

Rachel Lynett joins Performing Arts Division

10/29/20

Rachel Lynett

The Performing Arts Division is honored to announce playwright, producer, and teaching artist Rachel Lynett will be joining the Performing Arts faculty as a one-year visiting assistant professor of theatre.

Lynett will teach a variety of courses in the Spring 2020 and Fall 2021 semester including Script Analysis, Acting, and Theatre History. She will also direct a play in the Fall.

Lynett's plays have been featured at Mirrorbox Theatre, Laboratory Theatre of Florida, Barrington Stage Company, Theatre Lab, Theatre Prometheus, Florida Studio Theatre, Laughing Pig Theatre Company, Capital Repertory Theatre, Teatro Espejo, the Kennedy Center Page to Stage festival, Theatresquared, Equity Library Theatre, Chicago, Talk Back Theatre, American Stage Theatre Company, and Orlando Shakespeare Theatre. Recently, Last Night and HE DID IT made the 2020 Kilroy's List.

Lynett also serves as the artistic director of Rachel Lynett Theatre Company and the executive director of Page by Page.