An Evening of Dance: AU Dance Theater

Alfred University's Performing Arts Division presents an Evening of Dance Thursday, Feb. 20 through Saturday, Feb. 22 in the Miller Theater at 8:00 pm each night. Admission is free and open to the public. This year's concert promises to be dynamic and engaging, featuring unique works created by four student choreographers and performed by more than 30 student performers.

The 2019-2020 student choreographers are Angela Childs, Mandela Franciscono, Carly Moldow, and Arenze Wellington. Marlin Miller Guest Artist Jenise Anthony will set a new choreographic work featuring 11 dance students and two Alfred University dance alumni, Mon Rodgers and Krystal Cooper. The evening also features two faculty-choreographed pieces with new works by Alfred University Professor of D. Chase Angier and Visiting Assistant Professor of Dance Colleen Wahl, who both are serving co-artistic directors for the performance.

The evening will include dances of all sizes, from an intimate solo to energetic large group works that include an African Diaspora piece. The music selections range from introspective to wild, celebratory and driving. The costumes were designed by Alfred University Designer Maureen Weiss, Colleen Wahl and Wahl's costume students: Luci Busch, Angela Childs, Genesis Luciano, and Mia Modafferri. Sets are built by many students under the direction of Costume Shop manager Debra MacCrea. This evening is made possible by the generous support of the Marlin Miller Dance Residency Program. Guest artist Jenise Akilah Anthony is a native of Trinidad and Tobago and currently erves as Assistant Professor of African Dance and Artistic Director of Sankofa African Dance and Drum Ensemble at the College at Brockport, State University of New York. She has been a dance educator and choreographer for over ten years, working both nationally and internationally. She is renowned for her African Diaspora dance work and tutelage that is hinged in both traditional and contemporary African dance genres such as West African, Caribbean Folk, Modern Afro-Caribbean, and Afro-Modern.

Making Images Move: Handmade Cinema and the other Arts

Date: Tuesday, February 25

Time: 5:30 pm

Location: Holmes Auditorium

Cost: Free

Sponsored by: Art History, Expanded Media, Sculptural/Dimension Studies, and Career Development Center

Dr. Gregory Zinman to lecture on handmade cinema

Alfred University's School of Art and Design will host a lecture by Dr. Gregory Zinman, assistant professor at Georgia Institute of Technology, who will speak at 5:30pm Tuesday, Feb. 25 in Holmes Auditorium, Harder Hall. Zinman's lecture will be drawn from his book Making Images Move: Handmade Cinema and the Other Arts (University of California Press, 2020).

Zinman's book provides a comprehensive survey of handmade cinema, from painted film and kinetic art to psychedelic light shows and video synthesis. The book reviews efforts by numerous artists to create moving abstraction by intervening in celluloid's physical makeup. Techniques include painting and scratching directly on the film strip; deteriorating film with seawater, dirt, or bleach; applying elements such as paper, glue, and even the artist's own blood.

Recovering a range of forms, tools, and intentions that, considered together, constitute a kind of shadow history of film, Zinman's talk will offer an overview of this approach to thinking about moving images. It's a radical alternative to the representational terms in which the medium is typically understood. While the goal of elevating or transcending abstract painting remains evident in many of the works to be screened, their diverging concerns extend into a variety of other arenas-feminism, social justice, self-portraiture, the Anthropocene-demonstrating the many ways that handmade cinema acts as counter-cinema, in concept, material, and execution.

Zinman's lecture is open to the public and free of charge. It is sponsored by Art History, Expanded Media, Sculptural/Dimension Studies and the Robert R. McComsey Career Development Center.
