Late Night McLane update

The Athletics and Health/Wellness offices have just been approved for an NCAA Choices grant, designed to fund alcohol and drug-free education and programming at Alfred University. This will allow limited funding for us to offer Late Night McLane again this year in some form. We need some time to get staffing and programming set up, so please watch Alfred Today for an announcement of Late Night McLane hours and schedule for the semester.

nicholasleichterdance

Event Date: 09082006

Event Time: 7 pm

Location: CD Smith Theater

The Marlin and Ginger Miller Dance Residency Program is opening this year's season with world-class dancing by New York City's nicholasleichterdance. This international company will be performing Friday, September 8 at 7pm and Saturday September 9 at 7pm in the Miller Performing Arts Center. Slow and sensual, insistent and intertwined, athletic and aware, Nicholas Leichter's dance pieces are filled with provocative pairings. Whether exploring race and gender, the relationship between two dancers, or between street and traditional dance styles, the movement evokes a cultivated culture clash. Mr. Leichter works with "the fusion of concert and popular dance forms with imagination and authority" - "New York Times". Admission is free but reservations are strongly recommended. Email performs@alfred.edu or call 871-2828.

"Nicholas Leichter's choreography is joyfully infectious" - "Dance Magazine"
