Artist Presentation

ROBERTO VISANI, Wednesday, Oct. 26, 7 p.m., Room C, Binns Merrill

Visani is Associate Professor and Deputy Chair of Art at John Jay College, CUNY, NYC.

As a sculptor, Roberto Visani is well versed in the use of many different materials and techniques including traditional West African lost wax bronze casting. He has been living, working and exhibiting in New York City the past 12 years as a practicing artist and educator. Over the past two years he has been intermittently creating cast work in iron based on cardboard forms generated through the use of computer software.

He is internationally recognized, and has received many awards such as the NEW YORK FOUNDATION FOR THE ARTS ARTIST FELLOWSHIP, SCULPTURE, PSC-CUNY RESEARCH AWARD, CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK, AND A FULBRIGHT GRANT, FOR RESEARCH IN GHANA.

Think B4 You Speak: 4 > 4

Think B4 You Speak returns this year by recognizing that 4 > 4. What does that mean? It is our belief that there are four, four-letter words (Love, Self, Life, and Here) that are far more valuable and powerful than another set of four, four-letter words (Hate, Pain, Hurt, and Gone).

The Think B4 You Speak program is a campaign to highlight the power of speech. Your words can and do change lives. To participate in the program, we ask you to simply be mindful of what you are saying. Are your words building someone up, or tearing them down?

Too many lives are lost due to bullying and words used to cause pain. We will be giving a bracelet to anyone who wants to help in the fight against bullying and hate speech. By wearing the band, you will have a constant reminder that your words can provide comfort, heal pain and instill love.

Visit our table on the 2nd floor of Powell Campus Center or in the lobby of Ade on Wednesday, Oct. 26 through Friday, Oct. 28 between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. to pick up a bracelet and/or to learn more.

Be a life guard; Think B4 You Speak.

'Two Are Better Than One,' SoAD Visiting Art Lecture Series

This Thursday will mark the first lecture of the 2011 School of Art and Design's Visiting Artist and Scholar Lecture Series. The series, titled "Two are Better Than One," will present two or more guests at each lecture to help to compare, contrast, and question the ideas presented.

Join us at 5 p.m. in Harder Hall to welcome Lize Mogel and Stephanie Rothenberg as they present a lecture titled: Global Geographies of the Physical and Virtual.

Engaging a broad range of media and strategies, artists Lize Mogel and Stephanie Rothenberg will present projects which map the effects of globalization on both territory and people. Mogel's counter-cartographic experiments connects the real history and collective imaginary about specific places to larger narratives of global economies.

Rothenberg's interactive installations and participatory online artworks explore new models of outsourced global production incurred through digital labor. Together their work exposes the underlying systems and invisible hierarchies of globalization, mapping a socio-political circuit of both physical landscapes and virtual worlds.

Lize Mogel is an interdisciplinary artist who works with the interstices between art and cultural geography. She creates and disseminates counter-cartography-- maps and mappings that produce new understandings of social and political issues. She has mapped public parks in Los Angeles; future territorial disputes in the Arctic; and wastewater economies in New York City. Lize is co-editor of the book/map collection "An Atlas of Radical Cartography".

Stephanie Rothenberg is an artist and educator using performance, installation and networked media to create provocative interactions that question the boundaries and social constructs of manufactured desires. In 2009, Stephanie co-founded REV-, a non-profit located in NYC furthering socially-engaged art, design and pedagogy.

To learn more about the artists, visit their Web sites at <http://www.publicgreen.co...> (Lize Mogel) and www.pan-o-matic.com (Stephanie Rothenberg).
