty-five cents a term; later, when the school year was divided into quarters, the Library fee was fixed at twenty cents per quarter. As a reference library, the Consolidated Library has always been free to all; but as a circulating library, the regulations under the word "Use" in the agreement are in force, except that Trustees of the University are allowed the free use of the library as well as the Faculty.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT

Concerning the Consolidation of the Libraries in Alfred University

(66) Providing the Trustees of Alfred University agree to furnish the room for the use of the consolidated Libraries of the University and the Lyceums, to place the University Library therein, to heat and light the room when necessary, and to pay for the services of a Librarian two hours per day on each school day, the Alfredian, Alleghanian, Athenaeon, and Orophilian Lyceums agree to place their books in the union library, to levy a tax of twenty-five cents per term on each active member, and to expend the money so raised at least once a year in the purchase of books.

(67) Directors. The President of the University shall be President of the Board of Directors. The Trustees of the University, the Faculty, the Alumni, and the several Lyceums shall be represented on this Board by one member each. The Head Librarian shall be a member of the Board ex-officio. The Board of Directors shall have the management of the Library, but shall not have the power of contracting debts against it.

(68) Purchase of Books. The book committees of the University and the Lyceums shall submit to the Board of Directors, in advance of ordering, the list of books which they intend to purchase, and the Board shall have authority to strike from the list duplicates and objectionable books.

(69) Marking of Books. The books shall be labelled so that the color of label and the name printed thereon shall indicate to whom each book belongs. In other respects the labels shall be uniform. The catalogues shall also indicate the ownership of each book by appropriate letters.

(70) Census. The books shall be called in at least once a year, a census taken, and a full report transmitted to each organization having an interest in the Library.

(71) Librarian. The Directors shall appoint as many Librarians as shall be deemed necessary.

(72) Hours. The Library shall be open for use at least two consecutive hours each school day.

(73) Use. The members of the Faculty and the active members of the Lyceums shall have the use of the Library free of charge, subject to such regulations as the Directors may impose.

(74) Others than those mentioned above may have the use of the Library by paying to the Librarian the sum of fifty cents per term, and conforming to the regulations.

(75) It shall be the duty of the Treasurers of the several Lyceums to report promptly to the Librarian the names of active members.

(76) Dissolution. Should it ever be deemed best to dissolve partnership, each party to this agreement shall take the books bearing its name and mark.

REGISTRATION OF THE LIBRARY

(77) June 1, 1895, the Library was registered by the University of the State of New York, under the provisions of Chapter 378 of the Session Laws of 1892, Sections 37, 47 and 50, as the Alfred University Library. The Certificate of Registry is recorded as number 106 in the University Register. Registration enables the Library to share in public library moneys.

THE UNIVERSITY LAW

CHAPTER 378: SESSION LAWS OF 1892

(78) § 37 Subsidies. By similar vote money may be granted towards the support of libraries not owned by the public, but maintained for its welfare and free use; provided, that such libraries shall be subject to the inspection of the regents and registered by them as maintaining a proper standard, that the regents shall certify what number of the books circulated are of such character as to merit a grant of public money and that the amount granted yearly to libraries on the basis of circulation shall not exceed 10 cents for each volume of the circulation thus certified by the regents; and provided that the trustees of any institution supported under this chapter by public money, in whole or in part, may, so far as consistent with free use by the public at reasonable or specified hours, close any of its museum collections at certain other hours, for study, to meet the demands of special students or for exhibition purposes, and may charge an admission fee at such hours, provided that all receipts from such fees shall be paid into the treasury and be used for the maintenance or enlargement of the institution. [As amended by laws of 1900, ch. 481.]

(79) § 50 Apportionment of Public Library Money. Such sum as shall have been appropriated by the legislature as public library money shall be paid annually by the treasurer, on the warrant of the comptroller, from the income of the United States deposit fund, according to an apportionment to be made for the benefit of free libraries by the regents in accordance with their rules and authenticated by their seal; provided that none of this money shall be spent for books except those approved or selected and furnished by the regents; that no locality shall share in the apportionment unless it shall raise and use for the same purpose not less than an equal amount from taxation or other local sources; that for any part of the apportionment not payable directly to the library trustees the regents shall file with the comptroller proper vouchers showing that it has been spent in accordance with law exclusively for books for free libraries or for proper expenses incurred for their benefit; and that books paid for by the state shall be subject to return to the regents whenever the library shall neglect or refuse to conform to the ordinances under which it secured them.

(80) § 47 Loans of Books from State. Under such rules as the regents may prescribe, they may lend from the state library, duplicate department, or from books specially given or bought for this purpose, selections of books for a limited time to any public library in this state under visitation of the regents, or to any community not yet having established such library, but which has conformed to the conditions required for such loans.

ORDINANCES OF

The University of the State of New York

(81) § 41 Conditions. Under the conditions prescribed by law and the regents any library in the University or registered by it, maintaining the required standard and free to the public for circulation may receive annually from the public library money, so far as available therefor, a grant equal to the amount raised from other sources, but not to exceed $200. If free for reference only it may receive under like conditions half the amount raised from other sources, but not to exceed $200. * * *

The equivalent from other sources must be in money, not in books. * * *

(82) § 42 Use of Money. The state grant and local equivalent must be spent for approved books, serials and first binding, unless otherwise used by special written permission of the secretary. It cannot be used for repairs or rebinding worn books.

No books of a technically religious or controversial character shall be bought with this money; nor shall it be spent for general newspapers, for periodicals unless approved and kept as permanent additions to the library, for public documents originally issued free by state or national governments, or for fees for travelling libraries.

(83) § 40 Protection Against Loss. Every grant for books or apparatus shall be made on condition that in case the institution is closed, falls below the standard of admission or for any cause is dropped from the roll of the University, then the books and apparatus bought with its grants and with the equal amount raised locally shall be returned to the University to be distributed to other similar institutions; or at the option of the institution, it may return, instead of the books and apparatus, the total amount of money received from the University for books and apparatus.

POWER TO MORTGAGE

1859 CHAPTER 77

(84) § 1. For the purpose of raising money for the erection of a new college hall for the accommodation of students, the trustees of Alfred University are authorized to execute and issue their bonds in shares of $100 each for an amount not exceeding $12,000, payable within ten years, with annual interest thereon, and pledging as security therefor the corporate property of said trustees.

(85) § 2. Duplicates of all bonds issued in pursuance of the foregoing section shall be filed with the Clerk of the County in which said University is located, and, when thus filed, shall be a mortgage lien upon the corporate property of said trustees.

WILLS

LIMITATIONS OF BEQUESTS

made by residents of the State of New York to Alfred University, but not affecting bequests made in other states, viz:

1860 CHAPTER 360

(86) §1. No person having a husband, wife, child or parent, shall by his or her last will and testament, devise or bequeath to any benevolent, charitable, literary, scientific, religious or missionary society, association or corporation, in trust or otherwise, more than one-half part of his or her estate, after the payment of his or her debts (and such devise or bequest shall be valid to the extent of one-half, and no more.)

§2. All laws and parts of laws inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

1848 CHAPTER 319

This statute does not affect bequests made to Alfred University direct. The Seventh-day Baptist Education Society was incorporated under this Act, and any bequest made to it by a resident of the State of New York (bequests in other states are not affected by this Act) for the benefit of Alfred University is subject to the provisions of the following section, viz:

(87) §6. Any corporation formed under this act shall be capable of taking, holding or receiving any property, real or personal, by virtue of any devise or bequest contained in any last will or testament of any person whatsoever, the clear annual income of which devise or bequest shall not exceed the sum of $10,000; provided, no person leaving a wife or child or parent, shall devise or bequeath to such institution or corporation more than one-fourth of his or her estate, after the payment of his or her debts, and such devise or bequest shall be valid to the extent of such one-fourth; and no such devise or bequest shall be valid in any will which shall not have been made and executed at least two months before the death of the testator.

SECTARIANISM

CONSTITUTION OF NEW YORK

(88) Article 9, § 4. Restriction of Subsidies. Neither the state nor any subdivision thereof, shall use its property or credit or any public money, or authorize or permit either to be used, directly or indirectly, in aid or maintenance, other than for examination or inspection, of any school or institution of learning wholly or in part under the control or direction of any religious denomination, or in which any denominational tenet or doctrine is taught. (In force January 1, 1895.)

ORDINANCES

Of the University of the State of New York

(89) § 4. Sectarianism Defined. Any school of which the charter, by-laws or rules provide that the students, teachers, trustees or the voters that elect the trustees shall belong to any particular religious body, or any school in which any distinctively denominational tenet or doctrine is taught, shall be deemed and treated as sectarian.

The name of the school, the sources from which its funds are derived or the denominational connection of its trustees, teachers or students, shall not be construed as determining its character, if under its charter, by-laws and rules the official positions named are not in any way limited to any denomination. Any school of which the principal and the president of the trustees shall certify that under the terms of this ordinance it is unsectarian shall be so considered till after special inspection and report the regents shall declare it to be sectarian.

CRIMES AND THEIR PUNISHMENT

THE UNIVERSITY LAW

CHAPTER 378

Laws of 1892

(90) §43 Injuries to Property. Whoever intentionally injures defaces or destroys any property belonging to or deposited in any incorporated library, reading room, museum, or other educational institution, shall be punished by imprisonment in a state prison for not more than three years, or in a county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than $500, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(91) §44 Detention. Whoever wilfully detains any book, newspaper, magazine, pamphlet, manuscript or other property belonging to any public or incorporated library, reading room, museum or other educational institution, for 30 days after notice in writing to return the same, given after the expiration of the time which by the rules of such institution, such article or other property may be kept, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one nor more than $25, or by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding six months, and the said notice shall bear on its face a copy of this section.

HAZING

(92) §1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to engage in or aid or abet what is commonly called hazing, in or while attending any of the colleges, public schools, or other institutions of learning in this state; and whoever participates in the same shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

(93) §2. Whenever any tattooing or permanent disfigurement of the body, limbs, or features of any person or persons may result from such hazing by the use of nitrate of silver or any like substance, it shall be held to be a crime of the degree of mayhem, and any person guilty of the same shall, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment for not less than three, nor more than fifteen years.

PENAL CODE

GAMBLING

(94) § 336 It is unlawful to keep or use any table, cards, dice, or any other article or apparatus whatever commonly used, or intended to be used, in playing any game of cards or faro, or other game of chance upon which money is usually wagered at any of the following places:

1. Within * * * a building any part of which is usually occupied by * * * an incorporated academy, high school, college or other institution of learning; a library company, or building and mutual loan company.

(95) § 337 A person who knowingly violates the last section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(96) § 338 An article or apparatus maintained or kept in violation of section 336 is a public nuisance.

ALFRED ACADEMY

TITLE TO REAL ESTATE CONFIRMED

1850 CHAPTER 30

(97) § 1 Acts of Trustees Validated: Title to Real Estate Confirmed. The several elections of trustees of the Alfred Academy, in the County of Allegany, heretofore made by the stockholders in said academy under the By-Laws thereof, are hereby confirmed and made valid in like manner as if the said elections had, at the time of holding the same, been authorized by law; and the present board of trustees, acting as such under elections so held, is declared to be the legal board of trustees of the said academy; and all the acts of the said several boards of trustees so elected in manner aforesaid are hereby confirmed and made as valid as though they had been legally elected; and all grants and conveyances heretofore made to the trustees, or to any of them, or to any person, or persons for the use or benefit of said academy shall be deemed and taken to have vested the property so granted or conveyed in the said academy, in its corporate capacity, at the time of the making of any such grant or conveyance.

(98) §2. Rights Reserved. Nothing herein contained shall affect any suit now pending against said academy or any of its trustees or officers or growing out of its business or affairs.

(99) §3. Number of Trustees, Quorum. The stockholders of said academy shall hereafter be authorized to elect a board of twenty-one trustees, a majority of whom shall reside in the county in which said academy is situated, one-third of whom shall be elected annually, under such general rules and regulations as may, from time to time, be established by the board of trustees; and seven of said trustees shall form a quorum for the transaction of business.

STATE LOAN TO ALFRED ACADEMY

1850 CHAPTER 259

(100) An act to authorize a loan of State moneys to the Town of Alfred, Allegany County, and authorizing the town to reloan the same to the trustees of Alfred Academy.

NOTE. Under this act, $10,000 were loaned to the Town of Alfred, and by the town reloaned to Alfred Academy, for five years.

1855 CHAPTER 487

An Act to extend the time of Alfred Academy to repay the loan

1856 CHAPTER 163

(101) § 1. Gift of Part of Loan. The sum of $7,800 is hereby appropriated from the general fund in part payment of the principal and interest due to the common school fund upon a bond executed by the Supervisor of the Town of Alfred, in the County of Allegany, to the People of the State of New York, on the 22d day of July, 1850, pursuant to Chapter 259, Laws of 1850.

(102) § 2. Conditions of Gift. Whenever the Comptroller shall be satisfied that the lands, buildings and appurtenances of the said Alfred Academy and all the personal property of said academy are unencumbered by mortgage or the lien of any judgment, and that said academy is free from debt, and whenever the trustees of said academy shall pay the amount due on said bond mentioned in the first section of this act over and above the said sum of $7,800; then, and not till then, the Comptroller shall draw his warrant upon the Treasurer for said sum of $7,800, and transfer the said sum from the general fund to the common school fund and cancel the said bond. But the Comptroller shall not draw said warrant, nor transfer said sum of $7,800, unless the said trustees of said Alfred Academy shall pay over the balance due on said bond for principal and interest on or before the first day of September next.

NOTE. It is said that Alfred Academy was the only one of the many Academies that borrowed money from the State during this period to repay any part of their loan.

DONATION OF SCHOLARSHIP

The following is a copy of a letter received by President Davis. The spirit and example of Mr. Palmiter is worthy of emulation by other holders of the Ten Per Cent. Scholarships. Viz:

Albion, Wis., Sept. 18, 1904.

PRESIDENT B. C. DAVIS, Alfred University:

Dear Sir.

I propose to donate my scholarship to the Institution, and will send it to you by Mr. Webster. It cost me $150, interest and principal; but I wish to help the school, and would be glad if the others that have Scholarships would do the same.

Yours Respectfully, PAUL PALMITER.

The following is a copy of the Scholarship Certificate which accompanied the letter, which is a printed blank, with the blanks filled in in handwriting. In the following copy, the handwriting is represented by Italics, viz:

CERTIFICATE OF SCHOLARSHIP

THIS CERTIFIES That Paul Palmiter, of the town of Albion, in the County of Dane, and State of Wisconsin, has, by a certain instrument bearing even date herewith, become a subscriber to the Endowment Fund of the Seventh-day Baptist Education Society, for the purpose of the endowment of a Collegiate Institution at Alfred, Allegany County, New York, to the amount of One Hundred Dollars, the same to be paid to the Treasurer of said Society within ten years, with interest, at the rate of six per cent per annum, to be paid annually on the first day of January hereafter, upon the whole or such part of the above sum as remains unpaid, until the whole shall be paid.

In consideration of which the said Paul Palmiter, his heirs and assigns, forever, are entitled, on faithfully complying with the conditions of said instrument, to certain educational privileges in said Institution, as follows, viz: The owner of this certificate shall be entitled, after the payment of the first annual interest, to receive, in tuition, at the rate of ten per cent per annum, upon the above named sum, for the time that he may have a scholar or scholars in actual attendance at said Institution, provided said scholar or scholars have not bought, rented or leased, or in any other manner obtained the use of said privilege for a money consideration; but it may be donated to such as depend entirely upon their own industry to defray their educational expenses.

The right and title of this certificate can be transferred to another, but all transfer to be valid must be made on the books of the Society with the surrender of this certificate.

The whole of the within shall be subject to the conditions and provisions of the Constitution of the Seventh-day Baptist Education Society.

T. B. Stillman, President of the Society.

W. C. Kenyon, Secretary.

Dated July 28th, 1857.

APPENDIX G

NECROLOGY

1903-04

This list includes those who have studied at Alfred, those who have been connected with the institution as teachers or officers, and those who have remembered the University in their wills.

The friends of those dying during the current year who have sustained either of these relations to the University, will confer a favor by sending obituary notices to A. B. Kenyon, Registrar, Alfred, N. Y.

The numbers in parenthesis immediately following a name indicates the school year in which the party matriculated; but, in the case of graduates, the year of graduation is given instead, with the initial letters of the degree received.

MARIE COON ALLEN, Ph. B., '92, was born at Cuba, March 12, 1871, and died at Alfred, October 28, 1903. She was the daughter of William N. and Marie Coon. The mother died at her birth, and she was adopted and brought up by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Allen. After graduating at Alfred, she entered Geneseo Normal School from which she graduated in 1894. She taught school at Wirt, Pleasant Valley, Five Corners, Little Genesee, and Alfred. She was an ideal teacher, and was greatly beloved by her pupils.

PHOEBE JANE BABCOCK Wait, A. B., '60, A. M., '69, was born at Potter Hill, R. I., September 30, 1838, and died in New York City, January 30, 1904. Her parents were Oliver and Phoebe Babcock. October 27, 1863, she was united in marriage with William Bell Wait, Superintendent of the Institution for the Blind, 34th street and Ninth Avenue, New York City. Her husband and three children, one daughter and two sons, survive her. Soon after graduating at Alfred, she joined the staff of teachers at the Institution for the Blind, and served as a teacher until the summer of 1863. She studied medicine in the New York Medical College and Hospital for Women, graduating in 1871, and at once engaged actively in the practice of her profession, devoting especial attention to the study and practice of obstetrics. In 1875, she was appointed Lecturer in Obstetrics in the New York Medical College and Hospital for Women, and in 1880 she was made Professor of Obstetrics in the same institution: she filled this chair for eighteen years, during eight of which she was the Dean of the College, and she was most of the time on the Hospital staff. After two years of special study at the New York Ophthalmic Hospital and College, she received a diploma from that institution in 1879, and thenceforth gave much attention to the eye and ear in addition to her other work. In 1898, she resigned her professorship in the Medical College, and retired from college and hospital work. She was a member of the Homeopathic Medical Society of the State of New York, the Homeopathic Medical Society of the County of New York, the American Institute of Homeopathy and the American Obstetrical Society; a member of the consulting staff of the Memorial Hospital, Brooklyn, and an Examiner in Lunacy. She was an active worker in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, joining Central Union Number One, the original organization of the Society in New York City, and serving as president from 1893 until her death: for one year she was president of the New York County Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and for eleven years served as its Treasurer. She was also active as President of the Society for Promoting the Welfare of the Insane, Vice President of the New York Legislative League, a member of the New York Equal Suffrage League, and for a time a member of the Board of Managers of the New York Baptist Home for the Aged. She was president of the Alfred Alumni Association of New York for the year 1892-93. At an early age she joined the Seventh-day Baptist Church, and continued a faithful and devoted member through life. When the Seventh-day Baptist Missionary Society established a medical mission in Shanghai, China, she became actively identified with its support and maintenance. She was a prolific writer of papers for public meetings and for the press. Among these papers, mention might be made of "Medicine as a Profession for Women," "The Education of our Girls," "Nippur," a description and history of the ancient Babylonian City.

SARAH A. BENJAMIN Palmiter, 1844-45, was born in Alfred, January 26, 1824, and died at Albion, Wisconsin, February 18, 1904. Her parents were Thomas and Deidamia Baker Benjamin. She married Paul Palmiter, who survives her with their two sons.

HIRAM PALMER BURDICK, E. M. '45, M. D. '53, was born in Alfred, December 12, 1819, and died at Hartsville, March 28, 1904. He was the son of Isaac and Betsy Burdick Burdick. Elder John Burdick of Rhode Island was his maternal grandfather. June 19, 1845, he married Miss Emily C. Porter, who died March 23, 1863. Four children were born to them, one of whom died in infancy. March 16, 1864, he married Miss Mary Bryant, M. D., who survives. He was intensely interested in temperance, religious, mission, and educational work, and he devoted the greater part of his long and active life to arduous labors to promote them. When fifteen years of age, he organized a Bible School, out of which grew the Hartsville Church. At eighteen years of age, he delivered his first temperance lecture. In 1847, he was ordained to the gospel ministry, and immediately entered the field as a home missionary, in which capacity he labored for several years in the states of New York and Pennsylvania. He was also pastor of the Hartsville Church for many years, resigning in 1867.

In 1852, he entered the Western College of Homeopathy at Cleveland, from which he graduated in March, 1853, and immediately entered upon the practice of his profession at Hartsville. In connection with his practice, he built and operated a sanitarium, known as the "Alfred Highland Water Cure," which was well patronized for years. In 1864, he was connected with

Dr. Trall in the Hygienic Institute and Medical college at 15 Laight Street, New York City, for about six months, and later he was at the head of a "Water Cure" Sanitarium in Buffalo for about three years, which was known as the "Burdick House."

He made the first application in the United States for a patent on mowing machines. He could not develop his invention for lack of means. It is said, however, that four of the primary principles of the successful machines were involved in his.

He possessed a pleasant, genial nature, and was unselfish to an extreme degree. He would spend his time, strength and means, without stint, if any one was to be benefitted thereby. Time and again he devoted his efforts and means to the work nearest his heart until his resources were exhausted, then engaged in business for a time until his purse was replenished, when he returned to his work with increased energy and vigor. It can well be said of him, that "the world is the better for his having lived in it."

JENNIE CAMPELL Hutchins, E. M., '56, died May 17, 1904.

SAMUEL HUBERT COON, (1873-74) was born at Ashaway, R. I. September 3, 1852, and died in New York City, May 4, 1904. He was the son of LaFayette and Mary C. Coon. December 21, 1902, he married Elizabeth Jane Coulter, who, with their infant son, survives him. Mr. Coon was employed for a time as compositor by the American Sabbath Tract Society. Thereafter he served on the editorial staff of the Wellsville Reporter at Wellsville, and of the Cattaraugus Republican at Salamanca. Later he had full editorial control of the Olean Times. For several years past he has been in New York City, employed in editorial work by the American Press Association.

ALMOND ERASTUS CRANDALL, (48-49) was born in Alfred, January 26, 1830, and died at Alfred, December 9, 1903. His parents were Amos and Cynthia Potter Crandall. January 22, 1852, he married Elizabeth E. Sisson, who survived him but a few weeks. Their two children, Herbert L. and Jessie Weil, survive. For thirteen years he was engaged in the mercantile business at Alfred with his brother, Ezra P. Crandall, under the name of Crandall Brothers, and for seven years after his brother's death, with William H. Crandall, his brother's son, under the name of A. E. & W. H. Crandall. He was a director of the University Bank from its incorporation until his death. He was Town Supervisor for three terms, and a Justice of the Peace for fifteen years. He was deeply interested in all that pertained to the welfare of the Church, the Village, and the University, and an earnest and efficient worker for the political party of his choice. He was a loyal supporter of the University, and one of its trustees from 1864 to 1896.

JAMES DAVISON, A. M., '76, was born at Albion, Oswego Co., N. Y., July 31, 1838, and died at Elmwood, Peoria Co., Ill., September 4, 1903. He was the son of Rev. Samuel and Leah Davison. December 28, 1899, he married Mrs. Alice Kennedy Meeker, who survives. During the war of the rebellion, he served three years in the army. After the war closed he lived for a number of years near Pardee, Kan., and taught school some in the Fall and Winter. During the latter part of his life, he was engaged in the fruit and poultry industry at Elmwood, Ill. For a number of years he acted as a director of Elmwood High School. He was public spirited and took an active part in state and national political affairs. In public debate he was in his element, aggressive, and master of his subject. Strictly honest and upright, he made a good citizen and an affable neighbor.

SEYMOUR DEXTER, A. M., Ph. D., LL. D., '64, was born at Independence, March 20, 1841, and died at Elmira, May 5, 1904. His parents were Daniel and Angeline Briggs Dexter. June 17, 1868, he married Eleanor E. Weaver (of the same class at Alfred) who survives him together with their four children. At fourteen years of age he entered Alfred Academy and continued his studies here at intervals until the spring of 1861, when, fifteen days after the first gun of the Rebellion was fired at Fort Sumpter, he left his studies to enlist in the Twenty-third Regiment N. Y. S. Volunteers. In the fall of 1863, he returned to Alfred and resumed his studies, graduating in 1864. After graduation he entered upon the study of law at Elmira, and was admitted to the Bar in May, 1866. In the spring of 1872 he was elected City Attorney, and in the autumn of the same year, he was elected to the Legislature of New York State. In 1877, he was elected County Judge of Chemung County, and continued in this position by re-election for twelve years. In 1889, he resigned the judgeship to accept the presidency and business control of the Second National Bank of Elmira, which position he held until his death. For nearly thirty years he was President of the Chemung Valley Mutual Loan Association. In 1892, he organized the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations, and was elected President at its first annual meeting in 1893 and again in 1894. In 1889, he published an important work entitled "Co-operative Savings and Loan Associations." This work gave him rank as an authority on Loan Association matters. The United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations, at the annual meeting of the League in Indianapolis, in appreciation of his labors and endeavors in the organization of the League, and in the cause of home building and home owning in the United States, gave him a fine loving cup. Aside from his business and professional services, Judge Dexter found time to do a large amount of literary and lecture work. He was a close and thorough student of political, economic, social, and religious problems, and has written and lectured much upon these topics. In 1885, he was elected a trustee of the University, and has continued an efficient member of the board since that time. A man of broad scholarship and philanthropic impulses, he was recognized as a leader in all reform movements of his community and state. As a loyal alumnus of the University, he ever sought to promote its interests and to broaden its usefulness.

MINOR B. DUNHAM died at Warren, Pa., February 4, 1902.

BESSIE FOGG Davis, (92-93) was born at Shiloh, N. J., October 27, 1872, and died at Colorado Springs, Colorado, July 7, 1904. She was the daughter of Isaac S. and Susan J. Fogg. October 7, 1895, she married Walter B. Davis, who, with their two children, survives her.

MELVINA A. GENUNG O'Connor McIntosh (44-45) was born at Bradford, N. Y., in 1831 and died at Almond, September 25, 1904. Her first husband was Levi O'Connor. November 11, 1877, she married Hiram McIntosh, who died in 1896.

HANNAH A. GREEN Maxson (41-42) was born at Alfred, July 1, 1831, and died at the same place, March 26, 1904. Her parents were Luke and Irene Fisk Green. November 28, 1849, she was married to Rev. Darwin E. Maxson who died in 1895. Three children were born to them, but only one survives.

RACHEL ANN HOARD Sisson (55-56) (Alfred) was born in Michigan in 1837, and died at Alfred, February 29, 1904. She was the daughter of James C. and Eliza A. Walker Hoard. She taught school successfully for a number of years, and in 1864 was united in marriage with John F. Sisson, who survives her with their five children.

JARVIS STEDMAN KENYON (53-54) was born at Carolina Mills, R. I., January 10, 1832, and died at Alfred, January 12, 1904. His parents were Reuben and Elizabeth Kenyon Kenyon. He was a half brother of President William C. Kenyon. In 1856, he married Lydia Sweet of Alfred, who survives him with their daughter. In the spring of 1864, he enlisted as a private in Company B, One hundred and Seventy-ninth N. Y. Volunteers, and reached the position of third corporal in three or four months of service at the front. He was in the battle of June 17th, before Petersburg, when the loss was so great that only seven of his company responded to roll call the next morning. He was taken prisoner in September and confined for five months in the Confederate Military Prison at Salisbury, North Carolina. He was an active, industrious man, a famous nurse, and one who took especial pleasure in helping those in trouble.

OLIVE STEELE THRALL Clark Lanphear was born May 27, 1816, at Hinsdale, Cattaraugus County, N. Y., and died May 7, 1904, at the home of Mr. F. A. Dunham, in Plainfield, N. J. In 1842 she was married to Dr. Paul Clarke, who died in 1858. In 1865, she married at Nile, N. Y., Mr. Ethan Lanphear. Two years later they removed to Plainfield, where they made their home during the remainder of their lives, Mr. Lanphear having died January 20, 1903. Mrs. Lanphear remembered Alfred University in her will in a substantial way, giving it $500 and making it one of three residuary legatees.

LUCILE ELIZABETH CARR Main was born in North Stonington, Conn., September 4, 1845, and died at Alfred, November 2, 1903. She was the daughter of Sands and Lucy A. Green Carr. She was educated at Hopkinton Academy and Gannet Institute of Boston, where she graduated. October 6, 1875, she was married to Rev. Arthur E. Main, now Dean of the Alfred Theological Seminary, and in 1893-95 President of Alfred University. Her husband and their two sons survive her. She was a woman of strong character, brave in trials, of good cheer, and a true helpmate to her husband.

MILTON R. MAXSON, M. D., (49-50) died at Hornellsville. He was the son of Dr. L. G. Maxson and Cordella Maxson. He married Miss Mary O. VanAlstine of Hornellsville.

REV. NATHAN M. MILLS was born at Utica, Wis., July 15, 1853, and was killed in a railroad accident at Litchfield, Ill., on July 3, 1904. He was the son of Samuel T. and Sarah P. Mills. June 22, 1887, he married Miss Mertie Greene of Dodge County, Wis., who survives him with three of their children, aged 15, 5 and 2 years respectively. He studied for a time at the Seminary in Wasioja, Wis., fitting himself for public school teaching, in which capacity he labored for about twenty years. In April, 1895, he entered Alfred Theological Seminary, pursuing the course for three years. In March, 1898, he accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Seventh-day Baptist Church of Westerly, Rhode Island, and was ordained to the ministry a few months later. He remained with this church until October 1, 1902, when he began a pastorate with the Seventh-day Baptist Church at Marlboro, N. J., where he labored until his death.

MILO SWEET PLACE (55-56) was born at Alfred, March 12, 1838, and died at Alfred, Feb. 16, 1904. His parents were Truman and Almira Place. June 21, 1863, he married Belle Wells, who survives him. At the beginning of the War of the Rebellion he enlisted in Company H, Second Wisconsin Volunteers, and was in the first battle of Bull Run. On account of a fall and serious sickness he was sent home. Afterwards, when he thought himself sufficiently recovered, he sought to enter the service again, but was found physically disqualified.

IDA F. KENXON, A. M., '56. See frontispiece, 1, 50, 118.

SABRA LOUISE SARGENT, E. M., '76, was born at Jasper, in 1848, and died in Naples, Italy, May 22, 1904. After graduation she gave her attention entirely to teaching. Ten years were spent as teacher in the High School at Hornellsville, giving instruction in Latin and the Natural Sciences; and in 1895 she became Principal of Ferry Hall Seminary, a preparatory school for girls connected with Lake Forest University, where she was very successful. She had gone with the party which sailed in March, 1904, to attend the World's Sunday School Convention at Jerusalem, being prompted to the journey chiefly by her desire to prepare herself for more efficient Bible teaching in her school. She was stricken with fever in the Holy Land, and on the homeward journey was put ashore at Naples in order that she might be cared for in the hospital. She was loved and respected by all who knew her.

EMMA ELIZABETH SISSON Crandall (46-47) was born in Rhode Island, August 5, 1828, and died at Alfred, March 17, 1904. Her parents were George and Huldah Sisson. She was united in marriage with Almond E. Crandall, who passed away but a few weeks earlier.

CHARLES SMITH (70-71) (Howard) died at Redlands, Cal., January 28, 1904, aged fifty-four years. He was pastor of the Baptist Church at Andover for three years, and of the Baptist Church at Almond for five years.

MADELIA STILLMAN was born in Alfred, June 14, 1846, and died at the same place Sept. 8, 1904. She was the daughter of Samuel N. and Chloe Sherman Stillman. She, with her brother and her sister Clotilda, endowed the Samuel N. Stillman Scholarship.

VIRGIL A. WILLARD (58-59) (Phillipsville) was born at Cuba, October 20, 1838, and died at Belmont, November 12, 1903. After leaving Alfred, he attended the Albany Law School, from which he graduated, and later was admitted to the Bar. December 24, 1872, he married Mary J. Lanphear of Alfred, who survives. He practiced law in Belmont, and also engaged in newspaper work. For many years he was editor of the Genesee Valley Post, and later he established the Belmont Courier, which he published until a year before his death. He was a versatile writer and a man of unusually keen wit.

PROFESSOR IDA F. KENYON, A. M., '56

IDA FREDERICA SALLAN Long Kenyon, A. M., '56, was born in Forst, Province of Brandenburg, Prussia, Feb. 18, 1830, and died at Alfred, March 16, 1904. Her remains were incinerated, and the ashes were deposited in a terra cotta vase made for the purpose, and buried at Almond by the side of her first husband.

We know but little of her ancestry or of her early life. She lost both her parents and her younger brothers and sisters before she had reached her eleventh year. She then came into the home of a maternal aunt, and shared the home and education of her aunt's family. In consequence of political troubles in Prussia, in 1852, the family emigrated to America. They lived for awhile on a farm on Staten Island, and then moved to the village of Almond.

Mrs. Kenyon's health had been somewhat enfeebled by a serious illness and she feared it would always be delicate, as it proved to be. She therefore determined to secure an education and to prepare herself for teaching. For this purpose she entered Alfred Academy in 1854, and graduated with the class of 1856. She then taught for a number of years in Erie county, and Bucks county, Pa., and afterwards for two years in Milton Academy, at Milton, Wis.

In August, 1862, she was married, at Dansville, N. Y., to Reuben Long of West Virginia, who died a few months later, and was buried at Almond. Thus she was left a widow in less than a year.

In September, 1864, she was married to Pres. William C. Kenyon. She acted as his assistant in teaching Latin until failing health compelled him to withdraw altogether from active work.

In October, 1866, she started with her husband on a trip to Europe, in the hope of recruiting his health. They spent the winter in Forst, Prussia, then traveled slowly through Germany, Switzerland, France, Holland, and so to England, where President Kenyon died and was buried in London in June, 1867.

After her return to this country in the early fall of 1867, Mrs. Kenyon was engaged by the Trustees of Alfred University as professor of Modern Languages and Literature. She held this position with hardly an interruption until the spring of 1894, when the partial loss of sight and general break down in health forced her to abandon teaching. Mrs. Kenyon was thus connected with Alfred University for about forty years, and was a most thorough and conscientious teacher. She was a woman of unique personality; strong, scholarly, energetic, and deeply spiritual. Her social and religious influence was of great value to the University and its students.

She was loyal to the memory and work of her distinguished husband, the founder of Alfred University, and in her death Alfred has lost a most self-sacrificing, devoted and faithful friend. She was universally beloved and her memory will be cherished by all who knew her.

IN MEMORIAM

A paper prepared for presentation at the Annual meeting of the Alumni Association in 1904 by CHRISTIE SKINNER Kruson, Ph. D., '76.

I am well aware that on occasions like the present one, it is customary, with beautifully rounded sentences, to eulogize the dead; but to offer such homage to Mrs. Kenyon would be sacrilege. It is an offering of love that I fain would lay on the altar of her memory, and I would not disturb the dear dead with hero worship, which she abhorred. I would not offer up the incense of public praise, knowing how she shrank from such notice. She was content to know that she had added faithful labor in making the fabrics of creation. She never quoted, but always practiced, the philosophy of the old Quaker, "I go this way but once, whatever good thing I can do for my fellows, let me do it now; let me not postpone it; let me not neglect it."

Mrs. Kenyon was so different from the most of us. Physically, she was supersensitive, catching harmonies and feeling discords that others rarely note and more rarely heed; hence, she was capable of higher, keener enjoyment, and also of more acute suffering, than we of common nerves. This led her in later years to seclude herself. She could not bear the tense strain of unalleviated discomfort and the indifference and preoccupation of a busy people. Mentally, Mrs. Kenyon was excolibro, her culture was rare and her genuineness absolute.

As a teacher, Mrs. Kenyon was versatile, gifted and lucid. Her intense contempt and hatred of show and pretension caused her to often wound the vanity of pupils who depended upon fluency of language, inspiration and general knowledge instead of patient perseverance and painstaking labor. She had much more charity for hopeless stupidity than for careless genius. On one occasion

I translated the sentence "Die gute mutter sang beim Rockenstoch," "The good mother sang by the cradle." I should have translated it "The good mother sang by her distaff." I saw by the look on Mrs. Kenyon's face that I was in disgrace, and at the close of the class she gave me a little slip upon which was written in German, "Some American girls prefer rocking chairs to distaffs, and guessing to knowing." I never guessed again in Mrs. Kenyon's classes; and during my four years of tutelage under Mrs. Kenyon I learned more of practical painstaking and accuracy than in any other department, and the moral effect of her pure truthfulness has helped me immeasurably in my daily round of duty.

Like all Germans, Mrs. Kenyon was intensely domestic in her desires, yet with this unsatisfied longing ever present, she faced life uncomplainingly. Few of us know what it is to be an orphan in childhood, a widow in youth, a sojourner in a foreign land, with no near kindred; a second time to lay our beloved dead away, to go through life twice a widow and childless, longing for the dead love, and yet to never let the heart make moan; to smile and sing and teach in class and be kindly affectionate. For years she bore this, for years she did this, finding her greatest consolation in her books, her music and her flowers,—mute children of the earth they spoke to her in a language we could not understand. How she worked through the early summer morning hours to tend and teach her seedlings how to grow and make gay the campus of Alfred. How generously she gathered them for all festal occasions in this Chapel. Her flowers never seemed to me like greenhouse plants. They had souls and voices that whispered lessons of charity. The aristocratic lilies and roses bent low to kiss the little daisies. The heliotrope mingled its aristocratic perfume with the common annuals; and there was never grotesqueness nor lack of harmony in the myriad kinds and colors that she massed together. Mrs. Kenyon was a flowerist (if I may coin a word) as well as a humanist and a philanthropist.

She was extremely simple in her living, that she might save for Alfred University, the child of her adoption; and by dint of many years of economy, she has been able to leave a legacy to Alfred University that will add materially to its usefulness. That you may know how many self denials it cost her to leave this legacy, I quote from one of her letters:

"I can sympathize with you in your enforced economics. I have been obliged for months to deny myself the outlay of even a few pennies, in order that I might meet my pledges and obligations without overstepping my allowance."

Inasmuch as Mrs. Kenyon has given so largely of her life, and all of her substance for the benefit of this Institution, I feel that it is fit and becoming that we, Alumni of Alfred, by some fitting memorial, indicate our appreciation of one who so faithfully served its interests.
