PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The President has the honor to submit his twentieth annual report, namely for the year beginning June 9th, 1914, and ending June 8th, 1915.

Retrospect

Glancing back over a score of years, memory recalls the names and faces of many men and women who were colleagues with us on the Board of Trustees and on the faculty twenty years ago and since, who have now passed on to their reward. Judge N. M. Hubbard, William C. Burdick, Mrs. George H. Babcock, Darius R. Ford, John N. Davidson, A. B. Cottrell, C. C. Chipman, E. E. Hamilton, Charles Stillman, Orson Greene, Judge Peter B. McLennan, and many others from the Board; Prof. H. C. Coon, Prof. L. C. Rogers, Prof. E. M. Tomlinson, Mrs. Abigail A. Allen, Mrs. Ida F. Kenyon, Miss Martha B. Saunders, Miss May Haydock from the faculty. To mention their names, brings a flood of recollections of their services, their love and devotion to our Alma Mater, and their personal qualities and friendship which have enriched our lives and strengthened our service.

The years have made changes in the physical appearance and resources of Alfred as well as in the personnel of the faculty. Twenty years ago the only property owned by the University north of University Place, was Kenyon Memorial Hall with the small plot of ground on which it stands. To-day by far the larger portion of our campus lies north of this street. The Steinheim, Burdick Hall, and Kanakadea Hall have been acquired. Babcock Hall, Ceramic Hall, Agricultural Hall, and the Carnegie Library have been built. Valuable additions have been made to the grounds. All the cement walks have been constructed and the use of the lawn mower has been introduced on the campus. The net total property was valued twenty years ago, as reported to the Regents, at $280,000. We are now reporting it this year at $827,000, a gain of $547,000, or an average gain for the twenty years of $27,000. In addition to this should be mentioned the annual appropriations from the State for the Schools of Agriculture and Ceramics, which equal the interest at six per cent on $1,000,000 annually.

The attendance twenty years ago was 28 students in the College and 117 in the Academy, while the attendance for the current year was 421.

It is with much gratitude that the President can announce that the year 1914-1915 has passed without any deaths occurring in the Board of Trustees, members of the teaching staff or the student body. It is rare that we are able to record so great freedom from illness and death. One member of the faculty, Prof. George A. Bole, has suffered impaired health since the Easter vacation, and his classes have been conducted by other members of the faculty and students of the Senior class, and the work has been carried on without serious break. Prof. Bole's health is now somewhat improved, and it is expected that he will be able to resume work again with the opening of the new college year.

Faculty

At the opening of the college year, Professor Ford S. Clarke assumed his duties as Associate-Professor of Philosophy and Education, substituting for Professor Bessie Lee Gambrell, who is absent on leave at Columbia University, pursuing graduate studies. Prof. Clarke's work has been successful and the courses of the Department have been well provided for.

Miss Katherine H. Porter, A. M., was elected Associate-Professor of English to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Myrta A. Little, who was offered the head of the Department of English in the American College for Women at Constantinople. Miss Porter is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College. She received her Master's degree from the University of Chicago after a year's graduate study following upon three years as instructor in English in Lake Erie College. She has proven a capable and successful instructor.

Mr. Ivan Fiske, B. S., of the class of 1914, was made instructor in Physical Training. Mr. Morton Mix, Ph. B., of the class of 1914, instructor in Modern Languages; Mr. Glentworth M. Willson, Ph. B., of the class of 1914, instructor in Philosophy and Education; Miss Madelia H. Tuttle of the Emerson School of Oratory, instructor in Public Speaking. All these new members of the faculty have proven capable and successful instructors. For the coming year no changes are contemplated except in the Public Speaking Department. Miss Tuttle, who has had this work during the past year, will be needed for her entire time in the Agricultural School where this year she has conducted a number of classes in conjunction with her work in the college. Miss Lucia Weed, a graduate of the Leland Powers School of Expression of Boston, has been engaged to take the class in Public Speaking taught the past year by Miss Tuttle and to add an advanced course in Public Speaking.

It is very gratifying to report that all other members of the faculty are to be with us for the coming year. The addition of the three new instructors has greatly increased the efficiency of the departments of Modern Languages, Philosophy and Education, and Public Speaking. These departments had become so large and the demands so great, that one person could not successfully carry the entire work of the department. The department of History and Political Science is now perhaps the most urgently in need of an assistant of any of the departments of the College, and in due time an additional instructor must be provided.

In addition to the work of the Director of Physical Training a coach in football was employed in the autumn, for two months, Dr. Richard S. Farr, of the University of Vermont; and a special coach for baseball for one month, Mr. Joseph Prozeller of Hornell. Temporary provision for coaching will have to be made from time to time as circumstances require.

Secretary to the President

Miss Ruth L. Phillips was appointed Secretary to the President to succeed Miss Ellen R. Peck, and began her work September first. Her services are satisfactory and are to be continued during the coming year.

Registration

The registration of the University for the past year has been as follows:

College	138
Academy	96
Theological Seminary	5
School of Ceramics	41
School of Agriculture	179
Summer School	21
Students in Music	108
Total	588

Of these the duplicates are 167, making a total registration of 421 different individuals for the year. The registration for the past year has shown a slight falling off from the previous year. This is shown in all departments and is due in large measure to the general financial depression which has made it more difficult for students to obtain money for their education.

School of Ceramics

The enlarged equipment of the Ceramic School, provided by the addition to the building which was reported last year, has greatly enhanced the efficiency of the school. The courses have been revised and enriched in technical material. One course of four years now leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Ceramic Engineering. Another of four years leads to the degree of Bachelor of Applied Arts. There has been no change in the staff of instruction in the past year. The maintenance appropriation for the School has been increased from $17,600 to $18,500 for the coming year.

The School of Agriculture

The State School of Agriculture has sustained two changes in its faculty. Prof. Devoe Mead resigned as Professor of Animal Husbandry and Dairy Industry to accept a position in Cornell University. The vacancy was filled by the appointment of Mr. Byron E. Pontius, B. S. in Agriculture, a graduate of the Agricultural Department of Ohio State University. Mr. Clarence B. Blanchard resigned as instructor in Farm Mechanics, and Mr. Langford S. Whitford, B. S. of the class of 1912 of Alfred University, was appointed to fill the vacancy. Miss Madelia Tuttle has been added to the faculty as instructor in Public Speaking and History subjects. One additional instructor is contemplated for the coming year, namely an instructor in Poultry Husbandry.

The maintenance appropriation has been increased for the coming year from $43,300 to $44,525. Application was made to the Legislature for a $30,000 appropriation for a new demonstration building with $11,000 for equipment. This bill passed the Assembly but in the Senate the item for the building was stricken out, leaving only the item for equipment, which was cut out by the Governor's veto. This building is urgently needed, and it is hoped that the next Legislature may make provision for it.

Alfred Theological Seminary

The Alfred Theological Seminary has had no change in its teaching force except that Prof. Walter L. Greene, Professor of Church History and Religious Education, has given but half his time to instruction work. This arrangement was made, on account of deficiency in maintenance for payment of the three full salaries, and it was made possible because of the smaller attendance at the Seminary for the past year.

Alfred Academy

In the faculty of Alfred Academy, the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Ruth L. Phillips from the English Department in order to become secretary to the President, was filled by the appointment of Miss Ximena Rich, Ph. B., of Syracuse University, who has carried the work of her department successfully during the year. Also Mr. Orlo H. Perry, B. S. of the class of 1914, was appointed teacher of science and mathematics to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Paul Burdick.

In accordance with the vote of the trustees in 1914, the Board of Education of the District was notified that Alfred Academy would be discontinued as a college preparatory school at the end of the current year. At the annual school meeting of the district, which occurred May 4th, the district voted to accept the proposition made by Alfred University whereby the district agrees to maintain an approved four year high school and to grant practice teaching and observation privileges to the students of the Education Department in Alfred University; in consideration for which, the University agrees to contribute for five years toward the maintenance of the high school, the sum of $500 per year. This will prove a financial saving to the trustees and will have the advantage of removing the criticism and frequent misunderstanding that Alfred University is admitting students who are of sub-Freshman grade. This arrangement will also release the old Chapel building for such uses in the future as the trustees may think best to assign it. The passing of the Academy marks an important step in the progress of Alfred University toward an institution of distinctly higher and technical learning. The new Alfred High School will provide adequate preparation for college for the people who live in this community. The high school will be conducted in the public school building, and such books and apparatus as have been purchased for Alfred Academy by aid of the State or of the District, will be turned over to the high school.

Library

Since the opening of the new Carnegie Library, the village of Alfred has generously voted an appropriation of $100 per year toward the maintenance of the Library. This sum has been received for the current year and added to the funds provided by the University for the purchase of books. Some additions have been made to the furniture of the Library, and its value to the efficiency of the University can not be overestimated.

Improvements to Buildings

During the past year some unusual improvements and repairs to the buildings have been required. In Kenyon Memorial Hall the rooms formerly occupied by the Library, have been fitted up and prepared for the use of the departments of Modern Languages and of Ancient Languages.

In Burdick Hall a new closet and shower bath have been installed with other minor improvements for the comfort and convenience of the occupants of the Hall.

The roof on the old Chapel building was partly replaced last year with a tile roof, and has been finished during the past year, and now it has a permanent tile roof on the main building, with a new galvanized iron roof on the sheds in the rear.

Also our wooden building adjoining the Ladies Hall has been entirely reroofed with galvanized iron.

These properties are now in good state of preservation. The cost for these and other repairs will be shown in detail in the report of the Committee of Buildings and Grounds. The item for repairs and improvements in our budget has been somewhat exceeded, due to the urgency of making these repairs and improvements. They have been extraordinary and a similar amount of expenditure will not be required during the coming year.

Summer School

The first annual session of the Summer School was held July 6-31, a period of four weeks, and though not largely attended, was an auspicious beginning for what we hope will prove to be a permanent and valuable addition to the work of the College. A total of 23 students registered, and earnest and satisfactory work was accomplished. The professors who undertook and carried on this work, did it at personal sacrifice of time and at some financial loss. The prospects, however, for the School for the coming summer are such as to give encouragement that it will be entirely self-supporting, and it is probable that with the growth that may be expected in the near future, it will come to be a profitable enterprise as well as a valuable service to education. The Director of the Summer School is Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, Professor of Modern Languages, and with him is associated a faculty of nine members.

Interscholastic Meet

The sixth annual interscholastic meet was held on May 19th. About 130 contestants were admitted, representing high schools from Binghamton to Bradford, Pa. Aside from the 13 schools represented by contestants, many other high schools were represented by students and members of their faculties, and a larger number of visitors attended the Meet than were present on any previous meet. In connection with this meet a Prize Speaking contest has been held which this year was divided into two contests, one occurring on Tuesday night, May 18th, and the other Wednesday night, May 19th, just following the Meet. In the first there were six young ladies. The first prize was won by a representative of the Haverling High School at Bath. In the second contest, ten young men participated. The first prize was won by the speaker who represented the Canisteo High School.

Registrar

For many years the work of Registrar was performed by Professor A. B. Kenyon. A few years ago he was made Dean, and many executive duties and responsibilities were added to his work.

Two years ago Prof. W. A. Titsworth was made assistant Registrar. The President would recommend that Prof. W. A. Titsworth be made Registrar and that Dean Kenyon be relieved entirely from the work of keeping records; this to be done without deducting anything from the salary of Dean Kenyon and without interfering with his increase this year of fifty dollars in salary.

Gifts and Bequests

The largest gift of the past year is the bequest of the late Mrs. Ann J. Rushton of Gouverneur, N. Y., amounting to $8,000, to be known as the Armsbury Fund, the income to be used for the general purposes of the College.

The next largest is the bequest of the late Ethan Lanphear, amounting in all to about $7,000. Of this sum, $5,674 has already been received by the Treasurer and the remainder is to be turned over as soon as certain bank stock held by the estate can be sold at a satisfactory price.

One-half of this bequest is for the benefit of the College, the other half for the Theological Seminary.

The Martha B. Saunders Fund of $1,050 is provided by the will of the late Martha B. Saunders, and has been designated to be used for the benefit of the Modern Language Department.

The Doctor Asa W. Bullock Scholarship was provided by a bequest of $1000, by the late Dr. Asa W. Bullock.

The Mary and Marie Allen scholarship has been founded by a gift of $1000 by Mrs. Mary W. Allen, who is to receive an annuity on the same during her life time.

Other smaller gifts, mostly additions to the McLennan Fund and to scholarships already founded, bring the total additions to the endowments actually received so far this year, up to the sum of $18,700. With the prospect of $1,300 additional soon to be received, and $1,200, from the bequest of the late Mrs. Rhoda T. Green for the Theological Seminary, soon to be received by the Education Society, it seems certain that the additions to endowments for this fiscal year will reach at least $20,000. This is most gratifying to the President, as it has been his hope to make the cash additions to endowments, during his twentieth year aggregate $20,000. This sum will bring our total endowments well above $400,000.

Finances

It will be seen from the Treasurer's preliminary report that notwithstanding a slight lowering of attendance, during this year of financial depression, and many demands, our expenditures have been held within our income.

For the coming year, with an increase of $10.00 in the incidental fee charged to each student, which was voted at the September meeting of the Board, with a saving from the Academy and with the aid of new endowments, it seems to be practicable to make provision in our next year's budget for an advance of $50 in salaries, aside from some other and necessary advances to three of the younger instructors who have been working for less than normal salaries the past year.

This possible increase is most gratifying to the President. Our salaries are still far too small and every possible effort must be made to further increase them until they will correspond more nearly with other colleges of similar rank.

Assembly Hall

Every succeeding year emphasizes anew our great need of an adequate assembly hall where large gatherings of the College and community may be held, and where lectures and entertainments may be given.

At the last Founders' Day, when Col. W. W. Brown gave the excellent Founders' Day address, not half the people could be accommodated who would have been glad to hear the address. There are frequent needs during the year for such a building, but more particularly is this true at Commencement time. Provisions should be made at an early date for such an assembly building. Its cost should be not less than $50,000.

Gymnasium

For many years the attention of the trustees has been called to the great need for better Gymnasium facilities. Now that the Academy is discontinued, the President would recommend that until other facilities are provided, the old Chapel building be refloored with a substantial hard wood floor, one-half each year if necessary, and that this building be used for basketball and other athletic purposes, proper protection being provided for the walls and windows of the building. This will not prevent the use of the building for purposes of lectures and assemblies for which movable seats may be provided. Such an arrangement will greatly improve the athletic possibilities of the College and will not prove harmful to the building if proper care be taken.

Sinking Fund

Since the income for the coming year will be increased about $1000 above the estimated expenses and since this income which is from arrearage monies due on account of the Academy, and since this income will not be available after the present year, the President would recommend that this $1000 be set aside as a sinking fund to apply toward the liquidation of the obligations of the underwriting committee.

Charter

Because of the ruling of the General Education Board that no funds of that Board shall be appropriated to any institution organized upon a stock-holder's basis, it has been suggested that it might be advisable to amend the charter of Alfred University so as to provide that its trustees shall be a self-perpetuating body rather than elected by the stock-holders and to eliminate the term "stock-holder" from the charter. The President would recommend that a committee be appointed to take this matter into consideration and empowered to introduce into the Legislature a bill providing for such amendment in case they shall deem it expedient.

College Advertising

For some years the President has been convinced that for our general advertising purposes, the name Alfred College could be used to better advantage than the charter name, Alfred University. Universities have become differentiated from colleges in the public estimate to such an extent that Alfred's work falls more naturally under the term "College" than "University." We have now dropped the Academy and must place special emphasis upon our undergraduate college course. The President would recommend, therefore, that the trustees take into consideration the advisability of authorizing the use of the name "Alfred College" in our catalogues and publications and for general advertising purposes, this to be done without alteration of the legal charter name "Alfred University."

Other Reports

The reports of the Dean of the College, the Librarian, the Curator of the Museum, the Dean of the Seminary, the Principal of the Academy, the Director of the State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics, and the Director of the State School of Agriculture are transmitted herewith as a part of this report.

With grateful acknowledgment of the blessing of Almighty God upon our labors of the past year, this report is respectfully submitted.

BOOTHE C. DAVIS,
President.

vantages of college and seminary. It is hoped that a good attendance this year will justify the permanent organization at Alfred of an Interdenominational Summer School of Religious Education.

The Church still needs ministers who are leaders, teachers and evangelists. Inspiring opportunities invite strong young men to become preachers of the Gospel. The seminary needs a larger income that it may better meet growing demands in the way of helping young men and women prepare for efficient service in various forms of Christian work; and the Seventh Day Baptist Education Society has appointed a special committee whose duty it is to seek to increase our endowment.

Over fifty volumes have been added to our Circulating Library, and the number of books loaned is growing.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR E. MAIN, Dean.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the President and Trustees of Alfred University:

I hereby submit my report for the year ending in June, 1915. Eight thousand books have circulated during the year. Twelve hundred and twenty-seven books have been added since my last report. Of this number six hundred and thirty-seven were purchased and five hundred and ninety were donated. Five hundred and thirty books including a few bound magazines were made possible by the Charles Potter fund and fifty-three by the fund annually received from the State. The largest donor to the library during the year was Mrs. E. M. Tomlinson, who presented three hundred and fifteen books from the library of her husband, the late Professor E. M. Tomlinson. Several of the department libraries are growing in importance and usefulness. Perhaps the two largest and most used are the libraries of the departments of Industrial Mechanics and the department of Natural History. The department of Industrial Mechanics through the George B. Rogers' fund, added to its collections twenty-six books; the department of Ancient Languages received forty-four books including duplicates from the main library and gifts from publishers; twenty books were added to the denominational collection in the library and eleven were added to the Alfredana collection. Five hundred and fifty-five magazines have been drawn for reference work outside the library including an equal or larger number used in the building. The reading room reports eight hundred magazines drawn from the reading room department during the year. There have been registered five hundred and thirty-four borrowers making an addition of seventeen over last year's report.

Back numbers of magazines are being bound as fast as the funds will permit. During the year more than 220 years of back numbers were bound in buckram.

In the last report mention was made of the fact that the librarian was collecting waste paper from various sources hoping to collect a sufficiently large quantity of old magazines and newspapers to make a shipment worth while. As a result of considerable effort 16,230 pounds of paper were shipped to Buffalo upon which was realized about $60 after paying expenses. With this fund two very much needed magazine racks were purchased from the Library Bureau at a cost of $50. The balance of the fund was used to purchase bronze waste baskets for the main floor of the library. To make the racks most serviceable board covers were procured for the seventy or more magazines so at the present time we have on these racks permanent covers for the regular magazines. This has added materially to the furniture of the library and at the same time has served and is serving a much needed purpose.

In accordance with my recommendation in my last report the Board voted the appropriation of $25 to be expended for labor during the summer of 1914, as the librarian had time to offer for such work. Owing to sickness in the family he was unavoidably absent most of the summer and the work anticipated was not done. He therefore asks a re-appropriation of this amount for the present summer.

The following persons and organizations have remembered the library during the year in gifts:

ALFRED ACADEMY

To the President of Alfred University:

I herewith submit my annual report of Alfred Academy.

Ninety-six students have been registered for work during the year. Of these, thirteen have been taking the teachers' course in the training class. The graduating class numbers fifteen, about half of whom will go to college next fall.

The standard of scholarship set last year has been fully maintained and possibly may be surpassed by the end of the year. I feel that it is a matter for congratulation that the students have done as well as they have under the existing conditions.

No additions were made to the library this year, but considerable equipment was added to the science laboratories. An unusually heavy registration in chemistry made this necessary.

In making this report, the last report of the Principal of Alfred Academy, I desire to acknowledge the debt I owe to the President for his hearty co-operation and wise counsel during the three years when I have had the pleasure of being a co-worker with him in educational affairs in Alfred.

Respectfully submitted,

H. L. GILLIS, Principal.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The following report of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds for the year 1914-1915, is respectfully submitted:

During the past year, extraordinary repairs have been required upon the roof of the sheds in the rear of Ladies Hall and the roof of the Academy building. The main part of the Academy has been covered with a tile roof, the rear with galvanized iron and the wooden buildings in the rear of Ladies Hall have been reroofed with galvanized iron.

The need for more class rooms placed before the Committee the necessity of improving and fitting up the rooms on the second floor of Kenyon Memorial Hall, formerly used for Library purposes, into two class rooms, one for Modern Languages and the other for Ancient Languages.

Burdick Hall also required improvements in the way of bath-room and toilet accommodations.

These repairs and improvements have been made at the total cost, which with other necessary repairs somewhat exceeds the appropriations for repairs and improvements. By the improvements in Burdick Hall, the revenue of the building has been materially increased; and the improvements on the Academy Hall and on the Brick now place these buildings under permanent and substantial roofs.

The following is a summary of expenses on each of the several buildings with a statement of the expenditures on the grounds chargeable to the E. Lua Babcock Fund:

INCOME FROM INVESTMENTS

The net income received for the year from the investments of the University Fund amounted to $4,976.80, an average rate of $4.80 per $100. (See schedule 16).

The net income received for the year from the investments of the Scholarship Fund amounted to $3,230.42, an average rate of $6.31 per $100. (See Schedule 17).

The difference in the rates earned by these two funds for the year is accounted for by the fact that some of the securities comprising part of the investment of the University Fund are non-productive, some of the real estate is also non-productive, other properties are producing very little income, and rentals were in some cases in arrears on June 30, 1915. No Scholarship funds are now invested in Real Estate, and no securities comprising this fund are non-productive. Some Scholarship Fund interest which was in arrears, has been collected during the year, thus causing the earnings of this fund to appear exceptionally large.

Respectfully submitted,

CURTIS F. RANDOLPH, Treasurer.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

Alfred, New York, September 5, 1915

To the Board of Trustees of Alfred University:

Gentlemen:

I have examined the accounts and vouchers of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, and the securities held by him on June 30, 1915. This report does not include the Betterment Fund, The Davis Gymnasium Fund, the Peter B. McLennan Memorial, nor the accounts of the State Schools.

I have verified the cash in bank by evidence of deposit; the income from securities by an examination of such securities, the income from students by an examination of the record of bills rendered by the Registrar and of the scholarship allowances granted them.

I have verified the Report of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, to which this report is annexed, consisting of the Endowment Report, Schedules 1 to 9, inclusive, and the Income Report, Schedules 15 to 27 inclusive, and also Schedule 29 by comparison with his accounts, and find such report correct in all respects.

The diligent efforts of our Treasurer in the collection of income, as well as the manner in which his accounts have been kept and his other duties performed are worthy of commendation.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT G. WHIPPLE, Auditor.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT to the Board of Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910:

1. That an Investment Committee of five be appointed by this Board to be one of the permanent Committees of the Board, and to be responsible to the Board rather than to the Executive Committee; and that this Investment Committee be instructed to make a careful study of our investments and the possibility of reinvesting such of our funds as may be deemed by it desirable, and to make such reinvestment, safeguarding the interests of the University more fully if possible, both as to the size and length of loans and as to the permanent and increasing value of property on which loans are made.

2. That a Finance Committee of at least nine members be appointed to undertake at once the raising of additional endowments and to provide for other enlargement of the equipment and efficiency of the University,

3. That a Trustee-Auditor be appointed who shall audit all principal accounts and securities as well as revenues and expenditure accounts.

BY-LAWS

Adopted by the Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910.

INVESTMENTS

The endowment of the University may be invested in bonds and mortgages on unincumbered real property situated in this state, to the extent of 50 per cent of the value of improved farm property, 60 per cent of the value of property situated in any incorporated village or city the population of which does not exceed 50,000, and 65 per cent of the value of property situated in any city having a population exceeding 50,000.

No money shall be invested in loans on real property not capable of producing an income, saving, in the case of loans for the purpose of constructing a building.

The endowment may be invested in such other forms of investment as are authorized by the Savings Bank Law of the State of New York.

PROHIBITED LOANS—No money shall be loaned upon notes, bills of exchange, drafts, or other personal security; nor upon policies of insurance; nor in real estate contracts.

SEARCHES AND EXPENSES—In all cases of loans upon real property a sufficient bond secured by a mortgage thereon shall be required of the borrower; and all expenses of searches, examinations, examination and certification of title and of drawing, perfecting, and recording papers, and the mortgage tax, shall be paid by the borrower.

APPROVAL—No investment in any bond and mortgage shall be made except upon the approval in writing of at least three members of the investment committee, subscribed by the members approving the same, who shall certify to the value of the premises mortgaged or to be mortgaged, to their best judgment; and such written approval shall be filed and preserved among the records of the University.

LOANS TO CERTAIN PERSONS PROHIBITED—No trustee or officer of Alfred University, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee or officer, nor any professor in the employ of the University, shall directly or indirectly, for himself or herself, or as an agent or partner of others, borrow any of its funds, or in any manner use the same, except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the Board of Trustees; nor shall any trustee or officer, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee, nor any professor in the employ of the University become endorser or surety, or become in any manner an obligor for moneys loaned by or borrowed of the University.

No moneys of the University shall be loaned to any corporation in which any trustee of the University shall be interested as a stockholder, trustee or officer; but this clause shall not be construed to apply to deposits in any incorporated bank.

The Tomlinson Medal

The Tomlinson medal for proficiency in Classical Philology was established in June, 1912, by Dr. Corliss Fitz Randolph of Newark, New Jersey, an alumnus and trustee of Alfred University, as a tribute to the memory of Edward Mulford Tomlinson, for many years William B. Maxson professor of the Greek Language and Literature at Alfred.

The general conditions for the award of this medal are as follows:

"All candidates for the medal shall have passed satisfactorily the usual entrance requirements in Latin and Greek (for the classical course), and, following that, shall have pursued the study of these subjects continuously throughout the entire four years of their college course."

The detailed requirements may be had by applying to the head of the department of classical languages.

Ceramic and Chemistry Medal

A medal will be awarded to that member of the Junior class who, during his Sophomore and Junior years, has made the highest average in all his subjects. Application for this medal must be made in writing to the Registrar before the end of the first semester of his Junior year. The competition is open to those majoring in chemistry or ceramic engineering.

The Twentieth Century Club Cup

The Twentieth Century Club Cup is given by the Twentieth Century Club to the one of the two lower classes, Freshman or Sophomore, having the highest scholastic average.

Press Club Medal

The Press Club Medal is awarded to the man who does the most to further the interests of all varsity activities in the newspapers of the country other than the Fiat Lux and the Alfred Sun. HONORARY DEGREES

EDGAR EUGENE DAVIDSON, presented by Dean Main.

Dean Main said:

Mr. President: A little over three-score years ago a man-child came to the home of a New England pastor. In early young manhood, after obtaining a good public school education, his father's broken health and the financial needs of the family seemed to make it necessary for him to go into business. His interest, as a Christian young man, in the work of leading others into the kingdom of God, and his successful efforts, attracted the attention of friends who urged him to make evangelism his life work. He followed their counsels and left a position now worth $6,000.00 a year to become an evangelist. His labors here in Alfred something over a year ago, in their spirit, methods and results, gave him a large place in our minds and hearts.

His attendance at Summer Schools at Harvard and at Northfield, with much reading and travel, and varied and enriching experiences, have kept him in sympathetic touch with modern science, philosophy, social service ideas, Biblical interpretation and theology.

The word "doctor" in its academic sense, as every one knows, means teacher. Webster gives this good definition of divinity: "the science that treats of God, his laws and moral government, and the way of salvation."

Our esteemed friend has been teaching this holy science for thirty-eight years. Many Christians have been helped to higher spiritual levels; many thousands of persons have been led to confess openly a new-born allegiance to the government of heaven; and over a hundred young men have dedicated themselves to the Christian ministry.

It is therefore a privilege, Mr. President, to nominate the Rev. Edgar E. Davidson, of Newtonville, Mass., for the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, at your hands.

President Davis said:

The college is the child of the church and scholastic honors have always been cheerfully accorded to men who have enriched the life of the church and increased spirituality among men. In recognition of this service in a marked degree, covering a period of nearly forty years as an evangelist, Alfred University gladly welcomes you, Sir, to an honorary degree in Divinity. By the authority of the Trustees, I admit you, Edgar Eugene Davidson, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in Alfred University with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Edgar Eugene Davidson was born in Webster, N. H., in 1853. He was educated in the public schools of New Hampshire and at the age of 18 entered upon a business career in Boston, Mass. His deep religious interest and his ability in evangelistic work induced him to relinquish his business position in 1877. He supplemented his education by summer school courses at Harvard University and at Northfield, and by wide reading in science, literature and theology. For nearly forty years he has pursued his career as an evangelist with unusual success, having held evangelistic meetings in most of the states of the Union, and in many of the cities and principal towns, particularly in the New England and middle states. He is an accredited minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to which he has maintained a loyal allegiance, though his work has been in many churches of other denominations and many thousands of people have been won to the Christian faith and life who have found their church home in other denominations than that to which he belongs. He is catholic in spirit, reverent and devout, and his country is his parish. His home address is Newtonville, Mass.

CHARLES HENRY JOHNSON, presented by Professor Paul E. Titsworth.

Prof. Titsworth said:

President Davis:

The nineteenth century was one of broadening sympathy. It was a century of extending knowledge and deepening humanity. It was a time of patient poking into the dark corners of the earth, a time when men were searching out the grains of gold of knowledge and of human worth wherever they were to be found. Yesterday afternoon we listened to an incisive and convincing setting-forth of a new gospel of hope for the unfortunates of the earth. It is very fitting that Alfred University should seize this occasion to take cognizance of the great work of humanizing our penal institutions and customs. Therefore, I should like to nominate for an honorary degree in this University a man who is graduate of Harvard cum laude, who is a doctor of sacred theology from the Boston University School of Theology, who has held a fellowship in the New York School of Philanthropy, and who has pursued graduate work in Columbia University. In addition to this thorough grounding in the theory of his calling, this gentleman has had twelve years of experience in the Christian ministry and he has been active in numerous societies and organizations for the amelioration of the condition of the dependent, the defective and the delinquent, and in behalf of whom he is a very effectual advocate. It gives me great pleasure to nominate for the degree of Doctor of Laws honoris causa in Alfred University the Reverend Doctor Charles Henry Johnson.

President Davis said:

Son of Harvard, of Boston University and of Columbia, no greater service can be rendered to society than that of consecrated scholarship devoted to the reformation and restoration of the delinquent and sinning elements of society. In recognition of your high scholarship as an expert in criminology and in social service, Alfred University welcomes you, Sir, to the ranks of her honorary alumni. By the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I therefore gladly admit you, Charles H. Johnson, to an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in this University with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Charles Henry Johnson was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1870. Attended Public Schools and Trinity School in New York City. In 1890, entered Northwestern University, leaving before graduation to enter the Methodist ministry. Later entered Harvard University from which he was graduated in the class of 1902, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts cum laude. The same year he received from the Boston University School of Theology the degree of S. T. B. He then pursued graduate studies holding a fellowship in the New York School of Philanthropy and in Columbia University. After twelve years' experience as a pastor of various churches of the Methodist Episcopal denomination in New York and New England, he was superintendent successively of the following institutions: St. Christopher's Home, Dobbs Perry, N. Y., and the Albany Orphan Asylum. He was the first secretary of the New York Committee for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, laying the plan which the Committee and similar committees have since followed. He has also served as the president of the Social Workers' Club of Albany, of the Albany Ministers' Association, and is secretary of the Capitol District Conference of Charities and Correction. He has served on important committees of the National and the New York State Conferences of Charities and Correction and on the Executive Committee of the National Conference on the Education of Delinquent and Defective Children. In 1914 he became Assistant Warden of Sing Sing Prison and in October, 1915, accepted the position of Superintendent of the Connecticut Reformatory. He is a popular lecturer on many social and economic problems and is the author of the following :

Causes of Backwardness in Children
The Efficient Cottage Mother
Standards of Institution Efficiency
The Worker and his Wards
Children Needlessly in Institutions
Dangers and Advantages of Prison Reform.

CHARLES H. BROWN, presented by Prof. Norwood.

Prof. Norwood said:

Mr. President, It is with great pleasure and a distinct sense of honor that I rise to nominate for an honorary degree the gentleman who is our next candidate. He is very well and favorably known in Alfred, and in all this part of Western New York. While not a native of the county of Allegany, he came to it as a resident early in life and has been closely identified with its interests ever since. He obtained his education at West Winfield Academy, and Hungerford Collegiate Institute. In 1880 he was admitted to the bar and ten years later became District Attorney for Allegany County. This position he held for seven years, when he was appointed United States District Attorney for the Western District of New York. In 1907 he began a 14 year term as a judge of the Supreme court of the State of New York, in the eighth judicial district. This position he still holds.

Because of his qualities as a man, because of his prominent and constructive relation to the affairs of our section of the state, and because of his popularity and efficiency as a justice, I am much pleased to nominate for the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, Judge Charles Hiram Brown of Belmont.

President Davis said:

In recognition of your distinguished service to the State and nation as a jurist and a Supreme Court justice, Alfred University welcomes you as an honorary alumnus. By the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I gladly admit you, Justice Charles Hiram Brown, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in this University with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Charles Hiram Brown was born at West Winfield, N. Y., in 1858. He was educated in West Winfield Academy and Hungerford Collegiate Institute. In 1880 he was admitted to the bar and in 1889 became district attorney for Allegany County in New York State. From 1897-1906, he was United States attorney in New York State, and in 1907, he was elected Justice of the Supreme Court for a term of 14 years. His address is Belmont, N. Y.

SAMUEL STILLMAN ELIJAH EASTMAN, presented by Professor Whitford.

Prof. Whitford said:

Mr. President, It is my privilege to nominate for an honorary degree a man who at this time needs no introduction,— a graduate of Oberlin in 1872, and of Andover Theological Seminary in 1875, a writer of ability in the realm of theology and of science, a preacher of righteousness, one who has stood openly against political corruption, vote-buying and vote-selling, for forty years a minister of the Gospel, and for the last twenty years pastor of the Park Church of Elmira, as successor to Dr. Thomas K. Beecher. To this man Oberlin granted the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1912. I have the honor of nominating for the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature Rev. Samuel Elijah Eastman, D. D.

President Davis said:

Son of Oberlin, distinguished orator and divine, no greater cause for scholastic honor can be proposed than that of distinction in Letters. In recognition of the service which you have rendered to humanity through your fine literary discrimination and production, and most of all in appreciation of the notable doctor's oration just now delivered, Alfred delights to bestow this literary distinction and to welcome you to her alumni. By the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I therefore gladly admit you, Samuel Elijah Eastman, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters, with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Samuel Elijah Eastman was born at Oswegotchie, N. Y., in 1846. He was graduated from Oberlin College in 1872 and Andover Theological Seminary in 1895. He was pastor of the churches at Swampscott, Mass., Newport, Ky., and Canandaigua, N. Y. and since 1894, pastor of the Park Church in Elmira. He served in the Union Army during the last year of the Civil War and was appointed corporal in 1865. He is the author of the following: "The Cure of Corporate Crime," "Ethics of Democracy with Special Reference to Government in Cities," "Old Phrases under New Light." His address is 109 Hoffman St., Elmira, N. Y.

BOOTHE COLWELL DAVIS. As a surprise to President Davis, and in recognition of his twenty years of service as president of Alfred University, the Trustees at their meeting June 8th, voted to authorize the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Laws upon the President and instructed Dean Edwin H. Lewis, LL. D. of Lewis Institute, Chicago, a member of the Board of Trustees, to confer the degree. Dr. Lewis, after requesting Col. William Wallace Brown, LL. D., senior member of the Board of Trustees, to escort the President to the front of the platform, said:

Boothe Colwell Davis, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Divinity, scholar, orator, man of affairs, constructive educator, you have successfully administered the presidency of the University throughout four lustra, a period of twenty years. Everywhere in America these twenty years have been critical for education, but in a peculiar and especial sense they have been critical for Alfred. In recognition now of the fact, the accomplished fact, the nobly accomplished fact, the trustees of Alfred University confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws causa honoris, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining. Bear the addition nobly ever.

Following the conferring of the degree, Mr. Vernon A. Baggs, president of the Board of Trustees, handed to Dr. Lewis a purse containing over $300, personally contributed by members of the Board of Trustees as a Twentieth Anniversary gift to the President. This purse was then delivered to the President by Dr. Lewis who said:

When the apostle of the Christ stood by the Gate called Beautiful, and addressed a man rich in faith but poor in this worlds goods, he said: 'Argurion kai chrySION ouk uparchai moi'—'Silver and gold have I none.' Too often these have had to be the words of the trustees to the faculty, who nevertheless have deserved richly of the republic. Silver and gold have we none, as silver and gold are counted today, yet take this little symbol of our gratitude, and this pledge of our continued confidence and loyalty.

The following expression of love and esteem, also a surprise, was offered by the Hon. L. W. Gibbs, of Buffalo, class of 1898:

Our dear President:

We, your pupils and co-workers during your splendid presidency, desire to show some appreciation for your twenty years of devoted and unselfish service to our Alma Mater and for the inspiration and friendship we one and all have enjoyed. We have believed that you would be best pleased if a fund were started which we trust will accumulate until a fine building—The Davis Gymnasium—shall stand upon the campus as a permanent token of the love and esteem in which you are held by those most closely associated with you. Here are contributions aggregating over $1500, with which we now definitely begin the fund for the Davis Gymnasium.

President Davis said:

I am overwhelmed with honors and money and love.

Appendix DNEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY-WORKING AND CERAMICS*DIRECTORS REPORT

For year ending September 30th, 1914

To the President of Alfred University,
Alfred, N. Y.

Sir:—I have the honor of submitting to you the fourteenth annual report of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics.

The school opened with the largest registration of students in its history. The incoming Freshman class consisted of seventeen members, the total registration being forty-two. Not only in number but in quality of material, the class showed a distinct advance. The class began at once their study of the principles underlying the manufacture of ceramic products. It has been found desirable to initiate the Freshmen as early as possible into these principles so that the whole of their course may receive specific direction towards a mastery of the subject. At the same time the underlying studies of chemistry, physics, mathematics, English and foreign language receive special attention. In order to find time for the completion of so full a program, it has been found necessary to increase the number of credit hours required for graduation. This makes a strenuous course but it is expected that it will be pursued successfully.

The year just passed has been the most important in the history of the institution in respect of another fact. At the Annual Convention of the American Ceramic Society, held in February 1914, the national scientific organization dealing with ceramic engineering and technology, no less than six papers were presented from the school. Much of the credit for this accomplishment must be given to Professor Earle T. Montgomery, the assistant director, who by his enthusiasm and knowledge of laboratory methods, stimulated the students to the successful completion of this work. Perhaps it may be pointed out in explanation that the finest fruit of such a school as this is shown in the ability for independent research which is cultivated among the senior students. It is this which demonstrates the power which has been gradually developed during the early years of the course: a power which fits the graduates for filling important industrial positions. A further proof of this fitness is found in the fact that the graduates of the school are in greater demand than ever before. Employers are writing and even telegraphing for men and reports are being continually received of the satisfaction which is being given.

Recent graduates have been called to important positions in the manufacture of floor tile, wall tile, sewer pipe, brick and fire proofing.

During the year your director was called upon to render expert advice and assistance in planning the proposed manufactory of paving brick in connection with the State Reformatory at Elmira. He met several times with the Board of Managers and the special committee which was charged with the work. The material also which it was proposed to use was received and tested at the school.

Your attention is called to a need which has arisen in the rapid development of the work. When the school was constructed and equipped the exigency of space made it necessary to place the large gas engine directly beneath the office floor. At that time this engine was only occasionally used because the heavier machines were not constantly running. Since that time however, the machine for compressing air for furnace use and the generator for electric current have been attached to this engine so that it is in daily use. The vibration of the floor is such that work and study in the office and the adjoining library is seriously interfered with and a change is urgently needed. I suggest that application be made to the legislature as soon as possible for an appropriation sufficient to erect a power house in the rear of the main building and that the machinery be run by electric motors. The power of the present engine is sufficient but in its present location it is neither comfortable nor safe. I have not obtained any figures but I think that $6000 or $7000 would be sufficient for the purpose.

I do not know whether you are aware of the fact, but the state of Illinois has recently appropriated the sum of $150,000 for the accommodation and equipment of the department of ceramics in the state University.

The conditions which have arisen in Europe have brought to the front the question of the domestic supply of wares which have hitherto been imported. Investigations have been begun in the school looking toward the employment of domestic clays for the production of fine wares. This state does not contain such clays but there are located at Syracuse and Buffalo large manufactories of white wares. In fact, some of the finest white china which is produced in this country is made in New York state. These factories depend, however, at least to some extent, upon the imported clays. The proper use of American clays must depend upon the information supplied by scientific investigation and in this work the school is taking a leading part.

The Treasurer's report is appended.*

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. BINNS, Director.

Appendix ENEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

To the President of Alfred University:—

Sir:—I have the honor to submit herewith the sixth annual report of the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University, Alfred, New York, for the year ending September 30, 1914. In doing so, I would call attention to the fact that the School has steadfastly kept in mind the purpose for which it was established; namely, to provide a means whereby young men who are not eligible to enter the State College of Agriculture, or for various reasons are unable to do so, may secure at a minimum of expense a thorough and practical training in scientific agriculture. During the past year, the course of study has been revised and strengthened, but the entrance requirements have remained the same as formerly and are as follows: Applicants shall have completed the work of the first eight grades as taught in the public schools of the State or its equivalent and they shall be at least sixteen years of age and of good moral character.

For the most part students are drawn from the eight counties of southwestern New York, and the great majority are country bred. There are, however, a growing number of city bred young men now applying for admission, which somewhat complicates the problem, inasmuch as these students have little or no practical farm experience. Arrangements have been made, however, whereby these city students now have an opportunity to perform on the School Farm, and with their own hands, the ordinary farm operations. No student is granted a diploma from the Agricultural course who has not worked for at least three months during the growing season on some farm approved by the faculty of the School.

Special mention should be made of the Department of Home Economics. Ever since the establishment of the School, this Department has consistently stood for the training of young women for taking up the responsibilities of homemaking. To this end the course of study has included, along with the technical work in domestic science and domestic art, courses intended to inculcate in the student a love for country life and pride in the home and the business of homemaking. In this it has been most successful, a large number of young women having completed the work offered by the Department.

This School has not yet availed itself of the privilege accorded to the several State Schools of Agriculture entitling them to offer courses for the training of teachers, but has been content to confine itself to the purposes for which it was originally established.

Graduates from the Agricultural course return, as a rule, to their home farms. There are, however, some who for various reasons prefer to secure salaried positions. So far the School has had no difficulty in securing well-paying positions for its young men graduates. Of these we have excellent reports. There have been some demands from young women graduates for salaried positions analogous to those secured by the young men. To meet this demand it is proposed to introduce during the coming year, elective courses in professional dressmaking, millinery and hospital dietetics, which while not depriving the student of the general training in homemaking, will provide her with a remunerative means of self-support. Details of these proposed courses will soon be submitted to you for the approval of the Board of Managers.

Faculty

The faculty consists of twenty-one professors and instructors, fourteen of whom give their entire time to the School. Seven are employed jointly with other departments of the University. The farm superintendent has charge of the instruction work in farm practice.

The following changes in the personnel of the faculty have occurred during the year:

Mr. Adelbert Sheffield, a graduate of the short course in buttermaking at Cornell University, and a practical butter and cheese maker of several years' experience, was chosen early in the year to succeed Mr. Claude Capel. Mr. Capel was temporarily in charge of the dairy laboratory.

Mr. Ivan L. Fiske, a graduate of Alfred University, will have charge of the work in physical training and hygiene formerly in charge of Mr. H. P. Colton, resigned. Mr. Fiske has been doing special work during the past summer in preparation for his duties. He is employed jointly with other departments of the University.

Miss Madelia Hart Tuttle, a graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory, has been secured as instructor in history. This subject has been taught for the past three years by Mr. R. S. Austin, a student assistant from the College. Miss Tuttle has had twelve years of successful high school teaching experience; and in addition to the teaching of history, will conduct the classes in parliamentary law, and will have general charge of the students' literary activities.

An arrangement has been made, whereby Mr. O. H. Perry, will give one-half time to instruction work in the School, teaching mathematics, physics, and farm accounts. Mr. Perry has been with the School for the past two years as student assistant from the College, but he completed his College work last year. He has been doing special work during the summer at Cornell University.

Mr. Langford Whitford, a graduate of the Department of Industrial Mechanics at Alfred University, has been secured to fill the position of Instructor in Farm Mechanics, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. C. B. Blanchard. Mr. Whitford is a practical carpenter and builder, and has done considerable experimental work along the line of industrial mechanics.

Student Enrollment

Owing partly to the serious drought and otherwise unfavorable season, a large number of students who had planned to enter the School were unable to do so. The enrollment for the past year, therefore, is slightly less than that of the year preceding. Present indications, however, point to an unusually large incoming freshman class.

SUMMARY OF STUDENTS

	Agriculture	Home Economics	Total
Seniors	35	11	40
Juniors	32	7	39
Freshmen	38	4	42
Specials	9	12	21
Short Course	26	—	26
College students taking one or more courses	—	9	9
Academy students taking one or more courses	—	10	10
Total			193

Buildings and Grounds

There has been no addition in the way of buildings during the year, but minor improvements have been made. Among these improvements may be mentioned the painting of the house maintained for the use of the farm superintendent, the building of a quantity of fence, and the re-arrangement of the heating and high pressure fire protection system in the main School building.

The Farm

Some progress has been made during the past year in correlating the work of the farm and School for greater educational efficiency. This is particularly true along the line of student farm practice work, for students lacking in actual farm experience. The live stock has been somewhat improved and added to through natural increase.

In this connection, I would again call attention to the fact that all proceeds from the sales of farm and other products must, by law, be turned into the State Treasury. It is apparent, therefore, that a considerable larger yearly appropriation must be made for the maintenance of the School than would be necessary if the farm and other receipts were available for maintenance purposes.

Extension Work

In my report for last year, I called attention to the incessant demand made upon the School for extension work. During the year, a plan has been perfected whereby this demand has been to some extent satisfied. This has been brought about through a cooperative arrangement with the College of Agriculture at Cornell University, whereby the Assistant Director of this School gives a part of his time to the Extension work under the supervision of the Extension Department of the College of Agriculture, which is carried on during the entire calendar year.

A brief summary of the Extension Work of the year is given below:

(a) The annual Farmers' Week was held during the week beginning February 23. In this, the School had the hearty cooperation of the State Department of Agriculture and of the State College of Agriculture. As usual, it was well attended.

(b) During Farmers' Week there was held what was probably the largest exclusive potato show ever held in the State. There were over seven hundred different exhibits, including competitive exhibits from seventeen rural schools.

(c) A Farm Demonstration Train was run over the Erie Railroad from April 5 to 18, covering a large number of points, at which talks and addresses were given, and exhibits made. More than two thousand people were reached by this means alone.

(d) A Conference on Country Life Problems was held at the School on August 24 and 25, the purpose of which was to inspire the leaders of the country communities to increased activity in their efforts for country betterment. About one hundred different individuals, largely country pastors, were present from various parts of the southwestern section of the State.

(e) The usual educational fair exhibits were held at various agricultural fairs during the fall. The following is a list of those attended:

Warsaw, Hornell, State Fair, Wellsville, Olean, Angelica, Bath and Cuba.

(f) In addition to the above, the Extension Department has done a large amount of personal work for the various District Superintendents in arranging School contests among the rural pupils and in encouraging the study of practical agriculture and nature study in the country schools. A large number of public addresses by the head of the Extension Department and other members of the faculty have been given, at which probably more than twenty-five hundred people have been in attendance.

School Year

The School year now consists of thirty-six weeks, instead of twenty-four weeks as formerly. Provision is made, however, by which students who prefer to do so may attend for only twenty-four weeks during the winter season, and still complete their work by attending an additional year. This arrangement has proven advantageous to a large number of students.

Short Winter Term

A short term in Agriculture has been held during the past two years, the object being to provide an opportunity for farmers and others who are unable to attend the regular long term course, to secure in a few weeks some technical instruction in scientific agriculture. These short terms have been well attended. It is now proposed to make the short term a regular feature of the School work.

Needs of the School

In my report for last year, I called attention to three imperative needs of the School in the way of additional laboratory and class room facilities. During the past year, these needs have become more and more acute, until it is evident that unless some steps are taken to fulfill these needs, the work of the School, and its usefulness to the people of the State will be most seriously impaired. The School is equipped with only two buildings designed for class room work, one of these being a small dairy building large enough to accommodate the classes in that Department only. It is, of course, impossible to carry on all the other lines of work in the one main building. To meet the situation, therefore, it has been necessary to use several of the college laboratories for school purposes. In no case are these laboratories suited to the work of an agricultural school, and though the College has been most liberal, their use by both College and School students is the cause of increasing difficulty in scheduling classes as the institutions continue to increase in numbers. At the present time, the following subjects are of necessity taught in class rooms and laboratories not the property of the School.

Elementary, agricultural and household chemistry, drafting, farm buildings, woodworking and blacksmithing. In addition to this the College gymnasium must be used for the work in physical culture. In view of these facts, I am again calling attention to the need of new buildings as follows:

First: A new three story building, not less than 50x80 feet, to be used by the department of Farm Mechanics, Agricultural Chemistry and Physics, with one floor so arranged that it may be used both as a gymnasium and as an assembly room in which may be held farmers' meetings, institutes, poultry, fruit and potato shows and other similar meetings. At the present time, we have no room large enough to accommodate the general public, and the chemistry, woodworking, drafting and forging laboratories and the gymnasium are located in college buildings.

Second: A cottage of six or eight rooms for the use of the department of Home Economics in carrying on laboratory work in house practice, home decoration, etc. Such a cottage would provide a home for a part of the young women students and for one of the lady instructors, and should be practically self-sustaining.

Third: An additional greenhouse similar to the present structure and connected with it. This additional house could be cared for with but little additional expense except for heating and would provide for laboratory practice in the growing of crops requiring different temperatures which is impossible in the present single house.

As a further need of the School, I feel compelled to call attention to the necessity of providing a more liberal compensation for the instructional force. The nature of this School makes necessary the employment of instructors having a thorough technical education in their special lines of work together with a practical knowledge of general agricultural conditions. Persons having such qualifications are in great demand to fill a variety of industrial positions, and hence they are able to command relatively high salaries. I trust that some provision may be made at an early date, to meet this situation.

In conclusion I wish to express my appreciation to the board of managers, faculty, students and to the people of the community for their active and hearty co-operation in the work and activities of the School, and also to the State Department of Agriculture and to the State College of Agriculture for the assistance they have so freely given. *

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. WRIGHT, Director.
