

CEPS and College of Business add faculty

8/24/00

Thu, Aug 24, 2000 Mark Whitehouse Alfred University announces new faculty appointments ALFRED, NY -- Alfred University announces the appointment of five faculty members in the College of Engineering and Professional Studies and College of Business. Added to the College of Engineering and Professional Studies were: Dr. J. Steven Mayes, assistant professor of mechanical engineering. Mayes was a research assistant, instructor, and teaching assistant at the University of Wyoming from 1995-99. Since 1986, he has also worked for Carderock Division, Naval Surface Warfare Center, Virginia, where he was manager, principal investigator and lead engineer on numerous projects in the Structures and Composites Department. Mayes has a Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of Wyoming, a master's degree in structural engineering from George Washington University and bachelor's degrees in mechanical engineering and business administration from Old Dominion University. Dr. Carlson Pian, professor of mechanical engineering, comes to Alfred from Mississippi State University, where he was a professor in the Diagnostic Instrumentation and Analysis Laboratory from 1994-95 and 1997-2000. From 1995-97 he was senior research engineer in the Research and Development Center of Molten Metal Technology in Fall River, MA. Pian has Ph.D., master's and bachelor's degrees in aerospace engineering from the University of Michigan. Dr. Jingjong Fan, associate professor of mechanical engineering. Fan was visiting senior research assistant at the Georgia W. Woodruff School of Mechanical Engineering at the Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, from 1997-2000. From 1980-96, he held various engineering faculty posts at the University of Cincinnati, Chongqing (China) University, and the University of Tennessee. Fan has Ph.D. and master's degrees in applied mechanics from the University of Cincinnati and bachelor's degrees in design and manufacturing from Shanghai Jiao Tong (China) University and in applied mathematics from Shanghai Fu Dan (China) University. Dr. James Cerullo, assistant professor of athletic training and director of the University's Athletic Training program. Cerullo comes to Alfred from the University of Pittsburgh, where he earned a doctorate in sports medicine/exercise physiology this year. He was a teaching assistant at Pittsburgh from 1998-99, teaching courses in the anatomical basis of sports medicine, laboratory techniques of sports medicine, and undergraduate basic athletic training. He was graduate assistant athletic trainer at Pittsburgh from 1997-2000; head athletic trainer at Endicott (MA) College from 1995-97; graduate assistant athletic trainer, Illinois State University, from 1992-95; and assistant athletic trainer at Framingham (MA) State College from 1990-91. Cerullo also has a master's in biomechanics/exercise science from Illinois State University and a bachelor's in physical education/athletic training from Westfield (MA) State College. In the College of Business, Dr. Onur Ozsoy was appointed visiting assistant professor of economics. Ozsoy comes to Alfred from Ankara University in Ankara, Turkey, where he has been an assistant professor of economics since 1997. He has a Ph.D. from the State University of New York at Binghamton, a master's from the University of Missouri at Kansas City, and a bachelor's from the University of September the Ninth, Izmir, Turkey, all in economics.--30--