Ram Error: an installation by Vav Vavrek

November 3 - December 1

Opening Reception: November 3

vav vavrek is a creator of things as well as an instigator of events. he tends to delve deeply into the refuse piles of the fortunate to aid in the expression of his deep seated agitations and anxieties. his works and his writing evoke some of the helplessness and anger of the new lost generation. his most recent works crawl through the grimy recesses of life through explorations of addiction, mental illness, poverty, gender roles, and politics. vav utilizes any and all materials that he can get to adhere to his greasy fingers, including: oil, acrylic, enamel, marker, spray paint, alternative photographic processes, scrap metal, broken electronics, low quality video, splinters of wood, and anonymous detritus.

Exhibit at the Cohen Gallery: Residue

Residue: Caroline Hayes Charuk, Terry James Conrad, Ron Lambert, and SV Randall exhibit at the Cohen Gallery

Nov 3- Dec 8, Opening Reception 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m., Friday, November 3

Cohen Gallery

Cost: free

The Cohen Gallery presents the work of Caroline Hayes Charuk, Terry James Conrad, Ron Lambert, and SV Randall in "Residue," opening November 3, 6-9pm.

As humans we leave a trail behind us- a record of our personal histories. Some of these marks are egregious like the oil spills in the oceans, others are poetic like the subtly scuffed paint surrounding a well-used door knob. The artists in this exhibition are using residue as a tool for making their art. By making objects to create stains, mimic stains, or employ stains for creative reflection, these four artists reflect how residue can create a metaphor for life's experience.

Filmideo + Comunidad: Tiffany Joy Butler

Wednesday, November 8, 12:00pm

Nevins Theater

Cost: Free - and free pizza!

Sponsored by: Foundations, Art Force 5, Career Development Center, the Institute for Cultural Unity

Tiffany Joy Butler (BFA 2010) will discuss her career and practice. Butler's talk will center on the idealistic expectations of academia, cinema and activism. How do we reach stability and sustainability in our lives and environment while juggling student loan payments, microaggressions, separation anxiety, chronic illness, laborious jobs, unpaid taxes, acquaintances/relationships, the deaths of loved ones ... then make art and fight for a more just community? Butler will briefly discuss this question based on her experiences in film, art and activist spaces. Audience questions are welcomed. Butler's talk is sponsored by the division of Foundations, Art Force 5, the Career Development Center, and the Institute for Cultural Unity's "What About Wednesdays?" program.

Cracking Concrete: The Politics of Eiko & Koma's Choreography

Eiko & Koma are artists from Japan who have lived and worked in New York City since the mid-1970s, establishing themselves as innovative and influential American modern and postmodern dancers who continue to actively choreograph, perform, and give workshops across the United States and around the world. This talk, based on Candelario's 2016 book, Flowers Cracking Concrete: Eiko & Koma's Asian/American Choreographies, provides an introduction to duo's body of work, particularly their defining aesthetics of slowness and their emphasis on site-adaptability. Eiko's solo project, A Body in Places, which will come to Alfred College in spring 2018, will also be discussed. 7:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m., Monday, November 6 in Nevins Theater.
