

Alfred University professor interviewed on CBC radio program

2/06/18

Linda Sormin's exhibition, "Fierce Passengers," opened Jan. 15 in Ottawa. (Photo by Clarence Sormin)

ALFRED, NY – Linda Sormin, associate professor of ceramics in Alfred University's School of Art and Design, was recently interviewed for a radio show on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC).

Sormin was interviewed Jan. 24 on the CBC show "Ontario Today" -- a lunch-time call-in show that reaches over 500,000 listeners -- and talked about her exhibition, "Fierce Passengers."

The installation opened Jan. 15 at the Carleton University Art Gallery in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada.

Sormin earned an MFA degree in ceramic art from Alfred University in 2003.