Announcements

BIPOC Artist Residency

Arts at Alfred University's BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, People of Color) Artist-in-Residence program provides artists with opportunities to dive deeply into their artistic research and practice, and creative endeavors. The goal of the residency is to provide a cross-cultural destination at Alfred University for early-career BIPOC artists to enhance social/racial justice or combat structures of white supremacy. This will serve artists who have been historically underserved and remove systematic barriers.

Kassie McCarn Moving On

It is with much mixed emotion that I share with our community that Kassie McCarn, Assistant Director of the Pamela Lavin Bernstein Center for Advising has accepted a position at the University of Buffalo as a Senior Academic Advisor. Kassie has been instrumental in the development, opening and success of carrying out the mission of the center in assisting our first year students in their onboarding to AU. She will be missed beyond words. Kassie's last day on campus will be Friday, June 24th.

Alfred Summer Arts Week 1

Alfred Summer Arts Workshop Week 1
Alfred Summer Arts 2022 features week-long arts workshops in a variety of media areas designed for participants working at all levels:

artists, teachers, community members and visiting professionals.

go.alfred.edu/summerarts

Session 1: June 26-July 1

Augustine Uzor // Figure Painting

Investigate the fundamental language of painting the nude human figure using a variety of mediums and techniques while studying the figure as subject and narrative device. Through a series of observational projects, a wide range of painting possibilities will be explored. Work on building solid observational painting skills, developing critical dialogue with the figure, and learning the potentials for personal expression.

Patsy Rausch // From Rag to Relevance, Hand papermaking

Exploring the potentials of hand papermaking using the portable papermaking studio, participants hop on the bike and peddle pulp. A papermaking station (pulling & couching) including pulp printing, pulp painting, and 3D pulping potentials are included. The range of the medium from pulling sheets to pulp painting to pulp printing and sculpting, casts a wider net in the discipline and opens participants up to many unique and collaborative possibilities.

Rachel Davis // Shades of Blue: Indigo Dye, Shibori and Other Methods

This hands-on workshop will introduce participants to historical and contemporary practices using indigo dye. Learn how to prepare cotton and silk fibers for the dye vat, and how to build and care for an indigo vat: learning numerous shibori techniques, including sewn, clamped and paste resist methods, and have time to experiment freely with all of them. Studio experiments allow exploration of personal objectives in fiber and contribute to a collaborative work produced over the course of the week.

SUMMER WORKSHOP FEE

GRANTS The School of Art & Design + Performing Arts Division at Alfred University is pleased to offer a select number of workshop fee grants to Alfred students, alumni, and teachers. Apply by June 1. Recipients will be contacted with a unique code to use when enrolling. Contact:

Selections from the Light Matter Film Festival: Alfred Summer Arts

This program will feature 13 shorts films (all under 10 minutes!) that were showcased at the inaugural Light Matter Film Festival in November 2021. Light Matter will return with a second edition in Fall 2022. The program is representative of Light Matter's chief aim of bringing together contemporary experimental film and media art, highlighting work that ranges from hand-painted 16mm film, found footage, glitch, image-processing, and more. Each work also stands on its own, reflecting various artistic investigations into the people, objects, and environments that we inhabit. Come out to see experimental films and videos under the Alfred stars!
