The 2018 Sibley Lecture - David G. Haskell

The 2018 Sibley Lecture: David G. Haskell: The Songs of Trees: Contemplative Studies of Nature's Networks

Tuesday, September 11 at 7:30 pm
Nevins Theatre

David G. Haskell, Professor of Biology and Environmental Studies at the University of the South, is the author of two award-winning books, The Forest Unseen (a Pulitzer finalist), and The Songs of Trees (winner of the 2018 John Burroughs Medal, and selected by NPR's Science Friday as one of the best science books of 2017).

"In The Songs of Trees, Haskell champions a kind ecological aesthetics, where we find beauty in connectivity...Haskell sees as "nature's great connectors, 'living symbols of the books' great theme- that life is about relationships." Ed Yong, The Atlantic

Welcoming New Employees Training

This is the first training in a 9 month series targeted at any AU employee who has supervisory roles in their department. This training can also be especially helpful for any staff who support the supervisors in their department.

This training will encompass: guiding principles to an effective orientation, before the new employee arrives, the first day, week, and month on the job, and follow up meetings with your newly hired employee

Supervisors who may be new in their rolls or need a refresher are encouraged to come. This is also open to anyone in the department who helps orient new hires to your department.

This training will be held on Tuesday, September 11 from 11:15 am - 12:00 pm and on Tuesday, September 26 from 11:15 am - 12:00 pm both located in the Kenyon/Allen Room in the PCC. This is the same training both days.
