Practice Winter Parking Manners

Winter has Alfred in its grips again and with that the parking problems that go along with it. I would like to ask everyone parking a vehicle on campus to park in an orderly fashion. A number of vehicles have been taking more than one space causing a bad situation.

Please, when you're parking your vehicle think of the others that need to park with you. Thank you for your cooperation.

Accident Reporting

Whenever an accident or incident occurs on campus (whether or not there are injuries/damages) it must be immediately reported to your supervisor and a report submitted to Environmental Health and Safety within 24 hours for follow up.

The goal is to ensure accidents and incidents are prevented in the future and through investigation, safety improvements can be made to activities, processes, or facilities.

The Accident/Incident/Near-miss form is required to be completed and filed for all accidents or near - misses on campus or (off campus) while participating in a University-sponsored program. The Accident/Incident/Near-Miss form is to be used for anyone on campus including employees, students, or visitors.

Please fully complete the form that is posted on the EHS, Public Safety and Human Resources Web pages. Deliver All Accident/Incident/Near-miss forms to Environmental Health and Safety at haasec@alfred.edu or via confidential fax to 607-871-2086.

Do not delay when reporting accidents, incidents, or near-misses; all accidents, incidents, and near-misses must be reported to your supervisor and EHS within 24 hours.

Should you have any questions about the form or wish to speak to someone about the accident or situation, please contact Cherise Haase, EHS Manager, at haasec@alfred.edu or 607-871-2190.

Empty Bowls

Empty Bowls

Date: Friday, Feb. 13
Time: 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.
Location: The Knight Club, Powell Campus Center

Cost to Attend: $10

Supported By: The Center for Student Involvement and the School of Art and Design

Alfred University student Nick Labate is coordinating a community-wide initiative to produce ceramic bowls and share homemade soup to help support local hunger initiatives. The culmination of his efforts will be a community lunch on Friday, Feb. 13, 2015 as attendees buy or bid on quality bowls filled with delicious soups. Over the next few months, he will be seeking donors of both soups and bowls.

Labate found inspiration in the Empty Bowls Project, an international grassroots hunger movement founded by Lisa Blackburn and John Hartom in Michigan in 1990 and continued by the non-profit organization Imagine/RENDER Group. The idea is simple: potters, students, and other craftspeople hand-make bowls. Guests are invited to a simple meal. In exchange for a small cash donation, guests are given a bowl in remembrance of all those who are hungry. The donations from the event will then go to a charity of choice. Labate would like this effort to support local needs, specifically the Food Bank of the Southern Tier. For more information, visit <http://www.foodbankst.org>.

"This event will not be possible without the help of the willing Alfred community," Labate says. "Not only will we need soups (and other food), but we will need bowls made by the loving hands within the community. For this event, 100 - 200 donated bowls will be needed. Anyone may also donate a bowl as just an auction item, without fear that soup will be placed within pieces of art not intended to be slurped from."

Nick Labate is a sophomore majoring in Art and Design with a minor in education from Cleveland, Ohio. He sees Empty Bowls as a great way to combine the talents surrounding the University's Art School and the incredible generosity of the greater Alfred community.

IEA Visiting Artist: OMTA (Omar and Tal Golan)

IEA Visiting Artist: OMTA

Omar and Tal Golan

Date: Friday, Feb. 13

Time: 7 p.m.

Location: The Institute for Electronic Arts at the School of Art and Design of the New York State College of Ceramics, Exhibition in Immersive Gallery Space of the Turner Gallery

Cost to Attend: Free

Sponsored By: The Institute for Electronic Arts and the Division of Expanded Media

Artist team Omar and Tal Golan, under the handle OMTA, will be participating in an artist residency at the Institute for Electronic Arts the week of February 9. Founded in 2006, OMTA, who have exhibited both nationally and internationally, specializes in the intersection of fine art and technology through highly visual presentations of interactive media. As forerunners in innovative research, OMTA creates artistic displays that encourage viewer participation in order to conduct studies regarding human interaction, digital meditation, and social awareness.

OMTA's proposed project, entitled Making Love: Poetry in Motion, is a net art installation work which will appropriate real time Tweets about love and compose them into an endless poem using semantic analysis and advanced scientific information algorithms. A camera will detect movement in the space which will trigger random text to float up from the stream and compose a poem, which will be read aloud in different accents and voices with a text-to-speech program, all while displaying the data stream in a flying 3D world portraying the process.

This work will be presented in the Immersive Gallery Space of the Turner Gallery in Harder Hall at 7:00 pm on February 13th and all are invited to attend and provide feedback to the artists of their experience and responses to their work.

More information and OMTA's work can be found on their website: <http://omta.co/>

The Institute for Electronic Art's Visiting Artist Program is sponsored in part by the New York State Council on the Arts with the support of Governor Andrew Cuomo and the New York State Legislature.
