

AU junior speak with Congress about NASA funding

6/19/08

Jessica Evans, a junior at Alfred University, recently traveled with the Citizens for Space Exploration (CSE)-Texas to Washington, D.C., to speak with congressional members. The 2005 graduate of Paducah Tilghman High School, Paducah, KY, spoke about increasing funding for NASA to the level of 1 percent of the national budget. CSE-Texas is a committee which functions under the guidance of the Bay Area Houston Economic Partnership.