

Alfred University ranked 83rd out of 250 colleges, universities offering scholarships for creative arts study
6/02/17

The on-line Student Loan Report has ranked Alfred University 83rd out of 250 U.S. private colleges in SLR&s new Top 250 Private Colleges That Offer the Most Creative Scholarship Money Report.

In compiling the study, Student Loan Report used Peterson&s Financial Data Set for the graduate class of 2015. SLR notes the survey is directed to high school-age students and their families who are evaluating their prospects in creative arts programs offered by institutions of higher education.

According to Student Loan Report, colleges such as Alfred University were evaluated on the basis of the amount of creative arts funds awarded to each student. The report is designed specifically for students who will be in need of financial aid as they pursue a degree in the creative arts.