AU gets research grant on solid-oxide fuel cells

ALFRED-Two researchers in the Kazuo Inamori School of Engineering at Alfred University will be collaborating on a federal Department of Energy project to improve the efficiency and durability of solid-oxide fuel cells (SOFC)

Solid-oxide fuels cells are used as an auxiliary power source, but improved technology will make them viable for mainstream applications. They can convert various types of fuel to electrical energy for use in powering an electric car, as well providing heat and light for businesses and residences.

Scott Misture and Doreen Edwards, professors of materials science at the Inamori School of Engineering, will be working with colleagues from the University of Connecticut (Storrs) and the University of California-San Diego on the project, which will look at how and why lanthanum-manganite-based cathodes degrade when exposed to "real-world" atmospheric operating conditions.

Through experimentation and computational simulation, the researchers hope to develop more durable cathode materials, which will extend the operating life of the SOFC.

"Our expertise in ceramic materials, plus the unique array of equipment we have in our High-Temperature Materials Characterization to measure properties and performance of materials at high temperatures, make Alfred University researchers an integral part of the this research initiative," said Edwards, who is also the dean of the School of Engineering.

The work is funded by a $499,372 grant from the federal Department of Energy, plus $124,843 from the research partners. The work is to be completed in 24 months.

JOHN M. CUNNINGHAM Aug. 30, 1930-Sept. 7, 2012 Walked the streets of Alfred HORNELL - John M. Cunningham, 82, formerly of Alfred passed away peacefully Friday (Sept. 7, 2012) at Seager-Bates Home in Hornell following a brief illness.

Mr. Cunningham was born on Aug. 30, 1930 and lived in Allegany County most of his life; most recently in Alfred where the village adopted him and loved him as one of their own.

The following eulogy was shared at the memorial service for John M. Cunningham, 82, formerly of Alfred, who passed away peacefully Friday, Sept. 7, 2012 at Seager-Bates Home in Hornell following a brief illness. It was offered by his social worker, Katie Heaney:

Streets of Alfred, New York Will Never Be the Same

The streets of Alfred, New York will never be the same...I believe they will be better...for our friend Johnny Cunningham left his footprints on them.

I met John on the Short Tract road back about 27 years ago. He requested help finding a place to live. He got in my car at that point and it was there I got to know him. I didn't have any history on this man. He didn't know of any family because he explained he had been placed in an institution when he was four years old.

It became my mission to help provide for Johnny what everyone deserves...the love and support of family and friends. It took over ten moves in about 15 years all over Allegany County in various settings before I thought of Alfred, N.Y.

Alfred might just be the place for John. He wore funky hats, bright colors and stripes that never matched, ropes for belts, long hair, etc. Heck, Alfred would think he was some kind of retired professor and with his art work...the students would think he was just about it!! I hit the nail on the head...The Alfred community loved him.

They accepted Johnny into their lives, homes and businesses and treated him like one of their own. He was special to them. He immediately joined St. Jude Parish where he really found "home." He had a "Father" and Brothers and Sisters... Father Gene, Father Sean, Mike, Chris, Peggy, Ann and Pat and so many others. They took Johnny under their Angelic wings. They protected, loved, and took care of him. They did what Jesus would want them to

He became close with other community members... Debbie at the Post Office was his "telephone." She would call me if he needed anything. Tony the Pharmacist was his good friend and medical confidant. He liked to visit the Alfred Police and bring them coffee. He made so many friends from the colleges and restaurants and Kinfolk store.

My mission was accomplished. He found his family... and with that, he found complete joy and peace. In the end, he had more family and friends than anyone I know...and I slept better at night.

I know I am a better person from knowing this extraordinary person. I believe Johnny was a teacher to many of us. We learned to care a little more, to look a little deeper, to color more, to walk more, to enjoy the moment more, to be more reverent, to take time with people and to accept all people. We will walk the streets of ALfred and look for Johnny and his unique gait. He won't be there in body but his spirit and his art work will live on. Who on earth are we going to turn to when we need to recall a date of some-

Thank you, Theresa Bates, for providing a comfortable, nice home and good food for John. Thank you, Hospice and Dr. Susan Mason, for your tremendous compassion, expertise and gentleness with John. Thank you, Bud Baker, for going "above and beyond" to create a nice funeral for our friend. Thank you to everyone who is here today to celebrate this beautiful man and his life.

You are the people who made a difference in Johnny's life. You embraced a man who, like all of us, simply wanted family and friends who cared. You did just that and you did it perfectly. You gave him more in twelve years than most of us have in a lifetime. He was so happy in your lovely community and beautiful St. Jude Parish. He loved you and I will remember you and cherish you all forever...

Katie "He's My Social Worker..." Heaney

[Editor's Note: Thank you, Katie, for blessing our community by bringing Johnny to Alfred. I, too, was recipient of gifts of coffee (among other things), but most importantly, the gift of his friendship. We will miss Johnny Cunningham, his fascination with dates and calendars, his art work, his manner of speaking, and his long-time contribution to the life of the community.]

While Dad, Tim Koegel, might not have been thrilled when the cucurbit took over 3/4 of the garden, Lucas couldn't have been happier! Community Educator, Colleen

She explains that "volunteer readers like Ms. Wells, bring agricultural topics to the classroom in a way that sparks the interest of our 2nd graders, like Lucas, she said, "The program provides 2nd graders with an understanding of how farmers grow and produce agricultural crops and how they get from the farm to their table.

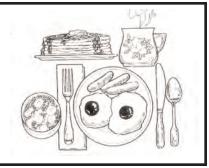

Second graders will participate next March, when Ag Literacy Week will discuss how beekeepers 'farm' honey, the products produced in this industry and how it reaches their table.

About property rights

Dear Alfred Town Residents,

During the September 13, 2012 Town of Alfred Board meeting a guest in the audience expressed his concern that antifracking legislation would violate his rights as a property owner. That could be correct. In New York State it is accepted that the property owner owns all the underground minerals "taperit is often phrased. Who is to say that a person shouldn't be able to retrieve the personal property they own? I would defend an owner's rights as long as they don't violate their neighbor's personal property rights, nor go off their property in their quest, nor cause damage to their neighbor's property either real or emotional.

But that is not the case in fracked well gas extraction.

In fact all of the above is twisted and convoluted by New York State gas and oil extraction laws that were enacted to expedite gas production. By a process called compulsory integration your property rights may be taken away. Your private property may be taken against your a one mile area agree to sell or lease their gas rights, your privately owned gas can be taken, whether you want to sell your private property or not. Doesn't this strike you as a property Constitutional?

It gets worse. You will be compensated at the leased land market rate. Not the value of the gas, but at the rate of 12% of the value of the gas that was taken from you. I believe your personal property that is taken by a private corporation for their profit should be paid for at the rate of 100%. Additionally, they are allowed to take 300% of the cost of the well operation off the top, before they pay you 12% of the value of your property. And you don't get any financial signing bonus. And it sure is NOT an emroad or an airport or a library. It of the generosity of the residents is a law allowing privately owned gas companies to profit selling your personal property that you didn't want to sell to them in the first place.

So let's sum this up. If we pass anti-fracking legislation we may violate someone's right to sell personal property. But they get to keep their property. The gas is still there. It's a zoning law. It can be reversed.

If we don't pass anti-fracking ing to the center of the earth" as legislation, we could violate someone's right to NOT HAVE TO sell his or her personal property. They don't get to keep their gas. It is taken for the greed and corruption of the energy companies. The property owner will get financially hurt. The property is devalued. They suffer from noise pollution 24/7. There is a population bubble causing an increased need of social programs and infrastructure. There will be 1000 truck trips per well. There is the likelihood that some wells will leak in the short term and that all wells will leak in the long term. It can never be reversed. We can't put the gas back, can't repair the aquifer, and can't replace the social fabric that we have now

When I hear the argument that will. If 60% of your neighbors in anti-fracking laws violate someone's property rights, I wonder if the speaker understands the whole issue? Perhaps they do understand, but will profit greatly as a major landowner that wants to relocate. Or the gas companies rights violation? Can it really be employ them directly or indirectly. Or maybe working for a waste company whose landfill operations dispose of fracked drill cuttings. In arguments for fracking, it is usually about money.

David Fredrickson Alfred

Thanks, Alfred Lions!

Open letter to the Alfred Lions Club and the Alfred-Almond Community:

I would like to thank the Alfred and Almond communities for their support of the Alfred Lions Club and its fund raising inent domain issue. It is not for a events. I am the direct recipient of our towns through the annual scholarship provided by the Alfred Lions Club to two Alfred-Almond Central graduating seniors.

It is great that our area has a civic organization like the Lions Club that supports international concerns, national needs and local initiatives. Similarly, it is wonderful to be part of a community that supports its civic organizations to the degree that the Alfred Lions Club is supported.

I very much appreciate the scholarship provided to me by the Alfred Lions Club to help me further my education at Alfred State College. Please be assured that I will work hard to be successful in the Building Trades program to ensure that the communities' investment is well spent.

Thanks again to both the Lions Club and, the people in the Alfred-Almond area that support the Lions Club, for the scholarship award.

Allegany County Legislator

LEGISLATIVE DÉJÀ VU

The September 10th session of the County Legislature was unique. The Board met in its "old Chambers" in the County Courthouse for the first time in almost 36 years. As part of the recent Courthouse renovation project the former small courtroom that was originally used as the Legislative Chambers were restored to its former size and refurbished for use as an additional courtroom. This month we needed a place to meet so the current Legislative Chambers can be refurbished. Those Chambers haven't been renovated since put into service almost 36 years ago. We will continue to meet there until the Legislative Chambers renovation project is completed.

The Legislative session opened with the Pledge of Allegiance, led by former Naval Petty Officer Daniel Little of Bolivar. Later in the meeting he shared with the Legislature his concerns for our nation. He observed that as a nation we have been greatly blessed by God. Unfortunately we seem to be rejecting our Godly heritage and are turning away from the values that made us the most blessed and powerful nation the world has ever known. Many of us share his con-

Privilege of the Floor was granted to several organizations. The Catherine Schuyler Chapter, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution sponsored a Proclamation designating September 17-23 as Constitution Week in Allegany County. Allegany/ Western Steuben Rural Health Network, Inc., received a Proclamation designating September 23rd as National Fall Prevention Awareness Day. Youth Court Coordinator Jessica Jennings spoke about the Youth Court program. Chairman Crandall issued a Proclamation naming September as Youth Court Month in Allegany County. Executive Director Gretchen Hanchett of the Greater Allegany County Chamber of Commerce spoke about various programs sponsored by the County Chamber, including the upcoming "Fireball Run" event. This widely televised event will include a team from Allegany County, and will help highlight the beauty, tourism and recreational opportunities in our County.

The Board considered and passed six different resolutions. Resolution 126-12 expressed the Board's opposition to the Draft Guidance Report from the federal Environmental Protection Agency that would subject virtually every drainage ditch and intermittent water channel in the nation to regulation by that agency and the Army Corps of Engineers. This greatly exceeds the intent of the Clean Water Act enacted by Congress in the early 1970s. We asked our federal and State representatives to oppose adoption of that proposed policy. Resolution 127-12 determined that errors existed on various tax rolls, and approved corrections of those errors. Resolution 128-12 accepted and appropriated various grant funds for the Office For Aging. Resolution 129-12 approved the transfer of funds within various accounts for the Employment and Training Center.

Resolution 130-12 approved an appropriation and Agreement between the County and the Soil and Water Conservation District for a three year period and authorized Chairman Crandall to sign that Agreement. Resolution 131-12 approved the Local Plan for the Cattaraugus-Allegany Workforce Investment Board, Inc., for the period from July 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013 and authorized Chairman Crandall to execute that Plan. The Legislature also approved payment of the audited bills in the amount of $2,578,466.90, including another $384,540 for Medicaid (supposedly a State program).

Earlier in the day the Budget Committee distributed the Prelim inary County Budget for 2013. A Budget is really our best guess (made a year in advance) regarding what our revenues and expenses are going to be for the next year. Each year there are unexpected circumstances that result in increases or decreases in both expenses and revenues. Overall the current Board and Administration have developed responsible Budgets for the past 5 or 6 years, and have ended every year in the black. However, there is constant pressure because County expenses keep going up, just like they do in our personal budgets. Health care and fuel are two areas where County costs keep going up. Mandated programs are another major area of increased expenses. Budget issues will dominate our meetings over the next several months.

Civil War Re-Enactment breaking out in Angelica

ANGELICA—Muskets firing, cannons blasting, soldiers and sutlers, rebels and Yankees, ladies in their finery, cooks, civilians, doctors, drummers... These are a few of the sights and sounds you'll experience at the Civil War Re-Enactment in Angelica on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 22 and 23.

Now in its fifth year, Angelica's Civil War Re-enactment attracts thousands of visitors and hundreds of re-enactors who, through living history demonstrations, re-enactments of actual Civil War battles, and spontaneous interactions with visitors, help the audience understand more fully certain facets of Civil War life. And it isn't always pretty.

Visitors will experience history coming alive when they visit the military camps, where the re-enactors are happy to de-scribe their life as a Union or Confederate soldier. The doctor in the medical tent can tell you how surgery was performed, illnesses cured (or not), and wounds tended in the heat of battle. The laundress can describe the methods used to wash clothes in camp, and cooks will show you what's in the pot for

New Activities: New this year is a living history presentation by Jack Maples portraying Confederate General Montgomery Corse, an anti-slavery Confederate. In this portrayal we learn about General Corse's relationship with Robert E. Lee. Maples will also be selling his book, Reconstructed Yankee, which is locally relevant: the story of the book ends in the old village of East Rushford (now under Rushford Lake). Mr. Maples' presentation takes place Saturday at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the Angelica Grange Hall on Park Circle.

Also new this year is a re-creation of the Richmond Bread Riot by the civilian component of the re-enactors. The Richmond Bread Riot was an uprising of women in Richmond, Va., over the inflation and food shortages experienced by the South during the war. It is an oftenoverlooked event in history edu-

A Catholic Mass celebrated by Father John will take place on Sunday at 9 a.m. in the Grange Hall, to be followed immediately by a Civil War-era church service conducted by the Rev. John Hogan, who is returning to present his authentic service again after an absence of two Concert: Sunday's activities will culminate at 2:30 p.m. in Park Circle with a special musical presentation of patriotic and Civil War-era music by the Houghton College Philharmonia and Houghton College Choir. The program will end with a performance of Tchaikovsky's "The 1812 Overture," replete with church bells and cannon fire, to commemorate the 200th anniversary of Napoleon's retreat from Russia (the event that inspired the famous composition).

Angelica Farmers' Market: Park Circle will host the popular Angelica's Farmers' Market, with local vendors offering fresh fruits, vegetables, meats and baked goods, plus wine, honey, and artisan wares. Sharing the market for this event will be Civil War-period vendors called 'sutlers", plus craftsmen, civilian camps, and traveling ex-

To enhance the safety of holding this event in Angelica's Historic District, the Angelica Village Board has authorized the closing of Main Street to vehicular traffic and to parking from High Street to Peacock Hill Road, beginning Friday, Sept. 21, at 6 p.m. and ending Sunday Sept. 23 at 4 pm. Detours will be established to re-route traffic.

History: One hundred and fifty years ago, men from Allegany County and the surrounding area gathered at what is now known as the "Parade Grounds" in Letchworth State Park. In 1862, it was known as "Camp Williams" and served as the mustering point for over 1,000 of these men, who became the 136th New York Volunteer In-

'Let's Dance Club' steps off Sept. 30

ARKPORT—The 20th season of the Let's Dance Club steps off on Sunday, Sept. 30 at the Arkport American Legion from 2-5 p.m., featuring the live music of "Musique", a popular dance band from the Rochester area. The Arkport American Legion has a beautiful wooden floor in its upstairs social hall.

The dance club started in March 1993 and was born out of a dance class instructed by Bill Mc-Collum. A local Alfred musician, Joe Canale, organized these new dancers into a social dance club to promote the music of the Big Band era. Canale is dancing in heaven as of May 22, 2009. The name Let's Dance Club is derived from an old song written by Benny Goodman, "Let's Dance" and was Canale's suggestion.

The Let's Dance Club of the Hornell area is for people of any skill level who just enjoy dancing. We feature music fast and slow, danced in your own style, or in the more traditional styles of foxtrot, swing, rhumba, waltz and others. Our members come from Allegany, Steuben, and other surrounding counties and towns as far as Elmira.

The annual membership fee is $65 per couple and $32.50 per single for the season of five dances. The guest fee per dance is $20 per couple and $10 per single. As a non profit organization, all of the money is for the cost of the bands, the rental of the hall, simple snacks, postage fees, and other incidental costs.

All five dances are on Sundays from 2-5 pm at the Arkport American Legion. The dates are: Sept. 30, 2012; Nov. 25, 2012; Jan. 27, 2013; Feb. 24, 2013, and Mar. 24, 2013.

Marc Berger's life has been about pursuing twin passions: creating and recording his American roots songs, and exploring remote areas of the desert and mountain West. After signing his first publishing contract while in law school, he fronted rock bands and performed regularly in New York City clubs like CBGB, Wetlands, and The Knitting Factory. All through this period, he'd find ways to get into the West, picking up details from fellow wilderness junkies about off the beaten path locales and filing them away for future reference. Marc and Co-Producer Mike Ricciardi now present RIDE, ten cinematic recordings reflecting his romantic connection to the American West and exploring the value of its myths to contemporary culture.

Mark your calendars now for an exciting event sponsored by the Friends of the Alfred Box of Books Library. "Tastings, Tiny Treasures, and Tunes" will be held at the Alfred Village Hall on West University St. Saturday evening, October 20th from 7 to 9:30.

This year, as in previous years, the wines will be varied and delicious, and delightful savory food will be offered again by local gourmet cooks. Music will be provided by Alfred's own Steve Crandall. However the treasures this time are very different. All artwork displayed and sold will be on 6x6 inch canvases, each one for the same price, $20. The walls of the Village Hall theater will be hung with multicolored, multidimensional art. Until an individual piece is sold, the artist's identity will not be revealed. Jewelry, fiber art, sculpture, watercolor, oil or acrylic paintings and other media will be offered on 6x6 inch canvases.

Come to Alfred's Village Hall Theater on Saturday, October 20th, enjoy the music, and see what will surprise and delight you from the wonderful variety of art pieces for sale along with the great selection of wines for tasting along with scrumptious snacks. If you would like to contribute artwork to this convivial fundraising event, you may pick up a 6x6 canvas at the Box of Books library for a $1 donation, or you may make your own. Completed canvases may be brought to the library or given to Sharon Burdick or Pat Edwards. Tickets to the event are $15 each and can be purchased at the Box of Books.

One Time, One Meeting

In a poem entitled "The Little Duck," the American philosopher Donald C. Babcock (1886-1986) depicts a duck riding the Atlantic "a hundred feet beyond the surf":

This is some sort of duck, and he cuddles in the swells.

He isn't cold, and he is thinking things over.

There is a big heaving in the Atlantic,

And he is part of it.

He looks a bit like a mandarin, or the Lord Buddha meditating

But he has hardly enough above the eyes to be a philosopher. He has poise, however, which is what philosophers must have.

Closely observing his subject, Babcock notes that the duck "can rest while the Atlantic heaves, because he rests in the Atlantic." And though the duck "probably doesn't know how large the ocean is," he realizes it, and he "sits down in it." He "reposes in the immediate as if it were infinity—which it is."

To compare a sitting duck, however poised, to the Lord Buddha may seem an irreverent stretch, but Babcock's characterization of the duck's action—or non-action—as "reposing in the immediate" accurately describes one form of Zen meditation. Known as shikantaza, or "just sitting," this practice is central to the Soto Zen tradition and is often regarded as the purest form of Zen meditation. Rather than count breaths, probe a koan, or otherwise engage in concentrative mental activity, the practitioner of shikantaza brings an open, panoramic attention to whatever is occurring in the present moment. Rather than filter experience through concepts and their emo-tional colorations, he or she rests in a quiet, unmediated awareness.

That may sound easy, and for a wild duck it may be so. But for most people it takes sustained, disciplined, and often difficult training. Toward the end of Doris Dorrie's film How to Cook Your Life (2007), a documentary about the life and work of chef and Soto Zen priest Edward Espe Brown (b. 1945), Brown speaks of "resting in the immediate," reciting the lines above. And elsewhere, Brown describes his struggle to put that principle into practice:

I spent years just trying to see if I could breathe. In Buddhism over and over people say follow the breath and I've studied what is allowing the breath. You can think you're allowing the breath and it turns out you're just having it go the way you tell it to go. And then every so often you notice something about your breath like, "oh, I guess I was creating that after all." It's very hard to have experience that's really actually fresh and new, immediate. But that seems to be extremely powerful, extremely important for waking up in some way rather than just "can I get better at creating the experience I should

As this description implies, if we are to rest in the immediate we must first relinquish the urge to control whatever we are experiencing. Like the heaving ocean, our rising and falling breath is at it is. To accept it as it is, we must first become aware of the impulse to make our breath—or any other element of our experience—conform to our expectations. But over time, Brown's experience suggests, we can learn to put our conditioning and our drive toward attainment into abeyance. Freeing ourselves from what the psychologist Karen Horney called the "tyranny of the shoulds," we can rest in the freshness of our immediate experience.

In other words, we can become like Babcock's little duck, reposing in the immediate. But having learned to do so, can we also repose in "infinity"? Can we, too, become part of the heaving ocean? "He has made himself part of the boundless," writes Babcock of the little duck, "by easing himself into it just where it touches him." Babcock's assertion brings to mind a revered text of the Soto school of Zen, Shih-t'ou His-ch'ien's Sandokai, whose title is sometimes translated as "The Identity of the Relative and the Absolute." In this eighthcentury poem, Shih-t'ou (b. 700) declares that the relative and absolute dimensions of our experience are not two but one. They fit together like a lid on a box. They meet and unite like two arrows in the air. As Roshi Pat Enkyo O'Hara explains in her talk on this text, what Shih-t'ou is telling us is that "our human nature does not obstruct our Buddha-nature." Although we may not be aware of it, we are at once historical and timeless, human and boundless, ordinary and infinite in nature. And we can touch the absolute, boundless dimension of our nature by becoming truly intimate with our messy, moment-to-moment experience, just as it is.

The Little Duck" was published in The New Yorker on October 4, 1947. An expansive, free-verse poem in the manner of Robinson Jeffers, it occupies the better part of two facing pages. Babcock's central themes are impermanence and the opposition of "culture to nature." Nature takes the form of a fierce coastal storm, which has left widespread detritus and a fifty-ton, overturned rock in its wake. Human culture is epitomized by a destroyed cottage "whose porches were over-ambitious, playing host to the ocean." Within this context, Babcock's little duck is seen as an imperturbable survivor, whose serene poise co-exists with the destruction all around. Edward Espe Brown recalls that his mother loved "The Little Duck," which appeared a few months before her early death.

The Alfred Town Highway Department hopes to be back to its construction work on Waterwells Road by Monday, Sept. 21, after the highway crew was making repairs to town roads damaged during last weekend's flash flooding. Streams in the Town of Alfred spilled over their banks late Saturday night and early Sunday morning as 3.83 inches of rain fell in a 36-hour period here. Alfred Town Highway Superintendent Doug Burdick said damage was done to Hamilton Hill Road, Davis Hill Road, East Valley Road, Cook Road, the back side of Green Road, Lynch Road and minor damage was done to Sibley, Lewis and Lusk Roads. Probably the greatest damage in the township was at the railroad underpass between the Terry Palmiter and Don Pierce residences on the Hamilton Hill Road. The entire road was washed away when the flood waters rushed down thte hill and through the underpass...

The Alfred University football team will play their long-awaited first game on the new Omniturf surface that was installed at Merill Field this summer when the Mountaineers of Mansfield University come to town Saturday, Sept. 19. Kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m. The Saxons fresh off a 38-27 win in Erie, PA over the Mercyhurst Lakers, have been looking forward to playing on the Omniturf since it was announced in February that it would be installed. Probably one of the most excited about the new surface is sophomore tailback Ray Rogers, who has rushed for 290 yards in the Saxons' first two games this year. Rogers, one of the fastest on the squad this year, figures to be even faster on the artificial surface.

Through combination of a gift and sale, Alfred University is now the owner of Foster Lake, a 220-acre site that contains a 25-acre lake and is located atop Jericho Hill outside the Village of Alfred. The acquisition nearly doubles the physical size of Alfred University, which has a 232-acre campus. Built in 1950 by the late Eddy Foster, long-time resident of the Alfred area, Foster Lake has been both an environmental and recreational asset for the area for several decades. Foster was a dean at Alfred State College and a lifelong environmentalist. Reforestation and preservation of open space for wildlife and vegetation were among his interests. His children – Cynthia Foster Clements and her husband Jack of Sarasota, FL, and Dr. Phillips Foster and his wife Deni of College Park, MD – agreed to sell the Foster Lake property to the University for a portion of its appraised value...

Alfredians need to learn another new name soon to be added to the roll of those serving as Village of Alfred police chief. Following a special meeting of the Alfred Village Board of Trustees held on Monday, Sept. 23, Mayor Gary Ostrower said, "It is my pleasure to announce that Investigator Scott Richardson of the Hornell Police Department will become the next police chief of Alfred." The ink had scarcely dried from adding Mark Bierman's name to that list. After serving in Alfred for a matter of weeks, Chief Bierman accepted a job with the Wellsville Police Department beginning in late September. And, yes, for several years the name of the police chief was John Simons—and before that, Randal Belmont, now Allegany County Sheriff. Chief Simons resigned in May 2002, to take up federal law enforcement duties...

She then moved to Port Allegany, PA where she resided with her sister, Eleanor, who was the owner of the Port Motel...Surviving are two brothers, Donald B. (Shirlee) Armstrong of Stow, Ohio and Alan R. (Judith) Burdick of Alfred; five nephews and one niece...

Adventures With Joan—Lynne Argentieri and I had been planning to go to Rochester to call on some retired nun friends when she called me and said she had a great adventure for me to try. She told me about it as we drove up—eating in a Japanese sushi bar, something I had never done. And personally I had really never wanted to, hence it would truly qualify as an adventure...All I can say is to try it and I'm sure you will like it...

...The children of Karen Ninos' Alfred Ballet Academy established a year of dance for peace during their 2001-2002 season. During the year they folded over 3,000 peace cranes! In July, Therese and Jon LeGro carried 1,000 of these symbols of peace to Hiroshima, Japan. The peace cranes now reside in the front of a display case near the statue of Sasaki, where the happy faces of some of the Alfred dancers smile out from the program of the 2002 Ballet recital. So...this letter has arrived in Alfred from Hiroshima: Dear Students of the Alfred Ballet Academy: ... Thank you so much for offering paper cranes to the Children's Peace Monument in Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park. So that we can honor your desire for peace, we wish to enter your name and the number of cranes you offered in Hiroshima City's Paper Crane Database as a record for future generations. To avoid a repetition of the tragedy that befell Sasaki Sadako, who died of an A-bomb-related illness as a young girl, we are working to build a peaceful world without nuclear weapons. Asking that you continue to keep in your heart Hiroshima's experience and your hopes for peace, I close with wishes for your good health and success in your activities. Sincerely, Tadoshi Akiba, Mayor, The City of Hiroshima.

'The New You,' Ephesians 4:25-5:2

By LINDA STAIGER
"Our New Identity: The New You," Ephesians 4:25-5:2.

It's said that one of the considerations in making the rocket boosters for the Space Shuttle was that it had to fit on a railroad car for transport to Florida. Standard rr gauge is 4 feet, 8 1/2

Why so small? That's how they did it in England and American rails were built by British expats. Why did the English use that size? Many of the early rr. beds in England were built on the old pre-rr. trams and that was the width of the paths. The trams were that wide because the people who built tramways used the same standards and tools they had used for building wagons--4' 8 1/2". Wagons were that size because....they were built to match the old wheel ruts on the trails and roads.

OK, so who built these old rutted roads? Answer is: first longdistance roads in Europe were built by Roman Empire for the benefit of their citizens to promote trade. The roads have been in use ever since. BUT, we still do not know WHY that size. Wait for it--here it comes--the ruts were first made by Roman war chariots and--four feet, eight and one half inches was the width a chariot needed to accommodate the backsides of two horses! Interesting, is it not, that one of the major considerations on how wide the space shuttle rocket boosters could be, was the width of two horses pulling a war chariot during the Roman Empire. Nobody ever said change was easy, did they? How's THAT for perspective, anyway?

All joking aside, we know that we can find change to be difficult. Even a destructive thing we do can be hard to let go--almost like a security blanket. No way is

The truth is God will help with every step, but we are reluctant to give up something they know and are 'comfortable' with. But change is required. We cannot avoid it. It's a given. The fear of change can be incapacitating though. Look to God. Have you heard that God loves us enough to meet us where we are? That's great, but do you also know that He loves us too much to leave us

In Ephesians Paul talks of changes taking place as we follow Christ--some of them were pretty fast and incredible! But most of us grow and change over time. And often God will work on just one thing at a time, so change over several areas of our lives can take years.

Last week we talked of living together in unity with others. Not only do we live together in this community, this church family, but this growth takes place in the context of the community, the church family. It's through our fellowship with others in Christ that this growth takes place. We encourage one another and are encouraged. That's why we don't think we can ever be Christians without a church--we need that fellowship of other believers to grow. We need a church family.

{ Reporter Note: think about the sports you like. Sure you can watch it alone on TV, but do you really only like that way? Don't you at least need to find a few others who can watch together? Or better yet, actually PLAY it together?}

'Do nothing out of anger-resolve.' Anger breaks the unity of the church--it is an alienating sin causing real problems in the church family. Perhaps the early church was so successful was not because Paul and others were such great speakers, but the people took their call seriously and lived their faith so dramatically in everything they did. Just filled with peace. Everyone knew they were Christian. They were different and the people they met wanted to be like they were. But look at many of us today: people see Christians today and they're so often alienated they come away with a bad taste. They don't want to be like that.

We struggle to be relevant today because we've lost that. It seems that we have succeeded in NOT letting our faith affect our day-to-day lives. Jewish traditions talked about the divisiveness of anger--how destructive it is. We need to rid ourselves of anger, work on that and be very careful to get rid of it.

I know of a couple who were both active on committees. They got mad and don't come anymore. They didn't talk about what made them mad at committees, but they did talk at grocery store, restaurants, parking lots, etc. They had a say in policies of church when on committees, but never said anything--THERE. In the reporter's view, this is anger at its most insidious. It does not build up, it cuts down.

There are so many examples any one of us could point out, both in others as well as in ourselves, but, cutting to the chase here--what we do either points others TO or AWAY from Christ.

Get rid of all bitterness, rage, anger, slander---(ask God's helpyou cannot do it alone). Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other just as in Christ, God forgave you! The new you is in the image of holiness, the image of Jesus. It's ajourney, difficult at times, but it is so very worth it!

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, September 20

Learning that his friend and traveling companion, Ralph Earl, had suddenly died four days before, Andrew Jackson took his writing box out on the lawn of the Hermitage, along with his favorite rocker, and penned a letter to another old friend, dating it this day, 1838.

"I must soon follow him, and hope to meet him and those friends who have gone before me in the realms of bliss through the mediation of a dear Redeemer, Jesus Christ,"

REMINI, JACKSON, 448.

versity football team, fresh from its first win of the 2012 season, will open Empire 8 play by traveling to Buffalo State Saturday, Sept. 22. The Saxons will face the "giant-killer" Bengals with kick-off at 12:30 p.m. at Coyer

Buffalo State, once a perennial NCAA playoff participant under Coach Jerry Boyes, had fallen on hard times since Boyes stepped down from coaching years ago. He returned to the sidelines three years ago and is rebuilding the football program.

On Saturday, Boyes' Bengals captured what he called "the biggest win in Buffalo State football history" by scoring a TD with 3 seconds remaining and converting the PAT to edge 3-time defending NCAA Division III champion Wisconsin-Whitewater, 7-6, at Perkins Stadium.

The win vaulted the Bengals (2-1) into the national spotlight and into the #19 spot in the D3football.com Top 25 poll, bringing along unbeaten Brockport State (3-0), in at #17, as the Golden Eagles had defeated the Bengals, 38-24 on Sept. 8.

Saxons dominate St. Lawrence

The football team (1-1, 0-0 Empire 8) bounced back from last weekend's season-opening loss at RPI by pounding host St. Lawrence, 28-7, Saturday afternoon in Canton.

In the second of three road games to open their 2012 season, the Saxons flexed their defensive muscle, forcing four St. Lawrence turnovers and holding the Saints to 220 yards, including a mere 72 on the ground.

The Saxons, who produced 323 yards of offense for the game, (203 on the ground), led 21-0 at the half and were never threatened as they stretched their winning streak against the Saints to 19 games.

After each team punted on its first two possessions, Alfred got on the board with 50 seconds left in the opening quarter. Junior tailback Austin Dwyer (Hornell) scored on a three-yard run to cap an 11-play, 76-yard drive that spanned five minutes.

of the game with 9:35 left in the second quarter, as the Saxons drove 68 yards in nine plays over 4:35, and Alfred led 14-0. The Saxons scored with 1:26 left in the half on a three-yard run by junior fullback Chuck Beckwith (Victor) to go up by 21 points. The key play in the nine-play 69-yard drive was Dwyer's 58yard run on third-and-two.

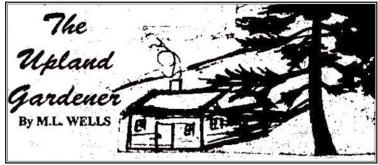

St. Lawrence (0-3) scored with just under nine minutes left in the third to make it 21-7. Each team turned the ball over twice on its ensuing two possessions, but it was Alfred that cashed in. Following the Saints' second interception in as many possessions – the first by AU sophomore cornerback Michael Perkins (Rochester/East); the second by senior strong safety Reggie Pressley (Rochester/ Gates-Chili) -- AU junior quarterback Zach Sopak (Falconer/ Southwestern) hit Beckwith with a 28-yard touchdown pass with 2:17 left in the third to close out the game's scoring.

Dwyer finished with 113 yards rushing on 16 carries with two touchdowns. Senior tailback Tyler DeRosa (Miller Place) had 47 yards on 12 carries. Sopak was 11-for-24 for 120 yards, a TD and two interceptions. Freshman wide receiver Maleke Fuentes (Olean) had a pair of catches for 24 yards for the Sax-

Senior nose guard Mike Raplee (Dundee) led the AU defense with 10 tackles, including four for loss and a sack. Perkins had four tackles and a pair of interceptions and senior end Chris Steeves (Rochester/Gates-Chili) had four tackles (one for loss, one sack) to go with an interception. Pressley had six tackles to go with his interception and senior linebacker Brendan McGin-(Walworth/Ganada-East Rochester) had eight tackles.

The men's soccer team (2-4-0, 0-1-0 Empire 8) dropped a 1-0 decision on the road against Hilbert College, Tuesday evening and dropped a 5-2 decision in their conference opener against visiting Elmira College,

At this time of year, I always become aware of the quality of light. I am glad I live where the seasons come and go, ever changing, ever

One night at the end of August I awoke at 4 a.m. To the east, in the clear predawn sky, Orion was rising in all its glory, bracketed by brilliant Venus, the morning star, and Jupiter. What a sight and a reminder that winter is on its way.

Gradually the sun is moving south along the horizon at dawn and sun set. At noon, the sun hangs lower i nthe sky. The light of day is less intense--more mellow.

And with the softer light comes the songs of the crickets.

All signs of the shift: Venus becoming the morning star - Orion arriving at dawn - the crickets singing. The quality of light all enhance the end of summer - hint at the winter to come.

Bird got the start for AU making three saves in the first half before Guy replaced him and played the second half net.

Women's soccer team trounces SUNY Maritime to split week's games

The women's soccer team (4-2-0, 0-1-0 Empire 8) throttled visiting SUNY Maritime, 13-0, Saturday afternoon at Merrill Field. AU had dropped an 8-1 decision to visiting Houghton in the Saxons' Empire 8 opener earlier in the week.

The Lady Saxons dominated in all aspects of the SUNY Maritime game, holding an advantage in shots (30-2) and corner kicks (7-2).

AU found the net seven times in the first half and six in the second, with six different goal scorers. Junior forward Sarah Borrhello (Columbia Station, OH) and freshman Dawn Torlish (Farmington/Victor) (one assist) both posted a hat trick for AU. Junior midfielder Shealyn McKee (Canisteo-Greenwood) scored a goal, and senior midfielder Devin Fitzgerald (Rochester/Greece-Olympia) chipped in with two assists.

Senior goalie Ashley Frazell (Newton, NJ) played the first half in net while junior goalie Samijo Scheer (Corning/East) finished the match, playing the second half in net for the combined shutout.

In the Houghton game, junior midfielder Samantha Randall (Cortland/Homer) netted a goal for AU when she dribbled the ball past Houghton defenders on the end line, then shot it past the reach of the keeper at the 40 minute mark. Junior Samijo

HITS AND MISSES:

Starting off this week with some NCAA Division III football news as the Buffalo State Bengals pulled off a remarkable upset, topping Wisconsin-Whitewater, at Wisconsin-Whitewater, 7-6. First saw this score on Sunday morning in the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle and thought it had to be a mistake! Buffalo State traveling out to W-W, to play a team that has been in the D3 title game seven-years running now (four titles), versus the Warhawks who have moved past mighty Mount Union in this football class and the Bengals win a thriller at the end. Also, with a 7-6 score, figured it must of been a "monsoon" or something in Wisconsin. Oh yes, the Alfred Saxons are at Buffalo State this Saturday.

Continuing on with D3 football action, AU topped St. Lawrence on the road, 28-7 to even their slate at (1-1) on the young season. Brockport trounced TCNJ, Hobart drilled Utica, Ithaca nipped Union in OT, Cortland drubbed W. Connecticut, SJ Fisher eased by UR and Morrisville fell to Montclair State by a respectable, 7-0 tally! Alfred University will be playing their third-straight away contest on Saturday, then they have an "off" week with their home opener set against Ithaca the first Saturday in October. Homecoming Weekend!

The Hornell Red Raiders football machine rolls along as they are now (3-0) on they year after thumping Wayland-Cohocton, 45-13. The three-time defending state "B" champs are competing in Class "C" this year with a sectional title apparently on the horizon the way they are mowing down opponents.

Brother Scott O. Lorow took in the Campbell at Old Dominion football contest(?) on Saturday past as ODU rolled, 70-14.

Have not heard from the "cage man" at James Madison since their football squad fell to West Virginia, 42-12. Ouch.

"Big" win for the Syracuse football team as they topped Stony Brook, 28-17 at the Carrier Dome. One of three they'll get this year.

Wow, maybe it won't be an Alabama - USC national championship game in football this season afterall. The Trojans fell ... again, to Stanford. 21-14.

Brother-in-law Brian Fischer, son "Lefty" and daughter "Grump" took in the Cleveland Browns at Cincinnati Bengals NFL game on Sunday.

The struggles continue for Stephen Baker and his UPenn (0-6) men's soccer team as they dropped a pair of decisions over the weekend past. The Quakers fell to Villanova, 5-3 and Georgetown, 3-1 in the Big East/Ivy League contests. Baker recorded a DNP on Firday versus 'Nova but returned to action Sunday against G-Town. Assume John & Colleen Baker at games, but have to "assume" as Bakes not the greatest at filling me in on the college soccer news!

Christy Kaznowski and her Western Carolina Catamounts (4-4) women's soccer squad split a couple of outings in the Catamount Classic last weekend. WCU beat Gardner-Webb but fell to Campbell. "Guessing" the once-legendary Kaz there to take in the action. He is worse than Bakes on reporting updates!

It was a pair of dropped decisions for Jess Herbst (Webster Schroeder) and her Vermont Catamounts women's soccer team as they traveled to Rhode Island last weekend. RI beat UVM, 2-1 and Bryant won over Vermont, 3-1. Herbst, Haley Marks (Penfield) and the UVM squad hosted Siena this week in league action.

Wandered down to Geneseo last Thursday to see the women's soccer team in action against Nazareth. Coach Wiley's team was looking for win #1 on the season and goal #1 as well. Wanted to see some of the parents like Laura Verdino ... "Official Knights Soccer Photographer," Randy Beale ... "Official Cookout Supervisor" for the post-game home gatherings and Mike Novak. Stood by the fence next to Novak for entire game. All was well until daughter Emily scored and I had to duck out of the way! Not from the soccer ball but Mike's cheering. Ashtin Argentieri (Hornell) and Olivia Derleth (Webster Thomas) tallied for the 'Naz in their, 2-1 win. No Kelly Bergin around this year to bail out SUNY Geneseo. Derleth capped off a solid week with an OT goal to top St. Lawrence on Saturday. Former Geneseo star, Eileen Coyle is on the SLU staff. The Knights tied Lycoming on Saturday, in Williamsport (Pa.), 0-0 as they now stand at 0-5-1 with conference action starting. Might catch Geneseo in action again in New Paltz, but at Oneonta for sure.

Former Alfred State College runner Jim Derrick took first-place in his age group (45-49) at the Buffalo National Masters 15K this past weekend. Derrick ran for Gary "Doc" Moore at ASC.

Speaking of Moore (A-A), the current Alfred State cross country/track & field coach ... Coach of the Year, competed in the Oak Tree Half-Marathon this past weekend in Geneseo and took first-place in his age group (55-59).

Daughter Lauren ran in the NYRR Fitness 4-Miler on Saturday past in NYC. She clocked a time of 28:37, was 73rd out of 2910 women in the race and 10th in her age group (20-24). Next up for 3L is the 200-mile relay run, Clifton Park to Lake Placid next week.

Mark S. Gaisser (A-A) and his McKenzie/Ferra's softball team took 11th-place our of 176-teams in the "D" Worlds in Orlando over the weekend past! Player/Coach Gaisser's group posted a 4-2 mark with their two losses to the two teams that made the finals. Quite

Green Machine challenges Arc staff

WELLSVILLE--Allegany County's Special Olympics Green Machine Softball Team wanted to get in an extra game this season and challenged Allegany Arc employees to a game. On a recent sunny Thursday afternoon, over 75 people were on hand to cheer for their favorite players for the first Annual Softball Challenge held at Tullar Field in Wellsville.

Allegany Arc's Quality Assurance Department created "Arc Sports Boosters" to offer refreshments to participants and spectators with all money being raised going directly towards the Green Machine Softball Team. Dan Green volunteered his stand to serve up fresh hot dogs for those in attendance.

Staff who made up Allegany Arc's team included: Geoff Bliven, Tim Costello, Tina Day, Mike Damiano, Brittany Graham, Rachel Houghtaling, Sandy Jackson, Melissa Lehman, Emily McGinnis, Steve Richardson, Erin Spicer, Luanne Werlitz, and Brad West.

Umpires for the game were Liz Linnecke and Kim Clark.

Members of the Green Machine Team included Judy Alger, Duane Becker, Eric Burton, James Button, Mathew Fox, Alan Geer, Anthony Geer, George Geer, Katie Hugar, Rich Snyder, Adam Waasdorp, and Mike Wicket.

The Green Machine Team won the softball challenge 13 to 12. "This is the team's first year at softball and they are doing remarkably well," noted Amber Hurlbut, Green Machine Coach. "I don't think the Arc employees were prepared for how good the Green Machine Team is and our team definitely came to win."

Mike Damiano, Allegany Arc's Chief Executive Officer said of the challenge, "This is one of those feel-good moments that remind you what a great agency Allegany Arc is. Not only for our team members eager participation but because of the many employees and people we serve that filled the stands. I hope the challenge becomes a seasonal event for the Green Machine and Arc staff." He added, "The Green Machine Team really played great. I think their opponents in regional competition are going to have their hands full - the team really rocks."

If you are interested in participating or volunteering for Special Olympics, please contact Kelly Dunham, Special Olympics Coordinator at (585) 808-4379. Floor Hockey will be starting soon. For more information on Special Olympics, visit www.AlleganyArc.org.

impressive! Gaisser played slow pitch tournament ball with the old Bandits team prior to moving to the Rochester area and enjoying a long career with the Joker's Wild squad.

long career with the Joker's Wild squad.

"The Traveling Sports Fan" is now into Demolition Derby's!

The ex-cager at A-A and Gus Macker foul shooting "whiz" has been to events in Cuba, Rushford, Angelica, Belfast and Caledonia. Have to believe he was at Ralph Wilson Stadium this past Sunday as the Buffalo/Toronto Bills pasted the KC Chiefs.

The Tampa Bay Bucs and Dallas Cowboys tangle in NFL action this weekend. Who does Jake Taft root for?

The Oakland Raiders are off to a "lovely" start to the NFL season. Should've never fired Tom "Savo" Cable as head coach. Exchange text messages with Brian Granger every Monday to mutually moan about team.

Received word from Bob Beyer (AU '84) that the former assistant coach with the Orlando Magic has landed a job as an assistant coach with the Golden State Warriors.

3L sent me a text last week wanting to know if "I wanted to go to Temple-Duke" basketball game at the Meadowlands in early December?" Love to see Blue Devils play, Temple didn't thrill me as an opponent though and neither did the $73 per ticket price! Yikes. She and I went to Xavier-Duke game, also at The Meadowlands (Izod Center), 3-4 years ago and tickets were in the $45-50 range.

"Less than pleased" about tentative 2013 MLB schedule as

"Less than pleased" about tentative 2013 MLB schedule as the LA Dodgers will be playing the NY Yankees next year in interleague action. Thought it would be great to head to NYC, 3L and I go to game on a sunny Saturday afternoon. Nope. LA at Yankee Stadium on a Tuesday-Wednesday. Who didn't think this one thru?

The PGA Tour/FedEx Cup finale is set for this weekend in Atlanta. Rorry McIlroy and Tiger Woods, 1-2 going in and have to believe it'll end that way.

The following weekend ... Ryder Cup action.

Some NYS vanity plates: DRFEELOK, DBLHAPPY, 69BEE-TLE ... it was and HEIN 57 ... ketchup or Pittsburgh field.

Off on a (richly deserved) vacation next week and a busy one (per normal) it'll be. Was going to start out with the Alfred-Buffalo State game, riding along with noted area and official AU photographer, Leo Nealon. That is out. But, hope to head to: Speculator, Tupper Lake, Saranac Lake, Lake Placid, Clifton Park, maybe New Paltz, Oneonta and Ithaca for UPenn/Cornell game. Other items in the works and will report on that next week.

"Happy 21" ... Jess Herbst!
And a very special birthday to my mom in Florida!
